Investments	Private Equity	https://www.privatebank.citibank.com/home/investments/private-equity.html Private equity is an illiquid asset class that can potentially enhance your portfolio's returns and help mitigate risks. These unique and attractive investment opportunities are often unavailable via public markets. Our manager research team seeks to originate thematically-relevant opportunities across the private equity spectrum, including debt, equity, and structured products focused on both developed and emerging economies. An opportunistic approach to origination combined with a rigorous due diligence process underpins our goal of seeking to deliver attractive risk-adjusted returns for you. Opportunistic approach: We strongly believe in the benefits of long-term exposure to private equity. However, we also recognize that there are more favorable times for investing in particular themes and regions within these asset classes. We therefore seek opportunities that are well positioned to exploit either or both current market aberrations and long-term secular trends. Deeper insights: Finding the most promising investment opportunities in private equity requires intensive research and due diligence. We believe this is best done by local experts in the specific market or region, rather than by distant teams and our offices are located around the world. Structures built for you: As well as selecting suitable themes and managers, we try to deliver the appropriate structure for your needs and risk appetite. Instead of only offering standard private equity funds, we have created investment clubs and separately managed accounts through which to invest. You can therefore not only exploit investment opportunities that are unavailable in the public markets, but also access them via a wide range of options, many of which are unique to Citi Private Bank. An investment in alternative investments (e.g., hedge funds, private equity) can be highly illiquid, are speculative and not suitable for all investors. Investing in alternative investments is for experienced and sophisticated investors who are willing to bear the high economic risks associated with such an investment. Investors should carefully review and consider potential risks before investing. Certain of these risks may include, loss of all or a substantial portion of the investment due to leveraging, short-selling, or other speculative practices; lack of liquidity in that there may be no secondary market for the fund and none is expected to develop; volatility of returns; restrictions on transferring interests in the Fund; potential lack of diversification and resulting higher risk due to concentration of trading authority when a single advisor is utilized; absence of information regarding valuations and pricing; complex tax structures and delays in tax reporting; less regulation and higher fees than mutual funds; and manager risk.
Investments	Traditionals	https://www.privatebank.citibank.com/home/investments/traditionals.html Our manager research team identifies third-party managers whom they believe are likely to achieve the highest relative risk-adjusted returns over a whole market cycle. Their findings enable you and your relationship team to decide the most suitable opportunities to include in your portfolio. Access to more opportunities: Our search for managers spans the full range of traditional asset classes and all the main regions of the world. We believe strongly in the value of local insights and maintain experienced teams in the US, the UK and Singapore. We seek to identify managers that meet our exacting criteria, whether they are the most recognizable names or privately owned, boutique asset managers. Deep insights: The universe of active managers is large and ever-changing, which requires constant scrutiny. We source and screen opportunities using rigorous quantitative and qualitative analysis, and then actively monitor managers' performance. Objectivity is the cornerstone of our approach: We select managers based upon their merits alone and do not accept fees for inclusion in our platform. Flexible investment options: Navigating a universe of around a hundred thousand investment products requires significant time and expertise. Our manager research team identifies third-party managers whom they believe are likely to achieve the highest relative risk-adjusted returns over a whole market cycle. Their findings enable you and your relationship team to decide the most suitable opportunities to include in your portfolio.

Client Funds Transfer Agreement

This Client Funds Transfer Agreement ("Agreement") sets forth the terms and conditions under which you may from time to time instruct Citibank, N.A. (hereafter referred to as "Citibank", "we", "us" or "our") to transfer funds from any of your accounts maintained with Citibank (i) to other accounts internally within Citibank or externally with other financial institutions, (ii) to issue foreign exchange drafts or cashier's checks, or (iii) to effect standing instructions (hereafter referred to as "Transactions"), you agree that any such transfer will be subject to the terms and conditions set forth in this Agreement.

This Agreement also applies to a subset of Transactions referred to herein as "Remittance Transfers". A Remittance Transfer is an electronic transfer of funds initiated from a consumer (non-business entity) account located in the U.S. primarily for personal, family or household purposes to a designated recipient in a non-U.S. country. Beginning on October 28, 2013, federal law will provide certain rights for Remittance Transfers. As noted throughout this Agreement, different rules apply to Remittance Transfers. Also, for each Remittance Transfer that you initiate, Citibank must provide you with certain disclosures required by federal law at the time you initiate the transfer. To the extent that the provisions of this Agreement are inconsistent with the disclosures provided to you for a Remittance Transfer, the provisions of such disclosures shall govern.

As used in this Agreement, the term "business day" means any day that is not a Saturday, Sunday or bank holiday.

1. AUTHORIZATION. You authorize Citibank to act on any of your instructions to execute Transactions that it receives in person, by telephone or in writing (original, facsimile or PDF) or by electronic communication (by such means as you and we mutually agree from time to time) from any one of your authorized account signers or from any one of your designated representatives identified as such by you to your Citi Private Bank Representative (authorized signers and designated representatives collectively hereafter referred to as "Authorized Parties").

2. RELIANCE BY CITIBANK. Citibank will rely on the information you provide in making a funds transfer on your behalf. You understand that it is your responsibility to provide Citibank with accurate information regarding that transfer, including the account number of the beneficiary of the funds transfer (such as "IBAN") and where applicable, the number (such as "BIC" or "SORT") identifying the beneficiary institution, since payment will be processed based on the number(s) provided by you. Should you provide an incorrect account number and or beneficiary institution identifier, you understand that any losses resulting from the funds being credited to the wrong account will be your responsibility.

For certain Remittance Transfers, you may be required at the time you initiate the request to provide Citibank with information regarding the currency in which the beneficiary account is maintained. You understand and acknowledge that Citibank will rely on this information in executing your instructions in accordance with the provisions set forth in the "Currency of Transfer" Section of this Agreement.

3. SECURITY PROCEDURES. Citibank will follow security procedures designed for your and our protection to verify that your instructions have been properly authorized. The security procedure Citibank follows depends on the method you choose to give your instructions: generally, verbal authentication for Transactions made by telephone and signature verification of an Authorized Party for Transactions made in writing. Citibank may require written and signed instructions (original, facsimile or PDF) from an Authorized Party for certain Transactions. Such Transactions may include: (i) instructions to transfer funds from an account requiring two or more Authorized Parties, (ii) instructions to transfer funds to a new beneficiary not previously associated with your accounts and (iii) Transactions in excess of a specific amount determined by Citibank from time to time, excluding internal transfers between Citibank accounts made by an Authorized Party authorized on both accounts. In addition, Citibank may verify written instructions by call back to an Authorized Party, unless such written instructions are for internal transfers between Citibank accounts made by an Authorized Party authorized on both accounts. If Citibank is unable to verify your instructions or is not satisfied with the verification it receives, Citibank will not execute the Transaction. Citibank will NOT make a verification call back for instructions given (i) in person or (ii) by telephone or in writing (original, facsimile or PDF) in amounts less than a specific amount determined by Citibank from time to time. You agree to be bound by any instructions to transfer funds that Citibank receives and verifies to the extent verification is required in accordance with the procedures outlined above.

4. EXTERNAL FUNDS TRANSFERS. When you instruct Citibank to execute an external funds transfer, you must select a financial institution as the recipient bank for the transfer. For transfers within the United States, the recipient bank must be a member of the Federal Reserve System or a correspondent bank of such a member, or a Clearing House Interbank Payment System (CHIPS) member.

You may request either that the funds be deposited in a particular account at the recipient bank or that the funds be held at the recipient bank for your beneficiary. Once the funds are transferred to the recipient bank, the funds become the property of the recipient bank. The recipient bank will be responsible for following your instructions and for notifying the beneficiary that the funds are available. If you identify a beneficiary by name and account number, the recipient bank may pay the funds to the person identified by the account number, and your payment may be final even if the account number provided does not correspond to your beneficiary. (The recipient bank is not obligated to verify that the account number belongs to your beneficiary.) If the recipient bank is unable to locate an account, the funds may be returned.

Except as may be prohibited by applicable law for Remittance Transfers, any losses resulting from an incorrect account number or other misidentification of your beneficiary provided by you are your responsibility and not Citibank's.

5. EXECUTION OF AN IMMEDIATE FUNDS TRANSFER REQUEST. If your funds transfer request is received by Citibank on a day that is not a business day or on a business day after the established cut-off hour it will not be processed until the next business day.

6. EXECUTION OF A SCHEDULED OR RECURRING FUTURE-DATED FUNDS TRANSFER REQUEST. If the date of a scheduled or recurring future-dated wire transfer request falls on a day that is not a business day, you understand and agree that your request will be executed on the next business day. Citibank will make the determination to pay or reject your funds transfer request on the day on which it is executed based on your available balance at the time the funds transfer request is processed.

Effective October 28, 2013, Citibank will be unable to accept new instructions for the execution of a scheduled or recurring future-dated international wire transfer from a consumer account located in the U.S.; business accounts are not affected by this change. Should this service resume, the dates on which these future transfers will be executed will be described in the disclosures that are provided to you when you establish such a transfer or transfers in accordance with federal law. Instructions established before October 28, 2013 for a scheduled or recurring future-dated international wire from a consumer account located in the U.S. will continue to be processed provided there are no changes made by you to those instructions. In addition, Citibank will continue to accept new instructions for a scheduled or recurring future-dated domestic wire transfer from a consumer or business account after October 28, 2013.

7. CURRENCY OF TRANSFER. External funds transfers to beneficiaries within the United States are made only in U.S. dollars. For Remittance Transfers, at the time that you request the funds transfer, Citibank may ask you to indicate the currency in which the beneficiary account is held. If you indicate that the account is held in U.S. dollars, your transfer must be made in U.S. dollars. If you indicate that the account is held in foreign currency (either local currency of the country where the account is maintained or another foreign currency offered by Citibank), Citibank will send the transfer in that foreign currency. If you indicate that you do not know the currency in which the beneficiary account is held, you can choose to send the transfer in U.S. dollars or in one of the foreign currency options provided to you at the time of your transfer request. You understand that Citibank has the right to rely on your statement as to the currency of the beneficiary account and that Citibank will not be responsible for any error in the information it provides you concerning the applicable exchange rate and the amount of funds to be received by the beneficiary should your statement be incorrect and a currency conversion occurs after Citibank sends your funds transfer request. If your funds transfer is made in a foreign currency, Citibank will convert your U.S. dollar payment to that foreign currency at the then current exchange rate offered by Citibank for similar transactions, which will include a fee to Citibank for exchanging the currency. Information regarding the applicable exchange rate will be provided to you at the time you initiate the transfer. If you conduct a currency conversion directly with Citibank's foreign exchange desk rather than solely with your Citi Private Bank Representative, you acknowledge that any subsequent Remittance Transfer of the converted currency will be processed by your Citi Private Bank Representative as a separate transaction. You will receive a transaction confirmation disclosing the actual exchange rate used by Citibank for the currency conversion transaction.

For non-Remittance Transfers to a beneficiary and recipient bank in any other country, the transfer will be made in the currency of that country, unless you choose to send U.S. dollars or one of the foreign currency options provided to you at the time of your transfer. For non-U.S. dollar transfers, Citibank will convert your U.S. dollar payment to that foreign currency at the then current exchange rate offered by Citibank for similar transactions, which will include a fee to Citibank for exchanging the currency. Information regarding the applicable exchange rate will be provided to you at the time you initiate the transfer. If you request us to transfer non-local currency to your beneficiary, we cannot guarantee that your recipient will be able to receive non-local currency, because the laws of the country in which the recipient bank is located may restrict such a transfer. If your transfer must be converted to the local currency, the recipient bank may charge a fee for this exchange. Transfers to locations outside the United States may be subject to legal and regulatory limitations imposed by the United States or foreign nations.

8. MEANS OF TRANSFER. To make external funds transfers, Citibank uses a variety of banking channels and facilities but will ordinarily use electronic means. You agree that we may choose any conventional means that we deem suitable to transfer your funds to your beneficiary. Because we do not maintain banking relations with every bank, it may be necessary for us to use one or more intermediary banks before your funds are transferred to the recipient bank. Once we transmit your instruction to an intermediary bank, it will be that bank's responsibility to ensure that your instruction is executed.

9. CHARGES IMPOSED BY INTERMEDIARY/RECIPIENT BANKS. You understand that the actual amount that your recipient receives may be reduced by charges imposed by the intermediary and/or recipient bank, including those for processing your funds transfer or for exchanging currency. Beginning on or before October 28, 2013, for Remittance Transfers you will be provided with more detailed information regarding applicable fees at the time of your funds transfer request.

10. CANCELLATION OR AMENDMENT OF REMITTANCE TRANSFERS REQUESTED ON OR AFTER OCTOBER 28, 2013. You have the right to cancel or amend your Remittance Transfer provided that you cancel or amend your transfer within thirty (30) minutes of your authorizing payment for that Remittance Transfer. If you request a cancellation or amendment after this time, the provisions below applicable to all other funds transfer requests will apply.

11. CANCELLATION OR AMENDMENT OF ALL OTHER FUNDS TRANSFER REQUESTS (INCLUDING STANDING INSTRUCTIONS FOR REMITTANCE TRANSFERS ESTABLISHED BEFORE OCTOBER 28, 2013). You may cancel or amend your external funds transfer instruction only if we receive such request at a time that provides us a reasonable opportunity to act upon your request, the funds have not already been made available to your beneficiary and the recipient bank otherwise agrees to such cancellation or amendment of your funds transfer. If the recipient bank confirms that the funds are returnable and the funds are returned to Citibank by the recipient bank, Citibank will return the funds to you. The amount that is returned to you may be less than you originally transferred because of service charges of the recipient bank or Citibank. Your refund will be in U.S. dollars. If your funds transfer was in a foreign currency, your U.S. dollar refund may be at the exchange rate offered by Citibank for similar transactions on the date the funds are returned, which may include a fee to Citibank for exchanging the currency. Citibank's exchange rate for transfers in a foreign currency includes a commission for the exchange service. Citibank shall not be liable to you for any loss resulting from the failure of the recipient bank to accept a cancellation or amendment of your funds transfer request.

12. REJECTION OF A FUNDS TRANSFER REQUEST. We reserve the right to reject your funds transfer instruction if you have insufficient available funds in your account, your instruction is incomplete or unclear or we are unable to fulfill your instruction for any other reason. Beginning October 28, 2013, for Remittance Transfers we are required by federal law to provide you with certain mandatory disclosures. The method we may use to provide such disclosures will depend on the manner in which you elect to deliver your Remittance Transfer instruction to Citibank. If we are unable to provide mandatory disclosures in a way that meets our regulatory obligations to provide such mandatory disclosures we will be unable to fulfill your instruction.

13. DELAY, NON-EXECUTION OF EXTERNAL FUNDS TRANSFER INSTRUCTION. While we will handle your external funds transfer instruction as expeditiously as possible, you agree that Citibank will not be responsible for any delay or failure to execute your instruction or delay in making the funds available to the beneficiary, due to circumstances beyond the control of Citibank or any intermediary or recipient bank handling the transfer, including without limitation any inaccuracy, interruption delay in transmission or failure in the means of transmission, whether caused by strikes, power failures, equipment malfunctions, or delays caused by one or more institution's fraud screening procedures or compliance procedures for anti-money laundering, economic sanctions or similar laws. TO THE EXTENT PERMITTED BY LAW, CITIBANK MAKES NO WARRANTIES, EXPRESS OR IMPLIED, WITH RESPECT TO ANY MATTER IN CONNECTION WITH EXTERNAL FUNDS TRANSFERS.

14. INCOMING FUNDS TRANSFERS. You understand that although it is Citibank's practice to notify you promptly of incoming funds to your account(s), Citibank is not obliged to do so.

15. CLAIMS; LIMITATION OF LIABILITY. Any action or proceeding by you to enforce any obligation, duty or right under this Agreement must be commenced within one (1) year from the date that such cause of action accrues. IN NO EVENT SHALL CITIBANK BE RESPONSIBLE FOR ANY INCIDENTAL OR CONSEQUENTIAL DAMAGES OR EXPENSES ARISING IN CONNECTION WITH YOUR FUNDS TRANSFER REQUEST.

For Remittance Transfers made on or after October 28, 2013:

If you believe there has been an error or you need more information about your Remittance Transfer, you agree that you must contact Citibank within one hundred and eighty (180) days of the date indicated by Citibank that the funds would be available to the beneficiary of the transfer. At that time, we may ask you to provide the following information: 1) your name, address and account number; 2) the name of the person receiving the funds, and if known, his or her telephone number or address; 3) the dollar amount of the transfer; 4) the reference code for the transfer; and 5) a description of the error or why you need additional information. We may also ask you to select a choice of remedy (credit your account in an amount necessary to resolve the error or alternatively, a resend of the transfer in an amount necessary to resolve the error for those cases where bank error is found). Citibank will determine whether an error has occurred within ninety (90) days after you contacted the bank. If Citibank determines that an error has occurred, we will promptly correct that error in accordance with the error resolution remedies and procedures under the Electronic Fund Transfer Act and federal Regulation E or in accordance with the laws of the state where your account is located as may be applicable.

For All Other Transfers (including Remittance Transfers scheduled before October 28, 2013):

If you believe that there has been an error or you need more information about your Transaction, you agree that you must contact Citibank within thirty (30) days after you receive notification that your funds transfer request has been executed. If your Transaction was delayed or erroneously executed as a result of erroneous information provided by you, you understand that you may be responsible for the amount of that transfer and any associated fees. If your Transaction was delayed or erroneously executed as a result of Citibank's error, Citibank's sole obligation to you is to pay or refund such amounts as may be required under the Uniform Commercial Code Article 4A or by other applicable law. Any claim for interest payable by Citibank shall be at Citibank's published savings account rate in effect within the state of the home financial center of the account from which the funds transfer was made.

16. INDEMNITY. In consideration of the agreement by Citibank to act upon funds transfer requests in the manner provided in this Agreement, you agree to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law to indemnify, defend and hold Citibank harmless from and against any and all claims, suits, judgments, executions, liabilities, losses, damages, costs and expenses – including reasonable attorney's fees – in connection with funds transfers made pursuant to this Agreement. This indemnity will not be effective to relieve and indemnify Citibank against its gross negligence, bad faith or willful misconduct, or as otherwise provided by law.

17. AMENDMENT. We reserve the right to change the terms of this Agreement as required by law or our policy and will revise them from time to time to reflect these changes. Copies will be available from your Citi Private Bank Representative. We suggest that you keep any notification of changes along with the rest of your account information. Unless otherwise required by law, we may amend this Agreement without prior notice to you. If we choose to notify you or are required by law to notify you of changes to this Agreement, we may mail or deliver a notice, a statement message, or an electronic message to you at the last address we have on file for you.

18. SEVERABILITY. If any portion of this Agreement is found to be unenforceable, its remaining portions shall remain in full force and effect.

19. GOVERNING LAW/JURY WAIVER. In general, this Agreement will be governed by federal law and, where not in conflict with or preempted by federal law, the laws of the state (including the District of Columbia) in which the home financial center of the account from where the funds transfer is made is located. Transactions authorized under this Agreement may involve one or more funds transfer systems, such as Fedwire or the Clearing House Interbank Payments System (CHIPS). In these cases, the rules of the appropriate funds transfer system(s) will apply along with applicable law. Subpart B of Regulation J and Article 4A of the Uniform Commercial Code apply to funds transfers made through Fedwire. Funds transfers made through CHIPS are governed by, and subject to, CHIPS Rules and Administrative Procedures and the laws of the State of New York, including Article 4A of the New York Uniform Commercial Code. UNLESS OTHERWISE PROHIBITED, EACH OF YOU AND WE WAIVE TRIAL BY JURY IN ANY SUCH DISPUTE.

AMENDMENT:

Effective Immediately, the following change is made to the Citibank Client Manual – Consumer Accounts:

The section titled “Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act” within the “Account Opening/Ownership/Maintenance” section of the Client Manual is deleted in its entirety and replaced with the following:

Important Tax Information<sup>1</sup>

When you apply to open an account, Citibank is required to obtain U.S. tax certification from each account owner. If U.S. tax certification is not provided, the account will be subject to backup withholding. An account must not be subject to backup withholding to be eligible to participate in most account promotions; please refer to the separate promotion terms and conditions, if applicable.

U.S. persons are required to furnish or have a valid Form W-9 (Request for Taxpayer Identification Number and Certification) on file with Citibank. Foreign individuals are required to furnish or have a valid Form W-8BEN (Certificate of Foreign Status of Beneficial Owner for United States Tax Withholding and Reporting (Individuals)) on file with Citibank, and foreign entities are required to furnish or have a valid Form W-8BEN-E (Certificate of Status of Beneficial Owner for United States Tax Withholding and Reporting (Entities)) on file with Citibank.

Citibank will apply backup withholding to income payments (e.g., interest) if: (a) you fail to provide a correct Taxpayer Identification Number (TIN), or (b) the U.S. Internal Revenue Service (IRS) notifies us that you furnished an incorrect TIN, or (c) you or we are notified by the IRS that you are subject to backup withholding. Additionally, the IRS may charge you a $50 penalty for failing to provide Citibank with your correct Name/TIN combination. In some cases, a state and local tax authority may also require that we apply state and local backup withholding on income paid to your account when we are required to apply Federal backup withholding.

Interest received by U.S. Persons will be reported on IRS Form 1099-INT for the year received, as required by applicable law. Interest paid to non-U.S. Persons will be reported on IRS Form 1042-S for the year received. If 1099 reporting is required, Citibank will issue a 1099 to the first titled owner on the account. For jointly owned accounts that include both a U.S. owner and a foreign owner, we will issue the 1099 to the U.S. owner.

Please review the separate IRA and other tax-qualified retirement account disclosures for additional requirements that may apply.

Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act:

In order for Citibank to be compliant with the provisions of The Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act (commonly known as “FATCA”), a U.S. federal tax law, Citibank may contact you to request additional information and/or documentation. Please understand that Citibank does not and will not in any way support any attempt by you to evade U.S. taxes or any request by you for help in avoiding detection under FATCA. Furthermore, since Citibank is not in the business of providing tax advice, you should not rely upon Citibank to determine the impact of FATCA on your own business activities or what your own compliance obligations are under FATCA. We encourage you to seek the advice of experienced tax advisors to determine what actions you need to take to become FATCA compliant. Your failure to comply with FATCA may result in restricted access or withholding of taxes from interest payments due to you.

<sup>1</sup> *IRS Circular 230 Disclosure: Citibank, N.A. its affiliates, and its employees are not in the business of providing tax or legal advice to any taxpayer outside of Citibank, N.A. and its affiliates. ## EFFECTIVE DATE: JUNE 19, 2022

AMENDMENT TO ELIMINATE THE OVERDRAFT FEE, RETURNED ITEM/INSUFFICIENT FUNDS FEE, AND OVERDRAFT PROTECTION TRANSFER FEE

Effective Sunday June 19, 2022, your account will no longer be assessed an overdraft fee, a returned item/insufficient funds fee, or an overdraft protection transfer fee.

As a result, the Client Manual – Consumer Accounts is amended as follows:

1. The following terms are added to the Definitions section of the Client Manual – Consumer Accounts:

“Automated Clearing House or ACH” debits are received electronically through a merchant you have instructed to bill your checking account i.e., for your utility or phone bill.

Your “Available Now” balance is the total amount you can use right now. The Available Now balance amount may be less than your On Deposit balance as it doesn’t include the transactions that are still pending and haven’t been posted to your account. For example, a recent deposited check may not be included in your Available Now balance

Your “On Deposit” amount reflects all transactions recorded in your account as of today. The On Deposit amount may be greater than the Available Now amount because it’s a record of your activity, including transactions that haven’t settled and that aren’t yet available for you to use.

2. The “Writing a Check” section is deleted in its entirety and replaced with the following:

You can write a check for any amount up to the Available Now balance (including any Checking Plus® or Safety Check availability) in your checking account or money market account, provided your account offers a check-writing feature, by using one of the personalized checks you receive from us or one of the compliant checks that you have ordered elsewhere. Checks must be written in U.S. dollars.

3. The “Returned Items/Transactions” section is deleted in its entirety and replaced with the following:

Deposited Transaction Item Returned Unpaid

A Deposited Transaction Item Returned Unpaid may occur whether or not your account is overdrawn.

When checks or other Transaction Items you deposit to your account are returned by the paying bank for insufficient or uncollected funds, we may, at our discretion and option, re-present those checks or other Transaction Items for payment – including electronically – without notifying you that the check or Transaction Item was returned. You agree we are not responsible for any loss or damage you may incur as a result of our not notifying you when such check or other Transaction Item was first returned.

A Fee for Deposited Check Returned Unpaid may be assessed for Return Deposit Items that are checks that are not paid for any reason, including in accordance with any law, regulation or rule (including a clearinghouse rule). We will notify you when you are charged a Fee for Deposited Check Returned Unpaid.

We may also place a hold on the funds in question (see “Funds Availability at Citibank” section in the Marketplace Addendum) or charge your account for the amount (and any interest earned on it) whether or not the return or notice of non-payment is proper or timely.

If we receive an affidavit or a declaration under penalty of perjury stating that an endorsement on an item deposited to your account is forged, that the item contains an alteration, or that there has been a breach of warranty in connection with the item, we may charge the item back against your account or place a hold on the funds pending an investigation, without prior notice to you.

4. The “Insufficient Account Balances” section is deleted in its entirety and replaced with the following:

Posting Order

We may accept, pay, certify, or charge to the appropriate account, Transaction Items in the order we choose. Even if we provisionally post Transaction Items to your account during the day, we may treat them as if we received all of them at the end of the day.

For purposes of the “Deposit Transaction Item Returned Unpaid,” “Posting Order,” “Overdrawing Your Account,” “Insufficient Funds to pay a Transaction Item,” and “Overdraft Protection” sections of the Client Manual, a “Transaction Item” includes in-person transfers or withdrawals, drafts, ACH transactions and transfers by other electronic means, account fees and charges, service charges, product, service or bank fees, checks, substitute checks, service charges, purported substitute checks, electronic items or transactions, drafts, remotely created checks, image replacement documents, indemnified copies, preauthorized payments, automatic transfers, telephone initiated transfers, online banking transfers or bill payment instructions, withdrawal slips, adjustments, and any other instruments or instructions for the payment, transfer or withdrawal of funds including an image or photocopy of any of these.

Generally, your deposits and withdrawals are processed as follows:

First: Deposits made before the cut-off time are added to your account balance.

Second: Fees for services we provide.

Third: Transactions received real-time during the day are deducted as they occur if there is a sufficient available balance in the account to pay for the transaction and any associated fee. Example: ATM, debit PIN or teller withdrawals including cashed checks; transfers or Citibank® Online bill payments initiated by you, debit card purchases at a merchant and most ACH debits that we receive throughout the day.

Fourth: Checks presented for payment and any ACH debit not deducted during the day are deducted from your remaining available balance in the order of lowest to highest dollar amount.

5. The “Overdrawing Your Account” section is deleted in its entirety and replaced with the following:

Overdrawing Your Account

Citibank encourages its customer to consider the impact of overdrawing an account.

Your deposit account with us is overdrawn if your Available Now balance is less than $0 (negative balance). You can minimize overdrawing your account by maintaining an Available Now balance in your account sufficient to cover your Transaction Items. An account may become overdrawn for a variety of reasons, including if you perform a transaction on your account that reduces your Available Now balance to less than $0.

In the event of insufficient funds to pay one or more Transaction Items from your Available Now balance, in our sole discretion we may return (“Returned Items”) or pay (“Overdraft”) one or more Transaction Items.

We will not allow you to overdraw your account in certain circumstances. These may include certain activities, such as branch withdrawals, ATM transactions, and transactions using your Citibank® Debit Card. In addition, accounts in the Access Account Package are designed so that Transaction Items that cause an overdraft will not be authorized. Please review “Access Account Package” in the Marketplace Addendum for additional information. For certain other account activities, such as a check transaction or ACH payment, in our discretion, we may allow or deny a transaction that would cause an account to be overdrawn.

6. The “Insufficient Funds to pay a Transaction item” section is added to the Client Manual – Consumer Accounts as follows:

Insufficient Funds to pay a Transaction item

Our payment of any Transaction Item that creates an Overdraft in no way obligates us to continue that practice at a later time. We may discontinue paying Overdrafts without notice to you.

Although Citibank does not charge fees for Returned Items and Overdrafts, you may be charged a fee by the merchant or other payee. A Return Deposit Item may occur whether or not your account is overdrawn and is not an overdraft fee or a Returned Item fee. You may be charged this fee when checks that you deposit into your account are returned by the paying bank for insufficient or uncollected funds.

Please be aware an entity that presents a Transaction Item for payment and is returned, may represent it for payment multiple times even if we have already returned it for insufficient funds. Each presentment may decrease your Available Now balance.

If your account balance is insufficient to pay your Transaction Item and we pay an Overdraft, you and all owners and beneficial owners of the account will continue to be liable to us for the unpaid amount and interest thereon until it is paid in full. Accounts with a zero or negative account balance may be closed. Your obligations for Transaction Items conducted by you will survive the termination of the account and this Agreement.

7. The “Overdraft Protection” section is added to the Client Manual – Consumer Accounts as follows:

Overdraft Protection

This section outlines two options that are designed to help you cover overdraft amounts in your checking account. Ask us for information which may include an application.

Safety Check

Safety Check covers overdraft amounts by transferring funds from your linked money market or savings account. The linked contributing account also covers the use of deposited funds that are not yet available in your checking account.

Contributing Accounts

When you sign up for Safety Check, you may select one account you maintain at Citibank as your "Contributing Account." Your Contributing Account can only be a savings or money market account. Only Available Now balances in your Contributing Account can be used for Safety Check coverage.

When Safety Check is used to cover your use of funds in your checking account that are not yet available (uncollected), a like amount in your Contributing Account will be held until the deposited funds become available. The funds held in your Contributing Account are not transferred to the checking account and will continue to earn interest. Since no transfer of funds occurs, there is no transfer fee for use of this service in this circumstance.

Safety Check Transfers

Safety Check transfers from your Contributing Account will be made in the amount needed to cover your overdraft amounts rounded up to the next $100 increment. We reserve the right to pay a Transaction Item and not to process a Safety Check Transfer.

Transfers

No more than $99,999.99 per statement period will be transferred from your Contributing Account to cover overdraft amounts or use of uncollected funds in your checking account.

Checking Plus® (variable rate) Line of Credit

Checking Plus is a revolving line of credit account linked to your Citibank checking account that provides overdraft protection and allows you to borrow the extra cash you need. Funds are automatically transferred from the Checking Plus line to the checking account to cover overdraft amounts; you can also withdraw cash at any time directly from your Checking Plus account without overdrawing your checking account (up to your available credit limit).

The terms of a Checking Plus (variable rate) line of credit account are included in a separate Agreement and Disclosure that you will receive at time of account application or shortly thereafter.

For all Checking Plus® and Checking Plus® (variable rate) Line of Credit customers. Please refer to your Checking Plus or Checking Plus (variable rate) Line of Credit Account Agreement and Disclosure, as applicable, for terms, conditions and fees relating to transfers from Checking Plus Line of Credit or Checking Plus (variable rate) Line of Credit Accounts.

8. The "Right of Setoff" section is deleted in its entirety and replaced with the following:

Right of Setoff

Subject to applicable law, we may exercise our right of setoff against any or all of your accounts (except IRA, Keogh plans and certain trust accounts) without notice, for any liability or debt of any owner or beneficial owner, whether joint or individual, direct or contingent, now or hereafter existing, and whether arising from our fees or charges, overdrafts, endorsements, guarantees, loans, attachments, garnishments, levies, attorneys' fees, or other obligations. If an account is a joint or multiple-party account, each joint or multiple-party account owner authorizes us to exercise our right of setoff against any and all accounts of each account owner.

You also agree to allow us to apply any subsequently credited deposit made to your account against any overdrafts and against any fees and charges or other obligations owed us in whichever order we determine. You acknowledge and agree that if you do not want your electronically deposited benefits applied in this way, you have the option of changing your direct deposit instructions by providing notice to the benefits payor at any time.

9. The last three sentences in the "Closing a Deposit Account" section is deleted in its entirety and replaced with the following:

If your account balance is insufficient to pay applicable account fees and charges owed to us, you will continue to be liable to us for the unpaid amount and interest thereon until it is paid in full. Your obligations for transactions and Transaction Items conducted prior to account closure will survive the termination of the account and this Agreement. If we close your account because of negative account activity, we may report that information to a Consumer Reporting Agency.

You may cancel or amend a funds transfer request (including a consumer international transfer not cancelled or amended in accordance with the special rules described in the section above) only if we receive your request prior to the execution of the funds transfer request and at a time that provides us with a reasonable opportunity to act upon that request. If your funds transfer request has already been executed by Citibank, you understand and agree that the request to cancel or amend the funds transfer will be effective with the voluntary consent of Citibank and the beneficiary bank. Unless otherwise expressly agreed in writing, our relationship with you will be that of debtor and creditor. That is, we owe you the amount of your deposit. No fiduciary, quasi-fiduciary or other special relationship exists between you and us. We owe you a duty of ordinary care. Any internal policies or procedures that we may maintain in excess of reasonable commercial standards and general banking usage are solely for our own benefit and shall not impose a higher standard of care than otherwise would apply in their absence.

DEFINITIONS OF TYPES OF ACCOUNTS

"Estate Account" means an account opened by a fiduciary on behalf of a formal estate. The estate will have its own Taxpayer Identification Number issued by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS). Additional documentation is required to open the account.

"Individual Account" means an account owned in the name of one person only.

"Joint Account" means an account owned in the names of more than one person in joint tenancy. If one owner dies, ownership of the account will automatically pass to the surviving joint owner(s). Unless you designate otherwise on your signature card, application or other bank documentation, we will assume that personal accounts opened by two or more individuals are intended to be joint tenancy accounts with the right of survivorship. We can act on the instruction of any one or more of the joint account owners. In the event of conflicting instructions or a dispute among you, we may require all joint account owners to act together in giving us instructions or performing transactions. Any joint account owner may close a joint account.

EACH ACCOUNT OWNER IS JOINTLY AND SEVERALLY RESPONSIBLE FOR ALL ACTIVITY RELATED TO THE JOINT ACCOUNT, INCLUDING RESPONSIBILITY FOR PAYING OVERDRAFTS CREATED BY ANY AUTHORIZED SIGNER(S) OR PARTY TO THE ACCOUNT, WHETHER OR NOT THEY PARTICIPATE IN THE TRANSACTION OR BENEFIT FROM ITS PROCEEDS. WE MAY BE REQUIRED BY LEGAL PROCESS TO PAY ALL THE FUNDS IN A JOINT ACCOUNT TO SATISFY A JUDGMENT AGAINST ANY OR ALL ACCOUNT OWNERS.

Applicable to accounts opened on or after April 23, 2021

All Joint Accounts must have at least one adult owner. Minors age 13 to 17 may qualify to open a Joint Account. Please refer to the governing state law of your account for information about legal rights and obligations of minors. When at least one owner of a Joint Account is a minor in the Basic Banking Package, the adult owner should serve as the primary signer which means the adult owner will receive communications and statements regarding the account according to the Client Manual – Consumers Accounts and Marketplace Addendum (for instance, see “Account Statements and Notices,” “Periodic Statements”). Unless expressly limited, the Joint Account rules explained in the Client Manual – Consumer Accounts and Marketplace Addendum otherwise remain unchanged.

“In-Trust-For (“ITF”) Account” means an account where you designate another person as beneficiary of the account. You can open an individual or joint ITF account as long as it is not a checking account. The beneficiary receives the funds in the account only upon the death of all account owners and cannot make any withdrawals or account changes before that time. If more than one beneficiary is named in our records, they will share equally in the account proceeds. During the lifetime of one or more of the account owners, this account will be treated as an individual account or joint account, as applicable. To change the beneficiary, all account owners must sign our documentation naming the new beneficiary.

“Trust Account” means an account owned by a trust. In some cases, the trust must have its own Taxpayer Identification Number issued by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS). Additional documentation is required to open the account.

“Uniform Transfers to Minors Account” (“UTMA Account”) means an account owned by a minor, who receives the funds as a permanent (irrevocable) gift. A custodian controls and manages the account for the benefit of the minor. The definition of a minor varies by state; however, generally, one custodian and one minor are allowed per account, unless the account is established under Maryland’s UTMA rules. We act only upon the custodian’s instructions. You may wish to consult your tax advisor or attorney before opening a UTMA account.

Citibank reserves the right to restrict an UTMA account once the account reaches the age of termination under state law. If the custodian refuses or is unable to transfer remaining UTMA account funds to the beneficiary at the age of account termination, Citibank may, at any time thereafter and in its sole discretion, block the UTMA account. If the UTMA account is blocked by Citibank, any and all future withdrawals from or deposits into the UTMA account will be prohibited. In addition, Citibank may issue a check for the balance of the UTMA account directly to the beneficiary if Citibank in its sole discretion believes the UTMA account has terminated under state law. Citibank also has the right to close the UTMA account at any time by issuing a check for the balance of the account in UTMA form.

Account Opening/Ownership/Maintenance

AMENDMENTS/CHANGES TO THIS AGREEMENT

We may change the terms of this Agreement by adding, deleting or modifying existing ones in which a notice will be provided as required by law. We may also amend the Agreement without prior notice, unless otherwise required by law (e.g., by posting the information in our offices, on our web site, or otherwise making it available to you). You should retain all amendments and notifications with copies of the agreements and disclosures we provided to you when opening your account.

ARBITRATION

This Agreement contains an arbitration provision that explains that you cannot go to court, have a jury trial or initiate or participate in a class action if you have a dispute with us. Instead, this provision tells you that the dispute must be resolved by a professional arbitrator, not a judge or jury. This section also explains how arbitration works and some of the differences between resolving a dispute in arbitration and resolving one in court. All of the terms of the arbitration provision are set forth in the section entitled “Arbitration.” Please read it carefully.

CONFLICTING DEMANDS/DISPUTES

If there is any uncertainty or conflicting demand regarding the ownership of an account or its funds; or we are unable to determine any person’s authority to give us instructions; or we are requested by law enforcement or a state or local agency to freeze the account or reject a transaction due to the suspected financial abuse of an elder or dependent adult; or we believe a transaction may be fraudulent or may violate any law, we may, in our sole discretion: (1) freeze the account and refuse transactions until we receive written proof (in form and substance satisfactory to us) of each person’s right and authority over the account and its funds; (2) refuse transactions and return checks, marked “Refer to Maker” (or similar language); (3) require the signatures of all authorized signers for the withdrawal of funds, the closing of an account, or any change in the account regardless of the number of authorized signers on the account; (4) request instructions from a court of competent jurisdiction at your expense regarding the account or transaction; and/or (5) continue to honor checks and other instructions given to us by persons who appear as authorized signers according to our records. The existence of the rights set forth above shall not impose an obligation on us to assert such rights or to deny a transaction.

EXEMPLAR SIGNATURE

Citibank may use automated processes to capture a digital image of your signature on checks written on your account to retain as your on-file signature. This on-file signature will be kept in Citibank’s records and may be used to determine the authenticity of your signature and whether subsequent checks or instructions on other items and documents are authorized by you.

GOVERNING LAW

Accounts and services are governed by federal laws and regulations and to the extent not preempted by federal law or otherwise inapplicable, by the “governing state law” determined as follows for accounts opened or services signed up for on or after February 24, 2012: If you open your account or sign up for a service in a branch, by the law of the state where the branch is located, regardless of the state where you reside, or, if you open your account or sign up for a service remotely (for example by Citibank® Online or CitiPhone Banking®), by the law of the state designated in the following chart unless a specific agreement or statute requires otherwise. In either case, state conflict of law provisions will not apply.

Governing State Law

If you open your account, or sign up for a service remotely (i.e., Citibank® Online, CitiPhone Banking®) and reside here...	Then the governing state law will be...
California	California
Connecticut	Connecticut
Florida	Florida
Illinois	Illinois
Maryland	Maryland
Nevada	Nevada
New Jersey	New Jersey
New York	New York
Texas	Texas
Virginia	Virginia
Washington, D.C.	Washington, D.C.
Any other U.S. state, territory or possession	South Dakota

If you open your account remotely, your Home Branch will generally be the branch where your first account is opened or subsequently transferred. Usually, once your Home Branch is established, additional accounts you open can be assigned to the same Home Branch regardless of the governing law applicable to the additional accounts. If you open your account in a branch, your Home Branch will be the branch where you opened the account. If you notify us of a change of address after your account is opened, it will not affect the Home Branch where your accounts are maintained and it will not affect the governing state law applicable to your existing accounts.

INDEMNIFICATION

Except as otherwise set forth in this Agreement, you agree to indemnify, defend and hold us harmless from all claims, actions, proceedings, fines, costs and expenses (including, without limitation, attorney fees) related to or arising out of: (a) your actions and omissions in connection with your accounts or our services, and (b) our actions and omissions, provided that they are taken/omitted in accordance with this Agreement or your instructions. This provision shall survive the termination of this Agreement.

INFORMATION SHARING

Our consumer privacy notice describes personal information we may collect about you, including your name, address, telephone number, and other information we receive from you, information about your account and transactions, and information we receive from credit reporting agencies and other sources. You authorize us to disclose this information to affiliates and nonaffiliated third parties as permitted by applicable law except as you or we limit those disclosures under the terms of our consumer privacy notice. A copy of our consumer privacy notice accompanies your Agreement and we will provide it thereafter as required by applicable law. You may obtain a copy of our consumer privacy notice at any branch, by calling us toll-free within the U.S. at 1-888-214-0017, by calling CitiPhone Banking® (see the back cover of this Manual for telephone numbers) or by visiting Citibank.com. You may change your privacy preferences at any time by calling the toll free number listed in our privacy notice. We may take as long as thirty (30) days from our receipt of your privacy choices to process your request.

LIMITATION ON TIME TO SUE OR ARBITRATE

Unless otherwise required by law, an action, proceeding or arbitration by you to enforce an obligation, duty or right arising under this Agreement or by law with respect to your account or any account service must be commenced within one (1) year after the cause of action accrues (two (2) years if the governing state law of your account is Texas).

RECORDING YOUR SERVICE REQUESTS

We may monitor or record your conversations with us or with an agent acting on our behalf. We do this from time to time to monitor the quality of service and accuracy of information given to you and to ensure that your instructions are followed.

YOUR CONSENT FOR US TO CALL YOU

You understand that we or our agents may contact you at any telephone number you provide to us, including your mobile phone number. You agree to receive these calls and messages, such as text messages or prerecorded or autodialed calls. You understand your service provider may charge you for these calls/messages.

YOUR CONSENT FOR US TO USE YOUR MOBILE PHONE NUMBER TO IDENTIFY YOU

You authorize your wireless operator (AT&T, Sprint, T-Mobile, US Cellular, Verizon, or any other branded wireless operator) to disclose your mobile number, name, address, email, network status, customer type, customer role, billing type, mobile device identifiers (IMSI and IMEI) and other subscriber status details, if available, solely to allow verification of your identity and to compare information you have provided to Citi with your wireless operator account profile information for the duration of your business relationship with Citibank.

Separately, Citibank may obtain information about your mobile phone activity from third parties and may use this information for its other everyday business purposes. For more information, see our U.S. Privacy Notice for Consumers.

SECURITY INTEREST

You grant us a security interest in your account for amounts owing to us under this Agreement by any owner. This provision does not apply to IRA or tax-qualified retirement accounts or where otherwise prohibited by law.

SEVERABILITY

Unless otherwise stated, if any of the provisions of this Agreement are determined to be void or invalid, the remainder of the Agreement shall remain in full force and effect.

WAIVER

We may delay in enforcing any of our rights under this Agreement without losing them. Any waiver by us shall not be deemed a waiver of any other right or of the same right at another time. You waive diligence, demand, presentment, protest and notice of every kind, except as set forth in this Agreement.

ACCOUNT OPENING

All accounts are opened subject to our ability to verify your identity by requiring acceptable types of identification. To help the government fight the funding of terrorism and money laundering activities, federal law requires us to obtain, verify, and record information that identifies each person who opens an account. When you apply for an account, we will ask for information that will allow us to identify you. We may also ask for your driver's license or other identifying documents. Please note: Your ability to perform or request certain account transactions on a new account, such as wire transfers, may be delayed for one or more business days after account opening.

Account opening transactions that are completed prior to the Cut-off Time on a Business Day<sup>1</sup> are recorded as having occurred on that day. ## CONSUMER REPORTING AGENCY INFORMATION

You authorize us to obtain a consumer report in connection with the application, update or renewal of any deposit or loan account you apply for and you understand that we may also obtain such reports at any time once you become a customer. You also authorize us to use these consumer reports to consider you for other programs with Citibank.

We may report information, including negative account activity, about you and any joint account owners or authorized signers on the account (including any account closed by Citibank) to a Consumer Reporting Agency. As a result, this may prevent you from obtaining services at other financial institutions, including opening an account. If you believe that we have inaccurately reported information to a Consumer Reporting Agency, you have the right to file a dispute with that Consumer Reporting Agency. You may also file a dispute by calling CitiPhone Banking® (see the back cover of this Manual for telephone numbers) or write to us at Citibank – Consumer Report Inquiry, P.O. Box 769004, San Antonio, TX 78245-9989. We will review our files and respond to you in writing.

CHECKING ACCOUNT SUB-ACCOUNTS

For regulatory reporting and accounting purposes, all Citibank consumer checking accounts consist of two sub-accounts: a transaction sub-account to which all financial transactions are posted; and a savings sub-account into which available balances above a pre-set level are transferred daily.

Funds will be transferred to your transaction sub-account to meet your transactional needs. For Regular Checking (all non-interest bearing checking accounts), both sub-accounts are non-interest bearing. For all types of Interest Checking, the savings sub-accounts pay the same interest rate as their corresponding transaction sub-accounts. Transfers can occur on any Business Day. Transfers to the savings sub-account will be made whenever available balances in the transaction sub-account exceed a preset level. Transfers from the savings sub-account to the transaction sub-account will be made whenever the transaction sub-account balances fall below a predetermined level. Both sub-accounts are treated as a single account for purposes of your deposits and withdrawals, access and information, tax reporting, fees, etc.

UPDATING YOUR ACCOUNT INFORMATION

It is important that your account records be kept up to date. You have a responsibility to provide us with your mailing address. Please inform us of any changes, including updates to your email address. Be sure to update all accounts accordingly. An incorrect address, may prevent receipt of bank statements and other important account related communications. Additionally, we will not be liable for errors, debits or charges to, or your inability to transact in, your account resulting from an improper physical, mailing or applicable other address.

You can update your account information by doing the following:

- By changing your profile settings on Citi Online or the Citi Mobile App;
- By calling CitiPhone Banking®;
- At a Citibank branch.

If you meet the required criteria, we will complete your address change request over the phone; however, it may be necessary to have you place your request in writing. Be sure to change the address on each of your accounts. Changing your address will not change the governing state law or the Home Branch of any of your existing accounts or services. If you have changed your address and would like to change your Home Branch or the governing state law of your existing accounts or services, you must either visit a branch or call CitiPhone Banking®.

We reserve the right to change your address for both mailing and records purposes if we receive information from the United States Postal Service or any other third party who we believe in our sole discretion is authorized to make such changes or who has actual knowledge of your current address.

TRANSFERRING ACCOUNT OWNERSHIP

OWNERSHIP OF CHECKING, SAVINGS, MONEY MARKET AND CERTIFICATE OF DEPOSIT ACCOUNTS IS TRANSFERABLE ONLY WITH OUR WRITTEN PERMISSION AFTER YOU COMPLETE OUR APPROPRIATE FORMS AND, IN MOST CASES, WOULD REQUIRE THE ACCOUNT TO BE CLOSED AND RE-OPENED.

LANGUAGE PREFERENCE

This section applies if your preferred communication language about Citi's products and services is other than English. Although we may not be able to accommodate your language preference at all of our branches or for all products and services, as a courtesy, at your request, and for your convenience only, when you open an account with us we may be able to provide you with services in your preferred language.

Account Documents. English is the controlling language governing your banking relationship with us and your account documents. As an example, the English version of this Agreement is the governing Agreement.

Spanish Language. For customers who inform us their preferred language is Spanish, upon your request, Citi can provide you with an unofficial Spanish translation of this Agreement and Spanish versions of your account statement. Although we may send you a Spanish version of your account statements, you can obtain an English version upon request. If you receive both an English and Spanish version of this Agreement or if you request English and Spanish versions of your account statements, you should retain both versions for your records. Many features on Citi Online and Proprietary Citibank ATMs, and CitiPhone Banking® are offered in Spanish.

Account Communications. Other than Spanish, account communications and certain other notices, disclosures and communications may only be available in English.

Availability of Products and Services. Although some products and services provided in our branches may be available only in English, you may be able to speak to a representative at a branch or a Relationship Manager in your preferred language. Not all preferred languages are available in every branch. Please call CitiPhone Banking® to find branches with representatives who speak your preferred language.

Customer Service. You may be able to receive customer service in your preferred language by calling CitiPhone Banking®.

ACCOUNT ERRORS AND ADJUSTMENTS

We may make adjustments to your account whenever a correction or change is required. Adjustments might occur, for example, if a deposit amount is entered in an amount that is different than the actual amount of the deposit or items you deposit are returned unpaid. In the case of a deposit error where the deposit amount is entered in the wrong amount, we will either investigate the discrepancy and make an adjustment (debit or credit) to your account or alternatively, credit your account for the full amount of the discrepancy without investigation.

You have a responsibility to review your account statement in a timely manner and to notify us promptly of any errors. Within thirty (30) days after we send or make available to you your account statement and accompanying items, you must notify us in writing of any errors, discrepancies, or unauthorized transactions not involving an electronic funds transfer. If you fail to do so, we will not be liable for debits or charges to your account resulting from such errors, discrepancies or lack of authorization, or for losses resulting from subsequent related occurrences.

Note: There are exceptions to this thirty day notice requirement. For claims asserting forged, missing, or unauthorized endorsements or a material alteration, you must notify us within the period specified by the state law applicable to your accounts.

You also agree that any suit or demand for arbitration that you assert based on an account error, discrepancy, or unauthorized transaction must be brought within one (1) year (two (2) years in Texas) after the date of the first account statement on which the error, discrepancy, or unauthorized transaction appears.

If you think an error has been made or if you need more information about a transaction, call CitiPhone Banking® at the number on the back of your Citibank® Banking Card. If your account is debited with a substitute check that you have received from us and you believe that there is an error or discrepancy or that the transaction is unauthorized, you are entitled to additional rights under the law. Please refer to the "Substitute Checks and Your Rights" section of this Manual. Please read the "Error Resolution and Notice Procedures" provisions of the "Electronic Banking" section of this Manual for additional information about problems with such transactions.

If funds to which you are not entitled are deposited into your account, we have the right to remove these funds from the account at any time without prior notice to you. If there are insufficient funds in the account, we may charge your other accounts to recoup the funds, as more fully explained in the "Right of Setoff" section of this Agreement.

ASSIGNMENTS

Most accounts can be assigned as collateral for a loan from us or another lender. Unless we agree in writing, any such assignment to another lender will remain subject and subordinate to our right of setoff. For the assignment to be effective, we must receive written notice of the assignment and agree to it in writing. We will then reflect the change on our records.

FOREIGN ACCOUNT TAX COMPLIANCE ACT

In order for Citibank to be compliant with the provisions of The Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act (commonly known as "FATCA"), a U.S. federal tax law, Citibank may contact you to request additional information and/or documentation. Please understand that Citibank does not and will not in any way support any attempt by you to evade U.S. taxes or any request by you for help in avoiding detection under FATCA. Furthermore, since Citibank is not in the business of providing tax advice, you should not rely upon Citibank to determine the impact of FATCA on your own business activities or what your own compliance obligations are under FATCA. We encourage you to seek the advice of experienced tax advisors to determine what actions you need to take to become FATCA compliant. Your failure to comply with FATCA may result in restricted access or withholding of taxes from interest payments due to you.

Account Transactions

WHAT THIS SECTION COVERS

This section governs transaction activity in the following Citibank accounts: all types of checking, savings and money market accounts. It does not apply to certificate of deposit accounts. Please note: Your ability to perform or request certain account transactions on a new account, such as wire transfers, may be delayed for one or more business days after account opening.

CHECKBOOKS AND CHECKS

When you open a checking or money market account with a check-writing feature, you can order personalized checks through us. We will automatically deduct the cost from your account balance after your order is processed. You are responsible for verifying the accuracy of all information shown on your checks. If you find an error, you must notify us immediately.

If you choose to have your checks printed by another vendor, the form, encoding and format of the checks must follow our check specification requirements and be approved by us in advance. If you do not purchase your checks through us, we may charge a fee for each check that rejects during processing due to poor print quality, or if it fails to meet our specifications. You agree not to issue checks with features or marks that obscure, alter or impair information on the front or back of a check or that otherwise prevents us or another bank from capturing such information during automated check processing.

You agree to safeguard your blank and cancelled checks, and to take reasonable steps to prevent their unauthorized use. If your checks are lost or stolen, you agree to notify us immediately.

For security reasons, we reserve the right to close your account and transfer the balance to a new account. If we do, all checks written but not yet paid may be returned to payees as "Account Closed" or "Refer to Maker." You will be responsible for issuing any replacement checks.

DEPOSITS

You can make deposits:

- To qualifying accounts linked to your Citibank® Banking Card* at any Proprietary Citibank ATM in the U.S., 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Simply follow the directions on the ATM screen to insert your check or cash deposit in the appropriate slot. Some instruments such as some money orders or foreign checks cannot be accepted by the ATM terminal and must be deposited with a branch representative. When your transaction is completed, you will receive a transaction record via email or print (which ever option you select), that will provide an image of the check(s) or a breakdown of the cash accepted.
- With a teller, during regular banking hours, at any Citibank branch in the United States;
- By using our Deposit/Payment Express boxes which are located at select Citibank branch locations;
- By mail;
- By Mobile Check Deposit;
- By Direct Deposit (forms for establishing direct deposits can be obtained at any Citibank branch or through Citibank® Online);
- By Citibank® Global Transfer Service (where available);
- By an ACH or wire transfer; or
- By Inter Institution Transfer Service. For more information about these transfer services, refer to the "Electronic Banking" section of this Manual.

\ To ensure your accounts are properly linked, please stop by a branch or contact CitiPhone Banking® at 1-888-CITIBANK. You may also view a list of eligible accounts types, and link your qualifying Citi® accounts to your Citibank® Banking Card by signing on to Citibankonline.com. Select the "Link/Unlink Other Citi Accounts" option under "Services" and follow the instructions.*

We may accept items payable to you, or to any of you, from any source without questioning the authority of the person making the deposit. We also may give cash back to any authorized account signer(s) or agent(s) in connection with items payable to any owner, whether or not the items have been endorsed by the owner. If you make a deposit or payment that is not accompanied by instructions indicating how or where it is to be credited, we may apply it at our discretion, to any loan or deposit account any of you maintain with us.

REMOTELY CREATED CHECKS

You may not deposit remotely created checks to an account with us without our prior, express written consent. If you deposit remotely created checks with us, you agree that we may withhold a portion of the proceeds of such remotely created checks in a reserve account, in an amount that we reasonably believe may be needed to cover future charge backs, returned items, and/or claims that such remotely created checks were unauthorized. You grant us a security interest in the reserve account. Unless we agree otherwise in writing with you, reserve funds shall not bear interest. Our right to charge your account for returned remotely created checks will not be limited by the balance or existence of any reserve fund. Our rights with respect to the reserve fund, as well as the security interest granted to us, shall survive the termination of this Agreement. We may discontinue accepting remotely created checks at any time without cause or prior notice.

If you provide your account number to a third party with instructions to charge your account by means of one or more remotely created checks, you authorize us to pay such remotely created checks, even though they do not contain your signature and may exceed the amounts you authorized to be charged. This provision shall not obligate us to honor remotely created checks. We may refuse to honor remotely created checks without cause or prior notice, even if we have honored similar items previously.

ENDORSEMENTS

To ensure that your check is processed without delay, you must endorse your check correctly by signing the back of the check. The area reserved for your signature is on the back of the check, within 1-1/2 inches from the “top” edge (as shown in the picture below). Do not make any additional marks or notations on the back of the check. You will be liable for unpaid checks returned late because your endorsement, a prior endorsement, or information you have printed on the back of the check obscures other endorsements.

We may endorse and/or collect items deposited to your account without your endorsement, but may require your personal endorsement prior to accepting an item for deposit. If you deposit an item that bears the endorsements of more than one person or persons who are not known to us, we may refuse the item, require all endorser to be present, or require that the endorsements be guaranteed by another financial institution acceptable to us before we accept the item. If you routinely request that we deposit third party checks, we may require that you enter into a separate agreement with us for that purpose. We may also refuse to accept such an item for encashment.

ITEMS SENT FOR COLLECTION

We and other institutions may refuse to accept a check or other item for deposit or may accept it on a collection basis only. This often occurs with foreign, questionable or damaged items. If we accept an item for collection, we will send it to the institution upon which it is drawn, but will not credit your account for the amount until we receive the funds from the other institution. If we elect to credit your account before then, we may charge the amount back against your account if we do not receive payment for any reason. We may impose a fee in connection with sending and receiving items for collection (e.g., by charging your account or deducting the fee from the amount remitted). Other institutions that send or receive items for collection involving your account also may impose a fee for their services.

VERIFICATION AND COLLECTION

Any item that we cash or accept for deposit is subject to later verification and final payment. We may deduct funds from your account if an item is lost, stolen or destroyed in the collection process, if it is returned to us unpaid, or if it was improperly paid, even if you have already used the funds. Cash deposits are also subject to later verification.

ACH PROVISIONAL CREDITS

Credit for an automated clearing house (“ACH”) transfer is provisional until final payment is received by the payee’s financial institution. Until that happens, the party originating the transfer is not deemed to have made payment to the beneficiary, and the payee’s bank is entitled to a refund of the provisional credit. If we give you provisional credit for an ACH transfer, but do not receive final payment, you become obligated to us for the full amount without prior notice or demand.

NOTICE OF INCOMING TRANSFER

We are not required to give you a separate notice of our receipt of an ACH transfer. If we accept ACH credits to your account, you will receive notice of the credit on your next regular periodic statement. Although we may send notice of a non-ACH incoming funds transfer (e.g., a wire), we assume no obligation to do so. Transfers to your account will be reflected on your regular periodic statement. You may also contact your Home Branch during normal business hours to determine if a transfer has been credited to your account. This information is available to you anytime via CitiPhone Banking®, Citi Mobile® or Citibank® Online.

RETURNED ITEMS/TRANSACTIONS

When checks or other items that you deposit to your account are returned for insufficient or uncollected funds, we may, at our discretion, re-present those checks or other items for payment a second time without notifying you that the check or item was returned. You agree that we are not responsible for any loss or damage you may incur as a result of our not notifying you when such check or other item was first returned. At our option, we may re-present the check electronically.

We may also place a hold on the funds in question (see “Funds Availability at Citibank” section in the Marketplace Addendum) or charge your account for the amount (and any interest earned on it) whether or not the return or notice of non-payment is proper or timely.

This also applies to checks drawn on us which are not paid for any reason, and to checks that are returned to us in accordance with any law, regulation or rule (including a clearinghouse rule). We may assess a fee for each returned item and notify you of the return orally, electronically or in writing.

If we receive an affidavit or a declaration under penalty of perjury stating that an endorsement on an item deposited to your account is forged, that the item contains an alteration, or that there has been a breach of warranty in connection with the item, we may charge the item back against your account or place a hold on the funds pending an investigation, without prior notice to you.

RECONSTRUCTING LOST, MISSING, OR DESTROYED DEPOSITS

When you cash or deposit a check or other item with us, we act as your agent to collect the item. You assume the risk of loss for deposited items that are lost, missing, or destroyed during the processing and collection of the item(s). We may reverse any credit given and any interest earned or accrued for such a deposited item, and we may recover the amount of any funds disbursed for any such cashed item from any account you maintain with us.

You agree to cooperate fully with us to reconstruct such a deposited item by promptly:

- Providing us with a copy of the front and back of the deposited item from your or the issuer's records;
- Asking the issuer of the item to place a stop payment on it (at our expense) and to issue a replacement item to you (if the deposited item has not been paid); and
- Reviewing your records and other information to obtain the issuer's identity and any other information about the deposited item.

If you fail to cooperate with us to reconstruct the deposit, we may adjust any credit made to your account for the deposited item.

OUR RIGHT TO REFUSE DEPOSITS

We may, at our discretion, refuse to accept funds for deposit to your account for any reason. We will, to the extent practical, try to facilitate your transaction by the best means available, including sending the item for collection or forwarding the item to the appropriate processing area. Your account will not be credited until collection or processing is completed.

EXTERNAL FUNDS TRANSFERS

The following terms apply to any request to transfer funds from your account to an account maintained at another institution other than those made using an online or mobile person to person transfer service which is subject to a separate agreement. Examples of funds transfers covered by this section include wire transfers and Citibank® Global Transfers. In addition to the information provided here, please refer to any funds transfer agreements you may receive when you initiate such a request. For international funds transfers, you will be provided with certain disclosures required by federal law at the time you initiate your request for that transfer. To the extent the provisions in this section are inconsistent with the disclosures provided to you for an international wire transfer, the provisions of such disclosures shall govern. When you request a funds transfer, you authorize us to debit your account for the amount of the transfer and you also authorize us to charge your account any applicable service fees in accordance with the fee schedule in effect at the time of your request. For international funds transfer requests, you will be given information regarding the fees associated with that transfer on the disclosure you are provided at the time of the transfer request.

Reliance by Citibank. Citibank will rely on the information you provide in making a funds transfer on your behalf. It is your responsibility to provide Citibank® with accurate information regarding that transfer, including the account number of the beneficiary of the funds transfer and where applicable, the number (such as "BIC" or "SORT") identifying the beneficiary institution; payment will be processed based on the number(s) provided by you. Should you provide an incorrect account number and/or beneficiary institution identifier, you understand that any losses resulting from the funds being credited to the wrong account will be your responsibility. For international transfers, you may be required at the time you initiate the request to provide Citibank with information regarding the currency in which the beneficiary account is maintained. You understand and acknowledge that Citibank will rely on this information in executing your request in accordance with the provisions set forth in the "Currency of Transfer" paragraph below.

Security Procedures. When you place an order for a funds transfer, we will follow a security procedure established for your protection and ours to verify that the transfer has been properly authorized. You understand that the security procedure is designed only to verify the source of the funds transfer instruction and not to detect errors in the content of that instruction or to prevent duplicate transfers. The procedure depends on the means by which you provide instructions to us. Unless we agree on another security procedure, you agree that we may confirm the authenticity and content of instructions by placing a call to any authorized signer on your account. By placing a transfer order, you agree to our use of the applicable security procedure. You agree to be bound by any funds transfer request that Citibank receives and verifies in accordance with the security procedure outlined above.

Transfer to a Beneficiary Bank. When you request a funds transfer, you must select a financial institution to receive it. For funds transfers within the U.S., the beneficiary bank must be a member of the Federal Reserve System, a correspondent bank of such a member, or a Clearing House Interbank Payment System (CHIPS) member. You may request that the funds either be deposited into a particular account at the beneficiary bank or be held at the beneficiary bank for your beneficiary. The beneficiary bank is responsible for notifying the beneficiary that the funds are available. After the funds are transferred to the beneficiary bank, they become the property of the beneficiary bank. The beneficiary bank is responsible to locate, identify, and make payment to your beneficiary. When you identify a beneficiary by name and account number, the beneficiary bank may make final payment of the funds to the person identified by the account number even if the account number identifies a person different than the named beneficiary. If the beneficiary cannot be located, the funds may be returned. Except as may be prohibited by federal law, any losses resulting from an incorrect account number or other misidentification of your beneficiary provided by you are your responsibility and not Citibank's.

Currency of Transfer. Funds Transfers to beneficiaries within the United States are made only in U.S. dollars. For international transfers, Citibank may ask you to indicate the currency in which the beneficiary account is held. If you indicate that the account is held in U.S. dollars, your transfer must be made in U.S. dollars. If you indicate that the account is held in foreign currency (either the local currency of the country where the account is maintained or another foreign currency offered by Citibank) Citibank will send the transfer in that foreign currency unless the transfer in foreign currency is prohibited by local restrictions of the destination country. If you indicate you do not know the currency in which the beneficiary account is held, you can choose to send the transfer in U.S. dollars or in one of the foreign currency options provided by Citibank at the time of the transfer request. You understand that Citibank has the right to rely on your statement as to the currency of the beneficiary account and that it will not be responsible for any error in the information it provides you concerning the applicable exchange rate and the amount of funds to be received by the beneficiary should your statement be incorrect and a currency conversion occurs after Citibank sends your transfer. For transfers in foreign currency, Citibank will convert your U.S. dollar payment to the foreign currency selected by you at Citibank's exchange rate in effect at that time for similar transactions. The exchange rate includes a commission to Citibank for exchanging the currency. Information regarding the applicable exchange rate will be provided to you at the time you initiate the transfer request. In addition, in the case of transfers into your account which are sent in foreign currencies, we will convert the funds into U.S. dollars at our current conversion rate. Our conversion rate for both outgoing and incoming foreign fund transfers includes a commission for the conversion service.

Delays or Non-Execution of Funds Transfers. We will not be liable for any delay or failure to execute your funds transfer request or delay in making the funds available to the beneficiary due to circumstances beyond the control of Citibank or any intermediary or beneficiary bank handling the transfer including, without limitation, any inaccuracy, interruption, delay in transmission, or failure in the means of transmission of your funds transfer request or execution of such request by the bank, whether caused by strikes, power failures, equipment malfunctions, or delays caused by one or more of the institution's fraud screening procedures or compliance procedures for anti-money laundering, economic sanctions or similar laws. You further agree that we may refuse to process or delay processing any request if it would violate any guideline, rule, policy, or regulation of any government authority or funds transfer system.

Incoming Funds Transfers. Notice of your incoming funds transfers will be deemed to have occurred when you receive your periodic bank statement, or another notice from us, containing a credit to your account for the funds received. Also, to determine if a funds transfer has been credited to your account, you can call CitiPhone Banking®, view your account information on Citibank® Online or Citi Mobile®, or request account updates via Citi® Text Banking.

CANCELLATIONS OR AMENDMENTS OF FUNDS TRANSFER REQUESTS

Applicable to Consumer International Citibank Global Transfers and International Wire Transfers. You have the right to cancel your funds transfer request for a full refund or to amend your funds transfer request provided you cancel or amend your request within thirty (30) minutes of your authorizing payment for that transfer. If you request a cancellation or amendment after this thirty (30) minute period, the provisions under the paragraph "Applicable to all other Funds Transfer Requests" will apply.

To cancel a Consumer International Citibank Global Transfer, please call 1-866-515-1725 (TTY: We accept 711 or other Relay Service), sign into citibankonline.com or Citi Mobile. When cancelling by phone, you will need to provide us with information to help identify the funds transfer you wish to cancel, including the amount and location where the funds were to be sent. Any refund will be made no later than three business days of your request to cancel.

To cancel a Consumer International Wire Transfer, please call 1-888-606-9716 (TTY: 1-800-788-6775) and for Citibank Online initiated wire transfers, you can cancel online. When cancelling by phone, you will need to provide us with information to help identify the funds transfer you wish to cancel, including the amount and location where the funds were to be sent. Any refund will be made no later than three business days of your request to cancel.

Applicable to all other Funds Transfer Requests. You may cancel or amend a funds transfer request only if we receive the request prior to having executed the transfer and at a time that provides us with a reasonable opportunity to act upon that request. In general, after we have sent the transfer, you will not be able to cancel or amend it unless the beneficiary bank consents to such a request. We and/or the beneficiary bank may impose a fee in connection with the return of that transfer and for any required currency conversion. We will not be liable to you for any loss resulting from the failure of the beneficiary bank to agree to a recall or amendment of your funds transfer request.

Rejection of a Funds Transfer Request. We reserve the right to reject your funds transfer request without cause or prior notice. We may reject your request if the dollar value of one or more of your transfer requests exceed your daily transfer limit, if you have insufficient available funds in your account for the amount of the funds transfer and applicable fee, if the information you provide in connection with that transfer is incomplete or unclear, if we are unable to confirm the identity or authority of the person providing the request, or if we are unable to fulfill your request for any other reason. For international transfers you understand we are required by U.S. regulations to provide you with certain information about your transfer request and if we are unable to provide you with that information at the time of your transfer request for any reason, we will need to reject your request. If we reject a request for a funds transfer, you will be notified of the rejection at the time of your request or as soon thereafter as we determine to reject the transfer request.

General Tips for Wire Transfer Safety. Wire transfers are a fast way to send money to individuals and businesses. However, because they are fast and final they can also be a target for fraud. According to the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the incidents of wire transfer scams have increased significantly. Common scams include: phishing (attempts to obtain sensitive information such as account details by posing as a reputable company via email, text, or phone); family emergency (receipt of a message from a friend or family member claiming to be in need of money for an emergency); and IRS Imposters (fake IRS tax notices or individuals impersonating as IRS agents claiming you owe taxes). For additional recent and common scams, please visit the Federal Trade Commission web site at <https://www.consumer.ftc.gov/features/scam-alerts>.

Your financial security is important to us. We encourage you to take the following steps to reduce your risk of fraud when sending wire transfers:

- Know Who You are Dealing With – Do not send funds to an individual or business you don't know personally.
- Verify your Wire Transfer Instruction – Check the information you include on a wire transfer instruction to verify the information is correct.
- Verify the legitimacy of what you are paying for – Independently confirm (whether in-person or through a trusted third-party) the legitimacy of what you are paying for.
- Be Cautious of any Recipient Claiming Urgency – Don't be rushed into initiating a transfer to anyone claiming an urgent deadline.

If you believe you may have been a victim of a wire transfer scam, time is of the essence. Please contact Citibank immediately so that we may contact the corresponding financial institution that may have received the fraudulent wire transfer.

CLAIMS

Applicable to claims or questions with respect to Consumer International Citibank Global Transfers and International Wire Transfers. Please refer to the "Error Resolution and Notice Procedures for Claims or Questions concerning Consumer International Global Transfers and International Wire Transfers." paragraph under "Electronic Banking" for a description of your rights.

Applicable to claims or questions with respect to domestic Citibank® Global Transfers. Please refer to the "Error Resolution and Notice Procedures for all other Electronic Fund Transfers" paragraph under "Electronic Banking" for a description of your rights.

Applicable to claims or questions with respect to Domestic Wire Transfers. You have the responsibility to let us know of any error, delay or other problem with your funds transfer within thirty (30) days from the date you receive notification that we have transferred the funds. In the event that your transfer was delayed or erroneously executed as a result of erroneous information you provided, you understand that you may be responsible for the amount of that transfer and any associated fees. If your transfer was delayed or erroneously executed as a result of Citibank's error, Citibank's sole obligation to you is to pay or refund such amounts as may be required under the Uniform Commercial Code Article 4A or by other applicable law. Any claim for interest payable by us shall be at our published savings account rate in effect within the state of the home financial center of the account from which the funds transfer was made.

Limitation of Liability. Citibank shall not be responsible for any incidental or consequential damages or expenses arising in connection with your funds transfer.

WITHDRAWALS

Where to Make a Withdrawal

At a Citibank branch. You can withdraw up to your available balance by cashing a check or making a withdrawal at a Citibank branch. We may require you to present identification.

At a Proprietary Citibank ATM or at an ATM Network Machine. You can use your Citibank® Banking Card to withdraw cash from your eligible linked accounts at a Proprietary Citibank ATM and from primary linked accounts at a Network ATM. Depending on the terms of your account, there may be a Citibank transaction fee for cash withdrawals from a Network ATM other than those which you can use without incurring a surcharge as described in the following paragraph.

You can withdraw cash, get information and make transfers between your eligible linked Citibank accounts with no surcharge fee when you use your Citibank Banking Card at ATMs in the U.S. located at Citibank branches, ATMs at select retail store locations, and ATMs participating in the MoneyPass® Network. ATMs in retail stores and at other non-Citi locations are not owned or operated by Citibank. Use the Citi Worldwide ATM/Branch Locator on Citibank Online or the Citi Mobile® App to find the nearest ATMs and branches, including non-Citibank ATMs in the U.S. with surcharge free access.

Cash Withdrawals

Cash withdrawals or payments at any Citibank branch may be restricted due to the limited amount of currency on hand. If we do not have sufficient cash for a large withdrawal or payment, we may make arrangements for a later cash payment or offer to make payment with an Official Check. We assume no responsibility to provide personal protection for customers who elect to carry large sums of money off our premises.

Writing a Check

You can write a check for any amount up to the available balance (including any Checking Plus® or Safety Check availability) in your checking account or money market account, provided your account offers a check-writing feature, by using one of the personalized checks you receive from us or one of the compliant checks that you have ordered elsewhere. Checks must be written in U.S. dollars.

Paying Your Checks

Electronic Presentation of Checks. We may charge your account on the day that a check or other transaction is presented (or returned) to us directly or electronically for payment. We may charge your account or place a hold on funds at an earlier time if we receive notice that a check or other item deposited to your account is being returned, or if we receive notice that your check or electronic payment (e.g., at a point-of-sale) is being processed for collection. Please note: Some merchants may obtain authorizations in advance for point-of-sale transactions in an amount greater than the final transaction amount. You agree that we may place a hold on sufficient funds to cover the amount of the authorized transaction, pending its final settlement through the system, even if that amount exceeds the actual amount of the transaction. This could affect the balance available to cover other transactions.

Check Processing Cut-off Hour. In order to handle the large volume of checks processed each day, we may treat any check you have written that is presented for payment after 2:00 P.M. on a Business Day as if it were received on the next Business Day. Our cut-off hour with respect to any notice, knowledge, stop payment or post-dated check order, or legal process received by us involving a check we have received for payment is one hour after the opening of the Business Day following the Business Day on which we received the check. Our cut-off hour for check processing purposes with respect to our right of setoff is midnight of the Business Day following the Business Day on which we received the check, or such later time by which we must return the check.

Notations on Checks. We may ignore any legal copy appearing on your checks (such as "Void after 60 days"). Our decision to pay or not to pay a check is based on funds available in your account and other factors. It may not be affected by any subsequent deposits to your account.

PLEASE NOTE: As checks you have written are presented to us for payment during the course of a Business Day, we may place a hold on available funds in your account for the amount of those checks resulting in a reduction in your available account balance throughout that day. The held funds may be applied against processing of those checks or other transactions later that day.

We process most checks by automated means based on information encoded on the checks. As such, we may not physically examine all checks to determine if they are properly signed or completed. You agree that we may rely on such a process and that it will be deemed an acceptable standard of care on our part.

Post-Dated Checks. You agree not to write post-dated checks. If you do, we may or may not pay the check on the day it is presented.

The following applies to you if the governing state law of your account is in a state other than New York: If you write a post-dated check on your account and intend that the check will not be paid by us until the date written on the check, you must notify us to register it at the time you write the check. In order for your registration notice to be effective, you must call CitiPhone Banking® and provide the number, payee, amount and date of the check. You may also send written notice of your post-dated check request to us at the address printed on your periodic statement. An oral or written request to register a post-dated check is good for six (6) months and may be renewed for additional six (6) month periods by giving written notice to us within the period during which the original notice is in effect. A post-dated check will be registered only if the notice is received at such a time and in such a manner as to afford us a reasonable opportunity to act on it before we take action with respect to the check. We may pay any post-dated check that has not been properly registered with us or not registered in a timely manner. If we re-credit your account after paying a postdated check over a valid and timely postdated check notice, you agree to transfer to us all of your related rights against the payee or other holder of the check, and to assist us in legal action taken against that person.

Stale-Dated Checks. You agree that we may pay or reject a check which is presented to us for payment more than six months after its date (a "stale-dated" check), even if the presentment occurs after the expiration of a stop payment order. We normally do not examine the date on checks presented for payment. You agree that we are not required to identify stale dated checks or to seek your permission to pay them. To make sure that a check will not be paid, you should place a stop payment order on the check.

Stop Payment Orders (Checks)

General. Any signer on the account can instruct us to stop payment on a check that has not been paid by issuing a stop payment order at a Citibank branch, through Citibank® Online or by calling CitiPhone Banking®. For information about stopping payment on an automatic withdrawal or payment from your account (ACH), please refer to "Stop Payment Orders (Automatic Transfers)" in the Electronic Banking Section of this Manual.

A stop payment order must be received in a time and manner that gives us a reasonable opportunity to act on it before paying, accepting, certifying, cashing or otherwise becoming obligated to pay the item. Payment cannot be stopped on a check that has already been paid or that is in the process of being paid. At the time that you place a stop payment order, we may not be able to tell you whether the check has been paid or is in the process of being paid. Under certain circumstances, the law may allow the party in possession of the check to enforce payment, despite the stop payment order. You agree to indemnify us against any claim or loss resulting from honoring your stop payment request.

When you place a stop payment on a check, a stop payment fee may apply. Please refer to "Other Fees and Charges For All Accounts" in the Marketplace Addendum for a schedule of applicable fees.

When you place a stop payment order on a check and believe that the check may be converted to an electronic transaction (ACH), you should also place a second stop payment as an ACH. There is no fee for the second stop payment.

Contents of Stop Payment Order. You will need to accurately provide:

- Your account number;
- The date of the check;
- The check number;
- The exact amount (dollars and cents) of the check; and
- The payee's name.

We may use some or all of the information, in our sole discretion, to identify a check. If the information is not exactly correct, the stop payment may not be effective.

Effective Period of Stop Payment Order: Renewal. A stop payment order on a check will stay in effect for six (6) months from the date we accept the stop payment order, unless you instruct us to cancel it or to renew it, provided that we have not already returned the check. The order may be renewed for additional six (6) month periods.

Your instructions to remove or renew a stop payment order must be received in a time and manner that gives us a reasonable opportunity to act upon it.

Payment over Valid Stop Payment Order. If you believe that we have paid a check over a valid stop payment order, we may require you to provide us with evidence of our acceptance of a valid stop payment order and an affidavit describing in detail your loss resulting from the payment of the check; and, if applicable, further describing in detail your dispute with the payee. If we subsequently determine that you were indebted to the payee for the exact amount of the check or less, you agree that we will have the right to debit your account for the amount of the indebtedness. If your account has insufficient funds to cover the indebtedness we may also exercise our right of setoff.

Replacement Check. If you write a new check to replace one on which you have placed a stop payment order, be sure it has a different check number and date. It is also helpful if you write the word "replacement" on it so it is not mistaken for the original check.

Official Checks and Money Orders. You may not as a matter of right place a stop payment on an official check, money order, or international cheque. If such an instrument has been lost, stolen, or destroyed, you and/or the payee may, under certain circumstances, be allowed to place a stop payment by completing a "Stop Payment Request and Indemnity Agreement" form. We may require that you wait ninety (90) days before reissuing the check or reimbursing you. You may also be required to purchase a surety bond for twice the amount of the instrument.

Insufficient Account Balances

We may accept, pay, certify, or charge to the appropriate account, checks and other items in the order we choose. For purposes of this "Insufficient Account Balance" section and the following "Overdrawing Your Account" section, an "item" includes checks, substitute checks, service charges, purported substitute checks, electronic items or transactions, drafts, remotely created checks, image replacement documents, indemnified copies, preauthorized payments, automatic transfers, telephone initiated transfers, ACH transactions, online banking transfers or bill payment instructions, withdrawal slips, in-person transfers or withdrawals, adjustments, and any other instruments or instructions for the payment, transfer or withdrawal of funds including an image or photocopy of any of these. Even if we provisionally post checks or other items to your account during the day, we may treat them as if we received all of them at the end of the day. We do not necessarily process transactions with regard to the fees that you may incur for insufficient balances.

Generally, your deposits and withdrawals are processed as follows:

First: Deposits made before the cut-off time are added to your account balance.

Second: Fees for services we provide.

Third: Transactions received real-time during the day are deducted as they occur if there is a sufficient available balance in the account to pay for the transaction and any associated fee. Example: ATM, debit PIN or teller withdrawals including cashed checks; transfers or Citibank® Online bill payments initiated by you, debit card purchases at a merchant and most ACH debits* that we receive throughout the day.

Fourth: Checks presented for payment and any ACH debit not deducted during the day are deducted from your remaining available balance in the order of lowest to highest dollar amount.

* ACH (Automated Clearing House) debits are received electronically through a merchant you have instructed to bill your checking account i.e., for your utility or phone bill.

Overdrawing Your Account

In the event of insufficient funds to pay all of your items or permit one or more transactions, we may return one or more of your items and/or not allow one or more of the requested transactions, or, in our sole discretion, we may create an overdraft by paying some or all of them. Regardless of the option we choose, we will charge you a fee (or fees) as stated in the "Other Fees and Charges for All Accounts" Fee Schedule located in the Marketplace Addendum. Additionally, you may be charged a fee by the merchant or other payee.

An Overdraft Fee may be assessed when your account is in overdrawn status after transactions post at the end of the day. A Returned Item fee may be assessed when a check or item is returned unpaid due to insufficient/unavailable funds in your account. Overdraft fees and Returned Item fees, in any combination, will not be assessed more than four (4) times per day. An Overdraft Fee may also be charged whenever a transaction, including a service fee or charge, is deducted from your account and either causes your account to be overdrawn or increases the amount by which your account is overdrawn.

Please note that we do not charge an Overdraft Fee for ATM or debit card overdrafts. Our payment of any items or allowance of transactions that create overdrafts in no way obligates us to continue that practice at a later time. We may discontinue permitting overdrafts without cause or notice to you. We discourage the practice of overdrawing accounts.

We offer a line of credit account called Checking Plus® (variable rate) line of credit, which can cover your incoming items (as defined in the “Insufficient Account Balances” section) and prevent returned items up to your available credit line. This overdraft protection is not automatic and you must apply for and be approved for this account. You can also enroll in our Safety Check service, which lets you link a money market or savings account to cover overdrafts or use of unavailable funds in your checking account. For more information on Checking Plus® (variable rate) line of credit and Safety Check, please refer to the “Overdraft Protection” section of the Marketplace Addendum.

Withdrawal Refusals

In some instances, we may refuse a request for a withdrawal or transfer from an account. The following list includes, but is not limited to, the most common reasons we might refuse such requests:

- If the funds you wish to withdraw are not yet available; (See the “Funds Availability at Citibank” section of the Marketplace Addendum.)
- If we decide to require seven (7) days advance written notice and we have not received such notice;
- If there are insufficient funds in your account;
- If you use a type of check not acceptable to us;
- If the funds you wish to withdraw are being held to cover a checking account withdrawal under our Safety Check service;
- If the funds you wish to withdraw are being held due to cashing of a third party check against the account or for any other reason;
- If the withdrawal would consist of money owed to us;
- If the withdrawal you are requesting is of the type that is limited by federal regulations, and you have already reached the applicable limit;
- If, in the case of a joint account, any account signer gives us written instructions not to permit a withdrawal;
- If the account is pledged as collateral for a loan;
- If an account owner has died and we have not received all documents required to release funds in the account;
- If we have not received documents or identification required to permit access to the account, such as when the account is new and documentation remains missing;
- If we have been ordered by a court or other legal process not to permit the withdrawal;
- If you do not present us with appropriate identification or any other information that we may require;
- If we are aware of any dispute relating to the account or funds in the account;
- If we have some suspicion of fraud, irregularity, or illegality; or
- If we believe that the signature on a check or item drawn on your account and presented for payment does not appear similar to that appearing in our records.

Withdrawal Notice

We reserve the right to require seven (7) days advance notice before permitting a withdrawal from all interest checking, savings and money market accounts. We currently do not exercise this right and have not exercised it in the past.

Check Cashing

Your Own Checks. You can cash a check at any Citibank branch, for any amount up to the available balance with your Citibank® Banking Card or other identification that is acceptable to us.

Third Party Checks. In certain instances we may allow you to cash a third party check (i.e. a check originally payable to another person) at a Citibank branch, up to the available balance in your account using your Citibank® Banking Card as identification. If the check is payable to a party other than yourself, we may require that the other party’s endorsement be verified or guaranteed before we accept the check. In any case, we may refuse to accept any third party check for encashment for any reason. If you routinely request that we cash third party checks we may require that you enter into a separate agreement with us for that purpose. If we do cash a third party check, a hold may be placed on your account for the amount of the check until the check clears. The amount of the check cashed may also reduce your daily balance or average daily balance for interest and/or fee calculation purposes for up to the number of days it takes for us to collect the check.

Payee Check Cashing. When you write one of your checks to another person, that person, with proper identification, may be able to cash it at a designated Citibank branch up to the applicable limit which is currently $5,000. This limit may change from time to time without notice to you. We may charge a person who cashes your check a fee, or refuse to cash your check, if that person is not a deposit or loan customer of ours. Otherwise, the payee will be required to deposit the check to an account with us or elsewhere. For checks presented for encashment to a Citibank branch located in California or Nevada by a payee who does not bank with us, we may also require the payee to provide a fingerprint before cashing the check. If the payee refuses to provide a fingerprint, or if a payee refuses to pay our check cashing fee, we may refuse to cash the check. You agree that our refusal to do so is reasonable and that we will not be liable to you for our refusal.

Check Cashing for Others. You should not use your account to cash checks for others who are not well known to you. Although we may make funds provisionally available to you and may take steps to determine whether a check will be paid, you are responsible for any loss that occurs if the check is returned to us for any reason (e.g., because it is counterfeit). Our employees cannot promise that checks drawn on or issued by other institutions, including cashier’s checks or official checks, will be paid.

Account Statements and Notices, Periodic Statements

We will provide a periodic account statement to you showing all activity for the statement period, all transactions made with your Citibank® Banking Card, all transfers you authorize in advance, and other account information for the statement period. Your periodic statement will include a summary of your linked account balances and an itemized listing of your transactions by date, including information about checks presented against your account, and other notices about your linked accounts. We use postage-paid ordinary postal-mail to send you statements or notices to the postal mail address reflected in our records for the account.

Regardless of the number of account owners, we only mail to one owner per account. Notification given to any one account owner is considered notification to all account owners and is considered delivered to you on the date we first place the statement or notice in the U.S. mail or the date that the email notifying you that your statement is available on Citibank Online is first sent, regardless of whether or not you receive it.

If two consecutive statements and/or notices are returned to us for any reason, you agree that we may hold subsequent notices and statements until we receive forwarding information from you. Statements and notices held for you will be deemed delivered to you on the date that they are prepared (for held statements), mailed (for returned statements) or otherwise made available to you. At our discretion, we may destroy mail that is returned to us as determined to be undeliverable. If you have a checking, Checking Plus®, or Checking Plus® (variable rate) line of credit account, you will receive a statement each month and that statement will include information regarding all of your other linked accounts.

You can arrange to receive separate statements for your linked Citibank accounts by calling CitiPhone Banking® (see the back cover of this Manual for telephone numbers).

Instead of receiving a paper statement through ordinary postal mail, any signer on an account may elect to enroll in our paperless statement service when you are registered on Citibank Online. If you elect to use the paperless statement service, we will notify you via email of the availability of your statement on Citibank Online. The terms and conditions for the paperless statement service are subject to a separate agreement which you will accept when enrolling in the service and can view at any time on Citibank Online.

CANCELLED CHECK OPTIONS

Unless you have an account package that allows you to elect otherwise and you have done so, we will not send you images of your cancelled checks.

If you have a checking account in the Citigold® Account Package, Citi Priority Account Package, Citibank® Account Package or a Citi Private Bank Account, you may elect to have your check images delivered with your periodic statements. You must speak with an account representative to sign up for this service. Please note that if you receive check images with your statement, included among those images may be some checks which were presented for payment but which were returned unpaid after your statement was prepared and sent to you.

Images of your cancelled checks presented within the past 18 months are also available to you through Citibank® Online. Additionally, you may request a copy of any of your cancelled checks by calling CitiPhone Banking®. Please refer to "Other Fees and Charges for All Accounts" in the Marketplace Addendum for applicable fees.

SUBSTITUTE CHECKS AND YOUR RIGHTS

What Is a Substitute Check?

A substitute check is a paper reproduction created from a digital image of the front and back of the original check and bears the legend "This is a legal copy of your check." You can use it the same way you would use the original check. Federal law allows banks to replace original checks with "substitute checks." Under the law, a substitute check is the "legal equivalent" of the original check. In other words, it can be used in the same way and for all purposes for which you would use the original check.

Your Rights

The following rights apply if you receive a substitute check from us in lieu of the original check. These rights do not apply to original checks or to electronic debits. Your rights as to those transactions remain unchanged and are described in other sections of this Agreement. Please note these rights also do not apply to images of checks furnished to you or viewed through Citibank® Online.

In certain cases, federal law provides a special procedure that allows you to request a refund for losses you incur if you believe a substitute check is incorrectly posted to your account (for example, if you think your account was debited for the wrong amount) and production of the original check is needed to determine the validity of the debit. The losses you may attempt to recover may include the amount that was withdrawn from your account and fees that were charged as a result of the withdrawal (for example, overdraft check fees.) The amount of the refund you may request under this procedure is limited to the amount of your loss or the amount of the substitute check, whichever is less. You are also entitled to interest if your account is an interest-bearing account. If your loss exceeds the amount of the substitute check, you may be able to recover additional amounts under other laws.

Under federal law, you may receive up to $2,500 of your refund (plus interest if you have an interest-bearing account) within ten (10) Business Days after we receive a complete claim from you and the remainder of your refund not later than forty-five (45) calendar days after we receive a complete claim from you. You will not be entitled to a refund if we determine that the substitute check was correctly posted to your account. Alternatively, we may reverse the refund (including any interest on the refund) if we later determine that the substitute check was correctly posted to your account.

FILING A CLAIM

If you believe a substitute check you have received from us was improperly debited to your account, please call CitiPhone Banking® at the number indicated on the back cover of this Manual. You must contact us within forty (40) calendar days of the date we mailed, or otherwise made available to you, the substitute check in question. We may extend the time period if you were prevented from contacting us for extenuating reasons. In certain situations, such as forgery claims, we may require that you put your claim in writing. If so, we must receive the information in writing within ten (10) Business Days from the day you first notified us of your claim. If you are not able to contact us by telephone, you may also write to us at the following address: Citibank Client Services, P.O. Box 769014, San Antonio, TX 78245-9989.

In investigating your claim, we may request the following information from you:

- Description of how you suffered a loss;
- Amount of your loss;
- Explanation as to why the original check is needed to determine the validity of the amount charged to your account; and
- A copy of the substitute check and/or information to help us identify the substitute check (such as check number, the amount of the check and payee).

Special Circumstances

FORFEITED ACCOUNTS

If your account is seized by or forfeited to the United States government or a state government, you no longer have title to the account, and the funds in the seized or forfeited account will no longer earn interest during such period of seizure or forfeiture, even if the funds are eventually returned to you.

DEATH OR LEGAL DETERMINATION OF INCOMPETENCE

You agree to notify us immediately of the death or court-ordered legal determination of incompetence of any owner or authorized signer on your account. We may disregard any notice of incompetence unless the person in question has been declared incompetent by a court of appropriate jurisdiction and we receive written notice and instructions from the court or court appointed fiduciary regarding the account. We also may freeze, offset, refuse and/or reverse deposits and transactions (e.g., governmental or retirement benefits payments payable to the deceased) if an owner dies or is legally determined incompetent.

In case of death or legally determined incompetence of an account owner, we will continue to honor checks written on that account as well as other withdrawal instructions until we are notified of the death or the legally determined incompetence. We may continue to honor checks for up to ten (10) days following the death of the account owner unless a validly appointed representative of the decedent or another account owner provides us with stop payment instructions.

Upon notification of death or legal determination of incompetence, we will block individual accounts; joint accounts may remain unblocked for up to thirty (30) days after we have been notified of an account owner's death. Certain documents must be presented to us before funds in such an account can be paid out and the account closed. For more information about which documents are required, please visit your Home Branch or contact CitiPhone Banking® (see the back cover of this Manual for telephone numbers).

DORMANT ACCOUNTS

Under applicable state abandoned property statutes, your account will be considered dormant (inactive) and we may be required to send to the appropriate state the balances in your deposit account unless you have done at least one of the following during a specified period of time:

- Deposited or withdrawn funds;
- Signed and returned our active account confirmation form; or
- Written to us concerning the account.

A certificate of deposit account that has not reached initial maturity will not be considered inactive, but if the account renews automatically, it can become inactive starting after the initial maturity date.

In complying with these requirements, the laws of the state of your last known address (as recorded on our bank records) govern the inactivity period and specific requirements applicable to your account. If your address, as recorded on our bank records, is outside of the United States, South Dakota law will govern.

LEGAL PROCESS

Regardless of where or how we are served, we may comply with any state or federal legal process, including, without limitation, any writ of attachment, adverse claim, execution, garnishment, tax levy, restraining order, subpoena or warrant relating to you or your account which we believe to be valid. You agree that we may honor legal process that is served personally, by mail, or by facsimile transmission at any of our offices (including locations other than where the funds, records or property sought is held), even if the law requires personal delivery at the office where your account or records are maintained. You agree that we will have no liability to you for honoring any such legal process. You also agree that we will have no obligation to assert on your behalf any applicable exemptions to execution or attachment under any applicable state or federal law. We will also have and may enforce a right of setoff and security interest against any of your accounts in order to reimburse us for our fees and expenses, including attorneys' fees, court costs and expenses, in complying with legal process.

We may comply with process we deem appropriate even if it appears to affect the interest of only one owner of a joint account. We may refuse to permit withdrawals or transfers from your account until such legal process is satisfied or dismissed even if such action results in insufficient funds to pay a check you have written or otherwise satisfy an obligation you may have incurred.

Accounts opened with trust or fiduciary designations (e.g., "XYZ, Inc. client trust account") may be subject to legal process unless our records contain an express written trust or court order that provides otherwise.

Upon receipt of any legal process, you will be liable to us for our processing fee, and reimbursement for our record research, reproduction and handling costs. We may deduct such fee, as well as any expenses, including, without limitation, attorneys' fees in connection with any such document or legal process, from your account or any other account you may have with us without prior notice to you, or we may bill you directly for such expenses and fees.

You agree to release and indemnify, defend and hold us harmless from all actions, claims, liabilities, losses, costs and damages including, without limitation, attorneys' fees, associated with our compliance with any legal process we believe to be valid.

When we receive an order instructing us to restrict access to funds in an account, we may remove the funds from the account and maintain them separately. These funds will not earn interest and will not be considered as part of your combined balances when we determine account fees and rates.

RIGHT OF SETOFF

Subject to applicable law, we may exercise our right of setoff against any or all of your accounts (except IRA, Keogh plans and certain trust accounts) without notice, for any liability or debt of any of you, whether joint or individual, direct or contingent, now or hereafter existing, and whether arising from our fees or charges, overdrafts, endorsements, guarantees, loans, attachments, garnishments, levies, attorneys' fees, or other obligations. If an account is a joint or multiple-party account, each joint or multiple-party account owner authorizes us to exercise our right of setoff against any and all accounts of each account owner.

You expressly agree that our right of setoff extends to, and may be directed towards, any federal or state benefit payments (including Social Security benefits) directly deposited into your account. You also agree to allow us to apply any subsequently credited deposit made to your account against any overdrafts and against any fees and charges or other obligations owed us in whichever order we determine and that we may use any federal or state benefits payment that is deposited into the account (including direct deposit of Social Security) for this purpose. You acknowledge and agree that if you do not want your electronically deposited benefits applied in this way, you have the option of changing your direct deposit instructions by providing notice to the benefits payor at any time.

RESTRICTED ACCESS

There are occasions when we restrict access to deposits, such as when your account application is being processed, when funds are assigned as collateral or when we are required by law to restrict access. If funds assigned as collateral are in interest-bearing accounts, they will continue to earn interest as usual. They may not, however, be used in connection with our Safety Check service.

CLOSING A DEPOSIT ACCOUNT

You may close your account at any time (except as stated otherwise in this Manual). We may allow one owner/signer to close an account without the consent or signature(s) of any other owner(s)/ signer(s). Except in limited circumstances, if you close a Certificate of Deposit account before maturity, you will be subject to an early withdrawal penalty.

We may close your account at any time with or without cause. We may try to notify you in advance should this be necessary, but we are not obliged to do so. If we close your account, we will send you a check for your final balance, if any, minus any applicable account fees and charges. For clients living outside the United States, you may be asked to complete wire transfer instructions to receive your funds. If your account balance is insufficient to pay applicable account fees and charges owed to us, you will continue to be liable to us for the unpaid amount and interest thereon until it is paid in full. Your obligations for transactions conducted prior to account closure will survive the termination of the account and this Agreement. If we close your account because of negative account activity, we may report that information to a Consumer Reporting Agency.

CERTAIN DEPOSIT ACCOUNTS WITH TRANSACTIONAL FEATURES

If you have opened a deposit account on behalf of the beneficial owner(s) of the funds in the account (for example, as an agent, nominee, guardian, executor, custodian or funds held in some other capacity for the benefit of others), those beneficial owners may be eligible for FDIC "pass-through" insurance. This means the account may qualify for more than the standard deposit insurance amount. If the account has transactional features, you must be able to provide a record of the interests of the beneficial owner(s) in accordance with FDIC requirements in the format presented below. Additional information that describes the process to follow and the information you will need to provide to the FDIC in the event Citibank fails can be found on the FDIC's website in a document entitled "Deposit Broker's Processing Guide" in section "VIII. Part 370 Alternative Recordkeeping Entity Processing: Addendum to the Deposit Broker's Processing Guide."

In the event that Citibank fails, you agree to cooperate fully with us and the FDIC in connection with determining the insured status of funds in such accounts. This includes providing the FDIC with the information described above in the required format within 24 hours of bank failure. You understand and agree that your failure to provide the necessary data to the FDIC may result in a delay in your receipt of FDIC insured funds. Notwithstanding other provisions in this Agreement, this Section survives after a receiver is appointed for us, and the FDIC is considered a third party beneficiary of this Section.

ACCESS DEVICES

Generally, you will receive your Citibank® Banking Card when you open your account. If you do not select your Personal Identification Number (PIN) at account opening, you will receive the PIN in a separate mailing. Your PIN is required for all Citibank® Banking Card transactions at Proprietary Citibank ATMs, at Network ATMs or for PIN based POS purchase transactions. You agree to keep your PIN confidential. No bank employee knows your PIN or will ever ask for it. For your protection, we encourage you to periodically change your PIN. You can change your PIN at any time:

- At a Proprietary Citibank ATM;
- At any Citibank branch in the United States;
- On Citibank® Online or Citi Mobile.

If you are unable to change your PIN at a Proprietary Citibank ATM or through the CitiPhone Banking® automated system, you may contact CitiPhone Banking® to request a PIN mailer. The sealed mailer contains a confidential, pre-set PIN that is systemically generated and mailed directly to you. When you receive the PIN mailer, you will need to call CitiPhone Banking® to activate the PIN.

The PIN you select must consist of four numbers and cannot begin with a zero. Many international ATMs do not have keys with both letters and numbers. If your PIN contains letters, please learn their corresponding numbers, as letters may not always be noted on the keys. You should also be aware that non-Proprietary Citibank ATMs and international ATMs may limit access to a primary checking account. To initially sign on to Citibank® Online, for additional security, in addition to your Citibank® Banking Card number and your PIN, you will need to choose a Citibank® Online User ID and Password. Together, the User ID and Password you select will be your Access Device for Citibank® Online.

To use the CitiPhone Banking® automated service, in addition to your Citibank® Banking Card, you will need a Telephone Access Code (TAC) or other form of permitted Access Device. Once you have received your Citibank® Banking Card, you can set up this code by calling CitiPhone Banking® (at the number on the back of your Citibank® Banking Card) for instructions on how to establish your TAC. To use the Citi Mobile® App or Citibank® Online, in addition to your Citibank® Banking Card, you will need a User ID and Password. If an unauthorized person has obtained access to your Citibank® Banking Card, your PIN, your Citibank® Online User ID and Password or your TAC, notify Citibank immediately.

Your rights and obligations in the case of unauthorized use of any of your Access Devices are the same as for lost or stolen Citibank® Banking Cards.

We will automatically send you a new Citibank® Banking Card before your current card expires. When you receive your new card, you will need to activate the card by following the instructions enclosed with the card. You will need to sign your new card and destroy your old card.

Please note that the Citibank® Banking Card we issue you is and remains the property of Citibank. We have the right to take possession of it, to demand its return, and to cancel it at any time. You may also cancel your Citibank® Banking Card at any time and for any reason. To do so, cut your card in half and notify us through CitiPhone Banking®, Citibank® Online or at a Citibank branch. You agree to return the Citibank® Banking Card to us upon request.

Stop Payment Orders (Automatic Transfers)

You may stop an automatic withdrawal or payment, or recurring withdrawals or payments from your account, by visiting a Citibank branch, through Citibank® Online or by calling CitiPhone Banking® (see the back cover of this Manual and your periodic statement for telephone numbers and address). If you request a stop payment by phone, we may ask you to confirm your instructions in writing within two (2) weeks. In order to place a stop payment on an automatic transaction, we must receive your instruction at least three (3) Business Days before the transaction is scheduled to be made. Payment cannot be stopped on an ACH transaction that has already been paid or that is in the process of being paid. If you order us to stop payment on a scheduled transaction in a timely manner and we do not do so, we may be liable for your losses or damages.

You may not be able to stop payment of a check that is converted to an electronic transaction (ACH). If you believe your check has been converted to an electronic transaction, you should also place a second stop payment on that electronic transaction. Please contact the CitiPhone Banking® number on the back of this Manual if you wish to stop such a payment.

If you request a stop payment on all recurring transactions from the same originator (payee), we may require that you confirm, in writing or orally, that you have previously revoked your authorization with the originator (payee). If you fail to provide us with such confirmation, the bank is not obligated to honor your request and may debit your account for subsequent transactions initiated by that originator (payee). Please remember that in order to revoke your authority with that originator (payee) you must notify them at least thirty (30) days prior to the next scheduled transaction.

Contents of Stop Payment Order. You will need to accurately provide:

- Your account number;
- The date of the scheduled deduction or, for recurring transactions, the next scheduled deduction date;
- The exact amount (dollars and cents); and
- The payee's name.

We may use some or all of the information, in our sole discretion, to identify a transaction. If the information is not exactly correct, a stop payment may not be effective.

Effective Period of Stop Payment Order. A stop payment order on an ACH transaction is permanent. For recurring transactions, this means that your stop payment order will stop all subsequent withdrawals/payments initiated by that originator (payee) unless you contact the bank and request that the stop payment order be removed.

Payment over Valid Stop Payment Order. If you believe that we have debited a transaction from your account over a valid stop payment order, we may require you to provide us with evidence of our acceptance of a valid stop payment order and an affidavit describing in detail your loss resulting from the payment of the transaction and, if applicable, further describing in detail your dispute with the payee. If we subsequently determine that you were indebted to the payee for the exact amount of the transaction or less, you agree that we will have the right to debit your account for the amount of the indebtedness. If your account has sufficient funds to cover the indebtedness, we may also exercise our right of setoff.

Point-of-Sale (POS) Transactions

“PIN Based” Transactions. You can use your Citibank® ATM Card to purchase goods or services from merchant locations in the United States accepting the Interlink®, Maestro® or Cirrus® network brands by authorizing these transactions using your PIN.

You can use your Citibank® Debit Card to purchase goods or services from merchant locations in the United States accepting the Interlink® network brand by authorizing these transactions using your PIN. When making purchases, select “debit” to ensure these transactions are processed as PIN purchases.

Please note, “Direct Bill Payment” transactions set up with merchants may be processed as “PIN-Based” transactions, even though they may not require a PIN.

“Signature-Based” Transactions. If you have a Citibank® Debit Card, you can also use your card to perform an EFT to purchase goods or services and/or receive cash from locations that accept MasterCard®. These transactions are those for which you do not use your PIN and either you or a merchant designates as a “credit” transaction (including purchases you sign for, small dollar purchases that do not require a signature), Internet, phone and mail-order transactions.

All POS transactions made with your Citibank® Banking Card are deducted from your linked Citibank primary checking account. You agree to only use your Citibank® Banking Card for lawful transactions. We reserve the right to block or deny certain merchant categories when you attempt to make purchases with your Citibank® Banking Card. These merchants include, but are not limited to, internet gambling sites.

When you use your Citibank® Banking Card for a POS transaction, certain merchants may ask us to authorize the transaction in advance and may estimate its final value. When we authorize the transaction, we commit to make the requested funds available when the transaction finally settles and may place a temporary hold on your account for the amount indicated by the merchant. Until the transaction finally settles or we determine that it is unlikely to be processed, the funds subject to the hold will not be available to you for other purposes. We will only charge your account for the correct amount of the final transaction, however, and we will release any excess amount when the transaction finally settles.

Security Tips

We want you to be safe when you use any ATM or Debit card. You can help prevent unauthorized access to your accounts by following these simple steps:

- Treat your Citibank® Banking Card and other types of devices used to access your accounts like cash. Do not leave them where others can find them. Do not give them to anyone to hold as “security” for any reason and do not use them to show another customer how an ATM works.
- Keep your Personal Identification Number (PIN), Telephone Access Code (TAC) and other codes used to access your accounts secret. Do not tell them to anyone. Do not write them on your Citibank® Banking Card or keep them in your wallet or purse.
- Change your PIN periodically.

- Review your account statements regularly and let us know right away of any discrepancies.
- Always be alert and aware of your surroundings when using ATMs, particularly later than a half hour after sunset.
- Consider having someone accompany you when using an ATM later than a half hour after sunset.
- Immediately report crimes and suspicious activity at ATM locations to local law enforcement officials as well as to the owners/operators of the ATMs.
- Be sure to completely close the door behind you when you enter or leave an ATM lobby.
- Be careful about giving information about your Access Device over the telephone.
- Never begin an ATM transaction if there is not enough light or you notice anything suspicious – go to a different location or come back at another time.
- Do not permit any unknown person to enter after regular banking hours.
- If you notice anything suspicious: Always cancel a transaction-in-progress, end your session, place your Citibank® Banking Card in your pocket and leave the ATM location.
- Never display cash at ATM locations. Place cash and your Citibank® Banking Card in your pocket as soon as you complete your transaction. Count cash in a safe location, such as a locked car, home or office.
- Always take your ATM receipt with you when you leave – do not leave it near the ATM.
- Be aware that many ATM machines record activity by a surveillance camera or cameras.

Please address any questions or complaints concerning security at Proprietary Citibank ATMs to CitiPhone Banking® at the number on the back of your Citibank® Banking Card or on the back cover of this Client Manual.

For emergency assistance at any U.S. Citibank or U.S. Network ATM, please call 911.

Transactions Made Outside the U.S. and Puerto Rico

ATM Cash and POS Transactions Outside the U.S.: Transaction Charge. Whenever you use your Citibank® Banking Card outside of the U.S. and Puerto Rico to get cash at an ATM or to purchase goods or services, we will apply a foreign exchange fee equal to 3% of the transaction amount (including credits and reversals). This fee is waived for Citigold, Citi Priority, Citi Private Bank and International Personal Bank U.S.. Please refer to “Other Fees and Charges for All Accounts” in the Marketplace Addendum.

Currency Conversion Methods. Transactions made in foreign currency will be converted into U.S. dollars according to the current policies of the merchant, network or card association that processes the transaction:

- Transactions processed by Citibank are converted into a U.S. dollar amount using Citibank’s procedures in effect at the time the transaction is processed. Currently, the currency conversion rate used to determine the transaction amount in U.S. dollars is based on either (1) a wholesale market rate or (2) a government- mandated rate in effect one day prior to the processing date. Transaction types currently processed by Citibank include ATM withdrawals made at many Proprietary Citibank ATMs outside the United States or Puerto Rico.
- Transactions processed by MasterCard® currently use a conversion rate that is either: (a) selected from a range of rates available in the wholesale currency markets on the processing date (Note: this rate may be different from the rate that MasterCard® receives), or (b) the government-mandated rate. Transaction types currently processed by MasterCard® include Signature-based POS transactions and ATM withdrawals (including those at certain Proprietary Citibank ATMs). Please note that PIN-based POS transactions cannot be made at international locations. Citibank® Debit Cards can still be used to make Signature-based POS purchases.

The currency conversion rate in effect on the processing date may differ from the rate in effect on the transaction date or the posting date.

Lost or Stolen Citibank® Banking Cards or Other Access Devices and Unauthorized Electronic Transactions

Consumer Liability for transactions covered by Regulation E

If any of your Access Devices are lost or stolen, it is your responsibility to notify us immediately. Please call CitiPhone Banking® at the number on the back cover of this Manual.

Please remember that your Citibank® Banking Card and all of your Access Devices are valuable, and it is important for you to exercise care with them. To protect your personal and account information, be sure to keep your PIN and other Access Devices secure. As a general practice, we recommend that you periodically change your PIN.

Tell us at once if you believe any of your Access Devices, including but not limited to your Citibank® Banking Card, has been lost or stolen, or if you believe that an electronic fund transfer has been made without your permission using information from your check. Telephoning is the best way of keeping your possible losses down. You could lose all the money in your account (plus your maximum overdraft line of credit). Call CitiPhone Banking® at 1-888-CITIBANK or use the number located on the back cover of this Agreement. Customer service representatives are available to assist you 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. If you tell us within two (2) Business Days after you learn of the loss or theft of your Access Device, you can lose no more than $50 if someone uses your Access Device without your permission, subject to zero liability protection.

If you do NOT notify us within two (2) Business Days after you learn of the loss or theft of your Access Device, and we can prove we could have stopped someone from using your Access Device without your permission if you had told us, you could lose as much as $500, subject to zero liability protection.

Also, if your statement shows transfers that you did not make, including those made by card, code or other means, notify us at once. If you do not notify us within sixty (60) days after the statement was mailed to you, you may not get back any money you lost after the sixty (60) days if we can prove that we could have stopped someone from taking the money if you had informed us in time. If a good reason (such as a long trip or a hospital stay) kept you from notifying us, we will extend the time periods.

The following additional terms are applicable if the governing state law of your account is that of one of the states listed below:

California

Within this section, the paragraph above describing liability up to $500 shall not apply.

New York

Within this section, your liability for the unauthorized use of your Citibank® Banking Card shall not exceed $50.

Citibank® Banking Card Zero Liability Protection

If your Citibank® Banking Card is used in conjunction with an unauthorized transaction your liability for unauthorized use as described above, will not exceed:

- (i) $0 if
  - you report the loss or theft of your card promptly upon discovery of such loss or theft; and
  - you exercised reasonable care in safeguarding your card from the risk of loss or theft; and
  - the account to which transactions initiated with your card were posted is in good condition; or
- (ii) The lesser of $50 or the amount of money, property, labor or services obtained by the unauthorized user before notification to the bank if all conditions listed in section (i) above have not been met.

Contact in Event of Unauthorized Transfer

If you believe your Access Device has been lost or stolen call: CitiPhone Banking® at 1-888-CITIBANK or write: Citibank Client Services, P.O. Box 769004, San Antonio, Texas 78245-9989. You should also call the number or write to the address listed above if you believe a transfer has been made using the information from your check without your permission.

ERROR RESOLUTION AND NOTICE PROCEDURES FOR CLAIMS OR QUESTIONS CONCERNING CONSUMER INTERNATIONAL GLOBAL TRANSFERS AND INTERNATIONAL WIRE TRANSFERS.

If you think there has been an error or you need more information about your transfer, you must contact Citibank (International Global Transfer: 1-866-515-1725 (TTY 1-800-788-6775); International Wire Transfer: 1-888-606-9716 (TTY 1-800-788-6775) or write to Client Research, Citibank Client Services, P.O. Box 769014, San Antonio, TX 78245-9014) within one hundred and eighty (180) days of the date indicated by Citibank that the funds would be available to the beneficiary of that transfer. At that time, you may be asked to provide the following information: 1) your name, address, and account number; 2) the name of the person receiving the funds, and if you know it, his or her telephone number or address; 3) the dollar amount of the transfer; 4) the reference code for the transfer; and 5) a description of the error or why you need additional information. We may also ask you to select a choice of remedy (credit to your account in an amount necessary to resolve the error or alternatively, a resend of the transfer for those cases where bank error is found). Citibank will determine whether an error has occurred within ninety (90) days after you contact the bank. If Citibank determines that an error has occurred, we will promptly correct that error in accordance with the remedy option(s) available to you. In all cases, we will provide you with a written explanation of the results of our investigation. You may also ask for copies of the documents we used in our investigation.

Cancellation Inquiries: You have the right to cancel your international funds transfer request for a full refund within thirty (30) minutes of your authorizing payment for the transfer, unless the funds have been picked up or deposited.

To cancel a Consumer Citibank Global Transfer, please call 1-866-515-1725 (TTY: We accept 711 or other Relay Service) or sign into citibankonline.com. When cancelling by phone, you will need to provide us with information to help identify the funds transfer you wish to cancel, including the amount and location where the funds were to be sent. Any refund will be made no later than three business days of your request to cancel.

To cancel a Consumer International Wire Transfer, please call 1-888-606-9716 (TTY: 1-800-788-6775) and for Citibank Online initiated wire transfers, you can cancel online. When cancelling by phone, you will need to provide us with information to help identify the funds transfer you wish to cancel, including the amount and location where the funds were to be sent. Any refund will be made no later than three business days of your request to cancel.

ERROR RESOLUTION AND NOTICE PROCEDURES FOR ALL OTHER ELECTRONIC FUND TRANSFERS

If your statement or transaction record is wrong or if you need more information about a transfer listed on your statement or record, contact us as soon as possible by calling us at 1-888-Citibank or by writing to us at Client Research, Citibank Client Services, P.O. Box 769014, San Antonio, Texas 78245-9014.

NOTE: If the error concerns an ATM network transaction, be sure to contact Citibank or Citigroup Global Markets Inc. – depending on the institution holding the account from which you were attempting to withdraw funds – not the financial institution that operates the machine. We need to hear from you no later than sixty (60) days after we sent the FIRST statement on which the problem or error appeared.

- (1) Notify us of your name and account number (if any)
- (2) Describe the error or the transfer you are unsure about, and explain as clearly as you can why you believe it is an error or why you need more information
- (3) Notify us of the dollar amount of the suspected error.

If you tell us orally, we may require that you send us your complaint or question in writing within ten (10) Business Days. We will determine whether an error occurred within ten (10) Business Days after we hear from you and will correct any error promptly. If we need more time, however, we may take up to forty-five (45) days to investigate your complaint or question. If we decide to do this, we will provisionally credit your account within ten (10) Business Days for the amount you think is in error, so that you will have the use of the money during the time it takes us to complete our investigation. For new accounts (where the notice of error involves an electronic funds transfer to or from your account, that occurred within thirty (30) days after the first deposit to the account was made), we can take up to twenty (20) Business Days to determine whether an error occurred and up to twenty (20) days to provisionally credit your account for the amount you think is in error. If we need more time, however, we may take up to ninety (90) days to investigate your complaint or question. For errors involving point-of-sale or foreign-initiated transactions, we may also take up to ninety (90) days to investigate your complaint or question.

If we ask you to put your complaint or question in writing and we do not receive it within ten (10) Business Days, we may not provisionally credit your account.

In any case, we will tell you the results of our investigation within three (3) Business Days after completing our investigation. If we decide that there was no error, we will send you a written explanation. You may ask for copies of the documents that we used in our investigation.

Our Responsibility to You

If we do not complete a transfer to or from your account on time or in the correct amount according to our Agreement with you, we will be liable for your losses or damages. However, there are some exceptions. We will not be liable, for instance:

- (1) If, through no fault of ours, you do not have enough money in your account to make the transfer;
- (2) If the transfer would go over the credit limit on your overdraft line;
- (3) If the automated teller machine where you are making the transfer does not have enough cash and you continue to request the transfer when you know the ATM does not have sufficient cash;
- (4) If the automated teller machine or POS terminal was not working properly and you knew about the breakdown when you started the transfer;
- (5) If circumstances beyond our control (such as fire or flood or other conditions listed under "Limitation of Liability") prevent the transfer, despite reasonable precautions that we have taken.

There may be other exceptions stated in our Agreement with you.

Your Responsibility to Us When Utilizing Funds Transfer Services

These procedures describe your rights and liability for errors involving unauthorized transactions or those in an incorrect amount to or from your account.

- You are responsible for resolving any payment or other disputes that you have with other persons to whom you send money to or request money from using a funds transfer service.
- You are responsible for keystroke or other errors such as inputting an incorrect account number or mobile phone number or email address associated with a person you send money to or request money from using a funds transfer service.

CONFIDENTIALITY AT CITIBANK

We will disclose information to third parties about your account or the transfers you make:

- (i) When it is necessary for completing transfers;
- (ii) In order to verify the existence and condition of your account for a third party such as a credit bureau or merchant;
- (iii) In order to comply with government agency or court orders; or
- (iv) If you give us your permission.

Because our statements may include information about linked accounts belonging to more than one individual and your accounts with other Citibank affiliates, statements released under a subpoena or as otherwise required or permitted by law may contain information regarding those other persons and accounts.

For additional information about our privacy practices, see our "Consumer Privacy Notice."

Limitation of Liability

Except as otherwise required by law, we are not liable to you for any claim, cost, loss or damage caused by an event that is beyond our reasonable control. In particular, we are not liable to you if circumstances beyond our reasonable control prevent us from, or delay us in, performing our obligations for a service, including acting on a payment order, crediting a funds transfer to your account, processing a transaction or crediting your account. Circumstances beyond our reasonable control include, but are not limited to, natural disasters such as a tornado, hurricane, earthquake or flood, emergency conditions, such as a war, terrorist attack, riot, fire, theft or labor dispute; a legal constraint or governmental action or inaction; the breakdown or failure of our equipment for any reason, including a loss of electric power, the breakdown of any private or common carrier communication or transmission facilities, any time-sharing supplier or any mail or courier service; the potential violation of any guideline, rule or regulation of any government authority; suspension of payments by another bank; or your act, omission, negligence or fault. We will never be liable for special, incidental, exemplary, punitive or consequential losses or damages of any kind resulting from the conditions stated in this "Limitation of Liability" section.

In connection with any transaction or service provided under this Manual, IN NO EVENT WILL EITHER YOU OR THE BANK, OR ITS AFFILIATES, OFFICERS, DIRECTORS, EMPLOYEES, OR AGENTS BE LIABLE TO THE OTHER PARTY FOR ANY SPECIAL, CONSEQUENTIAL, INDIRECT OR PUNITIVE DAMAGES, WHETHER ANY CLAIM IS BASED ON CONTRACT, STATUTE, OR TORT, OR WHETHER THE LIKELIHOOD OF SUCH DAMAGES WAS KNOWN TO ANY PARTY. The foregoing limitation of liability will not apply where expressly prohibited by the laws governing your account.

Arbitration

PLEASE READ THIS PROVISION OF THE AGREEMENT CAREFULLY.

THIS SECTION PROVIDES THAT DISPUTES MAY BE RESOLVED BY BINDING ARBITRATION. ARBITRATION REPLACES THE RIGHT TO GO TO COURT, HAVE A JURY TRIAL OR INITIATE OR PARTICIPATE IN A CLASS ACTION. IN ARBITRATION, DISPUTES ARE RESOLVED BY AN ARBITRATOR, NOT A JUDGE OR JURY. ARBITRATION PROCEDURES ARE SIMPLER AND MORE LIMITED THAN IN COURT. THIS ARBITRATION PROVISION IS GOVERNED BY THE FEDERAL ARBITRATION ACT (FAA), AND SHALL BE INTERPRETED IN THE BROADEST WAY THE LAW WILL ALLOW.

COVERED DISPUTES

You or we may arbitrate any claims, dispute or controversy between you and us arising out of or related to your account(s), a previous related account or our relationship (called "Disputes").

If arbitration is chosen by any party, neither you nor we will have the right to litigate that Dispute in court or have a jury trial on that Dispute.

Except as stated below, all Disputes are subject to arbitration no matter what legal theory they are based on or what remedy (damages, or injunctive or declaratory relief) they seek, including claims based on contract, tort (including intentional tort), fraud, agency, your or our negligence, statutory or regulatory provisions, or any other sources of law; claims made as counterclaims, cross-claims, third party claims, interpleaders or otherwise; claims made regarding past, present or future conduct; and claims made independently or with other claims. Disputes include any unresolved claims concerning any services relating to such account, including without limitation, safe deposit box services, wire transfer services, and use of a Citibank® Banking Card or Citibank® Banking Card displaying the MasterCard® Brand Mark. This also includes claims made by or against anyone connected with us or you or claiming through us or you, or by someone making a claim through us or you, such as a joint account owner, account beneficiary, employee, agent, representative, predecessor or successor, heir, assignee, trustee in bankruptcy, or an affiliated/parent/subsidiary company. A party who initiates a proceeding in court may elect arbitration with respect to any dispute advanced in that proceeding by any other party. Disputes include claims made as part of a class action or other representative action, it being expressly understood and agreed to that the arbitration of such claims must proceed on an individual (non-class, non-representative) basis. Disputes also include claims relating to the enforceability or interpretation of any of these arbitration provisions. Any questions about whether Disputes are subject to arbitration shall be resolved by interpreting this arbitration provision in the broadest way the law will allow it to be enforced.

ARBITRATION LIMITS

Individual Disputes filed in a small claims court are not subject to arbitration, as long as the matter stays in small claims court.

We won't initiate arbitration to collect a debt from you unless you choose to arbitrate or assert a Dispute against us. If you assert a Dispute against us, we can choose to arbitrate, including actions to collect a debt from you. You may arbitrate on an individual basis Disputes brought against you, including Disputes to collect a debt.

Disputes brought as part of a class action, private attorney general or other representative action can be arbitrated only on an individual basis. The arbitrator has no authority to arbitrate any claim on a class or representative basis and may award relief only on an individual basis. If arbitration is chosen by any party, neither you nor we may pursue a Dispute as part of a class action or other representative action. Disputes of 2 or more persons may not be combined in the same arbitration. However, joint account owners, account beneficiaries, agents, representatives, heirs, or a trustee in a bankruptcy on your account and/or related accounts, or corporate affiliates are here considered as one person.

HOW ARBITRATION WORKS

Arbitration shall be conducted by the American Arbitration Association ("AAA") according to this arbitration provision and the applicable AAA arbitration rules in effect when the Dispute is filed ("AAA Rules"), except where those rules conflict with this arbitration provision. You can obtain a copy of the AAA Rules at the AAA's website (adr.org) or by calling 1-800-778-7879. You or we may choose to have a hearing, appear at any hearing by phone or other electronic means, and/or be represented by counsel. Any in-person hearing will be held in the same city as the U.S. District Court closest to your home address.

Arbitration may be requested at any time, even when there is a pending lawsuit, unless a trial has begun or a final judgment entered. Neither you nor we waive the right to arbitrate by filing or serving a complaint, answer, counterclaim, motion or discovery in a court lawsuit. To choose arbitration, a party may file a motion to compel arbitration in a pending matter and/or commence arbitration by submitting the required AAA forms and requisite filing fees to the AAA.

The arbitration shall be decided by a single arbitrator in accord with this arbitration provision and the AAA Rules, which may limit discovery. The arbitrator shall not apply any federal or state rules of civil procedure or discovery, but the arbitrator shall honor claims of privilege recognized at law, and shall take reasonable steps to protect account information and other confidential information of either party if requested to do so. The arbitrator shall apply applicable substantive law consistent with the FAA and applicable statute of limitations, and award damages or other relief under applicable law.

The arbitrator shall make any award in writing and, if requested by you or us, may provide a brief statement of the reasons for the award. An arbitration award shall decide the rights and obligations only of the parties named in the arbitration, and shall not have any bearing on any other person or dispute.

PAYING FOR ARBITRATION FEES

We'll pay your share of the arbitration fee for an arbitration of Disputes of $74,000 or less if they are unrelated to debt collection. Otherwise, arbitration fees will be allocated according to the applicable AAA Rules. If we prevail, we may not recover our arbitration fees, unless the arbitrator decides your Dispute was frivolous. All parties are responsible for their own attorney's fees, expert fees and any other expenses, unless the arbitrator awards such fees or expenses to you or us based on applicable law.

THE FINAL AWARD

Any award by an arbitrator is final unless a party appeals it in writing to the AAA within 30 days of notice of the award. The arbitration appeal shall be determined by a panel of 3 arbitrators. The panel will consider all facts and legal issues anew based on the same evidence presented in the prior arbitration, and will make decisions based on a majority vote. Arbitration fees for the arbitration appeal shall be allocated according to the applicable AAA Rules. An award by a panel on appeal is final. A final award is subject to judicial review as provided by applicable law.

RIGHT TO RESORT TO PROVISIONAL REMEDIES PRESERVED

Nothing herein shall be deemed to limit or constrain our right to resort to self-help remedies, such as the right of setoff or the right to restrain funds in an account, to interplead funds in the event of a Dispute, to exercise any security interest or lien we may hold in property, or to comply with legal process, or to obtain provisional remedies such as injunctive relief, attachment, or garnishment by a court having appropriate jurisdiction; provided, however, that you or we may elect to arbitrate any Dispute related to such provisional remedies.

SURVIVAL AND SEVERABILITY OF TERMS

These arbitration provisions shall survive changes in this Agreement and termination of the account or the relationship between you and us, including the bankruptcy of any party and any sale of your account, or amounts owed on your account, to another person or entity.

If any part of this arbitration provision is deemed invalid or unenforceable, the other terms shall remain in force, except that there can be no arbitration of a class or representative Dispute. This arbitration provision may not be amended, severed or waived, except as provided in this Agreement or in a written agreement between you and us.

RULES FOR REJECTING THIS ARBITRATION PROVISION

You may reject this arbitration provision by sending a written rejection notice to us at: PO Box 6195; Sioux Falls, SD 57117-6195. Your rejection notice must be mailed within 45 days of account opening. Your rejection notice must state that you reject the arbitration provision and include your name, address, account number and personal signature. No one else may sign the rejection notice. Your rejection notice will not apply to the arbitration provision(s) governing any other account(s) that you have or had with us. Rejection of this arbitration provision won't affect your other rights or responsibilities under this Agreement, including use of the account.

AMENDMENTS TO THE CITI® PRIVATE BANK MARKETPLACE ADDENDUM, AUGUST 23, 2023 EDITION

Please read and keep this notice with your important account records.

Last Updated 10/19/2023

Amendments to the Citi® Private Bank Marketplace Addendum, August 23, 2023 Edition EFFECTIVE DATE: OCTOBER 21, 2023

AMENDMENT: EFFECTIVE OCTOBER 21, 2023, THE FOLLOWING CHANGE IS MADE TO THE MARKETPLACE ADDENDUM:

The "Longer Delays May Apply" section under "Funds Availability at Citibank" within the Marketplace Addendum is deleted in its entirety and replaced with the following:

Longer Delays May Apply

In some cases, we may not make all of the funds that you deposit by check (excluding the special types of checks described above) available by the first Business Day after the day of your deposit. Should this occur, you will be provided with a notice describing when the funds will be available at the time of your deposit. If your deposit is not made directly with a teller or we decide to take this action after you complete your deposit, we will send you a notice by the next Business Day. If you will need the funds from a deposit right away, you should ask us when the funds will be available. Depending on the total amount of your check deposits on any one day, the deposit amount may not become fully available to you until the third Business Day after the day of the deposit as follows:

Total deposit amounts up to $5,525

Funds from all check deposits on any one day that total $5,525 or less will be available on the second Business Day after the day of deposit. The first $225 of these check deposits will be available on the first Business Day after the day of deposit and the remainder of the deposit will be available on the second Business Day after the day of deposit.

Large dollar deposits greater than $5,525

If the total of your check deposits on any one day is greater than $5,525, the amount in excess of $5,525 will be available on the third Business Day after the day of deposit.

By way of example:

If you deposit a check (or multiple checks on any given day) that total(s) $10,000

- The first $225 of your deposit will be available on the first Business Day after the day of deposit
- An additional $5,300 will be available on the second Business Day
- The remaining $ 4,475 will be available on the third Business Day.

We may also delay the full amount of your check deposits for a longer period (up to 7 Business Days) under the following circumstances:

Doubt of collectability – If we have reason to believe the check you have deposited will not be paid; we may delay availability of the funds represented by that check up to 7 Business Days. Should this occur, we will send you a deposit hold notice no later than the next Business Day after we decide to take this action.

Emergency Situations – If we are unable to conduct business due to an interruption of communications, computer equipment facilities or other emergency conditions beyond our control such as the impact of a natural disaster, we may delay the availability of your deposited check up to 7 Business Days.

All other terms and conditions of the Citi® Private Bank Marketplace Addendum remain in full force and effect. Terms, conditions and fees for accounts, products, programs and services are subject to change.

(Please see the Client Manual – Consumer Accounts for definition of "Business Day".)

Interest Calculation Method and Rate Information

We use the daily balance method to calculate the interest on Interest Checking accounts. The daily balance method applies a daily periodic rate to the full amount of principal in the account each day. This method may cause a change in the amount of interest you earn depending on the daily balance changes in your account.

The following tiers have been established for interest rates for Interest Checking. The same rate may be assigned to more than one tier.

Principal Balance Ranges for Interest Rate Calculations

---

0-$24,999.99
$25,000 - $49,999.99
$50,000 - $99,999.99
$100,000 - $499,999.99
$500,000 - $999,999.99
$1,000,000 - $4,999,999.99
$5,000,000 - $24,999,999.99
$25,000,000 and above

Please note that the same rate may be assigned to more than one balance range.

---

The principal in the account is reduced based upon the transaction date when a withdrawal or other debit transaction occurs, which is not always the same as the posting date. The principal balance on which interest is calculated may not be the same as that appearing on your periodic statement if there have been intervening transactions.

Account and Banking Package Changes

If an Interest Checking account is converted to another type of checking account the account will earn the applicable rate – if one is assigned – of the new checking account type on the date the account was converted.

If you change your banking package to or from a Citigold® Account Package, you will receive a final statement detailing your old account activity, including interest earned prior to the banking package change, after which the new account and package type will determine your rate.

Interest Compounding and Crediting

Interest is compounded daily for the actual number of days your money is on deposit and is credited to your account monthly. Interest is computed using a 365-day year except in leap years when interest may be computed on a 366-day basis.

Interest Adjustments

An interest adjustment for a transaction occurring during a statement period may be reflected on your statement in the next statement period rather than in the statement period in which it occurs.

Interest on Closed Accounts

No interest is paid on the account for the monthly period in which the account is closed.

Fees

There is no separate monthly service fee for an Interest Checking account. When an Interest Checking account is opened, it must be in a package and is subject to the applicable monthly service and non-Citibank ATM fees of the applicable account package as disclosed in the “Information About Account Packages” section of this Addendum.

CERTIFICATES OF DEPOSIT

Key Features

Our certificates of deposit ("CD") are time accounts. When you open a CD, and each time a CD renews, you agree to leave your funds in the account for the term which is a specific amount of time. The Maturity Date is the last day of the term and the day the CD matures. The Maturity Date is the first day you can withdraw funds without paying an early withdrawal penalty. CDs have a fixed interest rate during the term.

CD Types and CD Terms

Citi offers three types of CD accounts.

Certificates of Deposit: Multiple term options available.

- Term options with interest paid monthly or at maturity: 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, and 12 Month CDs
- Term options with interest paid monthly: 13, 14, 15, 18, and 30 Month CDs; 2, 3, 4, and 5 year CDs

No Penalty Certificate of Deposit: Available for a 12 month term with the no penalty feature for the first term only, and interest paid monthly. The No Penalty CD allows withdrawal of your full balance and interest without penalty after the first six (6) calendar days you make the minimum deposit into your new CD and your deposit has been fully collected. An early withdrawal penalty applies to withdrawals made before the first 6 days. Partial withdrawals before maturity, including interest withdrawals, are not permitted. If you want to withdraw funds before maturity, you must close your No Penalty CD. No Penalty CDs automatically renew without the no penalty feature to a 12 month CD. You cannot renew an existing CD into a No Penalty CD. A No Penalty CD is only available for new No Penalty CD accounts. If you want to change your existing CD to a No Penalty CD, you must first close your existing CD and then open a new No Penalty CD.

Step Up CD: Available for a 30 month term with the step up feature for the first term only, and interest paid monthly. The Step Up CD has 3 fixed interest rates for each period during the term beginning with Months 1 through 10, Months 11 through 20, and Months 21 through 30. Step Up CDs automatically renew without the step up feature to a 30 month CD. You cannot renew an existing CD to a new Step Up CD. A Step Up CD is only available for new Step Up CD accounts. If you want to change your existing CD to a Step Up CD, you must first close your existing CD and then open a new Step Up CD.

Minimum Balance

The minimum balance required to open a Certificate of Deposit account is $500. We may offer promotions, from time to time, which may require a different account opening balance. No additional deposits are permitted during the term. A CD account will automatically be closed after 20 consecutive calendar days with a zero balance. Citi reserves the right to close the CD if the balance falls below any applicable minimum balance requirement. We will notify you that we closed your account if required by law.

Monthly Service Fee

There is no monthly service fee for a Certificate of Deposit.

Linking of CD accounts in an account package

The balances in other Citibank accounts that are linked to the account will not be included in the balance calculation for rate determination of your Certificate of Deposit account. The balances in your Certificate of Deposit account may contribute to the balances of eligible Citibank account packages for the purposes of package fee determination.

Check Writing

Certificates of Deposit do not offer check writing.

APYs and Interest Rates

Annual Percentage Yield (APY) as used in this document is a percentage rate reflecting the total amount of interest paid on an account, based on the interest rate compounded daily for a period of one year assuming no fees, additional deposits or withdrawals, and the interest rate remains the same for the entire year. "Interest Rate" is the annual interest paid represented as a percentage assuming no change in rate and does not reflect compounding.

Annual Percentage Yields and interest rates for CDs are determined by Citibank at its sole discretion and can change at any time without notice before a term begins for a new account and renewal. Interest rates are fixed for the CD term. The APY for a Step Up CD is a Composite APY based on 3 fixed interest rates during the term for Months 1 through 10, Months 11 through 20, and Months 21 through 30. The APY on your CD assumes interest will remain on deposit in the CD account until maturity. A withdrawal will reduce earnings. For current APYs and interest rates, please visit citi.com or the Citi Mobile App, call CitiPhone Banking® or stop by your nearest Citibank branch.

For a new CD, the APY and interest rate is based on the CD type, CD term, account balance, and applicable promotion at account opening. For a renewing CD, the APY and interest rate will be the APY and interest rate in effect on the CD renewal date for the CD term and account balance. When the APY is based on account balance, the applicable balance range will be used to determine your APY and interest rate; account balance may not be a factor for all CD terms. Citi may assign the same APY and interest rate to more than one balance range. Please refer to your applicable Rate Sheet.

Balance ranges include:

Every CD account is assigned to a Rate Region at account opening, which is identified on the Rate Sheet provided at account opening. Citi reserves the right to apply an APY and interest rate based on the account's Rate Region, apply different APYs and interest rates for different Rate Regions, and assign the APY and interest rate applicable to a Rate Region based on one or more of the following: CD type, CD term, account balance, and applicable promotion.

Please refer to your applicable Rate Sheet to learn which factor(s) affect the APY and interest rate applicable to your Rate Region.

When Interest Begins to Accrue

Interest begins to accrue as of the calendar day you open your CD account.

Interest Compounding and Crediting

Interest is compounded daily starting as of the calendar day you open your CD account, for the actual number of days your money is on deposit. Interest is computed using a 365-day year except in leap years when interest may be computed on a 366-day basis.

All CDs are available with the monthly interest feature. CD terms of one year or less also are available with the interest at maturity feature. The No Penalty CD is only available with the monthly interest feature. When you select the interest at maturity feature, interest is credited on the Maturity Date. When you select the monthly interest feature, interest is credited to your account after the close of business on the last Business Day of each month, and on the Maturity Date. Interest is paid up to but not including the Maturity Date. If you open your CD or your CD renews during the last week of any month, interest from the new CD opening date or CD renewal date to the end of the month may be included with the interest for the first full month after the CD is opened or renewed. If the end of the month occurs during the Grace Period, interest accrued during the Grace Period will be included in the next month's interest for renewed CDs. If the CD account is closed before maturity, the interest minus any applicable early withdrawal penalty will be reflected in the closeout balance.

Interest Calculation Method

We use the daily balance method to calculate interest. This method applies a daily periodic rate to the balance in the account each day.

Interest Withdrawal

You may withdraw interest before maturity after it has been credited to your CD account without an early withdrawal penalty. You may request to have credited interest deposited to another account you have with us or sent to you in the form of a check. When your CD automatically renews and after the grace period, interest will be added to your principal balance and will no longer be available for withdrawal without penalty. No Penalty CDs do not allow partial withdrawals before maturity, including interest withdrawals.

The APY on your CD assumes interest will remain on deposit in the CD account until maturity. A withdrawal will reduce earnings.

Automatic Renewal and Grace Period

Your CD will automatically renew at maturity for the same CD term at the APY and interest rate in effect on the Maturity Date which is the renewal date, unless: (1) you change your CD term, or (2) the same term is not available and we notify you that your CD term is changing. Account promotions will not apply to renewing CDs, unless specifically stated otherwise.

If you do not want your CD to automatically renew, you can make changes during the Grace Period. The Grace Period begins on the day after the Maturity Date and is up to 7-calendar days. If the last day of the Grace Period is a non-Business Day (a weekend or bank holiday), the Grace Period ends on the last Business Day before the non-Business Day (the Grace Period End Date). During the Grace Period you can change your CD term, deposit additional funds, or withdraw funds without paying an early withdrawal penalty. If you change your term, make a deposit, or withdraw funds during the Grace Period: (a) the Grace Period will end that day, your renewed CD will have a new opening date which is your renewal date, your renewed CD will have a new Maturity Date, and you will not be able to make any changes without penalty until the new Maturity Date; (b) we will pay interest from the Maturity Date until the day before your new opening date (but not more than 7-calendar days) at the interest rate in effect on the Maturity Date; and (c) your renewed CD will be assigned the APY and interest rate in effect on your new opening date which is your CD renewal date.

Your account number will not change when your CD renews.

Early Withdrawal Penalties

Citibank will impose a substantial penalty if you withdraw any amount from the principal before the Maturity Date. It may be necessary to deduct all or a portion of the penalty from the principal amount of the deposit. Early withdrawal penalties are calculated on the amount of the principal withdrawn. A 90-day simple interest penalty will apply for CD terms of 1 year or less, and a 180-day simple interest penalty will apply for CD terms greater than one year. There is no early withdrawal penalty if the account owner dies or is declared legally incompetent.

The No Penalty CD allows withdrawal of your full balance and interest without penalty after the first six (6) calendar days you make the minimum deposit into your new CD account and your qualifying deposit has been fully collected. A No Penalty CD withdrawal made during the first 6 days will result in an early withdrawal penalty. A No Penalty CD does not allow partial withdrawals before maturity, including interest withdrawals.

CITI TIME DEPOSIT

Citi Private Bank offers the following three types of Citi Time Deposits: (i) Citi Breakable Time Deposit, (ii) Citi Unbreakable Time Deposit, and (iii) Citi No Penalty Time Deposit. With a Citi time deposit ("TD"), you agree to leave your funds in the account for a specific period, called the term. The last day of the term is called the maturity date. The Citi Time Deposit is a fixed-rate deposit with maturities from one week up to three years after the initial placement date. The Citi Time Deposit must be linked to a Citibank U.S. Dollar checking account. It cannot be linked to your Citibank Banking Card, for ATM access, Citibank online banking or telephone banking. No additional deposits to the Citi Time Deposit are permitted before maturity.

The features of these account types are the same unless indicated below.

- Citi Breakable Time Deposit: The Citi Breakable Time Deposit means that a penalty will be assessed if you withdraw your deposit prior to the maturity date.
- Citi Unbreakable Time Deposit: The Citi Unbreakable Time Deposit means you may not withdraw your deposit prior to the maturity date. There is no option to pay an early withdrawal penalty to access your deposit prior to the maturity date.
- Citi No Penalty Time Deposit: The Citi No Penalty Time Deposit means no penalty will be assessed even if you withdraw your deposit prior to the maturity date. However, no withdrawals are permitted within the first six days after deposit or at renewal, if changes are made during the Grace Period.

Minimum Opening Deposit

The minimum opening deposit amount of each Citi Time Deposit is U.S. $10,000.

Withdrawals and Withdrawal Penalties

The maturity date for your Citi Time Deposit is indicated on your Citi Private Bank deposit interest rates and annual percentage yields disclosure and on your account opening confirmation. Terms regarding the withdrawal of your Citi Time Deposit account balance (which includes principal and any interest earned) before maturity are contained below. If opening a Citi Time Deposit with a term greater than one month, at account opening, you may elect to have interest credited and automatically withdrawn monthly to your linked Citibank U.S. Dollar checking account. This election may only be made at account opening. If you do not make this election at account opening, you will not be able to withdraw any interest, as it will not be credited until maturity. Withdrawals of interest will reduce earnings on the account.

Citi Unbreakable Time Deposit: A Citi Unbreakable Time Deposit does not allow for withdrawals or closures prior to the maturity date, except for automatic monthly withdrawals of credited interest if elected at account opening. There is no early withdrawal penalty if the account holder dies or is declared legally incompetent by a court or other administrative body of competent jurisdiction.

Citi Breakable Time Deposit: If you withdraw the Citi Breakable Time Deposit account balance (which includes principal and any interest earned) prior to the maturity date, a penalty will be assessed. No partial balance withdrawals are permitted at any time prior to maturity, except for automatic monthly withdrawals of credited interest if elected at account opening. It may be necessary to deduct all or a portion of the penalty from the principal amount of the deposit. Early withdrawal penalties will be an amount equal to the simple interest for a certain number of days as shown in the chart below. The penalty is based on the principal withdrawn at the rate being paid on the account. For example, if you withdraw a 6-month time deposit with a $100,000 principal amount earning a 0.5% interest rate prior to the maturity date, you will be charged a 90-day simple interest penalty:  $$100,000 * 0.005 * 90 / 365 = $123.29$ . There is no early withdrawal penalty if the account holder dies or is declared legally incompetent by a court or other administrative body of competent jurisdiction.

Term of Time Deposit	Penalty
1 day to 90 days	Simple interest penalty will be calculated based on the term of the deposit (e.g. early withdrawal on a 40 day time deposit will cause a penalty of 40 days' simple interest)
Over 90 days and less than 1 year	90 days' simple interest
1 year and over	180 days' simple interest

Citi No Penalty Time Deposit: If you withdraw the Citi No Penalty Time Deposit account balance (which includes principal and any interest earned) prior to the maturity date, no penalty will be assessed. No partial balance withdrawals are permitted at any time prior to maturity, except for automatic monthly withdrawals of credited interest if elected at account opening. No withdrawals are permitted within the first six days after the date of deposit or renewal, if changes are made during the Grace Period. For further details please refer to the Renewal Policies and Grace Period section below.

Renewal Policies and Grace Period

Grace Period

Each of the Citi Breakable Time Deposit and the Citi No Penalty Time Deposit have a Grace Period feature, which allows you to make certain changes to your TD, as detailed below. The Grace Period begins on the day after the Maturity Date and is up to 7-calendar days. If the last day of the Grace Period is a non-Business Day (a weekend or bank holiday), the Grace Period ends on the last Business Day before the non-Business Day (the Grace Period End Date).

Please see below for renewal policies for the three different Citi Time Deposits.

Citi Breakable Time Deposit: Except for TDs with terms of 1 month or less, you will be advised 30 days in advance of the maturity date. Unless you instruct us otherwise prior to the date of maturity, or during the Grace Period, Citibank will automatically renew your Citi Breakable Time Deposit at maturity, along with any interest earned, into a Citi Breakable Time Deposit of the same term, but at the interest rate and Annual Percentage Yield we are then offering for that term. For Citi Breakable Time Deposits with a term greater than 30 days, during the Grace Period, you can change your term, deposit additional funds or withdraw funds without paying an early withdrawal penalty. If, during the Grace Period, you change your term, make a deposit or withdrawal: (1) the Grace Period will end on that day, your TD opening date will reset and become your TD renewal date, and a new maturity date will apply, after which you will no longer be able to make any changes until the next maturity date without incurring a penalty; (2) we will pay interest from the maturity date until the day before your new opening date (but not more than 7-calendar days) at the interest rate then in effect on the maturity date; and (3) your renewed TD will be assigned the APY and interest rate in effect on your new opening date which is your TD renewal date. Your account number will not change when your TD renews.

Citi No Penalty Time Deposit: Except for TDs with terms of 1 month or less, you will be advised 30 days in advance of the maturity date. Unless you instruct us otherwise prior to the date of maturity, or during the Grace Period, Citibank will automatically renew your Citi No Penalty Time Deposit at maturity, along with any interest earned, into a Citi No Penalty Time Deposit of the same term, but at the interest rate and Annual Percentage Yield we are then offering for that term. For Citi No Penalty Time Deposits with a term greater than 30 days, during the Grace Period, you can change your term, deposit additional funds or withdraw funds without paying an early withdrawal penalty. If, during the Grace Period, you change your term, make a deposit or withdrawal: (1) the Grace Period will end that day, your opening date will reset and become your TD renewal date, and a new maturity date will apply, after which you will no longer be able to make any changes until the next maturity date without incurring a penalty; (2) we will pay interest from the maturity date until the day before your new opening date (but not more than 7-calendar days) at the interest rate then in effect on the maturity date; and (3) your renewed TD will be assigned the APY and interest rate in effect on your new opening date which is your TD renewal date. Your account number will not change when your TD renews. No withdrawals are permitted within the first six days after the TD renewal date if changes are made during the Grace Period, including the deposit of additional principal. If no changes are made during the Grace Period, withdrawals are permitted at any point without penalty.

Citi Unbreakable Time Deposit: Citi Unbreakable Time Deposits do not renew and will auto-close at maturity and all interest and principal will be returned to your linked Citibank U.S. Dollar checking account. The Grace Period does not apply to Citi Unbreakable Time Deposits.

Rate Information

Citi Time Deposits bear interest at a fixed rate until the maturity of the deposit. The amount, term and prevailing market conditions affect the applicable interest rate and Annual Percentage Yield (APY). The APY on your account assumes interest will remain on deposit until maturity. Withdrawal of interest will reduce earnings on the account. For up-to date information, please contact your Citi Private Bank representative for a current Citi Private Bank deposit interest rates and annual percentage yields disclosure.

Interest Calculation

Interest is compounded daily. Interest will be credited to your Citi Time Deposit account at maturity or will be automatically withdrawn and credited monthly to your linked Citibank U.S. Dollar checking account, as elected by you at account opening. Withdrawals of interest will reduce earnings on the account. Interest is paid up to, but not including, the day that the account is either closed or matures. We use the daily balance method to calculate interest on these accounts. This method applies a daily periodic rate to the balance in the account each day. Interest is computed using a 365-day year except in leap years when interest may be computed on a 366-day basis.

When Interest Begins to Accrue

Interest will accrue beginning on the business day Citibank receives credit for the funds. In the case of a deposit that is affected by means of a non-U.S. Dollar currency transaction, interest will accrue beginning on the first business day settlement is completed. If your Citi Time Deposit is renewed, interest will accrue beginning on the date of renewal.

Reporting

Each January, the total interest paid on a Citi Time Deposit will be reported to the IRS on one or more 1099 forms, unless you have provided us a Form W-8BEN, Certificate of Foreign Status of Beneficial Owner for United States Tax Withholding. Copies of the 1099(s) will be provided to you.

Copies of the 1099(s) will be provided to you.

Foreign Exchange and Currency

Transactions: Citibank can enter into foreign exchange transactions for clients who hold Citi U.S. Foreign Currency Transaction Accounts. These transactions will be at the quoted foreign exchange rate.

Transaction Penalties: If you fail to make a required deposit in U.S. Dollars or a foreign currency in connection with any transaction initiated at your request, then you must pay Citibank, on demand, the costs to Citibank arising from such failure. These costs may include: the cost of obtaining U.S. Dollars or the relevant foreign currency from other sources, the cost of terminating the transaction and any other transaction entered into by Citibank in reliance on your obligation to make the deposit, and Citibank's related administrative costs. Citibank may charge the prevailing borrowing interest rate for the currency determined by Citibank, plus 2%.

Gains and Losses: The value of any one currency fluctuates versus the value of another, and there can be a gain or loss when one currency is exchanged for another. You will benefit from any realized gain in the value of one currency versus another and will sustain any realized loss. Any foreign exchange gain or loss will affect the value of your principal. Citibank does not report foreign exchange gains or losses to the Internal Revenue Service ("IRS") or any other foreign tax or governmental authority. You are responsible for reporting to the IRS or any other applicable foreign tax or governmental authority (in particular in your home jurisdiction) all required information relating to your foreign exchange tax liability.

Sovereign Risk: When dealing in foreign currencies, you understand you are also undertaking the risk associated with that country's local currency. Any imposition by any governmental or regulatory authority of the country of the relevant foreign currency may result in the inability to effect outward remittances of the whole or any part of such payments (whether in the local currency, the original deposited currency or any other currency) from such country, which can thereby result in the loss of all or part of the principal sum deposited. If such an event occurs, there is an additional risk of the subsequent devaluation and/ there is an additional risk of the subsequent devaluation and/or lack of convertibility to that currency.

Negative Interest Cost: From time to time market term interest rates may be negative for deposits held in certain currencies or central banking institutions may impose negative interest rates. As a result, your Citi U.S. Foreign Currency Cash Reserve Account, U.S. Foreign Currency Transaction Account, or U.S. Foreign Currency Time Deposit account holding a currency subject to a negative interest rate may be charged a Negative Interest Fee that takes into account, among other things, the market negative term interest rate or the negative interest rate imposed by central banking institutions and our costs to administer the accounts. The Negative Interest Fee for your account will be calculated each day your account holds currency(ies) subject to a negative interest rate by multiplying your account balance by the Negative Interest Fee Rate for the applicable currency and dividing by 360, except for British Pounds that is divided by 365. For Citi U.S. Foreign Currency Cash Reserve Accounts and U.S. Foreign Currency Transaction Accounts, the Negative Interest Fee Rate used to calculate the Negative Interest Fee is variable and subject to change daily. For U.S. Foreign Currency Time Deposit accounts, the Negative Interest Fee Rate used to calculate the Negative Interest Fee is fixed and will be the Negative Interest Fee Rate in effect on the day the account is opened. Negative Interest Fee Rates are subject to change daily and are determined by Citibank in our sole discretion. The Negative Interest Fee will be charged daily for Citi U.S. Foreign Currency Cash Reserve accounts and U.S. Foreign Currency Transaction Accounts, and at maturity for U.S. Foreign Currency Time Deposit accounts. Contact your Citi Private Bank representative to obtain the Negative Interest Fee Rates applicable to your account(s) or if you have questions regarding the Negative Interest Fee.

By signing the Application and accepting these Terms and Conditions, you understand that that these Terms and Conditions may be amended and that the Bank's ability to operate and maintain Renminbi denominated account(s) or provide Renminbi Deposit Services may be impaired, suspended (in some cases indefinitely), rendered impracticable, or otherwise terminated by the Bank. ## Renminbi Risk Factors

If Renminbi deposit services are applicable and made available to you, you agree and acknowledge that you understand the key risks set out below and that you are capable of, and are willing to, assume these risks. The key risks set out below are not intended to be an exhaustive list of all risks related to Renminbi deposit services provided by the Bank. You must also read and understand all risks set out in any other agreements you may have with the Bank and in any product or service disclosures.

Foreign exchange conversion risk: The foreign exchange conversion rate is based on the offshore interbank rate available outside Mainland China, which may be driven by various factors including market demand and supply and may be different from onshore market rates available inside Mainland China. The difference between the two conversion rates may be significant.

Renminbi currency risk: Renminbi is subject to substantial exchange rate risk and is currently not freely convertible. Provision of Renminbi conversion and other services through or by banks in the United States is subject to the relevant regulatory and other policy requirements, and to exchange rate controls and restrictions applicable to Renminbi deposit services. Such requirements, controls or restrictions may be amended or subject to change from time to time, and may adversely affect an applicable exchange rate or make it impractical for you to convert Renminbi into your host currency or may result in significant loss on conversion. There may be conversion restrictions applicable and you may need to allow additional time for conversions to or from Renminbi.

Credit risk of clearing and settlement banks, agents and custodians: The credit risk of clearing and settlement banks, agents and custodians that Citibank is subject to may affect the availability, liquidity and transferability of Renminbi deliverable to you.

Funds Availability at Citibank (All Marketplaces)

This section will help you determine when deposits to your checking, savings and money market account(s) will be available for withdrawal.

Please note that the availability of deposits made via the Mobile Check Deposit service is described separately in the agreement governing that service.

OUR GENERAL POLICY

Our general policy is to make funds from any type of check deposit available to you no later than the first business day after the day of your deposit. This includes government checks, cashier's checks and other special types of checks described below. Cash deposits with a teller or at a Proprietary Citibank ATM are generally available immediately on the same business day your deposit is received. Wire transfers and electronic direct deposits are also generally available on the same business day your deposit is received.

Once funds are available, you may withdraw the funds in cash or use them to pay checks and other items. In some cases, we may place longer delays on your deposit which means you will have to wait a few additional days before being able to use the funds. If we decide to place longer delays at the time you make a deposit, you will be provided a notice that lets you know when your funds will become available to you. If your deposit is not made with a teller, or we decide to take this action after you have made your deposit, we will send a notice to you by the next business day. Please refer to the "Longer Delays May Apply" section for a description of these longer delays.

Determining the Date of Deposit

The day funds become available is determined by counting business days from the day of your deposit. Every day is a business day except Saturdays, Sundays, and federal holidays. If you make a deposit before our established cutoff time on a business day that we are open, we will consider that day to be the day of deposit. However, if you make a deposit after our cutoff time or on a non-business day, we will consider the next business day we are open to be the day your deposit is received.

- Deposits made in person with a teller before the end of the business day are considered received that day. The end of business day is posted at each branch and may vary by branch location.
- Deposits made at Proprietary Citibank ATMs and Network (non-Citibank) ATM facilities before 10:30pm Eastern Time (9:30pm Central Time; 7:30pm Pacific Time) are considered received that day.
- Deposits made at a night depository are considered received by Citibank when the deposit is removed from the night depository, which will be no later than the next business day.
- Check deposits by mail. A check deposit received by mail is considered received on the day we receive it at the mail facility designated below. Check deposits made by mail and addressed to any other Citibank address will be forwarded to the designated facility for processing and will be considered received on the date the deposit is received by this facility.

Government Checks, Cashier's Checks and Other Special Types of Checks

Funds from the following types of checks are available no later than the first business after the day we receive your deposit:

- U.S. Treasury Checks, Federal Reserve Bank checks, Federal Home Loan Bank checks
- Checks issued by a U.S. state or by the general purpose units of U.S. local governments
- U.S. postal money orders
- Cashier's checks, teller's checks, certified checks, and travelers checks
- Checks drawn on a Citibank, N.A. U.S. branch

Longer Delays May Apply

In some cases, we may not make all of the funds that you deposit by check (excluding the special types of checks described above) available by the first business day after the day of your deposit. Should this occur, you will be provided with a notice describing when the funds will be available at the time of your deposit. If your deposit is not made directly with a teller or we decide to take this action after you complete your deposit, we will send you a notice by the next business day. If you will need the funds from a deposit right away, you should ask us when the funds will be available. Depending on the total amount of your check deposits on any one day, the deposit amount may not become fully available to you until the fourth business day after the day of the deposit as follows:

Total deposit amounts up to $5,525

Funds from all check deposits on any one day that total $5,525 or less will be available on the third business day after the day of deposit. The first $225 of these check deposits will be available on the first business day after the day of deposit, an additional $450 will be available on the second business day after the day of deposit and the remainder of the deposit will be available on the third business day after the day of deposit.

Large dollar deposits greater than $5,525

If the total of your check deposits on any one day is greater than $5,525, the amount in excess of $5,525 will be available on the fourth business day after the day of deposit.

By way of example:

If you deposit a check (or multiple checks on any given day) that total(s) $10,000

- The first $225 of your deposit will be available on the first business day after the day of deposit
- An additional $450 will be available on the second business day
- An additional $4,850 will be available on the third business day
- The remaining $ 4,475 will be available on the fourth business day.

We may also delay the full amount of your check deposits for a longer period (up to 7 business days) under the following circumstances:

- Doubt of collectability – If we have reason to believe the check you have deposited will not be paid; we may delay availability of the funds represented by that check up to 7 business days. Should this occur, we will send you a deposit hold notice no later than the next business day after we decide to take this action.
- Emergency Situations – If we are unable to conduct business due to an interruption of communications, computer equipment facilities or other emergency conditions beyond our control such as the impact of a natural disaster, we may delay the availability of your deposited check up to 7 business days.

Special Rules for New Clients

You are considered a new client if you have not had an account at Citibank for at least 30 days prior to your opening one. For the first 30 days your new account is open, the following special rules apply:

- You will be entitled to the availability described above for:
  - Incoming wire transfers and electronic direct deposits
  - Cash
  - Government checks, Cashier's checks, and other special types of checks (as defined above)
- For all other check deposits, your funds will be available on the 5th business day after the day of deposit.

Collection Items

We may require that a check received for deposit be sent out for collection. This may occur, for example, if the check is drawn on an institution outside the United States. We will make the funds available to you after we receive payment from the bank on which the check is drawn. A service fee will generally apply. Please refer to the Schedule of Other Fees and Charges For All Accounts.

Holds on Other Funds

If we cash a check that is drawn on another bank, we may withhold the availability of a corresponding amount already in your account. Those funds will be made available on the day they would have been available if you had deposited the check.

Our Right of Chargeback

The availability of funds from checks that you deposit will not affect your obligation to repay Citibank for any check that you deposit that is not paid nor does it affect our right to charge back your account for any check that is not paid.

Changes to Our Policy

We will notify you of any change(s) to our funds availability policies as required by applicable law.

CITIBANK® SAVINGS PLUS ACCOUNT

Account Features

Your Citibank® Savings Plus account is a money market account that gives you the ability to earn short-term market rates in an FDIC-insured account. It also provides the convenience of account access through ATMs, Citibank® Online, Citi Mobile® or through CitiPhone Banking®, our automated telephone service. The Citibank® Savings Plus account can be linked to any account package.

Check Writing

The Citibank® Savings Plus account offers check writing in all packages except an Access Account Package. Any check transactions on a Citibank® Savings Plus account, in the Access Account Package that involve a check, including written checks, check by phone or third party authorizations that come through as a check transaction will not be honored.

Minimum Balance Requirement

There is a minimum balance of $100 to maintain the Citibank® Savings Plus account. We reserve the right to close the account if the account balance falls below the minimum balance.

Interest Rates

The interest rates for the Citibank® Savings Plus account are variable, determined by Citibank at its sole discretion and can change at any time. For current interest rates and Annual Percentage Yields, please call CitiPhone Banking at 1-800-627-3999 or stop by your nearest Citibank branch.

When Interest Begins to Accrue

Non-Cash items, such as checks, deposited to a money market account begin to earn interest on the date Citibank receives credit for the funds. This date will be no later than the second Business Day after the Business Day the check deposit is received. A cash deposit begins to earn interest on the Business Day the cash deposit is received. ("Business Day" means any day of the week that is not a Saturday, Sunday or bank holiday. Non-Business Days are considered part of the following Business Day.)

Fees

There is no separate Monthly Service Fee for the Citibank® Savings Plus account. A Citibank® Savings Plus account must be in a package and is subject to the applicable monthly service fee and non-Citibank ATM fees of the applicable account package as disclosed in the "Information About Account Packages" section of the Marketplace Addendum. Citibank® Savings Plus accounts converted from an existing money market on April 15, 2022, will be in the same package as the existing money market before account conversion and, except as provided in this notice, will be subject to the same monthly service and non-Citibank ATM fees, and all other fees, of the applicable account package.

Uniform Transfers to Minors Accounts (UTMA), also known as Custodial accounts, will not be charged a monthly service fee for money market accounts when the beneficiary is younger than 18 years of age and the UTMA is the sole account in a Basic Banking Package or a Citibank® Account Package. An UTMA with a beneficiary 18 years of age or older, or in any other account or package type regardless of age, will be subject to the terms and conditions of their package including fees and minimum balance requirements for fee waivers.

Interest Calculation Method and Rate Information

We use the daily balance method to calculate the interest on Citibank® Savings Plus accounts. This method uses the daily balance of all deposited funds in your account on which we have received credit to determine the applicable interest rate tier for each day of the statement period. This method may cause a change in the amount of interest you earn depending on the daily balance changes in your account.

Rates on variable accounts may change. We may assign the same interest rate to more than one balance range. Interest rates may vary depending on one or more of the following: Residential/Home (not mailing) Address, Rate Region, Account Balance, Account Package Type.

For a Citibank® Savings Plus account that is linked to an Access Account Package or Basic Banking Package, the interest rate you earn will always be paid at the lowest tiered rate established for Citibank® Savings Plus accounts regardless of the balance in your Citibank® Savings Plus account.

Please refer to the rate sheet for additional rate information.

The principal in the account is reduced based upon the transaction date when a withdrawal or other debit transaction occurs, which is not always the same as the posting date. The principal balance on which interest is calculated may not be the same as that appearing on your periodic statement if there have been intervening transactions.

Interest Compounding and Crediting

Interest is compounded daily for the actual number of days your money is on deposit and is credited to your account monthly. Interest is computed using a 365-day year, except in leap years when interest may be computed on a 366-day basis.

Interest Adjustments

An interest adjustment for a transaction occurring during a statement period may be reflected on your statement in the next statement period rather than in the statement period in which it occurs.

Linking

The balances in other Citibank accounts that are linked to the Citibank® Savings Plus account will not be included in the daily balance calculation for the Citibank® Savings Plus account. The balance in the Citibank® Savings Plus account may be linked to contribute to the minimum combined average monthly balance requirements of eligible Citibank account packages.

Interest on Closed Accounts

If the account is closed before the end of the monthly statement period, interest will be paid for the number of days the account was open during the period in accordance with daily balance method.

Deposit accounts are subject to service, transaction or other fees not covered by the Monthly Service Fee. For a complete list of applicable fees by product and banking package, please view the chart below. Please also carefully review any fee disclosures provided at the time of a transaction or when a service is provided, such as when you open a Safe Deposit Box or order checks.

- 3 ThankYou Points for each $1 spent on air travel and hotels

The following definitions apply to the categories:

Restaurants: Includes purchases at cafes, bars, lounges and fast-food restaurants. Excludes purchases at bakeries, caterers, restaurants located inside another business (such as hotels, stores, stadiums, grocery stores, or warehouse clubs) and third-party dining delivery services.

Supermarkets: Excludes purchases made at general merchandise/discount superstores, freezer/meat locker provisioners, dairy product stores, miscellaneous food/convenience stores, markets, drugstores, warehouse clubs, wholesale clubs, specialty vendors, bakeries, candy stores, nut stores, confectionery stores, and meal kit delivery services. Purchases made at online supermarkets or with grocery delivery services also do not qualify if the merchant does not classify itself as a supermarket by using the supermarket merchant code.

Gas Stations: Excludes gas purchases at warehouse clubs, discount stores, department stores, convenience stores or other merchants that are not classified as gas stations using the gas station merchant code.

Air Travel and Hotels: Includes purchases at airlines, hotels, and travel agencies.

All Other Purchases: Include the non-qualifying purchases listed above.

Only Purchases Earn Points. You'll earn Points for purchases using your Card Account, minus returns and refunds. Balance transfers, cash advances, checks that access your card account, items returned for credit, unauthorized charges, interest and account fees, travelers checks, foreign currency purchases, money orders, wire transfers (and similar cash-like transactions), lottery tickets, gaming chips (and similar betting transactions) do not earn ThankYou Points.

Open and Current Card Account. You may earn Points as long as your card account is open and current. If your card account is closed, you will not be able to earn Points, and you will lose any accumulated Points that have not been transferred to your ThankYou Account (we will set up a ThankYou Account for you).

When You Will Receive Points. Points earned through a purchase with your Card Account will appear in your ThankYou Account at the end of the billing cycle in which you made the purchase. This means that Points earned on purchases made near the end of a billing cycle may take up to one additional billing cycle to appear in your ThankYou Account. (Bonus Points may take one to two additional billing cycles to post to your ThankYou Account).

Please see the Citi ThankYou Rewards Terms and Conditions at thankyou.com/terms, or call us at 1-800-THANKYOU (1-800-842-6596) to request a complete copy of the Terms and Conditions. For TTY: Use 711 or other Relay Service. The Terms and Conditions include redemption information on the Citi ThankYou Rewards Program.

Merchant Classification for Rewards Categories

Merchants are assigned a merchant category code ("MCC"), which is determined in accordance with Visa/Mastercard/American Express procedures based on the kinds of products and services the merchants primarily sell. We don't control the assignment of these codes and are not responsible for the codes used by merchants. When you use your card to make a purchase, we're provided an MCC for that purchase. We group similar merchant codes into categories for purposes of making rewards offers. Sometimes you may expect a purchase to fit within a rewards category, but if the code assigned to the merchant wasn't grouped into that category, as recognized by Citi, your purchase will not qualify for additional points. For example, you won't earn additional points for purchases at a restaurant located within a retailer if the restaurant is assigned a "retailer" code instead of a "restaurant" code. Please also note - purchases made through mobile/wireless technology may not earn additional points depending on how the technology is set up to process the purchase. We reserve the exclusive right to determine which purchases qualify for additional points.

ThankYou Rewards may be terminated with 30 days prior written notice. If ThankYou Rewards is terminated, you will have 90 days from the ThankYou Rewards termination date to redeem all your accumulated ThankYou Points. The ThankYou Rewards Program may be changed at any time. Rewards offered by ThankYou Rewards and the ThankYou Point levels required for specific rewards are subject to change without notice.

BALANCE TRANSFER INFORMATION

How to Make Balance Transfers

1. After receiving your card, you can call the customer service number on the back of your card (For TTY: Use 711 or other Relay Service) to transfer balances. Balance transfers are made available at our discretion.
2. If we give you the option to transfer a balance with your application, it will take at least 14 days after your Card Account is opened to process any balance transfer payments. During this time, you may cancel or modify your balance transfer request by calling the number on the back of your card (For TTY: Use 711 or other Relay Service).
3. The total amount of your balance transfer plus balance transfer fees must be less than your available credit limit or any other limit we communicate. Be sure you don't transfer any disputed purchase or other charge amount because you may lose your dispute rights. You cannot transfer balances from other accounts issued by Citibank, N.A. or its affiliates. If you are unsure of the issuer on the account, please visit <https://www.citi.com/affiliatesproducts> for a list of Citi products and affiliates.
4. Continue to make payments on your other accounts until you have confirmed this balance transfer has been received. Once approved, we'll pay the amount of the balance transfer directly to that issuer. The available credit limit for your new card will be reduced by the total amount of the transfers, including fees we approve.

CITI® THANKYOU® REWARDS

SUMMARY OF THE CITI REWARDS+® CARD TERMS AND CONDITIONS

With the Citi Rewards+ Card, you can earn ThankYou Points for purchases made on your card.

Unless you are participating in a limited-time offer, you will earn:

- 2 ThankYou Points for each $1 spent on purchases at supermarkets and gas stations, for the first $6,000 per calendar year and then 1 ThankYou Point for each $1 spent thereafter.

Certain Non-Qualifying Purchases:

Supermarkets – You won't earn 2X Points for purchases made at general merchandise/discount superstores, freezer/meat locker provisioners, dairy product stores, miscellaneous food/convenience stores, markets, drugstores, warehouse clubs, wholesale clubs, specialty vendors, bakeries, candy stores, nut stores, confectionery stores, and meal kit delivery services. You also won't earn 2X Points for purchases made at online supermarkets if the merchant does not classify itself as a supermarket by using the supermarket merchant code.

Gas stations – You won't earn 2X Points for fuel purchased for commercial purposes or used for non-automobile purposes. You also won't earn 2X Points if the merchant does not classify itself as a gas station by using the gas station merchant code. Therefore, you may not earn 2X Points for purchases made at warehouse clubs, wholesale clubs, superstores, discount stores, department stores, and convenience stores.

- 1 ThankYou Point for each $1 spent on other purchases including the non-qualifying purchases listed above.

Round Up

For every purchase that earns ThankYou Points, your ThankYou Points will be rounded up to the nearest 10 points so that the total ThankYou Points awarded for any purchase is in a 10-ThankYou-Point increment ("Round Up"). For example, if you purchase an item that costs $3.48, you'll receive 10 ThankYou Points; and if you purchase an item that costs $9.51, you'll receive 10 ThankYou Points. Points are rounded after the additional points are awarded for 2X qualifying purchases. For example, if you make a $7 purchase that earns 2X Points, you'll receive 20 ThankYou Points.

10% Points Back from Redemptions

When you redeem your ThankYou Points, you'll receive 10% points back for the first 100,000 ThankYou Points redeemed per calendar year. This means that if you redeem 10,000 ThankYou Points, you'll receive 1,000 ThankYou Points from the 10% Points Back feature. You will not receive 10% Points Back on points you redeem on Points Sharing transactions.

Only Purchases Earn Points. Balance transfers, cash advances, checks that access your Card Account, items returned for credit, unauthorized charges, interest and account fees, travelers checks, foreign currency purchases, money orders, wire transfers (and similar cash-like transactions), lottery tickets, gaming chips (and similar betting transactions) do not earn ThankYou Points.

Merchant Classification for Rewards Categories. Merchants are assigned a merchant category code ("MCC"), which is determined in accordance with Visa/Mastercard/American Express procedures based on the kinds of products and services the merchants primarily sell. We don't control the assignment of these codes and are not responsible for the codes used by merchants. When you use your card to make a purchase, we're provided an MCC for that purchase. We group similar merchant codes into categories for purposes of making rewards offers. Sometimes you may expect a purchase to fit within a rewards category, but if the code assigned to the merchant wasn't grouped into that category as identified by Citi, your purchase will not qualify for additional points. For example, you won't earn additional points for gas purchases if the merchant is not assigned a gas-related code. Please also note – purchases made through mobile/wireless technology may not earn additional points depending on how the technology is set up to process the purchase. We reserve the exclusive right to determine which purchases qualify for additional points.

When you reach a reward or benefit cap (e.g., you spend $6000 on purchases at supermarkets and gas stations to earn 2X Points on these purchases), and you return items (reducing your spending within that category), you will earn 1X Points for purchases even if those purchases would have otherwise qualified for 2X Points.

You may earn ThankYou Points as long as your Card Account is open and current. If your Card Account is closed, you will not be able to earn and redeem ThankYou Points and you will lose any accumulated ThankYou Points that have not been transferred to your ThankYou Member Account (we will set up a ThankYou Member Account for you). You will also not earn points from Round Up or receive 10% Points Back if your account is closed.

ThankYou Rewards may be terminated with 30 days prior written notice. If ThankYou Rewards is terminated, you will have 90 days from ThankYou Rewards termination date to redeem all your accumulated ThankYou Points. The ThankYou Rewards program may be changed at any time. Rewards offered by ThankYou Rewards and the ThankYou Point levels required for specific rewards are subject to change without notice.

ThankYou Points earned from purchases and Round Up, and ThankYou Points earned from 10% Points Back, post to your Card Account at the close of each billing cycle, and at that time we will transfer the ThankYou Points you earned to your ThankYou Member Account. (Points from Round Up and 10% Points Back are not considered Bonus ThankYou Points. Bonus ThankYou Points may take one to two additional billing cycles to post to your Card Account.) ThankYou Points are not eligible for redemption until they are transferred to your ThankYou Member Account.

Please see the Citi ThankYou Rewards Terms and Conditions at thankyou.com/terms, or call us at 1-800-THANKYOU (1-800-842-6596) (TTY: 711) to request a complete copy of the Terms and Conditions. The Terms and Conditions include redemption information on the Citi ThankYou Rewards Program.

Fraud, Misuse, Abuse, or Suspicious Activity. If we see evidence of fraud, misuse, abuse, or suspicious activity, as determined by us in our sole discretion, we reserve the right to take action against You. This may include, without limitation and without prior notice, any or all of the following:

- Taking away your accrued Points
- Stopping You from earning Points
- Suspending or closing your Citi Account or ThankYou Account
- Taking legal action to recover Rewards redeemed because of such activity and to recover our monetary losses, including litigation costs and damages

Some examples of fraud, misuse, abuse and suspicious activity include:

- Buying or selling Points other than as permitted under the Program
- Repeatedly opening Card Accounts or Citibank Checking Accounts for the primary purpose of acquiring Points
- Using your Card Accounts or Citibank Checking Account in an abusive manner for the primary purpose of acquiring Points
- Using your Card Account other than primarily for personal, consumer or household purposes
- Points redemptions that You didn't authorize

Please contact the ThankYou Service Center at 1-800-THANKYOU (1-800-842-6596) (TTY: 711) immediately if You suspect your ThankYou Account is the target of fraud or suspicious activity.

2. If we give you the option to transfer a balance with your application, it will take at least 14 days after your Card Account is opened to process any balance transfer payments. During this time, you may cancel or modify your balance transfer request by calling the number on the back of your card (For TTY: Use 711 or other Relay Service).
3. The total amount of your balance transfer plus balance transfer fees must be less than your available credit limit or any other limit we communicate. ## CITI® THANKYOU® REWARDS

SUMMARY OF THE CITI CUSTOM CASH® CARD TERMS AND CONDITIONS

Citi will only issue one Citi Custom Cash Card account per person.

Unless you are participating in a limited-time offer, you will earn:

- 5 ThankYou® Points for each $1 you spend in your highest spend category each billing cycle up to the first $500 spent in that category. After the first $500 spent in that category during the billing cycle, you will earn 1 ThankYou Point for each additional $1 you spend. (See below for more information on the highest spend category.)
- 1 ThankYou Point for each $1 you spend on purchases (excluding purchases made in your highest spend category as described above and transactions that do not qualify as purchases that earn points as described below).

Highest Spend Category

Each billing cycle we will determine your highest spend for purchases posted to your account in the following categories: Restaurants, Gas Stations, Grocery Stores, Select Travel, Select Transit, Select Streaming Services, Drugstores, Home Improvement Stores, Fitness Clubs and Live Entertainment. Each purchase on your Card Account is assigned to a category based on the merchant category code as described below. We will calculate your total amount spent in each category, less any returns posted during the billing cycle, even if the original purchase date for the return was in an earlier billing cycle. We will use this information to determine your highest spend category. Citibank shall have the sole right to determine the highest spend category each billing cycle and their decision will be final. Once we identify the highest spend category for a billing cycle, it will not be changed, even if purchases from that category are returned in a later billing cycle.

The following definitions apply to the categories:

Restaurants

Includes purchases at cafes, bars, lounges and fast food restaurants. Excludes purchases at bakeries, caterers, restaurants located inside another business (such as hotels, stores, stadiums, grocery stores, or warehouse clubs) and third-party dining delivery services.

Gas Stations

Excludes gasoline purchases at warehouse clubs, discount stores, convenience stores or other merchants that do not use the gas station merchant category code.

Grocery Stores

Includes purchases at supermarkets, meat/seafood stores, dairy stores, bakeries and miscellaneous food/convenience stores. Excludes purchases at general merchandise/discount superstores; wholesale/warehouse clubs; candy, nut and confectionery stores. Purchases made at online supermarkets or with grocery delivery services also do not qualify if the merchant does not classify itself as a supermarket by using the supermarket merchant category code.

Select Travel

Includes airline, hotel, cruise line and travel agency purchases. Excludes timeshares, boat leases and rentals, campgrounds and trailer parks, and real estate agencies.

Select Transit

Includes car rentals, ferries, commuter railways, subways, taxis/limousines/car services, passenger railways, bridge and road tolls, parking lots/garages, bus lines and motor home and recreational vehicle rentals. Excludes bike/scooter rentals, auto clubs and insurance companies.

Select Streaming Services

Includes the following cable, satellite, and streaming providers: Amazon Prime Video, Amazon Music, Apple Music, CBS All Access, Disney+, AT&T TV NOW, ESPN+, fuboTV, HBO Max, NBA League Pass, Netflix, Pandora, Showtime, Sling TV, Spotify, Starz, SiriusXM, Vudu, YouTube Red, YouTube TV and Tidal.

The above names are trademarks or registered trademarks of their respective owners. The owners of the above marks do not endorse Citibank N.A.'s services, and are not otherwise affiliated with Citibank, N.A. or any of its related entities.

Drugstores

Includes purchases made at pharmacies in grocery stores, general merchandise/discount superstores, and wholesale/warehouse clubs if those merchants submit purchases made in their pharmacy with the drugstore and pharmacy merchant category code.

Home Improvement Stores

Includes purchases at home supply warehouse stores, lumber and building materials stores, paint and wallpaper stores, hardware stores, nurseries, lawn and garden supply stores and paints, varnishes and supplies stores. Excludes florists and florists' supply stores, nursery stock, wholesale construction stores and glass stores.

Fitness Clubs

Includes membership fee and other purchases at athletic, sports and recreation facilities requiring membership such as health, tennis and swimming clubs. Excludes fees associated with virtual services for home exercise equipment, personal monitoring devices or fitness streaming classes.

Live Entertainment

Includes ticket purchases for live entertainment, including concerts, live sporting events, live theatrical productions, amusement parks, and orchestras. Excludes: charitable organizations that provide live entertainment (benefits), sporting camps, sports complexes where you participate in the sport, public and private golf courses, country clubs (including membership fees), bowling alleys, movie theaters, tourist attractions, museums and art galleries.

Merchant Classification for Rewards Categories.

Merchants are assigned a merchant category code ("MCC"), which is determined in accordance with Visa/Mastercard/American Express procedures based on the kinds of products and services the merchants primarily sell. We don't control the assignment of these codes and are not responsible for the codes used by merchants. When you use your card to make a purchase, we're provided an MCC for that purchase. We group similar merchant codes into categories for purposes of identifying your spend category. Sometimes you may expect a purchase to fit within a rewards category, but if the code assigned to the merchant wasn't grouped into that category as identified by Citi your purchase amount will not be included in the spend for that billing cycle. For example, your purchase amount would not be included in the restaurant category for purchases at a restaurant located within a retailer if the restaurant is assigned a "retailer" code instead of a "restaurant" code. Please also note – purchases made through mobile/wireless technology may not be included in the anticipated category depending on how the technology is set up to process the purchase. We reserve the exclusive right to determine in which category purchases are placed.

Only Purchases Earn Points

You'll earn Points for purchases using your Card Account, minus returns and refunds. Balance transfers, cash advances, checks that access your Card Account, items returned for credit, unauthorized charges, interest and account fees, travelers checks, foreign currency purchases, money orders, wire transfers (and similar cash-like transactions), lottery tickets and gaming chips (and similar betting transactions) do not earn ThankYou Points.

Open and Current Card Account

You may earn points as long as your Card Account is open and current. If your Card Account is closed, you will not be able to earn points, and you will lose any accumulated points that have not been transferred to your ThankYou Account.

When You Will Receive Points

Points earned through a purchase with your Card Account will appear in your ThankYou Account at the end of the billing cycle in which you made the purchase. This means that points earned on purchases made near the end of a billing cycle may take up to one additional billing cycle to appear in your ThankYou Account. (Bonus points may take one to two additional billing cycles to post to your ThankYou Account).

Please see the Citi ThankYou® Rewards Terms and Conditions for the Citi Custom Cash Card at thankyou.com/terms or call us at 1-800-THANKYOU (1-800-842-6596) to request a complete copy of the Terms and Conditions. For speech/hearing impaired, use 711 or other Relay Service. The Terms and Conditions include redemption information on the Citi ThankYou Rewards Program.

Fraud, Misuse, Abuse, or Suspicious Activity

If we see evidence of fraud, misuse, abuse, or suspicious activity, as determined by us in our sole discretion, we reserve the right to take action against you. This may include, without limitation and without prior notice, any or all of the following:

- Taking away your accrued Points
- Stopping you from earning Points
- Suspending or closing your Citi Account or ThankYou Account
- Taking legal action to recover Rewards redeemed because of such activity and to recover our monetary losses, including litigation costs and damages

Interest Rates and APY apply to accounts opened through Citi Private Bank for clients with a residence in Massachusetts. Different rates may apply for accounts opened in other states. Fees could reduce earnings.
Product and rate information is accurate as of the date issued and is subject to change at any time. For current interest rates and annual percentage yields, please call 1-800-870-1073. Text telephone users please call 1-800-945-0258.

<sup>2</sup> For Tiered Variable Interest Rate Product, balance tiers are determined by the average daily balance in the account for calendar month prior to when interest is paid. For new accounts, tiers are determined using the average daily balance for the calendar month in which the account is opened, excluding the last day of the month.
<sup>3</sup> Amounts in each balance range can earn a different rate. For Annual Percentage Yield (APY) calculation purposes, a minimum deposit of $500,000 is assumed.
<sup>4</sup> Interest Rates are fixed for the term of the CD. If one Annual Percentage Yield (APY) and one Interest Rate is shown for a CD they apply for all balance tiers. The APY assumes interest remains on deposit until maturity. A fee will be imposed for early withdrawal
<sup>5</sup> You may withdraw your full balance and interest at any time without incurring any penalty fees after the first six (6) calendar days you deposit funds into your new account. Partial withdrawals are not permitted.
Upon maturity, your CD will automatically renew for the same term but at the APY and interest rate currently being offered, unless you request a change during the grace period, or the CD rate or term is no longer available.
A 12-month CD will renew at the interest rate and APY in effect on the maturity date, except that your renewed CD will not have the no penalty feature. If the term of your maturing CD is no longer available, your CD be renewed at the next greater term.
<sup>6</sup> During the term of a new Step Up CD, the interest rate is fixed for the first ten month period (Months 1-10) and is increased during the second (Months 11-20) and third (Months 21-30) succeeding ten month periods.
<sup>7</sup> The Composite APY is based on the total interest that will be paid from all step rates during the CD term and assumes interest and principal remains on deposit until maturity. A fee will be imposed for early withdrawal.
Upon maturity, the CD will automatically renew for the same term but at the APY and interest rate currently being offered, unless you request a change during the grace period, or the CD rate or term is no longer available.
A 30-month CD will renew at the interest rate and APY in effect on the maturity date, except that your renewed CD will not be a Step Up CD and will not have the step up feature. If the term of your maturing CD is no longer available, the CD may be renewed at the next greater term.

Interest Rates and APY apply to accounts opened through Citi Private Bank for clients with a residence in California and Nevada. Different rates may apply for accounts opened in other states. Fees could reduce earnings.
Product and rate information is accurate as of the date issued and is subject to change at any time. For current interest rates and annual percentage yields, please call 1-800-870-1073. Text telephone users please call 1-800-945-0258.

<sup>2</sup> For Tiered Variable Interest Rate Product, balance tiers are determined by the average daily balance in the account for calendar month prior to when interest is paid. For new accounts, tiers are determined using the average daily balance for the calendar month in which the account is opened, excluding the last day of the month.
<sup>3</sup> Amounts in each balance range can earn a different rate. For Annual Percentage Yield (APY) calculation purposes, a minimum deposit of $500,000 is assumed.
<sup>4</sup> Interest Rates are fixed for the term of the CD. If one Annual Percentage Yield (APY) and one Interest Rate is shown for a CD they apply for all balance tiers. The APY assumes interest remains on deposit until maturity. A fee will be imposed for early withdrawal
<sup>5</sup> You may withdraw your full balance and interest at any time without incurring any penalty fees after the first six (6) calendar days you deposit funds into your new account. Partial withdrawals are not permitted.
Upon maturity, your CD will automatically renew for the same term but at the APY and interest rate currently being offered, unless you request a change during the grace period, or the CD rate or term is no longer available.
A 12-month CD will renew at the interest rate and APY in effect on the maturity date, except that your renewed CD will not have the no penalty feature. If the term of your maturing CD is no longer available, your CD be renewed at the next greater term.
<sup>6</sup> During the term of a new Step Up CD, the interest rate is fixed for the first ten month period (Months 1-10) and is increased during the second (Months 11-20) and third (Months 21-30) succeeding ten month periods.
<sup>7</sup> The Composite APY is based on the total interest that will be paid from all step rates during the CD term and assumes interest and principal remains on deposit until maturity. A fee will be imposed for early withdrawal.
Upon maturity, the CD will automatically renew for the same term but at the APY and interest rate currently being offered, unless you request a change during the grace period, or the CD rate or term is no longer available.
A 30-month CD will renew at the interest rate and APY in effect on the maturity date, except that your renewed CD will not be a Step Up CD and will not have the step up feature. If the term of your maturing CD is no longer available, the CD may be renewed at the next greater term.

Interest Rates and APY apply to accounts opened through Citi Private Bank for clients with a residence outside the states of California, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Illinois, Massachusetts, New Jersey, New York, Nevada, Pennsylvania, Texas, Virginia, or Washington D.C. Different rates may apply for accounts opened in other states. Fees could reduce earnings. Product and rate information is accurate as of the date issued and is subject to change at any time. For current interest rates and annual percentage yields, please call 1-800-870-1073. Text telephone users please call 1-800-945-0258.

<sup>2</sup> For Tiered Variable Interest Rate Product, balance tiers are determined by the average daily balance in the account for calendar month prior to when interest is paid. For new accounts, tiers are determined using the average daily balance for the calendar month in which the account is opened, excluding the last day of the month.
<sup>3</sup> Amounts in each balance range can earn a different rate. For Annual Percentage Yield (APY) calculation purposes, a minimum deposit of $500,000 is assumed.
<sup>4</sup> Interest Rates are fixed for the term of the CD. If one Annual Percentage Yield (APY) and one Interest Rate is shown for a CD they apply for all balance tiers. The APY assumes interest remains on deposit until maturity. A fee will be imposed for early withdrawal
<sup>5</sup> You may withdraw your full balance and interest at any time without incurring any penalty fees after the first six (6) calendar days you deposit funds into your new account. Partial withdrawals are not permitted.
Upon maturity, your CD will automatically renew for the same term but at the APY and interest rate currently being offered, unless you request a change during the grace period, or the CD rate or term is no longer available.
A 12-month CD will renew at the interest rate and APY in effect on the maturity date, except that your renewed CD will not have the no penalty feature. If the term of your maturing CD is no longer available, your CD be renewed at the next greater term.
<sup>6</sup> During the term of a new Step Up CD, the interest rate is fixed for the first ten month period (Months 1-10) and is increased during the second (Months 11-20) and third (Months 21-30) succeeding ten month periods.
<sup>7</sup> The Composite APY is based on the total interest that will be paid from all step rates during the CD term and assumes interest and principal remains on deposit until maturity. A fee will be imposed for early withdrawal.
Upon maturity, the CD will automatically renew for the same term but at the APY and interest rate currently being offered, unless you request a change during the grace period, or the CD rate or term is no longer available.
A 30-month CD will renew at the interest rate and APY in effect on the maturity date, except that your renewed CD will not be a Step Up CD and will not have the step up feature. If the term of your maturing CD is no longer available, the CD may be renewed at the next greater term.
