RE: Comment on CitiBank's Community Reinvestment Act (CRA) Performance

I am submitting this letter to CitiBank's Community Reinvestment Act (CRA) public file for consideration on CitiBank's CRA Performance Evaluation

Fair Lending Concerns

I worked with the National Community Reinvestment Coalition (NCRC) to analyze the lending of CitiBank in Dallas. This is what NCRC found.<sup>1</sup>

- According to the Home Mortgage Disclosure Act (HMDA) data from 2019 to 2020, CitiBank made a total of 1,077 in Dallas County. This data demonstrated that in 2020, 25.34% (273) of all home loans in Dallas went to minorities however only 7.24% (78) of Citibank, N. A's home loans were extended to Blacks (African Americans).
  - Less than 0.8% of the bank's total loans were made in Southern Dallas*.
  - Dallas County, Texas's estimated population is 2,641,680. Of that approximately 606,168 are African Americans.
  - City of Dallas's estimated population is 1,343,573. Of that approximately 322,457 are African Americans.

Gaps in lending to people of color, borrowers with LMI, and small businesses are usually the result of a lack of products that meet particular credit needs, gaps in marketing, or a lack of partnerships.

Low-Income Housing Tax Credit (LIHTC) in the News

The Fair Housing Act, which is part of the Civil Rights Act of 1968, prohibits discrimination in lending to individuals in neighborhoods based on their racial composition. The Fair Housing Act can affect lending in two ways. First, it prohibits discrimination in any aspect of housing. This includes not only mortgages on single family homes, but also loans for acquisition or construction of any kind of dwelling, including apartment buildings and housing developments.

In the Low-Income Housing Tax Credit (“LIHTC”) investment space, banks should comply with the 42 U.S.C. § 3608(d) statutory duty to prevent the perpetuation of racial and ethnic segregation. President Biden’s January 26, 2021, Memorandum on Redressing Our Nation’s and the Federal Government’s History of Discriminatory Housing Practices and Policies explains that federal agencies must administer their programs and activities relating to housing to comply with 42 U.S.C. § 3608(d).

Products available for the Underserved/Minority Communities

Access to affordable credit is a key component of an individual’s ability to cultivate a strong financial position and participate fully in the DFW economy. The Equal Credit Opportunity Act of 1974 was passed to protect all consumers, yet the effects of the discrimination endure today.

Does Citi Bank have a minority business lending program? If not, does either bank have any type of special-purpose credit programs to address disparities in lending?

Staff and Board Diversity

Does Citi Bank have any African Americans/Hispanic on the DFW MSA Leadership Team or Board of Directors? If so, what percentage do they make up?

Dodd-Frank Act Section 342(b)(2)(C)

Did Citi Bank participate in this volunteer self-assessment?

Will Citi Bank focus on expanding its staff diversity to align more closely to the communities they serve and reach 50% gender, race, or ethnic diversity of its middle to executive management levels?

Will Citi Bank compare the information annually against local demographics striving to achieve parity with demographics in all markets?

Will Citi Bank develop or participate in innovative training programs and partnerships to support the hiring of diverse colleagues?

Will Citi Bank make this information publicly available on their website?

- Increase mortgage lending to minorities by 50%
- Increase mortgage lending to African Americans in Southern Dallas by 50%
- Increase mortgage lending to Hispanics/Latinos in Southern Dallas by 50%
- Increase mortgage lending in Low-Income census tracts by 40%
- Increase mortgage lending in Majority Minority Census Tract by 40%

Dear Mr. McGee,

Thank you for your letter, which we will include in Citibank N.A.'s Community Reinvestment Act Public file. We appreciate hearing your perspective.

Mr. McGee it is our understanding that you previously shared with colleagues that you are aware that Citibank does not have a retail branch presence in Texas. Given that the Bank does not have retail presence in Texas, the Bank does not have a CRA assessment area in the state.

Overall CRA Rating

Institution's CRA Rating: This institution is rated Outstanding.

The following table indicates the performance level of Citibank, N.A. (Citibank, CBNA, or bank) with respect to the Lending, Investment, and Service Tests:

Performance Levels	Citibank, N.A. Performance Tests
	Lending Test*	Investment Test	Service Test
Outstanding	X	X
High Satisfactory			X
Low Satisfactory
Needs to Improve Substantial Noncompliance

* The Lending Test is weighted more heavily than the Investment and Service Tests when arriving at an overall rating.

The major factors that support this rating include:

- The Lending Test rating is based on excellent performance in nearly all rating areas. Geographic and borrower distribution ranged from good to excellent in major rating areas. Community development (CD) lending was significant in all rating areas.
- The Investment Test rating is based on excellent performance in all rating areas. The bank is responsive to the needs of its communities. The bank participates in large, complex investments such as Low-Income Housing Tax Credits (LIHTC), New Market Tax Credits (NMTC), and Historical Tax Credits (HTC), and with various partners in public/private partnerships.
- The Service Test rating is based on good performance in the New York Combined Statistical Area (NY CSA), Illinois, Puerto Rico, and South Dakota and excellent performance in all other rating areas. Service delivery systems ranged from good to excellent in major rating areas. The bank was also a leader in providing CD services in most rating areas.

Lending in Assessment Area

An adequate percentage of the bank's loans are in its assessment areas (AA).

The bank originated and purchased 38.9 percent of its total loans inside the bank's AAs during the evaluation period. This analysis is performed at the bank, rather than the AA, level. This percentage does not include extensions of credit by affiliates that may be considered under the other performance criteria. It was noted that the bank engages in business credit card lending that is offered nationwide or outside the bank's traditional footprint, which had the effect of lowering the in/out ratio.

*Represents international and domestic deposits. For CRA performance and capital allocated to AAs, total deposits were adjusted to $224.1 billion.

At the bank's request, examiners considered loans and investments from two subsidiaries. Refer to appendix A for a complete list. The bank and its subsidiaries were not constrained by any legal or financial impediments that would hinder its ability to meet the credit, investment, and service needs of its communities.

Citibank was rated Satisfactory by the OCC at its prior CRA evaluation dated February 5, 2018.

Scope of the Evaluation

Evaluation Period/Products Evaluated

This performance evaluation assesses the bank's CRA performance under the large retail bank Lending, Investment, and Service Tests. The evaluation period is January 1, 2017, to December 31, 2019.

In evaluating the bank's lending performance, examiners reviewed home mortgage loans reported under the Home Mortgage Disclosure Act (HMDA) and small loans to businesses reported under the CRA. The bank did not originate any farm loans in its AAs. Farm lending is not a primary product of the bank.

With an evaluation period end date of December 31, 2019, qualifying activities performed in response to the significant impact of the coronavirus pandemic across the United States are not addressed in this evaluation. Bank qualifying activities will be considered in the subsequent evaluation.

Selection of Areas for Full-Scope Review

In each state where the bank has an office, one or more AAs within that state were selected for a full-scope review. For purposes of this evaluation, bank delineated AAs located within the same metropolitan statistical area (MSA), multistate metropolitan statistical area (MMSA), or combined statistical area (CSA) are combined and evaluated as a single AA. Similarly, bank delineated non-MSA AAs within the same state are combined and evaluated as a single area. These combined AAs may be evaluated as full- or limited-scope. Refer to the "Scope" section under each State Rating section for details regarding how full-scope AAs were selected. Refer to appendix A, Scope of Examination, for a list of full- and limited-scope AAs.

Ratings

The bank's overall rating is a blend of the state ratings, and where applicable, multistate ratings.

The MMSA and state ratings are based on performance in all bank AAs. Refer to the "Scope" section under each State and MMSA Rating section for details regarding how the areas were weighted in arriving at the respective ratings.

Lending Test

For the various loan products considered under the Lending Test, small loans to businesses received greater weight than home mortgage loans in developing conclusions due to a higher volume of small loans to businesses during the evaluation period. In rating areas where there was a significant difference in the weighting, it is noted under the Scope of the Evaluation section.

Throughout all rating areas, as data was available, examiners gave equal emphasis to the geographic and borrower distribution components of the Lending Test.

In analyzing the distribution of home mortgage loans to borrowers of different income levels, examiners considered the impact that poverty levels had on the demand for mortgages from low-income individuals and the affordability or high cost of housing in some markets. The costs associated with financing homeownership have a more significant impact on the opportunity to lend to low-income populations where a larger proportion of the individuals and families fall below the poverty line.

The volume of CD loans and the degree of responsiveness of those loans to the needs in the community were considered in the lending evaluation. CD lending in an AA impacted the Lending Test rating to the extent of opportunities, responsiveness, and performance context. Examiners compared the dollar amount of CD loans to the tier 1 capital allocated to the AAs to gain a common perspective regarding the volume of CD lending activity. Tier 1 capital was allocated to the rating areas and AAs based on the percentage of bank deposits in the AAs. Examiners also considered CD lending by the bank in the broader statewide or regional area (BRSA).

Citibank, through Citibank Community Capital, has the distinction of being the top affordable housing lender in the U.S. in 13 out of the past 14 years according to Affordable Housing Finance magazine. In 2019, the bank reported over $6.6 billion in lending and investing to finance affordable housing, mixed use and commercial development, healthcare, and small business projects across 200 U.S. banks.

Investment Test

Examiners considered the volume of qualified investments made during the current evaluation period and qualified investments that were made prior to the current evaluation period and are still outstanding. The amount of consideration given to the current and prior period investments is based on the responsiveness of the investments to the needs in the AAs.

Examiners compared the dollar amount of qualified investments made in the current evaluation period and prior evaluation periods to the tier 1 capital allocated to the AAs to gain a common perspective regarding the volume of investment activity. Tier 1 capital was allocated to the rating areas and AAs based on the percentage of bank deposits in each AA.

Service Test

Primary consideration is given to the bank's performance in delivering retail products and services to geographies and individuals of different income levels through the bank's distribution of branches. Examiners focused on branches in low- to moderate-income (LMI) geographies, but also considered branches in middle- and upper-income (MUI) geographies that are near LMI geographies and evaluated bank prepared reports on the usage of these branches by LMI households. Alternative delivery systems (ADS), including ATMs, mobile, remote, and internet banking, were given positive consideration after examiner evaluation of the bank provided reports on the use of these systems by LMI households.

Where the bank opened or closed branches within an AA, the overall impact of the changes was evaluated. If no branches were opened or closed in an AA, examiners did not include that performance element in the analysis.

Examiners evaluated the range of services and products offered by all the bank's branches. Services and products offered at branches are consistent throughout the branch network. Examiners specifically focused on differences in branch hours and services in LMI geographies compared to those in MUI geographies. Examiners noted Sunday hours at two branches in the NY CSA.

The bank's record of providing CD services was evaluated in AAs that received full-scope reviews. The primary consideration was the responsiveness of CBNA to the needs of the community. The bank uses two criteria to determine its performance; hours provided per employee and the number of LMI beneficiaries of the individual service. Examiners weighted each criterion equally.

Other Information

AAs – Examiners determined that all AAs consisted of whole geographies and met the requirements of the regulation. The areas reasonably reflected the different trade areas that CBNA's branches service and did not arbitrarily exclude any LMI areas.

Flexible and Innovative Lending Products – The bank offered several CRA affordable mortgage products during the evaluation period. The volume of originations is discussed within the rating areas, where applicable. Some of the more significant products include:

- Home Run – Proprietary first mortgage offering LMI borrowers flexible underwriting terms and no requirement for mortgage insurance. Offered through approved nonprofits providing pre- and post-purchase homeownership counseling services.
- Lender Paid Assistance – CBNA funded closing cost assistance up to $5,000 for first-time homebuyers who received counseling from an approved nonprofit organization.
- Deed Restriction – Mortgage program for properties with deed restrictions, including those that survive foreclosure. Deed restricted properties are a key feature to preserve affordability in many communities.
- Federal Housing Administration (FHA) and Veterans Affairs (VA) Programs – FHA and VA insured loans had more flexible lending criteria than conventional mortgage loans. U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) provided mortgage insurance for FHA loans, enabling the bank to offer additional loan options to borrowers that may not have qualified for a conventional mortgage. The U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs guaranteed the VA loans, which provided protection against losses arising from a borrower default.
- For small businesses, the bank offers loans guaranteed by the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA), including SBA 504, SBA 7a, and SBA Express loans and lines of credit. SBA loans have more flexible terms than conventional loans.

Flexible and Innovative Retail Service Products – The bank offered several retail products and services across its AAs that address the needs of all its customers, including LMI. Some of these include:

- Citibank Basic Savings Account – A bank account with no monthly fee and a low minimum balance requirement available to customers when combined with a financial education program to introduce customers new to banking ways to build savings. These programs, called Financial Empowerment Programs, are offered through Citibank nonprofit partners.

- Citi ATM Community Network – Provides surcharge-free cash withdrawals and account inquiries at Citibank branch ATMs to more than 315,000 customers of 15 participating minority-owned banks and credit unions in Chicago, Los Angeles, Miami, New York, San Francisco, and Washington, D.C.

Discriminatory or Other Illegal Credit Practices Review

Pursuant to 12 CFR 25.28(c) or 195.28(c), respectively, in determining a national bank's or federal savings association's (collectively, bank) CRA rating, the OCC considers evidence of discriminatory or other illegal credit practices in any geography by the bank, or in any assessment area by an affiliate whose loans have been considered as part of the bank's lending performance. As part of this evaluation process, the OCC consults with other federal agencies with responsibility for compliance with the relevant laws and regulations, including the U.S. Department of Justice, the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, and the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau, as applicable.

The OCC found evidence of two violations of the Servicemembers Civil Relief Act (SCRA). In the first violation, the bank completed two foreclosures on active duty customers. Both the bank and the law firm acting for the bank used limited variations of the borrower's name in the Defense Manpower Data Center (DMDC) checks. The bank corrected this violation by rescinding the foreclosure action and the customers retained their homes. A lookback of foreclosures by law firms found no additional name variation issues. Bank procedures now provide for additional name variations in pre-sale DMDC checks.

In the second violation, a law firm acting for the bank filed an inaccurate military affidavit and obtained a default judgement on a borrower whose active duty spouse had dower rights to the mortgaged property. The bank became aware of the inaccurate affidavit through its post-sale review of law firm records. The bank rescinded the foreclosure sale. The law firm conducted additional SCRA training and began requiring attorneys to document their acknowledgment of DMDC search results.

The CRA performance rating was not lowered as a result of these findings. We considered the nature, extent, and strength of the evidence of the practices; the extent to which the institution had policies and procedures in place to prevent the practices; and the extent to which the institution has taken or has committed to take corrective action, including voluntary corrective action resulting from self-assessment; and other relevant information.

The OCC will consider any information that this institution engaged in discriminatory or other illegal credit practices, identified by or provided to the OCC before the end of the institution's next performance evaluation in that subsequent evaluation, even if the information concerns activities that occurred during the evaluation period addressed in this performance evaluation.

Multistate Metropolitan Statistical Area Rating

New York-Newark, NY-NJ-CT-PA CSA (NY CSA)

CRA rating for the NY CSA<sup>1</sup>: Outstanding

The Lending Test is rated: Outstanding

The Investment Test is rated: Outstanding

The Service Test is rated: High Satisfactory

The major factors that support this rating include:

- Lending levels reflect excellent responsiveness to AA credit needs;
- Excellent geographic distribution of loans;
- Good borrower distribution of loans;
- The bank is a leader in making CD loans;
- Excellent level and responsiveness of CD investments;
- Retail service delivery systems are accessible to all portions and individuals of different income levels in the AA and the bank is a leader in providing CD services.

Description of Institution's Operations in NY CSA

Citibank's AA in the NY CSA is comprised of geographies in New York, New Jersey, and Connecticut. The bank conducts operations within three MDs and one MSA: New York-Jersey City-White Plains, NY-NJ MD consisting of Bergen, Hudson, and Passaic counties in NJ and Bronx, Kings, New York, Queens, Richmond, Rockland, and Westchester counties in NY; Nassau County-Suffolk County, NY MD in its entirety; Newark, NJ MD consisting of Essex County in NJ; Bridgeport-Stamford-Norwalk MSA in Connecticut consisting of Fairfield County. The NY CSA represents the largest retail market for the bank in terms of deposits and branches.

Citibank had $116.5 billion in deposits in the CSA, representing 52 percent of its adjusted deposits. The local banking environment is highly competitive, with 169 FDIC-insured institutions operating 4,211 branches. Citibank ranked fourth in deposit market share with 6.8 percent. The top three banks by deposit market share are JPMorgan Chase (33.2 percent), Bank of America (7.3 percent), and BNY Mellon (7.1 percent). In addition to FDIC-insured institutions, this area is served by several credit unions, mortgage lenders and brokers, and money service businesses. Citibank operated 247 branches and 1,221 ATMs in the CSA, representing 35.6 percent of total branches and 52.9 percent of total ATMs.

The CSA poses challenges to home mortgage lenders in the AA, including Citibank. The CSA is a high-cost housing area, limiting access to affordable homeownership among LMI borrowers. The median housing value in the CSA is $489,218 while the National Association of Realtors (NAR) 4Q2019 median sales price of a single-family home is $428,000. One simplistic method used to determine housing affordability assumes a maximum monthly principal and interest payment of no more than 30 percent of the applicant's income.

Assuming a 30-year mortgage with a 5 percent interest rate, and not accounting for down payment, homeowners insurance, real estate taxes, or any additional monthly expenses, a low-income borrower making $44,686 per year (or less than 50 percent of the FFIEC adjusted median family income in the AA) could afford a $161,198 mortgage with a payment of $865 per month; a moderate-income borrower earning $71,498 per year (or less than 80 percent of the FFIEC adjusted median family income in the AA) could afford a $257,918 mortgage with a payment of $1,385 per month.

The poverty level across the AA was considered in the evaluation of lending performance. Families living below the stated poverty rate are identified as having difficulty meeting basic financial needs and as such are less likely to have the financial wherewithal to qualify for a home loan than those with income above poverty. In the NY CSA, the overall household poverty level was 15 percent. However, in low-income geographies, the household poverty level increases to 37 percent and in moderate-income geographies it increases to 22 percent. In MUI geographies, the combined poverty level is just 9 percent.

According to the November 2019 Moody's Analytics report, in the New York-Jersey City-White Plains, NY-NJ MD, the housing market remains stagnant with both single-family and condominium prices remaining stable or decreasing and multifamily building well below its mid-decade peak. As the financial capital of the world, the area has a high per capita income and limited exposure to manufacturing. It has strong international immigration. However, high costs, including taxes, housing, office rents and energy, a rapidly aging infrastructure, and an overreliance on wealthy overseas buyers to support the real estate market, are major challenges. Major industries include education and health services, professional and business services, and government. Major employers in the area include Montefiore Health System, Mount Sinai Health System, JPMorgan Chase, Bank of America, N.A., and New York-Presbyterian Healthcare System.

Community Contacts

A review was conducted of multiple community contacts completed during the examination period with organizations located throughout the area. The organizations contacted focus on areas such as affordable housing, small business development, community services, and policy and research. The contacts noted the need for affordable housing programs, both homeownership and rental housing due to the high-cost areas across the AA. Affordable rental housing is particularly necessary in high-cost metropolitan areas such as New York City, where two-thirds of its residents remain renters. Often these renters experience a high rent burden. Multifamily lending is also a need in these areas, many of which have experienced gentrification during the rating period. For homeowners across the AA, affordable mortgages with down payment assistance and home improvement loans are needed for low- and moderate-income families to purchase and repair homes. Support for seniors is necessary as many areas throughout the AA report a growing senior population. Seniors will need access to various community services as well as low-cost loans to maintain homes. Job training is noted as experienced workers age out of the workforce without enough qualified replacements.

There is an increased need for small businesses, especially for small scale businesses that struggle most to access capital. In the high-cost areas across the AA, it is difficult for businesses to survive due to rising commercial real estate leases and large chains entering the local retail markets. Capacity building for community organizations, including providing access to technical training and leadership development, was noted. Other needs identified include:

- Access to affordable banking products and services including low-cost checking and savings products and credit repair products.
- Access to traditional financial services.
- Financial literacy.
- Financial education for start-up businesses.
- Small dollar mortgage and small business loans.
- Affordable small dollar emergency credit.
- Homebuyer education and counseling.
- Support for youth after-school programs.
- Job training and resources.

Scope of Evaluation in NY CSA

The NY CSA received a full-scope review. Bank delineated MDs and the MSA were combined in evaluating performance under each test. The New York CSA represents one of the bank's most significant markets in terms of lending, deposits, and branch distribution. The performance in the New York CSA was weighted more heavily in determining the bank's overall CRA rating.

CONCLUSIONS WITH RESPECT TO PERFORMANCE TESTS IN NY MMSA

LENDING TEST

The bank's performance under the Lending Test in the NY CSA is rated Outstanding.

Based on a full-scope review, the bank's performance in the NY CSA is excellent.

Lending Activity

Lending levels reflect excellent responsiveness to AA credit needs considering the number and dollar amount of home mortgage, small business, and CD lending activity relative to the bank's capacity based on deposits, competition, and market presence.

Total	21,752,496	896,634	4,107,392	26,756,522

*The tables present the data for all assessment areas. The narrative below addresses performance in full-scope areas only

CBNA ranked fourth in deposits out of 169 insured depository institutions with 6.8 percent market share. In small loans to businesses, CBNA ranked fourth with a market share of 5.5 percent, placing it in the top 1 percent of lenders. This is a very competitive market with 306 small business lenders. The top lenders are nationwide lenders and have significant small business credit card portfolios, and their market shares were American Express (31 percent), JPMorgan Chase (26.7 percent), and Bank of America (6.8 percent). In overall HMDA lending, CBNA ranked fifth with 4.2 percent market share. This placed Citibank in the top 1 percent of lenders. While the HMDA lending market share is slightly lower than the bank's deposit market share, this is a highly competitive market with 807 home mortgage lenders. The top lender in this market was Wells Fargo Bank with 8.9 percent market share.

Distribution of Loans by Income Level of the Geography

The bank exhibits an excellent geographic distribution of loans in its AA.

Home Mortgage Loans

Refer to Table O in the CSA section of appendix D for the facts and data used to evaluate the geographic distribution of the bank's home mortgage loan originations and purchases. Based on the data in the tables and considering the performance context factors discussed above, the overall geographic distribution of home mortgage loans is excellent.

The proportion of loans in LMI geographies exceeded the proportion of owner-occupied homes in those geographies. The proportion of loans in low-income geographies was near to the aggregate distribution of loans while the proportion of loans in moderate-income geographies exceeded the aggregate distribution of loans. Despite the high cost of housing and economic considerations that affect large portions of the CSA, the bank achieved excellent geographic penetration.

Small Loans to Businesses

Refer to Table Q in the CSA section of appendix D for the facts and data used to evaluate the geographic distribution of the bank's originations and purchases of small loans to businesses. Based on the data in the tables and considering the performance context factors discussed above, the overall geographic distribution of small loans to businesses is excellent.

The proportion of loans in LMI geographies exceeded the proportion of businesses located in those geographies and the aggregate distribution of loans. Despite the economic considerations and competition that affect large portions of the CSA, the bank achieved excellent geographic penetration.

Lending Gap Analysis

Examiners reviewed summary reports and maps and analyzed home mortgage and small business lending activity to identify any gaps in the geographic distribution of loans in all full-scope AAs. Examiners did not identify any unexplained conspicuous gaps in any of the areas they reviewed.

Distribution of Loans by Income Level of the Borrower

The bank exhibits a good distribution of loans among individuals of different income levels and businesses of different sizes.

Home Mortgage Loans

Refer to Table P in the CSA section of appendix D for the facts and data used to evaluate the borrower distribution of the bank's home mortgage loan originations and purchases.

The borrower distribution of home mortgage loans is adequate, given performance context considerations. The proportion of loans to low-income borrowers is significantly weaker than the proportion of low-income families within the CSA but was comparable to the aggregate distribution of loans. The proportion of loans to moderate-income borrowers is weaker than the proportion of moderate-income families and equal to the aggregate distribution of loans. Examiners considered that the high housing cost, limited availability of housing that low-income borrowers can afford to acquire, and poverty levels within the AA constrained lending opportunities to low-income borrowers.

Small Loans to Businesses

Refer to Table R in the CSA section of appendix D for the facts and data used to evaluate the borrower distribution of the bank's originations and purchases of small loans to businesses. Based on the data in the tables and considering the performance context factors discussed above, the overall borrower distribution of small loans to businesses is good.

Based on the businesses with known revenues, the bank's percentage of small loans to businesses with revenues of $1 million or less substantially met the percentage of small businesses in the CSA. The bank outperformed and exceeded the aggregate distribution of loans by all lenders by nearly two times.

Community Development Lending

The bank is a leader in making CD loans.

The Lending Activity Tables, shown above, set forth the information and data used to evaluate the institution's level of CD lending. These tables include all CD loans, including multifamily loans that also qualify as CD loans. As noted earlier, CBNA was the leading affordable lender in the U.S. in each year of the evaluation period.

The level of CD lending in the NY CSA is excellent. CD lending had a significantly positive effect on the Lending Test conclusion. The dollar volume equaled 22.3 percent of allocated tier 1 capital.

The following examples demonstrate the bank's use of complex and responsive CD loans:

- $128.7 million construction-loan for a public housing development consisting of 47 buildings and 949 units that is reserved for residents with incomes between 50 and 80 percent of the area median income (AMI). This project is a public-private partnership through the Permanent Affordability Commitment Together (PACT) initiative in collaboration with New York City Housing Authority (NYCHA). PACT is a preservation program to convert public housing units to project-based voucher assisted units with tenants remaining in-place. The development partners conduct the rehab and oversee on-site management for a fee, and NYCHA is relieved of costly operating burdens while maintaining long-term ownership of its public housing assets.
- $27.8 million construction loan and a $26.4 million letter of credit to finance the redevelopment of the historic Bedford Union Armory in Brooklyn, NY. The project will consist of 415-units with 250 units restricted to households with income at or below 60 percent of the AMI. Additionally, 25 units are reserved for formerly homeless households.
- $4.7 million permanent financing for a multi-phase affordable housing project located in Bridgeport, Connecticut. The project consists of 187 units with 157 units restricted to households with income at or below 60 percent of AMI. This project served as relocation housing for existing residents of an obsolete, storm-damaged housing project in the southern point of Bridgeport.

In addition to the CD loans made in the bank's AA, CBNA made 48 CD loans totaling over $900 million in the BRSA that focused primarily on affordable housing. Positive consideration was given to the overall lending test in the rating area.

Product Innovation and Flexibility

The bank makes extensive use of innovative and/or flexible lending practices to serve AA credit needs. CBNA originated 5,387 loans totaling $1.5 billion under its affordable mortgage products programs. In addition to the products offered across all AAs, the bank participated in the Mitchell-Lama Housing Cooperative Program, a program that is designed to meet the needs of LMI homebuyers in New York City. The program offers a fixed-rate mortgage with 95 percent financing and no mortgage insurance on Mitchell-Lama cooperatives. Closing costs associated with the loans are paid by the bank.

INVESTMENT TEST

The bank's performance under the Investment Test in NY CSA is rated Outstanding.

Based on a full-scope review, the bank's performance in the NY CSA is excellent.

The bank has an excellent level of qualified CD investment and grants, often in a leadership position, particularly those that are not routinely provided by private investors.

The bank exhibits excellent responsiveness to credit and community economic development needs. The institution makes extensive use of innovative and/or complex investments to support CD initiatives.

* Prior Period Investments means investments made in a previous evaluation period that are outstanding as of the examination date.

** Unfunded Commitments means legally binding investment commitments that are tracked and recorded by the institution's financial reporting system.

In addition to investments made in the AA, the bank also made 44 prior period investments totaling $205.2 million and 50 current period investments totaling $296.2 million in the BRSA. These investments focused primarily on affordable housing. The investment activity in the BRSA further supports the overall performance of the bank.

The combined prior and current period dollar volume represents 22 percent of allocated tier 1 capital. There are numerous investment opportunities in the NY CSA. The bank's investments and grants addressed the creation and preservation of affordable housing, and economic development and small business needs. Investments included LIHTCs, NMTCs, affordable housing bond purchases, grants, and in-kind donations.

Examples of the bank's qualified investments include:

- $36.9 million LIHTC equity investment to finance the development of a 218-unit affordable housing development. All the units are income restricted to households at or below 80 percent of the AMI. Additionally, 42 units are reserved specifically for residents that have been formerly homeless. The property will also be participating in the FRESH program that promotes the establishment and expansion of grocery stores in underserved communities.

- $20.8 million in an area housing finance agency bond to finance the construction of an 89-unit multifamily project located in a low-income geography. All units are income restricted to households at or below 60 percent of the AMI. Additionally, 27 units are designated for public housing eligible residents. The project is the first phase of a mixed-income residential housing development and will consist of a single, four-story apartment building.
- $450,000 donation of a bank owned property located in a low-income geography that will be developed into affordable housing for LMI persons.

SERVICE TEST

The bank's performance under the Service Test in the NY CSA is rated High Satisfactory.

Based on a full-scope review, the institution's performance in the NY CSA is good.

Retail Banking Services

Service delivery systems are accessible to geographies and individuals of different income levels in the bank's AA, after taking into consideration the adjacency of branches located in MUI geographies.

Distribution of Branch Delivery System
Assessment Area	Deposits	Branches						Population
	% of Rated Area Deposits in AA	# of BANK Branches	% of Rated Area Branches in AA	Location of Branches by Income of Geographies (%)				% of Population within Each Geography
				Low	Mod	Mid	Upp	Low	Mod	Mid	Upp
NY CSA	100	247*	100	8.1	15.0	26.3	49.0	12.7	23.6	30.3	33.1

* Includes four branches in census tracts without an income designation. As a result, the Location of Branches by Income of Geographies will not equal 100 percent.

The proportions of branches in LMI geographies was below the proportions of the LMI populations in those geographies. However, after adjusting for branches in MUI geographies, examiners determined that 10 branches provided additional access to retail banking services in low-income geographies and 36 branches provided additional access to retail banking services in moderate-income geographies. Examiners considered the additional accessibility of these branches in the evaluation, which had a positive effect on the overall service delivery systems conclusion.

The bank had 1,221 bank-owned deposit taking ATMs with 84 (6.9 percent) located in low-income geographies and 203 (16.6 percent) located in moderate-income geographies. In addition to bank-owned ATMs, customers can make cash withdrawals and balance inquiries at more than 2,700 ATMs without fees or surcharges. Digital banking platform usage by LMI households and customers in LMI geographies was comparable to usage by MUI households and customers in MUI geographies. Based on customer usage data for ATMs and other digital banking platforms during the evaluation period, ADS had a positive effect on the overall service delivery systems conclusion.

Distribution of Branch Openings/Closings
Assessment Area	Branch Openings/Closings
	# of Branch Openings	# of Branch Closings	Net change in Location of Branches (+ or -)
			Low	Mod	Mid	Upp
NY CSA	2	12	+1	-3	-4	-4

The bank's opening and closing of branches has not adversely affected the accessibility of its delivery systems, particularly in LMI geographies and/or to LMI individuals. Despite the net closures in moderate-income geographies, the remaining branches were accessible to LMI geographies and individuals. Except for one branch, all closed branches were determined to be underperforming based on teller volume, level of deposits, and/or retail products volume. One branch, located in an upper-income geography, was closed as the lease was expiring and the entire building was being vacated.

Services, including where appropriate, business hours, are tailored to the convenience and needs of the various portions of its AA, particularly LMI geographies and/or individuals. Approximately 88 percent of the branches in LMI geographies were opened for Saturday banking compared with 70 percent of the branches in MUI geographies. Two branches in low-income geographies were opened for Sunday banking, representing the only branches available for Sunday banking throughout the bank's entire branch network.

Community Development Services

The bank is a leader in providing community development services in the AA.

During the evaluation period, 938 employees contributed 9,236 hours in providing 120 community development services primarily targeted to low- and moderate-income individuals. These community development services benefitted 14,533 low- and moderate-income individuals and families. In addition, 61 employees served on the boards or committees of 68 unique non-profit organizations in the AA. The board or committee roles were typically for one-year terms; thus, an employee serving multiple years for the same organization was counted as one unique organization. Employees primarily provided financial literacy, mentoring, and technical assistance. Examples include:

- 340 employees contributed 336 hours during 28 sessions to teach 7,469 students from LMI families the importance of saving money through the Teach Children to Save campaign.
- 37 employees prepared taxes for 1,046 low- and moderate-income tax filers at New York City Free Tax Prep locations in high-need neighborhoods.
- 222 employees contributed 6,190 hours to mentor 190 junior and high school students in schools located primarily in the South Bronx, which consists of mostly LMI geographies.

Description of Institution's Operations in DC MMSA

The bank has delineated two AAs within the DC MMSA. The Washington, DC AA contains the District of Columbia (DC); Prince George's county in Maryland (MD); Arlington and Fairfax counties in Virginia (VA); and the independent cities Alexandria City, Fairfax City, and Falls Church City. The Silver Spring AA consists of Montgomery County in MD.

CBNA had $8.8 billion of deposits in the DC MMSA, representing 3.9 percent of adjusted deposits and ranked eighth with 3.8 percent market share. The top three banks within the MMSA were E-Trade Bank (17.7 percent), Bank of America (15 percent), and Capital One (14.9 percent). Both Bank of America and Capital One have substantially larger branch networks. CBNA operated 32 branches and 80 ATMs within the MMSA, representing 4.6 percent of the bank's branches and 3.5 percent of the bank's ATMs.

The MMSA is a high-cost housing area, limiting access to affordable homeownership among LMI borrowers. The median housing value in the MMSA is $443,810 while the NAR 4Q2019 median sales price of a single-family home is $436,200. One simplistic method used to determine housing affordability assumes a maximum monthly principal and interest payment of no more than 30 percent of the applicant's income.

Assuming a 30-year mortgage with a 5 percent interest rate, and not accounting for down payment, homeowners insurance, real estate taxes, or any additional monthly expenses, a low-income borrower making $58,327 per year (or less than 50 percent of the FFIEC adjusted median family income in the AA) could afford a $210,405 mortgage with a payment of $1,130 per month; a moderate-income borrower earning $93,322 per year (or less than 80 percent of the FFIEC adjusted median family income in the AA) could afford a $336,644 mortgage with a payment of $1,807 per month.

According to Moody's Analytics November 2019, the DC area economy is one of the better performing markets in the Mid- Atlantic. The labor market strengthened in mid-2019, propelling the pace of employment growth ahead of the U.S. average. The first employees have started to work at Amazon's second headquarters, and professional/business services job opportunities are increasing. Federal payrolls have stabilized in the year up to November 2019 after two years of declines. Major employers include Naval Support Activity Washington, Joint Base Andrews-Naval Air Facility, MedStar Health, Marriott International, and Inova Health System.

Federal spending for fiscal 2020 and 2021 should benefit DC but appropriations remain uncertain. Federal employment in DC has stopped declining and is expected to rise through 2021. The new budget agreement provides an additional $40 billion in spending over the next two fiscal years, which will support the local economy. However, until Congress appropriates this funding, neither federal agencies nor contractors in the area can act. Congress has only passed stopgap measures to keep the government funded at existing levels. Given the concentration of federal government, the metro division is uniquely sensitive to federal spending. The continued use of stopgap measures will limit job growth for public- and private-sector workers, and indirectly hurt private services and housing.

Lean inventories and improvement in sales will continue to put upward pressure on house prices at the expense of affordability. Fundamentals are mostly supportive for home sales, including past declines in mortgage rates, a strong local labor market, and an influx of tech workers.

Community Contacts

To understand the credit and community development needs in the area, examiners reviewed two recent contacts with community-based organizations focusing on affordable housing and economic development. The organizations noted a need for affordable housing, the ability to refinance commercial loans, and financial literacy.

Scope of Evaluation in DC MMSA

The two AAs within the DC MMSA were combined in evaluating performance under each test.

The borrower distribution of home mortgage loans is excellent. The proportion of loans to low-income borrowers was weaker than the proportion of low-income families within the MMSA and significantly exceeded the aggregate distribution of loans. The proportion of loans to moderate-income borrowers exceeded the proportion of moderate-income families and the aggregate distribution of loans.

Community Development Lending

The bank is a leader in making CD loans.

The Lending Activity Tables, shown above, set forth the information and data used to evaluate the bank's level of CD lending. These tables include all CD loans, including multifamily loans that also qualify as CD loans. The dollar volume equaled 55.9 percent of allocated tier 1 capital.

The bank took a leadership role in originating CD loans that were responsive to the identified needs of the DC MMSA and were also complex and flexible, including many LIHTC projects and HUD contracts. Examples include:

- $25.5 million in permanent financing for a 199-unit multifamily property of affordable housing in Montgomery County, MD that was awarded LIHTCs. All units are income restricted to households with income levels at or below 30 percent and 60 percent of the AMI.
- $12.5 million construction loan for an 80-unit affordable housing development restricted to seniors in Washington, DC that was awarded LIHTCs. All units are income restricted to households with income levels at or below 30 or 60 percent of AMI.
- $11.2 million for the construction of a 71-unit multifamily development of affordable housing in Washington, DC that was awarded LIHTCs and is covered by a Section 8 Housing Assistance Payment (HAP) contract. All units are restricted to households with income levels at or below 60 percent of the AMI. Additionally, 18 units will be reserved for Permanent Supportive Housing to the DC Department of Behavioral Health.

In addition to the CD loans made in the bank's AA, CBNA made 20 CD loans totaling $247.6 million in the BRSA that focused primarily on affordable housing. Positive consideration was given to the overall lending test in the rating area.

Product Innovation and Flexibility

The bank makes use of innovative and/or flexible lending practices to serve AA credit needs. CBNA originated 1,593 loans totaling $467 million under its affordable mortgage products programs. The Lender Paid Assistance and Neighborhood Assistance Corporation of America (NACA) programs accounted for the large majority (76.8 percent) of affordable mortgage products originated in the AA during the evaluation period.

* Prior Period Investments means investments made in a previous evaluation period that are outstanding as of the examination date.

The combined prior and current period dollar volume represents 22.1 percent of allocated tier 1 capital. The bank's investments and grants were very effective and responsive in meeting community credit needs including the creation and preservation of affordable housing, support for workforce development initiatives, and support for financial capacity building programs. Investment activity includes NMTCs, HTC's, and grants and donations.

In addition to investments made in its AA, the bank also made 11 prior period investments totaling $31.5 million and 24 current period investments totaling $85.3 million in the BRSA consisting of MD and VA.

Examples of the bank's qualified investments include:

- $15.3 million in an affordable housing fund for the acquisition and rehabilitation of a 304-unit multifamily apartment complex located in a moderate-income geography in Prince George's County. Substantially all the units are restricted to households at or below 80 percent of the AMI.
- $18.8 million in a proprietary HTC fund to finance a project located in a moderate-income geography in DC that will provide a broad range of pediatric health care services. The project will retain 30 full-time jobs and create 55 new jobs, 31 of which will be accessible to LMI persons in the surrounding LMI communities.
- $500,000 charitable donation to establish financial empowerment centers and the formation of a regional coalition of Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA) sites in DC, VA, and MD.

SERVICE TEST

The institution's performance under the Service Test in the DC MMSA is rated Outstanding.

Based on a full-scope review, the bank's performance in the DC MMSA is excellent.

Retail Banking Services

Service delivery systems are readily accessible to geographies and individuals of different income levels in the bank's AAs.

Distribution of Branch Delivery System

* Includes one branch in a census tract without an income designation. As a result, the Location of Branches by Income of Geographies will not equal 100 percent.

The overall distribution of branches by income level of the geography is excellent. The distribution of branches is good in low-income geographies and excellent in moderate-income geographies. The proportion of branches in low-income geographies was below the proportion of the population in low-income geographies and the proportion of branches in moderate-income geographies exceeded the proportion of the population in moderate-income geographies. Additionally, examiners considered seven branches in MUI that provided additional access to retail banking services in LMI geographies. Of the seven branches, one branch provided additional access to retail banking services in a low-income geography and the remaining six branches provided additional access to retail banking services in moderate-income geographies, which had a positive effect on the overall service delivery systems conclusion.

The bank had 80 bank-owned deposit taking ATMs with 29 ATMs (36.3 percent) located in LMI geographies. In addition to bank-owned ATMs, customers can make cash withdrawals and balance inquiries at more than 1,300 ATMs without fees or surcharges. Digital banking platform usage by LMI households and customers in LMI geographies were comparable to usage by MUI households and customers in MUI geographies. Based on customer usage data for ATMs and other digital banking platforms during the evaluation period, ADS had a positive effect on the overall service delivery systems conclusion.

The bank's opening and closing of branches has not adversely affected the accessibility of its delivery systems, particularly in LMI geographies and/or to LMI individuals. The two branches closed were financially underperforming based on teller volume, level of branch deposits, and/or retail products volume. Additionally, one of the leases was expiring and the bank chose not to renew.

Services, including where appropriate, business hours, do not vary in a way that inconveniences its AAs, particularly LMI geographies and/or individuals. Branch operating hours were generally consistent throughout the AA. Approximately 36 percent of the branches in LMI geographies were opened for Saturday banking compared with 53 percent of the branches in MUI geographies. Most of the branches in LMI geographies were in the downtown DC area, where several businesses are closed on the weekend.

Community Development Services

The bank provides an adequate level of CD services.

During the evaluation period, 145 employees contributed 175 hours in providing 48 community development services primarily targeted to LMI individuals. These community development services benefitted 2,294 LMI individuals and families. In addition, seven employees served on the boards of 10 non-profit organizations in the AA. Employees primarily provided financial literacy, mentoring, and technical assistance. Examples include:

- 82 employees taught 1,646 elementary school children from LMI families about the importance of saving money through the Teach Children to Save campaign.
- 37 mortgage employees educated 479 LMI first-time homebuyers about the mortgage process, focusing on items that lenders look to be in place before issuing a loan approval, such as credit, income, assets, and collateral.

Description of Institution's Operations in California

CBNA delineated 19 AAs within California and includes the following MDs or MSAs: Anaheim-Santa Ana-Irvine MD; Bakersfield MSA; Fresno MSA; Hanford-Corcoran MSA; Los Angeles-Long Beach-Anaheim MD; Merced MSA; Modesto MSA; Napa MSA; Oakland-Berkeley-Livermore MD; Oxnard-Thousand Oaks-Ventura MSA; Riverside-San Bernardino-Ontario MSA; Sacramento-Roseville-Folsom MSA (excludes El Dorado, Placer, and Yolo Counties); San Diego-Chula Vista-Carlsbad MSA; San Francisco-San Mateo-Redwood City MD; San Jose-Sunnyvale-Santa Clara (excludes San Benito County); San Rafael MD; Santa Cruz-Watsonville MSA; Santa Rosa-Petaluma MSA; and Stockton MSA. For this evaluation, examiners combined the MSAs/MDs comprising the Los Angeles CSA (LA CSA) and San Jose-San Francisco CSA (SF CSA) as applicable, reducing the number of AAs in California to six.

California represents the second largest market by deposits for CBNA. CBNA had $55.7 billion of deposits in California and ranked sixth with 3.8 percent market share. There are $16 million of deposits within the SF CSA that are mortgage escrow accounts of the bank's affiliate, CitiMortgage. These deposits do not represent traditional retail deposits from customers. The deposits within California (excluding the escrow accounts) represent 25.1 percent of the bank's adjusted deposits. The top three banks within California were Bank of America (21.3 percent), Wells Fargo Bank (17.6 percent), and JPMorgan Chase (10.8 percent). Those banks have substantially larger branch networks. CBNA operated 290 branches and 584 ATMs within California, representing 41.8 percent of the bank's branches and 25.3 percent of the bank's ATMs.

Both the LA CSA and SF CSA are very high-cost housing areas, limiting access to affordable homeownership among LMI borrowers. The median housing value of a single-family home in the LA CSA was $449,452 and in the SF CSA was $582,938. The NAR 4Q2019 median sales price is $617,300 for the LA CSA and $990,000 for the SF CSA. One simplistic method used to determine housing affordability assumes a maximum monthly principal and interest payment of no more than 30 percent of the applicant's income.

In the LA CSA, assuming a 30-year mortgage with a 5 percent interest rate, and not accounting for down payment, homeowners insurance, real estate taxes, or any additional monthly expenses, a low-income borrower making $38,584 per year (or less than 50 percent of the FFIEC adjusted median family income in the MSA) could afford a $139,186 mortgage with a payment of $747 per month; a moderate-income borrower earning $61,726 per year (or less than 80 percent of the FFIEC adjusted median family income in the AA) could afford a $222,696 mortgage with a payment of $1,195 per month.

Using the same assumptions for the SF CSA, a low-income borrower making $56,114 per year (or less than 50 percent of the FFIEC adjusted median family income in the MSA) could afford a $202,422 mortgage with a payment of $1,086 per month; a moderate-income borrower earning $89,790 per year (or less than 80 percent of the FFIEC adjusted median family income in the AA) could afford a $323,903 mortgage with a payment of $1,738 per month.

Demographic data also reflects a low percentage of owner-occupied housing in LMI geographies compared to the population distribution in those areas.

According to Moody's Analytics November 2019, the Los Angeles economy is performing well. Job growth is steady at a slower pace that is on par with the nation but ranks in the bottom quartile among the 25 largest areas in the nation. Healthcare is contributing the most to job growth, followed by construction and business/professional services. The labor market is tight, and at 4.4 percent the jobless rate is at a historic low. Difficulty finding labor is driving up wages and pressuring profits. Labor shortages and higher material costs are limiting new residential construction. Major employers include University of California Los Angeles, Kaiser Permanente, University of Southern California, and Northrop Grumman Corporation.

Trade tensions are starting to ease, but the U.S.-China trade conflict will continue have a potential negative impact on major seaports in the short term. Cargo volumes moving through the Ports of Los Angeles and Long Beach are down from a year ago. The pair are among the nation's largest sea-ports and are the most exposed to the Chinese market. The announcement of a U.S.-China Phase One trade deal, which forestalls the imposition of new tariffs and retaliatory actions, signals a shift in a policy that will ease geopolitical tensions.

The outlook for the entertainment industry is uncertain. According to Film LA, shoot days are down for feature films, television, and commercials. Los Angeles is losing out to North Carolina, Michigan, Georgia, Louisiana, and others who have spent millions to attract film productions. Feature films are also becoming less frequent, and the pay-TV industry is losing customers amid changing viewer preferences and the rise of streaming services.

Since the 2007-2009 recession, unemployment rates have fallen both nationally and in the SF CSA, but since 2012, San Francisco's rate of recovery has outpaced the national rate. In October 2010, the San Francisco unemployment rate peaked at 10 percent. It then experienced a positive employment boost due to growing jobs in the professional, business service, and computer systems design service sectors between 2012 and 2016. Consequently, the unemployment rate dropped to 3.8 percent in December 2016 and continued to fall to 2.6 percent in December 2019.

The local economy is driven by the information/technology and financial services sectors. There are eighteen Fortune 500 companies with corporate headquarters in the San Francisco area, including: McKesson, Wells Fargo, Facebook, Oracle, and Alphabet. The AA remains the national leader in venture capital funding, both in terms of deals and dollars.

The SF CSA consistently had a higher median sales price for single-family homes than for both the Western Region and the U.S. throughout the evaluation period. Low unemployment is driving income growth; however, the high cost of living has outpaced the growth in salaries, reducing the standard of living even for high income earners. The economic success in the region and fierce competition for housing close to employment centers results in longer commutes for LMI residents and has pushed homeownership out of reach for many households.

Community Contacts

In the LA CSA, examiners reviewed four recent community contacts to determine community credit needs and opportunities for financial institutions to help address these needs. The contacts included two housing organizations and two economic development organizations. The contacts identified affordable housing and access to capital for business as critical needs. Opportunities for banks to address the needs include:

- More loans and investments as the lending gap is being filled by more expensive nonbank lenders.
- Partnering with Community Development Financial Institutions (CDFIs) to penetrate business lending markets and more small business lending particularly to startup businesses and businesses with less than two years business history.
- More commercial real estate loans and microloans for working capital, tenant improvements, and equipment financing.
- Partnering with and/or provide financial support to community-based organizations involved in new transportation and commercial corridors.
- Leverage investments/debt with Qualified Opportunity Zones funds and promote investment in these funds by wealth clients.
- Affordable mortgages with competitive rates and down payment assistance or low-down payment with no purchased mortgage insurance.
- Affordable credit building products, including second-chance loans and small consumer loans.
- Credit counseling and financial literacy, and affordable streamlined mortgage loans.
- Follow-up/individualized services for attendees of homebuyer workshops and pairing attendee with homebuying opportunities.
- Grants and financial support to CD nonprofits, job skills training, financial literacy, and micro-loans for small businesses.
- No-cost checking and savings products for unbanked/underbanked individuals.
- Support of, and partnership with CD organizations, including those that work to address homelessness and poverty.

In the SF CSA, examiners reviewed three recent community contacts to determine community credit needs and opportunities for financial institutions to help address these needs. In addition, the OCC and the FDIC hosted a listening session with a number of community groups and advocates in 2017 to discuss current economic trends, community development challenges, the needs of their LMI clients, and potential opportunities for banks to engage in CD activities. The contacts identified affordable housing and access to capital for businesses as critical needs. Opportunities for banks to address the needs include:

- Small dollar loans for small businesses ($500 - $50,000) and funding for Micro lending programs.
- Small business loans including term loans and lines of credit for small businesses needing working capital, including “mom and pop” shops and bodegas, as well as for property improvements and expansion.
- Partnering with nonprofits to address capital constraints and provide additional access to capital to vital neighborhood businesses.
- Flexible branch hours and low-cost products tailored to low-income individuals and people that work multiple jobs or veterans.
- Product-oriented educational outreach and banking education to inform the unbanked and underbanked community that banks are safe.
- Formal referral partnerships to refer non-qualifying applicants to nonprofits to help secure funding and help prevent lending from predatory sources.
- Grants and loan capital to nonprofit organizations for operating costs, financing programs, and investment and grants targeted to social service needs and education. Examples include grants for operations, loan loss reserves, small businesses, foreclosure prevention, financial education, and technical assistance.
- Customized financial literacy events for unique community needs, such as for refugees, small businesses, and consumers, by partnering with nonprofit organizations
- Multiple Down Payment Assistance (DPA) programs since most DPA programs, alone, do not provide sufficient down payment funds for a median priced home in the San Francisco Bay Area.

Scope of Evaluation in California

The LA CSA and SF CSA received full-scope reviews. The two areas accounted for the largest portion of lending and deposits among the AAs in California. The MSAs/MDs comprising each of these CSAs were combined for evaluating performance for each test, reducing the effective number of AAs to six. The LA MSA was given more weight based on the volume of loans and deposits in each of the AAs. The remaining four AAs received limited-scope reviews.

CONCLUSIONS WITH RESPECT TO PERFORMANCE TESTS IN CALIFORNIA

LENDING TEST

The bank’s performance under the Lending Test in California is rated Outstanding.

Conclusions for Areas Receiving Full-Scope Reviews

Based on full-scope reviews, the bank’s performance in the LA CSA and SF CSA is excellent.

Lending Activity

Lending levels reflect excellent responsiveness to AA credit needs considering the number and dollar amount of home mortgage, small business, and CD lending activities relative to CBNA's capacity based on deposits, competition, and market presence.

*The tables present the data for all assessment areas. The narrative below addresses performance in full-scope areas only.

LA CSA

CBNA had $26.9 billion in deposits and ranked seventh with 4.1 percent market share. There are 278 small business lenders in the AA. In small loans to businesses, CBNA ranked fourth with 10.3 percent market share placing it in the top 2 percent of lenders. The other top lenders include nationwide lenders with substantial small business credit card portfolios and their market shares were American Express (22.4 percent), JPMorgan Chase (20.9 percent), and Bank of America (13.3 percent). In overall HMDA lending, CBNA ranked 15th with 1.4 percent market share placing it in the top 2 percent of lenders. The CSA is a very competitive market with 991 home mortgage lenders compared to 267 depository institutions. The other top lenders in this market were United Shore Financial Service (8.1 percent), Wells Fargo (6.3 percent), and Quicken Loans (6.1 percent).

SF CSA

CBNA had $25.2 billion in deposits and ranked seventh with 4.3 percent market share. There are 211 small business lenders in the AA. In small loans to businesses, CBNA ranked fifth with market share of 8 percent placing it in the top 3 percent of lenders. The other top lenders include nationwide lenders with substantial small business credit card portfolios and their market shares were JPMorgan Chase (26 percent), American Express (17.7 percent), and Bank of America (12.7 percent). In overall HMDA lending, CBNA ranked eighth with 2.2 percent market share placing it in the top 1 percent of lenders. While the home mortgage lending market share is lower than the bank's deposit market share, this is a highly competitive market with 826 home mortgage lenders. The top three lenders in this market were Wells Fargo (11.3 percent), Bank of America (7.3 percent), and Quicken Loans (6.6 percent).

Distribution of Loans by Income Level of the Geography

The bank exhibits an excellent geographic distribution of loans in its AAs.

Home Mortgage Loans

Refer to Table O in the state of California section of appendix D for the facts and data used to evaluate the geographic distribution of the bank's home mortgage loan originations and purchases. Based on the data in the tables and considering the performance context factors discussed above, the overall geographic distribution of home mortgage loans is excellent.

LA CSA and SF CSA

In both the LA CSA and the SF CSA, the proportion of loans in both LMI geographies exceeded the proportion of owner-occupied homes in those geographies and the aggregate distribution of loans. Despite the high cost of housing and economic considerations that affect large portions of the CSAs, the bank achieved excellent geographic penetration.

Small Loans to Businesses

Refer to Table Q in the state of California section of appendix D for the facts and data used to evaluate the geographic distribution of the bank's originations and purchases of small loans to businesses. Based on the data in the tables and considering the performance context factors discussed above, the overall geographic distribution of small loans to businesses is excellent.

LA CSA

The proportion of loans in LMI geographies exceeded the proportion of businesses located in those geographies and the aggregate distribution of loans. Despite the economic considerations and competition that affect large portions of the CSA, the bank achieved excellent geographic penetration.

SF CSA

The proportion of loans in low-income geographies was near to the proportion of businesses located in those geographies and the aggregate distribution of loans. The proportion of loans in moderate-income geographies exceeded the proportion of businesses located in those geographies and the aggregate distribution of loans. Despite the economic considerations and competition that affect large portions of the CSA, the bank achieved good geographic penetration.

Lending Gap Analysis

Examiners reviewed summary reports and maps and analyzed home mortgage and small business lending activity to identify any gaps in the geographic distribution of loans in all full-scope AAs. Examiners did not identify any unexplained conspicuous gaps in any of the areas they reviewed.

Distribution of Loans by Income Level of the Borrower

The bank exhibits a good distribution of loans among individuals of different income levels and businesses of different sizes.

Home Mortgage Loans

Refer to Table P in the state of California section of appendix D for the facts and data used to evaluate the borrower distribution of the bank's home mortgage loan originations and purchases.

The borrower distribution of home mortgage loans was good, given performance context consideration. Examiners considered the very high housing cost, the limited availability of housing that low-income borrowers can afford to acquire, and poverty levels within the AA that constrained the lending opportunities to LMI borrowers

Due to these factors in the LA CSA, the proportion of loans was significantly weaker than the proportion of low-income families. However, the bank exceeded the aggregate distribution of loans by nearly two times. The proportion of loans to moderate-income borrowers was weaker than the proportion of moderate-income families but significantly exceeded the aggregate distribution of loans.

In the SF CSA, the proportion of loans to low-income borrowers was significantly weaker than the proportion of low-income families within the AA. The proportion of loans to moderate-income borrowers was weaker than the proportion of moderate-income families within the AA. However, the proportion of loans to LMI borrowers exceeded the aggregate distribution of loans.

Small Loans to Businesses

Refer to Table R in the state of California section of appendix D for the facts and data used to evaluate the borrower distribution of the bank's origination and purchase of small loans to businesses.

The borrower distribution of small loans to businesses was good.

In both the LA CSA and the SF CSA, the proportion of loans to small businesses was near to the percentage of small businesses in the AA. However, the bank outperformed and significantly exceeded the aggregate distribution of loans by all lenders.

Community Development Lending

The bank is a leader in making CD loans.

CD lending had a significantly positive impact on the overall Lending Test of the rating area

LA CSA

The bank took a leadership role in originating CD loans that were responsive to the identified needs of the LA CSA including affordable housing and were also complex and flexible in using LIHTCs and HUD rental contracts. Examples include:

- $17.5 million construction loan and $1.7 million in permanent financing for 74 units of affordable multifamily rentals reserved for homeless seniors 62 years old and up in Los Angeles County, CA. The project was awarded LIHTCs and is covered by a Section 8 HAP contract. All units are restricted to households with income levels at or below 30 or 50 percent of the AMI.
- $15.3 million construction loan for 33 units of affordable housing in Los Angeles County, CA that was awarded LIHTCs and is covered by a Section 8 HAP contract. All units are restricted to households with income levels at or below 30, 50, or 60 percent of the AMI. Additionally, 16 of the units are set aside for homeless veterans with special needs.

SF CSA

- $28.8 million to finance the acquisition and renovation of a 92-unit affordable housing complex in San Francisco County, CA that was awarded LIHTCs and is covered by a Section 8 HAP contract. All units are restricted to households with income levels at or below 50 or 60 percent of the AMI.

In the LA and SF CSA, CBNA originated 6,652 loans totaling $2.1 billion under its affordable mortgage products programs. The Lender Paid Assistance program accounted for the large majority (88.6 percent) of affordable mortgage products originated in the CSAs during the evaluation period.

LA CSA

The overall distribution of branches is excellent. The distribution is good in low-income geographies and excellent in moderate-income geographies. The proportion of branches in low-income geographies was near to the proportion of the population in low-income geographies and the proportion of branches in moderate-income geographies exceeded the proportion of the population in moderate-income geographies. Additionally, examiners determined that 37 branches in MUI geographies provided additional access to retail banking services in LMI geographies. Of the 37 branches, four branches provided additional access to retail banking services in low-income geographies and the remaining 33 branches provided additional access to retail banking services in moderate-income geographies. Examiners considered the additional accessibility of these branches in the evaluation, which had a positive effect on the overall service delivery systems conclusion.

The bank had 308 bank-owned deposit taking ATMs with 27 (8.9 percent) located in low-income geographies and 91 (29.5 percent) located in moderate-income geographies. In addition to bank-owned ATMs, customers can make cash withdrawals and balance inquiries at more than 3,100 ATMs without fees or surcharges. Digital banking platform usage by LMI households and customers in LMI geographies were comparable to usage by MUI households and customers in MUI geographies. Based on customer usage data for ATMs and other digital banking platforms during the evaluation period, ADS had a positive effect on the overall service delivery systems conclusion.

The bank's opening and closing of branches has not adversely affected the accessibility of its delivery systems, particularly in LMI geographies and/or to LMI individuals. Despite the net closures in moderate-income geographies, the remaining branches were readily accessible to LMI income geographies and individuals. Most of the branches closed were determined to be underperforming based on teller volume, level of branch deposits, and/or retail products volume. Other branches were overlapping nearby branches and offered the bank the opportunity to consolidate those branches.

Services, including where appropriate, business hours, do not vary in a way that inconveniences its assessment areas, particularly low- and moderate-income geographies and/or individuals. Branch operating hours were consistent throughout the AA. Approximately 70 percent of the branches in LMI geographies were opened for Saturday banking compared with 66 percent of the branches in MUI geographies.

SF CSA

The overall distribution of branches is excellent. The distribution is excellent in low-income geographies and good in moderate-income geographies. The proportion of branches in low-income geographies exceeded the proportion of the population in low-income geographies and the proportion of branches in moderate-income geographies was near to the proportion of the population in moderate-income geographies. Additionally, examiners determined that 35 branches in MUI geographies provided additional access to retail banking services in LMI geographies. Examiners considered the additional accessibility of these branches, which had a positive effect on the overall service delivery systems conclusion.

The bank had 205 bank-owned deposit taking ATMs with 29 (14.1 percent) located in low-income geographies and 38 (18.5 percent) located in moderate-income geographies. In addition to bank-owned ATMs, customers can make cash withdrawals and balance inquiries at nearly 1,500 ATMs without fees or surcharges. Digital banking platform usage by LMI households and customers in LMI geographies were comparable to usage by MUI households and customers in MUI geographies. Based on customer usage data for ATMs and other digital banking platforms during the evaluation period, ADS had a positive effect on the overall service delivery systems conclusion.

The bank's opening and closing of branches has not adversely affected the accessibility of its delivery systems, particularly in LMI geographies and/or to LMI individuals. Despite the net closures in moderate-income geographies, the remaining branches were readily accessible to LMI geographies and individuals. Most of the branches closed were determined to be underperforming based on teller volume, level of branch deposits, and/or retail products volume.

Services, including where appropriate, business hours, do not vary in a way that inconveniences its assessment areas, particularly LMI geographies and/or individuals. Branch operating hours were consistent throughout the AA. Approximately 68 percent of the branches in LMI geographies were opened for Saturday banking compared with 62 percent of the branches in MUI geographies.

Community Development Services

The bank provides an adequate level of CD services.

LA CSA

During the evaluation period, 285 employees contributed 596 hours in providing 64 community development services primarily targeted to LMI individuals. These community development services benefitted 5,816 LMI individuals and families. In addition, 16 employees served on the boards or committees of 20 non-profit organizations in the AA. Employees primarily provided financial literacy, mentoring, and technical assistance. Examples include:

- 157 employees taught 2,155 elementary school children from LMI families about the importance of saving money through the Teach Children to Save campaign.
- 58 employees contributed 168 hours to provide 39 homebuyer education workshops or seminars that benefitted 1,541 LMI individuals.

SF CSA

During the evaluation period, 282 employees contributed 518 hours in providing 63 community development services primarily targeted to LMI individuals. These community development services benefitted 4,215 LMI individuals and families. In addition, seven employees served on the boards or committees of nine non-profit organizations in the AA. Employees primarily provided financial literacy, mentoring, and technical assistance. Examples include:

- 111 employees taught 1,989 elementary school children from LMI families about the importance of saving money through the Teach Children to Save campaign.
- 12 employees provided 13 homebuyer education workshops that benefitted 958 LMI individuals.

Conclusions for Areas Receiving Limited-Scope Reviews

Based on limited-scope reviews, the bank's performance under the Service Test in the Fresno CSA is consistent with the bank's overall excellent performance under the Service Test in the full-scope areas. The bank's performance under the Service Test in the Bakersfield, Sacramento, and San Diego MSAs is weaker than the bank's performance under the Service Test in the full-scope areas. Performance is weaker due to a weaker distribution of branches in LMI geographies. The weaker performance did not adversely affect the Service Test rating for the state of California.

Description of Institution's Operations in Florida

CBNA has delineated four AAs in the state of Florida. These include the three MDs that make up the Miami-Fort Lauderdale-Pompano Beach MSA. The bank has also delineated Duval County (Jacksonville AA) within the Jacksonville MSA.

The bank had $18 billion of deposits in the state and ranked eighth with 3 percent market share. The deposits represent 8 percent of the bank's adjusted deposits. The top three banks were Bank of America (19.2 percent), Wells Fargo (13.1 percent), and SunTrust Bank (8 percent), each with substantially larger branch networks. CBNA operated 53 branches and 142 ATMs within Florida, representing 7.6 percent of the bank's branches and 6.2 percent of the bank's ATMs.

The Miami AA is a high cost housing area, limiting access to affordable homeownership among LMI borrowers. The median housing value is $227,861 while the NAR 4Q2019 median sales price of a single-family home is $368,500. One simplistic method used to determine housing affordability assumes a maximum monthly principal and interest payment of no more than 30 percent of the applicant's income.

Assuming a 30-year mortgage with a 5 percent interest rate, and not accounting for down payment, homeowners insurance, real estate taxes, or any additional monthly expenses, a low-income borrower making $32,327 per year (or less than 50 percent of the FFIEC adjusted median family income in the AA) could afford a $116,614 mortgage with a payment of $626 per month; a moderate-income borrower earning $51,722 per year (or less than 80 percent of the FFIEC adjusted median family income in the AA) could afford a $186,579 mortgage with a payment of $1,002 per month.

The poverty level across the AA was considered in the evaluation of lending performance. Families living below the stated poverty rate are identified as having difficulty meeting basic financial needs and as such are less likely to have the financial wherewithal to qualify for a home loan than those with income above poverty. In the Miami MSA, the overall household poverty level was 16 percent. However, in low-income geographies, the household poverty level increases to 40 percent and in moderate-income geographies it increases to 24 percent. In MUI geographies, the combined poverty level is just 11 percent.

According to Moody's Analytics November 2019, the Great Recession had a lasting impact on Miami's economy. At the height of the previous expansion 12 years ago, average hourly wages in the Miami MSA were $1.70 above the U.S. average. Wages fell below the national average during the recession, and the gap between the local and national average has widened ever since. Today, the average hourly wage is $4.30 less than the national level among major metro areas with more than one million residents. Construction jobs are set to grow twice as fast as the national average, and some of this new employment can be traced to activity at Port Miami, the world's busiest harbor for passenger ships. Over the next three years, cruise lines will build four separate terminals and two corporate offices at the port at a total cost of more than $1.5 billion.

Major employers in the AA include University of Miami, Jackson Health System, Publix Super Markets, Baptist Health Systems of Southern Florida, and American Airlines.

The Miami MSA is transitioning into a sanctuary for affluent retirees and wealthy expatriates. Miami has the second-highest level of income inequality among major metro areas, behind New York City. Since the wealthy in Miami sustain their lifestyle with nonwage income, the area's gross domestic product has increased even as wage growth has stalled. But a looming domestic downturn and global slowdown will reduce corporate profits and stock market returns over the next couple of years. This shock will be hardest felt in the wealthy enclaves flanking the central business district and in Miami Beach, but it will impact the entire metro division.

Community Contacts

To understand the credit and community development needs in the area, examiners reviewed two recent contacts with community-based organizations; one is a CDFI targeting affordable housing/homeownership and one targets economic development. The organizations noted a need for affordable housing, home purchase financing and refinancing, startup entrepreneurial financing, and financial literacy.

Scope of Evaluation in Florida

The Miami MSA received a full-scope review. This area accounted for nearly all the deposits, branches, and lending activity in the state. The three MDs making up the MSA were combined for evaluating performance for each test, reducing the effective number of AAs to two. The Jacksonville AA received a limited-scope review.

CONCLUSIONS WITH RESPECT TO PERFORMANCE TESTS IN FLORIDA

LENDING TEST

The bank's performance under the Lending Test in Florida is rated Outstanding.

Conclusions for Area Receiving a Full-Scope Review

Based on a full-scope review, the bank's performance in the Miami MSA is excellent.

Lending Activity

Lending levels reflect excellent responsiveness to AA credit needs considering the number and dollar amount of home mortgage, small business, and CD lending activities relative to CBNA's capacity based on deposits, competition, and market presence.

*The tables present the data for all assessment areas. The narrative below addresses performance in full-scope areas only.

The bank ranked fourth in deposits with a 7.5 percent market share. In small loans to businesses, the bank also ranked fourth with 7.1 percent market share placing it in the top 2 percent of all lenders. This is a very competitive market with 226 small business lenders compared to 116 depository institutions. The top three lenders (and their market share) were nationwide lenders with substantial small business credit card portfolios and include American Express (27.8 percent), JPMorgan Chase (15.6 percent), and Bank of America (15.4 percent). In overall HMDA lending, the bank ranked 25th with 0.86 percent market share placing it in the top 3 percent of all lenders. In the AA, there is strong competition for home mortgage lending with 1,025 home mortgage lenders in the market. The top lenders were Wells Fargo (6.6 percent), United Shore Financial Services (6.1 percent), and Quicken Loans (5.2 percent).

Distribution of Loans by Income Level of the Geography

The bank exhibits an excellent geographic distribution of loans in its AA, relative to area demographics and aggregate lending data.

Home Mortgage Loans

Refer to Table O in the state of Florida section of appendix D for the facts and data used to evaluate the geographic distribution of the bank's home mortgage loan originations and purchases.

The proportion of loans in both LMI geographies exceeded the proportion of owner-occupied homes in those geographies and the aggregate distribution of loans. Despite the high cost of housing and economic considerations, the bank achieved excellent geographic penetration.

Small Loans to Businesses

Refer to Table Q in the state of Florida section of appendix D for the facts and data used to evaluate the geographic distribution of the bank's originations and purchases of small loans to businesses.

The geographic distribution of the bank's small loans to businesses was excellent. The proportion of loans in low-income geographies was near to the percentage of businesses located in those geographies and the aggregate distribution of loans. The proportion of loans in moderate-income geographies exceeded the proportion of businesses located in those geographies and the aggregate distribution of loans.

Lending Gap Analysis

Examiners reviewed summary reports and maps and analyzed home mortgage and small business lending activity to identify any gaps in the geographic distribution of loans in all full-scope AAs. Examiners did not identify any unexplained conspicuous gaps in any of the areas they reviewed.

Distribution of Loans by Income Level of the Borrower

The bank exhibits a good distribution of loans among individuals of different income levels and businesses of different sizes.

Home Mortgage Loans

Refer to Table P in the state of Florida section of appendix D for the facts and data used to evaluate the borrower distribution of the bank's home mortgage loan originations and purchases.

The borrower distribution of home mortgage loans is good, given performance context consideration. Examiners considered that the high housing cost, limited availability of housing that low-income borrowers can afford to acquire, and poverty levels within the AA constrained lending opportunities to low-income borrowers.

The proportion of loans to low-income borrowers was significantly weaker than the proportion of low-income families within the AA. However, the bank exceeded the aggregate distribution of loans. The proportion of loans to moderate-income borrowers was weaker than the proportion of moderate-income families and exceeded the aggregate distribution of loans.

Small Loans to Businesses

Refer to Table R in the state of Florida section of appendix D for the facts and data used to evaluate the borrower distribution of the bank's origination and purchase of small loans to businesses.

The borrower distribution of small loans to businesses is good. The proportion of loans to small businesses is near to the percentage of small businesses in the AA and significantly exceeded the aggregate distribution of loans.

Community Development Lending

The bank is a leader in making CD loans.

The Lending Activity Table, shown above, set forth the information and data used to evaluate the bank's level of CD lending. These tables include all CD loans, including multifamily loans that also qualify as CD loans. The dollar volume in the Miami MSA equaled 26.7 percent of allocated tier 1 capital.

CD lending had a significantly positive impact on the Lending Test of the rating area.

The bank took a leadership role in originating CD loans that were responsive to the identified needs of the Miami MSA and were also complex. Examples include:

- $50 million acquisition and renovation of a 196-unit multifamily project in Miami-Dade County. The project was done in partnership with the Housing Finance Authority of Miami-Dade. The project, located in a low-income geography, received extensive damage from Hurricane Irma in 2017. The units are restricted to households with income levels at or below 60 percent of AMI.
- $29 million to finance the renovation of a 252 unit two-property project located in Miami-Dade County that was awarded LIHTCs and is covered by a Section 8 HAP contract. All units are restricted to households with income levels at or below 60 percent of the AMI.
- $16.5 million to finance the acquisition and recapitalization of a 176-unit complex located in Miami-Dade County and was awarded LIHTCs. This was a partnership with the Housing Finance Authority of Miami-Dade County and all the units are restricted to households with income levels at or below 60 percent of the AMI.

In addition to the CD loans made in the bank's AAs, CBNA originated 20 loans totaling $158.7 million in the BRSA. These loans primarily addressed affordable housing and economic development within the state of Florida and were given positive consideration to the overall lending test conclusions in the rating area.

Product Innovation and Flexibility

The bank makes extensive use of innovative and/or flexible lending practices to serve AA credit needs. The bank's investments and grants were very effective and responsive in meeting community credit needs, including affordable housing and small business development. Investment activity includes LIHTCs and various grants and donations.

Examples of the bank's qualified investments include:

- $24 million LIHTC investment to support the development of a 120-unit, senior living facility in Broward County. The project was 20 years in the making as part of the redevelopment of the South Dixie Highway corridor. All units are restricted to households with income levels at or below 60 percent of the AMI. Additionally, six of the units are reserved for persons with special needs.
- $12.9 million investment in a proprietary fund to facilitate the development of a 125-unit property in Palm Beach County. The project was awarded LIHTCs and is covered by a Section 8 HAP contract. All units are restricted to households with income levels at or below 80 percent of the AMI.
- $600,000 donation to a non-profit kitchen incubator and accelerator to scale up food businesses owned by LMI and minority entrepreneurs. The program fills a long-standing gap in South Florida's economic development landscape by leveraging existing commercial kitchen space and providing entrepreneurs with technical assistance and access to markets. The bank's donation provided seed funding.

In addition to investments made in its AAs, the bank also made 11 prior period investments totaling $126.3 million and 12 current period investments totaling $36.8 million in the BSRA consisting of the state of Florida. The current period investment activity primarily addressed affordable housing and economic development and further supports the overall Investment Test conclusion for the rating area.

Service delivery systems are readily accessible to geographies and individuals of different income levels in the bank's AA after taking into consideration the adjacency of branches located in MUI geographies.

Distribution of Branch Delivery System
Assessment Area	Deposits	Branches						Population
	% of Rated Area Deposits in AA	# of BANK Branches	% of Rated Area Branches in AA	Location of Branches by Income of Geographies (%)				% of Population within Each Geography

*One branch is in a geography without an income designation.

The overall distribution of branches by income level of the geography is excellent when considering the accessibility of branches located in MUI that are near to LMI geographies. The distribution is adequate in low-income geographies and good in moderate-income geographies. The proportion of branches in low-income geographies was below the proportion of the population in low-income geographies. The proportion of branches in moderate-income geographies was near to the proportion of the population in moderate-income geographies. Within the AA, examiners determined that 19 branches in MUI geographies provided additional access to retail banking services in LMI geographies. Of the 19 branches, three branches provided additional access to retail banking services in low-income geographies and the remaining 16 branches provided additional access to retail banking services in moderate-income geographies. Examiners considered the additional accessibility of these adjacent branches, which had a positive effect on the overall service delivery systems conclusion.

Examiners also considered the bank's ADS, including ATMs and digital banking platforms in evaluating accessibility to the bank's products and services. The bank had 142 bank-owned deposit taking ATMs with five (3.5 percent) located in low-income geographies and 38 ATMs (26.8 percent) located in moderate-income geographies. In addition to bank-owned ATMs, customers can make cash withdrawals and balance inquiries at 890 ATMs without fees or surcharges. Digital banking platform usage by LMI households and customers in LMI geographies were comparable to usage by MUI households and customers in MUI geographies. Based on customer usage data for ATMs and other digital banking platforms during the evaluation period, ADS had a positive effect on the overall service delivery systems conclusion.

Distribution of Branch Openings/Closings
	Branch Openings/Closings
Assessment Area	# of Branch Openings	# of Branch Closings	Net change in Location of Branches (+ or -)
			Low	Moderate	Middle	Upper
Miami MSA	2*	2	0	+1	0	-2

*Includes one branch opened in a geography without an income designation.

The bank's opening and closing of branches has improved the accessibility of its delivery systems, particularly in LMI geographies and/or to LMI individuals.

Services, including where appropriate, business hours, do not vary in a way that inconveniences its assessment areas, particularly LMI geographies and/or individuals. Branch operating hours were consistent throughout the AA. Approximately 53 percent of the branches in LMI geographies were opened for Saturday banking compared with 51 percent of the branches in MUI geographies.

Community Development Services

Citibank provides an adequate level of community development services in the Miami MSA.

During the evaluation period, 202 employees contributed 171 hours in providing 37 community development services primarily targeted to LMI individuals. These community development services benefitted 3,181 LMI individuals and families. In addition, seven employees served on the boards or committees of nine non-profit organizations in the AA. Employees primarily provided financial literacy, mentoring, and technical assistance. Examples include:

- 133 Citibank employees taught 1,741 elementary school children from LMI families about the importance of saving money through the Teach Children to Save campaign.
- In collaboration with local and national community development organizations, 30 employees provided homebuyer education to 833 LMI individuals through 23 workshops and seminars.

Conclusions for Areas Receiving Limited-Scope Reviews

Based on a limited-scope review, the bank's performance under the Service Test in the Jacksonville AA is weaker than the bank's overall performance under the Service Test in the full-scope area. Weaker performance is based on the geographic distribution of the bank's one branch in proportion to the population. The weaker performance did not adversely impact the Service Test rating in the state.

Description of Institution's Operations in Illinois

CBNA delineated three AAs to include Cook, DuPage, Kendall, McHenry, and Will counties within the Chicago-Naperville-Arlington Heights MD; Kane County within the Elgin MD; and Lake County within the Lake County-Kenosha County MD. All counties of the AA are within the state of Illinois and are part of the larger multistate Chicago-Naperville-Elgin IL-IN-WI MSA. For the evaluation, all counties were combined into one AA.

CBNA held $14.2 billion in deposits in Illinois, ranked ninth with 2.8 percent market share, and represented 6 percent of the bank's adjusted deposits. The top three banks within the state were JPMorgan Chase (17.5 percent), BMO Harris Bank (12.6 percent), and Bank of America (7.2 percent). All three banks have substantially larger branch networks. CBNA operated 61 branches and 255 ATMs representing 8.8 percent of total branches and 11.1 percent of ATMs.

Chicago is an important financial center in the U.S. and in the world; a large transportation, logistics, and warehousing center; a major tourist destination; and has a growing high-tech sector. Chicago also is an important center of higher education, with many leading universities. Information from Moody's Analytics indicated the Chicago MSA had a well-diversified economy. Key sectors of the economy based on percentage of total employment included Professional and Business Services, Education and Health Services, Government, and Leisure and Hospitality Services. Major employers in the AA included Advocate Health Care System, the University of Chicago, Abbott Laboratories, JPMorgan Chase, and Northwestern Memorial Healthcare.

According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, the annual average unemployment rate in the Chicago MSA AA was 4.8 percent in 2017, 4.0 percent in 2018, and 3.8 percent in 2019. This was consistent with the overall Illinois state unemployment rates of 4.9 percent, 4.3 percent, and 4.0 percent, respectively.

Job-rich areas are found in the north and west suburbs, which are included in the Chicago AA. Fewer jobs are found in LMI communities, particularly in areas of the City of Chicago south and west of downtown, and in some southern suburbs. Several initiatives in the region, to which banks have provided loans, investments, and services, address this disparate concentration of employment by increasing the number of businesses and jobs in LMI communities, improving the skills of LMI residents, encouraging investments in affordable housing near public transportation facilities, and providing affordable and employer-assisted housing proximate to job centers.

The region continued to be impacted by state and local budgetary pressures, along with above average crime rates, which had an impact on population growth. The area experienced a worse than expected outflow of population over the evaluation period, which negatively impacted job growth. Illinois continues to experience a high level of foreclosures, with the third highest level among the 50 states. Two of the top five counties for foreclosures in Illinois were in the Chicago MSA. In addition, although home values had rebounded in recent years overall, many areas continued to see home values struggling to bounce back, specifically homes located in low- and moderate-income geographies. A study by a local university showed the home values in geographic areas south of downtown Chicago, which had a higher percentage of properties in LMI geographies, were struggling the most. As a result, refinance and home equity loan opportunities were still limited for these areas where property values are still “underwater.”

Community Contacts

To understand the credit and community development needs in the area examiners reviewed two community contacts made during the evaluation period. The organizations included a community loan fund and the public housing authority. The organizations noted a need for affordable housing throughout the AA and commercial retail property in LMI neighborhoods.

Scope of Evaluation in Illinois

The geographic distribution of home mortgage loans is excellent. The proportion of loans in LMI geographies exceeded the proportion of owner-occupied homes in those geographies and the aggregate distribution of loans. The low-level of owner-occupied housing and high percentage of vacant units in low-income geographies were considered in our conclusion.

Small Loans to Businesses

Examiners considered housing costs in relation to the median family incomes in the AA, which limited the affordability for low-income families. The proportion of loans to low-income borrowers is weaker than the proportion of low-income families within the AA and exceeded the aggregate distribution of loans. The proportion of loans to moderate-income borrowers exceeded both the proportion of moderate-income families and the aggregate distribution of loans.

Small Loans to Businesses

Refer to Table R in the state of Illinois section of appendix D for the facts and data used to evaluate the borrower distribution of the bank's origination and purchase of small loans to businesses.

The borrower distribution of small loans to businesses was excellent. The proportion of loans is near to the proportion of small businesses and significantly exceeded aggregate distribution of loans.

Community Development Lending

The bank is a leader in making CD loans.

The Lending Activity Tables, shown above, set forth the information and data used to evaluate the bank's level of CD lending. These tables include all CD loans, including multifamily loans that also qualify as CD loans. The dollar volume equaled 49.2 percent of allocated tier 1 capital.

CD lending had a significantly positive impact on the overall Lending Test of the rating area.

The bank took a leadership role in originating CD loans that were responsive to the identified needs of the Chicago MSA and were also complex and flexible. Most of the loans addressed affordable housing. Examples include:

- $12.5 million construction loan to build 88 units of affordable housing in Chicago that was awarded LIHTCs utilizing the HUD Rental Assistance Demonstration program with the Chicago Housing Authority. The apartments are covered by a Section 8 HAP. All units are restricted to households with income levels at or below 60 percent of the AMI.

In addition to investments made in its assessment area, the bank also made two prior period investments totaling $10.2 million and five current period investments totaling $9.8 million in the BSRA consisting of the state of Illinois. Four of the five current period investments addressed affordable housing.

The combined prior and current period dollar volume represents 18.2 percent of tier 1 capital allocated to the AA. There are numerous investment opportunities in the Chicago MSA. - $1.8 million investment in a proprietary HTC fund to provide the equity needed to finance the rehabilitation of an arts center located in a low-income geography in Aurora. When completed, the center will provide a performing arts school, a restaurant, and 42 apartments. Almost all the apartments will be restricted to households at 60 percent of AMI. The center will also provide 89 permanent full-time employment jobs with most to LMI individuals.
- $1.7 million NMTC investment to assist in bringing a much-needed medical care facility to Chicago's South Side, which is home to some of the city's most impoverished neighborhoods. The area has not had an adult trauma care facility since a nearby hospital closed in 1991. The project will create 126 permanent positions, 82 of which are expected to be held by LMI individuals.
- $100,000 donation to support the development of a land trust that will acquire, rehabilitate, and place foreclosed and/or blighted homes back on the market at affordable prices. The land trust will hold a 99-year lease on the land and codify restrictions on the sale of the homes to ensure the homes will remain affordable in perpetuity.

According to Moody's Analytics November 2019, the Las Vegas MSA was maintaining its job growth level over the U.S. average, but job growth has dipped below the West Region's (West) average. However, unlike many metro areas in the West, a near-comprehensive count of payrolls suggests that the Las Vegas MSA has fared better in 2019 than sample data indicates. The leisure/hospitality industry added positions at a solid pace, while other private services lagged. Job growth in professional/business services cooled after a strong run in 2018, while healthcare hiring was at its slowest rate in a decade. Construction continued to outperform. The jobless rate has held steady at 4.3 percent even as the labor force climbs. A tighter labor market pushed up average hourly earnings, but home prices barely moved. A rebound in residential building helped to mitigate supply constraints and tempered price pressures.

Tourism is a key driver of the local economy, but slower growth in national consumer spending next year will cause net hiring in leisure/hospitality to decelerate. Still, healthy tourism indicators coupled with new projects on the Las Vegas Strip will send job growth above the U.S. and West averages by mid-2020.

Healthcare's southern Nevada footprint will expand even as job growth returns to a more sustainable pace. New hospital expansions are being considered to meet growing demand as more baby boomers reach retirement age. Robust population growth, especially among those age 65 and older, will preserve above-average job gains.

After rising at one of the fastest paces among metro areas last year, home price appreciation recently dipped below the U.S. average. Inventory has improved, but a four-month supply of homes for sale is still well below the six-month supply in a balanced market. Many potential homebuyers were priced out of the market last year as house prices rose twice as fast as incomes. An increase in construction of more affordable homes and multifamily units will support home sales over the near term. As housing starts trend higher, house price appreciation will continue to decelerate through 2022.

Community Contacts

To understand the credit and community development needs in the area, two community based organizations including a social services agency and a non-profit housing counselor/affordable housing developer were contacted by another bank regulatory agency. CD needs identified within the AA include affordable housing, loan programs with closing costs assistance, and primary and behavioral health care in underserved communities.

In addition to investments made in its AA, the bank also made one current period investment totaling $10.5 million in the BSRA consisting of the state of Nevada. This investment addressed the need of affordable housing.

Examples of the bank's qualified investments include:

- $5 million investment in a NMTC fund to finance the construction of a newly established college preparatory institution to educate underserved at-risk youth in Clark County. The institution will serve over 400 high school students.
- $5 million general obligation building bond for Clark County. The proceeds will be used to finance the acquisition, construction, improvement, and equipment of school facilities. Sixty four percent of students in the school district qualify for free or reduced lunch under the National School Lunch Program.
- $150,000 donation to help establish a financial wellness center. The center serves vulnerable families with one or more risk factors including housing instability, underemployment or unemployment, and issues negatively impacting work performance. Counselors at the center work with participants to identify barriers to financial stability, develop action plans for increased financial health, and connect with community resources to achieve financial goals.
- $50,000 donation to a local non-profit organization to help launch a pilot program to assist low-income residents at risk of eviction. ### Description of Institution's Operations in Puerto Rico

CBNA has delineated one AA within Puerto Rico consisting of the San Juan-Bayamon-Caguas MSA (San Juan MSA) in its entirety. The bank operated one branch in the MSA. CBNA had $21.3 billion of deposits in Puerto Rico with $17.6 billion of these deposits being International Banking Entity (IBE) deposits. IBE deposits can only come from nonresidents of Puerto Rico and whose primary location is located outside of the commonwealth. Adjusting deposits for IBE results in AA deposits of $3.7 billion representing 1.7 percent of adjusted deposits. CBNA ranked second in market share for deposits at 28.6 percent, when including IBE deposits. Primary competitors are Banco Popular de Puerto Rico (45.5 percent) and FirstBank (8.6 percent).

According to Moody's Analytics September 2019, job growth in Puerto Rico has slowed to very low levels. Goods producers and professional services, which led the recovery from Hurricane Maria early on, have not added to payrolls. Retail is declining, but a second wind in healthcare and leisure/hospitality has compensated for retail's weakness. Average hourly earnings are rising faster than on the rest of the island.

Stimulus from disaster relief will cool this year but will pick up thereafter. Until now, disaster relief has largely taken the form of debris removal, private insurance payments, and Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) Individual Assistance to those with uncovered losses. Nearly 70 percent of federal funds obligated to the MSA for debris removal has been disbursed. This has been good or logistics, which seems to be one of the few industries still benefiting from disaster relief this year.

Funding for debris removal will wind down, as will private insurance payouts and FEMA Individual Assistance. The Individual Assistance program has approved $420 per capita in the MSA, the highest among Puerto Rico's three largest metro areas. Waning stimulus from private insurers and Individual Assistance has likely contributed to the cooldown in construction and private services hiring. Fortunately, this will be temporary. About $1.5 billion in Community Development Block Grants will land in Puerto Rico, which will lead to a flurry of housing repairs and homebuilding. Further, only a quarter of FEMA Public Assistance funds, obligated to San Juan for the reconstruction of roads and bridges, as well as buildings and equipment, has been disbursed; the rest will come on-line over the medium term. The combination of these block grants and FEMA Public Assistance program outlays will ramp up into 2023 and is expected to deliver another boost to construction and certain private services.

Uncertainty over the creditability of the Act 154 foreign corporation excise tax will negatively impact the area the most. The metro area has the island's largest concentration of life sciences corporations, many of which have been claiming tax credits against Act 154 since 2011. An exodus of U.S.-based corporations is unlikely since they have incurred sunk costs in the MSA. However, it caps the upside potential to future big-ticket corporate investments in the area.

Community Contacts

OCC and NY Federal Reserve Bank representatives met with several community organizations during the evaluation period. Following Hurricanes Maria and Irma in 2017, the island was severely impacted. Many residents were displaced, and services disrupted. There is a severe shortage of affordable housing, a need for disaster relief, and a need for job creation and economic revitalization.

Scope of Evaluation in Puerto Rico

The San Juan AA received a full-scope review. CBNA does not offer retail services within Puerto Rico. The branch operated like a wholesale bank and management focused its efforts on CD lending, investments, and services. The volume of home mortgages was all buybacks/repurchases from government sponsored mortgage enterprises (GSE). These are HMDA reportable and were not considered in our evaluation of the Lending Test. Lending performance included small loans to businesses and CD lending.

CONCLUSIONS WITH RESPECT TO PERFORMANCE TESTS IN PUERTO RICO

Conclusions for Area Receiving a Full-Scope Review

Based on a full-scope review, the bank's performance in the San Juan AA is good.

Lending Activity

Lending levels reflect excellent responsiveness to AA credit needs.

Number of Loans

Dollar Volume of Loans
Assessment Area	Home Mortgage	Small Business	Community Development	Total
San Juan MSA	8,179	14,704	63,026	85,909

The FDIC deposit market share of 28.6 percent in the San Juan MSA is inflated for CBNA due to the IBE deposits housed in Puerto Rico. CBNA ranked third among 38 small business lenders with 11.2 percent market share. Banco Popular led the market with 46.8 percent followed by American Express with 20.5 percent. For CBNA, the average loan size was $4,000 compared to $83,000 for Banco Popular and $14,000 for American Express.

Distribution of Loans by Income Level of the Geography

The bank exhibits an adequate geographic distribution of loans in its AA.

The proportion of loans in low-income geographies was significantly weaker than the proportion of businesses located in those geographies and below the aggregate distribution of loans. The portion of loans in moderate-income geographies was near to the percentage of businesses located in those geographies and exceeded the aggregate distribution of loans. Economic conditions resulting from the impact of two natural disasters (hurricanes) were considered in the evaluation.

The Lending Activity Tables, shown above, set forth the information and data used to evaluate the bank's level of CD lending. These tables include all CD loans, including multifamily loans that also qualify as CD loans. The dollar volume equaled 14 percent of allocated tier 1 capital.

The bank took a leadership role in originating CD loans that were responsive to the identified needs of the San Juan MSA and were also complex and/or flexible. One example includes:

- $45.9 million construction loan for the development of 200 units of affordable housing in Caguas Municipio, PR that was awarded LIHTCs and is covered by a Section 8 HAP contract. All units are restricted to seniors with income levels at or below 60 percent of the AMI.

Conclusions for Area Receiving a Full-Scope Review

Based on a full-scope review, the bank's performance in the San Juan AA is excellent.

The bank has an excellent level of qualified CD investments and grants, often in a leadership position, particularly those that are not routinely provided by private investors.

The bank exhibits excellent responsiveness to credit and community economic development needs. The bank makes extensive use of innovative and/or complex investments to support CD initiatives.

The combined prior and current period dollar volume represents 14.7 percent of allocated tier 1 capital. The bank's investments and grants were effective and responsive in meeting community credit needs, including affordable housing and community revitalization and stabilization. While current period investment activity consists of donations, it is noted that the substantial majority of the bank's prior period investment activity occurred in late 2016 and consisted of complex investments that still have a very significant impact in the AA. In addition to investments made in the AA, the bank made two current period investments totaling $300,000 in the BSRA consisting of the commonwealth of Puerto Rico which addressed hurricane disaster relief.

Examples of the institution's qualified investments include:

- $150,000 donation to an area foundation to assist three HUD-approved housing counseling organizations serving LMI residents of Puerto Rico. The organizations provided homeownership, rental, and financial capability counseling along with foreclosure prevention classes.
- $252,500 donation to a community land trust. The land trust provides for permanent and secure housing for LMI residents living in informal settlements in San Juan, secures land tenure for eligible LMI families, and supported the establishment of a strategy to effectively manage these properties.

SERVICE TEST

The bank's performance under the Service Test in Puerto Rico is rated High Satisfactory

Conclusions for Area Receiving a Full-Scope Review

Based on a full-scope review, the bank's performance in the San Juan MSA is good.

Retail Banking Services

The branch does not provide retail banking services and operates more like a wholesale banking office. Examiners gave primary consideration to the bank's CD services because the bank's business model is consistent with the provision of CD services.

The bank provided a relatively high level of CD services, given performance context consideration.

During the evaluation period, 15 employees contributed 22 hours in providing three community development services primarily targeted to LMI individuals. ### Description of Institution's Operations in South Dakota

CBNA has delineated one AA within the state of South Dakota consisting of the Sioux Falls MSA in its entirety. Sioux Falls is also the location of the bank's main office. Nearly all the deposits are non-branch/"main office" deposits. Main office deposits do not reflect traditional retail customer relationships, rather they are wholesale funds. The main office deposits do not reflect where any of CBNA's customers are located, where they work, or where they conduct business. The adjusted deposits of the Sioux Falls AA are $18 million. Wells Fargo, whose main office is also located in Sioux Falls, had a market share of 53 percent, and operated 13 branches. Other banks within the state were MetaBank and First Premier. CBNA operates one branch within the AA.

According to Moody's Analytics October 2019, Sioux Falls job growth is outpacing that of both the state and the nation, driven by rapid hiring in healthcare. Gains are broad-based, with most industries adding to headcounts. The impressive pace of hiring has allowed the labor market to absorb numerous new entrants, keeping the unemployment rate low at 2.6 percent. Low unemployment is in turn spurring above-average wage growth. Major employers in the area include Sanford Health, Avera Health, Smithfield Foods (formerly John Morrell & Co.), Hy-Vee Inc., and Wells Fargo. Population additions and a healthy labor market have pushed up housing demand, and prices are rising faster than they are nationally.

Healthy demographics will be the key factor extending the MSA's expansion. Population growth in 2018 ranked in the top 30 of metro areas nationally, and labor force gains over the last year up to October 2019 have been faster than in all but six metro areas. Rapid population growth will also provide a strong source of healthcare demand. Healthcare is closely linked to population. The proportion of residents age 65 and older, the largest users of healthcare, is lower than it is nationally but is growing more quickly. Due to a low state and local tax burden, seniors can stretch their fixed incomes further, providing an incentive to relocate to the Sioux Falls MSA. This will allow rapid gains in the 65-plus cohort to continue. Healthcare is already the top-performing industry in the MSA, with net hiring over the last year faster than in any other Midwest metro area.

Contractors will benefit from both the growing population and the expansion in healthcare. Hospitals will provide a significant source of demand for construction companies into next year. On the residential side, population growth will continue to push up housing demand. As of October 2019, housing permit issuance has been subdued. However, the residential vacancy rate remains about 2 percentage points lower than the national average. New-home construction will have to pick up to keep the housing market adequately supplied. Home price appreciation is rapid, which will encourage builders to enter the market. Growing demand combined with the currently constrained supply will allow homebuilders to keep pace with nonresidential construction.

The organizations included a local economic development agency and the local farm service agency. The representatives stated the need for affordable housing, credit and resources for small businesses, financial education, and job creation for LMI individuals.

All units are restricted to households with income levels at or below 60 percent of the AMI.

Conclusions for Area Receiving a Full-Scope Review

Based on a full-scope review, the bank's performance in the Sioux Falls MSA is good.

Retail Banking Services

Service delivery systems are accessible to geographies and individuals of different income levels in the bank's AA.

Distribution of Branch Delivery System
Assessment Area	Deposits	Branches						Population
	% of Rated Area Deposits in AA	# of BANK Branches	% of Rated Area Branches in AA	Location of Branches by Income of Geographies (%)				% of Population within Each Geography

The overall distribution of branches is good, considering performance context. Citibank has only one branch in the AA. In September 2019 (last three months of the evaluation period), the bank relocated its corporate office, which included the branch, from a moderate-income geography to a new corporate office campus located in an upper-income geography. There was no option for the branch to remain in its former location. For most of the evaluation period, this branch was accessible to individuals and businesses throughout the AA. After the relocation, the branch was not adjacent to or within walking distance of any moderate-income geographies.

The bank did not open or close any branches in the AA during the evaluation period.

Services, including where appropriate, business hours, do not vary in a way that inconveniences the various portions of its AA, particularly LMI geographies and/or individuals. The branch is only open for weekday banking.

Community Development Services

The bank is a leader in providing CD services.

Affiliate: Any company that controls, is controlled by, or is under common control with another company. A company is under common control with another company if the same company directly or indirectly controls both companies. For example, a bank subsidiary is controlled by the bank and is, therefore, an affiliate.

Census Tract (CT): A small, relatively permanent statistical subdivision of a county delineated by a local committee of census data users for the purpose of presenting data. Census tracts nest within counties, and their boundaries normally follow visible features, but may follow legal geography boundaries and other non-visible features in some instances, Census tracts ideally contain about 4,000 people and 1,600 housing units.

Combined Statistical Area (CSA): A geographic entity consisting of two or more adjacent Core Based Statistical Areas with employment interchange measures of at least 15. An employment interchange measure is a measure of ties between two adjacent entities. The employment interchange measure is the sum of the percentage of workers living in the smaller entity who work in the larger entity and the percentage of employment in the smaller entity that is accounted for by workers who reside in the larger entity.

Community Reinvestment Act (CRA): The statute that requires the OCC to evaluate a bank's record of meeting the credit needs of its entire community, including LMI areas, consistent with the safe and sound operation of the bank, and to take this record into account when evaluating certain corporate applications filed by the bank.

Families are classified by type as either a married-couple family or other family, which is further classified into ‘male householder’ (a family with a male householder and no wife present) or ‘female householder’ (a family with a female householder and no husband present).

Full-Scope Review: Performance under the Lending, Investment, and Service Tests is analyzed considering performance context, quantitative factors (e.g., geographic distribution, borrower distribution, and total number and dollar amount of investments), and qualitative factors (e.g., innovativeness, complexity, and responsiveness).

Geography: A census tract delineated by the United States Bureau of the Census in the most recent decennial census.

Home Mortgage Disclosure Act (HMDA): The statute that requires certain mortgage lenders that conduct business or have banking offices in a metropolitan statistical area to file annual summary reports of their mortgage lending activity. ## Appendix D: Tables of Performance Data

Content of Standardized Tables

A separate set of tables is provided for each state. All multistate metropolitan statistical areas, if applicable, are presented in one set of tables. References to the “bank” include activities of any affiliates that the bank provided for consideration (refer to appendix A: Scope of the Examination). For purposes of reviewing the Lending Test tables, the following are applicable: (1) purchased loans are treated the same as originations; and (2) “aggregate” is the percentage of the aggregate number of reportable loans originated and purchased by all HMDA or CRA reporting lenders in the MMSA/assessment area. Deposit data are compiled by the FDIC and are available as of June 30th of each year. Tables without data are not included in this PE.

The following is a listing and brief description of the tables included in each set:

- Table O. Assessment Area Distribution of Home Mortgage Loans by Income Category of the Geography - Compares the percentage distribution of the number of loans originated and purchased by the bank in low-, moderate-, middle-, and upper-income geographies to the percentage distribution of owner-occupied housing units throughout those geographies. The table also presents aggregate peer data for the years the data is available.
- Table P. Assessment Area Distribution of Home Mortgage Loans by Income Category of the Borrower - Compares the percentage distribution of the number of loans originated and purchased by the bank to low-, moderate-, middle-, and upper-income borrowers to the percentage distribution of families by income level in each MMSA/assessment area. The table also presents aggregate peer data for the years the data is available.
- Table Q. Assessment Area Distribution of Loans to Small Businesses by Income Category of the Geography - The percentage distribution of the number of small loans (less than or equal to $1 million) to businesses that were originated and purchased by the bank in low-, moderate-, middle-, and upper-income geographies compared to the percentage distribution of businesses (regardless of revenue size) in those geographies. Because aggregate small business data are not available for geographic areas smaller than counties, it may be necessary to compare bank loan data to aggregate data from geographic areas larger than the bank’s assessment area.
- Table R. Assessment Area Distribution of Loans to Small Businesses by Gross Annual Revenue - Compares the percentage distribution of the number of small loans (loans less than or equal to $1 million) originated and purchased by the bank to businesses with revenues of $1 million or less to: 1) the percentage distribution of businesses with revenues of greater than $1 million; and, 2) the percentage distribution of businesses for which revenues are not available. The table also presents aggregate peer small business data for the years the data is available.

U.S. Markets

Effective September 7, 2023

Welcome to Citibank and thank you for choosing us for your banking needs.

This manual contains some important information you should know about your deposit relationship with Citibank. It is an agreement between you and us. From Account Transactions to Electronic Banking and beyond, we want you to understand how our products and services work, as well as to understand some of the important responsibilities that exist — yours and ours.

Some of these responsibilities are the same for every customer, no matter where you live. Others are different based on specific state laws. Some are described in additional agreements. Together, these documents provide basic terms and conditions of our deposit relationship.

This manual also contains an arbitration provision that covers all disputes between us.

Please review this Client Manual thoroughly — and keep it for future reference. ## General Terms — Consumer Use Acknowledgment

When you open a Citibank consumer deposit account, you are agreeing that your account will be governed by this Client Manual (sometimes referred to as “Manual”) and any and all accompanying Marketplace Addenda (sometimes referred to as “Addendum”). Together, the Manual and Addendum are referred to as “Agreement,” which contain important terms and conditions, details, rules and procedures applicable to each of your accounts. You agree not to use any consumer account for business purposes. Not all products and services described herein may be available to customers of Citi Private Bank, and International Personal Bank U.S. for clients in the Citigold® Private Client International, Citigold® International, Citi International Personal, Citi Global Executive Preferred, and Citi Global Executive Account Packages. These customers may receive other or additional specific terms and conditions.

Unless otherwise expressly agreed in writing, our relationship with you will be that of debtor and creditor. That is, we owe you the amount of your deposit. No fiduciary, quasi-fiduciary or other special relationship exists between you and us. We owe you a duty of ordinary care. Any internal policies or procedures that we may maintain in excess of reasonable commercial standards and general banking usage are solely for our own benefit and shall not impose a higher standard of care than otherwise would apply in their absence.

If your country of residence is other than the United States or the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, you acknowledge that you are responsible for, and agree that you will comply with, all laws, regulations, and rules applicable to your accounts, products and services with us, including any tax, foreign exchange, or capital controls, and for all payments, reporting or filing requirements that may apply as a result of your country of citizenship, domicile, or residence.

This Manual provides information about financial services provided by Citibank in the United States and its territories. It is not, and should not be construed as, an offer, invitation or solicitation of services to individuals outside of the United States. Your eligibility for a particular product and service is subject to a final determination by Citibank.

Complaints and Inquiries

In the event you were referred by a Citi affiliated company or other parties to open an account with Citibank, you agree to contact us for any complaints or inquiries related to your Citibank accounts.

Important Note to Australian Resident Clients

Please note that Citibank N.A.: (i) is exempt from the requirement to hold an Australian financial services license under the Australian Corporations Act 2001 in respect of its provision of financial services to you; and (ii) is regulated by the Federal Reserve, the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau and the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency of the U.S. under U.S. laws, which differ from Australian laws.

In this Agreement, it means your “Citibank® Banking Card” including your Citibank® ATM Card, Citibank® Debit Card, or other type of device issued by Citibank along with or in lieu of your Citibank® Banking Card. Your “Available Now” balance is the total amount you can use right now. The Available Now balance amount may be less than your On Deposit balance as it doesn’t include the transactions that are still pending and haven’t been posted to your account. For example, a recent deposited check may not be included in your Available Now balance.

“Citibank® Debit Card” means a Citibank Banking Card bearing a Mastercard Brand Mark on its face that may be used at POS merchants to make purchases and at ATMs to withdraw cash and perform other transactions. Certain Citibank Banking Cards also display a contactless symbol indicating you may use your card to make a contactless payment to a participating merchant by tapping your card on the payment reader.

“Enhanced Direct Deposit” is an electronic deposit through the Automated Clearing House (“ACH”) Network of payroll, pension, social security, government benefits and other payments to your checking, savings, or MMA account. An Enhanced Direct Deposit also includes all deposits via Zelle and other P2P payments when made via ACH using providers such as Venmo or PayPal. Teller deposits, cash deposits, check deposits, wire transfers, transfers between Citibank accounts, ATM transfers and deposits, mobile check deposits, and P2P payments using a debit card do not qualify as an Enhanced Direct Deposit.

“Electronic Funds Transfers” (“EFT”) means any transfer of funds, other than a transaction originated by check, draft or similar paper instrument, or computer or magnetic tape, so as to order, instruct or authorize a financial institution to debit or credit a consumer checking, savings or other asset account (such as brokerage). Examples of EFT transactions are:

- Citibank® Global Transfers
- International wire transfers from a consumer account
- Automated Clearing House (ACH)
- Instant Payments
- Zelle® Transfers

“Point-of-Sale” (“POS”) means a Citibank® Banking Card EFT from your primary checking account to purchase goods and services and/or receive cash using your “Citibank® Debit Card” for Signature or PIN-based EFT transactions or by using your “Citibank® ATM Card” for PIN-based EFT transactions. ## Definitions of Types of Accounts

Effective 8/21/23 to 12/31/23: Authorized representatives for Uniform Transfers/Gifts to Minors (UTMA/UGMA) accounts and certain Special Title Accounts (including Estate, Formal Trusts, Guardianships, Conservatorships, Custodianships, and Representative Payee) (collectively “Affected Accounts”) will not be able to add owners or open new accounts in the same title; beneficial owners of Affected Accounts will not be able to add owners to their existing accounts or open new accounts in any title.

“Estate Account” means an account opened by a fiduciary on behalf of a formal estate. The estate will have its own Taxpayer Identification Number issued by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS). Additional documentation is required to open the account.

“Individual Account” means an account owned in the name of one person only.

“Joint Account” means an account owned in the names of more than one person in joint tenancy. If one owner dies, ownership of the account will automatically pass to the surviving joint owner(s). Unless you designate otherwise on your signature card, application or other bank documentation, we will assume that personal accounts opened by two or more individuals are intended to be joint tenancy accounts with the right of survivorship. We can act on the instruction of any one or more of the joint account owners. In the event of conflicting instructions or a dispute among you, we may require all joint account owners to act together in giving us instructions or performing transactions. Any joint account owner may close a joint account.

Each account owner is jointly and severally responsible for all activity related to the joint account, including responsibility for paying overdrafts created by any authorized signer(s) or party to the account, whether or not they participate in the transaction or benefit from its proceeds. We may be required by legal process to pay all the funds in a joint account to satisfy a judgment against any or all account owners.

Applicable to accounts opened on or after April 23, 2021

All Joint Accounts must have at least one adult owner. Minors age 13 to 17 may qualify to open a Joint Account. Please refer to the governing state law of your account for information about legal rights and obligations of minors. When at least one owner of a Joint Account is a minor in the Basic Banking Package, the adult owner should serve as the primary signer which means the adult owner will receive communications and statements regarding the account according to the Client Manual — Consumers Accounts and Marketplace Addendum (for instance, see “Account Statements and Notices,” “Periodic Statements”). Unless expressly limited, the Joint Account rules explained in the Client Manual — Consumer Accounts and Marketplace Addendum otherwise remain unchanged.

“In-Trust-For (“ITF”) Account” means an account where you designate another person as beneficiary of the account. You can open an individual or joint ITF account as long as it is not a checking account. The beneficiary receives the funds in the account only upon the death of all account owners and cannot make any withdrawals or account changes before that time. If more than one beneficiary is named in our records, they will share equally in the account proceeds. During the lifetime of one or more of the account owners, this account will be treated as an individual account or joint account, as applicable. To change the beneficiary, all account owners must sign our documentation naming the new beneficiary.

“Trust Account” means an account owned by a trust. In some cases, the trust must have its own Taxpayer Identification Number issued by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS). Additional documentation is required to open the account.

“Uniform Transfers to Minors Account” (“UTMA Account”) means an account owned by a minor, who receives the funds as a permanent (irrevocable) gift. A custodian controls and manages the account for the benefit of the minor. The definition of a minor varies by state; however, generally, one custodian and one minor are allowed per account, unless the account is established under Maryland’s UTMA rules. We act only upon the custodian’s instructions. You may wish to consult your tax advisor or attorney before opening a UTMA account.

Citibank reserves the right to restrict an UTMA account once the account reaches the age of termination under state law. If the custodian refuses or is unable to transfer remaining UTMA account funds to the beneficiary at the age of account termination, Citibank may, at any time thereafter and in its sole discretion, block the UTMA account. If the UTMA account is blocked by Citibank, any and all future withdrawals from or deposits into the UTMA account will be prohibited. In addition, Citibank may issue a check for the balance of the UTMA account directly to the beneficiary if Citibank in its sole discretion believes the UTMA account has terminated under state law. Citibank also has the right to close the UTMA account at any time by issuing a check for the balance of the account in UTMA form.

Amendments/Changes to This Agreement

We may change the terms of this Agreement by adding, deleting or modifying existing ones in which a notice will be provided as required by law. We may also amend the Agreement without prior notice, unless otherwise required by law (e.g., by posting the information in our offices, on our web site, or otherwise making it available to you). You should retain all amendments and notifications with copies of the agreements and disclosures we provided to you when opening your account.

Arbitration

This Agreement contains an arbitration provision that explains that you cannot go to court, have a jury trial or initiate or participate in a class action if you have a dispute with us. Instead, this provision tells you that the dispute must be resolved by a professional arbitrator, not a judge or jury. This section also explains how arbitration works and some of the differences between resolving a dispute in arbitration and resolving one in court. All of the terms of the arbitration provision are set forth in the section entitled “Arbitration.” Please read it carefully.

Conflicting Demands/Disputes

If there is any uncertainty or conflicting demand regarding the ownership of an account or its funds; or we are unable to determine any person’s authority to give us instructions; or we are requested by law enforcement or a state or local agency to freeze the account or reject a transaction due to the suspected financial abuse of an elder or dependent adult; or we believe a transaction may be fraudulent or may violate any law, we may, in our sole discretion: (1) freeze the account and refuse transactions until we receive written proof (in form and substance satisfactory to us) of each person’s right and authority over the account and its funds; (2) refuse transactions and return checks, marked “Refer to Maker” (or similar language); (3) require the signatures of all authorized signers for the withdrawal of funds, the closing of an account, or any change in the account regardless of the number of authorized signers on the account; (4) request instructions from a court of competent jurisdiction at your expense regarding the account or transaction; and/or (5) continue to honor checks and other instructions given to us by persons who appear as authorized signers according to our records. The existence of the rights set forth above shall not impose an obligation on us to assert such rights or to deny a transaction.

Exemplar Signature

Citibank may use automated processes to capture a digital image of your signature on checks written on your account to retain as your on-file signature. This on-file signature will be kept in Citibank’s records and may be used to determine the authenticity of your signature and whether subsequent checks or instructions on other items and documents are authorized by you.

Governing Law

Accounts, products and services are governed by federal laws and regulations and to the extent not preempted by federal law or otherwise inapplicable, by the laws and regulations of the “Governing State” applicable to your account. State conflict of law provisions will not apply.

Indemnification

Except as otherwise set forth in this Agreement, you agree to indemnify, defend and hold us harmless from all claims, actions, proceedings, fines, costs and expenses (including, without limitation, attorney fees) related to or arising out of: (a) your actions and omissions in connection with your accounts or our services, and (b) our actions and omissions, provided that they are taken/omitted in accordance with this Agreement or your instructions. ## Information Sharing

Our consumer privacy notice describes personal information we may collect about you, including your name, address, telephone number, and other information we receive from you, information about your account and transactions, and information we receive from credit reporting agencies and other sources. You authorize us to disclose this information to affiliates and nonaffiliated third parties as permitted by applicable law except as you or we limit those disclosures under the terms of our consumer privacy notice. A copy of our consumer privacy notice accompanies your Agreement and we will provide it thereafter as required by applicable law. You may obtain a copy of our consumer privacy notice at any branch, by calling us toll-free within the U.S. at 1-888-214-0017, by calling CitiPhone Banking® (see the “Contact Us” section of this Manual for telephone numbers) or by visiting citibank.com. You may change your privacy preferences at any time by calling the toll free number listed in our privacy notice. We may take as long as thirty (30) days from our receipt of your privacy choices to process your request.

Limitation on Time to Sue or Arbitrate

Unless otherwise required by law, an action, proceeding or arbitration by you to enforce an obligation, duty or right arising under this Agreement or by law with respect to your account or any account service must be commenced within one (1) year after the cause of action accrues (two (2) years if the governing state law of your account is Texas).

Recording Your Service Requests

We may monitor or record your conversations with us or with an agent acting on our behalf. We do this from time to time to monitor the quality of service and accuracy of information given to you and to ensure that your instructions are followed.

Your Consent for Us to Call You

You understand that we or our agents may contact you at any telephone number you provide to us, including your mobile phone number. You agree to receive these calls and messages, such as text messages or prerecorded or autodialed calls. You understand your service provider may charge you for these calls/messages.

Your Consent for Us to Use Your Mobile Phone Number to Identify You

You authorize your wireless carrier to use or disclose information about your account and your wireless device, if available, to Citi or its service provider for the duration of your business relationship, solely to help them identify you or your wireless device and to prevent fraud.

Separately, Citibank may obtain information about your mobile phone activity from third parties and may use this information for its other everyday business purposes. For more information, see our U.S. Privacy Notice for Consumers.

Security Interest

You grant us a security interest in your account for amounts owing to us under this Agreement by any owner. This provision does not apply to IRA or tax-qualified retirement accounts or where otherwise prohibited by law.

Severability

Unless otherwise stated, if any of the provisions of this Agreement are determined to be void or invalid, the remainder of the Agreement shall remain in full force and effect.

Waiver

We may delay in enforcing any of our rights under this Agreement without losing them. Any waiver by us shall not be deemed a waiver of any other right or of the same right at another time. You waive diligence, demand, presentment, protest and notice of every kind, except as set forth in this Agreement.

Account Opening

All accounts are opened subject to our ability to verify your identity by requiring acceptable types of identification. To help the government fight the funding of terrorism and money laundering activities, federal law requires us to obtain, verify, and record information that identifies each person who opens an account. When you apply for an account, we will ask for information that will allow us to identify you. We may also ask for your driver's license or other identifying documents. Please note: Your ability to perform or request certain account transactions on a new account, such as wire transfers, may be delayed for one or more business days after account opening.

We may report information, including negative account activity, about you and any joint account owners or authorized signers on the account (including any account closed by Citibank) to a Consumer Reporting Agency. As a result, this may prevent you from obtaining services at other financial institutions, including opening an account. If you believe that we have inaccurately reported information to a Consumer Reporting Agency, you have the right to file a dispute with that Consumer Reporting Agency. You may also file a dispute by calling CitiPhone Banking® (see the “Contact Us” section of this Manual for telephone numbers) or write to us at Citibank — Consumer Report Inquiry, P.O. Box 769004, San Antonio, TX 78245-9989. We will review our files and respond to you in writing.

Updating Your Account Information

It is important that your account records be kept up to date. You have a responsibility to provide us with your mailing address. Please inform us of any changes, including updates to your email address. Be sure to update all accounts accordingly. An incorrect address, may prevent receipt of bank statements and other important account related communications. Additionally, we will not be liable for errors, debits or charges to, or your inability to transact in, your account resulting from an improper physical, mailing or applicable other address.

You can update your account information by doing the following:

- By changing your profile settings on Citi Online or the Citi Mobile App;
- By calling CitiPhone Banking®;
- At a Citibank branch.

If you meet the required criteria, we will complete your address change request over the phone; however, it may be necessary to have you place your request in writing. Be sure to change the address on each of your accounts. Changing your address will not change the governing law or Rate Region of any of your existing accounts or services.

We reserve the right to change your address for both mailing and records purposes if we receive information from the United States Postal Service or any other third party who we believe in our sole discretion is authorized to make such changes or who has actual knowledge of your current address.

Transferring Account Ownership

OWNERSHIP OF CHECKING, SAVINGS, MONEY MARKET AND CERTIFICATE OF DEPOSIT ACCOUNTS IS TRANSFERABLE ONLY WITH OUR WRITTEN PERMISSION AFTER YOU COMPLETE OUR APPROPRIATE FORMS AND, IN MOST CASES, WOULD REQUIRE THE ACCOUNT TO BE CLOSED AND RE-OPENED.

Language Preference

This section applies if your preferred communication language about Citi’s products and services is other than English. Although we may not be able to accommodate your language preference at all of our branches or for all products and services, as a courtesy, at your request, and for your convenience only, when you open an account with us we may be able to provide you with services in your preferred language.

Account Documents

English is the controlling language governing your banking relationship with us and your account documents. As an example, the English version of this Agreement is the governing Agreement.

Spanish Language

For customers who inform us their preferred language is Spanish, upon your request, Citi can provide you with an unofficial Spanish translation of this Agreement and Spanish versions of your account statement. Although we may send you a Spanish version of your account statements, you can obtain an English version upon request. If you receive both an English and Spanish version of this Agreement or if you request English and Spanish versions of your account statements, you should retain both versions for your records. Many features on Citi Online and Proprietary Citibank ATM, and CitiPhone Banking® are offered in Spanish.

Account Communications

Other than Spanish, account communications and certain other notices, disclosures and communications may only be available in English.

Availability of Products and Services

Although some products and services provided in our branches may be available only in English, you may be able to speak to a representative at a branch or a Relationship Manager in your preferred language. Not all preferred languages are available in every branch. Please call CitiPhone Banking® to find branches with representatives who speak your preferred language.

Customer Service

You may be able to receive customer service in your preferred language by calling CitiPhone Banking®.

Account Errors and Adjustments

We may make adjustments to your account whenever a correction or change is required. Adjustments might occur, for example, if a deposit amount is entered in an amount that is different than the actual amount of the deposit or items you deposit are returned unpaid. In the case of a deposit error where the deposit amount is entered in the wrong amount, we will either investigate the discrepancy and make an adjustment (debit or credit) to your account or alternatively, credit your account for the full amount of the discrepancy without investigation.

You have a responsibility to review your account statement in a timely manner and to notify us promptly of any errors. Within thirty (30) days after we send or make available to you your account statement and accompanying items, you must notify us in writing of any errors, discrepancies, or unauthorized transactions not involving an electronic funds transfer. If you fail to do so, we will not be liable for debits or charges to your account resulting from such errors, discrepancies or lack of authorization, or for losses resulting from subsequent related occurrences.

Note: There are exceptions to this thirty day notice requirement. For claims asserting forged, missing, or unauthorized endorsements or a material alteration, you must notify us within the period specified by the state law applicable to your accounts.

You also agree that any suit or demand for arbitration that you assert based on an account error, discrepancy, or unauthorized transaction must be brought within one (1) year (two (2) years in Texas) after the date of the first account statement on which the error, discrepancy, or unauthorized transaction appears.

If you think an error has been made or if you need more information about a transaction, call CitiPhone Banking® at the number on the back of your Citibank® Banking Card. If your account is debited with a substitute check that you have received from us and you believe that there is an error or discrepancy or that the transaction is unauthorized, you are entitled to additional rights under the law. Please refer to the “Substitute Checks and Your Rights” section of this Manual. Please read the “Error Resolution and Notice Procedures” provisions of the “Electronic Banking” section of this Manual for additional information about problems with such transactions.

If funds to which you are not entitled are deposited into your account, we have the right to remove these funds from the account at any time without prior notice to you. If there are insufficient funds in the account, we may charge your other accounts to recoup the funds, as more fully explained in the “Right of Setoff” section of this Agreement.

Assignments

Most accounts can be assigned as collateral for a loan from us or another lender. Unless we agree in writing, any such assignment to another lender will remain subject and subordinate to our right of setoff. For the assignment to be effective, we must receive written notice of the assignment and agree to it in writing. We will then reflect the change on our records.

Important Tax Information<sup>3</sup>

When you apply to open an account, Citibank is required to obtain U.S. tax certification from each account owner. If U.S. tax certification is not provided, the account will be subject to backup withholding. An account must not be subject to backup withholding to be eligible to participate in most account promotions; please refer to the separate promotion terms and conditions, if applicable.

U.S. persons are required to furnish or have a valid Form W-9 (Request for Taxpayer Identification Number and Certification) on file with Citibank. Foreign individuals are required to furnish or have a valid Form W-8BEN (Certificate of Foreign Status of Beneficial Owner for United States Tax Withholding and Reporting (Individuals)) on file with Citibank, and foreign entities are required to furnish or have a valid Form W-8BEN-E (Certificate of Status of Beneficial Owner for United States Tax Withholding and Reporting (Entities)) on file with Citibank.

Citibank will apply backup withholding to income payments (e.g., interest) if you: (a) fail to provide a correct Taxpayer Identification Number (TIN), or (b) the U.S. Internal Revenue Service (IRS) notifies us that you furnished an incorrect TIN, or (c) you or we are notified by the IRS that you are subject to backup withholding. Additionally, the IRS may charge you a $50 penalty for failing to provide Citibank with your correct Name/TIN combination. In some cases, a state and local tax authority may also require that we apply state and local backup withholding on income paid to your account when we are required to apply Federal backup withholding.

Interest received by U.S. Persons will be reported on IRS Form 1099-INT for the year received, as required by applicable law. Interest paid to non-U.S. Persons will be reported on IRS Form 1042-S for the year received. If 1099 reporting is required, Citibank will issue a 1099 to the first titled owner on the account. For jointly owned accounts that include both a U.S. owner and a foreign owner, we will issue the 1099 to the U.S. owner.

Please review the separate IRA and other tax-qualified retirement account disclosures for additional requirements that may apply.

Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act

In order for Citibank to be compliant with the provisions of The Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act (commonly known as “FATCA”), a U.S. federal tax law, Citibank may contact you to request additional information and/or documentation. Please understand that Citibank does not and will not in any way support any attempt by you to evade U.S. taxes or any request by you for help in avoiding detection under FATCA. Furthermore, since Citibank is not in the business of providing tax advice, you should not rely upon Citibank to determine the impact of FATCA on your own business activities or what your own compliance obligations are under FATCA. We encourage you to seek the advice of experienced tax advisors to determine what actions you need to take to become FATCA compliant. Your failure to comply with FATCA may result in restricted access or withholding of taxes from interest payments due to you.

Account Transactions

What This Section Covers

This section governs transaction activity in the following Citibank accounts: all types of checking, savings and money market accounts. It does not apply to certificate of deposit accounts. Please note: Your ability to perform or request certain account transactions on a new account, such as wire transfers, may be delayed for one or more business days after account opening.

Checkbooks and Checks

When you open a checking or money market account with a check writing feature, you can order personalized checks through us. We will automatically deduct the cost from your account balance after your order is processed. You are responsible for verifying the accuracy of all information shown on your checks. If you find an error, you must notify us immediately.

If you choose to have your checks printed by another vendor, the form, encoding and format of the checks must follow our check specification requirements and be approved by us in advance. If you do not purchase your checks through us, we may charge a fee for each check that rejects during processing due to poor print quality, or if it fails to meet our specifications. You agree not to issue checks with features or marks that obscure, alter or impair information on the front or back of a check or that otherwise prevents us or another bank from capturing such information during automated check processing.

You agree to safeguard your blank and cancelled checks, and to take reasonable steps to prevent their unauthorized use. If your checks are lost or stolen, you agree to notify us immediately.

For security reasons, we reserve the right to close your account and transfer the balance to a new account. If we do, all checks written but not yet paid may be returned to payees as "Account Closed" or "Refer to Maker." You will be responsible for issuing any replacement checks.

Deposits

You can make deposits:

- To qualifying accounts linked to your Citibank® Banking Card<sup>4</sup> at any Proprietary Citibank ATM in the U.S., 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Simply follow the directions on the ATM screen to insert your check or cash deposit in the appropriate slot. Some instruments such as some money orders or foreign checks cannot be accepted by the ATM terminal and must be deposited with a branch representative. When your transaction is completed, you will receive a transaction record via email or print (which ever option you select), that will provide an image of the check(s) or a breakdown of the cash accepted.
- With a teller, during regular banking hours, at any Citibank branch in the United States;
- By using our Deposit/Payment Express boxes which are located at select Citibank branch locations;
- By mail;
- By Mobile Check Deposit;
- By Direct Deposit (forms for establishing direct deposits can be obtained at any Citibank branch or through Citibank® Online);
- By Citibank® Global Transfer Service (where available);
- By an ACH or wire transfer; or
- By Inter Institution Transfer Service. For more information about these transfer services, refer to the "Electronic Banking" section of this Manual.

Footnotes:

<sup>4</sup> To ensure your accounts are properly linked, please stop by a branch or contact CitiPhone Banking® at 1-888-CITIBANK. You may also view a list of eligible accounts types, and link your qualifying Citi® accounts to your Citibank® Banking Card by signing on to citibankonline.com. Select the "Link/Unlink Other Citi Accounts" option under "Services" and follow the instructions.

We may accept items payable to you, or to any of you, from any source without questioning the authority of the person making the deposit. We also may give cash back to any authorized account signer(s) or agent(s) in connection with items payable to any owner, whether or not the items have been endorsed by the owner. If you make a deposit or payment that is not accompanied by instructions indicating how or where it is to be credited, we may apply it at our discretion, to any loan or deposit account any of you maintain with us.

Remotely Created Checks

You may not deposit remotely created checks to an account with us without our prior, express written consent. If you deposit remotely created checks with us, you agree that we may withhold a portion of the proceeds of such remotely created checks in a reserve account, in an amount that we reasonably believe may be needed to cover future charge backs, returned items, and/or claims that such remotely created checks were unauthorized. You grant us a security interest in the reserve account. Unless we agree otherwise in writing with you, reserve funds shall not bear interest. Our right to charge your account for returned remotely created checks will not be limited by the balance or existence of any reserve fund. Our rights with respect to the reserve fund, as well as the security interest granted to us, shall survive the termination of this Agreement. We may discontinue accepting remotely created checks at any time without cause or prior notice.

If you provide your account number to a third party with instructions to charge your account by means of one or more remotely created checks, you authorize us to pay such remotely created checks, even though they do not contain your signature and may exceed the amounts you authorized to be charged. This provision shall not obligate us to honor remotely created checks. We may refuse to honor remotely created checks without cause or prior notice, even if we have honored similar items previously.

Endorsements

To ensure that your check is processed without delay, you must endorse your check correctly by signing the back of the check. The area reserved for your signature is on the back of the check, within 1½ inches from the “top” edge (as shown in the picture below). Do not make any additional marks or notations on the back of the check.

You will be liable for unpaid checks returned late because your endorsement, a prior endorsement, or information you have printed on the back of the check obscures other endorsements.

We may endorse and/or collect items deposited to your account without your endorsement, but may require your personal endorsement prior to accepting an item for deposit.

Items Sent for Collection

We and other institutions may refuse to accept a check or other item for deposit or may accept it on a collection basis only. This often occurs with foreign, questionable or damaged items. If we accept an item for collection, we will send it to the institution upon which it is drawn, but will not credit your account for the amount until we receive the funds from the other institution. If we elect to credit your account before then, we may charge the amount back against your account if we do not receive payment for any reason. We may impose a fee in connection with sending and receiving items for collection (e.g., by charging your account or deducting the fee from the amount remitted). Other institutions that send or receive items for collection involving your account also may impose a fee for their services.

Verification and Collection

Any item that we cash or accept for deposit is subject to later verification and final payment. We may deduct funds from your account if an item is lost, stolen or destroyed in the collection process, if it is returned to us unpaid, or if it was improperly paid, even if you have already used the funds. Cash deposits are also subject to later verification.

ACH Provisional Credits

Credit for an automated clearing house (“ACH”) transfer is provisional until final payment is received by the payee’s financial institution. Until that happens, the party originating the transfer is not deemed to have made payment to the beneficiary, and the payee’s bank is entitled to a refund of the provisional credit. If we give you provisional credit for an ACH transfer, but do not receive final payment, you become obligated to us for the full amount without prior notice or demand.

Notice of Incoming Transfer

We are not required to give you a separate notice of our receipt of an ACH transfer. If we accept ACH credits to your account, you will receive notice of the credit on your next regular periodic statement. Although we may send notice of a non-ACH incoming funds transfer (e.g., a wire), we assume no obligation to do so. Transfers to your account will be reflected on your regular periodic statement. You may also contact your branch during normal business hours to determine if a transfer has been credited to your account. This information is available to you anytime via CitiPhone Banking®, Citi Mobile® or Citibank® Online.

Deposited Transaction Item Returned Unpaid

A Deposited Transaction Item Returned Unpaid may occur whether or not your account is overdrawn.

When checks or other Transaction Items you deposit to your account are returned by the paying bank for insufficient or uncollected funds, we may, at our discretion and option, re-present those checks or other Transaction Items for payment — including electronically — without notifying you that the check or Transaction Item was returned. You agree we are not responsible for any loss or damage you may incur as a result of our not notifying you when such check or other Transaction Item was first returned.

We may also place a hold on the funds in question (see “Funds Availability at Citibank” section in the Marketplace Addendum) or charge your account for the amount (and any interest earned on it) whether or not the return or notice of non-payment is proper or timely.

If we receive an affidavit or a declaration under penalty of perjury stating that an endorsement on an item deposited to your account is forged, that the item contains an alteration, or that there has been a breach of warranty in connection with the item, we may charge the item back against your account or place a hold on the funds pending an investigation, without prior notice to you.

Reconstructing Lost, Missing, or Destroyed Deposits

When you cash or deposit a check or other item with us, we act as your agent to collect the item. You assume the risk of loss for deposited items that are lost, missing, or destroyed during the processing and collection of the item(s). We may reverse any credit given and any interest earned or accrued for such a deposited item, and we may recover the amount of any funds disbursed for any such cashed item from any account you maintain with us.

You agree to cooperate fully with us to reconstruct such a deposited item by promptly:

- Providing us with a copy of the front and back of the deposited item from your or the issuer’s records;
- Asking the issuer of the item to place a stop payment on it (at our expense) and to issue a replacement item to you (if the deposited item has not been paid); and
- Reviewing your records and other information to obtain the issuer’s identity and any other information about the deposited item.

If you fail to cooperate with us to reconstruct the deposit, we may adjust any credit made to your account for the deposited item.

Our Right to Refuse Deposits

We may, at our discretion, refuse to accept funds for deposit to your account for any reason. We will, to the extent practical, try to facilitate your transaction by the best means available, including sending the item for collection or forwarding the item to the appropriate processing area. Your account will not be credited until collection or processing is completed.

Account Balance and Transaction Information

Although you may view your account information on Citibank® Online, Citi Mobile® or at an ATM and you may receive account information through CitiPhone Banking® and account updates through Citi® Text Banking, the information provided through any of these means may not include recent transactions and may also include funds that are not available for immediate withdrawal.

The end of Business Day cut-off time for the transactions listed in the following chart is 10:30 PM Eastern Time (9:30 PM Central Time, 7:30 PM Pacific Time). The cut-off time impacts the actual day on which these transactions will be effective and reflected in your account balance.

External Funds Transfers

The following terms apply to any request to transfer funds from your account to an account maintained at another institution other than those made using an online or mobile person to person transfer service which is subject to a separate agreement. Examples of funds transfers covered by this section include wire transfers and Citibank® Global Transfers. In addition to the information provided here, please refer to any funds transfer agreements you may receive when you initiate such a request. For international funds transfers, you will be provided with certain disclosures required by federal law at the time you initiate your request for that transfer. To the extent the provisions in this section are inconsistent with the disclosures provided to you for an international wire transfer, the provisions of such disclosures shall govern. When you request a funds transfer, you authorize us to debit your account for the amount of the transfer and you also authorize us to charge your account any applicable service fees in accordance with the fee schedule in effect at the time of your request. For international funds transfer requests, you will be given information regarding the fees associated with that transfer on the disclosure you are provided at the time of the transfer request.

Reliance by Citibank

Citibank will rely on the information you provide in making a funds transfer on your behalf. It is your responsibility to provide Citibank® with accurate information regarding that transfer, including the account number of the beneficiary of the funds transfer and where applicable, the number (such as “BIC” or “SORT”) identifying the beneficiary institution; payment will be processed based on the number(s) provided by you. Should you provide an incorrect account number and/or beneficiary institution identifier, you understand that any losses resulting from the funds being credited to the wrong account will be your responsibility. For international transfers, you may be required at the time you initiate the request to provide Citibank with information regarding the currency in which the beneficiary account is maintained. You understand and acknowledge that Citibank will rely on this information in executing your request in accordance with the provisions set forth in the “Currency of Transfer” paragraph below.

Security Procedures

When you place an order for a funds transfer, we will follow a security procedure established for your protection and ours to verify that the transfer has been properly authorized. You understand that the security procedure is designed only to verify the source of the funds transfer instruction and not to detect errors in the content of that instruction or to prevent duplicate transfers. The procedure depends on the means by which you provide instructions to us. Unless we agree on another security procedure, you agree that we may confirm the authenticity and content of instructions by placing a call to any authorized signer on your account. By placing a transfer order, you agree to our use of the applicable security procedure. You agree to be bound by any funds transfer request that Citibank receives and verifies in accordance with the security procedure outlined above.

Transfer to a Beneficiary Bank

When you request a funds transfer, you must select a financial institution to receive it. For funds transfers within the U.S., the beneficiary bank must be a member of the Federal Reserve System, a correspondent bank of such a member, or a Clearing House Interbank Payment System (CHIPS) member. You may request that the funds either be deposited into a particular account at the beneficiary bank or be held at the beneficiary bank for your beneficiary. The beneficiary bank is responsible for notifying the beneficiary that the funds are available. After the funds are transferred to the beneficiary bank, they become the property of the beneficiary bank. The beneficiary bank is responsible to locate, identify, and make payment to your beneficiary. When you identify a beneficiary by name and account number, the beneficiary bank may make final payment of the funds to the person identified by the account number even if the account number identifies a person different than the named beneficiary. If the beneficiary cannot be located, the funds may be returned. Except as may be prohibited by federal law, any losses resulting from an incorrect account number or other misidentification of your beneficiary provided by you are your responsibility and not Citibank's.

Currency of Transfer

Funds Transfers to beneficiaries within the United States are made only in U.S. dollars. For international transfers, Citibank may ask you to indicate the currency in which the beneficiary account is held. If you indicate that the account is held in U.S. dollars, your transfer must be made in U.S. dollars. If you indicate that the account is held in foreign currency (either the local currency of the country where the account is maintained or another foreign currency offered by Citibank) Citibank will send the transfer in that foreign currency unless the transfer in foreign currency is prohibited by local restrictions of the destination country. If you indicate you do not know the currency in which the beneficiary account is held, you can choose to send the transfer in U.S. dollars or in one of the foreign currency options provided by Citibank at the time of the transfer request. You understand that Citibank has the right to rely on your statement as to the currency of the beneficiary account and that it will not be responsible for any error in the information it provides you concerning the applicable exchange rate and the amount of funds to be received by the beneficiary should your statement be incorrect and a currency conversion occurs after Citibank sends your transfer. For transfers in foreign currency, Citibank will convert your U.S. dollar payment to the foreign currency selected by you at Citibank's exchange rate in effect at that time for similar transactions. The exchange rate includes a commission to Citibank for exchanging the currency. Information regarding the applicable exchange rate will be provided to you at the time you initiate the transfer request. In addition, in the case of transfers into your account which are sent in foreign currencies, we will convert the funds into U.S. dollars at our current conversion rate. Our conversion rate for both outgoing and incoming foreign fund transfers includes a commission for the conversion service.

Delays or Non-Execution of Funds Transfers

We will not be liable for any delay or failure to execute your funds transfer request or delay in making the funds available to the beneficiary due to circumstances beyond the control of Citibank or any intermediary or beneficiary bank handling the transfer including, without limitation, any inaccuracy, interruption, delay in transmission, or failure in the means of transmission of your funds transfer request or execution of such request by the bank, whether caused by strikes, power failures, equipment malfunctions, or delays caused by one or more of the institution's fraud screening procedures or compliance procedures for anti-money laundering, economic sanctions or similar laws. You further agree that we may refuse to process or delay processing any request if it would violate any guideline, rule, policy, or regulation of any government authority or funds transfer system.

Incoming Funds Transfers

Notice of your incoming funds transfers will be deemed to have occurred when you receive your periodic bank statement, or another notice from us, containing a credit to your account for the funds received. Also, to determine if a funds transfer has been credited to your account, you can call CitiPhone Banking®, view your account information on Citibank® Online or Citi Mobile®, or request account updates via Citi® Text Banking.

Cancellations or Amendments of Funds Transfer Requests

Applicable to Consumer International Citibank Global Transfers and International Wire Transfers

You have the right to cancel your funds transfer request for a full refund or to amend your funds transfer request provided you cancel or amend your request within thirty (30) minutes of your authorizing payment for that transfer. If you request a cancellation or amendment after this thirty (30) minute period, the provisions under the paragraph "Applicable to all other Funds Transfer Requests" will apply.

To cancel a Consumer International Citibank Global Transfer, please call 1-866-515-1725 (TTY: We accept 711 or other Relay Service), sign into citibankonline.com or Citi Mobile. When cancelling by phone, you will need to provide us with information to help identify the funds transfer you wish to cancel, including the amount and location where the funds were to be sent. Any refund will be made no later than three business days of your request to cancel.

To cancel a Consumer International Wire Transfer, please call 1-888-606-9716 (TTY: We accept 711 or other Relay Service) and for Citibank Online initiated wire transfers, you can cancel online. When cancelling by phone, you will need to provide us with information to help identify the funds transfer you wish to cancel, including the amount and location where the funds were to be sent. Any refund will be made no later than three business days of your request to cancel.

Applicable to all other Funds Transfer Requests

You may cancel or amend a funds transfer request (including a consumer international transfer not cancelled or amended in accordance with the special rules described in the section above) only if we receive your request prior to the execution of the funds transfer request and at a time that provides us with a reasonable opportunity to act upon that request. If your funds transfer request has already been executed by Citibank, you understand and agree that the request to cancel or amend the funds transfer will be effective with the voluntary consent of Citibank and the beneficiary bank. Citibank will first have to check with the beneficiary bank to determine whether or not the beneficiary bank will return your funds. If the beneficiary bank confirms that the funds are returnable and the funds are returned to Citibank, Citibank will return the funds to you. The amount that is returned to you may be less than you originally transferred because of service charges of the beneficiary bank and/or Citibank. Your returned funds will be in U.S. dollars. If your funds transfer was in foreign currency, your returned funds will be in U.S. dollars at the exchange rate established by Citibank on the date of return. Citibank shall not be liable to you for any loss resulting from the failure of the beneficiary bank to accept a cancellation or amendment of your funds transfer request.

Please Note: If your transfer is returned by the beneficiary bank to Citibank, an amendment request cannot be accepted and as a result, the funds will automatically be credited back to your account less any applicable service charges. If your transfer was in foreign currency, your returned funds will be in U.S. dollars at the exchange rate established by Citibank on the date of return as indicated above.

Rejection of a Funds Transfer Request

We reserve the right to reject your funds transfer request without cause or prior notice. We may reject your request if the dollar value of one or more of your transfer requests exceed your daily transfer limit, if you have insufficient available funds in your account for the amount of the funds transfer and applicable fee, if the information you provide in connection with that transfer is incomplete or unclear, if we are unable to confirm the identity or authority of the person providing the request, or if we are unable to fulfill your request for any other reason. For international transfers you understand we are required by U.S. regulations to provide you with certain information about your transfer request and if we are unable to provide you with that information at the time of your transfer request for any reason, we will need to reject your request. If we reject a request for a funds transfer, you will be notified of the rejection at the time of your request or as soon thereafter as we determine to reject the transfer request.

General Tips for Wire Transfer Safety

Wire transfers are a fast way to send money to individuals and businesses. However, because they are fast and final they can also be a target for fraud. According to the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the incidents of wire transfer scams have increased significantly. Common scams include: phishing (attempts to obtain sensitive information such as account details by posing as a reputable company via email, text, or phone); family emergency (receipt of a message from a friend or family member claiming to be in need of money for an emergency); and IRS Impostors (fake IRS tax notices or individuals impersonating as IRS agents claiming you owe taxes). For additional recent and common scams, please visit the Federal Trade Commission web site at <https://www.consumer.ftc.gov/features/scam-alerts>.

Your financial security is important to us. We encourage you to take the following steps to reduce your risk of fraud when sending wire transfers:

- Know Who You are Dealing With — Do not send funds to an individual or business you don't know personally.
- Verify your Wire Transfer Instruction — Check the information you include on a wire transfer instruction to verify the information is correct.
- Verify the legitimacy of what you are paying for — Independently confirm (whether in-person or through a trusted third-party) the legitimacy of what you are paying for.
- Be Cautious of any Recipient Claiming Urgency — Don't be rushed into initiating a transfer to anyone claiming an urgent deadline.

If you believe you may have been a victim of a wire transfer scam, time is of the essence. Please contact Citibank immediately so that we can attempt to contact the corresponding financial institution that may have received the fraudulent wire transfer.

Please refer to the "Error Resolution and Notice Procedures for all other Electronic Fund Transfers" paragraph under "Electronic Banking" for a description of your rights.

Applicable to claims or questions with respect to Domestic Wire Transfers.

You have the responsibility to let us know of any error, delay or other problem with your funds transfer within thirty (30) days from the date you receive notification that we have transferred the funds. In the event that your transfer was delayed or erroneously executed as a result of erroneous information you provided, you understand that you may be responsible for the amount of that transfer and any associated fees. If your transfer was delayed or erroneously executed as a result of Citibank's error, Citibank's sole obligation to you is to pay or refund such amounts as may be required under the Uniform Commercial Code Article 4A or by other applicable law. Any claim for interest payable by us shall be at our published savings account rate in effect within the state of the home financial center of the account from which the funds transfer was made.

Limitation of Liability

Citibank shall not be responsible for any incidental or consequential damages or expenses arising in connection with your funds transfer.

Withdrawals

Where to Make a Withdrawal

At a Citibank Branch

You can withdraw up to your available balance by cashing a check or making a withdrawal at a Citibank branch. We may require you to present identification.

At a Proprietary Citibank ATM or at an ATM Network Machine

You can use your Citibank® Banking Card to withdraw cash from your eligible linked accounts at a Proprietary Citibank ATM and from primary linked accounts at a Network ATM. Depending on the terms of your account, there may be a Citibank transaction fee for cash withdrawals from a Network ATM other than those which you can use without incurring a surcharge as described in the following paragraph. In addition, the company that owns or operates the machine may charge you a fee for the withdrawal. For more information on ATM withdrawals, refer to the “Electronic Banking” section of this Manual.

You can withdraw cash, get information and make transfers between your eligible linked Citibank accounts with no surcharge fee when you use your Citibank Banking Card at ATMs in the U.S. located at Citibank branches, ATMs at select retail store locations, and ATMs participating in the MoneyPass® Network. ATMs in retail stores and at other non-Citi locations are not owned or operated by Citibank. Use the Citi Worldwide ATM/Branch Locator on Citibank Online or the Citi Mobile® App to find the nearest ATMs and branches, including non-Citibank ATMs in the U.S. with surcharge free access.

Cash Withdrawals

Cash withdrawals or payments at any Citibank branch may be restricted due to the limited amount of currency on hand. If we do not have sufficient cash for a large withdrawal or payment, we may make arrangements for a later cash payment or offer to make payment with an Official Check. We assume no responsibility to provide personal protection for customers who elect to carry large sums of money off our premises.

Writing a Check

You can write a check for any amount up to the Available Now balance (including any Checking Plus® or Safety Check availability) in your checking account or money market account, provided your account offers a check-writing feature, by using one of the personalized checks you receive from us or one of the compliant checks that you have ordered elsewhere. Checks must be written in U.S. dollars.

Paying Your Checks

Electronic Presentment of Checks

We may charge your account on the day that a check or other transaction is presented (or returned) to us directly or electronically for payment. We may charge your account or place a hold on funds at an earlier time if we receive notice that a check or other item deposited to your account is being returned, or if we receive notice that your check or electronic payment (e.g., at a point-of-sale) is being processed for collection. Please note: Some merchants may obtain authorizations in advance for point-of-sale transactions in an amount greater than the final transaction amount. You agree that we may place a hold on sufficient funds to cover the amount of the authorized transaction, pending its final settlement through the system even if that amount exceeds the actual amount of the transaction. This could affect the balance available to cover other transactions.

Check Processing Cut-off Hour

In order to handle the large volume of checks processed each day, we may treat any check you have written that is presented for payment after 2:00 PM on a Business Day as if it were received on the next Business Day. Our cut-off hour with respect to any notice, knowledge, stop payment or post-dated check order, or legal process received by us involving a check we have received for payment is one hour after the opening of the Business Day following the Business Day on which we received the check. Our cut-off hour for check processing purposes with respect to our right of setoff is midnight of the Business Day following the Business Day on which we received the check, or such later time by which we must return the check.

Notations on Checks

We may ignore any legal copy appearing on your checks (such as “Void after 60 days”). Our decision to pay or not to pay a check is based on funds available in your account and other factors. It may not be affected by any subsequent deposits to your account.

PLEASE NOTE: As checks you have written are presented to us for payment during the course of a Business Day, we may place a hold on available funds in your account for the amount of those checks resulting in a reduction in your available account balance throughout that day. The held funds may be applied against processing of those checks or other transactions later that day.

We process most checks by automated means based on information encoded on the checks. As such, we may not physically examine all checks to determine if they are properly signed or completed. You agree that we may rely on such a process and that it will be deemed an acceptable standard of care on our part.

Post-Dated Checks

You agree not to write post-dated checks. If you do, we may or may not pay the check on the day it is presented.

The following applies to you if the governing state law of your account is in a state other than New York: If you write a post-dated check on your account and intend that the check will not be paid by us until the date written on the check, you must notify us to register it at the time you write the check. In order for your registration notice to be effective, you must call CitiPhone Banking® and provide the number, payee, amount and date of the check. You may also send written notice of your post-dated check request to us at the address printed on your periodic statement. An oral or written request to register a post-dated check is good for six (6) months and may be renewed for additional six (6) month periods by giving written notice to us within the period during which the original notice is in effect. A post-dated check will be registered only if the notice is received at such a time and in such a manner as to afford us a reasonable opportunity to act on it before we take action with respect to the check. We may pay any post-dated check that has not been properly registered with us or not registered in a timely manner. If we re-credit your account after paying a postdated check over a valid and timely postdated check notice, you agree to transfer to us all of your related rights against the payee or other holder of the check, and to assist us in legal action taken against that person.

Stale-Dated Checks

You agree that we may pay or reject a check which is presented to us for payment more than six months after its date (a “stale-dated” check), even if the presentment occurs after the expiration of a stop payment order. We normally do not examine the date on checks presented for payment. You agree that we are not required to identify stale dated checks or to seek your permission to pay them. To make sure that a check will not be paid, you should place a stop payment order on the check.

Stop Payment Orders (Checks)

General

Any signer on the account can instruct us to stop payment on a check that has not been paid by issuing a stop payment order at a Citibank branch, through Citibank® Online or by calling CitiPhone Banking®. For information about stopping payment on an automatic withdrawal or payment from your account (ACH), please refer to “Stop Payment Orders (Automatic Transfers)” in the “Electronic Banking” Section of this Manual.

A stop payment order must be received in a time and manner that gives us a reasonable opportunity to act on it before paying, accepting, certifying, cashing or otherwise becoming obligated to pay the item. Payment cannot be stopped on a check that has already been paid or that is in the process of being paid. At the time that you place a stop payment order, we may not be able to tell you whether the check has been paid or is in the process of being paid. Under certain circumstances, the law may allow the party in possession of the check to enforce payment, despite the stop payment order. You agree to indemnify us against any claim or loss resulting from honoring your stop payment request.

When you place a stop payment on a check, a stop payment fee may apply. Please refer to “Other Fees and Charges For All Accounts” in the Marketplace Addendum for a schedule of applicable fees.

When you place a stop payment order on a check and believe that the check may be converted to an electronic transaction (ACH), you should also place a second stop payment as an ACH. There is no fee for the second stop payment.

Contents of Stop Payment Order

You will need to accurately provide:

- Your account number;
- The date of the check;
- The check number;
- The exact amount (dollars and cents) of the check; and
- The payee's name.

We may use some or all of the information, in our sole discretion, to identify a check. If the information is not exactly correct, the stop payment may not be effective.

Effective Period of Stop Payment Order: Renewal

A stop payment order on a check will stay in effect for six (6) months from the date we accept the stop payment order, unless you instruct us to cancel it or to renew it, provided that we have not already returned the check. The order may be renewed for additional six (6) month periods.

Your instructions to remove or renew a stop payment order must be received in a time and manner that gives us a reasonable opportunity to act upon it.

Payment over Valid Stop Payment Order

If you believe that we have paid a check over a valid stop payment order, we may require you to provide us with evidence of our acceptance of a valid stop payment order and an affidavit describing in detail your loss resulting from the payment of the check; and, if applicable, further describing in detail your dispute with the payee. If we subsequently determine that you were indebted to the payee for the exact amount of the check or less, you agree that we will have the right to debit your account for the amount of the indebtedness. If your account has insufficient funds to cover the indebtedness we may also exercise our right of setoff.

Replacement Check

If you write a new check to replace one on which you have placed a stop payment order, be sure it has a different check number and date. It is also helpful if you write the word "replacement" on it so it is not mistaken for the original check.

Official Checks and Money Orders

You may not as a matter of right place a stop payment on an official check, money order, or international cheque. If such an instrument has been lost, stolen, or destroyed, you and/or the payee may, under certain circumstances, be allowed to place a stop payment by completing a "Stop Payment Request and Indemnity Agreement" form. We may require that you wait ninety (90) days before reissuing the check or reimbursing you. You may also be required to purchase a surety bond for twice the amount of the instrument.

Posting Order

We may accept, pay, certify, or charge to the appropriate account, Transaction Items in the order we choose. Even if we provisionally post Transaction Items to your account during the day, we may treat them as if we received all of them at the end of the day.

For purposes of the "Deposit Transaction Item Returned Unpaid," "Posting Order," "Overdrawing Your Account," "Insufficient Funds to pay a Transaction Item," and "Overdraft Protection" sections of the Client Manual, a "Transaction Item" includes in-person transfers or withdrawals, drafts, ACH transactions and transfers by other electronic means, account fees and charges, service charges, product, service or bank fees, checks, substitute checks, service charges, purported substitute checks, electronic items or transactions, drafts, remotely created checks, image replacement documents, indemnified copies, preauthorized payments, automatic transfers, telephone initiated transfers, online banking transfers or bill payment instructions, withdrawal slips, adjustments, and any other instruments or instructions for the payment, transfer or withdrawal of funds including an image or photocopy of any of these.

Generally, your deposits and withdrawals are processed as follows:

First: Deposits made before the cut-off time are added to your account balance.

Second: Fees for services we provide.

Third: Transactions received real-time during the day are deducted as they occur if there is a sufficient available balance in the account to pay for the transaction and any associated fee. Example: ATM, debit PIN or teller withdrawals including cashed checks; transfers or Citibank® Online bill payments initiated by you, debit card purchases at a merchant and most ACH debits<sup>7</sup> that we receive throughout the day.

Fourth: Checks presented for payment and any ACH debit not deducted during the day are deducted from your remaining available balance in the order of lowest to highest dollar amount.

Overdrawing Your Account

Citibank encourages its customer to consider the impact of overdrawing an account.

Your deposit account with us is overdrawn if your Available Now balance is less than $0 (negative balance). You can minimize overdrawing your account by maintaining an Available Now balance in your account sufficient to cover your Transaction Items. An account may become overdrawn for a variety of reasons, including if you perform a transaction on your account that reduces your Available Now balance to less than $0.

In the event of insufficient funds to pay one or more Transaction Items from your Available Now balance, in our sole discretion we may return ("Returned Items") or pay ("Overdraft") one or more Transaction Items.

We will not allow you to overdraw your account in certain circumstances. These may include certain activities, such as branch withdrawals, ATM transactions, and transactions using your Citibank® Debit Card. In addition, accounts in the Access Account Package are designed so that Transaction Items that cause an overdraft will not be authorized. Please review "Access Account Package" in the Marketplace Addendum for additional information. For certain other account activities, such as a check transaction or ACH payment, in our discretion, we may allow or deny a transaction that would cause an account to be overdrawn.

Insufficient Funds to pay a Transaction item

Our payment of any Transaction Item that creates an Overdraft in no way obligates us to continue that practice at a later time. We may discontinue paying Overdrafts without notice to you.

Although Citibank does not charge fees for Returned Items and Overdrafts, you may be charged a fee by the merchant or other payee. A Return Deposit Item may occur whether or not your account is overdrawn and is not an overdraft fee or a Returned Item fee. You may be charged this fee when checks that you deposit into your account are returned by the paying bank for insufficient or uncollected funds.

Please be aware an entity that presents a Transaction Item for payment and is returned, may represent it for payment multiple times even if we have already returned it for insufficient funds. Each presentment may decrease your Available Now balance.

Footnotes:

<sup>7</sup> ACH (Automated Clearing House) debits are received electronically through a merchant you have instructed to bill your checking account i.e., for your utility or phone bill.

If your account balance is insufficient to pay your Transaction Item and we pay an Overdraft, you and all owners and beneficial owners of the account will continue to be liable to us for the unpaid amount and interest thereon until it is paid in full. Accounts with a zero or negative account balance may be closed. Your obligations for Transaction Items conducted by you will survive the termination of the account and this Agreement.

Overdraft Protection

This section outlines two options that are designed to help you cover overdraft amounts in your checking account. Ask us for information which may include an application.

Safety Check

Safety Check covers overdraft amounts by transferring funds from your linked money market or savings account. The linked contributing account also covers the use of deposited funds that are not yet available in your checking account.

Contributing Accounts

When you sign up for Safety Check, you may select one account you maintain at Citibank as your "Contributing Account." Your Contributing Account can only be a savings or money market account. Only Available Now balances in your Contributing Account can be used for Safety Check coverage.

When Safety Check is used to cover your use of funds in your checking account that are not yet available (uncollected), a like amount in your Contributing Account will be held until the deposited funds become available. The funds held in your Contributing Account are not transferred to the checking account and will continue to earn interest. Since no transfer of funds occurs, there is no transfer fee for use of this service in this circumstance.

Safety Check Transfers

Safety Check transfers from your Contributing Account will be made in the amount needed to cover your overdraft amounts rounded up to the next $100 increment. We reserve the right to pay a Transaction Item and not to process a Safety Check Transfer.

Transfers

No more than $99,999.99 per statement period will be transferred from your Contributing Account to cover overdraft amounts or use of uncollected funds in your checking account.

Checking Plus® (variable rate) Line of Credit

Checking Plus is a revolving line of credit account linked to your Citibank checking account that provides overdraft protection and allows you to borrow the extra cash you need. Funds are automatically transferred from the Checking Plus line to the checking account to cover overdraft amounts; you can also withdraw cash at any time directly from your Checking Plus account without overdrawing your checking account (up to your available credit limit).

The terms of a Checking Plus (variable rate) line of credit account are included in a separate Agreement and Disclosure that you will receive at time of account application or shortly thereafter.

For all Checking Plus® and Checking Plus® (variable rate) Line of Credit customers. Please refer to your Checking Plus or Checking Plus (variable rate) Line of Credit Account Agreement and Disclosure, as applicable, for terms, conditions and fees relating to transfers from Checking Plus Line of Credit or Checking Plus (variable rate) Line of Credit Accounts.

Withdrawal Refusals

In some instances, we may refuse a request for a withdrawal or transfer from an account. The following list includes, but is not limited to, the most common reasons we might refuse such requests:

- If the funds you wish to withdraw are not yet available; (See the “Funds Availability at Citibank” section of the Marketplace Addendum.)
- If we decide to require seven (7) days advance written notice and we have not received such notice;
- If there are insufficient funds in your account;
- If you use a type of check not acceptable to us;
- If the funds you wish to withdraw are being held to cover a checking account withdrawal under our Safety Check service;
- If the funds you wish to withdraw are being held due to cashing of a third party check against the account or for any other reason;
- If the withdrawal would consist of money owed to us;
- If the withdrawal you are requesting is of the type that is limited by federal regulations, and you have already reached the applicable limit;
- If, in the case of a joint account, any account signer gives us written instructions not to permit a withdrawal;
- If the account is pledged as collateral for a loan;
- If an account owner has died and we have not received all documents required to release funds in the account;
- If we have not received documents or identification required to permit access to the account, such as when the account is new and documentation remains missing;
- If we have been ordered by a court or other legal process not to permit the withdrawal;
- If you do not present us with appropriate identification or any other information that we may require;
- If we are aware of any dispute relating to the account or funds in the account;
- If we have some suspicion of fraud, irregularity, or illegality; or
- If we believe that the signature on a check or item drawn on your account and presented for payment does not appear similar to that appearing in our records.

Withdrawal Notice

We reserve the right to require seven (7) days advance notice before permitting a withdrawal from all savings and money market accounts. We currently do not exercise this right and have not exercised it in the past.

Check Cashing

Your Own Checks

You can cash a check at any Citibank branch, for any amount up to the available balance with your Citibank® Banking Card or other identification that is acceptable to us.

Third Party Checks

In certain instances we may allow you to cash a third party check (i.e., a check originally payable to another person) at a Citibank branch, up to the available balance in your account using your Citibank® Banking Card as identification. If the check is payable to a party other than yourself, we may require that the other party's endorsement be verified or guaranteed before we accept the check. In any case, we may refuse to accept any third party check for encashment for any reason. If you routinely request that we cash third party checks we may require that you enter into a separate agreement with us for that purpose. If we do cash a third party check, a hold may be placed on your account for the amount of the check until the check clears. The amount of the check cashed may also reduce your daily balance or average daily balance for interest and/ or fee calculation purposes for up to the number of days it takes for us to collect the check.

Payee Check Cashing

When you write one of your checks to another person, that person, with proper identification, may be able to cash it at a designated Citibank branch up to the applicable limit which is currently $5,000. This limit may change from time to time without notice to you. We may charge a person who cashes your check a fee, or refuse to cash your check, if that person is not a deposit or loan customer of ours. Otherwise, the payee will be required to deposit the check to an account with us or elsewhere. For checks presented for encashment to a Citibank branch located in California or Nevada by a payee who does not bank with us, we may also require the payee to provide a fingerprint before cashing the check. If the payee refuses to provide a fingerprint, or, if a payee refuses to pay our check cashing fee, we may refuse to cash the check. You agree that our refusal to do so is reasonable and that we will not be liable to you for our refusal.

Check Cashing for Others

You should not use your account to cash checks for others who are not well known to you. Although we may make funds provisionally available to you and may take steps to determine whether a check will be paid, you are responsible for any loss that occurs if the check is returned to us for any reason (e.g., because it is counterfeit). Our employees cannot promise that checks drawn on or issued by other institutions, including cashier's checks or official checks, will be paid.

Account Statements and Notices, Periodic Statements

We will provide a periodic account statement to you showing all activity for the statement period, all transactions made with your Citibank® Banking Card, all transfers you authorize in advance, and other account information for the statement period. Your periodic statement will include a summary of your linked account balances and an itemized listing of your transactions by date, including information about checks presented against your account, and other notices about your linked accounts. We use postage-paid ordinary postal-mail to send you statements and notices to the postal mail address reflected in our records for the account.

Regardless of the number of account owners, we only mail statements and notices to one owner per account. Notification given to any one account owner is considered notification to all account owners and is considered delivered to you on the date we first place the statement or notice in the U.S. mail regardless of whether or not you receive it. At times, we mail individual owners and authorized representatives important notices and information relevant to them. When we mail notices with general information not specific to a particular account to individual account owners with multiple accounts and multiple mailing addresses, we will use the mailing address of the account most recently opened.

If two consecutive statements and/or notices are returned to us for any reason, you agree that we may hold subsequent notices and statements until we receive forwarding information from you. Statements and notices held for you will be deemed delivered to you on the date that they are prepared (for held statements), mailed (for returned statements) or otherwise made available to you. At our discretion, we may destroy mail that is returned to us as determined to be undeliverable. If you have a checking, Checking Plus®, or Checking Plus® (variable rate) line of credit account, you will receive a statement each month and that statement will include information regarding all of your other linked accounts.

You can arrange to receive separate statements for your linked Citibank accounts by calling CitiPhone Banking® (see the “Contact Us” section of this Manual for telephone numbers).

Instead of receiving a paper statement through ordinary postal mail, any signer on an account may elect to enroll in our paperless statement service when you are registered on Citibank Online. If you elect to use the paperless statement service, we will notify you via email of the availability of your statement on Citibank Online. The terms and conditions for the paperless statement service are subject to a separate agreement which you will accept when enrolling in the service and can view at any time on Citibank Online.

Cancelled Check Options

Unless you have an account package that allows you to elect otherwise and you have done so, we will not send you images of your cancelled checks.

If you have a checking account in the Citigold® Account Package, Citi Priority Account Package, Citibank® Account Package or a Citi Private Bank Account, you may elect to have your check images delivered with your periodic statements. You must speak with an account representative to sign up for this service. Please note that if you receive check images with your statement, included among those images may be some checks which were presented for payment but which were returned unpaid after your statement was prepared and sent to you.

Images of your cancelled checks presented within the past 18 months are also available to you through Citibank® Online. Additionally, you may request a copy of any of your cancelled checks by calling CitiPhone Banking®. Please refer to “Other Fees and Charges for All Accounts” in the Marketplace Addendum for applicable fees.

Substitute Checks and Your Rights

What Is a Substitute Check?

A substitute check is a paper reproduction created from a digital image of the front and back of the original check and bears the legend “This is a legal copy of your check.” You can use it the same way you would use the original check. Federal law allows banks to replace original checks with “substitute checks.” Under the law, a substitute check is the “legal equivalent” of the original check. In other words, it can be used in the same way and for all purposes for which you would use the original check.

Your Rights

The following rights apply if you receive a substitute check from us in lieu of the original check. These rights do not apply to original checks or to electronic debits. Your rights as to those transactions remain unchanged and are described in other sections of this Agreement. Please note these rights also do not apply to images of checks furnished to you or viewed through Citibank® Online.

In certain cases, federal law provides a special procedure that allows you to request a refund for losses you incur if you believe a substitute check is incorrectly posted to your account (for example, if you think your account was debited for the wrong amount) and production of the original check is needed to determine the validity of the debit. The losses you may attempt to recover may include the amount that was withdrawn from your account and fees that were charged as a result of the withdrawal (for example, overdraft check fees.) The amount of the refund you may request under this procedure is limited to the amount of your loss or the amount of the substitute check, whichever is less. You are also entitled to interest if your account is an interest-bearing account. If your loss exceeds the amount of the substitute check, you may be able to recover additional amounts under other laws.

Under federal law, you may receive up to $2,500 of your refund (plus interest if you have an interest-bearing account) within ten (10) Business Days after we receive a complete claim from you and the remainder of your refund not later than forty-five (45) calendar days after we receive a complete claim from you. You will not be entitled to a refund if we determine that the substitute check was correctly posted to your account. Alternatively, we may reverse the refund (including any interest on the refund) if we later determine that the substitute check was correctly posted to your account.

Filing a Claim

If you believe a substitute check you have received from us was improperly debited to your account, please call CitiPhone Banking® at the number indicated in the “Contact Us” section of this Manual. You must contact us within forty (40) calendar days of the date we mailed, or otherwise made available to you, the substitute check in question. We may extend the time period if you were prevented from contacting us for extenuating reasons. In certain situations, such as forgery claims, we may require that you put your claim in writing. If so, we must receive the information in writing within ten (10) Business Days from the day you first notified us of your claim.

If you are not able to contact us by telephone, you may also write to us at the following address: Citibank Client Services, P.O. Box 769014, San Antonio, TX 78245-9989.

In investigating your claim, we may request the following information from you:

- Description of how you suffered a loss;
- Amount of your loss;
- Explanation as to why the original check is needed to determine the validity of the amount charged to your account; and
- A copy of the substitute check and/or information to help us identify the substitute check (such as check number, the amount of the check and payee).

Special Circumstances

Forfeited Accounts

If your account is seized by or forfeited to the United States government or a state government, you no longer have title to the account, and the funds in the seized or forfeited account will no longer earn interest during such period of seizure or forfeiture, even if the funds are eventually returned to you.

Death or Legal Determination of Incompetence

Upon notification of death or legal determination of incompetence, we will block individual accounts; joint accounts may remain unblocked for up to thirty (30) days after we have been notified of an account owner's death. Certain documents must be presented to us before funds in such an account can be paid out and the account closed. For more information about which documents are required, please visit a branch or contact CitiPhone Banking® (see the "Contact Us" section of this Manual for telephone numbers).

Dormant Accounts

Under applicable state abandoned property statutes, your account will be considered dormant (inactive) and we may be required to send to the appropriate state the balances in your deposit account unless you have done at least one of the following during a specified period of time:

- Deposited or withdrawn funds;
- Signed and returned our active account confirmation form; or
- Written to us concerning the account.

A certificate of deposit account that has not reached initial maturity will not be considered inactive, but if the account renews automatically, it can become inactive starting after the initial maturity date.

In complying with these requirements, the laws of the state of your last known address (as recorded on our bank records) govern the inactivity period and specific requirements applicable to your account. If your address, as recorded on our bank records, is outside of the United States, South Dakota law will govern.

Legal Process

Regardless of where or how we are served, we may comply with any state or federal legal process, including, without limitation, any writ of attachment, adverse claim, execution, garnishment, tax levy, restraining order, subpoena or warrant relating to you or your account which we believe to be valid. You agree that we may honor legal process that is served personally, by mail, or by facsimile transmission at any of our offices (including locations other than where the funds, records or property sought is held), even if the law requires personal delivery at the office where your account or records are maintained. You agree that we will have no liability to you for honoring any such legal process. You also agree that we will have no obligation to assert on your behalf any applicable exemptions to execution or attachment under any applicable state or federal law. We will also have and may enforce a right of setoff and security interest against any of your accounts in order to reimburse us for our fees and expenses, including attorneys' fees, court costs and expenses, in complying with legal process.

We may comply with process we deem appropriate even if it appears to affect the interest of only one owner of a joint account. We may refuse to permit withdrawals or transfers from your account until such legal process is satisfied or dismissed even if such action results in insufficient funds to pay a check you have written or otherwise satisfy an obligation you may have incurred.

Accounts opened with trust or fiduciary designations (e.g., "XYZ, Inc. client trust account") may be subject to legal process unless our records contain an express written trust or court order that provides otherwise.

Upon receipt of any legal process, you will be liable to us for our processing fee, and reimbursement for our record research, reproduction and handling costs. We may deduct such fee, as well as any expenses, including, without limitation, attorneys' fees in connection with any such document or legal process, from your account or any other account you may have with us without prior notice to you, or we may bill you directly for such expenses and fees.

You agree to release and indemnify, defend and hold us harmless from all actions, claims, liabilities, losses, costs and damages including, without limitation, attorneys' fees, associated with our compliance with any legal process we believe to be valid.

When we receive an order instructing us to restrict access to funds in an account, we may remove the funds from the account and maintain them separately. These funds will not earn interest and will not be considered as part of your combined balances when we determine account fees and rates.

Subject to applicable law, we may exercise our right of setoff against any or all of your accounts (except IRA, Keogh plans and certain trust accounts) without notice, for any liability or debt of any owner or beneficial owner, whether joint or individual, direct or contingent, now or hereafter existing, and whether arising from our fees or charges, overdrafts, endorsements, guarantees, loans, attachments, garnishments, levies, attorneys' fees, or other obligations. If an account is a joint or multiple-party account, each joint or multiple-party account owner authorizes us to exercise our right of setoff against any and all accounts of each account owner.

You also agree to allow us to apply any subsequently credited deposit made to your account against any overdrafts and against any fees and charges or other obligations owed us in whichever order we determine. You acknowledge and agree that if you do not want your electronically deposited benefits applied in this way, you have the option of changing your direct deposit instructions by providing notice to the benefits payor at any time.

Restricted Access

There are occasions when we restrict access to deposits, such as when your account application is being processed, when funds are assigned as collateral or when we are required by law to restrict access. If funds assigned as collateral are in interest-bearing accounts, they will continue to earn interest as usual. They may not, however, be used in connection with our Safety Check service.

Closing a Deposit Account

You may close your account at any time (except as stated otherwise in this Manual). We may allow one owner/signer to close an account without the consent or signature(s) of any other owner(s)/ signer(s). Except in limited circumstances, if you close a Certificate of Deposit account before maturity, you will be subject to an early withdrawal penalty.

We may close your account at any time with or without cause. We may try to notify you in advance should this be necessary, but we are not obliged to do so. If we close your account, we will send you a check for your final balance, if any, minus any applicable account fees and charges. For clients living outside the United States, you may be asked to complete wire transfer instructions to receive your funds.

If your account balance is insufficient to pay applicable account fees and charges owed to us, you will continue to be liable to us for the unpaid amount and interest thereon until it is paid in full. Your obligations for transactions and Transaction Items conducted prior to account closure will survive the termination of the account and this Agreement. If we close your account because of negative account activity, we may report that information to a Consumer Reporting Agency.

Certain Deposit Accounts with Transactional Features

If you have opened a deposit account on behalf of the beneficial owner(s) of the funds in the account (for example, as an agent, nominee, guardian, executor, custodian or funds held in some other capacity for the benefit of others), those beneficial owners may be eligible for FDIC “pass-through” insurance. This means the account may qualify for more than the standard deposit insurance amount. If the account has transactional features, you must be able to provide a record of the interests of the beneficial owner(s) in accordance with FDIC requirements in the format presented below. Additional information that describes the process to follow and the information you will need to provide to the FDIC in the event Citibank fails can be found on the FDIC’s website in a document entitled “Deposit Broker’s Processing Guide” in section “VIII. Part 370 Alternative Recordkeeping Entity Processing: Addendum to the Deposit Broker’s Processing Guide.”

In the event that Citibank fails, you agree to cooperate fully with us and the FDIC in connection with determining the insured status of funds in such accounts. This includes providing the FDIC with the information described above in the required format within 24 hours of bank failure. You understand and agree that your failure to provide the necessary data to the FDIC may result in a delay in your receipt of FDIC insured funds. Notwithstanding other provisions in this Agreement, this Section survives after a receiver is appointed for us, and the FDIC is considered a third party beneficiary of this Section.

Any authorized signer on an account may apply for these services on behalf of all authorized signers. Some EFT services are subject to separate terms and conditions (e.g., Citibank Global Transfers and Zelle® transfers) which are provided to you when enrolling in a specific service.

We shall comply with the requirements of, and you shall be entitled to, the remedies for error resolution for an EFT required in accordance with the federal Electronic Fund Transfer Act, 15 USC 1693 or alternatively, the remedies for error resolution for a remittance transfer in accordance with the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act, 15 USC 1693o-1 and regulations promulgated thereunder. You may be entitled to additional rights and remedies — including different limitations of liability for unauthorized transactions — according to the governing state law of your account. For more information, refer to “Lost or Stolen Citibank® Banking Cards or Other Access Devices and Unauthorized Electronic Transactions” in this section of the Manual.

General

Please note that each withdrawal, transfer, purchase and cash advance is limited by the amount available in your account or available to you via an overdraft protection program such as Checking Plus®, Checking Plus® (variable rate) line of credit or Safety Check. Some Network ATM operators may impose lower limits on cash withdrawals.

Limitations on Transfers and Withdrawals and Right to Suspend or Discontinue Services

At any time we may change the transfer and withdrawal limits that apply when you use an Access Device, and at any time we may suspend or discontinue operation of certain electronic banking services based upon security issues and other factors.

ATM Terminal Transactions

You can get a record detailing the transactions you perform at Proprietary Citibank ATMs and Network ATMs. For deposits and payments made at Proprietary Citibank ATMs, your deposits and payments are accepted subject to bank verification.

Termination of Electronic Banking Services

If you wish to terminate any electronic banking services or no longer wish to use your Citibank® Banking Card, call us at CitiPhone Banking® at 1-888-CITIBANK or write us at P.O. Box 769004, San Antonio, TX 78245-9989.

Access Devices

Generally, you will receive your Citibank® Banking Card when you open your account. If you do not select your Personal Identification Number (PIN) at account opening, you will receive the PIN in a separate mailing. Your PIN is required for all Citibank® Banking Card transactions at Proprietary Citibank ATMs, at Network ATMs or for PIN based POS purchase transactions. You agree to keep your PIN confidential. No bank employee knows your PIN or will ever ask for it. For your protection, we encourage you to periodically change your PIN. You can change your PIN at any time:

- At a Proprietary Citibank ATM;
- At any Citibank branch in the United States;
- On Citibank® Online or Citi Mobile.

If you are unable to change your PIN at a Proprietary Citibank ATM or through the CitiPhone Banking® automated system, you may contact CitiPhone Banking® to request a PIN mailer. The sealed mailer contains a confidential, pre-set PIN that is systemically generated and mailed directly to you. When you receive the PIN mailer, you will need to call CitiPhone Banking® to activate the PIN.

The PIN you select must consist of four numbers and cannot begin with a zero. Many international ATMs do not have keys with both letters and numbers. If your PIN contains letters, please learn their corresponding numbers, as letters may not always be noted on the keys. You should also be aware that non-Proprietary Citibank ATMs and international ATMs may limit access to a primary checking account. To initially sign on to Citibank® Online, for additional security, in addition to your Citibank® Banking Card number and your PIN, you will need to choose a Citibank® Online User ID and Password. Together, the User ID and Password you select will be your Access Device for Citibank® Online.

To use the CitiPhone Banking® automated service, in addition to your Citibank® Banking Card, you will need a Telephone Access Code (TAC) or other form of permitted Access Device. Once you have received your Citibank® Banking Card, you can set up this code by calling CitiPhone Banking® (at the number on the back of your Citibank® Banking Card) for instructions on how to establish your TAC. To use the Citi Mobile® App or Citibank® Online, in addition to your Citibank® Banking Card, you will need a User ID and Password. If an unauthorized person has obtained access to your Citibank® Banking Card, your PIN, your Citibank® Online User ID and Password or your TAC, notify Citibank immediately. Your rights and obligations in the case of unauthorized use of any of your Access Devices are the same as for lost or stolen Citibank® Banking Cards.

We will automatically send you a new Citibank® Banking Card before your current card expires. When you receive your new card, you will need to activate the card by following the instructions enclosed with the card. You will need to sign your new card and destroy your old card.

Please note that the Citibank® Banking Card we issue you is and remains the property of Citibank. We have the right to take possession of it, to demand its return, and to cancel it at any time. You may also cancel your Citibank® Banking Card at any time and for any reason. To do so, cut your card in half and notify us through CitiPhone Banking®, Citibank® Online or at a Citibank branch. You agree to return the Citibank® Banking Card to us upon request.

Footnotes:

<sup>11</sup> Eligible accounts are Citibank accounts (i.e. deposit accounts) owned by the Citibank® Online user (initiator of the transaction) that accepts ACH transactions. You must own both the Citibank account and the external account in order to make a transfer using Inter Institution Transfer (IIT) Service. Transfers to third parties are not permitted.

FOR THE PROTECTION OF YOUR ACCOUNT, ZELLE® SHOULD BE USED ONLY TO SEND MONEY TO FRIENDS, FAMILY OR OTHERS YOU TRUST. YOU SHOULD NOT USE THE SERVICE TO SEND MONEY TO RECIPIENTS WITH WHOM YOU ARE NOT FAMILIAR OR YOU DO NOT TRUST. NEITHER CITIBANK NOR ZELLE® OFFER A PROTECTION PROGRAM FOR ANY AUTHORIZED PAYMENTS MADE WITH ZELLE®. FOR EXAMPLE, IF YOU MAKE A PURCHASE USING ZELLE® BUT YOU DO NOT RECEIVE THE ITEM OR THE ITEM IS NOT AS DESCRIBED OR AS YOU EXPECTED.

Stop Payment Orders (Automatic Transfers)

You may stop an automatic withdrawal or payment, or recurring withdrawals or payments from your account, by visiting a Citibank branch, through Citibank® Online or by calling CitiPhone Banking® (see the “Contact Us” section of this Manual and your periodic statement for telephone numbers and address). If you request a stop payment by phone, we may ask you to confirm your instructions in writing within two (2) weeks. In order to place a stop payment on an automatic transaction, we must receive your instruction at least three (3) Business Days before the transaction is scheduled to be made. Payment cannot be stopped on an ACH transaction that has already been paid or that is in the process of being paid. If you order us to stop payment on a scheduled transaction in a timely manner and we do not do so, we may be liable for your losses or damages.

You may not be able to stop payment of a check that is converted to an electronic transaction (ACH). If you believe your check has been converted to an electronic transaction, you should also place a second stop payment on that electronic transaction. Please contact the CitiPhone Banking® number on the back of this Manual if you wish to stop such a payment.

If you request a stop payment on all recurring transactions from the same originator (payee), we may require that you confirm, in writing or orally, that you have previously revoked your authorization with the originator (payee). If you fail to provide us with such confirmation, the bank is not obligated to honor your request and may debit your account for subsequent transactions initiated by that originator (payee). Please remember that in order to revoke your authority with that originator (payee) you must notify them at least thirty (30) days prior to the next scheduled transaction.

Contents of Stop Payment Order. You will need to accurately provide:

- Your account number;
- The date of the scheduled deduction or, for recurring transactions, the next scheduled deduction date;
- The exact amount (dollars and cents); and
- The payee’s name.

We may use some or all of the information, in our sole discretion, to identify a transaction. If the information is not exactly correct, a stop payment may not be effective.

Effective Period of Stop Payment Order. A stop payment order on an ACH transaction is permanent. For recurring transactions, this means that your stop payment order will stop all subsequent withdrawals/ payments initiated by that originator (payee) unless you contact the bank and request that the stop payment order be removed.

Payment over Valid Stop Payment Order. If you believe that we have debited a transaction from your account over a valid stop payment order, we may require you to provide us with evidence of our acceptance of a valid stop payment order and an affidavit describing in detail your loss resulting from the payment of the transaction and, if applicable, further describing in detail your dispute with the payee. If we subsequently determine that you were indebted to the payee for the exact amount of the transaction or less, you agree that we will have the right to debit your account for the amount of the indebtedness. If your account has sufficient funds to cover the indebtedness, we may also exercise our right of setoff.

If you have a Citibank® Debit Card, you can also use your card to perform an EFT to purchase goods or services and/or receive cash from locations that accept MasterCard®. These transactions are those for which you do not use your PIN and either you or a merchant designates as a “credit” transaction (including purchases you sign for, small dollar purchases that do not require a signature), Internet, phone and mail-order transactions.

All POS transactions made with your Citibank® Banking Card are deducted from your linked Citibank primary checking account. You agree to only use your Citibank® Banking Card for lawful transactions. We reserve the right to block or deny certain merchant categories when you attempt to make purchases with your Citibank® Banking Card. These merchants include, but are not limited to, internet gambling sites.

When you use your Citibank® Banking Card for a POS transaction, certain merchants may ask us to authorize the transaction in advance and may estimate its final value. When we authorize the transaction, we commit to make the requested funds available when the transaction finally settles and may place a temporary hold on your account for the amount indicated by the merchant. Until the transaction finally settles or we determine that it is unlikely to be processed, the funds subject to the hold will not be available to you for other purposes. We will only charge your account for the correct amount of the final transaction, however, and we will release any excess amount when the transaction finally settles.

Your maximum purchase limits on your Citibank® Banking Card per account, per Business Day, are limited by the amount available in your account, whichever is lower.

In addition to our right to change withdrawal limits or to suspend or discontinue operation of certain electronic banking services at any time based on security or other factors, we also reserve the right to set a lower dollar limit for POS transactions occurring during a disruption of the electronic connection between a merchant and Citibank.

Security Tips

We want you to be safe when you use any ATM or Debit card. You can help prevent unauthorized access to your accounts by following these simple steps:

- Treat your Citibank® Banking Card and other types of devices used to access your accounts like cash. Do not leave them where others can find them. Do not give them to anyone to hold as “security” for any reason and do not use them to show another customer how an ATM works.
- Keep your Personal Identification Number (PIN), Telephone Access Code (TAC) and other codes used to access your accounts secret. Do not tell them to anyone. Do not write them on your Citibank® Banking Card or keep them in your wallet or purse.
- Change your PIN periodically.
- Review your account statements regularly and let us know right away of any discrepancies.
- Always be alert and aware of your surroundings when using ATMs, particularly later than a half hour after sunset.
- Consider having someone accompany you when using an ATM later than a half hour after sunset.
- Immediately report crimes and suspicious activity at ATM locations to local law enforcement officials as well as to the owners/operators of the ATMs.
- Be sure to completely close the door behind you when you enter or leave an ATM lobby.
- Be careful about giving information about your Access Device over the telephone.
- Never begin an ATM transaction if there is not enough light or you notice anything suspicious — go to a different location or come back at another time.
- Do not permit any unknown person to enter after regular banking hours.
- If you notice anything suspicious: Always cancel a transaction-in-progress, end your session, place your Citibank® Banking Card in your pocket and leave the ATM location.
- Never display cash at ATM locations. Place cash and your Citibank® Banking Card in your pocket as soon as you complete your transaction. Count cash in a safe location, such as a locked car, home or office.
- Always take your ATM receipt with you when you leave — do not leave it near the ATM.
- Be aware that many ATM machines record activity by a surveillance camera or cameras.

Please address any questions or complaints concerning security at Proprietary Citibank ATMs to CitiPhone Banking® at the number on the back of your Citibank® Banking Card or in the “Contact Us” section of this Client Manual.

For emergency assistance at any U.S. Citibank or U.S. Network ATM, please call 911.

Transactions Made Outside of the United States and its Territories

We will apply a foreign exchange fee equal to 3% of the transaction amount (including credit and reversals) for each international debit card purchase or ATM withdrawal transaction (including those at Proprietary Citibank ATMs) made in a currency other than U.S. Dollars when the transaction is conducted outside the 50 United States and its territories. Fee is waived for Citigold, Citi Priority, Citi Private Bank, and International Personal Bank U.S. accounts.

Currency Conversion Methods. Transactions made in foreign currency will be converted into U.S. dollars according to the current policies of the merchant, network or card association that processes the transaction:

- Transactions processed by Citibank are converted into a U.S. dollar amount using Citibank's procedures in effect at the time the transaction is processed. Currently, the currency conversion rate used to determine the transaction amount in U.S. dollars is based on either (1) a wholesale market rate or (2) a government-mandated rate in effect one day prior to the processing date. Transaction types currently processed by Citibank include ATM withdrawals made at many Proprietary Citibank ATMs outside the United States or Puerto Rico.
- Transactions processed by MasterCard® currently use a conversion rate that is either: (a) selected from a range of rates available in the wholesale currency markets on the processing date (Note: this rate may be different from the rate that MasterCard® receives), or (b) the government-mandated rate. Transaction types currently processed by MasterCard® include Signature-based POS transactions and ATM withdrawals (including those at certain Proprietary Citibank ATMs). Please note that PIN-based POS transactions cannot be made at international locations. Citibank® Debit Cards can still be used to make Signature-based POS purchases.

The currency conversion rate in effect on the processing date may differ from the rate in effect on the transaction date or the posting date.

Lost or Stolen Citibank® Banking Cards or Other Access Devices and Unauthorized Electronic Transactions

Consumer Liability for transactions covered by Regulation E

If any of your Access Devices are lost or stolen, it is your responsibility to notify us immediately. Please call CitiPhone Banking® at the number in the "Contact Us" section of this Manual.

Please remember that your Citibank® Banking Card and all of your Access Devices are valuable, and it is important for you to exercise care with them. To protect your personal and account information, be sure to keep your PIN and other Access Devices secure. As a general practice, we recommend that you periodically change your PIN.

Tell us at once if you believe any of your Access Devices, including but not limited to your Citibank® Banking Card, has been lost or stolen, or if you believe that an electronic fund transfer has been made without your permission using information from your check. Telephoning is the best way of keeping your possible losses down. You could lose all the money in your account (plus your maximum overdraft line of credit). Call CitiPhone Banking® at 1-888-CITIBANK or use the number in the "Contact Us" section of this Manual. Customer service representatives are available to assist you 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. If you tell us within two (2) Business Days after you learn of the loss or theft of your Access Device, you can lose no more than $50 if someone uses your Access Device without your permission, subject to zero liability protection.

If you do NOT notify us within two (2) Business Days after you learn of the loss or theft of your Access Device, and we can prove we could have stopped someone from using your Access Device without your permission if you had told us, you could lose as much as $500, subject to zero liability protection.

Also, if your statement shows transfers that you did not make, including those made by card, code or other means, notify us at once. If you do not notify us within sixty (60) days after the statement was mailed to you, you may not get back any money you lost after the sixty (60) days if we can prove that we could have stopped someone from taking the money if you had informed us in time. If a good reason (such as a long trip or a hospital stay) kept you from notifying us, we will extend the time periods.

The following additional terms are applicable if the governing state law of your account is that of one of the states listed below:

California

Within this section, the paragraph above describing liability up to $500 shall not apply.

New York

Within this section, your liability for the unauthorized use of your Citibank® Banking Card shall not exceed $50.

Citibank® Banking Card Zero Liability Protection

If your Citibank® Banking Card is used in conjunction with an unauthorized transaction your liability for unauthorized use as described above, will not exceed:

- i. $0 if
  - you report the loss or theft of your card promptly upon discovery of such loss or theft; and
  - you exercised reasonable care in safeguarding your card from the risk of loss or theft; and
  - the account to which transactions initiated with your card were posted is in good condition; or
- ii. The lesser of $50 or the amount of money, property, labor or services obtained by the unauthorized user before notification to the bank if all conditions listed in section (i) above have not been met.

Contact in Event of Unauthorized Transfer

If you believe your Access Device has been lost or stolen call: CitiPhone Banking® at 1-888-CITIBANK or write: Citibank Client Services, P.O. Box 769004, San Antonio, Texas 78245-9989. You should also call the number or write to the address listed above if you believe a transfer has been made using the information from your check without your permission.

Error Resolution and Notice Procedures for Claims or Questions concerning Consumer International Global Transfers and International Wire Transfers

If you think there has been an error or you need more information about your transfer, you must contact Citibank (International Global Transfer: 1-866-515-1725 (TTY: We accept 711 or other Relay Service); International Wire Transfer: 1-888-606-9716 (TTY: We accept 711 or other Relay Service) or write to Client Research, Citibank Client Services, P.O. Box 769014, San Antonio, TX 78245-9014) within one hundred and eighty (180) days of the date indicated by Citibank that the funds would be available to the beneficiary of that transfer. At that time, you may be asked to provide the following information: 1) your name, address, and account number; 2) the name of the person receiving the funds, and if you know it, his or her telephone number or address; 3) the dollar amount of the transfer; 4) the reference code for the transfer; and 5) a description of the error or why you need additional information. We may also ask you to select a choice of remedy (credit to your account in an amount necessary to resolve the error or alternatively, a resend of the transfer for those cases where bank error is found). Citibank will determine whether an error has occurred within ninety (90) days after you contact the bank.

If Citibank determines that an error has occurred, we will promptly correct that error in accordance with the remedy option(s) available to you. In all cases, we will provide you with a written explanation of the results of our investigation. You may also ask for copies of the documents we used in our investigation.

Cancellation Inquiries: You have the right to cancel your international funds transfer request for a full refund within thirty (30) minutes of your authorizing payment for the transfer, unless the funds have been picked up or deposited.

To cancel a Consumer Citibank Global Transfer, please call 1-866-515-1725 (TTY: We accept 711 or other Relay Service) or sign into citibankonline.com. When cancelling by phone, you will need to provide us with information to help identify the funds transfer you wish to cancel, including the amount and location where the funds were to be sent. Any refund will be made no later than three business days of your request to cancel.

To cancel a Consumer International Wire Transfer, please call 1-888-606-9716 (TTY: We accept 711 or other Relay Service ) and for Citibank Online initiated wire transfers, you can cancel online. When cancelling by phone, you will need to provide us with information to help identify the funds transfer you wish to cancel, including the amount and location where the funds were to be sent. Any refund will be made no later than three business days of your request to cancel.

Error Resolution and Notice Procedures for all other Electronic Fund Transfers

If your statement or transaction record is wrong or if you need more information about a transfer listed on your statement or record, contact us as soon as possible by calling us at 1-888-Citibank or by writing to us at Client Research, Citibank Client Services, P.O. Box 769014, San Antonio, Texas 78245-9014.

NOTE: If the error concerns an ATM network transaction, be sure to contact Citibank or Citigroup Global Markets Inc. — depending on the institution holding the account from which you were attempting to withdraw funds — not the financial institution that operates the machine. We need to hear from you no later than sixty (60) days after we sent the FIRST statement on which the problem or error appeared.

1. Notify us of your name and account number (if any)
2. Describe the error or the transfer you are unsure about, and explain as clearly as you can why you believe it is an error or why you need more information
3. Notify us of the dollar amount of the suspected error.

If you tell us orally, we may require that you send us your complaint or question in writing within ten (10) Business Days. We will determine whether an error occurred within ten (10) Business Days after we hear from you and will correct any error promptly. If we need more time, however, we may take up to forty-five (45) days to investigate your complaint or question. If we decide to do this, we will provisionally credit your account within ten (10) Business Days for the amount you think is in error, so that you will have the use of the money during the time it takes us to complete our investigation. For new accounts (where the notice of error involves an electronic funds transfer to or from your account, that occurred within thirty (30) days after the first deposit to the account was made), we can take up to twenty (20) Business Days to determine whether an error occurred and up to twenty (20) days to provisionally credit your account for the amount you think is in error. If we need more time, however, we may take up to ninety (90) days to investigate your complaint or question. For errors involving point-of-sale or foreign-initiated transactions, we may also take up to ninety (90) days to investigate your complaint or question.

If we ask you to put your complaint or question in writing and we do not receive it within ten (10) Business Days, we may not provisionally credit your account.

In any case, we will tell you the results of our investigation within three (3) Business Days after completing our investigation. If we decide that there was no error, we will send you a written explanation. You may ask for copies of the documents that we used in our investigation.

Credit for an Electronic Fund Transfer is provisional until the Error Resolution process is complete. If we give you provisional credit, you have full use of the funds while we investigate your claim. This provisional credit is conditional and will either be made permanent or removed, depending on the outcome of our investigation. If we determine you are responsible for part or all of the Electronic Funds Transfer, you become obligated to us for that amount.

Our Responsibility to You

If we do not complete a transfer to or from your account on time or in the correct amount according to our Agreement with you, we will be liable for your losses or damages. However, there are some exceptions. We will not be liable, for instance:

1. If, through no fault of ours, you do not have enough money in your account to make the transfer;
  2. If the transfer would go over the credit limit on your overdraft line;
  3. If the automated teller machine where you are making the transfer does not have enough cash and you continue to request the transfer when you know the ATM does not have sufficient cash;
  4. If the automated teller machine or POS terminal was not working properly and you knew about the breakdown when you started the transfer;
  5. If circumstances beyond our control (such as fire or flood or other conditions listed under “Limitation of Liability”) prevent the transfer, despite reasonable precautions that we have taken.

There may be other exceptions stated in our Agreement with you.

Your Responsibility to Us When Utilizing Funds Transfer Services

These procedures describe your rights and liability for errors involving unauthorized transactions or those in an incorrect amount to or from your account.

- You are responsible for resolving any payment or other disputes that you have with other persons to whom you send money to or request money from using a funds transfer service.
- You are responsible for keystroke or other errors such as inputting an incorrect account number or mobile phone number or email address associated with a person you send money to or request money from using a funds transfer service.

Confidentiality at Citibank

We will disclose information to third parties about your account or the transfers you make:

- i. When it is necessary for completing transfers;
- ii. In order to verify the existence and condition of your account for a third party such as a credit bureau or merchant;
- iii. In order to comply with government agency or court orders; or
- iv. If you give us your permission.

Because our statements may include information about linked accounts belonging to more than one individual and your accounts with other Citibank affiliates, statements released under a subpoena or as otherwise required or permitted by law may contain information regarding those other persons and accounts.

For additional information about our privacy practices, see our “Consumer Privacy Notice.”

Limitation of Liability

Except as otherwise required by law, we are not liable to you for any claim, cost, loss or damage caused by an event that is beyond our reasonable control. In particular, we are not liable to you if circumstances beyond our reasonable control prevent us from, or delay us in, performing our obligations for a service, including acting on a payment order, crediting a funds transfer to your account, processing a transaction or crediting your account. Circumstances beyond our reasonable control include, but are not limited to, natural disasters such as a tornado, hurricane, earthquake or flood, emergency conditions, such as a war, terrorist attack, riot, fire, theft or labor dispute; a legal constraint or governmental action or inaction; the breakdown or failure of our equipment for any reason, including a loss of electric power, the breakdown of any private or common carrier communication or transmission facilities, any time-sharing supplier or any mail or courier service; the potential violation of any guideline, rule or regulation of any government authority; suspension of payments by another bank; or your act, omission, negligence or fault. We will never be liable for special, incidental, exemplary, punitive or consequential losses or damages of any kind resulting from the conditions stated in this “Limitation of Liability” section.

In connection with any transaction or service provided under this Manual, IN NO EVENT WILL EITHER YOU OR THE BANK, OR ITS AFFILIATES, OFFICERS, DIRECTORS, EMPLOYEES, OR AGENTS BE LIABLE TO THE OTHER PARTY FOR ANY SPECIAL, CONSEQUENTIAL, INDIRECT OR PUNITIVE DAMAGES, WHETHER ANY CLAIM IS BASED ON CONTRACT, STATUTE, OR TORT, OR WHETHER THE LIKELIHOOD OF SUCH DAMAGES WAS KNOWN TO ANY PARTY. The foregoing limitation of liability will not apply where expressly prohibited by the laws governing your account.

PLEASE READ THIS PROVISION OF THE AGREEMENT CAREFULLY.

THIS SECTION PROVIDES THAT DISPUTES MAY BE RESOLVED BY BINDING ARBITRATION. ARBITRATION REPLACES THE RIGHT TO GO TO COURT, HAVE A JURY TRIAL OR INITIATE OR PARTICIPATE IN A CLASS ACTION. IN ARBITRATION, DISPUTES ARE RESOLVED BY AN ARBITRATOR, NOT A JUDGE OR JURY. ARBITRATION PROCEDURES ARE SIMPLER AND MORE LIMITED THAN IN COURT. THIS ARBITRATION PROVISION IS GOVERNED BY THE FEDERAL ARBITRATION ACT (FAA), AND SHALL BE INTERPRETED IN THE BROADEST WAY THE LAW WILL ALLOW.

Covered Disputes

You or we may arbitrate any claims, dispute or controversy between you and us arising out of or related to your account(s), a previous related account or our relationship (called “Disputes”).

If arbitration is chosen by any party, neither you nor we will have the right to litigate that Dispute in court or have a jury trial on that Dispute.

Except as stated below, all Disputes are subject to arbitration no matter what legal theory they are based on or what remedy (damages, or injunctive or declaratory relief) they seek, including claims based on contract, tort (including intentional tort), fraud, agency, your or our negligence, statutory or regulatory provisions, or any other sources of law; claims made as counterclaims, cross-claims, third party claims, interpleaders or otherwise; claims made regarding past, present or future conduct; and claims made independently or with other claims. Disputes include any unresolved claims concerning any services relating to such account, including without limitation, safe deposit box services, wire transfer services, and use of a Citibank® Banking Card or Citibank® Banking Card displaying the MasterCard® Brand Mark. This also includes claims made by or against anyone connected with us or you or claiming through us or you, or by someone making a claim through us or you, such as a joint account owner, account beneficiary, employee, agent, representative, predecessor or successor, heir, assignee, trustee in bankruptcy, or an affiliated/parent/subsidiary company. A party who initiates a proceeding in court may elect arbitration with respect to any dispute advanced in that proceeding by any other party. Disputes include claims made as part of a class action or other representative action, it being expressly understood and agreed to that the arbitration of such claims must proceed on an individual (non-class, non-representative) basis. Disputes also include claims relating to the enforceability or interpretation of any of these arbitration provisions. Any questions about whether Disputes are subject to arbitration shall be resolved by interpreting this arbitration provision in the broadest way the law will allow it to be enforced.

Arbitration Limits

Individual Disputes filed in a small claims court are not subject to arbitration, as long as the matter stays in small claims court.

We won’t initiate arbitration to collect a debt from you unless you choose to arbitrate or assert a Dispute against us. If you assert a Dispute against us, we can choose to arbitrate, including actions to collect a debt from you. You may arbitrate on an individual basis Disputes brought against you, including Disputes to collect a debt.

Disputes brought as part of a class action, private attorney general or other representative action can be arbitrated only on an individual basis. The arbitrator has no authority to arbitrate any claim on a class or representative basis and may award relief only on an individual basis. If arbitration is chosen by any party, neither you nor we may pursue a Dispute as part of a class action or other representative action. Disputes of 2 or more persons may not be combined in the same arbitration. However, joint account owners, account beneficiaries, agents, representatives, heirs, or a trustee in a bankruptcy on your account and/or related accounts, or corporate affiliates are here considered as one person.

How Arbitration Works

Arbitration shall be conducted by the American Arbitration Association (“AAA”) according to this arbitration provision and the applicable AAA arbitration rules in effect when the Dispute is filed (“AAA Rules”), except where those rules conflict with this arbitration provision. You can obtain a copy of the AAA Rules at the AAA’s website (adr.org) or by calling 1-800-778-7879. You or we may choose to have a hearing, appear at any hearing by phone or other electronic means, and/or be represented by counsel. Any in-person hearing will be held in the same city as the U.S. District Court closest to your home address.

Arbitration may be requested at any time, even when there is a pending lawsuit, unless a trial has begun or a final judgment entered. Neither you nor we waive the right to arbitrate by filing or serving a complaint, answer, counterclaim, motion or discovery in a court lawsuit. To choose arbitration, a party may file a motion to compel arbitration in a pending matter and/or commence arbitration by submitting the required AAA forms and requisite filing fees to the AAA.

The arbitration shall be decided by a single arbitrator in accord with this arbitration provision and the AAA Rules, which may limit discovery. The arbitrator shall not apply any federal or state rules of civil procedure or discovery, but the arbitrator shall honor claims of privilege recognized at law, and shall take reasonable steps to protect account information and other confidential information of either party if requested to do so. The arbitrator shall apply applicable substantive law consistent with the FAA and applicable statute of limitations, and award damages or other relief under applicable law.

The arbitrator shall make any award in writing and, if requested by you or us, may provide a brief statement of the reasons for the award. An arbitration award shall decide the rights and obligations only of the parties named in the arbitration, and shall not have any bearing on any other person or dispute.

Paying for Arbitration Fees

We’ll pay your share of the arbitration fee for an arbitration of Disputes of $74,000 or less if they are unrelated to debt collection. Otherwise, arbitration fees will be allocated according to the applicable AAA Rules. If we prevail, we may not recover our arbitration fees, unless the arbitrator decides your Dispute was frivolous. All parties are responsible for their own attorney’s fees, expert fees and any other expenses, unless the arbitrator awards such fees or expenses to you or us based on applicable law.

The Final Award

Any award by an arbitrator is final unless a party appeals it in writing to the AAA within 30 days of notice of the award. The arbitration appeal shall be determined by a panel of 3 arbitrators. The panel will consider all facts and legal issues anew based on the same evidence presented in the prior arbitration, and will make decisions based on a majority vote. Arbitration fees for the arbitration appeal shall be allocated according to the applicable AAA Rules. An award by a panel on appeal is final. A final award is subject to judicial review as provided by applicable law.

Right to Resort to Provisional Remedies Preserved

Nothing herein shall be deemed to limit or constrain our right to resort to self-help remedies, such as the right of setoff or the right to restrain funds in an account, to interplead funds in the event of a Dispute, to exercise any security interest or lien we may hold in property, or to comply with legal process, or to obtain provisional remedies such as injunctive relief, attachment, or garnishment by a court having appropriate jurisdiction; provided, however, that you or we may elect to arbitrate any Dispute related to such provisional remedies.

Survival and Severability of Terms

These arbitration provisions shall survive changes in this Agreement and termination of the account or the relationship between you and us, including the bankruptcy of any party and any sale of your account, or amounts owed on your account, to another person or entity.

If any part of this arbitration provision is deemed invalid or unenforceable, the other terms shall remain in force, except that there can be no arbitration of a class or representative Dispute. This arbitration provision may not be amended, severed or waived, except as provided in this Agreement or in a written agreement between you and us.

Rules for Rejecting This Arbitration Provision

You may reject this arbitration provision by sending a written rejection notice to us at: 100 Citibank Drive, Attn: Arbitration Opt Out, San Antonio, TX 78245. Your rejection notice must be mailed within 45 days of account opening. Your rejection notice must state that you reject the arbitration provision and include your name, address, account number and personal signature. No one else may sign the rejection notice. Your rejection notice will not apply to the arbitration provision(s) governing any other account(s) that you have or had with us. Rejection of this arbitration provision won't affect your other rights or responsibilities under this Agreement, including use of the account.

Appendix 1: Introduction to Simplified Banking

You may have noticed Citi has introduced simplified banking for customers who open new accounts. By 2025, all existing customers are scheduled to convert to simplified banking.

Although you're scheduled to automatically convert at a future date, you can skip the wait and convert to simplified banking before your conversion date by initiating Early Access.

If you do not wish to convert to simplified banking at this time, please be aware that there may be instances where conversion through Early Access may be required, including when you:

- 1) apply for a new deposit account,
- 2) apply for a Checking Plus® Line of Credit account, or
- 3) request to add additional owners to your accounts.

Before choosing Early Access or engaging in the activities that will initiate Early Access, learn how simplified banking will impact you and your accounts. You can speak to a banker or see your simplified banking snapshot available on Citi Online and the Citi Mobile® App.

A summary of the simplified banking changes is included in this notice. To learn more, please visit citi.com/simplifiedbanking. Until you convert to simplified banking, your customer agreement will continue to be the Client Manual — Consumer Accounts and Marketplace Addendum (CMMA). After you convert to simplified banking, your customer agreement will be the Consumer Deposit Account Agreement (CMA) which includes certain changes to terms in the CMMA and new terms set forth in this notice. The remainder of the CMA is a restatement of the CMMA. You can review both agreements at citi.com/accountagreementsandnotices and in Citibank branches. Both agreements are subject to change at any time without notice to you unless required by law.

Introducing automatic linking of accounts

With simplified banking, all eligible deposit and investment (EDI) accounts you own are automatically linked to determine one Combined Average Monthly Balance (CAMB). Automatic linking between EDI accounts occurs when customers own only deposit accounts or own both deposit and Investment Accounts. You can learn which of the EDI accounts you own contribute to your CAMB by speaking to a banker or reviewing your CMA.

Introducing Relationship Tiers

Relationship Tiers — beginning at $30,000 with Citi Priority, and followed by Citigold® and Citigold® Private Client — automatically adjust if your CAMB in EDI Accounts over three consecutive calendar months is eligible for a different Relationship Tier or no longer eligible for a Relationship Tier.

- If you increase your balances: If your CAMB range meets the minimum Balance Range required for a higher Relationship Tier for three consecutive calendar months, you'll automatically be Up-Tiered.
- If you decrease your balances: If you want to maintain your Relationship Tier, you need to make sure your CAMB does not drop below your Relationship Tier's minimum Balance Range for three consecutive calendar months.
- Certain managing directors working for Citigroup in the United States are eligible to receive premium banking benefits and services in the Citigold Relationship Tier. Please speak to your Relationship Manager or Financial Advisor to learn more and join this Tier Exclusion.

Introducing Family Linking

If you join Family Linking, your CAMB will include EDI accounts you own, along with those of your immediate family members who live with you. Once you've set up Family Linking, you'll be able to view the CAMB range for your Family Link each month on your Account Statements.

Please note: Uniform Transfers to Minors Act (UTMA) / Uniform Gifts to Minors Act (UGMA) accounts and Special Title accounts and their beneficial owners are ineligible for Early Access.

General Information

Account Packages

At Citibank, we are committed to giving our customers superior service and value by providing you with solutions designed to meet your individual needs. Our various offerings of account packages can help you achieve your financial goals and simplify the way you manage your money.

Now, you can keep track of your finances in one place and receive the personalized service and recognition you deserve. Our account packages can provide you with more rewards when you bank with Citibank and certain affiliates. By bringing your deposits together with your investments with Citigroup Global Markets Inc. ("CGMI") into the same package, or by adding deposit accounts owned by others or owned jointly with you into the same package, you may reduce or even eliminate service fees on some account packages and may be eligible for other rebates and benefits provided today or in the future. For select account types, you may be able to earn better rates on your deposits. You may receive one or more periodic statements that includes all or some of your accounts.

By linking eligible accounts you own with eligible accounts owned by others (including within Account Packages and among different Account Packages), you agree to combine account balances with those other owners for the purposes of determining package balances and total account balances. Total account balances may result in you receiving benefits, rebates, and deeper relationship statuses. If accounts owned by others in the same packages are members of your Immediate Family, you agree to combine balances in eligible accounts that you own with those Immediate Family Members, whether held at Citibank or its affiliates. Linking restrictions apply. As of August 21, 2023, clients in the Citigold®, Citigold® Private Client, Citi Priority, Citibank®, Basic Banking, Access, Citi Elevate<sup>SM</sup>, and Citi Miles Ahead<sup>SM</sup> Banking Packages will no longer be able to establish new account links between accounts they own or through Household Linking of Account Packages.

Access Account Package

Important Notice:

As of August 21, 2023, the Citigold Account Package, Citi Priority Account Package, Citibank Account Package, Basic Account Package, and Access Account Package have been discontinued.

As of August 21, 2023, clients in the Citigold®, Citigold® Private Client, Citi Priority, Citibank®, Basic Banking, Access, Citi Elevate<sup>SM</sup>, and Citi Miles Ahead<sup>SM</sup> Banking Packages will no longer be able to convert their banking package or establish new account links between accounts they own or through Household Linking of Account Packages.

Overview

An Access Account Package can consist of a Regular Checking account that does not offer a check writing feature and/or a Citi Savings account, Citi Accelerate Savings account, or Citibank Savings Plus Account, which can be linked for pricing and statement purposes. No other products are eligible for this package.

Only a checkless Regular Checking account, Citi Savings Account, or Citi Accelerate Savings account may be opened in an Access Account Package. With the Access Account Package you can utilize benefits such as electronic bill payment, Citibank® Banking Card and Citibank® Global Transfer Service.

- Checks cannot be ordered for any account in an Access Account Package.
- The Access Account Package is designed so that certain transactions in a checkless Regular Checking or savings account in an Access Account Package will not be authorized.<sup>32</sup>

A new Checking Plus® (variable rate) line of credit cannot be linked to the Access Account Package for overdraft protection. This includes situations where an existing Access Account holder may have previously had a linked Checking Plus account that was subsequently closed.

Existing checkless Regular Checking accounts with a linked Checking Plus® line of credit will continue to retain their linked Checking Plus line of credit as well as access to the Safety Check overdraft protection service.

Checks cannot be ordered or written on checkless Regular Checking accounts or savings accounts in an Access Account Package. Any transactions to a checkless Regular Checking or savings account in an Access Account Package that involve a check, including written checks, check by phone or third-party authorizations that come through as a check will not be honored.

Checks should not be ordered from any source for a checkless Regular Checking account or savings account in an Access Account Package. When providing account and routing numbers to merchants to make a payment, (whether in person, electronically or over the phone) you need to ensure that the merchant is using the ACH (Automated Clearing House) system to process the transaction as an electronic debit, as ACH is an accepted form of payment for these account types. If the merchant processes a payment as a check, the check will be rejected and not paid. You may be charged a fee by the merchant if this happens.

Footnotes:

<sup>32</sup> Any PIN-based or Point of Sale, ACH or Debit card transaction, or ATM withdrawal initiated for an amount over your available account balance will be declined.

Household Linking

Balances from other packages in the household are not used to offset monthly fees. Balances from accounts in an Access Account Package can contribute to the combined average monthly balances of a household that has another Citibank account package to avoid monthly service fees in that package, except for a Basic Banking or Access Account Package. For additional information about household linking, please refer to the section of this Marketplace Addendum titled "Household Linking of Account Packages."

Access Account with a checkless Regular Checking Account

An Access Account Package with a checkless Regular Checking account is Access Checking. The following fees and charges apply to an Access Account Package with a checkless Regular Checking when they are not otherwise waived:

Fees

The applicable Access Account Package monthly service fee is determined by whether you have a checkless Regular Checking account only, an Access Savings account only or have linked checkless Regular Checking account and savings accounts in one Access Account Package.

For checkless Regular Checking, the monthly service fee of $10.00 may be waived in any month in which you complete any of the following Qualifying Transactions during the statement period: one Enhanced Direct Deposit credited to a checkless Regular Checking or savings account in an Access Account Package OR one Qualifying Bill Payment posted to checkless Regular Checking OR, if you maintain $1,500 or more in combined average monthly deposit balances for the calendar month that ends prior to the last Business Day of your monthly statement period. (NOTE: The combined average monthly balance of $1,500 or more applies to all deposit accounts that are open in the month prior to the statement period.)

For savings accounts, the $4.50 monthly service fee can only be waived if you maintain $500 or more in combined average savings or money market account balances for the calendar month that ends prior to the last Business Day of your monthly statement period.

When an Access Account Package has a checkless Regular Checking account and an savings account, the Access Account Package Checking monthly service fee will be charged for both accounts together, subject to being waived for any month in which the Qualifying Transactions specified above are completed during the statement period, or in which the combined average monthly balance in qualifying linked deposit accounts is $1,500 or more for the calendar month that ends prior to the last Business Day of your monthly statement period. There is no separate savings account monthly service fee for a savings or money market account when it is linked to a checkless Regular Checking account in an Access Account Package.

Footnotes:

<sup>36</sup> When not linked to a checkless Regular Checking account, savings or money market account balances for the calendar month prior to the end of the monthly statement period will be used to determine your Average Savings Balance and, therefore, your fee, which will appear as a charge on the statement you receive for the next monthly period.

<sup>37</sup> If a savings account is linked to a checkless Regular Checking account, there is no separate monthly service fee for the savings account, regardless of account balance, unless the checkless Regular Checking account is closed.

<sup>39</sup> Fees charged to you by other institutions for transactions on non-Citibank ATMs are beyond Citibank's control and are in addition to the fees listed here. If you are charged a fee for the use of a Proprietary Citibank ATM, please contact us for a full refund.

Citi Miles Ahead<sup>SM</sup> Banking Package

- Only one (1) Citi Miles Ahead Banking Package with one (1) Citi Miles Ahead Savings Account may be associated with the selected Citi®/AAdvantage® Consumer Credit Card to which the offer applies.
- Eligible customers must have a residential/home (not mailing) address in an Eligible Location to apply for the Citi Miles Ahead Banking Package. Eligible Locations include Armed Forces America, U.S. Armed Forces — Europe, Alaska, Alabama, U.S. Armed Forces — Pacific, Arkansas, American Samoa, Arizona, Colorado, Delaware, Georgia, Guam, Hawaii, Iowa, Idaho, Indiana, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Massachusetts, Maine, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Northern Mariana Islands, Mississippi, Montana, North Carolina, North Dakota, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Mexico, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Puerto Rico, Rhode Island, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Virgin Islands, Vermont, Washington, Wisconsin, West Virginia, Wyoming and select markets in Florida and Illinois.

Additional AAdvantage® Miles (25% more miles)

The Citi Miles Ahead Banking Package will be associated with only the specific Citi®/AAdvantage® Credit Card Account to which the Offer applies (“Card Account”).

After you open a Citi Miles Ahead Savings Account in the Citi Miles Ahead Banking Package and deposit a minimum of ten thousand dollars ($10,000) in your Citi Miles Ahead Savings Account (the date of the deposit is the “Additional Miles Eligibility Date”), you will earn 25% more AAdvantage® Miles for the first fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) in purchases per calendar year that appear on your Card Account billing statements issued after your Additional Miles Eligibility Date (“Additional AAdvantage® Miles”). We will multiply the total amount of AAdvantage® miles earned on purchases made using this Card Account during a billing cycle in which you are eligible for Additional AAdvantage® Miles by 25% and add that resulting number of AAdvantage® miles to your AAdvantage® account. For example, if per the terms of your Citi®/AAdvantage® Card Account you earn 1,000 AAdvantage® Miles for purchases made in a billing cycle, then you will earn an additional 250 AAdvantage® miles for that billing cycle. The initial posting of Additional AAdvantage® Miles may occur up to 1-2 billing cycles following the Additional Miles Eligibility Date.

Additional AAdvantage® Miles Exclusions

You will not earn Additional AAdvantage® Miles for:

- Purchases appearing on a Card Account billing statement if the average monthly balance on deposit in your Citi Miles Ahead Savings Account was less than ten thousand dollars ($10,000) for the calendar month preceding the Card Account billing statement date. For example, if your Card Account billing statement is dated July 10, and the average monthly balance in your Citi Miles Ahead Savings Account for the month of June was nine thousand ($9,000) dollars, then you will not earn Additional AAdvantage® Miles for purchases appearing on that July 10 billing statement.
- AAdvantage® Miles earned through promotional offers on your Citi®/AAdvantage® Credit Card, including acquisition bonus mile offers or other promotional bonus mile offers made to existing cardmembers.

Average monthly balance is calculated through the last business day of the month; see your Citi Miles Ahead Savings Account statement for more information.

- The following savings and checking accounts do not qualify for the Citi Savings New Account Rate Offer: Citi Accelerate Savings, Citi Miles Ahead Savings, savings and checking accounts that are fiduciary, estate, business, retirement (IRAs, SEPs, CESAs, money purchase pension plans and profit-sharing plans), and savings and checking accounts held in the International Personal Bank, Citi Alliance, and Citi Private Bank. #### Required Activities

First, deposit at least the “Minimum Balance” in New-to-Citibank Funds into your New Savings Account within 10 Business Days of account opening. See the Rate Sheet provided. We will check your “On Deposit” balance in New-to-Citibank Funds on the 11th Business Day after you open your new Savings Account to determine if you meet the Minimum Balance and will continue to earn the Promotional Interest Rate.

- “New-to-Citibank Funds” are funds deposited from accounts external to Citibank, N.A. and deposited: using Zelle®, domestic ACH transfer, Direct Deposit, checks drawn on banks other than Citibank N.A. or wire transfer. Direct Deposits are electronic deposits through the Automated Clearing House (ACH) Network of payroll, pension, social security, government benefits and other payments to your checking or savings account. Cash deposits, Citi Global Transfers, Citi debit cards, transfers between Citibank accounts (other than as described above), international ACH transfers, funds from CitiBusiness accounts,

Mobile Check Deposits, and payments and deposits via person-to-person transfer services such as Apple Pay, PayPal®, and Venmo (except Zelle®) do not qualify as New-to-Citibank Funds, or Direct Deposits, for this Promotional Rate.

- You can deposit the Minimum Balance into a Citibank “Checking Account” in the same package if 1) the New-to-Citibank Funds are deposited within 10 days of opening the Savings Account, 2) the Checking Account is in the same package as the Savings Account, and 3) you transfer the New-to-Citibank Funds directly from the Checking Account into the Savings Account within 10 days of opening the Savings Account. Checking account restrictions apply. See Eligibility.

Second, maintain your Minimum Balance. For three (3) months after opening your Savings Account, you will receive the Promotional Interest Rate each day you maintain at least the Minimum Balance in your Savings Account, but please understand if your Balance drops below the Minimum Balance, your Promotional Interest Rate will expire, and your New Savings Account will receive the current (“Standard”) Interest Rate regardless of Balance. Please see the APYs and Interest Rates for this Offer chart in the Rate Sheet for the APYs applicable to your account.

Promotional Interest Rate Expiration. Once the Promotional Interest Rate expires, it cannot be reinstated, and your New Savings Account will be subject to the Standard Interest Rate in effect at that time. Your APY and Promotional Interest Rate will expire on the earliest of:

- Three (3) months after the date your Savings account is opened
- The date your Savings Account has earned the maximum amount of interest from the Promotional Interest Rate, see Maximum Interest Earned in the Rate Sheet or
- Any time after (10) Business Days from the time your account was opened, when your Balance drops below the Minimum Balance to receive the Promotional Interest Rate, as described in the Rate Sheet

Annual Percentage Yield (APY)

Annual Percentage Yield (APY), as used for the Promotional Rate, is a percentage rate reflecting the total amount of interest paid on an account, based on the combination of the Promotional Interest Rate with the current/ Standard Interest Rate that will apply after the Promotional Interest Rate expires, compounded daily for a period of one year assuming no fees, additional deposits or withdrawals, and the current/Standard Interest Rate remains the same for the rest of the one year period. The APY assumes the Promotional Interest Rate expires three (3) months after the account is opened or when the Maximum Interest Earned is reached, whichever is earlier.

Savings account rates are variable, determined by Citibank at its sole discretion, can change before and after account opening without notice, and may affect the actual amount of interest earned. Fees could reduce earnings. Your Rate Region, Banking Package, Account Balance, and the Citi Savings New Account Offer will determine the APY for your Savings Account. The Rate Sheet provided at the time of account opening will identify your account’s Rate Region. Please review your Client Manual – Consumer Accounts and Marketplace Addendum for account information. For current APYs and standard interest rates applicable to Savings accounts, please visit a Citibank branch or call 1-888-CITIBANK to speak to a banker.

Multiple Offers

Every Savings Account an eligible customer opens that meets Required Activities can participate in the Promotional Rate. Each New Savings Accounts can only be used for this New Account Rate once per Offer Period.

Important Tax Information: Interest received will be reported to the IRS as interest paid to the first titled owner on the account, in the year received, as required by applicable law. Interest received by U.S. Persons will be reported on IRS Form 1099-INT for the year received. Interest received by non-U.S. Persons will be reported on IRS Form 1042-S for the year received. Customer is responsible for applicable taxes and consulting a tax advisor. Citi is not a tax advisor.

IRS Circular 230 Disclosure: Citibank, N.A. its affiliates, and its employees are not in the business of providing tax or legal advice to any taxpayer outside of Citibank, N.A. and its affiliates. This document is not intended or written to be used, and cannot be used or relied upon, by any such taxpayer for the purpose of avoiding tax penalties. Any such taxpayer should seek advice based on the taxpayer's particular circumstances from an independent tax advisor.

Check Writing

The Citi Savings Account offers check writing in all packages except an Access Account Package. Any check transactions on a Citi Savings Account, in the Access Account Package that involve a check, including written checks, check by phone or third-party authorizations that come through as a check transaction will not be honored.

Interest Rates

The interest rates for the Citi Savings Account are variable, determined by Citibank at its sole discretion and can change at any time. For current interest rates and Annual Percentage Yields, please visit citibank.com, call CitiPhone Banking at 1-800-627-3999 or stop by your nearest Citibank branch.

When Interest Begins To Accrue

Non-Cash items, such as checks, deposited to a money market account begin to earn interest on the date Citibank receives credit for the funds. This date will be no later than the second Business Day after the Business Day the check deposit is received. A cash deposit begins to earn interest on the Business Day the cash deposit is received. (Please see the Client Manual — Consumer Accounts for definition of "Business Day.")

Fees

There is no separate monthly service fee for the Citi Savings Account. When a Citi Savings Account is opened, it must be in a package and is subject to the applicable monthly service and non-Citibank ATM fees of the applicable account package as disclosed in the "Information About Account Packages" section of this Addendum.

Uniform Transfers to Minors Accounts (UTMA), also known as Custodial accounts, will not be charged a monthly service fee for money market accounts when the beneficiary is younger than 18 years of age and the UTMA is the sole account in a Basic Banking Package or a Citibank® Account Package. An UTMA with a beneficiary 18 years of age or older, or in any other account or package type regardless of age, will be subject to the terms and conditions of their package including fees and minimum balance requirements for fee waivers.

Interest Calculation Method and Rate Information

We use the daily balance method to calculate the interest on Citi Savings Accounts. This method uses the daily balance of all deposited funds in your account on which we have received credit to determine the applicable interest rate tier for each day of the statement period. This method may cause a change in the amount of interest you earn depending on the daily balance changes in your account.

The principal in the account is reduced based upon the transaction date when a withdrawal or other debit transaction occurs, which is not always the same as the posting date. The principal balance on which interest is calculated may not be the same as that appearing on your periodic statement if there have been intervening transactions.

Account Balance Ranges for Interest Rate Calculations

$50,000 – $99,999.99

$100,000 – $499,999.99

$1,000,000+

We may assign the same interest rate to more than one balance range. Interest rates may vary depending on one or more of the following:

- Residential (not mailing) Address
- Rate Region
- Account Balance
- Account Package Type
- Relationship Status of Citigold

Please refer to your applicable rate sheet.

Interest Compounding and Crediting

Interest is compounded daily for the actual number of days your money is on deposit and is credited to your account monthly. Interest is computed using a 365-day year except in leap years when interest may be computed on a 366-day basis.

Interest Adjustments

An interest adjustment for a transaction occurring during a statement period may be reflected on your statement in the next statement period rather than in the statement period in which it occurs.

Linking

The balances in other Citibank accounts that are linked to the Citi Savings Account will not be included in the average balance calculation for the Citi Savings Account. The balance in the Citi Savings Account may be linked to contribute to the minimum balance requirements of eligible Citibank account packages.

Interest on Closed Accounts

If the account is closed before the end of the monthly statement period, interest will be paid for the number of days the account was open during the period in accordance with the daily balance method.

Interest Calculation Method and Rate Information

We use the daily balance method to calculate the interest on Citi® Accelerate Savings Accounts. This method may cause a change in the amount of interest you earn depending on the daily balance changes in your account. The principal in the account is reduced based upon the transaction date when a withdrawal or other debit transaction occurs, which is not always the same as the posting date. The principal balance on which interest is calculated may not be the same as that appearing on your periodic statement if there have been intervening transactions.

Certificate of Deposit

Key Features

Our certificates of deposit ("CD") are time accounts. When you open a CD, and each time a CD renews, you agree to leave your funds in the account for the term which is a specific amount of time. The Maturity Date is the last day of the term and the day the CD matures. The Maturity Date is the first day you can withdraw funds without paying an early withdrawal penalty. CDs have a fixed interest rate during the term.

CD Types and CD Terms

Citi offers three types of CD accounts.

- Certificates of Deposit: Multiple term options available.
  - Term options with interest paid monthly or at maturity: 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, and 12 Month CDs
  - Term options with interest paid monthly: 13, 14, 15, 18, and 30 Month CDs; 2, 3, 4, and 5 year CDs
- No Penalty Certificate of Deposit: Available for a 12 month term with the no penalty feature for the first term only, and interest paid monthly. The No Penalty CD allows withdrawal of your full balance and interest without penalty after the first six (6) calendar days you make the minimum deposit into your new CD and your deposit has been fully collected. An early withdrawal penalty applies to withdrawals made before the first 6 days. Partial withdrawals before maturity, including interest withdrawals, are not permitted. If you want to withdraw funds before maturity, you must close your No Penalty CD. No Penalty CDs automatically renew without the no penalty feature to a 12 month CD. You cannot renew an existing CD into a No Penalty CD. A No Penalty CD is only available for new No Penalty CD accounts. If you want to change your existing CD to a No Penalty CD, you must first close your existing CD and then open a new No Penalty CD.
- Step Up CD: Available for a 30 month term with the step up feature for the first term only, and interest paid monthly. The Step Up CD has 3 fixed interest rates for each period during the term beginning with Months 1 through 10, Months 11 through 20, and Months 21 through 30. Step Up CDs automatically renew without the step up feature to a 30 month CD. You cannot renew an existing CD to a new Step Up CD. A Step Up CD is only available for new Step Up CD accounts. If you want to change your existing CD to a Step Up CD, you must first close your existing CD and then open a new Step Up CD.

Minimum Balance

The minimum balance required to open a Certificate of Deposit account is $500. We may offer promotions, from time to time, which may require a different account opening balance. No additional deposits are permitted during the term. A CD account will automatically be closed after 20 consecutive calendar days with a zero balance. Citi reserves the right to close the CD if the balance falls below any applicable minimum balance requirement. We will notify you that we closed your account if required by law.

Monthly Service Fee

There is no monthly service fee for a Certificate of Deposit.

Linking of CD accounts in an account package

The balances in other Citibank accounts that are linked to the account will not be included in the balance calculation for rate determination of your Certificate of Deposit account. The balances in your Certificate of Deposit account may contribute to the balances of eligible Citibank account packages for the purposes of package fee determination.

Check Writing

Certificates of Deposit do not offer check writing.

APYs and Interest Rates

Annual Percentage Yield (APY) as used in this document is a percentage rate reflecting the total amount of interest paid on an account, based on the interest rate compounded daily for a period of one year assuming no fees, additional deposits or withdrawals, and the interest rate remains the same for the entire year.

“Interest Rate” is the annual interest paid represented as a percentage assuming no change in rate and does not reflect compounding.

Annual Percentage Yields and interest rates for CDs are determined by Citibank at its sole discretion and can change at any time without notice before a term begins for a new account and renewal. Interest rates are fixed for the CD term. The APY for a Step Up CD is a Composite APY based on 3 fixed interest rates during the term for Months 1 through 10, Months 11 through 20, and Months 21 through 30. The APY on your CD assumes interest will remain on deposit in the CD account until maturity. A withdrawal will reduce earnings. For current APYs and interest rates, please visit citi.com or the Citi Mobile App, call CitiPhone Banking® or stop by your nearest Citibank branch.

For a new CD, the APY and interest rate is based on the CD type, CD term, account balance, and applicable promotion at account opening. For a renewing CD, the APY and interest rate will be the APY and interest rate in effect on the CD renewal date for the CD term and account balance. When the APY is based on account balance, the applicable balance range will be used to determine your APY and interest rate; account balance may not be a factor for all CD terms. Citi may assign the same APY and interest rate to more than one balance range. Please refer to your applicable Rate Sheet. Balance ranges include:

$50,000 – $99,999.99

$100,000 – $499,999.99

$1,000,000+

Every CD account is assigned to a Rate Region at account opening, which is identified on the Rate Sheet provided at account opening. Citi reserves the right to apply an APY and interest rate based on the account's Rate Region, apply different APYs and interest rates for different Rate Regions, and assign the APY and interest rate applicable to a Rate Region based on one or more of the following: CD type, CD term, account balance, and applicable promotion.

Please refer to your applicable Rate Sheet to learn which factor(s) affect the APY and interest rate applicable to your Rate Region.

When Interest Begins to Accrue

Interest begins to accrue as of the calendar day you open your CD account.

Interest Compounding and Crediting

Interest is compounded daily starting as of the calendar day you open your CD account, for the actual number of days your money is on deposit. Interest is computed using a 365-day year except in leap years when interest may be computed on a 366-day basis.

All CDs are available with the monthly interest feature. CD terms of one year or less also are available with the interest at maturity feature. The No Penalty CD is only available with the monthly interest feature. When you select the interest at maturity feature, interest is credited on the Maturity Date. When you select the monthly interest feature, interest is credited to your account after the close of business on the last Business Day of each month, and on the Maturity Date. Interest is paid up to but not including the Maturity Date. If you open your CD or your CD renews during the last week of any month, interest from the new CD opening date or CD renewal date to the end of the month may be included with the interest for the first full month after the CD is opened or renewed. If the end of the month occurs during the Grace Period, interest accrued during the Grace Period will be included in the next month's interest for renewed CDs. If the CD account is closed before maturity, the interest minus any applicable early withdrawal penalty will be reflected in the closeout balance.

Interest Calculation Method

We use the daily balance method to calculate interest. This method applies a daily periodic rate to the balance in the account each day.

Interest Withdrawal

You may withdraw interest before maturity after it has been credited to your CD account without an early withdrawal penalty. You may request to have credited interest deposited to another account you have with us or sent to you in the form of a check. When your CD automatically renews and after the grace period, interest will be added to your principal balance and will no longer be available for withdrawal without penalty. No Penalty CDs do not allow partial withdrawals before maturity, including interest withdrawals.

The APY on your CD assumes interest will remain on deposit in the CD account until maturity. A withdrawal will reduce earnings.

Automatic Renewal and Grace Period

Your CD will automatically renew at maturity for the same CD term at the APY and interest rate in effect on the Maturity Date which is the renewal date, unless: (1) you change your CD term, or (2) the same term is not available and we notify you that your CD term is changing. Account promotions will not apply to renewing CDs, unless specifically stated otherwise.

If you do not want your CD to automatically renew, you can make changes during the Grace Period. The Grace Period begins on the day after the Maturity Date and is up to 7-calendar days. If the last day of the Grace Period is a non-Business Day (a weekend or bank holiday), the Grace Period ends on the last Business Day before the non-Business Day (the Grace Period End Date). During the Grace Period you can change your CD term, deposit additional funds, or withdraw funds without paying an early withdrawal penalty. If you change your term, make a deposit, or withdraw funds during the Grace Period: (a) the Grace Period will end that day, your renewed CD will have a new opening date which is your renewal date, your renewed CD will have a new Maturity Date, and you will not be able to make any changes without penalty until the new Maturity Date; (b) we will pay interest from the Maturity Date until the day before your new opening date (but not more than 7-calendar days) at the interest rate in effect on the Maturity Date; and (c) your renewed CD will be assigned the APY and interest rate in effect on your new opening date which is your CD renewal date.

Your account number will not change when your CD renews.

Early Withdrawal Penalties

Citibank will impose a substantial penalty if you withdraw any amount from the principal before the Maturity Date. It may be necessary to deduct all or a portion of the penalty from the principal amount of the deposit. Early withdrawal penalties are calculated on the amount of the principal withdrawn. A 90-day simple interest penalty will apply for CD terms of 1 year or less, and a 180-day simple interest penalty will apply for CD terms greater than one year. There is no early withdrawal penalty if the account owner dies or is declared legally incompetent.

The No Penalty CD allows withdrawal of your full balance and interest without penalty after the first six (6) calendar days you make the minimum deposit into your new CD account and your qualifying deposit has been fully collected. A No Penalty CD withdrawal made during the first 6 days will result in an early withdrawal penalty. A No Penalty CD does not allow partial withdrawals before maturity, including interest withdrawals.

This section will help you determine when deposits to your checking, savings and money market account(s) will be available for withdrawal.

Please note that the availability of deposits made via the Mobile Check Deposit service is described separately in the agreement governing that service.

Our General Policy

Our general policy is to make funds from any type of check deposit available to you no later than the first Business Day after the day of your deposit. This includes government checks, cashier’s checks and other special types of checks described below. Cash deposits with a teller or at a Proprietary Citibank ATM are generally available immediately on the same Business Day your deposit is received. Wire transfers and electronic direct deposits are also generally available on the same Business Day your deposit is received.

Once funds are available, you may withdraw the funds in cash or use them to pay checks and other items. In some cases, we may place longer delays on your deposit which means you will have to wait a few additional days before being able to use the funds. If we decide to place a longer delay at the time you make a deposit, you will be provided a notice that lets you know when your funds will become available to you. If your deposit is not made with a teller, or we decide to take this action after you have made your deposit, we will send a notice to you by the next Business Day. Please refer to the “Longer Delays May Apply” section for a description of these longer delays.

Determining the Date of Deposit

The day funds become available is determined by counting Business Days from the day of your deposit. Every day is a Business Day except Saturdays, Sundays, and federal holidays. If you make a deposit before our established cutoff time on a Business Day that we are open, we will consider that day to be the day of deposit. However, if you make a deposit after our cutoff time or on a non-business day, we will consider the next Business Day we are open to be the day your deposit is received.

- Deposits made in person with a teller before the end of the Business Day are considered received that day. The end of Business Day is posted at each branch and may vary by branch location.
- Deposits made at Proprietary Citibank ATMs and Network (non-Citibank) ATM facilities before 10:30 PM Eastern Time (9:30 PM Central Time; 7:30 PM Pacific Time) are considered received that day.
- Deposits made at a night depository are considered received by Citibank when the deposit is removed from the night depository, which will be no later than the next Business Day.
- Check deposits by mail. A check deposit received by mail is considered received on the day we receive it at the mail facility designated below. Check deposits made by mail and addressed to any other Citibank address will be forwarded to the designated facility for processing and will be considered received on the date the deposit is received by this facility.

Government Checks, Cashier's Checks and Other Special Types of Checks

Funds from the following types of checks are available no later than the first Business Day after the day we receive your deposit:

- U.S. Treasury Checks, Federal Reserve Bank checks, Federal Home Loan Bank checks
- Checks issued by a U.S. state or by the general purpose units of U.S. local governments
- U.S. postal money orders
- Cashier's checks, teller's checks, certified checks, and travelers checks
- Checks drawn on a Citibank, N.A. U.S. branch

Longer Delays May Apply

In some cases, we may not make all of the funds that you deposit by check (excluding the special types of checks described above) available by the first Business Day after the day of your deposit. Should this occur, you will be provided with a notice describing when the funds will be available at the time of your deposit. If your deposit is not made directly with a teller or we decide to take this action after you complete your deposit, we will send you a notice by the next Business Day. If you will need the funds from a deposit right away, you should ask us when the funds will be available. Depending on the total amount of your check deposits on any one day, the deposit amount may not become fully available to you until the fourth Business Day after the day of the deposit as follows:

Total deposit amounts up to $5,525

Funds from all check deposits on any one day that total $5,525 or less will be available on the third Business Day after the day of deposit. The first $225 of these check deposits will be available on the first Business Day after the day of deposit, an additional $450 will be available on the second Business Day after the day of deposit and the remainder of the deposit will be available on the third Business Day after the day of deposit.

Large dollar deposits greater than $5,525

If the total of your check deposits on any one day is greater than $5,525, the amount in excess of $5,525 will be available on the fourth Business Day after the day of deposit.

By way of example:

If you deposit a check (or multiple checks on any given day) that total(s) $10,000

- The first $225 of your deposit will be available on the first Business Day after the day of deposit
- An additional $450 will be available on the second Business Day
- An additional $4,850 will be available on the third Business Day
- The remaining $ 4,475 will be available on the fourth Business Day.

We may also delay the full amount of your check deposits for a longer period (up to 7 Business Days) under the following circumstances:

- Doubt of collectability — If we have reason to believe the check you have deposited will not be paid; we may delay availability of the funds represented by that check up to 7 Business Days. Should this occur, we will send you a deposit hold notice no later than the next Business Day after we decide to take this action.
- Emergency Situations — If we are unable to conduct business due to an interruption of communications, computer equipment facilities or other emergency conditions beyond our control such as the impact of a natural disaster, we may delay the availability of your deposited check up to 7 Business Days.

Special Rules for New Clients

You are considered a new client if you have not had an account at Citibank for at least 30 days prior to your opening one. For the first 30 days your new account is open, the following special rules apply:

You will be entitled to the availability described above for:

- Incoming wire transfers and electronic direct deposits
- Cash
- Government checks, Cashier's checks, and other special types of checks (as defined above)

For all other check deposits, your funds will be available on the 5th Business Day after the day of deposit.

Collection Items

We may require that a check received for deposit be sent out for collection. This may occur, for example, if the check is drawn on an institution outside the United States. We will make the funds available to you after we receive payment from the bank on which the check is drawn. A service fee will generally apply. Please refer to the Schedule of Other Fees and Charges For All Accounts.

Holds on Other Funds

If we cash a check that is drawn on another bank, we may withhold the availability of a corresponding amount already in your account. Those funds will be made available on the day they would have been available if you had deposited the check.

Our Right of Chargeback

The availability of funds from checks that you deposit will not affect your obligation to repay Citibank for any check that you deposit that is not paid nor does it affect our right to charge back your account for any check that is not paid.

Changes to Our Policy

We will notify you of any change(s) to our funds availability policies as required by applicable law.

Overview

The Citi Elevate Account Package is a “digital” banking package with electronic delivery of statements and other legal notices and communications instead of through the U.S. Mail. Clients must provide consent to “paperless” statements and register for online access through Citi® Online or the Citi Mobile® App in order to view and keep copies of statements and other legal notices and communications. Clients cannot withdraw their consent to electronic delivery of statements and other legal notices and communications with this account package but may instead transfer their checking account and other linked accounts to a different account package in order to receive statements and other legal notices through the U.S. Mail.

The Citi Elevate Account Package may contain an Interest Checking account or a Citi Accelerate Savings account. Your Monthly Service Fees are based upon which accounts you maintain as specified in the description of Fees below. For Citi Elevate Account Packages opened prior to July 18, 2022, only one Interest Checking account can be included in any Citi Elevate Account Package. In addition to the Interest Checking account, the Citi Elevate Account Package may include more than one of the following accounts in the below chart.

Effective July 18, 2022, requests to open a Citi Accelerate Savings account in an existing Citi Elevate Account Package will be opened in a Basic Banking Package and subject to the terms of that package. Effective July 18, 2022, requests to open a Certificate of Deposit in an existing Citi Elevate Account Package will be opened in a Citibank Account Package and subject to the terms of that package.

When the Citi Elevate Account Package includes an Interest Checking account, the average monthly balance in your Interest Checking account will be used to determine whether or not you will be charged fees for the statement period. Other accounts listed in the above chart will not be used to determine whether or not you will be charged fees for the statement period.

When the Citi Elevate Account Package does not include an Interest Checking account, but has a Citi Accelerate Savings account, the average monthly balance in your Citi Accelerate Savings account will be used to determine whether or not you will be charged fees for the statement period.

Your average monthly balance is available on your statement and may be obtained by calling 1-800-374-9700. Any fees incurred will be charged during the subsequent statement period.

Interest Checking

Account Features

Interest Checking is an interest bearing account in the Citibank® Account Package, Citi Priority Account Package or the Citi Elevate Account Package.

Interest Rates

The interest rates for Interest Checking are variable, determined by Citibank at its sole discretion and can change at any time. For current interest rates and Annual Percentage Yields, please visit citibank.com, call CitiPhone Banking® at 1-800-627-3999 or stop by your nearest Citibank branch.

When Interest Begins to Accrue

Money deposited to this account at a teller or a Proprietary Citibank ATM before the end of any Business Day (or earlier posted time) begins to earn interest on the day you make the deposit; funds deposited at a Proprietary Citibank ATM after the end of a Business Day (or earlier posted time) or on a non-Business Day earn interest from the next Business Day. (Please see the Client Manual — Consumer Accounts for definition of “Business Day.”)

Interest Calculation Method and Rate Information

We use the daily balance method to calculate the interest on Interest Checking accounts. The daily balance method applies a daily periodic rate to the full amount of principal in the account each day. This method may cause a change in the amount of interest you earn depending on the daily balance changes in your account. We may assign the same interest rate to more than one balance range. Interest rates may vary depending on one or more of the following:

- Rate Region (determined by factors, which may include branch location or home (not mailing) address)
- Account Balance
- Account Package Type

Please refer to your applicable rate sheet.

Principal Balance Ranges for Interest Rate Calculations:

$50,000+

The principal in the account is reduced based upon the transaction date when a withdrawal or other debit transaction occurs, which is not always the same as the posting date. The principal balance on which interest is calculated may not be the same as that appearing on your periodic statement if there have been intervening transactions.

Interest Compounding and Crediting

Interest is compounded daily for the actual number of days your money is on deposit and is credited to your account monthly. Interest is computed using a 365 day year except in leap years when interest may be computed on a 366 day basis.

Interest Adjustments

An interest adjustment for a transaction occurring during a statement period may be reflected on your statement in the next statement period rather than in the statement period in which it occurs.

Interest on Closed Accounts

No interest is paid on the account for the monthly period in which the account is closed.

Fees

There is no separate monthly service fee for an Interest Checking account. When an Interest Checking account is opened, it must be in a package and is subject to the monthly service and non-Citibank ATM fees, as applicable, of its account package as disclosed in the “Information About Account Packages” section of this Addendum.

Citigold® Interest Checking*Account Features

Citigold® Interest Checking is an interest bearing account in the Citigold® Account Package. Citigold Private Client is a relationship status of Citigold.

(Please refer to the Client Manual — Consumer Accounts for definition of “Business Day.”)

Interest Calculation Method and Rate Information

- Residential (not mailing) Address
- Rate Region

Please refer to your applicable rate sheet.

When a Citigold® Interest Checking account is opened, it must be in a Citigold® Account Package and is subject to the applicable monthly service fees for that account package as disclosed in the “Information About Account Packages” section of this Addendum.

Citibank® Savings Plus Account

Account Features

Your Citibank® Savings Plus account is a money market account that gives you the ability to earn short-term market rates in an FDIC-insured account. It also provides the convenience of account access through ATMs, Citibank® Online, Citi Mobile® or through CitiPhone Banking®, our automated telephone service. The Citibank® Savings Plus account can be linked to any account package.

Check Writing

The Citibank® Savings Plus account offers check writing in all packages except an Access Account Package. Any check transactions on a Citibank® Savings Plus account, in the Access Account Package that involve a check, including written checks, check by phone or third party authorizations that come through as a check transaction will not be honored.

---

Minimum Balance Requirement

There is a minimum balance of $100 to maintain the Citibank® Savings Plus account. We reserve the right to close the account if the account balance falls below the minimum balance.

Interest Rates

The interest rates for the Citibank® Savings Plus account are variable, determined by Citibank at its sole discretion and can change at any time. For current interest rates and Annual Percentage Yields, please call CitiPhone Banking at 1-800-627-3999 or stop by your nearest Citibank branch.

When Interest Begins to Accrue

Non-Cash items, such as checks, deposited to a money market account begin to earn interest on the date Citibank receives credit for the funds. This date will be no later than the second Business Day after the Business Day the check deposit is received. A cash deposit begins to earn interest on the Business Day the cash deposit is received. ("Business Day" means any day of the week that is not a Saturday, Sunday or bank holiday. Non-Business Days are considered part of the following Business Day.)

Fees

There is no separate Monthly Service Fee for the Citibank® Savings Plus account. A Citibank® Savings Plus account must be in a package and is subject to the applicable monthly service fee and non-Citibank ATM fees of the applicable account package as disclosed in the "Information About Account Packages" section of the Marketplace Addendum. Citibank® Savings Plus accounts converted from an existing money market on April 15, 2022, will be in the same package as the existing money market before account conversion and, except as provided in this notice, will be subject to the same monthly service and non-Citibank ATM fees, and all other fees, of the applicable account package.

Uniform Transfers to Minors Accounts (UTMA), also known as Custodial accounts, will not be charged a monthly service fee for money market accounts when the beneficiary is younger than 18 years of age and the UTMA is the sole account in a Basic Banking Package or a Citibank® Account Package. An UTMA with a beneficiary 18 years of age or older, or in any other account or package type regardless of age, will be subject to the terms and conditions of their package including fees and minimum balance requirements for fee waivers.

Interest Calculation Method and Rate Information

We use the daily balance method to calculate the interest on Citibank® Savings Plus accounts. This method uses the daily balance of all deposited funds in your account on which we have received credit to determine the applicable interest rate tier for each day of the statement period. This method may cause a change in the amount of interest you earn depending on the daily balance changes in your account.

Rates on variable accounts may change. We may assign the same interest rate to more than one balance range. Interest rates may vary depending on one or more of the following: Residential/Home (not mailing) Address, Rate Region, Account Balance, Account Package Type.

Account Balance Ranges for Rate Calculations:

$0 — $9,999.99

An interest adjustment for a transaction occurring during a statement period may be reflected on your statement in the next statement period rather than in the statement period in which it occurs.

Linking

The balances in other Citibank accounts that are linked to the Citibank® Savings Plus account will not be included in the daily balance calculation for the Citibank® Savings Plus account. The balance in the Citibank® Savings Plus account may be linked to contribute to the minimum combined average monthly balance requirements of eligible Citibank account packages.

Interest on Closed Accounts

If the account is closed before the end of the monthly statement period, interest will be paid for the number of days the account was open during the period in accordance with daily balance method.

Household Linking of Account Packages

This section explains certain features of linking account packages within a household. When you linked together eligible account packages of two or more members of a household, the combined balances of the accounts in those account packages could provide each household member with certain additional benefits.

If you reside in a household where two or more eligible members each have at least one account in a separate eligible Citibank account package, and you linked those eligible account packages together, we could make the features and benefits of our relationship pricing structure available to those household members. In most cases, eligible accounts belonging to all household members could be counted towards the combined household balance for purposes of determining whether monthly service fees and certain other account charges will be assessed and for determining eligibility for benefits associated with higher balance tiers or ranges.

We defined a “household” as an account owner and members of the account owner’s immediate family who resided at the same address. When asking us to link account packages you agree that your request will comply with any limitations applicable to the account packages that you ask to be linked. Under federal regulations:

- When any account package includes an account with one of our affiliates, immediate family members whose accounts can contribute pricing benefits are limited to the account owner and spouse; the account owner’s parents, step-parents, siblings, step-brothers, step-sisters, children, step-children, grandchildren and their spouses.
- When any account package includes a retirement account, that package can only contribute to pricing benefits for the retirement account owner and spouse; the retirement account owner’s parents and grandparents, and the retirement account owner’s children, siblings and their spouses.

Important: When household members’ account packages are linked for combined balances, statements for each linked account package may show the household combined balance range. As a result, household members may be able to deduce approximate balances of other members in the household when account packages are linked. Therefore, when deciding whether to link household account packages, customers should evaluate their privacy needs within the household, along with their need for the rate and fee advantages.

EFFECTIVE DATE: NOVEMBER 28, 2023

AMENDMENT:

Effective November 28, 2023, the following change is made to the Marketplace Addendum:

The “Citi® Savings Account” section of the Marketplace Addendum is deleted in its entirety and replaced with the following:

Citi® Savings Account

Account Features

Your Citi Savings Account is a money market account that gives you the ability to earn short-term market rates in an FDIC-insured account. It also provides the convenience of account access through ATMs, Citibank® Online, Citi Mobile® or through CitiPhone Banking®, our automated telephone service. The Citi Savings Account can be opened in or linked to any account package. Although a Citi Savings account can be owned by more than one owner, the first titled owner on the account must be eligible for a Citi Savings account at account opening.

Check Writing

The Citi Savings Account offers check writing in all packages except an Access Account Package. Any check transactions on a Citi Savings Account, in the Access Account Package that involve a check, including written checks, check by phone or third-party authorizations that come through as a check transaction will not be honored.

Interest Rates

The interest rates for the Citi Savings Account are variable, determined by Citibank at its sole discretion and can change at any time. For current interest rates and Annual Percentage Yields, please visit citibank.com, call CitiPhone Banking at 1-800-627-3999 or stop by your nearest Citibank branch.

When Interest Begins To Accrue

Non-Cash items, such as checks, deposited to a money market account begin to earn interest on the date Citibank receives credit for the funds. This date will be no later than the second Business Day after the Business Day the check deposit is received. A cash deposit begins to earn interest on the Business Day the cash deposit is received. (Please see the Client Manual — Consumer Accounts for definition of “Business Day.”)

Fees

There is no separate monthly service fee for the Citi Savings Account. When a Citi Savings Account is opened, it must be in a package and is subject to the applicable monthly service and non-Citibank ATM fees of the applicable account package as disclosed in the “Information About Account Packages” section of this Addendum.

Uniform Transfers to Minors Accounts (UTMA), also known as Custodial accounts, will not be charged a monthly service fee for money market accounts when the beneficiary is younger than 18 years of age and the UTMA is the sole account in a Basic Banking Package or a Citibank® Account Package. An UTMA with a beneficiary 18 years of age or older, or in any other account or package type regardless of age, will be subject to the terms and conditions of their package including fees and minimum balance requirements for fee waivers.

Interest Calculation Method and Rate Information

We use the daily balance method to calculate the interest on Citi Savings Accounts. This method uses the daily balance of all deposited funds in your account on which we have received credit to determine the applicable interest rate tier for each day of the statement period. This method may cause a change in the amount of interest you earn depending on the daily balance changes in your account.

The principal in the account is reduced based upon the transaction date when a withdrawal or other debit transaction occurs, which is not always the same as the posting date. The principal balance on which interest is calculated may not be the same as that appearing on your periodic statement if there have been intervening transactions.

Account Balance Ranges for Interest Rate Calculations

$10,000 – $24,999.99
$25,000 – $49,999.99
$50,000 – $99,999.99
$100,000 – $499,999.99
$500,000 – $999,999.99
$1,000,000+

We may assign the same interest rate to more than one balance range. Interest rates may vary depending on one or more of the following:

- Residential (not mailing) Address
- Rate Region
- Account Balance
- Account Package Type
- Relationship Status of Citigold

Please refer to your applicable rate sheet.

Interest rate exceptions may apply and are available only to certain accounts or customers. Speak to a banker for eligibility. Interest rate exceptions, if applicable, will be in effect for 182 days beginning on the day the interest rate exception is applied to a savings account.

Interest Compounding and Crediting

Interest is compounded daily for the actual number of days your money is on deposit and is credited to your account monthly. Interest is computed using a 365-day year except in leap years when interest may be computed on a 366-day basis.

Interest Adjustments

An interest adjustment for a transaction occurring during a statement period may be reflected on your statement in the next statement period rather than in the statement period in which it occurs.

Linking

The balances in other Citibank accounts that are linked to the Citi Savings Account will not be included in the average balance calculation for the Citi Savings Account. The balance in the Citi Savings Account may be linked to contribute to the minimum balance requirements of eligible Citibank account packages.

Interest on Closed Accounts

If the account is closed before the end of the monthly statement period, interest will be paid for the number of days the account was open during the period in accordance with the daily balance method.

Promotional Rate Feature for New Citi Savings accounts

Eligibility

New Citi Savings accounts opened by Tax Certified customers in a physical branch (or with a physical branch employee by phone - including video calls) ("New Citi Savings" account) will receive a "Promotional Rate" during Offer Periods if they fulfill Required Activities. Please view your Citi Savings New Account Rate Offer sheet to learn the promotional Rate, minimum balance to receive the promotional rate, and whether you opened your New Citi Savings account during an Offer Period.

- The following savings and checking accounts do not qualify for the Citi Savings New Account Rate Offer: Citi Accelerate Savings, Citi Miles Ahead Savings, Court Ordered Money Market Accounts, savings and checking accounts that are business, retirement (IRAs, SEPs, CESAs, money purchase pension plans and profit-sharing plans), and savings and checking accounts held in the International Personal Bank, Citi Alliance, and Citi Private Bank.
- "Tax Certified" customers must complete the following requirements: U.S. persons must furnish or have a valid IRS Form W-9 (Request for Taxpayer Identification Number and Certification) on file with Citibank, and foreign individuals must furnish or have a valid IRS Form W-8BEN (Certificate of Foreign Status of Beneficial Owner for United States Tax Withholding and Reporting (Individuals)) on file with Citibank. Accounts subject to backup withholding do not qualify for this offer.

Required Activities

First, deposit at least the "Minimum Balance" in New-to-Citibank Funds into your New Savings Account within 10 Business Days of account opening. See the Rate Sheet provided. We will check your "On Deposit" balance in New-to-Citibank Funds on the 11th Business Day after you open your new Savings Account to determine if you meet the Minimum Balance and will continue to earn the Promotional Interest Rate.

- "New-to-Citibank Funds" are funds deposited from accounts external to Citibank, N.A. and deposited: using Zelle®, domestic ACH transfer, Direct Deposit, checks drawn on banks other than Citibank N.A. or domestic wire transfer. Direct Deposits are electronic deposits through the Automated Clearing House (ACH) Network of payroll, pension, social security, government benefits and other payments to your checking or savings account. Cash deposits, Citi Global Transfers, Citi debit cards, transfers between Citibank accounts (other than as described above), international ACH transfers, international wire transfers, funds from CitiBusiness accounts, Mobile Check Deposits, Instant Payments, and payments and deposits via person-to-person transfer services such as Apple Pay, PayPal®, and Venmo (except Zelle®) do not qualify as New-to-Citibank Funds, or Direct Deposits, for this Promotional Rate.

- You can deposit the Minimum Balance into a Citibank “Checking Account” in the same package if 1) the New-to-Citibank Funds are deposited within 10 days of opening the Savings Account, 2) the Checking Account is in the same package as the Savings Account, and 3) you transfer the New-to-Citibank Funds directly from the Checking Account into the Savings Account within 10 days of opening the Savings Account. Checking account restrictions apply. See Eligibility.

Second, maintain your Minimum Balance. For six (6) months after opening your Savings Account, you will receive the Promotional Interest Rate each day you maintain at least the Minimum Balance in your Savings Account, but please understand if your Balance drops below the Minimum Balance, your Promotional Interest Rate will expire, and your New Savings Account will receive the current (“Standard”) Interest Rate regardless of Balance. Please see the APYs and Interest Rates for this Offer chart in the Rate Sheet for the APYs applicable to your account.

Promotional Interest Rate Expiration. Once the Promotional Interest Rate expires, it cannot be reinstated, and your New Savings Account will be subject to the Standard Interest Rate in effect at that time. Your APY and Promotional Interest Rate will expire on the earliest of:

- Six (6) months after the date your Savings account is opened
- The date your Savings Account has earned the maximum amount of interest from the Promotional Interest Rate, see Maximum Interest Earned in the Rate Sheet or
- Any time after (10) Business Days from the time your account was opened, when your Balance drops below the Minimum Balance to receive the Promotional Interest Rate, as described in the Rate Sheet

Annual Percentage Yield (APY)

Annual Percentage Yield (APY), as used for the Promotional Rate, is a percentage rate reflecting the total amount of interest paid on an account, based on the combination of the Promotional Interest Rate with the current/ Standard Interest Rate that will apply after the Promotional Interest Rate expires, compounded daily for a period of one year assuming no fees, additional deposits or withdrawals, and the current/Standard Interest Rate remains the same for the rest of the one year period. The APY assumes the Promotional Interest Rate expires six (6) months after the account is opened or when the Maximum Interest Earned is reached, whichever is earlier.

Savings account rates are variable, determined by Citibank at its sole discretion, can change before and after account opening without notice, and may affect the actual amount of interest earned. Fees could reduce earnings. Your Rate Region, Banking Package, Account Balance, and the Citi Savings New Account Offer will determine the APY for your Savings Account. The Rate Sheet provided at the time of account opening will identify your account’s Rate Region. Please review your Client Manual – Consumer Accounts and Marketplace Addendum for account information. For current APYs and standard interest rates applicable to Savings accounts, please visit a Citibank branch or call 1-888-CITIBANK to speak to a banker.

Multiple Offers

Every Savings Account an eligible customer opens that meets Required Activities can participate in the Promotional Rate. Each New Savings Accounts can only be used for this New Account Rate once per Offer Period.

Important Tax Information: Interest received will be reported to the IRS as interest paid to the first titled owner on the account, in the year received, as required by applicable law. Interest received by U.S. Persons will be reported on IRS Form 1099-INT for the year received. Interest received by non-U.S. Persons will be reported on IRS Form 1042-S for the year received. Customer is responsible for applicable taxes and consulting a tax advisor. Citi is not a tax advisor.

IRS Circular 230 Disclosure: Citibank, N.A. its affiliates, and its employees are not in the business of providing tax or legal advice to any taxpayer outside of Citibank, N.A. and its affiliates. This document is not intended or written to be used, and cannot be used or relied upon, by any such taxpayer for the purpose of avoiding tax penalties. Any such taxpayer should seek advice based on the taxpayer’s particular circumstances from an independent tax advisor.

2. The “Interest Rates” section is deleted in its entirety and replaced with the following:

Interest Rates

Interest rates for the Citi Miles Ahead Savings Account are variable, determined by Citibank at its sole discretion and can change at any time before and after account opening. For current interest rates and Annual Percentage Yields, please visit citibank.com or call CitiPhone Banking 888-248-4226. We may assign the same interest rate to more than one balance range. EFFECTIVE DATE: NOVEMBER 28, 2023

AMENDMENT:

Effective November 28, 2023, the following change is made to the Marketplace Addendum:

The “Certificate of Deposit” section within the Marketplace Addendum is deleted in its entirety and replaced with the following:

Certificate of Deposit

Key Features

Our certificates of deposit (“CD”) are time accounts. When you open a CD, and each time a CD renews, you agree to leave your funds in the account for the term which is a specific amount of time that cannot be changed until the Maturity Date. The Maturity Date is the last day of the term and the day the CD matures. The Maturity Date is the first day you can withdraw funds without paying an early withdrawal penalty and the first day you can add funds. CDs have a fixed interest rate during the term.

CD Types and CD Terms

Citi offers three types of CD accounts.

- Certificates of Deposit: Multiple term options available.
  - Term options with interest paid monthly or at maturity: 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, and 12 Month CDs
  - Term options with interest paid monthly: 13, 14, 15, 18, and 30 Month CDs; 2, 3, 4, and 5 year CDs
- No Penalty Certificate of Deposit: Available for a 12 month term with the no penalty feature for the first term only, and interest paid monthly. The No Penalty CD allows a one-time withdrawal of your full balance and interest without penalty after the first six (6) calendar days you make the minimum deposit into your new CD and your deposit has been fully collected. An early withdrawal penalty applies to withdrawals made before the first 6 days. Partial withdrawals before maturity, including interest withdrawals, are not permitted. If you want to withdraw funds before maturity, you must close your No Penalty CD. If you would like access to credited interest during the term, you must elect at account opening to have interest deposited to another Citi account or sent by check. No Penalty CDs automatically renew without the no penalty feature to a 12 month CD. You cannot renew an existing CD into a No Penalty CD. A No Penalty CD is only available for new No Penalty CD accounts. If you want to change your existing CD to a No Penalty CD, you must first close your existing CD and then open a new No Penalty CD. You can renew a No Penalty into any of the CD term options listed above.

- Step Up CD: Available for a 30 month term with the step up feature for the first term only, and interest paid monthly. The Step Up CD has 3 fixed interest rates for each period during the term beginning with Months 1 through 10, Months 11 through 20, and Months 21 through 30. Step Up CDs automatically renew without the step up feature to a 30 month CD. You cannot renew an existing CD to a new Step Up CD. A Step Up CD is only available for new Step Up CD accounts. If you want to change your existing CD to a Step Up CD, you must first close your existing CD and then open a new Step Up CD. You can renew a Step Up CD into any of the CD term options listed above.

Minimum Balance

The minimum balance required to open a Certificate of Deposit account is $500. We may offer promotions, from time to time, which may require a different account opening balance. No additional deposits are permitted during the term. A CD account will automatically be closed after 20 consecutive calendar days with a zero balance. Citi reserves the right to close the CD if the balance falls below any applicable minimum balance requirement. We will notify you that we closed your account if required by law.

Monthly Service Fee

There is no monthly service fee for a Certificate of Deposit.

Linking of CD accounts in an account package

The balances in other Citibank accounts that are linked to the account will not be included in the balance calculation for rate determination of your Certificate of Deposit account. The balances in your Certificate of Deposit account may contribute to the balances of eligible Citibank account packages for the purposes of package fee determination.

Check Writing

Certificates of Deposit do not offer check writing.

APYs and Interest Rates

Annual Percentage Yield (APY) as used in this document is a percentage rate reflecting the total amount of interest paid on an account, based on the interest rate compounded daily for a period of one year assuming no fees, additional deposits or withdrawals, and the interest rate remains the same for the entire year. "Interest Rate" is the annual interest paid represented as a percentage assuming no change in rate and does not reflect compounding.

Annual Percentage Yields and interest rates for CDs are determined by Citibank at its sole discretion and can change at any time without notice before a term begins for a new account and renewal. Interest rates are fixed for the CD term. The APY for a Step Up CD is a Composite APY based on 3 fixed interest rates during the term for Months 1 through 10, Months 11 through 20, and Months 21 through 30. The APY on your CD assumes interest will remain on deposit in the CD account until maturity. A withdrawal will reduce earnings. For current APYs and interest rates, please visit citi.com or the Citi Mobile App, call CitiPhone Banking® or stop by your nearest Citibank branch.

For a new CD, the APY and interest rate is based on the CD type, CD term, account balance, and applicable promotion at account opening. For new CD accounts with a Special Title (Trust, Estate, Representative Payee, Guardian/Conservator), the APY and interest rate will be the rate reflected on your applicable Rate Sheet provided at the time your account application was submitted. For a renewing CD, the APY and interest rate will be the APY and interest rate in effect on the CD renewal date for the CD term and account balance. When the APY is based on account balance, the applicable balance range at account opening or renewal will be used to determine your APY and interest rate and the interest rate will be fixed for the term; account balance may not be a factor for all CD terms. Citi may assign the same APY and interest rate to more than one balance range. Please refer to your applicable Rate Sheet. Balance ranges include:

$50,000 – $99,999.99

Every CD account is assigned to a Rate Region at account opening, which is identified on the Rate Sheet provided at account opening or when the application was submitted for Special Title accounts. Citi reserves the right to apply an APY and interest rate based on the account's Rate Region, apply different APYs and interest rates for different Rate Regions, and assign the APY and interest rate applicable to a Rate Region based on one or more of the following: CD type, CD term, account balance, and applicable promotion.

Please refer to your applicable Rate Sheet to learn which factor(s) affect the APY and interest rate applicable to your Rate Region.

Interest rate exceptions may apply and are available only to certain accounts or customers. Speak to a banker for eligibility. Interest rate exceptions, if applicable for a CD term, will begin on the opening date (or renewal date of an existing CD) and end on the day before the Maturity Date.

When Interest Begins to Accrue

Interest begins to accrue as of the calendar day you open your CD account.

Interest Compounding and Crediting

Interest is compounded daily starting as of the calendar day you open your CD account, for the actual number of days your money is on deposit. Interest is computed using a 365-day year except in leap years when interest may be computed on a 366-day basis.

All CDs are available with the monthly interest feature. CD terms of one year or less also are available with the interest at maturity feature. The No Penalty CD is only available with the monthly interest feature. Selecting the interest payment frequency can only be done when you open or renew your CD and not during the CD term. When you select the interest at maturity feature, the interest is credited on the Maturity Date and the interest payment frequency may be described as "Deferred" next to the CD term on your Account Statements and other notices. When you select the monthly interest feature, interest is credited to your account after the close of business on the last Business Day of each month, and on the Maturity Date. Interest is paid up to but not including the Maturity Date.

If you open your CD or your CD renews during the last week of any month, interest from the new CD opening date or CD renewal date to the end of the month may be included with the interest for the first full month after the CD is opened or renewed. If you open your CD on the last day of a month with 30 days, and funding is credited on the first week of the next month, the interest for the day the account was opened may be credited on the day the CD was funded and the interest for the first full month may then be included in the next month's interest payment. If the end of the month occurs during the Grace Period, interest accrued during the Grace Period will be included in the next month's interest for renewed CDs. If the CD account is closed before maturity, the interest minus any applicable early withdrawal penalty will be reflected in the closeout balance.

Interest Calculation Method

We use the daily balance method to calculate interest. This method applies a daily periodic rate to the balance in the account each day.

Interest Withdrawal

You may withdraw interest before maturity after it has been credited to your CD account without an early withdrawal penalty. You may request to have credited interest deposited to another account you have with us or sent to you in the form of a check. You can only request this when you open or renew your CD and not during the CD term. If you have elected to have the interest deposited to another Citi account and that account is closed, the CD interest will be credited to your CD for the rest of the CD term. When your CD automatically renews and after the grace period, interest will be added to your principal balance and will no longer be available for withdrawal without penalty. No Penalty CDs do not allow partial withdrawals before maturity, including interest withdrawals.

The APY on your CD assumes the full balance and interest will remain on deposit in the CD account until maturity. A withdrawal will reduce earnings.

Automatic Renewal and Grace Period

Your CD will automatically renew at maturity for the same CD term at the APY and interest rate in effect on the Maturity Date which is the renewal date, unless: (1) you change your CD term, or (2) the same term is not available and we notify you that your CD term is changing. Account promotions will not apply to renewing CDs, unless specifically stated otherwise.

If you do not want your CD to automatically renew, you can make changes during the Grace Period. The Grace Period begins on the day after the Maturity Date and is up to 7-calendar days. If the last day of the Grace Period is a non-Business Day (a weekend or bank holiday), the Grace Period ends on the last Business Day before the non-Business Day (the Grace Period End Date). During the Grace Period you can change your CD term, deposit additional funds, or withdraw funds without paying an early withdrawal penalty. If you change your term, make a deposit, or withdraw funds during the Grace Period: (a) the Grace Period will end that day, your renewed CD will have a new opening date which is your renewal date, your renewed CD will have a new Maturity Date, and you will not be able to withdraw funds without penalty or make any other changes until the new Maturity Date; (b) we will pay interest from the Maturity Date until the day before your new opening date (but not more than 7-calendar days) at the interest rate in effect on the Maturity Date; and (c) your renewed CD will be assigned the APY and interest rate in effect on your new opening date which is your CD renewal date. If you change your term, deposit additional funds, or withdraw funds during the Grace Period on a non-Business Day, the CD renewal date will be the Business Day following the non-Business Day.

Your account number will not change when your CD renews.

Early Withdrawal Penalties

Citibank will impose a substantial penalty if you withdraw any amount from the principal before the Maturity Date. It may be necessary to deduct all or a portion of the penalty from the principal amount of the deposit. Early withdrawal penalties are calculated on the amount of the principal withdrawn. A 90-day simple interest penalty will apply for CD terms of 1 year or less, and a 180-day simple interest penalty will apply for CD terms greater than one year. There is no early withdrawal penalty if the account owner dies or is declared legally incompetent.

The No Penalty CD allows a one-time full withdrawal of your full balance and interest without penalty after the first six (6) calendar days you make the minimum deposit into your new CD account and your qualifying deposit has been fully collected. A No Penalty CD withdrawal made during the first 6 days will result in an early withdrawal penalty. A No Penalty CD does not allow partial withdrawals before maturity, including interest withdrawals.

EFFECTIVE DATE: OCTOBER 21, 2023

AMENDMENT:

Effective October 21, 2023, the following change is made to the Marketplace Addendum:

The “Longer Delays May Apply” section under “Funds Availability at Citibank” within the Marketplace Addendum is deleted in its entirety and replaced with the following:

Longer Delays May Apply

In some cases, we may not make all of the funds that you deposit by check (excluding the special types of checks described above) available by the first Business Day after the day of your deposit. Should this occur, you will be provided with a notice describing when the funds will be available at the time of your deposit. If your deposit is not made directly with a teller or we decide to take this action after you complete your deposit, we will send you a notice by the next Business Day. If you will need the funds from a deposit right away, you should ask us when the funds will be available. Depending on the total amount of your check deposits on any one day, the deposit amount may not become fully available to you until the third Business Day after the day of the deposit as follows:

Total deposit amounts up to $5,525

Funds from all check deposits on any one day that total $5,525 or less will be available on the second Business Day after the day of deposit. The first $225 of these check deposits will be available on the first Business Day after the day of deposit and the remainder of the deposit will be available on the second Business Day after the day of deposit.

Large dollar deposits greater than $5,525

If the total of your check deposits on any one day is greater than $5,525, the amount in excess of $5,525 will be available on the third Business Day after the day of deposit.

By way of example:

If you deposit a check (or multiple checks on any given day) that total(s) $10,000

- The first $225 of your deposit will be available on the first Business Day after the day of deposit
- An additional $5,300 will be available on the second Business Day
- The remaining $ 4,475 will be available on the third Business Day.

We may also delay the full amount of your check deposits for a longer period (up to 7 Business Days) under the following circumstances:

Doubt of collectability — If we have reason to believe the check you have deposited will not be paid; we may delay availability of the funds represented by that check up to 7 Business Days. Should this occur, we will send you a deposit hold notice no later than the next Business Day after we decide to take this action.

Emergency Situations — If we are unable to conduct business due to an interruption of communications, computer equipment facilities or other emergency conditions beyond our control such as the impact of a natural disaster, we may delay the availability of your deposited check up to 7 Business Days.

All other terms and conditions of the Citibank® Client Manual — Consumer Accounts and Marketplace Addendum remain in full force and effect.

Terms, conditions and fees for accounts, products, programs and services are subject to change.

<sup>1</sup> Rates on variable accounts may change. We may assign the same interest rate to more than one balance range. Interest rates may vary depending on one or more of the following: Residential /Home (not mailing) Address, Rate Region, Account Balance, Account Package Type.

<sup>2</sup> APY and interest rates are subject to change at any time before a term begins for a new and renewed CD. Interest rates are fixed for the CD term. APY assumes the full balance and interest will remain on deposit in the CD account until maturity. A penalty will be imposed for early withdrawal. Credited interest may be withdrawn without penalty. A withdrawal will reduce earnings. See the footnote below for withdrawal differences for the No Penalty CD. When the APY and interest rate are based on account balance, the applicable balance range will be used to determine your APY and interest rate. Except where indicated, the APY and interest rate for a CD term applies to all balance ranges. CDs automatically renew for the same term at the APY and interest rate in effect on the CD renewal date unless you make a change during the grace period.

This promotion requires you open a new account to fulfill the required activities. If you are in a package-based account and proceed with opening a new account, you will be converted to simplified banking. Before you decide to participate in this promotion, please learn how simplified banking will impact you and your accounts by speaking to a banker or by visiting citi.com/simplifiedbanking. To determine whether you are in a package-based account or simplified banking, please refer to your monthly Account Statements or contact us. If you have not yet moved to simplified banking and want to learn about your current accounts, please refer to Account Agreements and Notices at citi.com/accountagreementsandnotices.

During the Offer Period, New Citi Savings accounts could qualify for the Promotional interest rate of 5.00%. The Minimum Balance to earn APY and Promotional Interest Rate is $25,000. The Maximum Interest Earned is $25,500.

To qualify, first, deposit at least the "Minimum Balance" in New-to-Citibank Funds into your New Citi Savings Account within 10 Business Days of account opening. We will check your "On Deposit" balance in New-to-Citibank Funds on the 11th Business Day after you open your new Savings Account to determine if you meet the Minimum Balance and will continue to earn the Promotional Interest Rate. Second, maintain your Minimum Balance. For six (6) months after opening your Savings Account, you will receive the Promotional Interest Rate each day you maintain at least the Minimum Balance in your Savings Account.

Please understand if your Balance drops below the Minimum Balance or your Savings Account has earned the maximum amount of interest from the Promotional Interest rate, your Promotional Interest Rate will expire, and your New Savings Account will receive the current non-promotional Interest Rate regardless of Balance.

Please refer to the above table for the applicable APYs and Interest Rates for this promotion; however, the rates for the Citigold Private Client status of the Citigold Account Package, the Citigold Account Package, and the Citi Priority Account Package are the same as the Relationship Tiers by the same name for accounts in simplified banking. The rates for accounts in the Access Account Package, Basic Banking Package, and Citibank Account Package are the same as accounts in simplified banking that are not in a Relationship Tier.

Please review the Consumer Deposit Account Agreement for full terms.

<sup>1</sup> Rates on variable accounts may change. We may assign the same interest rate to more than one balance range. Interest rates may vary depending on one or more of the following: Residential /Home (not mailing) Address, Rate Region, Account Balance, Account Package Type.

<sup>2</sup> APY and interest rates are subject to change at any time before a term begins for a new and renewed CD. Interest rates are fixed for the CD term. APY assumes the full balance and interest will remain on deposit in the CD account until maturity. A penalty will be imposed for early withdrawal. Credited interest may be withdrawn without penalty. A withdrawal will reduce earnings. See the footnote below for withdrawal differences for the No Penalty CD. When the APY and interest rate are based on account balance, the applicable balance range will be used to determine your APY and interest rate. Except where indicated, the APY and interest rate for a CD term applies to all balance ranges. CDs automatically renew for the same term at the APY and interest rate in effect on the CD renewal date unless you make a change during the grace period.

This promotion requires you open a new account to fulfill the required activities. If you are in a package-based account and proceed with opening a new account, you will be converted to simplified banking. Before you decide to participate in this promotion, please learn how simplified banking will impact you and your accounts by speaking to a banker or by visiting citi.com/simplifiedbanking. To determine whether you are in a package-based account or simplified banking, please refer to your monthly Account Statements or contact us. If you have not yet moved to simplified banking and want to learn about your current accounts, please refer to Account Agreements and Notices at citi.com/accountagreementsandnotices.

During the Offer Period, New Citi Savings accounts could qualify for the Promotional interest rate of 5.00%. The Minimum Balance to earn APY and Promotional Interest Rate is $25,000. The Maximum Interest Earned is $25,500.

To qualify, first, deposit at least the "Minimum Balance" in New-to-Citibank Funds into your New Citi Savings Account within 10 Business Days of account opening. We will check your "On Deposit" balance in New-to-Citibank Funds on the 11th Business Day after you open your new Savings Account to determine if you meet the Minimum Balance and will continue to earn the Promotional Interest Rate. Second, maintain your Minimum Balance. For six (6) months after opening your Savings Account, you will receive the Promotional Interest Rate each day you maintain at least the Minimum Balance in your Savings Account.

Please understand if your Balance drops below the Minimum Balance or your Savings Account has earned the maximum amount of interest from the Promotional Interest rate, your Promotional Interest Rate will expire, and your New Savings Account will receive the current non-promotional Interest Rate regardless of Balance.

Please refer to the above table for the applicable APYs and Interest Rates for this promotion; however, the rates for the Citigold Private Client status of the Citigold Account Package, the Citigold Account Package, and the Citi Priority Account Package are the same as the Relationship Tiers by the same name for accounts in simplified banking. The rates for accounts in the Access Account Package, Basic Banking Package, and Citibank Account Package are the same as accounts in simplified banking that are not in a Relationship Tier.

Please review the Consumer Deposit Account Agreement for full terms.

<sup>1</sup> Rates on variable accounts may change. We may assign the same interest rate to more than one balance range. Interest rates may vary depending on one or more of the following: Residential /Home (not mailing) Address, Rate Region, Account Balance, Account Package Type.

<sup>2</sup> APY and interest rates are subject to change at any time before a term begins for a new and renewed CD. Interest rates are fixed for the CD term. APY assumes the full balance and interest will remain on deposit in the CD account until maturity. A penalty will be imposed for early withdrawal. Credited interest may be withdrawn without penalty. A withdrawal will reduce earnings. See the footnote below for withdrawal differences for the No Penalty CD. When the APY and interest rate are based on account balance, the applicable balance range will be used to determine your APY and interest rate. Except where indicated, the APY and interest rate for a CD term applies to all balance ranges. CDs automatically renew for the same term at the APY and interest rate in effect on the CD renewal date unless you make a change during the grace period.

This promotion requires you open a new account to fulfill the required activities. If you are in a package-based account and proceed with opening a new account, you will be converted to simplified banking. Before you decide to participate in this promotion, please learn how simplified banking will impact you and your accounts by speaking to a banker or by visiting citi.com/simplifiedbanking. To determine whether you are in a package-based account or simplified banking, please refer to your monthly Account Statements or contact us. If you have not yet moved to simplified banking and want to learn about your current accounts, please refer to Account Agreements and Notices at citi.com/accountagreementsandnotices.

During the Offer Period, New Citi Savings accounts could qualify for the Promotional interest rate of 5.00%. The Minimum Balance to earn APY and Promotional Interest Rate is $25,000. The Maximum Interest Earned is $25,500.

To qualify, first, deposit at least the "Minimum Balance" in New-to-Citibank Funds into your New Citi Savings Account within 10 Business Days of account opening. We will check your "On Deposit" balance in New-to-Citibank Funds on the 11th Business Day after you open your new Savings Account to determine if you meet the Minimum Balance and will continue to earn the Promotional Interest Rate. Second, maintain your Minimum Balance. For six (6) months after opening your Savings Account, you will receive the Promotional Interest Rate each day you maintain at least the Minimum Balance in your Savings Account.

Please understand if your Balance drops below the Minimum Balance or your Savings Account has earned the maximum amount of interest from the Promotional Interest rate, your Promotional Interest Rate will expire, and your New Savings Account will receive the current non-promotional Interest Rate regardless of Balance.

Please refer to the above table for the applicable APYs and Interest Rates for this promotion; however, the rates for the Citigold Private Client status of the Citigold Account Package, the Citigold Account Package, and the Citi Priority Account Package are the same as the Relationship Tiers by the same name for accounts in simplified banking. The rates for accounts in the Access Account Package, Basic Banking Package, and Citibank Account Package are the same as accounts in simplified banking that are not in a Relationship Tier.

Please review the Consumer Deposit Account Agreement for full terms.

<sup>1</sup> Rates on variable accounts may change. We may assign the same interest rate to more than one balance range. Interest rates may vary depending on one or more of the following: Residential /Home (not mailing) Address, Rate Region, Account Balance, Account Package Type.

<sup>2</sup> APY and interest rates are subject to change at any time before a term begins for a new and renewed CD. Interest rates are fixed for the CD term. APY assumes the full balance and interest will remain on deposit in the CD account until maturity. A penalty will be imposed for early withdrawal. Credited interest may be withdrawn without penalty. A withdrawal will reduce earnings. See the footnote below for withdrawal differences for the No Penalty CD. When the APY and interest rate are based on account balance, the applicable balance range will be used to determine your APY and interest rate. Except where indicated, the APY and interest rate for a CD term applies to all balance ranges. CDs automatically renew for the same term at the APY and interest rate in effect on the CD renewal date unless you make a change during the grace period.

This promotion requires you open a new account to fulfill the required activities. If you are in a package-based account and proceed with opening a new account, you will be converted to simplified banking. Before you decide to participate in this promotion, please learn how simplified banking will impact you and your accounts by speaking to a banker or by visiting citi.com/simplifiedbanking. To determine whether you are in a package-based account or simplified banking, please refer to your monthly Account Statements or contact us. If you have not yet moved to simplified banking and want to learn about your current accounts, please refer to Account Agreements and Notices at citi.com/accountagreementsandnotices.

During the Offer Period, New Citi Savings accounts could qualify for the Promotional interest rate of 5.00%. The Minimum Balance to earn APY and Promotional Interest Rate is $25,000. The Maximum Interest Earned is $25,500.

To qualify, first, deposit at least the "Minimum Balance" in New-to-Citibank Funds into your New Citi Savings Account within 10 Business Days of account opening. We will check your "On Deposit" balance in New-to-Citibank Funds on the 11th Business Day after you open your new Savings Account to determine if you meet the Minimum Balance and will continue to earn the Promotional Interest Rate. Second, maintain your Minimum Balance. For six (6) months after opening your Savings Account, you will receive the Promotional Interest Rate each day you maintain at least the Minimum Balance in your Savings Account.

Please understand if your Balance drops below the Minimum Balance or your Savings Account has earned the maximum amount of interest from the Promotional Interest rate, your Promotional Interest Rate will expire, and your New Savings Account will receive the current non-promotional Interest Rate regardless of Balance.

Please refer to the above table for the applicable APYs and Interest Rates for this promotion; however, the rates for the Citigold Private Client status of the Citigold Account Package, the Citigold Account Package, and the Citi Priority Account Package are the same as the Relationship Tiers by the same name for accounts in simplified banking. The rates for accounts in the Access Account Package, Basic Banking Package, and Citibank Account Package are the same as accounts in simplified banking that are not in a Relationship Tier.

Please review the Consumer Deposit Account Agreement for full terms.

<sup>1</sup> Rates on variable accounts may change. We may assign the same interest rate to more than one balance range. Interest rates may vary depending on one or more of the following: Residential /Home (not mailing) Address, Rate Region, Account Balance, Account Package Type.

<sup>2</sup> APY and interest rates are subject to change at any time before a term begins for a new and renewed CD. Interest rates are fixed for the CD term. APY assumes the full balance and interest will remain on deposit in the CD account until maturity. A penalty will be imposed for early withdrawal. Credited interest may be withdrawn without penalty. A withdrawal will reduce earnings. See the footnote below for withdrawal differences for the No Penalty CD. When the APY and interest rate are based on account balance, the applicable balance range will be used to determine your APY and interest rate. Except where indicated, the APY and interest rate for a CD term applies to all balance ranges. CDs automatically renew for the same term at the APY and interest rate in effect on the CD renewal date unless you make a change during the grace period.

This promotion requires you open a new account to fulfill the required activities. If you are in a package-based account and proceed with opening a new account, you will be converted to simplified banking. Before you decide to participate in this promotion, please learn how simplified banking will impact you and your accounts by speaking to a banker or by visiting citi.com/simplifiedbanking. To determine whether you are in a package-based account or simplified banking, please refer to your monthly Account Statements or contact us. If you have not yet moved to simplified banking and want to learn about your current accounts, please refer to Account Agreements and Notices at citi.com/accountagreementsandnotices.

During the Offer Period, New Citi Savings accounts could qualify for the Promotional interest rate of 5.00%. The Minimum Balance to earn APY and Promotional Interest Rate is $25,000. The Maximum Interest Earned is $25,500.

To qualify, first, deposit at least the "Minimum Balance" in New-to-Citibank Funds into your New Citi Savings Account within 10 Business Days of account opening. We will check your "On Deposit" balance in New-to-Citibank Funds on the 11th Business Day after you open your new Savings Account to determine if you meet the Minimum Balance and will continue to earn the Promotional Interest Rate. Second, maintain your Minimum Balance. For six (6) months after opening your Savings Account, you will receive the Promotional Interest Rate each day you maintain at least the Minimum Balance in your Savings Account.

Please understand if your Balance drops below the Minimum Balance or your Savings Account has earned the maximum amount of interest from the Promotional Interest rate, your Promotional Interest Rate will expire, and your New Savings Account will receive the current non-promotional Interest Rate regardless of Balance.

Please refer to the above table for the applicable APYs and Interest Rates for this promotion; however, the rates for the Citigold Private Client status of the Citigold Account Package, the Citigold Account Package, and the Citi Priority Account Package are the same as the Relationship Tiers by the same name for accounts in simplified banking. The rates for accounts in the Access Account Package, Basic Banking Package, and Citibank Account Package are the same as accounts in simplified banking that are not in a Relationship Tier.

Please review the Consumer Deposit Account Agreement for full terms.

During the Offer Period, New Citi Savings accounts could qualify for the Promotional interest rate of 5.00%. The Minimum Balance to earn APY and Promotional Interest Rate is $25,000. The Maximum Interest Earned is $25,500.

<sup>1</sup> Rates on variable accounts may change. We may assign the same interest rate to more than one balance range. Interest rates may vary depending on one or more of the following: Residential /Home (not mailing) Address, Rate Region, Account Balance, Account Package Type.

<sup>2</sup> APY and interest rates are subject to change at any time before a term begins for a new and renewed CD. Interest rates are fixed for the CD term. APY assumes the full balance and interest will remain on deposit in the CD account until maturity. A penalty will be imposed for early withdrawal. Credited interest may be withdrawn without penalty. A withdrawal will reduce earnings. See the footnote below for withdrawal differences for the No Penalty CD. When the APY and interest rate are based on account balance, the applicable balance range will be used to determine your APY and interest rate. Except where indicated, the APY and interest rate for a CD term applies to all balance ranges. CDs automatically renew for the same term at the APY and interest rate in effect on the CD renewal date unless you make a change during the grace period.

This promotion requires you open a new account to fulfill the required activities. If you are in a package-based account and proceed with opening a new account, you will be converted to simplified banking. Before you decide to participate in this promotion, please learn how simplified banking will impact you and your accounts by speaking to a banker or by visiting citi.com/simplifiedbanking. To determine whether you are in a package-based account or simplified banking, please refer to your monthly Account Statements or contact us. If you have not yet moved to simplified banking and want to learn about your current accounts, please refer to Account Agreements and Notices at citi.com/accountagreementsandnotices.

During the Offer Period, New Citi Savings accounts could qualify for the Promotional interest rate of 5.00%. The Minimum Balance to earn APY and Promotional Interest Rate is $25,000. The Maximum Interest Earned is $25,500.

To qualify, first, deposit at least the "Minimum Balance" in New-to-Citibank Funds into your New Citi Savings Account within 10 Business Days of account opening. We will check your "On Deposit" balance in New-to-Citibank Funds on the 11th Business Day after you open your new Savings Account to determine if you meet the Minimum Balance and will continue to earn the Promotional Interest Rate. Second, maintain your Minimum Balance. For six (6) months after opening your Savings Account, you will receive the Promotional Interest Rate each day you maintain at least the Minimum Balance in your Savings Account.

Please understand if your Balance drops below the Minimum Balance or your Savings Account has earned the maximum amount of interest from the Promotional Interest rate, your Promotional Interest Rate will expire, and your New Savings Account will receive the current non-promotional Interest Rate regardless of Balance.

Please refer to the above table for the applicable APYs and Interest Rates for this promotion; however, the rates for the Citigold Private Client status of the Citigold Account Package, the Citigold Account Package, and the Citi Priority Account Package are the same as the Relationship Tiers by the same name for accounts in simplified banking. The rates for accounts in the Access Account Package, Basic Banking Package, and Citibank Account Package are the same as accounts in simplified banking that are not in a Relationship Tier.

Please review the Consumer Deposit Account Agreement for full terms.

2 Simplified banking

With simplified banking, your consumer Eligible Deposit and Investment (EDI) accounts will be linked to create one Combined Average Monthly Balance (CAMB) to determine your features and benefits. Higher CAMBs for deposit account owners may allow you to join Relationship Tiers and receive Monthly Service Fee and Non-Citi ATM fee waivers. Please refer to section 3 Relationship Tiers and section 5 Products. Simplified banking customers who own multiple deposit accounts also may receive one Account Statement as explained in section 4 Account Statements.

Your CAMB is the total of the End of Day Available Now balances for all your EDI account(s) in a calendar month divided by the number of days in that month. Your CAMB is based on the calendar month which may be different than your Statement Period. You must be the owner (or beneficial owner) of an EDI account for the account to contribute toward your CAMB. Not all accounts appearing on your Account Statements are EDI accounts. You may contact us to learn which of your EDI accounts contribute to your CAMB. If you only have one EDI account, your CAMB is based on the Average Monthly Balance of that EDI account.

Account linking in simplified banking replaces any prior written or oral linking requests or agreements made before your accounts were converted to simplified banking. Any existing package waivers, including fee waivers, were terminated when you or your accounts converted to simplified banking. Account linking in simplified banking has no effect on accounts you have linked for other purposes such as setting up and performing certain transactions.

Consumer Eligible Deposit and Investment (EDI) Accounts

<sup>4</sup> Banking products and services are provided by Citibank, N.A.. In the U.S., investment products and services are provided by Citigroup Global Markets Inc. (CGMI), member SIPC. Investment Management services (including portfolio management) are available through CGMI, Citibank, N.A. and other affiliated advisory businesses.

Family Links. Starting in the first month existing deposit customers who are Eligible Family Members (“Members”) are in a “Family Link”,<sup>5</sup> their CAMB will include EDI accounts they own along with EDI accounts owned by Members. The CAMB for your Family Link may be higher than your individual CAMB, entitling deposit customers to join a Relationship Tier or different Relationship Tier.

When participating in a Family Link, all EDI accounts you own will be included in the CAMB for the Family Link; you cannot remove individual accounts. Existing Members will be told the names of all existing Members and Invited Members who have accepted an invitation to join the Family Link.

If you are in a Family Link with someone who is not an Eligible Family Member or do not want to be in a Family Link, opt out of the Family Link by speaking to a banker on the phone or in a branch. Existing Members can opt out of Family Linking at any time. Your membership in the Family Link will be terminated on the day of your request. Your balances will no longer be included in CAMB on the first day of the month after you opt out.

Eligible Family Members may create a new Family Link or join an existing Family Link. New Family Linking is created immediately when the Invited Member accepts the invitation. If you invite a new Eligible Family Member (Invited Member) to join a Family Link, you are responsible to inform all Invited Members and existing Members about who is in the Family Link. Existing Members will be notified when an Invited Member has accepted the invitation to join the Family Link. The Invited Member will not be added until 30 calendar days after Citibank sends notice to existing Members. Family CAMB will be updated with the Invited Member’s balances on the first day of the month after joining.

Legacy Relationships.

When converted to simplified banking, certain customers who owned deposit accounts were notified and converted to a “Legacy Relationship” with each other when they owned accounts in the same package(s) (“LR Members”).

The CAMB for LR Members will include EDI accounts they own along with EDI accounts owned by other LR Members. The CAMB for your Legacy Relationship may be higher than your individual CAMB, entitling you to join a Relationship Tier or different Relationship Tier.

Customers can only be in one Family Link or Legacy Relationship at a time and each must have at least two Members. Minors cannot be Members or LR Members. You cannot be in a Family Link or Legacy Relationship if you have opted out of Relationship Tiers.

When participating in a Legacy Relationship, all EDI accounts you own will be included in the CAMB for the Legacy Relationship; you cannot remove individual accounts. Existing LR Members will know the names of all existing LR Members. If you are in a Legacy Relationship with someone who is not an Eligible Family Member or do not want to be in a Legacy Relationship, opt out of the Legacy Relationship by speaking to a banker on the phone or in a branch. Your membership in the Legacy Relationship will be terminated on the day of your request.

You cannot add new accounts or new LR Members to a Legacy Relationship, but you may be eligible to convert your Legacy Relationship to a Family Link. One LR Member can convert the Legacy Relationship to a Family Link. You will be notified if your Legacy Relationship has been converted to a Family Link.

<sup>5</sup> If you participated in Household Linking of Accounts prior to simplified banking, you were converted to Family Linking pursuant to separate notice.

“Eligible Family Members” and “LR Members” are immediate family who reside at the same address. When participating in Family Linking or Legacy Relationships, you agree to comply with limitations described under this Agreement and in applicable law. Note the definitions are different for retirement accounts. Attestation to these limitations may be required at any time under federal regulations:

- When accounts in a Family Link or Legacy Relationship include both deposit accounts and accounts with one of our affiliates, immediate family members whose accounts can contribute to certain Relationship Tier and pricing benefits are limited to the account owner and spouse; the account owner’s parents, step-parents, siblings, step-brothers, step-sisters, children, step-children, grandchildren and their spouses.
- Retirement accounts can only contribute to pricing benefits for the retirement account owner and spouse; the retirement account owner’s parents and grandparents, and the retirement account owner’s children, grandchildren, siblings and their spouses.

Family Link Members and Legacy Relationship Members will not have access to accounts or account balances they do not own, but Members will see the CAMB range applicable to the overall balance of all EDI accounts in the Family Link or Legacy Relationships on Account Statements. As a result, Joint Account owners, Members of Family Relationships, and Members of Legacy Relationships may be able to deduce approximate balances of other owners, Members, and LR Members. When deciding to participate in Family Links and Legacy Relationships or when deciding to open a Joint Account, customers should evaluate their privacy needs, along with their need for balance and combined balance advantages.

3.2 What is Re-Tiering?

Through Re-Tiering, if your CAMB meets the minimum Balance Range required for a higher Relationship Tier for three consecutive calendar months, you'll automatically join a higher Relationship Tier. If you want to maintain your current Relationship Tier, your CAMB must meet its Balance Range for three consecutive calendar months or you will be Re-Tiered Out. You may qualify for a Relationship Tier faster or maintain your Relationship Tier through Tier Acceleration.

To attain Relationship Tier	$30,000 – $199,999.99	$200,000 – $999,999.99	$1,000,000 or more
To remain in Relationship Tier	$30,000 – $199,999.99	$180,000 – $999,999.99	$800,000 or more

INVESTMENT AND INSURANCE PRODUCTS: • NOT FDIC INSURED • NOT A BANK DEPOSIT • NOT INSURED BY ANY FEDERAL GOVERNMENT AGENCY • NO BANK GUARANTEE • MAY LOSE VALUE

3.3 How do I join a Relationship Tier?

New accounts.

New EDI accounts opened by existing customers will be linked to their existing EDI accounts. Existing customers cannot choose a Relationship Tier when they open a new account.

Only customers who did not own a Citibank Checking, Savings, CD, IRA, or investment account (investment accounts are offered through CGMI) in the 30 calendar days prior to opening their new EDI account ("New to Relationship" customers) can choose their Relationship Tier when opening their new EDI account. New to Relationship customers interested in opening a new deposit account in the Citigold Private Client Relationship Tier must apply with a banker in a branch or over the phone.

For New to Relationship customers, CAMB review for Re-Tiering will begin in the first full month after account opening, but it takes three months of sustained Balance Ranges for an Up-Tiering or Re-Tiering Out change.

Existing accounts and Re-Tiering.

Relationship Tiers for existing customers can change in any month. Your CAMB will be reviewed each calendar month in comparison to Relationship Tier Balance Range requirements, but it takes three months of sustained Balance Ranges for a Re-Tiering change.

If you increase your balances:	If you decrease your balances:
If your CAMB range meets the minimum Balance Range required for a higher Relationship Tier for three consecutive calendar months, you'll automatically be "Re-Tiered Up".	If your CAMB drops below your Relationship Tier's minimum Balance Range for three consecutive calendar months, you'll automatically be "Re-Tiered Out".

Your individual Account Statement will show your current monthly Relationship Tier, your 3-month CAMB Balance Range history and your 3-month Relationship Tier history as of the date of the Account Statement. The EDI accounts contributing to the CAMB range displayed on your Account Statement(s) may not appear on one Account statement. Some accounts appearing on an Account Statement are not EDI accounts. CD account and IRA account customers with no other deposit accounts do not receive Account Statements and will be notified about their Relationship Tier by separate communication. CD account and IRA account customers can contact Citibank at any time to learn their current monthly Relationship Tier, their 3-month CAMB range history, and their 3-month Relationship Tier history.

When customers own accounts as Joint Owners, the Relationship Tier associated with their account will be determined by the highest Relationship Tier among joint owners. The CAMB shown on a Joint Account Statement will show the highest CAMB range among account owners.

Opting Out of Relationship Tiers. You may opt out of Relationship Tiers at any time by speaking to a banker. If you opt out of Relationship Tiers, you will not be eligible for Family Linking, Legacy Relationships, Tier Acceleration, Re-Tiering, or the Relationship Tiers Citi Priority, Citigold, or Citigold Private Client. When you opt out, you are ineligible for Relationship Tiers even though your CAMB range will be displayed on your Account Statement. Opt out is effective on the first calendar day of the month after your opt-out request. Opting out of Relationship Tiers has no effect on your Customer Statement Grouping (Please refer to section 4 Account Statements).

Tier Acceleration. Deposit customers may be able to join Relationship Tiers faster and maintain your existing Relationship Tiers by enrolling in Tier Acceleration. Enrollment is required. To enroll please go to Citi Online or the Citi Mobile App or speak to a banker. For three months after enrollment, Citibank will review your "End of Day" balances on the last Business Day of the month across all EDI accounts you own ("EOD Balance"). Your EOD Balance is your Available Now Balance across eligible deposit and investment accounts at 10:30 p.m. EST. If your EOD Balances meet the Balance Range for the same or a higher Relationship Tier on the last Business Day on one or more eligible months, you will maintain or join Relationship Tier on the first day of the next calendar month. If your EOD Balances are lower than the Relationship Tier you are currently in, Re-Tiering will control your Relationship Tier. If at least one Member of a Family Link or Legacy Relationship is enrolled in Tier Acceleration, the Family Link or Legacy Relationship is eligible for Tier Acceleration. There are no restrictions on the number of times an existing customer can enroll in Tier Acceleration. Tier Acceleration expires after 3 consecutive months. The month you enroll counts as the first of those 3 months.

Individual deposit account EOD Balances are available on Citi Online, on the Citi Mobile App or by speaking to a banker in a branch or on the phone. As applicable, bankers can also provide your Legacy Relationship, or your Family Link's EOD balances across all eligible EDI accounts.

Tier Exclusions. Tier Exclusions apply to certain customers. Except for Citigroup Employees eligible for ibank@citi, customers with a Tier Exclusion will be notified. When converted to simplified banking, any package waiver(s) (such as Citigold® or Citigold® Private Client) or any Monthly Service Fee waiver(s) applicable to you or your accounts will be terminated.

ibank@citi is a form of Tier Exclusion. Certain employees may be eligible for additional Tier Exclusions explained via separate notice.

Eligible Employees	Employees of Citigroup and its affiliates working in the United States and its territories ("Eligible Employees") who own a deposit account that is also an EDI account are eligible for ibank@citi. When no longer an Eligible Employee, Citibank will begin evaluating CAMB against standard Balance Ranges through Re-Tiering beginning on the first day of the next calendar month.
Application	If you believe you are eligible for the ibank@citi program and are not receiving benefits, please contact us.
Relationship Tiers	Eligible Employees are in the Citi Priority Relationship Tier. Eligible Employees have reduced CAMB Balance Ranges to attain and maintain Citigold ($100,000) and Citigold Private Client ($500,000) through Re-Tiering or Tier Acceleration.
Limitations	Eligible Employees cannot share their ibank@citi benefits with members of a Family Link or Legacy Relationship. ibank@citi only applies to accounts owned by Eligible Employees.

Please reach out to CPWM to learn about ibank@citi benefits and features for ibank@citi Eligible Employees.

4 Account Statements

We provide customers with an “Account Statement” showing an itemized listing of all transactions and other account information during the Statement Period. Your Account Statement may include important legal notices about your accounts using statement messages or statement inserts. CD account and IRA account customers with no other deposit accounts do not receive Account Statements and can contact Citibank at any time for account information.

Your accounts may be combined on a common Account Statement (“Customer Statement Grouping” or “CSG”) based upon various factors such as account ownership, the title(s) of your account(s), your paperless preferences, and the mailing addresses associated with your account(s). Under certain circumstances, you can request to separate your Account Statements for each account in your CSG. As shown on your Account Statement, a “Statement Period” means any 28-to-31 day period covered by your Account Statement. Unless you are in a Relationship Tier or own a Citi Miles Ahead Savings account, you can request to change your Statement Period Date(s). Any change to your Statement Period Date will impact all Checking Plus account(s) on that Account Statement. Speak to a banker to learn more.

Communicating with Owners and Signers.

Regardless of the number of account owners, we generally only communicate with one owner per account. Account Statements and notices are sent to the first-titled owner on an account. Certain accounts are managed by fiduciaries or individuals who receive Account Statements (please refer to Account Ownership). Notification given to any one account owner, signer, or fiduciary is considered notification to all account owners.

On statements, Joint Account owners will see the highest balance CAMB range and highest Relationship Tier including information about other Joint Account owners.

Cancelled Check Options. If you have a checking account and receive a paper Account Statement, you may elect to have your check images delivered with your Account Statement. You must speak with an account representative to sign up for this service. Please note that if you receive check images with your statement, included among those images may be some checks which were presented for payment but which were returned unpaid after your statement was prepared and sent to you. Images of your cancelled checks presented within the past 18 months are also available to you through Citi Online. Additionally, you may request a copy of any of your cancelled checks by calling the phone number on the back of your Citibank Banking Card.

Mail. “Mail” refers to communications sent in any manner allowed by law, including but not limited to e-mail, digital communications, or postal mail.

Contact Information and Communications. Citibank will send you Mail using the contact information you provide Citibank; however, in our sole discretion, we reserve the right to change your Residential and/or Mailing Address(es) based on information received from third parties we believe have up-to-date address information for you, such as the United States Postal Service. An incorrect address may prevent receipt of Mail. We will not be liable for errors, debits or charges to, or your inability to transact in, your account resulting from an incorrect or improper Residential Addresses, Mailing Address or other relevant contact information.

Notification is considered delivered to you on the date we first place the Account Statement in the U.S. mail or on the date the email notifying you that your statement is available on Citi Online or the Citi Mobile App is first sent, regardless of whether you receive it.

We use postage-paid ordinary postal-mail to send your Account Statements and notices to the mailing address reflected in our account records. If two consecutive statements and/or notices are returned to us for any reason, you agree that we may hold subsequent notices and statements until we receive forwarding information from you. Account Statements and notices held for you will be deemed delivered to you on the date that they are prepared (for held statements), mailed (for returned statements) or otherwise made available to you. In our discretion, we may destroy mail that is returned to us as determined to be undeliverable.

Instead of receiving a paper Account Statement through ordinary postal mail, any owner may elect to enroll the account in our paperless statement service when registered for online banking. If you elect to use the paperless statement service, we will notify you via email of the availability of your Account Statement on Citi Online or the Citi Mobile App. The terms and conditions for the paperless statement service are subject to a separate agreement which you will accept when enrolling in the service and can view at any time on Citi Online and the Citi Mobile App. Changes to your account paperless preferences may change which accounts appear on your Account Statement(s).

Residential and Mailing Addresses

Your “Residential Address” is used to manage your account. Your “Mailing Address” is where you would like to receive notices and Account Statements. Changing your Residential Address or Mailing Address will not change the Governing Law or Rate Region of any of your existing accounts.

5.1 Introduction

Minimum Opening Deposit for Checking accounts and Savings accounts. There is no minimum opening deposit required to open a Checking account or Savings account at Citibank; however, your balance may affect your Relationship Tier, whether your account remains open, and the fees associated with your account. - Accounts with zero balances are subject to closure after 90 days.
- Minimum CAMB Balance Ranges in deposit EDI accounts are required to maintain Relationship Tiers.
- If none of the owners of a Savings account own a Checking account a $4.50 monthly service fee and $2.50 Non-Citi ATM fee will apply unless the Savings account maintains a $500 Average Monthly Balance or has been opened in the last three calendar months.

Limited Availability. Products, services, promotions and benefits are available in select markets and may only be available to select customers.

Checkbooks and Checks. When you open a Checking account or Savings account with a check writing feature, you can order personalized checks through us. We will automatically deduct the cost from your account balance after your order is processed. You are responsible for verifying the accuracy of all information shown on your checks. If you find an error, you must notify us immediately.

If you choose to have your checks printed by another vendor, the form, encoding and format of the checks must follow our check specification requirements and be approved by us in advance. If you do not purchase your checks through us, we may charge a fee for each check that rejects during processing due to poor print quality, or if it fails to meet our specifications. You agree not to issue checks with features or marks that obscure, alter or impair information on the front or back of a check or that otherwise prevents us or another bank from capturing such information during automated check processing.

You agree to safeguard your blank and cancelled checks, and to take reasonable steps to prevent their unauthorized use. If your checks are lost or stolen, you agree to notify us immediately. For security reasons, we reserve the right to close your account and transfer the balance to a new account. If we do, all checks written but not yet paid may be returned to the payees. You will be responsible for issuing any replacement checks.

Converting product types. Customers may be able to convert their Consumer Deposit Accounts from one type to another type by speaking to a banker. Customers cannot convert their Relationship Tiers. Customers may see an account conversion immediately on Citi Online or the Citi Mobile App, but account conversion is effective the day after the customer requests to convert. <sup>6</sup> An Enhanced Direct Deposit is an electronic deposit through the Automated Clearing House (“ACH”) Network of payroll, pension, social security, government benefits and other payments to your checking account totaling at least $250 or more in a calendar month. An Enhanced Direct Deposit also includes all deposits via Zelle and other P2P payments when made via ACH using providers such as Venmo or PayPal. Teller deposits, cash deposits, check deposits, wire transfers, transfers between Citibank accounts, ATM transfers and deposits, mobile check deposits, and P2P payments using a debit card do not qualify as an Enhanced Direct Deposit.

Fees charged by ATM operators and networks are refunded by Citibank to customers in the Citigold or Citigold Private Client Relationship Tier. We rely upon data we receive from the ATM operator to accurately calculate the amount of the reimbursement to you. If you are charged a fee for the use of an ATM overseas or if you believe you did not receive a correct reimbursement, please contact us for a full refund. For fees imposed due to withdrawing cash from your linked Citibank credit accounts (including credit cards), see your applicable customer agreements.

5.3.2 Access Checking accounts

Availability	Access Checking accounts are available in all Citibank markets.
How to Apply	Access Checking account applications are available in branch, on Citi Online, through the Citi Mobile App or by calling the phone number on the back of your Citibank Banking Card.
Key Features	Access Checking accounts <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• do not offer check writing and checks cannot be ordered</li><li>• do not earn interest</li></ul> Checks cannot be ordered for an Access Checking account. Any transactions on an Access Checking account that involve a check, including written checks, check by phone or third-party authorizations that come through as a check transaction will not be honored. When providing account and routing numbers to merchants to make a payment, (whether in person, electronically or over the phone) you need to ensure that the merchant is using the ACH (Automated Clearing House) system to process the transaction as an electronic debit, as ACH is an accepted form of payment for these account types. If the merchant processes a payment as a check, the check will be rejected and not paid. You may be charged a fee by the merchant if this happens.
Overdraft Protection	Access Checking is designed so that certain transactions will not be authorized. For example, any PIN-based or Point of Sale, ACH or Debit card transaction, or ATM withdrawal initiated for an amount over your available account balance will be declined. Neither Safety Check nor a Checking Plus® (variable rate) line of credit can be linked to an Access Checking account for overdraft protection. Citibank offers a limited exception to this rule. If your Regular Checking account in the Access Account Package was converted to an Access Checking account and had a linked Safety Check or Checking Plus® line of credit at the time of conversion, the existing links will remain. If a customer terminates their Safety Check or Checking Plus® line of credit link to an Access Checking account, they cannot be reinstated.

Bonus Miles

New Citi Miles Ahead Savings accounts opened by a Tax Certified Eligible Cardmember can earn up to 50,000 AAdvantage Bonus Miles (“Bonus Miles”) if they fulfill Required Activities.

Required Activities

First, deposit at least the “Minimum Balance” for one of the “Levels” (refer to the Bonus Miles Chart) in New-to-Citibank Funds into your new Citi Miles Ahead Savings account by the 20th Day after account opening. If you open your new Citi Miles Ahead Savings account over the phone, we will look at the 30th Calendar Day after you open your account to determine your Maximum Bonus Miles. Multiple deposits are allowed.

“New-to-Citibank Funds” are funds deposited from accounts external to Citibank, N.A. and deposited: 1) using Enhanced Direct Deposit, or 2) with checks, or 3) through wire transfers. Cash deposits, Citi Global Transfers, Citi debit cards, and transfers between Citibank accounts do not qualify as New-to-Citibank Funds.

Bonus Miles Chart
Level	Minimum Balance	Maximum Bonus Miles
1	$10,000.00 – $49,999.99	20,000 miles
2	$50,000.00 – $199,999.99	40,000 miles
3	$200,000.00 +	50,000 miles

Second, on the 20th Day after you open your Citi Miles Ahead Savings account we will check your “On Deposit” balance in New-to-Citibank Funds to determine the Maximum Bonus Miles you can potentially earn (“Balance”). You must maintain at least the Level 1 Minimum Balance for 60 consecutive calendar days starting on the 21st day, or 31st if you opened your account by phone, (“Maintenance Period”) to earn the Bonus Miles. Please understand if your Balance falls into a lower Minimum Balance Level for even one day during the Maintenance Period, your Maximum Bonus Miles will change (refer to the Bonus Miles Chart). For example, if you were in Level 3 on the 20th Day, and your balance drops to Level 1 during the Maintenance Period, you will be eligible to earn the Bonus Miles in Level 1.

Third, your Citi Miles Ahead Savings account and Eligible Card must be open and in good standing from the time you open your new Citi Miles Ahead Savings account until the time the applicable miles are credited. The Bonus Miles will be credited within 90 calendar days from the date you complete all Required Activities.

Important Tax Information: Cash equivalent of the bonus miles will be reported to IRS as interest to the first titled owner on the account, in the year received, as required by applicable law. Bonus payments received by U.S. citizens or resident aliens will be reported on IRS Form 1099-INT. Bonus payments received by non-resident aliens will be reported on IRS Form 1042-S. Customer is responsible for any applicable taxes and consulting a tax advisor. Citi is not a tax advisor.

Miles Boost

Citi Miles Ahead Savings accounts offer a Miles Boost. Eligibility for the Miles Boost is determined by the Average Monthly Balance (AMB) of the Citi Miles Ahead Savings account. AMB is calculated through the last Business Day of the month and will appear in the fee box on your Account Statement.

After your Citi Miles Ahead Savings account reaches an AMB of $10,000 (“Additional Miles Eligibility Date”), you will earn 25% more AAdvantage Miles for the first fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) in purchases per calendar year appearing on your Eligible Card’s billing statement (“Miles Boost”).

For example, if your January AMB is $10,000 and you earn 1,000 AAdvantage Miles for purchases made in a billing cycle, then you will earn an additional 250 AAdvantage Miles for the billing cycle that ends in February under the Miles Boost. If your February AMB is $500, you will not earn a Miles Boost for your billing cycle that ends in March. If your March AMB rises above $10,000 again, you will receive the Miles Boost starting on the billing cycle that ends in April.

Miles Exclusions and Restrictions

AAdvantage® Miles earned from the Miles Boost do not count toward elite-status qualification or AAdvantage Million Miler<sup>SM</sup> status.

Citi Miles Ahead Savings account owners will not earn a Miles Boost for:

- Purchases made using a different Eligible Card than the one associated with your Citi Miles Ahead Savings account;
- Purchases appearing on an Eligible Card after the Eligible Card or Citi Miles Ahead Savings account closes;
- Purchases appearing on an Eligible Card billing statement if the AMB in your Citi Miles Ahead Savings account was less than 10,000 for the calendar month preceding the Eligible Card billing statement date. For example, if your Eligible Card billing statement is dated July 10, and the AMB in your Citi Miles Ahead Savings account for the month of June was nine thousand ($9,000) dollars, you will not earn a Miles Boost for purchases appearing on that July 10 billing statement.
- AAdvantage® Miles earned through promotional offers on your Citi®/AAdvantage® Credit Card, including acquisition bonus mile offers or other promotional bonus mile offers made to existing cardmembers.

Required Activities

Checking account restrictions apply. Please refer to Availability.

Second, maintain your Minimum Balance. For three (3) months after opening your New Citi Savings account, you will receive the Promotional Interest Rate each day you maintain at least the Minimum Balance in your New Citi Savings account, but please understand if your On Deposit balance drops below the Minimum Balance your Promotional Rate will expire, and your New Citi Savings account will receive the current non-promotional APY and interest rate for Citi Savings accounts. Please refer to your Rate Sheet for the APYs and interest rates applicable to your account.

Promotional Interest Rate Expiration	Once the Promotional Interest Rate expires, it cannot be reinstated, and your New Citi Savings account will be subject to the non-promotional APY and interest rate for Citi Savings accounts in effect at that time. Your Promotional Interest Rate will expire on the earliest of: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Three (3) months after the date your New Citi Savings account is opened,</li> <li>• The date your New Citi Savings account has earned the maximum amount of interest from the Promotional Interest Rate, please refer to the Maximum Interest Earned in the Rate Sheet, or</li> <li>• Any time after 10 Business Days from the time your New Citi Savings account was opened, when your On Deposit balance drops below the Minimum Balance to receive the Promotional Interest Rate, as described in the Rate Sheet.</li> </ul>
APY for the Promotional Rate	Annual Percentage Yield, as used for the Promotional Rate, is a percentage rate reflecting the total amount of interest paid on an account, based on the combination of the Promotional Interest Rate with the non-promotional Interest Rate that will apply after the Promotional Interest Rate expires, compounded daily for a period of one year assuming no fees, additional deposits or withdrawals, and the non-promotional Interest Rate remains the same for the rest of the one year period. The APY assumes the Promotional Interest Rate expires three (3) months after the account is opened or when the Maximum Interest Earned is reached, whichever is earlier. Please refer to section 5.4.6 Rate Information and Interest Calculation for Savings accounts for additional APY and interest rate information.

5.4.6 Rate Information and Interest Calculation for Savings accounts

This section applies to all Savings accounts. Differences for Savings account types and/or features may occur in how the APY and interest rate are determined, such as different factors for COMMA accounts and different balance ranges for Citi Miles Ahead Savings accounts and Promotional Rate offers.

Savings Account APYs and Interest Rates

“Annual Percentage Yield” (APY) as used in this document is a percentage rate reflecting the total amount of interest paid on an account, based on the current interest rate compounded daily for a period of one year assuming no fees, additional deposits or withdrawals, and the interest rate remains the same for the entire year. “Interest Rate” is the annual interest paid represented as a percentage assuming no change in rate and does not reflect compounding. “Annual Percentage Yield Earned” (APYE) shown for an account on the Account Statement is an annualized rate that reflects the total amount of interest paid on the account during the Statement Period. The APYE is calculated using the relationship between the interest posted to the account and the sum of the daily balances for those days where balance is above zero in the Statement Period divided by the number of days in the Statement Period.

Annual Percentage Yields and interest rates for Savings accounts are variable, determined by Citibank at its sole discretion, can change at any time without notice. This may affect the actual amount of interest earned. Please refer to your applicable rate sheet. For current Annual Percentage Yields and interest rates, please use Citi Online or the Citi Mobile App or speak to a banker in a branch or by calling the phone number on the back of your Citibank Banking Card.

Every Savings account is assigned to a Rate Region at the time of account opening. The Rate Sheet provided at the time of account opening will identify the account’s Rate Region. Rate Regions may have different Annual Percentage Yields and interest rates. For a Savings account, the APY and interest rate applicable to a Rate Region may vary depending on one or more of the following factors:

- a. Product;
- b. Relationship Tier;
- c. Applicable promotion;
- d. Account balance<sup>8</sup>.

Please refer to the rate sheet provided to you when your account was opened to learn which factor(s) impact the APY and interest rate applicable to your Rate Region.

When Interest Begins to Accrue. Non-Cash items, such as checks, deposited to a Savings account begin to earn interest on the date Citibank receives credit for the funds. This date will be no later than the second Business Day after the Business Day the check deposit is received. A cash deposit begins to earn interest on the Business Day the cash deposit is received.

Interest Compounding and Crediting. Interest is compounded daily for the actual number of days your money is on deposit and is credited to your account monthly. Interest is computed using a 365-day year except in leap years when interest may be computed on a 366-day basis.

Interest Calculation Method. We use the daily balance method to calculate interest. This method uses the daily balance of all deposited funds in your account on which we have received credit to determine the applicable interest rate each day of the Statement Period. The interest rate may be adjusted at any time during the Statement Period based on the assigned Relationship. This method may cause a change in the amount of interest you earn depending on the daily balance changes in your Savings account. The principal in the account is reduced based upon the transaction date when a withdrawal or other debit transaction occurs, which is not always the same as the posting date. The principal balance on which interest is calculated may not be the same as that appearing on your Account Statement if there have been intervening transactions.

Interest Adjustment. An interest adjustment for a transaction occurring during a Statement Period may be reflected on your Account Statement in the next Statement Period, rather than in the Statement Period in which it occurs.

Interest on Closed Savings Accounts. If the account is closed before the end of the Statement Period, interest will be paid for the number of days the account was open during the Statement Period in accordance with the daily balance method.

Current Interest Rates and Annual Percentage Yields. For current interest rates and Annual Percentage Yields, please log in to Citi Online or the Citi Mobile App or speak to a banker in a branch or by calling the phone number on the back of your Citibank Banking Card.

<sup>8</sup> Even if the Rate Sheet applicable to a Savings account does not use Account Balances to impact the APY and interest rate applicable to your Rate Region, Citi reserves the right to apply an APY or interest rate based on the range of your account balance. Balances in EDI Accounts linked to your Savings account will not be included in your account balance calculation, even though they will contribute to your CAMB. Citi may assign the same APY or interest rate to more than one balance range. Balance ranges for Citi Savings accounts, Citi Accelerate Savings accounts, and Citibank Savings Plus accounts include:

 $25,000 – $49,999.99
 $50,000 – $99,999.99
 $100,000 – $499,999.99
 $500,000 – $999,999.99

5.5 Certificates of Deposit

Our certificates of deposit (CD) are time accounts. When you open a CD, and each time a CD renews, you agree to leave your funds in the account for the term which is a specific amount of time. The Maturity Date is the last day of the term and the day the CD matures. The Maturity Date is the first day you can withdraw funds without paying an early withdrawal penalty. CDs have a fixed interest rate during the term.

Certificates of Deposit	Multiple term options available: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Term options with interest paid monthly or at maturity: 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, and 12 Month CDs</li><li>• Term options with interest paid monthly: 13, 14, 15, 18, and 30 Month CDs; 2, 3, 4, and 5 year CDs</li></ul>
No Penalty CD	Available for a 12 month term with the no penalty feature for the first term only, and interest paid monthly. The No Penalty CD allows withdrawal of your full balance and interest without penalty after the first six (6) calendar days you make the minimum deposit into your new CD and your deposit has been fully collected. An early withdrawal penalty applies to withdrawals made during the first 6 days. Partial withdrawals before maturity, including interest withdrawals, are not permitted. If you want to withdraw funds before maturity, you must close your No Penalty CD. No Penalty CDs automatically renew without the no penalty feature to a 12 month CD. You cannot renew an existing CD into a No Penalty CD. A No Penalty CD is only available for new No Penalty CD accounts. If you want to change your existing CD to a No Penalty CD, you must first close your existing CD and then open a new No Penalty CD.
Step Up CD	Available for a 30 month term with the step up feature for the first term only, and interest paid monthly. The Step Up CD has 3 fixed interest rates for each period during the term beginning with Months 1 through 10, Months 11 through 20, and Months 21 through 30. Step Up CDs automatically renew without the step up feature to a 30 month CD. You cannot renew an existing CD to a new Step Up CD. A Step Up CD is only available for new Step Up CD accounts. If you want to change your existing CD to a Step Up CD, you must first close your existing CD and then open a new Step Up CD.

Minimum Balance. The minimum balance required to open a Certificate of Deposit account is $500. We may offer promotions, from time to time, which may require a different account opening balance. No additional deposits are permitted during the term. A CD account will automatically be closed after 20 consecutive calendar days with a zero balance. Citibank reserves the right to close the CD if the balance falls below any applicable minimum balance requirement. We will notify you that we closed your account if required by law.

Monthly Service Fee. There is no separate monthly service fee for a Certificate of Deposit.

APYs and Interest Rates. Annual Percentage Yield (APY) as used in this document is a percentage rate reflecting the total amount of interest paid on an account, based on the interest rate compounded daily for a period of one year assuming no fees, additional deposits or withdrawals, and the interest rate remains the same for the entire year. "Interest Rate" is the annual interest paid represented as a percentage assuming no change in rate and does not reflect compounding.

Annual Percentage Yields and interest rates for CDs are determined by Citibank at its sole discretion and can change at any time without notice before a term begins for a new account and renewal. Interest rates are fixed for the CD term. The APY for a Step Up CD is a Composite APY based on 3 fixed interest rates during the term for Months 1 through 10, Months 11 through 20, and Months 21 through 30. The APY on your CD assumes interest will remain on deposit in the CD account until maturity. A withdrawal will reduce earnings. For current interest rates and Annual Percentage Yields, please log in to Citi Online or the Citi Mobile App or speak to a banker in a branch or by calling the phone number on the back of your Citibank Banking Card.

For a new CD, the APY and interest rate is based on the CD type, CD term, account balance, and applicable promotion at account opening. For a renewing CD, the APY and interest rate will be the APY and interest rate in effect on the CD renewal date for the CD term and account balance. When the APY is based on account balance, the applicable balance range will be used to determine your APY and interest rate; account balance may not be a factor for all CD terms. Citibank may assign the same APY and interest rate to more than one balance range. Please refer to your applicable Rate Sheet. Balance ranges include:

$25,000 – $49,999.99

$50,000 – $99,999.99

$100,000 – $499,999.99

$1,000,000+

Every CD account is assigned to a Rate Region at account opening, which is identified on the Rate Sheet provided at account opening. Citibank reserves the right to apply an APY and interest rate based on the account's Rate Region, apply different APYs and interest rates for different Rate Regions, and assign the APY and interest rate applicable to a Rate Region based on one or more of the following: CD type, CD term, account balance, and applicable promotion.

Please refer to your applicable Rate Sheet to learn which factor(s) affect the APY and interest rate applicable to your Rate Region.

When Interest Begins to Accrue. Interest begins to accrue as of the calendar day you open your CD account. Balances in EDI accounts linked to your CD account will not be included in your interest calculation, even though they will be included in your CAMB.

Interest Compounding and Crediting. Interest is compounded daily starting as of the calendar day you open your CD account, for the actual number of days your money is on deposit. Interest is computed using a 365-day year except in leap years when interest may be computed on a 366-day basis.

All CDs are available with the monthly interest feature. CD terms of one year or less also are available with the interest at maturity feature. The No Penalty CD is only available with the monthly interest feature. When you select the interest at maturity feature, interest is credited on the Maturity Date. When you select the monthly interest feature, interest is credited to your account after the close of business on the last Business Day of each month, and on the Maturity Date. Interest is paid up to but not including the Maturity Date. If you open your CD or your CD renews during the last week of any month, interest from the new CD opening date or CD renewal date to the end of the month may be included with the interest for the first full month after the CD is opened or renewed. If the end of the month occurs during the Grace Period, interest accrued during the Grace Period will be included in the next month's interest for renewed CDs. If the CD account is closed before maturity, the interest minus any applicable early withdrawal penalty will be reflected in the closeout balance.

Interest Calculation Method. We use the daily balance method to calculate interest. This method applies a daily periodic rate to the balance in the account each day.

Interest Withdrawal. You may withdraw interest before maturity after it has been credited to your CD account without an early withdrawal penalty. You may request to have credited interest deposited to another account you have with us or sent to you in the form of a check. When your CD automatically renews and after the grace period, interest will be added to your principal balance and will no longer be available for withdrawal without penalty. No Penalty CDs do not allow partial withdrawals before maturity, including interest withdrawals.

The APY on your CD assumes interest will remain on deposit in the CD account until maturity. A withdrawal will reduce earnings.

Automatic Renewal and Grace Period. Your CD will automatically renew at maturity for the same CD term at the APY and interest rate in effect on the Maturity Date which is the renewal date, unless: (1) you change your CD term, or (2) the same term is not available and we notify you that your CD term is changing. Account promotions will not apply to renewing CDs, unless specifically stated otherwise.

If you do not want your CD to automatically renew, you can make changes during the Grace Period. The Grace Period begins on the day after the Maturity Date and is up to 7-calendar days. If the last day of the Grace Period is a non-Business Day (a weekend or bank holiday), the Grace Period ends on the last Business Day before the non-Business Day (the Grace Period End Date). During the Grace Period you can change your CD term, deposit additional funds, or withdraw funds without paying an early withdrawal penalty. If you change your term, make a deposit, or withdraw funds during the Grace Period: (a) the Grace Period will end that day, your renewed CD will have a new opening date which is your renewal date, your renewed CD will have a new Maturity Date, and you will not be able to make any changes without penalty until the new Maturity Date; (b) we will pay interest from the Maturity Date until the day before your new opening date (but not more than 7-calendar days) at the interest rate in effect on the Maturity Date; and (c) your renewed CD will be assigned the APY and interest rate in effect on your new opening date which is your CD renewal date.

Your account number will not change when your CD renews.

Early Withdrawal Penalties. Citibank will impose a substantial penalty if you withdraw any amount from the principal before the Maturity Date. It may be necessary to deduct all or a portion of the penalty from the principal amount of the deposit. Early withdrawal penalties are calculated on the amount of the principal withdrawn. A 90-day simple interest penalty will apply for CD terms of 1 year or less, and a 180-day simple interest penalty will apply for CD terms greater than one year. There is no early withdrawal penalty if the account owner dies or is declared legally incompetent.

The No Penalty CD allows withdrawal of your full balance and interest without penalty after the first six (6) calendar days you make the minimum deposit into your new CD account and your qualifying deposit has been fully collected. A No Penalty CD withdrawal made during the first 6 days will result in an early withdrawal penalty. A No Penalty CD does not allow partial withdrawals before maturity, including interest withdrawals.

6 Opening and Closing Accounts

6.1 Opening a deposit account

All accounts are opened subject to our ability to verify your identity. To help the government fight the funding of terrorism and money laundering activities, federal law requires us to obtain, verify, and record information that identifies each person who opens an account. When you apply for an account, we will ask for information that will allow us to identify you. We may also ask for your driver’s license or other identifying documents.

Your ability to perform or request certain account transactions on a new account may be delayed until your account is open and active, including wire transfers, deposits, and other services. Your account opening date is the date your account is open and active based on the following times. Certain times are based on Eastern Time and others are based on Central Time. Account opening transactions that are completed prior to the cut-off time on a Business Day are recorded as having occurred on that day. Account opening transactions that complete after the cut-off time are recorded as having occurred the next Business Day. The exception to the Business Day rule is Certificates of Deposit opened via Citi Online.

Certain times are based on Eastern Time and others are based on Central Time.

Governing Law

Accounts, products and services are governed by federal laws and regulations and to the extent not preempted by federal law or otherwise inapplicable, by the laws and regulations of the “Governing State” applicable to your account. State conflict of law provisions will not apply.

Opening an account in a physical branch location:

If you open your account in a physical branch location or with an employee in a physical branch by phone (including video calls), the Governing State applicable to your account will be the state where the branch is located.

Opening an account through other methods:

If you open your account on Citi Online (including Citi Mobile App) or by telephone other than with an employee in a physical branch by phone (including video calls), we will use the residential address (not your mailing address) you provide when opening your account to assign your Governing State.

- a. If you provide a residential address in California, Connecticut, Florida, Illinois, Maryland, Nevada, New Jersey, New York, Texas, Virginia or the District of Columbia when opening your account, your Governing State will be that state.
- b. If you use a residential address in any other state, territory or possession, your Governing State will be South Dakota.

When existing customers open a new account, please confirm your residential address is current.

If you notify us of a change of residential or mailing address after your account is opened, that change will not affect the Governing State applicable to your account. You may have accounts with different Governing States. Please note plan documents determine the Governing State applicable to retirement accounts.

Other Laws. This Agreement provides information about financial services provided by Citibank in the United States and its territories. It is not, and should not be construed as, an offer, invitation or solicitation of services to individuals outside of the United States. Your eligibility for a particular product and service is subject to a final determination by Citibank.

If your country of residence is other than the United States or the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, you acknowledge that you are responsible for, and agree that you will comply with, all laws, regulations, and rules applicable to your accounts, products and services with us, including any tax, foreign exchange, or capital controls, and for all payments, reporting or filing requirements that may apply as a result of your country of citizenship, domicile, or residence.

Important Note to Australian Resident Clients. Citibank N.A.: (i) is exempt from the requirement to hold an Australian financial services license under the Australian Corporations Act 2001 in respect of its provision of financial services to you; and (ii) is regulated by the Federal Reserve, the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau and the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency of the U.S. under U.S. laws, which differ from Australian laws.

Rate Region

Every deposit account is assigned to a "Rate Region." The Rate Region is used to determine the APY and interest rate applicable to interest-bearing accounts.

Opening account in a physical branch location:

- a. If you open your account in a physical branch or with an employee in a physical branch by phone (including video calls), the Rate Region applicable to your account will be the state where the branch is located.

Opening an account through other channels:

- a. If you open your account online (including Citi Mobile) or by telephone other than with an employee in a physical branch by phone (including video calls), we will use the residential address (not your mailing address) you provide when opening your account to assign your Rate Region.
- b. If you use a residential address in California, Connecticut, Florida, Illinois, Maryland, Nevada, New Jersey, New York, Texas, Virginia or the District of Columbia when opening your account, your Rate Region will be in that state or a portion of that state.
- c. If you provide a residential address in any other state, territory or possession, your account will be assigned to the National Rate Region. Customers in the National Rate Region will be assigned a national rate. Within the National Rate Region, there could be regional differences which will be provided at account opening.

If you notify us of a change of residential or mailing address after your account is opened, that change will not affect the Rate Region applicable to your account. You may have accounts with different Rate Regions.

Consumer Reporting Agency Information. You authorize us to obtain a consumer report in connection with the application, update or renewal of any deposit or loan account you apply for and you understand that we may also obtain such reports at any time once you become a customer.

We may report information, including negative account activity, about you and any joint account owners or authorized signers on the account (including any account closed by Citibank) to a Consumer Reporting Agency. As a result, this may prevent you from obtaining services at other financial institutions, including opening an account. If you believe that we have inaccurately reported information to a Consumer Reporting Agency, you have the right to file a dispute with that Consumer Reporting Agency. You may also file a dispute by calling the phone number on the back of your Citibank Banking Card or write to us at Citibank — Consumer Report Inquiry, P.O. Box 769004, San Antonio, TX 78245-9989. We will review our files and respond to you in writing.

Important Tax Information.<sup>9</sup> When you apply to open an account, Citibank is required to obtain U.S. tax certification from each account owner. If U.S. tax certification is not provided, the account will be subject to backup withholding. An account must not be subject to backup withholding to be eligible to participate in most account promotions; please refer to the separate promotion terms and conditions, if applicable.

U.S. persons are required to furnish or have a valid Form W-9 (Request for Taxpayer Identification Number and Certification) on file with Citibank. Foreign individuals are required to furnish or have a valid Form W-8BEN (Certificate of Foreign Status of Beneficial Owner for United States Tax Withholding and Reporting (Individuals)) on file with Citibank, and foreign entities are required to furnish or have a valid Form W-8BEN-E (Certificate of Status of Beneficial Owner for United States Tax Withholding and Reporting (Entities)) on file with Citibank.

Citibank will apply backup withholding to income payments (e.g., interest) if you: (a) fail to provide a correct Taxpayer Identification Number (TIN), or (b) the U.S. Internal Revenue Service (IRS) notifies us that you furnished an incorrect TIN, or (c) you or we are notified by the IRS that you are subject to backup withholding. Additionally, the IRS may charge you a $50 penalty for failing to provide Citibank with your correct Name/TIN combination. In some cases, a state and local tax authority may also require that we apply state and local backup withholding on income paid to your account when we are required to apply Federal backup withholding.

Interest received by U.S. Persons will be reported on IRS Form 1099-INT for the year received, as required by applicable law. Interest paid to non-U.S. Persons will be reported on IRS Form 1042-S for the year received. If 1099 reporting is required, Citibank will issue a 1099 to the first titled owner on the account. For jointly owned accounts that include both a U.S. owner and a foreign owner, we will issue the 1099 to the U.S. owner.

Please refer to the separate IRA account and other tax-qualified retirement account disclosures for additional requirements that may apply.

Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act

In order for Citibank to be compliant with the provisions of The Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act (commonly known as “FATCA”), a U.S. federal tax law, Citibank may contact you to request additional information and/or documentation. Please understand that Citibank does not and will not in any way support any attempt by you to evade U.S. taxes or any request by you for help in avoiding detection under FATCA. Furthermore, since Citibank is not in the business of providing tax advice, you should not rely upon Citibank to determine the impact of FATCA on your own business activities or what your own compliance obligations are under FATCA. We encourage you to seek the advice of experienced tax advisors to determine what actions you need to take to become FATCA compliant. Your failure to comply with FATCA may result in restricted access or withholding of taxes from interest payments due to you.

<sup>9</sup> IRS Circular 230 Disclosure: Citibank, N.A. its affiliates, and its employees are not in the business of providing tax or legal advice to any taxpayer outside of Citibank, N.A. and its affiliates. This information is not intended or written to be used, and cannot be used or relied upon, by any such taxpayer for the purpose of avoiding tax penalties. Any such taxpayer should seek advice based on the taxpayer’s particular circumstances from an independent tax advisor.

Account Ownership

Citibank Consumer Deposit Account ownership types include Individual, Joint, Informal Trusts, Uniform Gifts/Transfers to Minor Act, and Special Title Accounts. A Citibank Consumer Deposit Account cannot be owned by a business, including a business owned by one or more individuals.

Individual Account An account owned by only one natural person.

Joint Account An account owned by more than one natural person in joint tenancy. If one owner dies, ownership of the account will automatically pass to the surviving joint owner(s). Unless you designate otherwise on your signature card, application, or other bank documentation, we will assume that personal accounts opened by two or more individuals are intended to be joint tenancy accounts with the right of survivorship. We can act on the instruction of any one or more of the Joint Account owners. In the event of conflicting instructions or a dispute among Joint Account owners, we may require all joint account owners to act together in giving us instructions or performing transactions. Any Joint Account owner may close a Joint Account.

Each Joint Account owner is jointly and severally responsible for all activity related to the Joint Account, including responsibility for paying overdrafts created by any authorized signer(s) or party to the account, regardless of whether the Joint Account owner participated in the transaction or benefited from its proceeds. We may be required by legal process to pay all the funds in a Joint Account to satisfy a judgment against any or all Joint Account owners.

Each Joint Account must have at least one adult owner. Minors ages 13 to 17 may qualify to open a Joint Account. Please refer to the Governing Law of your account for information about legal rights and obligations of minors.

Informal Trust Account Sometimes referred to as a “Totten Trust”, “Pay on Death (POD)” or “In Trust For (ITF)” account, is an Individual or Joint account where the owner(s) designate one or more persons or entities (beneficiaries) to receive the funds in the account upon the death of the last surviving account owner. If more than one beneficiary is named in our records, they will share equally in the account proceeds. To change the beneficiary, all account owners must sign our documentation naming the new beneficiary. For FDIC insurance coverage, an Informal Trust Beneficiary must be a natural person or a charitable organization. Informal Trusts are not permitted for checking accounts.

Uniform Transfers/Gifts to Minor (UTMA/UGMA Account) means an account where, pursuant to state law, an adult makes an irrevocable gift of the funds to a minor individual. The adult, as custodian, controls and manages the account for the benefit of the minor until adulthood. The definition of a minor varies by state; however, generally, one custodian and one minor are allowed per account, unless the account is established under Maryland’s UTMA rules. We act upon the custodian’s instructions. Citibank may, in its sole discretion, opt to close the UTMA account if it determines or has reason to believe that the minor has attained the age at which the UTMA terminates under applicable state law. Although Citibank may terminate the UTMA in this circumstance, Citibank is not responsible to monitor age or eligibility for an UTMA account, even though our records may include the minor’s date of birth. It is the custodian’s responsibility to properly distribute the funds in the account upon the minor’s death or attainment of age at which the UTMA terminates under applicable state law. You may wish to consult your tax advisor or attorney before opening a UTMA/UGMA Account.

Special Title Accounts

Special Title Accounts are various forms of account ownership where one or more persons who are the account signers (fiduciaries) control and manage the account for the benefit of another person (beneficial owners). Citibank requires additional information and documents to maintain Special Title Accounts. Types of Special Title Accounts include, but are not limited to, accounts owned by, Estates, Formal Trusts, Guardianships, Conservatorships, Custodianships, Representative Payees, persons acting under a power of attorney or other agency, and Court Ordered Money Market (COMMA) accounts. For Special Title Accounts we act upon the fiduciary's instructions.

- "Estate Account" means an account held by a person appointed by a court (Executor, Administrator, or Personal Representative) to manage the property of a deceased person. The estate will need its own Taxpayer Identification Number (TIN) issued by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS).
- "Formal Trust Account" means an account owned by a revocable or irrevocable formal trust created with a document prepared by a legal professional. In some cases, the trust must have its own Taxpayer Identification Number (TIN) issued by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS).
- Other Special Title Accounts include where one person (fiduciary) manages funds for another person (beneficial owner), such as: Guardianships, Conservatorships, Custodianships, Representative Payees, persons acting under a power of attorney or other agency, and COMMA accounts (Please refer to section 5.4.4 Court Ordered Money Market (COMMA) accounts).

Certain Deposit Accounts with Transactional Features

If you have opened a deposit account on behalf of the beneficial owner(s) of the funds in the account (for example, as an agent, nominee, guardian, executor, custodian or funds held in some other capacity for the benefit of others), those beneficial owners may be eligible for FDIC "pass-through" insurance. This means the account may qualify for more than the standard deposit insurance amount. If the account has transactional features, you must be able to provide a record of the interests of the beneficial owner(s) in accordance with FDIC requirements in the format presented below. Additional information that describes the process to follow and the information you will need to provide to the FDIC in the event Citibank fails can be found on the FDIC's website in a document entitled "Deposit Broker's Processing Guide" in section "VIII. Part 370 Alternative Recordkeeping Entity Processing: Addendum to the Deposit Broker's Processing Guide."

In the event that Citibank fails, you agree to cooperate fully with us and the FDIC in connection with determining the insured status of funds in such accounts. This includes providing the FDIC with the information described above in the required format within 24 hours of bank failure. You understand and agree that your failure to provide the necessary data to the FDIC may result in a delay in your receipt of FDIC insured funds. Notwithstanding other provisions in this Agreement, this section survives after a receiver is appointed for us, and the FDIC is considered a third party beneficiary of this section.

Conflicting Demands/Disputes. If there is any uncertainty or conflicting demand regarding the ownership of an account or its funds; or we are unable to determine any person's authority to give us instructions; or we are requested by law enforcement or a state or local agency to freeze the account or reject a transaction due to the suspected financial abuse of an elder or dependent adult; or we believe a transaction may be fraudulent or may violate any law, we may, in our sole discretion: (1) freeze the account and refuse transactions until we receive written proof (in form and substance satisfactory to us) of each person's right and authority over the account and its funds; (2) refuse transactions and return checks, marked "Refer to Maker" (or similar language); (3) require the signatures of all authorized signers for the withdrawal of funds, the closing of an account, or any change in the account regardless of the number of authorized signers on the account; (4) request instructions from a court of competent jurisdiction at your expense regarding the account or transaction; and/or (5) continue to honor checks and other instructions given to us by persons who appear as authorized signers according to our records. The existence of the rights set forth above shall not impose an obligation on us to assert such rights or to deny a transaction.

Transferring Account Ownership

Assignments

Most accounts can be assigned as collateral for a loan from us or another lender. Unless we agree in writing, any such assignment to another lender will remain subject and subordinate to our right of setoff. For the assignment to be effective, we must receive written notice of the assignment and agree to it in writing. We will then reflect the change on our records.

Restricted Access

There are occasions when we restrict access to deposits, such as when your account application is being processed, when funds are assigned as collateral or when we are required by law to restrict access. If funds assigned as collateral are in interest-bearing accounts, they will continue to earn interest as usual. They may not, however, be used in connection with our Safety Check service.

6.2 Closing a Deposit Account

You may close your account at any time except as stated otherwise in this Agreement. We may allow one owner/signer to close an account without the consent or signature(s) of any other owner(s)/ signer(s). Except in limited circumstances, if you close a Certificate of Deposit account before maturity, you will be subject to an early withdrawal penalty.

We may close your account at any time with or without cause. We will notify you that we closed your account when required by law. If we close your account, we will remit the balance in your account, minus any amounts owed to us. If your account balance is insufficient to pay amounts owed to us, you will continue to be liable to us for the unpaid amount and interest. Your obligations for transaction activity conducted prior to account closure will survive the termination of the account and this Agreement.

Dormant Accounts

Based on the applicable dormancy periods provided by state abandoned property statutes, we may be required to send to the appropriate state the balances in your deposit account when there has been no customer-initiated activity. Some examples of customer-initiated activity include, but are not limited to:

- Depositing or withdrawing funds;
- Sending a one-time payment; or
- Writing to us concerning the account.

For a certificate of deposit account, automatic renewals are not considered customer-initiated activity. Applicable state dormancy periods can begin after the initial maturity date.

In complying with these requirements, the laws of the state of your last known address (as recorded on our bank records) govern the inactivity period and specific requirements applicable to your account. If your address, as recorded on our bank records, is outside of the United States, South Dakota law will govern. We may also restrict your account if we determine it has been otherwise inactive due to no customer-initiated activity.

Forfeited Accounts. If your account is seized by or forfeited to the United States government or a state government, you no longer have title to the account, and the funds in the seized or forfeited account will no longer earn interest during such period of seizure or forfeiture, even if the funds are eventually returned to you.

Death or Legal Determination of Incompetence. You agree to notify us immediately of the death or court-ordered legal determination of incompetence of any owner or authorized signer on your account. We may disregard any notice of incompetence unless the person in question has been declared incompetent by a court of appropriate jurisdiction and we receive written notice and instructions from the court or court appointed fiduciary regarding the account. We also may freeze, offset, refuse and/or reverse deposits and transactions (e.g., governmental or retirement benefits payments payable to the deceased) if an owner dies or is legally determined incompetent.

In case of death or legally determined incompetence of an account owner, we will continue to honor checks written on that account as well as other withdrawal instructions until we are notified of the death or the legally determined incompetence. We may continue to honor checks for up to ten (10) days following the death of the account owner unless a validly appointed representative of the decedent or another account owner provides us with stop payment instructions.

Upon notification of death or legal determination of incompetence, we will block individual accounts; joint accounts may remain unblocked for up to thirty (30) days after we have been notified of an account owner's death. Certain documents must be presented to us before funds in such an account can be paid out and the account closed. For more information about which documents are required, please visit a branch or call the phone number on the back of your Citibank Banking Card.

6.3 Other Account Information

Information Sharing. You agree to let us share information about you and your Account(s) as allowed by law. This includes information we get from you and others. Our privacy notice, which is enclosed with your new Account materials, describes reasons Citibank can share its customers' personal information.

Contacting You. You agree that we (and/or our servicing providers or anyone we authorize) may contact you at any phone number, email address, or mailing address you provide, or we obtain in other ways. This includes communications to mobile, cellular/wireless or similar devices. We may contact you by live operator, auto dialer, recorded or artificial voice, text or email. You agree to pay any charges from your plan provider for communications we send to you, as well as communications you send to us.

Your Consent for Us to Use Your Mobile Phone Number to Identify You. You authorize your wireless carrier to use or disclose information about your account and your wireless device, if available, to Citibank or its service provider for the duration of your business relationship, solely to help them identify you or your wireless device and to prevent fraud.

Separately, Citibank may obtain information about your mobile phone activity from third parties and may use this information for its other everyday business purposes. For more information, please refer to our U.S. Privacy Notice for Consumers.

Call Monitoring. We may monitor and record any calls between you and us.

Exemplar Signature. Citibank may use automated processes to capture a digital image of your signature on checks written on your account to retain as your on-file signature. This on-file signature will be kept in Citibank's records and may be used to determine the authenticity of your signature and whether subsequent checks or instructions on other items and documents are authorized by you.

Simply follow the directions on the ATM screen to insert your check or cash deposit in the appropriate slot. Some instruments such as some money orders or foreign checks cannot be accepted by the ATM terminal and must be deposited with a branch representative. When your transaction is completed, you will receive a transaction record via email or print (which ever option you select), that will provide an image of the check(s) or a breakdown of the cash accepted.

7.1.2 Timing of Deposits; Availability of Funds; Acceptance of Deposits

Deposits made in Citibank branches are posted to your Accounts on the same day. Deposits made at Proprietary Citibank ATMs or by Mobile Check Deposit after 10:30 Eastern Time (9:30 Central Time) are posted to your account on the following Business Day. Deposited funds may not be available for immediate withdrawal. For more information please refer to Appendix 2: Funds Availability at Citibank.

We may accept items payable to you, or to any of you, from any source without questioning the authority of the person making the deposit. We also may give cash back to any authorized account signer(s) or agent(s) in connection with items payable to any owner, whether or not the items have been endorsed by the owner. If you make a deposit or payment that is not accompanied by instructions indicating how or where it is to be credited, we may apply it at our discretion, to any loan or deposit account any of you maintain with us.

7.1.3 Remotely Created Checks

“Remotely Created Check(s)” means an item not bearing the drawer’s (your) actual signature, but purporting to be authorized by the drawer (you). You may not deposit remotely created checks to an account with us without our prior, express written consent. If you deposit remotely created checks with us, you agree that we may withhold a portion of the proceeds of such remotely created checks in a reserve account, in an amount that we reasonably believe may be needed to cover future charge backs, returned items, and/or claims that such remotely created checks were unauthorized. You grant us a security interest in the reserve account. Unless we agree otherwise in writing with you, reserve funds shall not bear interest. Our right to charge your account for returned remotely created checks will not be limited by the balance or existence of any reserve fund. Our rights with respect to the reserve fund, as well as the security interest granted to us, shall survive the termination of this Agreement. We may discontinue accepting remotely created checks at any time without cause or prior notice.

If you provide your account number to a third party with instructions to charge your account by means of one or more remotely created checks, you authorize us to pay such remotely created checks, even though they do not contain your signature and may exceed the amounts you authorized to be charged. This provision shall not obligate us to honor remotely created checks. We may refuse to honor remotely created checks without cause or prior notice, even if we have honored similar items previously.

7.1.4 Endorsements

To ensure that your check is processed without delay, you must endorse your check correctly by signing the back of the check. The area reserved for your signature is on the back of the check, within 1½ inches from the “top” edge (as shown in the picture below). Do not make any additional marks or notations on the back of the check.

You will be liable for unpaid checks returned late because your endorsement, a prior endorsement, or information you have printed on the back of the check obscures other endorsements.

We may endorse and/or collect items deposited to your account without your endorsement, but may require your personal endorsement prior to accepting an item for deposit.

7.1.5 Collection

7.1.5.1 Items Sent for Collection

We and other institutions may refuse to accept a check or other item for deposit or may accept it on a collection basis only. This often occurs with foreign, questionable or damaged items. If we accept an item for collection, we will send it to the institution upon which it is drawn, but will not credit your account for the amount until we receive the funds from the other institution. If we elect to credit your account before then, we may charge the amount back against your account if we do not receive payment for any reason. We may impose a fee in connection with sending and receiving items for collection (e.g., by charging your account or deducting the fee from the amount remitted). Other institutions that send or receive items for collection involving your account also may impose a fee for their services.

7.1.5.2 Verification and Collection

Any item that we cash or accept for deposit is subject to later verification and final payment. We may deduct funds from your account if an item is lost, stolen or destroyed in the collection process, if it is returned to us unpaid, or if it was improperly paid, even if you have already used the funds. Cash deposits are also subject to later verification.

7.1.6 ACH Credits

7.1.6.1 ACH Provisional Credits

Credit for an ACH transfer is provisional until final payment is received by the payee’s financial institution. Until that happens, the party originating the transfer is not deemed to have made payment to the beneficiary, and the payee’s bank is entitled to a refund of the provisional credit. If we give you provisional credit for an ACH transfer, but do not receive final payment, you become obligated to us for the full amount without prior notice or demand.

7.1.6.2 Notice of Incoming ACH Transfer (Credit)

Notice of your incoming funds transfers and incoming wire transfers will be deemed to have occurred when you receive your Account Statement, or another notice from us, containing a credit to your account for the funds received. You may also contact a branch during normal business hours to determine if a transfer has been credited to your account. This information is available to you anytime on the number on the back of your card, or on the Citi Mobile App or Citi Online.

7.1.7 Reconstructing Lost, Missing, or Destroyed Deposits

When you cash or deposit a check or other item with us, we act as your agent to collect the item. You assume the risk of loss for deposited items that are lost, missing, or destroyed during the processing and collection of the item(s). We may reverse any credit given and any interest earned or accrued for such a deposited item, and we may recover the amount of any funds disbursed for any such cashed item from any account you maintain with us. You agree to cooperate fully with us to reconstruct such a deposited item by promptly:

- Providing us with a copy of the front and back of the deposited item from your or the issuer's records;
- Asking the issuer of the item to place a stop payment on it (at our expense) and to issue a replacement item to you (if the deposited item has not been paid); and
- Reviewing your records and other information to obtain the issuer's identity and any other information about the deposited item. If you fail to cooperate with us to reconstruct the deposit, we may adjust any credit made to your account for the deposited item.

7.1.8 General Information

7.1.8.1 Our Right to Refuse Deposits

We may, at our discretion, refuse to accept funds for deposit to your account for any reason. We will, to the extent practical, try to facilitate your transaction by the best means available, including sending the item for collection or forwarding the item to the appropriate processing area. Your account will not be credited until collection or processing is completed.

7.1.8.2 Account Balance and Transaction Information

You may view information about your Accounts on Citi Online, Citi Mobile, at an ATM or by IVR, but the information provided through any of these means may not include recent transactions and may also include funds that are not available for immediate withdrawal. Your "Available Now" balance is the total amount you can use for withdrawals and transfer right now. The Available Now amount may be less than the On Deposit balance as it doesn't include the transactions that are still pending and haven't been posted to your Account. For example, recent incoming funds transfers from external banks may not be included in your Available Now balance. Your "On Deposit" balance reflects all transactions recorded in your Account as of the current day. The On Deposit balance may be greater than the Available Now balance because it's a record of your activity, including transactions that haven't settled and that aren't yet available for you to use.

We may make deposited funds available to you and include within your Available Now balance before the deposit has settled with the paying bank. If the deposited item is returned unpaid, we will debit your Account for the amount of the deposit. You may not rely upon oral statements by Citibank employees about your On Deposit balance, Available Now balance, or the status of any deposited item.

7.2 Withdrawals

7.2.1 How to Make a Withdrawal

Citibank Branches. You can withdraw up to your available balance by cashing a check or making a withdrawal at a Citibank branch. We may require you to present identification.

Proprietary Citibank ATMs and Network ATMs. You can use your Citibank Banking Card to withdraw cash from your eligible linked accounts at a Proprietary Citibank ATM and from primary linked accounts at a Network ATM. Depending on the terms of your account, there may be a Citibank transaction fee for cash withdrawals from a Network ATM other than those which you can use without incurring a surcharge as described in the following paragraph. In addition, the company that owns or operates the machine may charge you a fee for the withdrawal. For more information on ATM withdrawals, please refer to section 8 Electronic Fund Transfers of this Agreement.

You can withdraw cash, get information and make transfers between your eligible linked Citibank accounts with no surcharge fee when you use your Citibank Banking Card at ATMs in the U.S. located at Citibank branches, ATMs at select retail store locations, and ATMs participating in the MoneyPass® Network. ATMs in retail stores and at other non-Citi locations are not owned or operated by Citibank. Use the Citi Worldwide ATM/Branch Locator on Citi Online or the Citi Mobile App to find the nearest ATMs and branches, including non-Citibank ATMs in the U.S. with surcharge free access.

Cash Withdrawals. Cash withdrawals or payments at any Citibank branch may be restricted due to the limited amount of currency on hand. If we do not have sufficient cash for a large withdrawal or payment, we may make arrangements for a later cash payment or offer to make payment with an Official Check. We assume no responsibility to provide personal protection for customers who elect to carry large sums of money off our premises.

Electronic Fund Transfer. You can utilize a variety of electronic fund transfer services to withdraw funds from your accounts. Please refer to section 8 Electronic Fund Transfers of this Agreement for details.

Writing a Check. You can write a check for any amount up to the Available Now balance (including any Checking Plus® or Safety Check availability) in your checking account or Savings account, provided your account offers a check-writing feature, by using one of the personalized checks you receive from us or one of the compliant checks that you have ordered elsewhere. Checks must be written in U.S. dollars.

7.2.2 Paying your Checks

Electronic Presentment of Checks. We may charge your account on the day that a check or other transaction is presented (or returned) to us directly or electronically for payment. We may charge your account or place a hold on funds at an earlier time if we receive notice that a check or other item deposited to your account is being returned, or if we receive notice that your check or electronic payment (e.g., at a point-of-sale) is being processed for collection.

Please note: Some merchants may obtain authorizations in advance for point-of-sale transactions in an amount greater than the final transaction amount. You agree that we may place a hold on sufficient funds to cover the amount of the authorized transaction, pending its final settlement through the system even if that amount exceeds the actual amount of the transaction. This could affect the balance available to cover other transactions.

Check Processing Cut-off Hour. In order to handle the large volume of checks processed each day, we may treat any check you have written that is presented for payment after 2:00 PM on a Business Day as if it were received on the next Business Day. Our cut-off hour with respect to any notice, knowledge, stop payment or post-dated check order, or legal process received by us involving a check we have received for payment is one hour after the opening of the Business Day following the Business Day on which we received the check. Our cut-off hour for check processing purposes with respect to our right of setoff is midnight of the Business Day following the Business Day on which we received the check, or such later time by which we must return the check.

Notations on Checks. We may ignore any legal copy appearing on your checks (such as “Void after 60 days”). Our decision to pay or not to pay a check is based on funds available in your account and other factors. It may not be affected by any subsequent deposits to your account.

Please note: As checks you have written are presented to us for payment during the course of a Business Day, we may place a hold on available funds in your account for the amount of those checks resulting in a reduction in your available account balance throughout that day. The held funds may be applied against processing of those checks or other transactions later that day.

We process most checks by automated means based on information encoded on the checks. As such, we may not physically examine all checks to determine if they are properly signed or completed. You agree that we may rely on such a process and that it will be deemed an acceptable standard of care on our part.

Post-Dated Checks. You agree not to write post-dated checks. If you do, we may or may not pay the check on the day it is presented.

The following applies to you if the governing state law of your account is in a state other than New York: If you write a post-dated check on your account and intend that the check will not be paid by us until the date written on the check, you must notify us to register it at the time you write the check. In order for your registration notice to be effective, you must call the phone number on the back of your Citibank Banking Card and provide the number, payee, amount and date of the check. You may also send written notice of your post-dated check request to us at the address printed on your periodic statement. An oral or written request to register a post-dated check is good for six (6) months and may be renewed for additional six (6) month periods by giving written notice to us within the period during which the original notice is in effect. A post-dated check will be registered only if the notice is received at such a time and in such a manner as to afford us a reasonable opportunity to act on it before we take action with respect to the check. We may pay any post-dated check that has not been properly registered with us or not registered in a timely manner. If we re-credit your account after paying a postdated check over a valid and timely postdated check notice, you agree to transfer to us all of your related rights against the payee or other holder of the check, and to assist us in legal action taken against that person.

Stale-Dated Checks. You agree that we may pay or reject a check which is presented to us for payment more than six months after its date (a “stale-dated” check), even if the presentment occurs after the expiration of a stop payment order. We normally do not examine the date on checks presented for payment. You agree that we are not required to identify stale dated checks or to seek your permission to pay them. To make sure that a check will not be paid, you should place a stop payment order on the check.

7.2.3 Posting Order

Posting Order. We may accept, pay, certify, or charge to the appropriate account, Transaction Items in the order we choose. Even if we provisionally post Transaction Items to your account during the day, we may treat them as if we received all of them at the end of the day.

For purposes of the “Posting Order,” “Overdrawing Your Account,” “Insufficient Funds to pay a Transaction Item,” and “Overdraft Protection” sections of the Agreement, a “Transaction Item” includes in-person transfers or withdrawals, drafts, ACH transactions and transfers by other electronic means, account fees and charges, service charges, product, service or bank fees, checks, substitute checks, service charges, purported substitute checks, electronic items or transactions, drafts, remotely created checks, image replacement documents, indemnified copies, preauthorized payments, automatic transfers, telephone initiated transfers, online banking transfers or bill payment instructions, withdrawal slips, adjustments, and any other instruments or instructions for the payment, transfer or withdrawal of funds including an image or photocopy of any of these.

Generally, your deposits and withdrawals are processed as follows:

First: Deposits made before the cut-off time are added to your account balance.

Second: Fees for services we provide.

Third: Transactions received real-time during the day are deducted as they occur if there is a sufficient available balance in the account to pay for the transaction and any associated fee. Example: ATM, debit PIN or teller withdrawals including cashed checks; transfers or Citi Online bill payments initiated by you, debit card purchases at a merchant and most ACH debits that we receive throughout the day.

Fourth: Checks presented for payment and any ACH debit not deducted during the day are deducted from your remaining available balance in the order of lowest to highest dollar amount.

7.2.4 Overdrawing Your Account

Overdrawing Your Account. Citibank encourages its customer to consider the impact of overdrawing an account. Your deposit account with us is overdrawn if your Available Now balance is less than $0 (negative balance). You can minimize overdrawing your account by maintaining an Available Now balance in your account sufficient to cover your Transaction Items. An account may become overdrawn for a variety of reasons, including if you perform a transaction on your account that reduces your Available Now balance to less than $0.

In the event of insufficient funds to pay one or more Transaction Items from your Available Now balance, in our sole discretion we may return (“Returned Items”) or pay (“Overdraft”) one or more Transaction Items. We will not allow you to overdraw your account in certain circumstances. These may include certain activities, such as branch withdrawals, ATM transactions, and transactions using your Citibank® Debit Card. In addition, Access Checking accounts are designed so that Transaction Items that cause an overdraft will not be authorized. For certain other account activities, such as a check transaction or ACH payment, in our discretion, we may allow or deny a transaction that would cause an account to be overdrawn.

Insufficient Funds to pay a Transaction item. Our payment of any Transaction Item that creates an Overdraft in no way obligates us to continue that practice at a later time. We may discontinue paying Overdrafts without notice to you. Although Citibank does not charge fees for Returned Items and Overdrafts, you may be charged a fee by the merchant or other payee. A Return Deposit Item may occur whether or not your account is overdrawn and is not an overdraft fee or a Returned Item fee. You may be charged this fee when checks that you deposit into your account are returned by the paying bank for insufficient or uncollected funds.

Please be aware an entity that presents a Transaction Item for payment and is returned, may represent it for payment multiple times even if we have already returned it for insufficient funds. Each presentment may decrease your Available Now balance.

If your account balance is insufficient to pay your Transaction Item and we pay an Overdraft, you and all owners and beneficial owners of the account will continue to be liable to us for the unpaid amount and interest thereon until it is paid in full. Accounts with a zero or negative account balance may be closed. Your obligations for Transaction Items conducted by you will survive the termination of the account and this Agreement.

Overdraft Protection. Citibank offers two options designed to help you cover overdraft amounts in your checking account: Safety Check and Checking Plus® (variable rate) Line of Credit. Ask us for information which may include an application.

Safety Check. Safety Check covers overdraft amounts by transferring funds from your linked Savings account. The linked contributing account also covers the use of deposited funds that are not yet available in your checking account.

Contributing Accounts

When you sign up for Safety Check, you may select one account you maintain at Citibank as your “Contributing Account.” Citi Savings, Citibank Savings Plus, Citi Accelerate Savings or Citi Miles Ahead Savings accounts are eligible Contributing Accounts. Only Available Now balances in your Contributing Account can be used for Safety Check coverage.

When Safety Check is used to cover your use of funds in your checking account that are not yet available (uncollected), a like amount in your Contributing Account will be held until the deposited funds become available. The funds held in your Contributing Account are not transferred to the checking account and will continue to earn interest. Since no transfer of funds occurs, there is no transfer fee for use of this service in this circumstance.

Safety Check Transfers

Safety Check transfers from your Contributing Account will be made in the amount needed to cover your overdraft amounts rounded up to the next $100 increment. We reserve the right to pay a Transaction Item and not to process a Safety Check Transfer.

Transfers. No more than $99,999.99 per statement period will be transferred from your Contributing Account to cover overdraft amounts or use of uncollected funds in your checking account.

Checking Plus® (variable rate) Line of Credit. Checking Plus is a revolving line of credit account linked to your Citibank checking account that provides overdraft protection and allows you to borrow the extra cash you need. Funds are automatically transferred from the Checking Plus line to the checking account to cover overdraft amounts; you can also withdraw cash at any time directly from your Checking Plus account without overdrawing your checking account (up to your available credit limit).

Checking Plus (variable rate) line of credit account terms and conditions are disclosed in a separate Agreement and Disclosure that you will receive at time of account application or shortly thereafter.

For all Checking Plus® and Checking Plus® (variable rate) Line of Credit customers. Please refer to your Checking Plus or Checking Plus (variable rate) Line of Credit Account Agreement and Disclosure, as applicable, for terms, conditions and fees relating to transfers from Checking Plus Line of Credit or Checking Plus (variable rate) Line of Credit Accounts.

7.2.5 Stop Payment Orders (Checks)

General. Any signer on the account can instruct us to stop payment on a check that has not been paid by issuing a stop payment order at a Citibank branch, through Citi Online or by calling CitiPhone Banking®. For information about stopping payment on an automatic withdrawal or payment from your account (ACH), please refer to section 8.3 Stop (Cancel) Payment Orders (Pre-authorized Recurring Fund Transfers) and section 8.4 Stop (Cancel) Payment Orders (One-time Future Dated ACH Transfers).

A stop payment order must be received in a time and manner that gives us a reasonable opportunity to act on it before paying, accepting, certifying, cashing or otherwise becoming obligated to pay the item. Payment cannot be stopped on a check that has already been paid or that is in the process of being paid. At the time that you place a stop payment order, we may not be able to tell you whether the check has been paid or is in the process of being paid. Under certain circumstances, the law may allow the party in possession of the check to enforce payment, despite the stop payment order. You agree to indemnify us against any claim or loss resulting from honoring your stop payment request.

When you place a stop payment on a check, a stop payment fee may apply. Please refer to Appendix 1: Fee Schedule.

When you place a stop payment order on a check and believe that the check may be converted to an electronic transaction (ACH), you should also place a second stop payment as an ACH. There is no fee for the second stop payment.

Contents of Stop Payment Order. You will need to accurately provide:

- Your account number;
- The date of the check;
- The check number;
- The exact amount (dollars and cents) of the check; and
- The payee's name.

We may use some or all of the information, in our sole discretion, to identify a check. If the information is not exactly correct, the stop payment may not be effective.

Effective Period of Stop Payment Order: Renewal. A stop payment order on a check will stay in effect for six (6) months from the date we accept the stop payment order, unless you instruct us to cancel it or to renew it, provided that we have not already returned the check. The order may be renewed for additional six (6) month periods.

Your instructions to remove or renew a stop payment order must be received in a time and manner that gives us a reasonable opportunity to act upon it.

Replacement Check. If you write a new check to replace one on which you have placed a stop payment order, be sure it has a different check number and date. It is also helpful if you write the word “replacement” on it so it is not mistaken for the original check.

Official Checks and Money Orders. You may not as a matter of right place a stop payment on an official check, money order, or international cheque. If such an instrument has been lost, stolen, or destroyed, you and/or the payee may, under certain circumstances, be allowed to place a stop payment by completing a “Stop Payment Request and Indemnity Agreement” form. We may require that you wait ninety (90) days before reissuing the check or reimbursing you. You may also be required to purchase a surety bond for twice the amount of the instrument.

7.2.6 Withdrawal Refusals

In some instances, we may refuse a request for a withdrawal or transfer from an account. The following list includes, but is not limited to, the most common reasons we might refuse such requests:

- If the funds you wish to withdraw are not yet available; (Please refer to Appendix 2: Funds Availability at Citibank).
- If we decide to require seven (7) days advance written notice and we have not received such notice;
- If there are insufficient funds in your account;
- If you use a type of check not acceptable to us;
- If the funds you wish to withdraw are being held to cover a checking account withdrawal under our Safety Check service;
- If the funds you wish to withdraw are being held due to cashing of a third party check against the account or for any other reason;
- If the withdrawal would consist of money owed to us;
- If the withdrawal you are requesting is of the type that is limited by federal regulations, and you have already reached the applicable limit;
- If, in the case of a joint account, any account signer gives us written instructions not to permit a withdrawal;
- If the account is pledged as collateral for a loan;
- If an account owner has died and we have not received all documents required to release funds in the account;
- If we have not received documents or identification required to permit access to the account, such as when the account is new and documentation remains missing;
- If we have been ordered by a court or other legal process not to permit the withdrawal;
- If you do not present us with appropriate identification or any other information that we may require;
- If we are aware of any dispute relating to the account or funds in the account;
- If we have some suspicion of fraud, irregularity, or illegality; or
- If we believe that the signature on a check or item drawn on your account and presented for payment does not appear similar to that appearing in our records.

Payment over Valid Stop Payment Order. If you believe that we have paid a check over a valid stop payment order, we may require you to provide us with evidence of our acceptance of a valid stop payment order and an affidavit describing in detail your loss resulting from the payment of the check; and, if applicable, further describing in detail your dispute with the payee. If we subsequently determine that you were indebted to the payee for the exact amount of the check or less, you agree that we will have the right to debit your account for the amount of the indebtedness. If your account has insufficient funds to cover the indebtedness we may also exercise our right of setoff.

7.2.7 Check Cashing

Your Own Checks. You can cash a check at any Citibank branch, for any amount up to the available balance with your Citibank Banking Card or other identification that is acceptable to us.

Third Party Checks. In certain instances we may allow you to cash a third party check (i.e., a check originally payable to another person) at a Citibank branch, up to the available balance in your account using your Citibank Banking Card as identification. If the check is payable to a party other than yourself, we may require that the other party's endorsement be verified or guaranteed before we accept the check. In any case, we may refuse to accept any third party check for encashment for any reason. If you routinely request that we cash third party checks we may require that you enter into a separate agreement with us for that purpose. If we do cash a third party check, a hold may be placed on your account for the amount of the check until the check clears. The amount of the check cashed may also reduce your daily balance or average daily balance for interest and/ or fee calculation purposes for up to the number of days it takes for us to collect the check.

Payee Check Cashing. When you write one of your checks to another person, that person, with proper identification, may be able to cash it at a designated Citibank branch up to the applicable limit which is currently $5,000. This limit may change from time to time without notice to you. We may charge a person who cashes your check a fee, or refuse to cash your check, if that person is not a deposit or loan customer of ours. Otherwise, the payee will be required to deposit the check to an account with us or elsewhere. For checks presented for encashment to a Citibank branch located in California or Nevada by a payee who does not bank with us, we may also require the payee to provide a fingerprint before cashing the check. If the payee refuses to provide a fingerprint, or, if a payee refuses to pay our check cashing fee, we may refuse to cash the check. You agree that our refusal to do so is reasonable and that we will not be liable to you for our refusal.

Check Cashing for Others. You should not use your account to cash checks for others who are not well known to you. Although we may make funds provisionally available to you and may take steps to determine whether a check will be paid, you are responsible for any loss that occurs if the check is returned to us for any reason (e.g., because it is counterfeit). Our employees cannot promise that checks drawn on or issued by other institutions, including cashier's checks or official checks, will be paid.

7.3.1 Account Errors and Adjustments

We may make adjustments to your account whenever a correction or change is required. Adjustments might occur, for example, if a deposit amount is entered in an amount that is different than the actual amount of the deposit or items you deposit are returned unpaid. In the case of a deposit error where the deposit amount is entered in the wrong amount, we will either investigate the discrepancy and make an adjustment (debit or credit) to your account or alternatively, credit your account for the full amount of the discrepancy without investigation.

You have a responsibility to review your account statement in a timely manner and to notify us promptly of any errors. Within thirty (30) days after we send or make available to you your account statement and accompanying items, you must notify us in writing of any errors, discrepancies, or unauthorized transactions. If you fail to do so, we will not be liable for debits or charges to your account resulting from such errors, discrepancies or lack of authorization, or for losses resulting from subsequent related occurrences. For claims with respect to domestic wire transfers, please refer to section 9.1 Outgoing Wire Transfers or in the separate agreement you received when you enrolled in the service.

Please note: There are exceptions to this 30 Day notice requirement. For claims asserting forged, missing, or unauthorized endorsements or a material alteration, you must notify us within the period specified by the state law applicable to your accounts.

Claims involving outgoing consumer international wires and outgoing international Citibank Global Transfers are governed by special notice provisions for remittance transfers described in section 9.2 Remittance Transfers within this Agreement and in the separate funds transfer agreement for these services. Claims involving electronic fund transfers covered by Regulation E (Subpart A) are also governed by special notice provisions described in section 8 Electronic Fund Transfers. Please refer to these sections for a description of your rights.

You also agree that any suit or demand for arbitration that you assert based on an account error, discrepancy, or unauthorized transaction must be brought within 1 year (2 years in Texas) after the date of the first account statement on which the error, discrepancy, or unauthorized transaction appears.

If you think an error has been made or if you need more information about a transaction, call the number on the back of your Citibank Banking Card. If your account is debited with a substitute check that you have received from us and you believe that there is an error or discrepancy or that the transaction is unauthorized, you are entitled to additional rights under the law. Please refer to section 7.3.2 Substitute Checks and Your Rights.

If funds to which you are not entitled are deposited into your account, we have the right to remove these funds from the account at any time without prior notice to you. If there are insufficient funds in the account, we may charge your other accounts to recoup the funds, as more fully explained in the “Right of Setoff” section of this Agreement.

7.3.2 Substitute Checks and Your Rights

What Is a Substitute Check? A substitute check is a paper reproduction created from a digital image of the front and back of the original check and bears the legend “This is a legal copy of your check.” You can use it the same way you would use the original check. Federal law allows banks to replace original checks with “substitute checks.” Under the law, a substitute check is the “legal equivalent” of the original check. In other words, it can be used in the same way and for all purposes for which you would use the original check.

Your Rights. The following rights apply if you receive a substitute check from us in lieu of the original check. These rights do not apply to original checks or to electronic debits. Your rights as to those transactions remain unchanged and are described in other sections of this Agreement. Please note these rights also do not apply to images of checks furnished to you or viewed through Citi Online.

In certain cases, federal law provides a special procedure that allows you to request a refund for losses you incur if you believe a substitute check is incorrectly posted to your account (for example, if you think your account was debited for the wrong amount) and production of the original check is needed to determine the validity of the debit. The losses you may attempt to recover may include the amount that was withdrawn from your account and fees that were charged as a result of the withdrawal (for example, overdraft check fees.) The amount of the refund you may request under this procedure is limited to the amount of your loss or the amount of the substitute check, whichever is less. You are also entitled to interest if your account is an interest-bearing account. If your loss exceeds the amount of the substitute check, you may be able to recover additional amounts under other laws.

8 Electronic Fund Transfers

8.1 General Information

We provide a variety of Electronic Fund Transfers services for use with your accounts. These services allow you to make or receive deposits, payments, and other transfers by electronic methods, such as with your Citibank Banking Card, by telephone, or by using Citi Online or the Citi Mobile App. Some services are also subject to and further described in separate agreements that are provided to you when you enroll in that service.

Federal law governs certain types of consumer transactions that are described as electronic fund transfers. Common types of electronic fund transfers include: withdrawals, deposits, transfers and point of sale transactions utilizing your Citibank Banking Card, electronic direct deposits; payments utilizing our Bill Pay service; one-time transfers or payments you initiate by phone, online or via our mobile app; and transfers to or from your account utilizing our automated clearing house service, Inter-Institution service, Instant Payment Service and Zelle®. Electronic fund transfers are governed by the Electronic Fund Transfer Act and Regulation E Subpart A and you are entitled to certain rights and remedies for error resolution as described below.

Federal law also governs outgoing consumer international wire transfers and Citibank® Global Transfers as “remittance transfers”. Under Regulation E Subpart B, you are entitled to certain rights and remedies when initiating a remittance transfer which are described in Section 9.2 Remittance Transfers as well as in the terms and conditions of the service you received when enrolling in these services.

General. Please note that each withdrawal, transfer, purchase and cash advance is limited by the amount available in your account or available to you via an overdraft protection program such as Checking Plus®, Checking Plus® (variable rate) line of credit or Safety Check. Some Network ATM operators may impose lower limits on cash withdrawals.

Limitations on Transfers and Withdrawals and Right to Suspend or Discontinue Services. At any time we may change the transfer and withdrawal limits that apply when you use an Access Device, and at any time we may suspend or discontinue operation of certain Electronic Fund Transfers services based upon security issues and other factors.

Termination of Electronic Fund Transfers Services

If you wish to terminate any Electronic Fund Transfers services or no longer wish to use your Citibank Banking Card, call 1-888-CITIBANK or write us at P.O. Box 769004, San Antonio, TX 78245-9989.

Unauthorized Use of Access Device. If an unauthorized person has obtained access to your Citibank Banking Card, your PIN, your Citi Online User ID and password or your TAC, notify Citibank immediately. Your rights and obligations in the case of unauthorized use of any of your Access Devices are the same as for lost or stolen Citibank Banking Cards.

Our Responsibility to You When Providing Fund Transfer Services

If we do not complete a transfer to or from your Account on time or in the correct amount according to our Agreement with you, we will be liable for your losses or damages. However, there are some exceptions. We will not be liable, for instance:

1. If, through no fault of ours, you do not have enough money in your account to make the transfer;
2. If the transfer would go over the credit limit on your overdraft line;

3. If the automated teller machine where you are making the transfer does not have enough cash and you continue to request the transfer when you know the ATM does not have sufficient cash;
4. If the automated teller machine or POS terminal was not working properly and you knew about the breakdown when you started the transfer;
5. If circumstances beyond our control (such as fire or flood or other conditions listed under “Limitation of Liability”) prevent the transfer, despite reasonable precautions that we have taken.

There may be other exceptions stated in our Agreement with you.

Your Responsibility to Us When Utilizing Funds Transfer Services

This Agreement describes your rights and liability for errors involving unauthorized transactions or those in an incorrect amount to or from your Account. For further information about your rights under Regulation E, please refer to sections 8.5 Unauthorized Transactions: Notice and Error Resolution Procedures and 8.6 Other Electronic Fund Transfer Errors: Notice and Error Resolution Procedures.

Please note the following:

- For merchant disputes about quality of goods and services for transactions that are fully authorized and properly executed, you are responsible for resolving any disputes that you have with other persons to whom you send money to or request money from using a funds transfer service.
- You are responsible for keystroke or other errors such as inputting an incorrect account number or mobile phone number or email address associated with a person you send money to or request money from using a funds transfer service.

8.2 Types of Electronic Fund Transfers

8.2.1 Citibank Banking Card

You can use your Citibank Banking Card for a variety of transactions as described below. Generally, you will receive your Citibank Banking Card when you open your account. If you do not select your Personal Identification Number (PIN) at account opening, you will receive a PIN in a separate mailing. Your PIN is required for all Citibank Banking Card transactions at Proprietary Citibank ATMs, at Network ATMs or for PIN-based POS purchase transactions. You agree to keep your PIN confidential. No bank employee knows your PIN or will ever ask for it. For your protection, we encourage you to periodically change your PIN. You can change your PIN at any time:

- At a Proprietary Citibank ATM;
- At any Citibank branch in the United States;
- On Citi Online or Citi Mobile App.

If you are unable to change your PIN, you may contact the phone number on the back of your Citibank Banking Card to request a PIN mailer. The sealed mailer contains a confidential, pre-set PIN that is systemically generated and mailed directly to you. When you receive the PIN mailer, you will need to call the phone number on the back of your Citibank Banking Card to activate the PIN.

The PIN you select must consist of four numbers and cannot begin with a zero. Many international ATMs do not have keys with both letters and numbers. If your PIN contains letters, please learn their corresponding numbers, as letters may not always be noted on the keys.

ATM Security Tips

We want you to be safe when you use any ATM or Debit card. You can help prevent unauthorized access to your accounts by following these simple steps:

- Treat your Citibank Banking Card and other types of devices used to access your accounts like cash. Do not leave them where others can find them. Do not give them to anyone to hold as “security” for any reason and do not use them to show another customer how an ATM works.
- Keep your Personal Identification Number (PIN), Telephone Access Code (TAC) and other codes used to access your accounts secret. Do not tell them to anyone. Do not write them on your Citibank Banking Card or keep them in your wallet or purse.
- Change your PIN periodically.
- Review your account statements regularly and let us know right away of any discrepancies.
- Always be alert and aware of your surroundings when using ATMs, particularly later than a half hour after sunset.
- Consider having someone accompany you when using an ATM later than a half hour after sunset.
- Immediately report crimes and suspicious activity at ATM locations to local law enforcement officials as well as to the owners/operators of the ATMs.

Please address any questions or complaints concerning security at Proprietary Citibank ATMs at the number on the back of your Citibank Banking Card. For emergency assistance at any U.S. Citibank or U.S. Network ATM, please call 911.

Renewal/Cancellation of your Citibank Banking Card. We will automatically send you a new Citibank Banking Card before your current card expires. When you receive your new card, you will need to activate the card by following the instructions enclosed with the card. You will need to sign your new card and destroy your old card.

Please note that the Citibank Banking Card we issue you is and remains the property of Citibank. We have the right to take possession of it, to demand its return, and to cancel it at any time. You may also cancel your Citibank Banking Card at any time and for any reason. To do so, cut your card in half and notify us by contacting us at the phone number on the back of your Citibank Banking Card, on Citi Online or at a Citibank branch. You agree to return the Citibank Banking Card to us upon request.

You may be assessed fees for using non-Citibank ATMs locations — please refer to Appendix 1: Fee Schedule. When you use a Network ATM other than at a location within our surcharge-free network, you may be charged a fee by the ATM operator or any network used and you may be charged a fee for a balance inquiry even if you do not complete a transaction. For fees imposed when withdrawing cash from your linked Citibank credit accounts (including credit cards), refer to your applicable customer agreement for the credit account.

ATM Withdrawal Posting Cut-Off Times. For purposes of determining the Business Day for posting of cash withdrawals from Proprietary Citibank ATMs, withdrawals made after 10:30 PM Eastern Time (9:30 PM Central Time) or on non-Business Days will post to your account on the following Business Day.

Point-of-Sale (POS) Transactions

“PIN Based” Transactions. You can use your Citibank Banking Card to purchase goods or services from merchant locations in the United States accepting Interlink®, Maestro® or Cirrus® by authorizing these transactions using your PIN.

Please note, “Direct Bill Payment” transactions set up with merchants may be processed as “PIN-Based” transactions, even though they may not require a PIN.

“Signature-Based” Transactions. You can also use your card to purchase goods or services and/or receive cash from locations that accept MasterCard® or Interlink. These transactions are those for which you do not use your PIN and either you or a merchant designates as a “credit” transaction (including purchases you sign for, small dollar purchases that do not require a signature), Internet, phone and mail-order transactions.

All POS transactions made with your Citibank Banking Card are deducted from your primary linked checking account.

Authorizations. When you use your Citibank Banking Card for a POS transaction, certain merchants may ask us to authorize the transaction in advance and may estimate its final value. When we authorize the transaction, we commit to make the requested funds available when the transaction finally settles and may place a temporary hold on your account for the amount indicated by the merchant. Until the transaction finally settles or until we determine that it is unlikely to be processed, the funds subject to the hold will not be available to you for other purposes. We will only charge your account for the correct amount of the final transaction, however, and we will release any excess amount when the transaction finally settles.

Currently, the currency conversion rate used to determine the transaction amount in U.S. dollars is based on either (1) a wholesale market rate or (2) a government-mandated rate in effect one day prior to the processing date. If you tell us within two (2) Business Days after you learn of the loss or theft of your Access Device, you can lose no more than $50 if someone uses your Access Device without your permission, subject to zero liability protection.

If you do NOT notify us within two (2) Business Days after you learn of the loss or theft of your Access Device, and we can prove we could have stopped someone from using your Access Device without your permission if you had told us, you could lose as much as $500, subject to zero liability protection.

Also, if your statement shows transfers that you did not make, including those made by card, code or other means, notify us at once. If you do not notify us within sixty (60) days after the statement was mailed to you, you may not get back any money you lost after the sixty (60) days if we can prove that we could have stopped someone from taking the money if you had informed us in time. If a good reason (such as a long trip or a hospital stay) kept you from notifying us, we will extend the time periods.

The following additional terms are applicable if the governing state law of your account is that of one of the states listed below:

California. Within this section, the paragraph above describing liability up to $500 shall not apply.

New York. Within this section, your liability for the unauthorized use of your Citibank Banking Card shall not exceed $50.

Citibank® Banking Card Zero Liability Protection. If your Citibank Banking Card is used in conjunction with an unauthorized transaction your liability for unauthorized use as described above, will not exceed:

- i. $0
  - If you report the loss or theft of your card promptly upon discovery of such loss or theft;
  - and you exercised reasonable care in safeguarding your card from the risk of loss or theft;
  - and the account to which transactions initiated with your card were posted is in good condition; or
- ii. The lesser of $50 or the amount of money, property, labor or services obtained by the unauthorized user before notification to the bank if all conditions listed in section (i) above have not been met.

Contact in Event of Unauthorized Transfer. If you believe your Access Device has been lost or stolen call: CitiPhone Banking® at 1-888-CITIBANK or write: Citibank Client Services, P.O. Box 769004, San Antonio, Texas 78245-9989. You should also call the number or write to the address listed above if you believe a transfer has been made using the information from your check without your permission.

8.6 Other Electronic Fund Transfer Errors: Notice and Error Resolution Procedures

Error Resolution and Notice Procedures for other types of Electronic Fund Transfer Errors

If your statement or transaction record is wrong or if you need more information about a transfer listed on your statement or record, contact us as soon as possible by calling us at 1-888-Citibank or by writing to us at Client Research, Citibank Client Services, P.O. Box 769014, San Antonio, Texas 78245-9014.

Please note: If the error concerns an ATM network transaction, be sure to contact Citibank or Citigroup Global Markets Inc. — depending on the institution holding the account from which you were attempting to withdraw funds — not the financial institution that operates the machine. We need to hear from you no later than sixty (60) days after we sent the FIRST statement on which the problem or error appeared.

1. Notify us of your name and account number (if any)
2. Describe the error or the transfer you are unsure about, and explain as clearly as you can why you believe it is an error or why you need more information
3. Notify us of the dollar amount of the suspected error.

If you tell us orally, we may require that you send us your complaint or question in writing within ten (10) Business Days. We will determine whether an error occurred within ten (10) Business Days after we hear from you and will correct any error promptly. If we need more time, however, we may take up to forty-five (45) days to investigate your complaint or question. If we decide to do this, we will provisionally credit your account within ten (10) Business Days for the amount you think is in error, so that you will have the use of the money during the time it takes us to complete our investigation. For new accounts (where the notice of error involves an electronic funds transfer to or from your account, that occurred within thirty (30) days after the first deposit to the account was made), we can take up to twenty (20) Business Days to determine whether an error occurred and up to twenty (20) days to provisionally credit your account for the amount you think is in error. If we need more time, however, we may take up to ninety (90) days to investigate your complaint or question. For errors involving point-of-sale or foreign-initiated transactions, we may also take up to ninety (90) days to investigate your complaint or question.

If we ask you to put your complaint or question in writing and we do not receive it within ten (10) Business Days, we may not provisionally credit your account.

In any case, we will tell you the results of our investigation within three (3) Business Days after completing our investigation. If we decide that there was no error, we will send you a written explanation. You may ask for copies of the documents that we used in our investigation.

Credit for an Electronic Fund Transfer is provisional until the Error Resolution process is complete. If we give you provisional credit, you have full use of the funds while we investigate your claim. This provisional credit is conditional and will either be made permanent or removed, depending on the outcome of our investigation. If we determine you are responsible for part or all of the Electronic Funds Transfer, you become obligated to us for that amount.

9 Other Fund Transfer Services

9.1 Outgoing Wire Transfers

The following terms apply to any wire transfer requests we receive to transfer funds from your account to an account maintained at another institution. In addition to the information provided here, please refer to the separate funds transfer agreement governing the terms of service for transfers made using Citi Online or the Citi Mobile App. Please note that outgoing international transfers from a consumer account are also governed by special provisions regarding disclosures you receive and error resolution rights as more fully described in section 9.2 Remittance Transfers of this Agreement. Before utilizing our wire transfer services, please read the following important tips for wire transfer safety.

General Tips for Wire Transfer Safety

Wire transfers are a fast way to send money to individuals and businesses. However, because they are fast and final they can also be a target for fraud. According to the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the incidents of wire transfer scams have increased significantly. Common scams include: phishing (attempts to obtain sensitive information such as account details by posing as a reputable company via email, text, or phone); family emergency (receipt of a message from a friend or family member claiming to be in need of money for an emergency); and IRS Impostors (fake IRS tax notices or individuals impersonating as IRS agents claiming you owe taxes). For additional recent and common scams, please visit the Federal Trade Commission web site at <https://www.consumer.ftc.gov/features/scam-alerts>.

Your financial security is important to us. We encourage you to take the following steps to reduce your risk of fraud when sending wire transfers:

- Know Who You are Dealing With — Do not send funds to an individual or business you don't know personally.
- Verify your Wire Transfer Instruction — Check the information you include on a wire transfer instruction to verify the information is correct.
- Verify the legitimacy of what you are paying for — Independently confirm (whether in-person or through a trusted third-party) the legitimacy of what you are paying for.
- Be Cautious of any Recipient Claiming Urgency — Don't be rushed into initiating a transfer to anyone claiming an urgent deadline.

If you believe you may have been a victim of a wire transfer scam, time is of the essence. Please contact Citibank immediately so that we can attempt to contact the corresponding financial institution that may have received the fraudulent wire transfer.

Debit Authorization. When we receive a funds transfer request, you authorize us to debit your account for the amount of the transfer and you also authorize us to charge your account any applicable service fees in accordance with the fee schedule in effect at the time of your request.

Reliance by Citibank. Citibank will rely on the information you provide in making a funds transfer on your behalf. It is your responsibility to provide Citibank® with accurate information regarding that transfer, including the account number of the beneficiary of the funds transfer and where applicable, the number (such as "BIC" or "SORT") identifying the beneficiary institution; payment will be processed based on the number(s) provided by you. Should you provide an incorrect account number and/or beneficiary institution identifier, you understand that any losses resulting from the funds being credited to the wrong account will be your responsibility. For international transfers, you may be required at the time you initiate the request to provide Citibank with information regarding the currency in which the beneficiary account is maintained. You understand and acknowledge that Citibank will rely on this information in executing your request.

Security Procedures. When we receive a request for a funds transfer, we will follow a security procedure established for your protection and ours to verify that the transfer has been properly authorized. This procedure depends on the means by which a funds transfer request is received and may entail a telephone call, email, text or other form of communication. You understand that the security procedure is designed only to verify the source of the funds transfer instruction and not to detect errors in the content of that instruction or to prevent duplicate transfers. You agree to our use of the applicable security procedure and agree to be bound by any funds transfer request that Citibank receives and verifies in accordance with the security procedure outlined above. You also understand that the security procedure is not designed to determine whether your funds transfer request is appropriate for you.

Transfer to a Beneficiary Bank. When you request a funds transfer, you must select a financial institution to receive it. For funds transfers within the U.S., the beneficiary bank must be a member of the Federal Reserve System, a correspondent bank of such a member, or a Clearing House Interbank Payment System (CHIPS) member. You may request that the funds either be deposited into a particular account at the beneficiary bank or be held at the beneficiary bank for your beneficiary. The beneficiary bank is responsible for notifying the beneficiary that the funds are available. After the funds are transferred to the beneficiary bank, they become the property of the beneficiary bank. The beneficiary bank is responsible to locate, identify, and make payment to your beneficiary. You understand that payment may be made by the beneficiary bank on the basis of an identifying or bank account number even if it identifies a person different from the named beneficiary. If the beneficiary cannot be located, the funds may be returned. Except as may be prohibited by federal law, any losses resulting from an incorrect account number or other misidentification of your beneficiary provided by you are your responsibility and not Citibank's.

Currency of Transfer. Funds Transfers to beneficiaries within the United States are made only in U.S. dollars. For international transfers, Citibank may ask you to indicate the currency in which the beneficiary account is held. If you indicate that the account is held in U.S. dollars, your transfer must be made in U.S. dollars. If you indicate that the account is held in foreign currency (either the local currency of the country where the account is maintained or another foreign currency offered by Citibank) Citibank will send the transfer in that foreign currency unless the transfer in foreign currency is prohibited by local restrictions of the destination country. If you indicate you do not know the currency in which the beneficiary account is held, you can choose to send the transfer in U.S. dollars or in one of the foreign currency options provided by Citibank at the time of the transfer request. You understand that Citibank has the right to rely on your statement as to the currency of the beneficiary account and that it will not be responsible for any error in the information it provides you concerning the applicable exchange rate and the amount of funds to be received by the beneficiary should your statement be incorrect and a currency conversion occurs after Citibank sends your transfer. For transfers in foreign currency, Citibank will convert your U.S. dollar payment to the foreign currency selected by you at Citibank's exchange rate in effect at that time for similar transactions. The exchange rate includes a commission to Citibank for exchanging the currency. Information regarding the applicable exchange rate will be provided to you at the time you initiate the transfer request. In addition, in the case of transfers into your account which are sent in foreign currencies, we will convert the funds into U.S. dollars at our current conversion rate. Our conversion rate for both outgoing and incoming foreign fund transfers includes a commission for the conversion service.

Delays or Non-Execution of Funds Transfers. We will not be liable for any delay or failure to execute your funds transfer request or delay in making the funds available to the beneficiary due to circumstances beyond the control of Citibank or any intermediary or beneficiary bank handling the transfer including, without limitation, any inaccuracy, interruption, delay in transmission, or failure in the means of transmission of your funds transfer request or execution of such request by the bank, whether caused by strikes, power failures, equipment malfunctions, or delays caused by one or more of the institution's fraud screening procedures or compliance procedures for anti-money laundering, economic sanctions or similar laws. You further agree that we may refuse to process or delay processing any request if it would violate any guideline, rule, policy, or regulation of any government authority or funds transfer system.

Rejection of a Funds Transfer Request. We reserve the right to reject your funds transfer request without cause or prior notice. We may reject your request if the dollar value of one or more of your transfer requests exceed your daily transfer limit, if you have insufficient available funds in your account for the amount of the funds transfer and applicable fee, if the information you provide in connection with that transfer is incomplete or unclear, if we are unable to confirm the identity or authority of the person providing the request, or if we are unable to fulfill your request for any other reason. For international transfers you understand we are required by U.S. regulations to provide you with certain information about your transfer request and if we are unable to provide you with that information at the time of your transfer request for any reason, we will need to reject your request. If we reject a request for a funds transfer, you will be notified of the rejection at the time of your request or as soon thereafter as we determine to reject the transfer request.

Cancellation/Amendment of Domestic Funds Transfer Request. You may cancel or amend a funds transfer request (including a consumer international transfer not cancelled or amended in accordance with the special rules described in the section 9.2 Remittance Transfers) only if we receive your request prior to the execution of the funds transfer request and at a time that provides us with a reasonable opportunity to act upon that request. If your funds transfer request has already been executed by Citibank, you understand and agree that the request to cancel or amend the funds transfer will be effective with the voluntary consent of Citibank and the beneficiary bank. Citibank will first have to check with the beneficiary bank to determine whether or not the beneficiary bank will return your funds. If the beneficiary bank confirms that the funds are returnable and the funds are returned to Citibank, Citibank will return the funds to you. The amount that is returned to you may be less than you originally transferred because of service charges of the beneficiary bank and/or Citibank. Your returned funds will be in U.S. dollars. If your funds transfer was in foreign currency, your returned funds will be in U.S. dollars at the exchange rate established by Citibank on the date of return. Citibank shall not be liable to you for any loss resulting from the failure of the beneficiary bank to accept a cancellation or amendment of your funds transfer request.

Please note: If your transfer is returned by the beneficiary bank to Citibank, an amendment request cannot be accepted and as a result, the funds will automatically be credited back to your account less any applicable service charges. If your transfer was in foreign currency, Citibank will convert your returned funds in U.S. dollars to the foreign currency selected by you at Citibank's exchange rate in effect at that time for similar transactions.

Applicable to claims or questions with respect to Domestic Wire Transfers. You have the responsibility to let us know of any error, delay or other problem with your funds transfer within thirty (30) days from the date you receive notification that we have transferred the funds. In the event that your transfer was delayed or erroneously executed as a result of erroneous information you provided, you understand that you may be responsible for the amount of that transfer and any associated fees. If your transfer was delayed or erroneously executed as a result of Citibank's error, Citibank's sole obligation to you is to pay or refund such amounts as may be required under the Uniform Commercial Code Article 4A or by other applicable law. Any claim for interest payable by us shall be at our published savings account rate in effect within the state of the home financial center of the account from which the funds transfer was made.

Limitation of Liability. Citibank shall not be responsible for any incidental or consequential damages or expenses arising in connection with your funds transfer.

Applicable to claims or questions with respect to Consumer International Transfers. Please refer to section 9.2 Remittance Transfers for a description of your error resolution rights.

9.2 Remittance Transfers

Remittance transfers are outgoing international wire transfers or international Citibank Global Transfers initiated from a consumer account in the U.S. to a beneficiary outside the U.S. and its territories. When you send a remittance transfer, you will be provided with a disclosure describing your transaction details and are an explanation regarding additional rights you are entitled to under federal regulation. The following summarizes your right to cancel/amend your remittance transfer request as well as your right to assert a claim or make an inquiry regarding your remittance transfer:

Cancellation/Amendment of Remittance Transfer Request. Remittance transfer requests may be cancelled for a full refund or amended provided you cancel or amend your request within thirty (30) minutes of our receipt of your authorizing payment for the transfer unless the funds have been picked up or deposited. If you request a cancellation or amendment after this thirty (30) minute period, the provisions under the paragraph “Cancellation/Amendment of Domestic Funds Transfer Request” will apply.

To cancel a Consumer International Citibank Global Transfer, please call 1-866-515-1725 (TTY: We accept 711 or other Relay Service), sign into Citi Online or the Citi Mobile App. When cancelling by phone, you will need to provide us with information to help identify the funds transfer you wish to cancel, including the amount and location where the funds were to be sent. Any refund will be made no later than three business days of your request to cancel.

To cancel a Consumer International Wire Transfer, please call 1-888-606-9716 (TTY: We accept 711 or other Relay Service) and for Citi Online initiated wire transfers, you can cancel online. When cancelling by phone, you will need to provide us with information to help us identify the funds transfer you wish to cancel, including the amount and location where the funds were to be sent. Any refund will be made no later than three business days of your request to cancel.

Error Resolution Procedures: Remittance Transfers

If you think there has been an error or you need more information about your transfer, you must contact Citibank (International Global Transfer: 1-866-515-1725 (TTY: We accept 711 or other Relay Service); International Wire Transfer: 1-888-606-9716 (TTY: We accept 711 or other Relay Service) or write to Client Research, Citibank Client Services, P.O. Box 769014, San Antonio, TX 78245-9014) within one hundred and eighty (180) days of the date indicated by Citibank that the funds would be available to the beneficiary of that transfer. At that time, you may be asked to provide the following information: 1) your name, address, and account number; 2) the name of the person receiving the funds, and if you know it, his or her telephone number or address; 3) the dollar amount of the transfer; 4) the reference code for the transfer; and 5) a description of the error or why you need additional information. We may also ask you to select a choice of remedy (credit to your account in an amount necessary to resolve the error or alternatively, a resend of the transfer for those cases where bank error is found). Citibank will determine whether an error has occurred within ninety (90) days after you contact the bank.

If Citibank determines that an error has occurred, we will promptly correct that error in accordance with the remedy option(s) available to you. In all cases, we will provide you with a written explanation of the results of our investigation. You may also ask for copies of the documents we used in our investigation.

10 Additional Important Terms and Information

10.1 Legal Process

Regardless of where or how we are served, we may comply with any state or federal legal process, including, without limitation, any writ of attachment, adverse claim, execution, garnishment, tax levy, restraining order, subpoena or warrant relating to you or your account which we believe to be valid. You agree that we may honor legal process that is served personally, by mail, or by facsimile transmission at any of our offices (including locations other than where the funds, records or property sought is held), even if the law requires personal delivery at the office where your account or records are maintained. You agree that we will have no liability to you for honoring any such legal process. You also agree that we will have no obligation to assert on your behalf any applicable exemptions to execution or attachment under any applicable state or federal law. We will also have and may enforce a right of setoff and security interest against any of your accounts in order to reimburse us for our fees and expenses, including attorneys' fees, court costs and expenses, in complying with legal process.

We may comply with process we deem appropriate even if it appears to affect the interest of only one owner of a joint account. We may refuse to permit withdrawals or transfers from your account until such legal process is satisfied or dismissed even if such action results in insufficient funds to pay a check you have written or otherwise satisfy an obligation you may have incurred.

Accounts opened with trust or fiduciary designations (e.g., "XYZ, Inc. client trust account") may be subject to legal process unless our records contain an express written trust or court order that provides otherwise.

Upon receipt of any legal process, you will be liable to us for our processing fee, and reimbursement for our record research, reproduction and handling costs. We may deduct such fee, as well as any expenses, including, without limitation, attorneys' fees in connection with any such document or legal process, from your account or any other account you may have with us without prior notice to you, or we may bill you directly for such expenses and fees.

You agree to release and indemnify, defend and hold us harmless from all actions, claims, liabilities, losses, costs and damages including, without limitation, attorneys' fees, associated with our compliance with any legal process we believe to be valid

When we receive an order instructing us to restrict access to funds in an account, we may remove the funds from the account and maintain them separately. These funds will not earn interest and will not be considered as part of your combined balances when we determine account fees and rates.

10.2 Security Interest

You grant us a security interest in your account for amounts owing to us under this Agreement by any owner. This provision does not apply to IRA accounts or other tax-qualified retirement accounts or where otherwise prohibited by law.

10.3 Right of Setoff

Subject to applicable law, we may exercise our right of setoff against any or all of your accounts (except IRA, money purchase plan or profit sharing plan, and certain trust accounts) without notice, for any liability or debt of any owner or beneficial owner, whether joint or individual, direct or contingent, now or hereafter existing, and whether arising from our fees or charges, overdrafts, endorsements, guarantees, loans, attachments, garnishments, levies, attorneys' fees, or other obligations. If an account is a joint or multiple-party account, each joint or multiple-party account owner authorizes us to exercise our right of setoff against any and all accounts of each account owner.

You also agree to allow us to apply any subsequently credited deposit made to your account against any overdrafts and against any fees and charges or other obligations owed us in whichever order we determine. You acknowledge and agree that if you do not want your electronically deposited benefits applied in this way, you have the option of changing your direct deposit instructions by providing notice to the benefits payor at any time.

10.4 Indemnification

Except as otherwise set forth in this Agreement, you agree to indemnify, defend and hold us harmless from all claims, actions, proceedings, fines, costs and expenses (including, without limitation, attorney fees) related to or arising out of: (a) your actions and omissions in connection with your accounts or our services, and (b) our actions and omissions, provided that they are taken/omitted in accordance with this Agreement or your instructions. This provision shall survive the termination of this Agreement.

10.5 Limitation on Time to Sue or Arbitrate

Unless otherwise required by law, an action, proceeding or arbitration by you to enforce an obligation, duty or right arising under this Agreement or by law with respect to your account or any account service must be commenced within one (1) year after the cause of action accrues (two (2) years if the governing state law of your account is Texas).

10.6 Limitation of Liability

Except as otherwise required by law, we are not liable to you for any claim, cost, loss or damage caused by an event that is beyond our reasonable control. In particular, we are not liable to you if circumstances beyond our reasonable control prevent us from, or delay us in, performing our obligations for a service, including acting on a payment order, crediting a funds transfer to your account, processing a transaction or crediting your account. Circumstances beyond our reasonable control include, but are not limited to, natural disasters such as a tornado, hurricane, earthquake or flood, emergency conditions, such as a war, terrorist attack, riot, fire, theft or labor dispute; a legal constraint or governmental action or inaction; the breakdown or failure of our equipment for any reason, including a loss of electric power, the breakdown of any private or common carrier communication or transmission facilities, any time-sharing supplier or any mail or courier service; the potential violation of any guideline, rule or regulation of any government authority; suspension of payments by another bank; or your act, omission, negligence or fault. We will never be liable for special, incidental, exemplary, punitive or consequential losses or damages of any kind resulting from the conditions stated in this Limitation of Liability.

In connection with any transaction or service provided under this Agreement, IN NO EVENT WILL EITHER YOU OR THE BANK, OR ITS AFFILIATES, OFFICERS, DIRECTORS, EMPLOYEES, OR AGENTS BE LIABLE TO THE OTHER PARTY FOR ANY SPECIAL, CONSEQUENTIAL, INDIRECT OR PUNITIVE DAMAGES, WHETHER ANY CLAIM IS BASED ON CONTRACT, STATUTE, OR TORT, OR WHETHER THE LIKELIHOOD OF SUCH DAMAGES WAS KNOWN TO ANY PARTY. The foregoing limitation of liability will not apply where expressly prohibited by the laws governing your account.

The Arbitration section of the Client Manual and Marketplace Addendum (CMMA) is identical to the Arbitration section of the Consumer Deposit Account Agreement (CMA). If you previously opted out of arbitration under the CMMA, you are opted out of arbitration in the CMA. Customers who did not opt out of Arbitration in the CMMA at the time they opened their account are ineligible to opt out of Arbitration for their existing accounts. Unless you have previously opted out, all agreements to arbitrate between you and Citibank remain in full force and effect.

11 Arbitration

PLEASE READ THIS PROVISION OF THE AGREEMENT CAREFULLY.

THIS SECTION PROVIDES THAT DISPUTES MAY BE RESOLVED BY BINDING ARBITRATION. ARBITRATION REPLACES THE RIGHT TO GO TO COURT, HAVE A JURY TRIAL OR INITIATE OR PARTICIPATE IN A CLASS ACTION. IN ARBITRATION, DISPUTES ARE RESOLVED BY AN ARBITRATOR, NOT A JUDGE OR JURY. ARBITRATION PROCEDURES ARE SIMPLER AND MORE LIMITED THAN IN COURT. THIS ARBITRATION PROVISION IS GOVERNED BY THE FEDERAL ARBITRATION ACT (FAA), AND SHALL BE INTERPRETED IN THE BROADEST WAY THE LAW WILL ALLOW.

Covered Disputes

You or we may arbitrate any claims, dispute or controversy between you and us arising out of or related to your account(s), a previous related account or our relationship (called “Disputes”).

If arbitration is chosen by any party, neither you nor we will have the right to litigate that Dispute in court or have a jury trial on that Dispute.

Except as stated below, all Disputes are subject to arbitration no matter what legal theory they are based on or what remedy (damages, or injunctive or declaratory relief) they seek, including claims based on contract, tort (including intentional tort), fraud, agency, your or our negligence, statutory or regulatory provisions, or any other sources of law; claims made as counterclaims, cross-claims, third party claims, interpleaders or otherwise; claims made regarding past, present or future conduct; and claims made independently or with other claims. Disputes include any unresolved claims concerning any services relating to such account, including without limitation, safe deposit box services, wire transfer services, and use of a Citibank Banking Card or Citibank Banking Card displaying the MasterCard® Brand Mark. This also includes claims made by or against anyone connected with us or you or claiming through us or you, or by someone making a claim through us or you, such as a joint account owner, account beneficiary, employee, agent, representative, predecessor or successor, heir, assignee, trustee in bankruptcy, or an affiliated/parent/subsidiary company. A party who initiates a proceeding in court may elect arbitration with respect to any dispute advanced in that proceeding by any other party. Disputes include claims made as part of a class action or other representative action, it being expressly understood and agreed to that the arbitration of such claims must proceed on an individual (non-class, non-representative) basis. Disputes also include claims relating to the enforceability or interpretation of any of these arbitration provisions. Any questions about whether Disputes are subject to arbitration shall be resolved by interpreting this arbitration provision in the broadest way the law will allow it to be enforced.

Arbitration Limits. Individual Disputes filed in a small claims court are not subject to arbitration, as long as the matter stays in small claims court.

We won't initiate arbitration to collect a debt from you unless you choose to arbitrate or assert a Dispute against us. If you assert a Dispute against us, we can choose to arbitrate, including actions to collect a debt from you. You may arbitrate on an individual basis Disputes brought against you, including Disputes to collect a debt.

Disputes brought as part of a class action, private attorney general or other representative action can be arbitrated only on an individual basis. The arbitrator has no authority to arbitrate any claim on a class or representative basis and may award relief only on an individual basis. If arbitration is chosen by any party, neither you nor we may pursue a Dispute as part of a class action or other representative action. Disputes of 2 or more persons may not be combined in the same arbitration. However, joint account owners, account beneficiaries, agents, representatives, heirs, or a trustee in a bankruptcy on your account and/or related accounts, or corporate affiliates are here considered as one person.

How Arbitration Works. Arbitration shall be conducted by the American Arbitration Association ("AAA") according to this arbitration provision and the applicable AAA arbitration rules in effect when the Dispute is filed ("AAA Rules"), except where those rules conflict with this arbitration provision. You can obtain a copy of the AAA Rules at the AAA's website (adr.org) or by calling 1-800-778-7879. You or we may choose to have a hearing, appear at any hearing by phone or other electronic means, and/or be represented by counsel. Any in-person hearing will be held in the same city as the U.S. District Court closest to your home address.

Arbitration may be requested at any time, even when there is a pending lawsuit, unless a trial has begun or a final judgment entered. Neither you nor we waive the right to arbitrate by filing or serving a complaint, answer, counterclaim, motion or discovery in a court lawsuit. To choose arbitration, a party may file a motion to compel arbitration in a pending matter and/or commence arbitration by submitting the required AAA forms and requisite filing fees to the AAA.

The arbitration shall be decided by a single arbitrator in accord with this arbitration provision and the AAA Rules, which may limit discovery. The arbitrator shall not apply any federal or state rules of civil procedure or discovery, but the arbitrator shall honor claims of privilege recognized at law, and shall take reasonable steps to protect account information and other confidential information of either party if requested to do so. The arbitrator shall apply applicable substantive law consistent with the FAA and applicable statute of limitations, and award damages or other relief under applicable law.

The arbitrator shall make any award in writing and, if requested by you or us, may provide a brief statement of the reasons for the award. An arbitration award shall decide the rights and obligations only of the parties named in the arbitration, and shall not have any bearing on any other person or dispute.

Paying for Arbitration Fees. We'll pay your share of the arbitration fee for an arbitration of Disputes of $74,000 or less if they are unrelated to debt collection. Otherwise, arbitration fees will be allocated according to the applicable AAA Rules. If we prevail, we may not recover our arbitration fees, unless the arbitrator decides your Dispute was frivolous. All parties are responsible for their own attorney's fees, expert fees and any other expenses, unless the arbitrator awards such fees or expenses to you or us based on applicable law.

The Final Award. Any award by an arbitrator is final unless a party appeals it in writing to the AAA within 30 days of notice of the award. The arbitration appeal shall be determined by a panel of 3 arbitrators. The panel will consider all facts and legal issues anew based on the same evidence presented in the prior arbitration, and will make decisions based on a majority vote. Arbitration fees for the arbitration appeal shall be allocated according to the applicable AAA Rules. An award by a panel on appeal is final. A final award is subject to judicial review as provided by applicable law

Right to Resort to Provisional Remedies Preserved. Nothing herein shall be deemed to limit or constrain our right to resort to self-help remedies, such as the right of setoff or the right to restrain funds in an account, to interplead funds in the event of a Dispute, to exercise any security interest or lien we may hold in property, or to comply with legal process, or to obtain provisional remedies such as injunctive relief, attachment, or garnishment by a court having appropriate jurisdiction; provided, however, that you or we may elect to arbitrate any Dispute related to such provisional remedies.

Survival and Severability of Terms. These arbitration provisions shall survive changes in this Agreement and termination of the account or the relationship between you and us, including the bankruptcy of any party and any sale of your account, or amounts owed on your account, to another person or entity.

If any part of this arbitration provision is deemed invalid or unenforceable, the other terms shall remain in force, except that there can be no arbitration of a class or representative Dispute. # Appendix 1: Fee Schedule

The following Checkbook Order Fee, Safe Deposit Fee, Fee Chart, and Wire Transfer Fee Chart are known as the “Fee Schedule.” Unless otherwise stated, all fees described in the Fee Schedule are charged to the account associated with the product or service.

Checkbook Orders. Fees will be charged for standard and Non-Standard checkbook orders. “Non-Standard Checkbook Orders” include non-standard design, non-standard lettering, nonstandard cover and non-standard logos. Standard checkbook order fees are waived for accounts in the Citi Priority, Citigold, and Citigold Private Client Relationship Tiers at the time standard checkbooks are ordered. Non-Standard Checkbook Order fees are waived for accounts in the Citigold Private Client Relationship Tier.

Safe Deposit Box fees. Pricing varies per size per location. Please refer to your Safe Deposit Box Agreement for applicable fees. Sales tax may be assessed depending on your box location. If applicable, please refer to drilling fees and lost/replacement keys disclosed at the time of service.

Payment. At the time you open a Safe Deposit Box, the first-year rental fee must be paid by cash or check or as a one-time debit from a chosen transaction account. At renewal, the annual rental fee will be paid either via direct debit authorized by executing a direct Debit Authorization Form or by paying with cash or check in a branch. Customers who open a new Safe Deposit Box must own a Checking account or a Savings account and arrange for annual rental fee payments by executing a Direct Debit Authorization Form (“Direct Debit”). Pursuant to your renewal notice, a late fee may apply if you do not pay your Safe Deposit Box fees timely.

Relationship Tier benefit. Customers in a Relationship Tier who also own a Checking account or a Savings account at the time they are billed for a Safe Deposit Box are eligible for a fee waiver or reduced fee as described in the Safe Deposit Box Fee Chart. Please note Citi reviews Relationship Tier status at the time of billing and not at the time of the renewal date of the Safe Deposit Box. Customers are eligible for one Safe Deposit Box fee waiver or reduced fee per calendar year. Customers who own multiple Safe Deposit Boxes are not eligible for multiple fee waivers or multiple reduced fees.

Direct Debit benefit. Deposit customers who own a Checking account or a Savings account, but do not qualify for a waiver or reduced fee based on their Relationship Tier, may be eligible for a 10% Safe Deposit Box fee discount if they pay their Safe Deposit Box Fee with a Direct Debit.

Appendix 2: Funds Availability at Citibank

This section will help you determine when deposits to your Checking accounts and Savings account(s) will be available for withdrawal.

Please note that the availability of deposits made via the Mobile Check Deposit service is described separately in the agreement governing that service.

Our General Policy. Our general policy is to make funds from any type of check deposit available to you no later than the first Business Day after the day of your deposit. This includes government checks, cashier’s checks and other special types of checks described below. Cash deposits with a teller or at a Proprietary Citibank ATM are generally available immediately on the same Business Day your deposit is received. Wire transfers and electronic direct deposits are also generally available on the same Business Day your deposit is received.

Once funds are available, you may withdraw the funds in cash or use them to pay checks and other items. In some cases, we may place longer delays on your deposit which means you will have to wait a few additional days before being able to use the funds. If we decide to place a longer delay at the time you make a deposit, you will be provided a notice that lets you know when your funds will become available to you. If your deposit is not made with a teller, or we decide to take this action after you have made your deposit, we will send a notice to you by the next Business Day. Please refer to Longer Delays May Apply for a description of these longer delays.

Determining the Date of Deposit. The day funds become available is determined by counting Business Days from the day of your deposit. Every day is a Business Day except Saturdays, Sundays, and federal holidays. If you make a deposit before our established cutoff time on a Business Day that we are open, we will consider that day to be the day of deposit. However, if you make a deposit after our cutoff time or on a non-business day, we will consider the next Business Day we are open to be the day your deposit is received.

- Deposits made in person with a teller before the end of the Business Day are considered received that day. The end of Business Day is posted at each branch and may vary by branch location.
- Deposits made at Proprietary Citibank ATMs and Network (non-Citibank) ATM facilities before 10:30pm Eastern Time (9:30 PM Central Time) are considered received that day. Deposits made at a night depository are considered received by Citibank when the deposit is removed from the night depository, which will be no later than the next Business Day.
- Check deposits by mail. A check deposit received by mail is considered received on the day we receive it at the mail facility designated below. Check deposits made by mail and addressed to any other Citibank address will be forwarded to the designated facility for processing and will be considered received on the date the deposit is received by this facility.

For regular mail:

For overnight mail:

Citibank

Check Ops – Bank by Mail

100 Citibank Drive Bldg 3

San Antonio, TX 78245

Government Checks, Cashier's Checks and Other Special Types of Checks. Funds from the following types of checks are available no later than the first Business Day after the day we receive your deposit:

- U.S. Treasury Checks, Federal Reserve Bank checks, Federal Home Loan Bank checks;
- Checks issued by a U.S. state or by the general purpose units of U.S. local governments;
- U.S. postal money orders;
- Cashier's checks, teller's checks, certified checks, and travelers checks;
- Checks drawn on a Citibank, N.A. U.S. branch.

Longer Delays May Apply

In some cases, we may not make all of the funds that you deposit by check (excluding the special types of checks described above) available by the first Business Day after the day of your deposit. Should this occur, you will be provided with a notice describing when the funds will be available at the time of your deposit. If your deposit is not made directly with a teller or we decide to take this action after you complete your deposit, we will send you a notice by the next Business Day. If you will need the funds from a deposit right away, you should ask us when the funds will be available. Depending on the total amount of your check deposits on any one day, the deposit amount may not become fully available to you until the fourth Business Day after the day of the deposit as follows:

Total deposit amounts up to $5,525

Funds from all check deposits on any one day that total $5,525 or less will be available on the third Business Day after the day of deposit. The first $225 of these check deposits will be available on the first Business Day after the day of deposit, an additional $450 will be available on the second Business Day after the day of deposit and the remainder of the deposit will be available on the third Business Day after the day of deposit.

Large dollar deposits greater than $5,525

If the total of your check deposits on any one day is greater than $5,525, the amount in excess of $5,525 will be available on the fourth Business Day after the day of deposit.

Example

- If you deposit a check (or multiple checks on any given day) that total(s) $10,000
- The first $225 of your deposit will be available on the first Business Day after the day of deposit
- An additional $450 will be available on the second Business Day
- An additional $4,850 will be available on the third Business Day
- The remaining $ 4,475 will be available on the fourth Business Day

We may also delay the full amount of your check deposits for a longer period (up to 7 Business Days) under the following circumstances:

- Doubt of collectability-If we have reason to believe the check you have deposited will not be paid; we may delay availability of the funds represented by that check up to 7 Business Days. Should this occur, we will send you a deposit hold notice no later than the next Business Day after we decide to take this action.
- Emergency Situations- If we are unable to conduct business due to an interruption of communications, computer equipment facilities or other emergency conditions beyond our control such as the impact of a natural disaster, we may delay the availability of your deposited check up to 7 Business Days.

Special Rules for New Clients. You are considered a new client if you have not had an account at Citibank for at least 30 days prior to your opening one. For the first 30 days your new account is open, the following special rules apply.

You will be entitled to the availability described above for:

- Incoming wire transfers and electronic direct deposits;
- Cash;
- Government checks, Cashier's checks, and other special types of checks (as defined above);
- For all other check deposits, your funds will be available on the 5th Business Day after the day of deposit.

Collection Items. We may require that a check received for deposit be sent out for collection. This may occur, for example, if the check is drawn on an institution outside the United States. We will make the funds available to you after we receive payment from the bank on which the check is drawn. A service fee will generally apply. Please refer to the Fee Schedule.

Holds on Other Funds. If we cash a check that is drawn on another bank, we may withhold the availability of a corresponding amount already in your account. Those funds will be made available on the day they would have been available if you had deposited the check.

Our Right of Chargeback. The availability of funds from checks that you deposit will not affect your obligation to repay Citibank for any check that you deposit that is not paid nor does it affect our right to charge back your account for any check that is not paid.

Changes to Our Policy. We will notify you of any change(s) to our funds availability policies as required by applicable law.

“Access Device” means a card or code, or other means of identification and authentication, used to access your account. In this Agreement, it means your “Citibank Banking Card” including your Citibank® ATM Card, Citibank® Debit Card, or other type of device issued by Citibank along with or in lieu of your Citibank Banking Card. It also includes these account access codes: your Personal Identification Number (PIN), your Telephone Access Code (“TAC”), one time password (OTP) and the User ID and password you use to access Citi Online and CitiMobile.

- “Citibank ATM Card” means a Citibank® Banking Card that may be used at ATMs and at POS merchants for PIN purchases. (For more information, please refer to section 8 Electronic Fund Transfers.)
- “Citibank Banking Card” means any card that may be used at ATMs and at POS merchants, including Citibank ATM cards and Citibank® Debit Cards. We may also refer to this card as a Citibank Card or a Citi Card in promotional and other materials.

Certain Citibank Banking Cards also display a contactless symbol indicating you may use your card to make a contactless payment to a participating merchant by tapping your card on the payment reader.

Your “Available Now” balance is the total amount you can use for withdrawals and transfer right now. The Available Now amount may be less than the On Deposit balance as it doesn’t include the transactions that are still pending and haven’t been posted to your Account. For example, recent incoming funds transfers from external banks may not be included in your Available Now balance.

“Automated Clearing House Network” (“ACH Network”) means an electronic funds transfer system governed by the rules of a clearing house association, such as NACHA (National Automated Clearing House Association) or The Clearing House, that provides funds transfer services to participating financial institutions.

“Automated Clearing House debits” (“ACH debits”) are received electronically through a merchant you have instructed to bill your checking account i.e., for your utility or phone bill.

“Average Monthly Balance” is the summation of the End of Day Available Now balances for an account across a calendar month divided by the number of days in that month.

“Bill Payment” means an individual or recurring bill payments made through the phone number on the back of your Citibank Banking Card (including bill payments made using Citibank’s Telephone Automated Bill Payment Service and Staff Assisted Bill Payments), Citi Online, CitiBusiness® Online and Citi Mobile. For purposes of determining the Business Day for requests to open accounts, please refer to section 6 Opening and Closing Accounts. For funds availability purposes, please refer to Appendix 2: Funds Availability at Citibank.
- when referring to Citigroup Global Markets Inc., means any day of the week Monday through Friday except days when the New York Stock Exchange is closed. Non-Business Days are considered part of the following Business Day.

“Direct Deposit” means an Automated Clearing House (ACH) credit posted to your account. A Direct Deposit may include payroll, pension, state or federal payments (including social security), from your employer or outside agency. Forms for establishing direct deposits can be obtained at any Citibank branch or through Citi Online.

“Electronic Funds Transfers” (“EFT”) means any transfer of funds, other than a transaction originated by check, draft or similar paper instrument, or computer or magnetic tape, so as to order, instruct or authorize a financial institution to debit or credit a consumer checking, savings or other asset account (such as brokerage). Examples of EFT transactions are:

- Citibank® Global Transfers;
- International wire transfers from a consumer account;

“Network ATM” means an ATM other than a Proprietary Citibank ATM that is operated by or on behalf of a financial institution or other operator that is a participating member of an automated teller machine network which accepts Citibank Banking Cards, including terminals bearing the Mastercard, Maestro or Cirrus marks.

Your “On Deposit” balance reflects all transactions recorded in your Account as of the current day. The On Deposit balance may be greater than the Available Now balance because it’s a record of your activity, including transactions that haven’t settled and that aren’t yet available for you to use.

AMENDMENT: EFFECTIVE NOVEMBER 28, 2023, THE FOLLOWING CHANGE IS MADE TO THE CONSUMER DEPOSIT ACCOUNT AGREEMENT:

The “Savings Account APYs and Interest Rates” section within section 5.4.6 Rate Information and Interest Calculation for Savings account of the Consumer Deposit Account Agreement is deleted in its entirety and replaced with the following:

Savings Account APYs and Interest Rates

“Annual Percentage Yield” (APY) as used in this document is a percentage rate reflecting the total amount of interest paid on an account, based on the current interest rate compounded daily for a period of one year assuming no fees, additional deposits or withdrawals, and the interest rate remains the same for the entire year. “Interest Rate” is the annual interest paid represented as a percentage assuming no change in rate and does not reflect compounding. “Annual Percentage Yield Earned” (APYE) shown for an account on the Account Statement is an annualized rate that reflects the total amount of interest paid on the account during the Statement Period. The APYE is calculated using the relationship between the interest posted to the account and the sum of the daily balances for those days where balance is above zero in the Statement Period divided by the number of days in the Statement Period.

Annual Percentage Yields and interest rates for Savings accounts are variable, determined by Citibank at its sole discretion, can change at any time without notice. This may affect the actual amount of interest earned. Please refer to your applicable rate sheet. For current Annual Percentage Yields and interest rates, please use Citi Online or the Citi Mobile App or speak to a banker in a branch or by calling the phone number on the back of your Citibank Banking Card.

Every Savings account is assigned to a Rate Region at the time of account opening. The Rate Sheet provided at the time of account opening will identify the account’s Rate Region. Rate Regions may have different Annual Percentage Yields and interest rates. For a Savings account, the APY and interest rate applicable to a Rate Region may vary depending on one or more of the following factors:

- a. Product;
- b. Relationship Tier;
- c. Applicable promotion;
- d. Account balance.<sup>8</sup>

Please refer to the rate sheet provided to you when your account was opened to learn which factor(s) impact the APY and interest rate applicable to your Rate Region.

Interest rate exceptions may apply and are available only to certain accounts or customers. Speak to a banker for eligibility. Interest rate exceptions, if applicable, will be in effect for 182 days beginning on the day the interest rate exception is applied to a savings account.

EFFECTIVE DATE: NOVEMBER 28, 2023

AMENDMENT: EFFECTIVE NOVEMBER 28, 2023, THE FOLLOWING CHANGE IS MADE TO THE CONSUMER DEPOSIT ACCOUNT AGREEMENT:

The section 5.5 Certificates of Deposit within the Consumer Deposit Account Agreement is deleted in its entirety and replaced with the following:

5.5 Certificates of Deposit

Our certificates of deposit (CD) are time accounts. When you open a CD, and each time a CD renews, you agree to leave your funds in the account for the term which is a specific amount of time that cannot be changed until the Maturity Date. The Maturity Date is the last day of the term and the day the CD matures. The Maturity Date is the first day you can withdraw funds without paying an early withdrawal penalty and the first day you can add funds. CDs have a fixed interest rate during the term.

CD Types and CD Terms

Certificates of Deposit	Multiple term options available: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Term options with interest paid monthly or at maturity: 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, and 12 Month CDs</li> <li>• Term options with interest paid monthly: 13, 14, 15, 18, and 30 Month CDs; 2, 3, 4, and 5 year CDs</li> </ul>
No Penalty CD	Available for a 12 month term with the no penalty feature for the first term only, and interest paid monthly. The No Penalty CD allows a one-time withdrawal of your full balance and interest without penalty after the first six (6) calendar days you make the minimum deposit into your new CD and your deposit has been fully collected. An early withdrawal penalty applies to withdrawals made during the first 6 days. Partial withdrawals before maturity, including interest withdrawals, are not permitted. If you want to withdraw funds before maturity, you must close your No Penalty CD. If you would like access to credited interest during the term, you must elect at account opening to have interest deposited to another Citi account or sent by check. No Penalty CDs automatically renew without the no penalty feature to a 12 month CD. You cannot renew an existing CD into a No Penalty CD. A No Penalty CD is only available for new No Penalty CD accounts. If you want to change your existing CD to a No Penalty CD, you must first close your existing CD and then open a new No Penalty CD. You can renew a No Penalty into any of the CD term options listed above.
Step Up CD	Available for a 30 month term with the step up feature for the first term only, and interest paid monthly. The Step Up CD has 3 fixed interest rates for each period during the term beginning with Months 1 through 10, Months 11 through 20, and Months 21 through 30. Step Up CDs automatically renew without the step up feature to a 30 month CD. You cannot renew an existing CD to a new Step Up CD. A Step Up CD is only available for new Step Up CD accounts. If you want to change your existing CD to a Step Up CD, you must first close your existing CD and then open a new Step Up CD. You can renew a Step Up CD into any of the CD term options listed above.

Minimum Balance. The minimum balance required to open a Certificate of Deposit account is $500. We may offer promotions, from time to time, which may require a different account opening balance. No additional deposits are permitted during the term. A CD account will automatically be closed after 20 consecutive calendar days with a zero balance. Citibank reserves the right to close the CD if the balance falls below any applicable minimum balance requirement. We will notify you that we closed your account if required by law.

Monthly Service Fee. There is no separate monthly service fee for a Certificate of Deposit.

APYs and Interest Rates. Annual Percentage Yield (APY) as used in this document is a percentage rate reflecting the total amount of interest paid on an account, based on the interest rate compounded daily for a period of one year assuming no fees, additional deposits or withdrawals, and the interest rate remains the same for the entire year. "Interest Rate" is the annual interest paid represented as a percentage assuming no change in rate and does not reflect compounding.

Annual Percentage Yields and interest rates for CDs are determined by Citibank at its sole discretion and can change at any time without notice before a term begins for a new account and renewal. Interest rates are fixed for the CD term. The APY for a Step Up CD is a Composite APY based on 3 fixed interest rates during the term for Months 1 through 10, Months 11 through 20, and Months 21 through 30. The APY on your CD assumes interest will remain on deposit in the CD account until maturity. A withdrawal will reduce earnings. For current interest rates and Annual Percentage Yields, please log in to Citi Online or the Citi Mobile App or speak to a banker in a branch or by calling the phone number on the back of your Citibank Banking Card.

For a new CD, the APY and interest rate is based on the CD type, CD term, account balance, and applicable promotion at account opening. For new CD accounts with a Special Title (Trust, Estate, Representative Payee, Guardian/Conservator), the APY and interest rate will be the rate reflected on your applicable Rate Sheet provided at the time your account application was submitted. For a renewing CD, the APY and interest rate will be the APY and interest rate in effect on the CD renewal date for the CD term and account balance. When the APY is based on account balance, the applicable balance range at account opening or renewal will be used to determine your APY and interest rate and the interest rate will be fixed for the term; account balance may not be a factor for all CD terms. Citibank may assign the same APY and interest rate to more than one balance range. Please refer to your applicable Rate Sheet. Balance ranges include:

$50,000 – $99,999.99

$100,000 – $499,999.99

$1,000,000+

Every CD account is assigned to a Rate Region at account opening, which is identified on the Rate Sheet provided at account opening or when the application was submitted for Special Title accounts. Citibank reserves the right to apply an APY and interest rate based on the account's Rate Region, apply different APYs and interest rates for different Rate Regions, and assign the APY and interest rate applicable to a Rate Region based on one or more of the following: CD type, CD term, account balance, and applicable promotion.

Please refer to your applicable Rate Sheet to learn which factor(s) affect the APY and interest rate applicable to your Rate Region.

Interest rate exceptions may apply and are available only to certain accounts or customers. Speak to a banker for eligibility. Interest rate exceptions, if applicable for a CD term, will begin on the opening date (or renewal date of an existing CD) and end on the day before the Maturity Date.

When Interest Begins to Accrue. Interest begins to accrue as of the calendar day you open your CD account. Balances in EDI accounts linked to your CD account will not be included in your interest calculation, even though they will be included in your CAMB.

Interest Compounding and Crediting. Interest is compounded daily starting as of the calendar day you open your CD account, for the actual number of days your money is on deposit. Interest is computed using a 365-day year except in leap years when interest may be computed on a 366-day basis.

All CDs are available with the monthly interest feature. CD terms of one year or less also are available with the interest at maturity feature. The No Penalty CD is only available with the monthly interest feature. Selecting the interest payment frequency can only be done when you open or renew your CD and not during the CD term. When you select the interest at maturity feature, the interest is credited on the Maturity Date and the interest payment frequency may be displayed as "Deferred" next to the CD term on your Account Statements and other notices. When you select the monthly interest feature, interest is credited to your account after the close of business on the last Business Day of each month, and on the Maturity Date. Interest is paid up to but not including the Maturity Date.

If you open your CD or your CD renews during the last week of any month, interest from the new CD opening date or CD renewal date to the end of the month may be included with the interest for the first full month after the CD is opened or renewed. If you open your CD on the last day of a month with 30 days, and funding is credited on the first week of the next month, the interest for the day the account was opened may be credited on the day the CD was funded and the interest for the first full month may then be included in the next month's interest payment. If the end of the month occurs during the Grace Period, interest accrued during the Grace Period will be included in the next month's interest for renewed CDs. If the CD account is closed before maturity, the interest minus any applicable early withdrawal penalty will be reflected in the closeout balance.

Interest Calculation Method. We use the daily balance method to calculate interest. This method applies a daily periodic rate to the balance in the account each day.

Interest Withdrawal. You may withdraw interest before maturity after it has been credited to your CD account without an early withdrawal penalty. You may request to have credited interest deposited to another account you have with us or sent to you in the form of a check. You can only request this when you open or renew your CD and not during the CD term. If you have elected to have the interest deposited to another Citi account and that account is closed, the CD interest will be credited to your CD for the rest of the CD term. When your CD automatically renews and after the grace period, interest will be added to your principal balance and will no longer be available for withdrawal without penalty. No Penalty CDs do not allow partial withdrawals before maturity, including interest withdrawals.

The APY on your CD assumes the full balance and interest will remain on deposit in the CD account until maturity. A withdrawal will reduce earnings.

Automatic Renewal and Grace Period. Your CD will automatically renew at maturity for the same CD term at the APY and interest rate in effect on the Maturity Date which is the renewal date, unless: (1) you change your CD term, or (2) the same term is not available and we notify you that your CD term is changing. Account promotions will not apply to renewing CDs, unless specifically stated otherwise.

If you do not want your CD to automatically renew, you can make changes during the Grace Period. The Grace Period begins on the day after the Maturity Date and is up to 7-calendar days. If the last day of the Grace Period is a non-Business Day (a weekend or bank holiday), the Grace Period ends on the last Business Day before the non-Business Day (the Grace Period End Date). During the Grace Period you can change your CD term, deposit additional funds, or withdraw funds without paying an early withdrawal penalty. If you change your term, make a deposit, or withdraw funds during the Grace Period: (a) the Grace Period will end that day, your renewed CD will have a new opening date which is your renewal date, your renewed CD will have a new Maturity Date, and you will not be able to withdraw funds without penalty or make any other changes until the new Maturity Date; (b) we will pay interest from the Maturity Date until the day before your new opening date (but not more than 7-calendar days) at the interest rate in effect on the Maturity Date; and (c) your renewed CD will be assigned the APY and interest rate in effect on your new opening date which is your CD renewal date. If you change your term, deposit additional funds, or withdraw funds during the Grace Period on a non-Business Day, the CD renewal date will be the Business Day following the non-Business Day.

Your account number will not change when your CD renews.

Early Withdrawal Penalties. Citibank will impose a substantial penalty if you withdraw any amount from the principal before the Maturity Date. It may be necessary to deduct all or a portion of the penalty from the principal amount of the deposit. Early withdrawal penalties are calculated on the amount of the principal withdrawn. A 90-day simple interest penalty will apply for CD terms of 1 year or less, and a 180-day simple interest penalty will apply for CD terms greater than one year. There is no early withdrawal penalty if the account owner dies or is declared legally incompetent.

The No Penalty CD allows a one-time full withdrawal of your full balance and interest without penalty after the first six (6) calendar days you make the minimum deposit into your new CD account and your qualifying deposit has been fully collected. A No Penalty CD withdrawal made during the first 6 days will result in an early withdrawal penalty. A No Penalty CD does not allow partial withdrawals before maturity, including interest withdrawals.

Rates are variable for Money Market products, determined by Citibank at its sole discretion and can change before or after account opening. Fees could reduce earnings. For Money Market accounts in simplified banking, rates are determined by Rate Region. The rates applicable to a Rate Region may vary depending on one or more of the following factors: Product, Relationship Tier, applicable promotion, account balance. For existing Money Market accounts in a banking package, rates may vary depending on one or more of the following: Residential/Home (not mailing) Address, Rate Region, Account Package Type and Relationship Status of Citigold. If you open your account in a physical branch or with an employee in a physical branch by phone (including video calls), the Rate Region applicable to the account will be the state where the branch is located. If you open your account online (including Citi Mobile) or by telephone other than with an employee in a physical branch by phone (including video calls), we will use the residential address (not your mailing address) you provide when opening your account to assign the Rate Region. Even if the Rate Sheet applicable to an account does not use Account Balances to impact the rates applicable to your Rate Region, Citi reserves the right to apply rates to your deposit account based on your account balance range. We may assign the same rates to more than one balance range. See the Consumer Deposit Account Agreement for balance ranges. For current rates, please call 1-800-627-3999. For TTY: We accept 711 or other relay service.

Interest rate exceptions may apply and are available only to certain accounts or customers. Speak to a banker for eligibility. Interest rate exceptions, if applicable, will be in effect for 182 days beginning on the day the interest rate exception is applied to a savings account. Interest rate exceptions, if applicable for a CD term, will begin on the opening date (or renewal date of an existing CD) and end on the day before the Maturity Date.

Additional account information is contained in the Consumer Deposit Account Agreement, including information about fees, balance computation methods, compounding and crediting of interest, transaction limitations and contractual terms and conditions. Citigold® Private Client rates apply to accounts in the Citigold Private Client Relationship Tier. Citigold rates apply to accounts in the Citigold Relationship Tier. Citi Priority rates apply to accounts in the Citi Priority Relationship Tier.

The rates for the Citigold Private Client status of the Citigold Account Package, the Citigold Account Package, and the Citi Priority Account Package are the same as the Relationship Tiers by the same name. The rates for accounts in the Access Account Package, Basic Banking Package, and Citibank Account Package are the same as accounts that are not in a Relationship Tier.

This promotion requires you open a new account to fulfill the required activities. If you are in a package-based account and proceed with opening a new account, you will be converted to simplified banking. Before you decide to participate in this promotion, please learn how simplified banking will impact you and your accounts by speaking to a banker or by visiting citi.com/simplifiedbanking. To determine whether you are in a package-based account or simplified banking, please refer to your monthly Account Statements or contact us. If you have not yet moved to simplified banking and want to learn about your current accounts, please refer to Account Agreements and Notices at citi.com/accountagreementsandnotices.

During the Offer Period, New Citi Savings accounts could qualify for the Promotional interest rate of 5.00%. The Minimum Balance to earn APY and Promotional Interest Rate is $25,000. The Maximum Interest Earned is $25,500.

To qualify, first, deposit at least the “Minimum Balance” in New-to-Citibank Funds into your New Citi Savings Account within 10 Business Days of account opening. We will check your “On Deposit” balance in New-to-Citibank Funds on the 11th Business Day after you open your new Savings Account to determine if you meet the Minimum Balance and will continue to earn the Promotional Interest Rate. Second, maintain your Minimum Balance. For six (6) months after opening your Savings Account, you will receive the Promotional Interest Rate each day you maintain at least the Minimum Balance in your Savings Account.

Please understand if your Balance drops below the Minimum Balance or your Savings Account has earned the maximum amount of interest from the Promotional Interest rate, your Promotional Interest Rate will expire, and your New Savings Account will receive the current non-promotional Interest Rate regardless of Balance.

Please refer to the above table for the applicable APYs and Interest Rates for this promotion.

Please review the Consumer Deposit Account Agreement for full terms.

Interest rate exceptions may apply and are available only to certain accounts or customers. Speak to a banker for eligibility. Interest rate exceptions, if applicable, will be in effect for 182 days beginning on the day the interest rate exception is applied to a savings account. Interest rate exceptions, if applicable for a CD term, will begin on the opening date (or renewal date of an existing CD) and end on the day before the Maturity Date.

Additional account information is contained in the Consumer Deposit Account Agreement, including information about fees, balance computation methods, compounding and crediting of interest, transaction limitations and contractual terms and conditions. Citigold® Private Client rates apply to accounts in the Citigold Private Client Relationship Tier. Citigold rates apply to accounts in the Citigold Relationship Tier. Citi Priority rates apply to accounts in the Citi Priority Relationship Tier.

The rates for the Citigold Private Client status of the Citigold Account Package, the Citigold Account Package, and the Citi Priority Account Package are the same as the Relationship Tiers by the same name. The rates for accounts in the Access Account Package, Basic Banking Package, and Citibank Account Package are the same as accounts that are not in a Relationship Tier.

<sup>2</sup> APY and interest rates are subject to change at any time before a term begins for a new and renewed CD. Interest rates are fixed for the CD term. APY assumes the full balance and interest will remain on deposit in the CD account until maturity. A penalty will be imposed for early withdrawal. Credited interest may be withdrawn without penalty. A withdrawal will reduce earnings. See the footnote below for withdrawal differences for the No Penalty CD. For new CDs, the APY and interest rate is based on the CD type, CD term, account balance, and applicable promotion at account opening. For new CD accounts with a Special Title (Trust, Estate, Representative Payee, Guardian/Conservator), the APY and interest rate will be the rate reflected on your applicable Rate Sheet provided at the time your account application was submitted. When the APY and interest rate are based on account balance, the applicable balance range will be used to determine your APY and interest rate. Except where indicated, the APY and interest rate for a CD term applies to all balance ranges. CDs automatically renew for the same term at the APY and interest rate in effect on the CD renewal date unless you make a change during the grace period. $500 minimum deposit required to open a CD.

<sup>3</sup> Citi Savings accounts are available in select markets. This promotion requires you open a new account to fulfill the required activities. If you are in a package-based account and proceed with opening a new account, you will be converted to simplified banking. Before you decide to participate in this promotion, please learn how simplified banking will impact you and your accounts by speaking to a banker or by visiting citi.com/simplifiedbanking. To determine whether you are in a package-based account or simplified banking, please refer to your monthly Account Statements or contact us. If you have not yet moved to simplified banking and want to learn about your current accounts, please refer to Account Agreements and Notices at citi.com/accountagreementsandnotices.

During the Offer Period, New Citi Savings accounts could qualify for the Promotional interest rate of 5.00%. The Minimum Balance to earn APY and Promotional Interest Rate is $25,000. The Maximum Interest Earned is $25,500.

To qualify, first, deposit at least the “Minimum Balance” in New-to-Citibank Funds into your New Citi Savings Account within 10 Business Days of account opening. We will check your “On Deposit” balance in New-to-Citibank Funds on the 11th Business Day after you open your new Savings Account to determine if you meet the Minimum Balance and will continue to earn the Promotional Interest Rate. Second, maintain your Minimum Balance. For six (6) months after opening your Savings Account, you will receive the Promotional Interest Rate each day you maintain at least the Minimum Balance in your Savings Account.

Please understand if your Balance drops below the Minimum Balance or your Savings Account has earned the maximum amount of interest from the Promotional Interest rate, your Promotional Interest Rate will expire, and your New Savings Account will receive the current non-promotional Interest Rate regardless of Balance.

Please refer to the above table for the applicable APYs and Interest Rates for this promotion.

Please review the Consumer Deposit Account Agreement for full terms.

<sup>1</sup> The Annual Percentage Yield (APY) and Interest Rate (collectively referred to as rates) and product information are accurate as of the date issued above and subject to change at any time. Annual Percentage Yield is a percentage rate reflecting the total amount of interest paid on an account, based on the current Interest Rate compounded daily for a period of one year assuming no fees, additional deposits or withdrawals, and the interest rate remains the same for the entire year. The Interest Rate is the annual interest paid represented as a percentage assuming no change in rate and does not reflect compounding.

Rates are variable for Money Market products, determined by Citibank at its sole discretion and can change before or after account opening. Fees could reduce earnings. For Money Market accounts in simplified banking, rates are determined by Rate Region. The rates applicable to a Rate Region may vary depending on one or more of the following factors: Product, Relationship Tier, applicable promotion, account balance. For existing Money Market accounts in a banking package, rates may vary depending on one or more of the following: Residential/Home (not mailing) Address, Rate Region, Account Package Type and Relationship Status of Citigold. If you open your account in a physical branch or with an employee in a physical branch by phone (including video calls), the Rate Region applicable to the account will be the state where the branch is located. If you open your account online (including Citi Mobile) or by telephone other than with an employee in a physical branch by phone (including video calls), we will use the residential address (not your mailing address) you provide when opening your account to assign the Rate Region. Even if the Rate Sheet applicable to an account does not use Account Balances to impact the rates applicable to your Rate Region, Citi reserves the right to apply rates to your deposit account based on your account balance range. We may assign the same rates to more than one balance range. See the Consumer Deposit Account Agreement for balance ranges. For current rates, please call 1-800-627-3999. For TTY: We accept 711 or other relay service.

Interest rate exceptions may apply and are available only to certain accounts or customers. Speak to a banker for eligibility. Interest rate exceptions, if applicable, will be in effect for 182 days beginning on the day the interest rate exception is applied to a savings account. Interest rate exceptions, if applicable for a CD term, will begin on the opening date (or renewal date of an existing CD) and end on the day before the Maturity Date.

Additional account information is contained in the Consumer Deposit Account Agreement, including information about fees, balance computation methods, compounding and crediting of interest, transaction limitations and contractual terms and conditions. Citigold® Private Client rates apply to accounts in the Citigold Private Client Relationship Tier. Citigold rates apply to accounts in the Citigold Relationship Tier. Citi Priority rates apply to accounts in the Citi Priority Relationship Tier.

The rates for the Citigold Private Client status of the Citigold Account Package, the Citigold Account Package, and the Citi Priority Account Package are the same as the Relationship Tiers by the same name. The rates for accounts in the Access Account Package, Basic Banking Package, and Citibank Account Package are the same as accounts that are not in a Relationship Tier.

<sup>3</sup> Citi Savings accounts are available in select markets. <sup>1</sup> Rates on these accounts may change after your account is opened. Fees could reduce earnings

<sup>2</sup> Rates are determined by the term and, in some instances, the amount deposited into the CD and are fixed for the term of the CD. The Annual Percentage Yield assumes interest remains on deposit until maturity. A fee may be imposed for early withdrawal. A withdrawal will reduce earnings. Product and rate information is accurate as of the date issued and is subject to change at any time.

Additional account information is contained in the IRA/Keogh/Coverdell Plan Documents, including information about fees, balance computation methods, compounding and crediting of interest, transactional limitations, and contractual terms and conditions.

All accounts opened on a weekend, or for Certificates of Deposit (CDs) maturing on a weekend, will receive an Interest rate & APY that is effective the next business day.

Principal balance ranges for interest rate calculations are as follows; account balance may not be a factor for all CD terms. Citi may assign the same interest rate to more than one balance range:

$50,000 - $99,999.99

$100,000 - $499,999.99

<sup>1</sup> The Annual Percentage Yield (APY) and Interest Rate (collectively referred to as rates) and product information are accurate as of the date issued above and subject to change at any time. Annual Percentage Yield is a percentage rate reflecting the total amount of interest paid on an account, based on the current Interest Rate compounded daily for a period of one year assuming no fees, additional deposits or withdrawals, and the interest rate remains the same for the entire year. The Interest Rate is the annual interest paid represented as a percentage assuming no change in rate and does not reflect compounding.

Rates are variable for Money Market products, determined by Citibank at its sole discretion and can change before or after account opening. Fees could reduce earnings. For Money Market accounts in simplified banking, rates are determined by Rate Region. The rates applicable to a Rate Region may vary depending on one or more of the following factors: Product, Relationship Tier, applicable promotion, account balance. For existing Money Market accounts in a banking package, rates may vary depending on one or more of the following: Residential/Home (not mailing) Address, Rate Region, Account Package Type and Relationship Status of Citigold. If you open your account in a physical branch or with an employee in a physical branch by phone (including video calls), the Rate Region applicable to the account will be the state where the branch is located. If you open your account online (including Citi Mobile) or by telephone other than with an employee in a physical branch by phone (including video calls), we will use the residential address (not your mailing address) you provide when opening your account to assign the Rate Region. Even if the Rate Sheet applicable to an account does not use Account Balances to impact the rates applicable to your Rate Region, Citi reserves the right to apply rates to your deposit account based on your account balance range. We may assign the same rates to more than one balance range. See the Consumer Deposit Account Agreement for balance ranges. For current rates, please call 1-800-627-3999. For TTY: We accept 711 or other relay service.

Interest rate exceptions may apply and are available only to certain accounts or customers. Speak to a banker for eligibility. Interest rate exceptions, if applicable, will be in effect for 182 days beginning on the day the interest rate exception is applied to a savings account. Interest rate exceptions, if applicable for a CD term, will begin on the opening date (or renewal date of an existing CD) and end on the day before the Maturity Date.

Additional account information is contained in the Consumer Deposit Account Agreement, including information about fees, balance computation methods, compounding and crediting of interest, transaction limitations and contractual terms and conditions. Citigold® Private Client rates apply to accounts in the Citigold Private Client Relationship Tier. Citigold rates apply to accounts in the Citigold Relationship Tier. Citi Priority rates apply to accounts in the Citi Priority Relationship Tier.

The rates for the Citigold Private Client status of the Citigold Account Package, the Citigold Account Package, and the Citi Priority Account Package are the same as the Relationship Tiers by the same name. The rates for accounts in the Access Account Package, Basic Banking Package, and Citibank Account Package are the same as accounts that are not in a Relationship Tier.

<sup>6</sup> You may withdraw your full balance and interest without penalty after the first six (6) calendar days you make the minimum deposit into your new CD and your deposit has been fully collected. A penalty applies to withdrawals made during the first 6 days. Partial withdrawals, including interest withdrawals, are not permitted. A No Penalty CD automatically renews without the no penalty feature to a 12 Month CD.

APY assumes the full balance and interest will remain on deposit in the CD account until maturity. A penalty will be imposed for early withdrawal. Credited interest may be withdrawn without penalty. A withdrawal will reduce earnings. See the footnote below for withdrawal differences for the No Penalty CD. For new CDs, the APY and interest rate is based on the CD type, CD term, account balance, and applicable promotion at account opening. For new CD accounts with a Special Title (Trust, Estate, Representative Payee, Guardian/Conservator), the APY and interest rate will be the rate reflected on your applicable Rate Sheet provided at the time your account application was submitted. When the APY and interest rate are based on account balance, the applicable balance range will be used to determine your APY and interest rate. Except where indicated, the APY and interest rate for a CD term applies to all balance ranges. CDs automatically renew for the same term at the APY and interest rate in effect on the CD renewal date unless you make a change during the grace period. $500 minimum deposit required to open a CD.

This promotion requires you open a new account to fulfill the required activities. If you are in a package-based account and proceed with opening a new account, you will be converted to simplified banking. Before you decide to participate in this promotion, please learn how simplified banking will impact you and your accounts by speaking to a banker or by visiting citi.com/simplifiedbanking. To determine whether you are in a package-based account or simplified banking, please refer to your monthly Account Statements or contact us. If you have not yet moved to simplified banking and want to learn about your current accounts, please refer to Account Agreements and Notices at citi.com/accountagreementsandnotices.

During the Offer Period, New Citi Savings accounts could qualify for the Promotional interest rate of 5.00%. The Minimum Balance to earn APY and Promotional Interest Rate is $25,000. The Maximum Interest Earned is $25,500.

To qualify, first, deposit at least the “Minimum Balance” in New-to-Citibank Funds into your New Citi Savings Account within 10 Business Days of account opening. We will check your “On Deposit” balance in New-to-Citibank Funds on the 11th Business Day after you open your new Savings Account to determine if you meet the Minimum Balance and will continue to earn the Promotional Interest Rate. Second, maintain your Minimum Balance. For six (6) months after opening your Savings Account, you will receive the Promotional Interest Rate each day you maintain at least the Minimum Balance in your Savings Account.

Please understand if your Balance drops below the Minimum Balance or your Savings Account has earned the maximum amount of interest from the Promotional Interest rate, your Promotional Interest Rate will expire, and your New Savings Account will receive the current non-promotional Interest Rate regardless of Balance.

Please refer to the above table for the applicable APYs and Interest Rates for this promotion.

Please review the Consumer Deposit Account Agreement for full terms.

<sup>1</sup> The Annual Percentage Yield (APY) and Interest Rate (collectively referred to as rates) and product information are accurate as of the date issued above and subject to change at any time. Annual Percentage Yield is a percentage rate reflecting the total amount of interest paid on an account, based on the current Interest Rate compounded daily for a period of one year assuming no fees, additional deposits or withdrawals, and the interest rate remains the same for the entire year. The Interest Rate is the annual interest paid represented as a percentage assuming no change in rate and does not reflect compounding.

Rates are variable for Money Market products, determined by Citibank at its sole discretion and can change before or after account opening. Fees could reduce earnings. For Money Market accounts in simplified banking, rates are determined by Rate Region. The rates applicable to a Rate Region may vary depending on one or more of the following factors: Product, Relationship Tier, applicable promotion, account balance. For existing Money Market accounts in a banking package, rates may vary depending on one or more of the following: Residential/Home (not mailing) Address, Rate Region, Account Package Type and Relationship Status of Citigold. If you open your account in a physical branch or with an employee in a physical branch by phone (including video calls), the Rate Region applicable to the account will be the state where the branch is located. If you open your account online (including Citi Mobile) or by telephone other than with an employee in a physical branch by phone (including video calls), we will use the residential address (not your mailing address) you provide when opening your account to assign the Rate Region. Even if the Rate Sheet applicable to an account does not use Account Balances to impact the rates applicable to your Rate Region, Citi reserves the right to apply rates to your deposit account based on your account balance range. We may assign the same rates to more than one balance range. See the Consumer Deposit Account Agreement for balance ranges. For current rates, please call 1-800-627-3999. For TTY: We accept 711 or other relay service.

Interest rate exceptions may apply and are available only to certain accounts or customers. Speak to a banker for eligibility. Interest rate exceptions, if applicable, will be in effect for 182 days beginning on the day the interest rate exception is applied to a savings account. Interest rate exceptions, if applicable for a CD term, will begin on the opening date (or renewal date of an existing CD) and end on the day before the Maturity Date.

Additional account information is contained in the Consumer Deposit Account Agreement, including information about fees, balance computation methods, compounding and crediting of interest, transaction limitations and contractual terms and conditions. Citigold® Private Client rates apply to accounts in the Citigold Private Client Relationship Tier. Citigold rates apply to accounts in the Citigold Relationship Tier. Citi Priority rates apply to accounts in the Citi Priority Relationship Tier.

The rates for the Citigold Private Client status of the Citigold Account Package, the Citigold Account Package, and the Citi Priority Account Package are the same as the Relationship Tiers by the same name. The rates for accounts in the Access Account Package, Basic Banking Package, and Citibank Account Package are the same as accounts that are not in a Relationship Tier.

<sup>2</sup> APY and interest rates are subject to change at any time before a term begins for a new and renewed CD. Interest rates are fixed for the CD term. APY assumes the full balance and interest will remain on deposit in the CD account until maturity. A penalty will be imposed for early withdrawal. Credited interest may be withdrawn without penalty. A withdrawal will reduce earnings. See the footnote below for withdrawal differences for the No Penalty CD. For new CDs, the APY and interest rate is based on the CD type, CD term, account balance, and applicable promotion at account opening. For new CD accounts with a Special Title (Trust, Estate, Representative Payee, Guardian/Conservator), the APY and interest rate will be the rate reflected on your applicable Rate Sheet provided at the time your account application was submitted. When the APY and interest rate are based on account balance, the applicable balance range will be used to determine your APY and interest rate. Except where indicated, the APY and interest rate for a CD term applies to all balance ranges. CDs automatically renew for the same term at the APY and interest rate in effect on the CD renewal date unless you make a change during the grace period. $500 minimum deposit required to open a CD.

Rates are variable for Money Market products, determined by Citibank at its sole discretion and can change before or after account opening. Fees could reduce earnings. For Money Market accounts in simplified banking, rates are determined by Rate Region. The rates applicable to a Rate Region may vary depending on one or more of the following factors: Product, Relationship Tier, applicable promotion, account balance. For existing Money Market accounts in a banking package, rates may vary depending on one or more of the following: Residential/Home (not mailing) Address, Rate Region, Account Package Type and Relationship Status of Citigold. If you open your account in a physical branch or with an employee in a physical branch by phone (including video calls), the Rate Region applicable to the account will be the state where the branch is located. If you open your account online (including Citi Mobile) or by telephone other than with an employee in a physical branch by phone (including video calls), we will use the residential address (not your mailing address) you provide when opening your account to assign the Rate Region. Even if the Rate Sheet applicable to an account does not use Account Balances to impact the rates applicable to your Rate Region, Citi reserves the right to apply rates to your deposit account based on your account balance range. We may assign the same rates to more than one balance range. See the Consumer Deposit Account Agreement for balance ranges. For current rates, please call 1-800-627-3999. For TTY: We accept 711 or other relay service.

Interest rate exceptions may apply and are available only to certain accounts or customers. Speak to a banker for eligibility. Interest rate exceptions, if applicable, will be in effect for 182 days beginning on the day the interest rate exception is applied to a savings account. Interest rate exceptions, if applicable for a CD term, will begin on the opening date (or renewal date of an existing CD) and end on the day before the Maturity Date.

Additional account information is contained in the Consumer Deposit Account Agreement, including information about fees, balance computation methods, compounding and crediting of interest, transaction limitations and contractual terms and conditions. Citigold® Private Client rates apply to accounts in the Citigold Private Client Relationship Tier. Citigold rates apply to accounts in the Citigold Relationship Tier. Citi Priority rates apply to accounts in the Citi Priority Relationship Tier.

The rates for the Citigold Private Client status of the Citigold Account Package, the Citigold Account Package, and the Citi Priority Account Package are the same as the Relationship Tiers by the same name. The rates for accounts in the Access Account Package, Basic Banking Package, and Citibank Account Package are the same as accounts that are not in a Relationship Tier.

This promotion requires you open a new account to fulfill the required activities. If you are in a package-based account and proceed with opening a new account, you will be converted to simplified banking. Before you decide to participate in this promotion, please learn how simplified banking will impact you and your accounts by speaking to a banker or by visiting citi.com/simplifiedbanking. To determine whether you are in a package-based account or simplified banking, please refer to your monthly Account Statements or contact us. If you have not yet moved to simplified banking and want to learn about your current accounts, please refer to Account Agreements and Notices at citi.com/accountagreementsandnotices.

During the Offer Period, New Citi Savings accounts could qualify for the Promotional interest rate of 5.00%. The Minimum Balance to earn APY and Promotional Interest Rate is $25,000. The Maximum Interest Earned is $25,500.

To qualify, first, deposit at least the “Minimum Balance” in New-to-Citibank Funds into your New Citi Savings Account within 10 Business Days of account opening. We will check your “On Deposit” balance in New-to-Citibank Funds on the 11th Business Day after you open your new Savings Account to determine if you meet the Minimum Balance and will continue to earn the Promotional Interest Rate. Second, maintain your Minimum Balance. For six (6) months after opening your Savings Account, you will receive the Promotional Interest Rate each day you maintain at least the Minimum Balance in your Savings Account.

Please understand if your Balance drops below the Minimum Balance or your Savings Account has earned the maximum amount of interest from the Promotional Interest rate, your Promotional Interest Rate will expire, and your New Savings Account will receive the current non-promotional Interest Rate regardless of Balance.

Please refer to the above table for the applicable APYs and Interest Rates for this promotion.

Please review the Consumer Deposit Account Agreement for full terms.

Before you decide to participate in this promotion, please learn how simplified banking will impact you and your accounts by speaking to a banker or by visiting citi.com/simplifiedbanking. To determine whether you are in a package-based account or simplified banking, please refer to your monthly Account Statements or contact us. Second, maintain your Minimum Balance. For six (6) months after opening your Savings Account, you will receive the Promotional Interest Rate each day you maintain at least the Minimum Balance in your Savings Account.

Please understand if your Balance drops below the Minimum Balance or your Savings Account has earned the maximum amount of interest from the Promotional Interest rate, your Promotional Interest Rate will expire, and your New Savings Account will receive the current non-promotional Interest Rate regardless of Balance.

Rates are variable for Money Market products, determined by Citibank at its sole discretion and can change before or after account opening. Fees could reduce earnings. For Money Market accounts in simplified banking, rates are determined by Rate Region. The rates applicable to a Rate Region may vary depending on one or more of the following factors: Product, Relationship Tier, applicable promotion, account balance. For existing Money Market accounts in a banking package, rates may vary depending on one or more of the following: Residential/Home (not mailing) Address, Rate Region, Account Package Type and Relationship Status of Citigold. If you open your account in a physical branch or with an employee in a physical branch by phone (including video calls), the Rate Region applicable to the account will be the state where the branch is located. If you open your account online (including Citi Mobile) or by telephone other than with an employee in a physical branch by phone (including video calls), we will use the residential address (not your mailing address) you provide when opening your account to assign the Rate Region. Even if the Rate Sheet applicable to an account does not use Account Balances to impact the rates applicable to your Rate Region, Citi reserves the right to apply rates to your deposit account based on your account balance range. We may assign the same rates to more than one balance range. See the Consumer Deposit Account Agreement for balance ranges. For current rates, please call 1-800-627-3999. For TTY: We accept 711 or other relay service.

Interest rate exceptions may apply and are available only to certain accounts or customers. Speak to a banker for eligibility. Interest rate exceptions, if applicable, will be in effect for 182 days beginning on the day the interest rate exception is applied to a savings account. Interest rate exceptions, if applicable for a CD term, will begin on the opening date (or renewal date of an existing CD) and end on the day before the Maturity Date.

Additional account information is contained in the Consumer Deposit Account Agreement, including information about fees, balance computation methods, compounding and crediting of interest, transaction limitations and contractual terms and conditions. Citigold® Private Client rates apply to accounts in the Citigold Private Client Relationship Tier. Citigold rates apply to accounts in the Citigold Relationship Tier. Citi Priority rates apply to accounts in the Citi Priority Relationship Tier.

The rates for the Citigold Private Client status of the Citigold Account Package, the Citigold Account Package, and the Citi Priority Account Package are the same as the Relationship Tiers by the same name. The rates for accounts in the Access Account Package, Basic Banking Package, and Citibank Account Package are the same as accounts that are not in a Relationship Tier.

Rates are variable for Money Market products, determined by Citibank at its sole discretion and can change before or after account opening. Fees could reduce earnings. For Money Market accounts in simplified banking, rates are determined by Rate Region. The rates applicable to a Rate Region may vary depending on one or more of the following factors: Product, Relationship Tier, applicable promotion, account balance. For existing Money Market accounts in a banking package, rates may vary depending on one or more of the following: Residential/Home (not mailing) Address, Rate Region, Account Package Type and Relationship Status of Citigold. If you open your account in a physical branch or with an employee in a physical branch by phone (including video calls), the Rate Region applicable to the account will be the state where the branch is located. If you open your account online (including Citi Mobile) or by telephone other than with an employee in a physical branch by phone (including video calls), we will use the residential address (not your mailing address) you provide when opening your account to assign the Rate Region. Even if the Rate Sheet applicable to an account does not use Account Balances to impact the rates applicable to your Rate Region, Citi reserves the right to apply rates to your deposit account based on your account balance range. We may assign the same rates to more than one balance range. See the Consumer Deposit Account Agreement for balance ranges. For current rates, please call 1-800-627-3999. For TTY: We accept 711 or other relay service.

Interest rate exceptions may apply and are available only to certain accounts or customers. Speak to a banker for eligibility. Interest rate exceptions, if applicable, will be in effect for 182 days beginning on the day the interest rate exception is applied to a savings account. Interest rate exceptions, if applicable for a CD term, will begin on the opening date (or renewal date of an existing CD) and end on the day before the Maturity Date.

Additional account information is contained in the Consumer Deposit Account Agreement, including information about fees, balance computation methods, compounding and crediting of interest, transaction limitations and contractual terms and conditions. Citigold® Private Client rates apply to accounts in the Citigold Private Client Relationship Tier. Citigold rates apply to accounts in the Citigold Relationship Tier. Citi Priority rates apply to accounts in the Citi Priority Relationship Tier.

The rates for the Citigold Private Client status of the Citigold Account Package, the Citigold Account Package, and the Citi Priority Account Package are the same as the Relationship Tiers by the same name. The rates for accounts in the Access Account Package, Basic Banking Package, and Citibank Account Package are the same as accounts that are not in a Relationship Tier.

This promotion requires you open a new account to fulfill the required activities. If you are in a package-based account and proceed with opening a new account, you will be converted to simplified banking. Before you decide to participate in this promotion, please learn how simplified banking will impact you and your accounts by speaking to a banker or by visiting citi.com/simplifiedbanking. To determine whether you are in a package-based account or simplified banking, please refer to your monthly Account Statements or contact us. If you have not yet moved to simplified banking and want to learn about your current accounts, please refer to Account Agreements and Notices at citi.com/accountagreementsandnotices.

During the Offer Period, New Citi Savings accounts could qualify for the Promotional interest rate of 5.00%. The Minimum Balance to earn APY and Promotional Interest Rate is $25,000. The Maximum Interest Earned is $25,500.

To qualify, first, deposit at least the “Minimum Balance” in New-to-Citibank Funds into your New Citi Savings Account within 10 Business Days of account opening. We will check your “On Deposit” balance in New-to-Citibank Funds on the 11th Business Day after you open your new Savings Account to determine if you meet the Minimum Balance and will continue to earn the Promotional Interest Rate. Second, maintain your Minimum Balance. For six (6) months after opening your Savings Account, you will receive the Promotional Interest Rate each day you maintain at least the Minimum Balance in your Savings Account.

Please understand if your Balance drops below the Minimum Balance or your Savings Account has earned the maximum amount of interest from the Promotional Interest rate, your Promotional Interest Rate will expire, and your New Savings Account will receive the current non-promotional Interest Rate regardless of Balance.

Please refer to the above table for the applicable APYs and Interest Rates for this promotion.

Please review the Consumer Deposit Account Agreement for full terms.

<sup>2</sup> APY and interest rates are subject to change at any time before a term begins for a new and renewed CD. Interest rates are fixed for the CD term. APY assumes the full balance and interest will remain on deposit in the CD account until maturity. A penalty will be imposed for early withdrawal. Credited interest may be withdrawn without penalty. A withdrawal will reduce earnings. See the footnote below for withdrawal differences for the No Penalty CD. For new CDs, the APY and interest rate is based on the CD type, CD term, account balance, and applicable promotion at account opening. For new CD accounts with a Special Title (Trust, Estate, Representative Payee, Guardian/Conservator), the APY and interest rate will be the rate reflected on your applicable Rate Sheet provided at the time your account application was submitted. When the APY and interest rate are based on account balance, the applicable balance range will be used to determine your APY and interest rate. Except where indicated, the APY and interest rate for a CD term applies to all balance ranges. CDs automatically renew for the same term at the APY and interest rate in effect on the CD renewal date unless you make a change during the grace period. $500 minimum deposit required to open a CD.

This promotion requires you open a new account to fulfill the required activities. If you are in a package-based account and proceed with opening a new account, you will be converted to simplified banking. Before you decide to participate in this promotion, please learn how simplified banking will impact you and your accounts by speaking to a banker or by visiting citi.com/simplifiedbanking. To determine whether you are in a package-based account or simplified banking, please refer to your monthly Account Statements or contact us. If you have not yet moved to simplified banking and want to learn about your current accounts, please refer to Account Agreements and Notices at citi.com/accountagreementsandnotices.

During the Offer Period, New Citi Savings accounts could qualify for the Promotional interest rate of 5.00%. The Minimum Balance to earn APY and Promotional Interest Rate is $25,000. The Maximum Interest Earned is $25,500.

To qualify, first, deposit at least the “Minimum Balance” in New-to-Citibank Funds into your New Citi Savings Account within 10 Business Days of account opening. We will check your “On Deposit” balance in New-to-Citibank Funds on the 11th Business Day after you open your new Savings Account to determine if you meet the Minimum Balance and will continue to earn the Promotional Interest Rate. Second, maintain your Minimum Balance. For six (6) months after opening your Savings Account, you will receive the Promotional Interest Rate each day you maintain at least the Minimum Balance in your Savings Account.

Please understand if your Balance drops below the Minimum Balance or your Savings Account has earned the maximum amount of interest from the Promotional Interest rate, your Promotional Interest Rate will expire, and your New Savings Account will receive the current non-promotional Interest Rate regardless of Balance.

Please refer to the above table for the applicable APYs and Interest Rates for this promotion.

Please review the Consumer Deposit Account Agreement for full terms.

Rates are variable for Money Market products, determined by Citibank at its sole discretion and can change before or after account opening. Fees could reduce earnings. For Money Market accounts in simplified banking, rates are determined by Rate Region. The rates applicable to a Rate Region may vary depending on one or more of the following factors: Product, Relationship Tier, applicable promotion, account balance. For existing Money Market accounts in a banking package, rates may vary depending on one or more of the following: Residential/Home (not mailing) Address, Rate Region, Account Package Type and Relationship Status of Citigold. If you open your account in a physical branch or with an employee in a physical branch by phone (including video calls), the Rate Region applicable to the account will be the state where the branch is located. If you open your account online (including Citi Mobile) or by telephone other than with an employee in a physical branch by phone (including video calls), we will use the residential address (not your mailing address) you provide when opening your account to assign the Rate Region. Even if the Rate Sheet applicable to an account does not use Account Balances to impact the rates applicable to your Rate Region, Citi reserves the right to apply rates to your deposit account based on your account balance range. We may assign the same rates to more than one balance range. See the Consumer Deposit Account Agreement for balance ranges. For current rates, please call 1-800-627-3999. For TTY: We accept 711 or other relay service.

Interest rate exceptions may apply and are available only to certain accounts or customers. Speak to a banker for eligibility. Interest rate exceptions, if applicable, will be in effect for 182 days beginning on the day the interest rate exception is applied to a savings account. Interest rate exceptions, if applicable for a CD term, will begin on the opening date (or renewal date of an existing CD) and end on the day before the Maturity Date.

Additional account information is contained in the Consumer Deposit Account Agreement, including information about fees, balance computation methods, compounding and crediting of interest, transaction limitations and contractual terms and conditions. Citigold® Private Client rates apply to accounts in the Citigold Private Client Relationship Tier. Citigold rates apply to accounts in the Citigold Relationship Tier. Citi Priority rates apply to accounts in the Citi Priority Relationship Tier.

The rates for the Citigold Private Client status of the Citigold Account Package, the Citigold Account Package, and the Citi Priority Account Package are the same as the Relationship Tiers by the same name. The rates for accounts in the Access Account Package, Basic Banking Package, and Citibank Account Package are the same as accounts that are not in a Relationship Tier.

<sup>3</sup> APY and interest rates are subject to change at any time before a term begins for a new and renewed CD. Interest rates are fixed for the CD term. APY assumes the full balance and interest will remain on deposit in the CD account until maturity. A penalty will be imposed for early withdrawal. Credited interest may be withdrawn without penalty. A withdrawal will reduce earnings. See the footnote below for withdrawal differences for the No Penalty CD. For new CDs, the APY and interest rate is based on the CD type, CD term, account balance, and applicable promotion at account opening. For new CD accounts with a Special Title (Trust, Estate, Representative Payee, Guardian/Conservator), the APY and interest rate will be the rate reflected on your applicable Rate Sheet provided at the time your account application was submitted. When the APY and interest rate are based on account balance, the applicable balance range will be used to determine your APY and interest rate. Except where indicated, the APY and interest rate for a CD term applies to all balance ranges. CDs automatically renew for the same term at the APY and interest rate in effect on the CD renewal date unless you make a change during the grace period. $500 minimum deposit required to open a CD.

Rates are variable for Money Market products, determined by Citibank at its sole discretion and can change before or after account opening. Fees could reduce earnings. For Money Market accounts in simplified banking, rates are determined by Rate Region. The rates applicable to a Rate Region may vary depending on one or more of the following factors: Product, Relationship Tier, applicable promotion, account balance. For existing Money Market accounts in a banking package, rates may vary depending on one or more of the following: Residential/Home (not mailing) Address, Rate Region, Account Package Type and Relationship Status of Citigold. If you open your account in a physical branch or with an employee in a physical branch by phone (including video calls), the Rate Region applicable to the account will be the state where the branch is located. If you open your account online (including Citi Mobile) or by telephone other than with an employee in a physical branch by phone (including video calls), we will use the residential address (not your mailing address) you provide when opening your account to assign the Rate Region. Even if the Rate Sheet applicable to an account does not use Account Balances to impact the rates applicable to your Rate Region, Citi reserves the right to apply rates to your deposit account based on your account balance range. We may assign the same rates to more than one balance range. See the Consumer Deposit Account Agreement for balance ranges. For current rates, please call 1-800-627-3999. For TTY: We accept 711 or other relay service.

Interest rate exceptions may apply and are available only to certain accounts or customers. Speak to a banker for eligibility. Interest rate exceptions, if applicable, will be in effect for 182 days beginning on the day the interest rate exception is applied to a savings account. Interest rate exceptions, if applicable for a CD term, will begin on the opening date (or renewal date of an existing CD) and end on the day before the Maturity Date.

Additional account information is contained in the Consumer Deposit Account Agreement, including information about fees, balance computation methods, compounding and crediting of interest, transaction limitations and contractual terms and conditions. Citigold® Private Client rates apply to accounts in the Citigold Private Client Relationship Tier. Citigold rates apply to accounts in the Citigold Relationship Tier. Citi Priority rates apply to accounts in the Citi Priority Relationship Tier.

The rates for the Citigold Private Client status of the Citigold Account Package, the Citigold Account Package, and the Citi Priority Account Package are the same as the Relationship Tiers by the same name. The rates for accounts in the Access Account Package, Basic Banking Package, and Citibank Account Package are the same as accounts that are not in a Relationship Tier.

A penalty applies to withdrawals made during the first 6 days. Partial withdrawals, including interest withdrawals, are not permitted. A No Penalty CD automatically renews without the no penalty feature to a 12 Month CD.

Rates are variable for Money Market products, determined by Citibank at its sole discretion and can change before or after account opening. Fees could reduce earnings. For Money Market accounts in simplified banking, rates are determined by Rate Region. The rates applicable to a Rate Region may vary depending on one or more of the following factors: Product, Relationship Tier, applicable promotion, account balance. For existing Money Market accounts in a banking package, rates may vary depending on one or more of the following: Residential/Home (not mailing) Address, Rate Region, Account Package Type and Relationship Status of Citigold. If you open your account online (including Citi Mobile) or by telephone other than with an employee in a physical branch by phone (including video calls), we will use the residential address (not your mailing address) you provide when opening your account to assign the Rate Region. Even if the Rate Sheet applicable to an account does not use Account Balances to impact the rates applicable to your Rate Region, Citi reserves the right to apply rates to your deposit account based on your account balance range. We may assign the same rates to more than one balance range. See the Consumer Deposit Account Agreement for balance ranges. For current rates, please call 1-800-627-3999. For TTY: We accept 711 or other relay service.

Interest rate exceptions may apply and are available only to certain accounts or customers. Speak to a banker for eligibility. Interest rate exceptions, if applicable, will be in effect for 182 days beginning on the day the interest rate exception is applied to a savings account. Interest rate exceptions, if applicable for a CD term, will begin on the opening date (or renewal date of an existing CD) and end on the day before the Maturity Date.

Additional account information is contained in the Consumer Deposit Account Agreement, including information about fees, balance computation methods, compounding and crediting of interest, transaction limitations and contractual terms and conditions. Citigold® Private Client rates apply to accounts in the Citigold Private Client Relationship Tier. Citigold rates apply to accounts in the Citigold Relationship Tier. The rates for accounts in the Access Account Package, Basic Banking Package, and Citibank Account Package are the same as accounts that are not in a Relationship Tier.

Rates are variable for Money Market products, determined by Citibank at its sole discretion and can change before or after account opening. Fees could reduce earnings. For Money Market accounts in simplified banking, rates are determined by Rate Region. The rates applicable to a Rate Region may vary depending on one or more of the following factors: Product, Relationship Tier, applicable promotion, account balance. For existing Money Market accounts in a banking package, rates may vary depending on one or more of the following: Residential/Home (not mailing) Address, Rate Region, Account Package Type and Relationship Status of Citigold. If you open your account in a physical branch or with an employee in a physical branch by phone (including video calls), the Rate Region applicable to the account will be the state where the branch is located. If you open your account online (including Citi Mobile) or by telephone other than with an employee in a physical branch by phone (including video calls), we will use the residential address (not your mailing address) you provide when opening your account to assign the Rate Region. Even if the Rate Sheet applicable to an account does not use Account Balances to impact the rates applicable to your Rate Region, Citi reserves the right to apply rates to your deposit account based on your account balance range. We may assign the same rates to more than one balance range. See the Consumer Deposit Account Agreement for balance ranges. For current rates, please call 1-800-627-3999. For TTY: We accept 711 or other relay service.

Interest rate exceptions may apply and are available only to certain accounts or customers. Speak to a banker for eligibility. Interest rate exceptions, if applicable, will be in effect for 182 days beginning on the day the interest rate exception is applied to a savings account. Interest rate exceptions, if applicable for a CD term, will begin on the opening date (or renewal date of an existing CD) and end on the day before the Maturity Date.

Additional account information is contained in the Consumer Deposit Account Agreement, including information about fees, balance computation methods, compounding and crediting of interest, transaction limitations and contractual terms and conditions. Citigold® Private Client rates apply to accounts in the Citigold Private Client Relationship Tier. Citigold rates apply to accounts in the Citigold Relationship Tier. Citi Priority rates apply to accounts in the Citi Priority Relationship Tier.

The rates for the Citigold Private Client status of the Citigold Account Package, the Citigold Account Package, and the Citi Priority Account Package are the same as the Relationship Tiers by the same name. The rates for accounts in the Access Account Package, Basic Banking Package, and Citibank Account Package are the same as accounts that are not in a Relationship Tier.

This promotion requires you open a new account to fulfill the required activities. If you are in a package-based account and proceed with opening a new account, you will be converted to simplified banking. Before you decide to participate in this promotion, please learn how simplified banking will impact you and your accounts by speaking to a banker or by visiting citi.com/simplifiedbanking. To determine whether you are in a package-based account or simplified banking, please refer to your monthly Account Statements or contact us. If you have not yet moved to simplified banking and want to learn about your current accounts, please refer to Account Agreements and Notices at citi.com/accountagreementsandnotices.

During the Offer Period, New Citi Savings accounts could qualify for the Promotional interest rate of 5.00%. The Minimum Balance to earn APY and Promotional Interest Rate is $25,000. The Maximum Interest Earned is $25,500.

To qualify, first, deposit at least the “Minimum Balance” in New-to-Citibank Funds into your New Citi Savings Account within 10 Business Days of account opening. We will check your “On Deposit” balance in New-to-Citibank Funds on the 11th Business Day after you open your new Savings Account to determine if you meet the Minimum Balance and will continue to earn the Promotional Interest Rate. Second, maintain your Minimum Balance. For six (6) months after opening your Savings Account, you will receive the Promotional Interest Rate each day you maintain at least the Minimum Balance in your Savings Account.

Please understand if your Balance drops below the Minimum Balance or your Savings Account has earned the maximum amount of interest from the Promotional Interest rate, your Promotional Interest Rate will expire, and your New Savings Account will receive the current non-promotional Interest Rate regardless of Balance.

Please refer to the above table for the applicable APYs and Interest Rates for this promotion.

Please review the Consumer Deposit Account Agreement for full terms.

2.Citi Alliance accounts

2.1 Introduction

Citi Alliance is a business of Citibank N.A., providing clients primarily of external wealth firms access to banking and lending services through Citibank, N.A. Citi Alliance® offers a Regular Checking account (“Citi Alliance Checking account”) and a Citi Savings account (“Citi Alliance Savings account” or “Savings Account”), collectively referred to as “Citi Alliance accounts.” Only existing customers who own a Citi Alliance Checking account can apply to open a Citi Alliance Savings account. If you close your existing Citi Alliance Checking account, you do not have to close your Citi Alliance Savings account. If you close your existing Citi Alliance Savings account, you do not have to close your Citi Alliance Checking account. There is no limit to the number of Citi Alliance accounts a customer can own, but please see limitations applicable to Account Statements and Citi Alliance Price Links.

Fees. Citibank generally charges fees for its products and services. Citibank charges Monthly Service Fees, fees disclosed on Appendix 1: Fee Schedule and fees disclosed and charged at the time a transaction is performed or a service is provided. Please refer to documentation provided at the time a transaction is performed or a service is provided for applicable fees. Fees listed in this section refer only to fees charged by Citibank and is not a representation of potential fees imposed by other banks.

Unless Price Linked, Citibank charges each Citi Alliance account a Monthly Service Fee. “Price Linked” or “Price Links” means your combined average monthly balance of Price Linked Citi Alliance accounts will be used to determine your eligibility for Citi Alliance Monthly Service Fee waivers.

Please speak to a banker to Price Link your Citi Alliance accounts. Citi Alliance Savings accounts, however, are automatically linked to one Citi Alliance Checking account. If you close your Citi Alliance Checking account Price Linked to your Citi Alliance Savings account, your Citi Alliance Savings account will be charged the Monthly Service Fee.

Monthly Service Fees will appear as charges on the first Business Day of your next Account Statement. Other banks and ATM service providers may charge you a fee when you conduct a Citibank deposit account transaction using their ATMs. You will receive unlimited reimbursements from Citibank for ATM fees charged by other banks in any statement period. Reimbursements for other bank ATM fees may also apply to international ATM transactions. If you are charged a fee for the use of an ATM overseas, please contact us for a full refund.

<sup>1</sup> Average monthly balances for the calendar month prior to the last Business Day of your monthly statement period will be used to determine fees which will appear as a charge on the statement you receive for the next monthly period.

What is an Other Bank ATM and ATM service provider fee?

When you use a Network ATM other than at a location within our surcharge-free network, you may be charged a fee by the ATM operator or network, including for a balance inquiry even if you do not complete a transaction. Fees charged by ATM operators and networks are refunded by Citibank to customers in Citi Alliance. We rely upon data we receive from the ATM operator to accurately calculate the amount of the reimbursement to you. If you are charged a fee for the use of an ATM overseas or if you believe you did not receive a correct reimbursement, please contact us for a full refund. For fees imposed due to withdrawing cash from your linked Citibank credit accounts (including credit cards), see your applicable customer agreements.

Minimum Opening Deposit for Citi Alliance Checking accounts and Citi Alliance Savings accounts. There is no minimum opening deposit required to open a Citi Alliance Checking account or Citi Alliance Savings account at Citibank; however, your balance can affect the fees associated with your account. Please refer to Citi Alliance Monthly Service Fee and Non-Citi ATM Fee Chart. In addition, accounts with zero balances are subject to closure after 90 days.

Conversion. Customers cannot convert their Citi Alliance accounts into other Citibank accounts.

Limited Availability. Products, services, promotions and benefits are available in select markets and may only be available to select customers.

Withdrawal Notice. We reserve the right to require seven (7) days advance notice before permitting a withdrawal from all savings and money market accounts. We currently do not exercise this right and have not exercised it in the past.

Checkbooks and Checks. When you open a Citi Alliance Checking account or Citi Alliance Savings account with a check writing feature, you can order personalized checks through us. We will automatically deduct the cost from your account balance after your order is processed. You are responsible for verifying the accuracy of all information shown on your checks. If you find an error, you must notify us immediately.

If you choose to have your checks printed by another vendor, the form, encoding and format of the checks must follow our check specification requirements and be approved by us in advance. If you do not purchase your checks through us, we may charge a fee for each check that rejects during processing due to poor print quality, or if it fails to meet our specifications. You agree not to issue checks with features or marks that obscure, alter or impair information on the front or back of a check or that otherwise prevents us or another bank from capturing such information during automated check processing.

You agree to safeguard your blank and cancelled checks, and to take reasonable steps to prevent their unauthorized use. If your checks are lost or stolen, you agree to notify us immediately. For security reasons, we reserve the right to close your account and transfer the balance to a new account. If we do, all checks written but not yet paid may be returned to the payees. You will be responsible for issuing any replacement checks.

Fees for Cash Withdrawals. There is no charge for making cash withdrawals with a Citibank® Banking Card at Proprietary Citibank ATM locations in the U.S.

When you use a Network ATM other than at a location within our surcharge-free network, you may be charged a fee by the ATM operator or network, including for a balance inquiry even if you do not complete a transaction. Fees charged by ATM operators and networks are refunded to Citi Alliance customers. For fees imposed due to withdrawing cash from your linked Citibank credit accounts (including credit cards), see your applicable customer agreements.

Linking. New Citi Alliance Savings accounts will be automatically linked to one existing Citi Alliance Checking account. All other links, including when you own multiple Citi Alliance accounts, must be requested. Linked Citi Alliance accounts will form one combined average monthly balance for purposes of determining your eligibility for a Citi Alliance monthly service fee waiver.

Household Links. Citi Alliance customers can link Citi Alliance accounts they own with Citi Alliance accounts owned by immediate family members who live with them (“Household Links” with “Family”). The combined average monthly balance of accounts of Household Linked accounts may be higher than your individual combined average monthly balance, entitling you and your Family with Monthly Service Fee waivers. Citi Alliance accounts cannot use Household Links with accounts that are not Citi Alliance Accounts. To set up a Household Link, please contact servicing representatives for Citi Alliance.

When participating in a Household Link, Citi Alliance customers may be able to deduce approximate balances of others in the Household. When deciding whether to Household Link, customers should evaluate their privacy needs along with their need for the rate and fee advantages.

2.3 Rate Information and Interest Calculation for Savings accounts

Savings Account APYs and Interest Rates.

“Annual Percentage Yield” (APY) as used in this document is a percentage rate reflecting the total amount of interest paid on an account, based on the current interest rate compounded daily for a period of one year assuming no fees, additional deposits or withdrawals, and the interest rate remains the same for the entire year. “Interest Rate” is the annual interest paid represented as a percentage assuming no change in rate and does not reflect compounding.

“Annual Percentage Yield Earned” (APYE) shown for an account on the Account Statement is an annualized rate that reflects the total amount of interest paid on the account during the Statement Period. The APYE is calculated using the relationship between the interest posted to the account and the sum of the daily balances for those days where balance is above zero in the Statement Period divided by the number of days in the Statement Period.

Annual Percentage Yields and interest rates for Citi Alliance Savings accounts are variable, determined by Citibank at its sole discretion, can change at any time without notice. This may affect the actual amount of interest earned.

Please refer to your applicable Citi Alliance Rate Sheet. For current Annual Percentage Yields and interest rates, please use Citi Online or the Citi Mobile App or call the phone numbers listed in the Contact Us section of this Agreement.

Every Citi Alliance Savings account is assigned to a Rate Region at the time of account opening. The Citi Alliance Rate Sheet provided at the time of account opening will identify the account's Rate Region. Rate Regions may have different Annual Percentage Yields and interest rates. For a Citi Alliance Savings account, the APY and interest rate applicable to a Rate Region may vary depending on one or more of the following factors:

- a. Rate Region (determined by factors, which may include branch location or home (not mailing) address);
- b. Applicable promotion;
- c. Account balance<sup>2</sup>

Please refer to the Citi Alliance Rate Sheet provided to you when your account was opened to learn which factor(s) impact the APY and interest rate applicable to your Rate Region.

When Interest Begins to Accrue. Non-Cash items, such as checks, deposited to a Savings account begin to earn interest on the date Citibank receives credit for the funds. This date will be no later than the second Business Day after the Business Day the check deposit is received. A cash deposit begins to earn interest on the Business Day the cash deposit is received.

Interest Compounding and Crediting. Interest is compounded daily for the actual number of days your money is on deposit and is credited to your account monthly. Interest is computed using a 365-day year except in leap years when interest may be computed on a 366-day basis.

Interest Calculation Method. We use the daily balance method to calculate interest. This method uses the daily balance of all deposited funds in your account on which we have received credit to determine the applicable interest rate each day of the Statement Period. The interest rate may be adjusted at any time during the Statement Period based on the applicable interest rate tier. This method may cause a change in the amount of interest you earn depending on the daily balance changes in your Savings account. The principal in the account is reduced based upon the transaction date when a withdrawal or other debit transaction occurs, which is not always the same as the posting date. The principal balance on which interest is calculated may not be the same as that appearing on your Account Statement if there have been intervening transactions.

Interest Adjustment. An interest adjustment for a transaction occurring during a Statement Period may be reflected on your Account Statement in the next Statement Period, rather than in the Statement Period in which it occurs.

Interest on Closed Savings Accounts. If the account is closed before the end of the Statement Period, interest will be paid for the number of days the account was open during the Statement Period in accordance with the daily balance method.

Current Interest Rates and Annual Percentage Yields. For current interest rates and Annual Percentage Yields, call the Citi Alliance Service Team. To reach the Citi Alliance Service Team, please call the phone number on the back of your Citibank Debit Card or contact your dedicated Citi Alliance Relationship Manager.

<sup>2</sup> When the Citi Alliance Rate Sheet applicable to a Savings account uses Account Balances to determine the APY and interest rate applicable to your Rate Region, Citi will apply an APY or interest rate based on the range of your account balance. Citi may assign the same APY or interest rate to more than one balance range. Please refer to your Citi Alliance Rate Sheet for balance ranges for Citi Alliance Savings accounts which may include:

$50,000 – $99,999.99

$100,000 – $499,999.99

3.Account Statements

We provide customers with an “Account Statement” showing an itemized listing of all transactions and other account information during the Statement Period. Your Account Statement may include important legal notices about your accounts using statement messages or statement inserts.

Communicating with Owners and Signers.

Regardless of the number of account owners, we generally only communicate with one owner per account. Account Statements and notices are sent to the first-titled owner on an account. Certain accounts are managed by fiduciaries or individuals who receive Account Statements (please refer to Account Ownership). Notification given to any one account owner is considered notification to all account owners.

Contact Information and Communications. Citibank will send you Mail using the contact information you provide Citibank; however, in our sole discretion, we reserve the right to change your Residential and/or Mailing Address(es) based on information received from third parties we believe have up-to-date address information for you, such as the United States Postal Service. An incorrect address may prevent receipt of Mail. We will not be liable for errors, debits or charges to, or your inability to transact in, your account resulting from an incorrect or improper Residential Addresses, Mailing Address or other relevant contact information.

Notification is considered delivered to you on the date we first place the Account Statement in the U.S. mail or on the date the email notifying you that your statement is available on Citi Online or the Citi Mobile App is first sent, regardless of whether you receive it.

We use postage-paid ordinary postal-mail to send your Account Statements and notices to the mailing address reflected in our account records. If two consecutive statements and/or notices are returned to us for any reason, you agree that we may hold subsequent notices and statements until we receive forwarding information from you. Account Statements and notices held for you will be deemed delivered to you on the date that they are prepared (for held statements), mailed (for returned statements) or otherwise made available to you. In our discretion, we may destroy mail that is returned to us as determined to be undeliverable.

Instead of receiving a paper Account Statement through ordinary postal mail, any owner may elect to enroll the account in our paperless statement service when you are register for online banking. If You elect to use the paperless statement service, we will notify you via email of the availability of your Account Statement on Citi Online or the Citi Mobile App. The terms and conditions for the paperless statement service are subject to a separate agreement which You will accept when enrolling in the service and can view at any time on Citi Online and the Citi Mobile App. Changes to your account paperless preferences may change which accounts appear on your Account Statement(s).

Residential and Mailing Addresses

Your “Residential Address” is used to manage your account. Your “Mailing Address” is where you would like to receive notices and Account Statements. Changing your Residential Address or Mailing Address will not change the Governing Law or Rate Region of any of your existing accounts.

4. Opening and Closing Accounts

4.1 Opening a Citi Alliance deposit account

All accounts are opened subject to our ability to verify your identity by requiring acceptable types of identification. To help the government fight the funding of terrorism and money laundering activities, federal law requires us to obtain, verify, and record information that identifies each person who opens an account. When you apply for an account, we will ask for information that will allow us to identify you. We may also ask for your driver’s license or other identifying document.

Please note: Your ability to perform or request certain account transactions on a new account may be delayed until your account is open and operational, including wire transfers, deposits, and other services.

Governing Law.

Accounts, products and services are governed by federal laws and regulations and to the extent not preempted by federal law or otherwise inapplicable, by the laws and regulations of the “Governing State” applicable to your account. State conflict of law provisions will not apply.

Your Governing State is determined by the residential address (not your mailing address) you provide when opening your account.

- a. If you provide a residential address in California, Connecticut, Florida, Illinois, Maryland, Nevada, New Jersey, New York, Texas, Virginia or the District of Columbia when opening your account, your Governing State will be that state.
- b. If you use a residential address in any other state, territory or possession, your Governing State will be South Dakota.

When existing customers open a new account, please confirm your residential address is current.

If you notify us of a change of residential or mailing address after your account is opened, that change will not affect the Governing State applicable to your account. You may have accounts with different Governing States.

Other Laws. This Agreement provides information about financial services provided by Citibank in the United States and its territories. It is not, and should not be construed as, an offer, invitation or solicitation of services to individuals outside of the United States. Your eligibility for a particular product and service is subject to a final determination by Citibank.

If your country of residence is other than the United States or the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, you acknowledge that you are responsible for, and agree that you will comply with, all laws, regulations, and rules applicable to your accounts, products and services with us, including any tax, foreign exchange, or capital controls, and for all payments, reporting or filing requirements that may apply as a result of your country of citizenship, domicile, or residence.

Important Note to Australian Resident Clients. Citibank N.A.: (i) is exempt from the requirement to hold an Australian financial services license under the Australian Corporations Act 2001 in respect of its provision of financial services to you; and (ii) is regulated by the Federal Reserve, the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau and the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency of the U.S. under U.S. laws, which differ from Australian laws.

Rate Region.

Every deposit account is assigned to a “Rate Region.” Citi Alliance reserves the right to assign the same Annual Percentage Yield to all Rate Regions for Citi Alliance Savings accounts. Please refer to your Citi Alliance Rate Sheet.

If you notify us of a change of residential or mailing address after your account is opened, that change will not affect the Rate Region applicable to your account. You may have accounts with different Rate Regions.

Consumer Reporting Agency Information. You authorize us to obtain a consumer report in connection with the application, update or renewal of any deposit or loan account you apply for and you understand that we may also obtain such reports at any time once you become a customer.

We may report information, including negative account activity, about you and any joint account owners or authorized signers on the account (including any account closed by Citibank) to a Consumer Reporting Agency. As a result, this may prevent you from obtaining services at other financial institutions, including opening an account. If you believe that we have inaccurately reported information to a Consumer Reporting Agency, you have the right to file a dispute with that Consumer Reporting Agency. You may also file a dispute by calling the phone number on the back of your Citibank Banking Card or write to us at Citibank — Consumer Report Inquiry, P.O. Box 769004, San Antonio, TX 78245-9989. We will review our files and respond to you in writing.

Important Tax Information.<sup>3</sup> When you apply to open an account, Citibank is required to obtain U.S. tax certification from each account owner. If U.S. tax certification is not provided, the account will be subject to backup withholding. An account must not be subject to backup withholding to be eligible to participate in most account promotions; please refer to the separate promotion terms and conditions, if applicable.

U.S. persons are required to furnish or have a valid Form W-9 (Request for Taxpayer Identification Number and Certification) on file with Citibank. Foreign individuals are required to furnish or have a valid Form W-8BEN (Certificate of Foreign Status of Beneficial Owner for United States Tax Withholding and Reporting (Individuals)) on file with Citibank, and foreign entities are required to furnish or have a valid Form W-8BEN-E (Certificate of Status of Beneficial Owner for United States Tax Withholding and Reporting (Entities)) on file with Citibank.

Citibank will apply backup withholding to income payments (e.g., interest) if you: (a) fail to provide a correct Taxpayer Identification Number (TIN), or (b) the U.S. Internal Revenue Service (IRS) notifies us that you furnished an incorrect TIN, or (c) you or we are notified by the IRS that you are subject to backup withholding. Additionally, the IRS may charge you a $50 penalty for failing to provide Citibank with your correct Name/TIN combination. In some cases, a state and local tax authority may also require that we apply state and local backup withholding on income paid to your account when we are required to apply Federal backup withholding.

Interest received by U.S. Persons will be reported on IRS Form 1099-INT for the year received, as required by applicable law. Interest paid to non-U.S. Persons will be reported on IRS Form 1042-S for the year received. If 1099 reporting is required, Citibank will issue a 1099 to the first titled owner on the account. For jointly owned accounts that include both a U.S. owner and a foreign owner, we will issue the 1099 to the U.S. owner.

<sup>3</sup> IRS Circular 230 Disclosure: Citibank, N.A. its affiliates, and its employees are not in the business of providing tax or legal advice to any taxpayer outside of Citibank, N.A. and its affiliates. This information is not intended or written to be used, and cannot be used or relied upon, by any such taxpayer for the purpose of avoiding tax penalties. Any such taxpayer should seek advice based on the taxpayer’s particular circumstances from an independent tax advisor

Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act.

In order for Citibank to be compliant with the provisions of The Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act (commonly known as “FATCA”), a U.S. federal tax law, Citibank may contact you to request additional information and/or documentation. Please understand that Citibank does not and will not in any way support any attempt by you to evade U.S. taxes or any request by you for help in avoiding detection under FATCA. Furthermore, since Citibank is not in the business of providing tax advice, you should not rely upon Citibank to determine the impact of FATCA on your own business activities or what your own compliance obligations are under FATCA. We encourage you to seek the advice of experienced tax advisors to determine what actions you need to take to become FATCA compliant. Your failure to comply with FATCA may result in restricted access or withholding of taxes from interest payments due to you.

Account Ownership.

Citibank Consumer Deposit Account ownership types include Individual and Joint accounts. A Citibank Consumer Deposit Account cannot be owned by a business, including a business owned by one or more individuals.

Individual Account An account owned by only one natural person.

Joint Account An account owned by more than one natural person in joint tenancy. If one owner dies, ownership of the account will automatically pass to the surviving joint owner(s). Unless you designate otherwise on your signature card, application, or other bank documentation, we will assume that personal accounts opened by two or more individuals are intended to be joint tenancy accounts with the right of survivorship. We can act on the instruction of any one or more of the Joint Account owners. In the event of conflicting instructions or a dispute among Joint Account owners, we may require all joint account owners to act together in giving us instructions or performing transactions. Any Joint Account owner may close a Joint Account.

Each Joint Account owner is jointly and severally responsible for all activity related to the Joint Account, including responsibility for paying overdrafts created by any authorized signer(s) or party to the account, regardless of whether the Joint Account owner participated in the transaction or benefited from its proceeds. We may be required by legal process to pay all the funds in a Joint Account to satisfy a judgment against any or all Joint Account owners.

Certain Deposit Accounts with Transactional Features.

If you have opened a deposit account on behalf of the beneficial owner(s) of the funds in the account (for example, as an agent, nominee, guardian, executor, custodian or funds held in some other capacity for the benefit of others), those beneficial owners may be eligible for FDIC “pass-through” insurance. This means the account may qualify for more than the standard deposit insurance amount. If the account has transactional features, you must be able to provide a record of the interests of the beneficial owner(s) in accordance with FDIC requirements in the format presented below. Additional information that describes the process to follow and the information you will need to provide to the FDIC in the event Citibank fails can be found on the FDIC’s website in a document entitled “Deposit Broker’s Processing Guide” in section “VIII. Part 370 Alternative Recordkeeping Entity Processing: Addendum to the Deposit Broker’s Processing Guide.”

In the event that Citibank fails, you agree to cooperate fully with us and the FDIC in connection with determining the insured status of funds in such accounts. This includes providing the FDIC with the information described above in the required format within 24 hours of bank failure. You understand and agree that your failure to provide the necessary data to the FDIC may result in a delay in your receipt of FDIC insured funds. Notwithstanding other provisions in this Agreement, this section survives after a receiver is appointed for us, and the FDIC is considered a third party beneficiary of this section.

Conflicting Demands/Disputes. If there is any uncertainty or conflicting demand regarding the ownership of an account or its funds; or we are unable to determine any person's authority to give us instructions; or we are requested by law enforcement or a state or local agency to freeze the account or reject a transaction due to the suspected financial abuse of an elder or dependent adult; or we believe a transaction may be fraudulent or may violate any law, we may, in our sole discretion: (1) freeze the account and refuse transactions until we receive written proof (in form and substance satisfactory to us) of each person's right and authority over the account and its funds; (2) refuse transactions and return checks, marked "Refer to Maker" (or similar language); (3) require the signatures of all authorized signers for the withdrawal of funds, the closing of an account, or any change in the account regardless of the number of authorized signers on the account; (4) request instructions from a court of competent jurisdiction at your expense regarding the account or transaction; and/or (5) continue to honor checks and other instructions given to us by persons who appear as authorized signers according to our records. The existence of the rights set forth above shall not impose an obligation on us to assert such rights or to deny a transaction.

Transferring Account Ownership.

OWNERSHIP OF CHECKING AND SAVINGS ACCOUNTS IS TRANSFERABLE ONLY WITH OUR WRITTEN PERMISSION AFTER YOU COMPLETE OUR APPROPRIATE FORMS AND, IN MOST CASES, WOULD REQUIRE THE ACCOUNT TO BE CLOSED AND RE-OPENED.

Assignments.

Most accounts can be assigned as collateral for a loan from us or another lender. Unless we agree in writing, any such assignment to another lender will remain subject and subordinate to our right of setoff. For the assignment to be effective, we must receive written notice of the assignment and agree to it in writing. We will then reflect the change on our records.

Restricted Access.

There are occasions when we restrict access to deposits, such as when your account application is being processed, when funds are assigned as collateral or when we are required by law to restrict access. If funds assigned as collateral are in interest-bearing accounts, they will continue to earn interest as usual. They may not, however, be used in connection with our Safety Check service.

4.2 Closing a Deposit Account

You may close your account at any time except as stated otherwise in this Agreement. We may allow one owner/signer to close an account without the consent or signature(s) of any other owner(s)/ signer(s).

We may close your account at any time with or without cause. We will notify you that we closed your account when required by law. If we close your account, we will remit the balance in your account, minus any amounts owed to us. If your account balance is insufficient to pay amounts owed to us, you will continue to be liable to us for the unpaid amount and interest. Your obligations for transaction activity conducted prior to account closure will survive the termination of the account and this Agreement.

Dormant Accounts.

Based on the applicable dormancy periods provided by state abandoned property statutes, we may be required to send to the appropriate state the balances in your deposit account when there has been no customer-initiated activity. Some examples of customer-initiated activity include, but are not limited to:

- Depositing or withdrawing funds;
- Sending a one-time payment; or
- Writing to us concerning the account.

In complying with these requirements, the laws of the state of your last known address (as recorded on our bank records) govern the inactivity period and specific requirements applicable to your account. If your address, as recorded on our bank records, is outside of the United States, South Dakota law will govern. We may also restrict your account if we determine it has been otherwise inactive due to no customer-initiated activity.

Forfeited Accounts. If your account is seized by or forfeited to the United States government or a state government, you no longer have title to the account, and the funds in the seized or forfeited account will no longer earn interest during such period of seizure or forfeiture, even if the funds are eventually returned to you.

Death or Legal Determination of Incompetence. You agree to notify us immediately of the death or court-ordered legal determination of incompetence of any owner or authorized signer on your account. We may disregard any notice of incompetence unless the person in question has been declared incompetent by a court of appropriate jurisdiction and we receive written notice and instructions from the court or court appointed fiduciary regarding the account. We also may freeze, offset, refuse and/or reverse deposits and transactions (e.g., governmental or retirement benefits payments payable to the deceased) if an owner dies or is legally determined incompetent.

In case of death or legally determined incompetence of an account owner, we will continue to honor checks written on that account as well as other withdrawal instructions until we are notified of the death or the legally determined incompetence. We may continue to honor checks for up to ten (10) days following the death of the account owner unless a validly appointed representative of the decedent or another account owner provides us with stop payment instructions.

Upon notification of death or legal determination of incompetence, we will block individual accounts; joint accounts may remain unblocked for up to thirty (30) days after we have been notified of an account owner's death. Certain documents must be presented to us before funds in such an account can be paid out and the account closed. For more information about which documents are required, please call the Citi Alliance Service Team. To reach the Citi Alliance Service Team, please call the phone number on the back of your Citibank Debit Card or contact your dedicated Citi Alliance Relationship Manager.

4.3 Other Account Information

Information Sharing. You agree to let us share information about you and your Account(s) as allowed by law. This includes information we get from you and others. Our privacy notice, which is enclosed with your new Account materials, describes reasons Citibank can share its customers' personal information.

Contacting You. You agree that we (and/or our servicing providers or anyone we authorize) may contact you at any phone number, email address, or mailing address you provide, or we obtain in other ways. This includes communications to mobile, cellular/wireless or similar devices. We may contact you by live operator, auto dialer, recorded or artificial voice, text or email. You agree to pay any charges from your plan provider for communications we send to you, as well as communications you send to us.

Your Consent for Us to Use Your Mobile Phone Number to Identify You. You authorize your wireless carrier to use or disclose information about your account and your wireless device, if available, to Citibank or its service provider for the duration of your business relationship, solely to help them identify you or your wireless device and to prevent fraud.

Separately, Citibank may obtain information about your mobile phone activity from third parties and may use this information for its other everyday business purposes. For more information, please refer to our U.S. Privacy Notice for Consumers.

Call Monitoring. We may monitor and record any calls between you and us.

Exemplar Signature. Citibank may use automated processes to capture a digital image of your signature on checks written on your account to retain as your on-file signature. This on-file signature will be kept in Citibank's records and may be used to determine the authenticity of your signature and whether subsequent checks or instructions on other items and documents are authorized by you.

5. Account Transactions

The following terms describe how you can perform transactions with your Citi Alliance Checking and Citi Alliance Savings accounts. It is your responsibility to confirm the accuracy of the amounts you deposit and withdraw from your Accounts.

5.1 Deposits

5.1.1 You can make deposits:

- To qualifying accounts linked to your Citibank Banking Card at any Proprietary Citibank ATM at participating locations in the U.S., 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Simply follow the directions on the ATM screen to insert your check or cash deposit in the appropriate slot. Some instruments such as some money orders or foreign checks cannot be accepted by the ATM terminal and must be deposited with a branch representative. When your transaction is completed, you will receive a transaction record via email or print (which ever option you select), that will provide an image of the check(s) or a breakdown of the cash accepted.
- With a teller, during regular banking hours, at any Citibank branch in the United States;
- By using our Deposit/Payment Express boxes which are located at select Citibank branch locations;
- By mail;
- By Mobile Check Deposit;
- By Direct Deposit;
- By Citibank® Global Transfer Service (where available);
- By an ACH or wire transfer; or
- By Inter Institution Transfer Service. For more information about these transfer services, please refer to section 6. Electronic Fund Transfers of this Agreement.

5.1.2 Timing of Deposits; Availability of Funds; Acceptance of Deposits

Deposits made in Citibank branches are posted to your Accounts on the same day. Deposits made at Proprietary Citibank ATMs or by Mobile Check Deposit after 10:30 Eastern Time are posted to your account on the following Business Day. Deposited funds may not be available for immediate withdrawal. For more information please refer to Appendix 2: Funds Availability at Citibank.

We may accept items payable to you, or to any of you, from any source without questioning the authority of the person making the deposit. We also may give cash back to any authorized account signer(s) or agent(s) in connection with items payable to any owner, whether or not the items have been endorsed by the owner. If you make a deposit or payment that is not accompanied by instructions indicating how or where it is to be credited, we may apply it at our discretion, to any loan or deposit account any of you maintain with us.

5.1.3 Remotely Created Checks

“Remotely Created Check(s)” means an item not bearing the drawer’s (your) actual signature, but purporting to be authorized by the drawer (you). You may not deposit remotely created checks to an account with us without our prior, express written consent. If you deposit remotely created checks with us, you agree that we may withhold a portion of the proceeds of such remotely created checks in a reserve account, in an amount that we reasonably believe may be needed to cover future charge backs, returned items, and/or claims that such remotely created checks were unauthorized. You grant us a security interest in the reserve account. Unless we agree otherwise in writing with you, reserve funds shall not bear interest. Our right to charge your account for returned remotely created checks will not be limited by the balance or existence of any reserve fund. Our rights with respect to the reserve fund, as well as the security interest granted to us, shall survive the termination of this Agreement. We may discontinue accepting remotely created checks at any time without cause or prior notice.

If you provide your account number to a third party with instructions to charge your account by means of one or more remotely created checks, you authorize us to pay such remotely created checks, even though they do not contain your signature and may exceed the amounts you authorized to be charged. This provision shall not obligate us to honor remotely created checks. We may refuse to honor remotely created checks without cause or prior notice, even if we have honored similar items previously.

5.1.4 Endorsements

To ensure that your check is processed without delay, you must endorse your check correctly by signing the back of the check. The area reserved for your signature is on the back of the check, within 1½ inches from the “top” edge (as shown in the picture below). Do not make any additional marks or notations on the back of the check.

You will be liable for unpaid checks returned late because your endorsement, a prior endorsement, or information you have printed on the back of the check obscures other endorsements.

We may endorse and/or collect items deposited to your account without your endorsement, but may require your personal endorsement prior to accepting an item for deposit.

5.1.5 Collection

5.1.5.1 Items Sent for Collection

We and other institutions may refuse to accept a check or other item for deposit or may accept it on a collection basis only. This often occurs with foreign, questionable or damaged items. If we accept an item for collection, we will send it to the institution upon which it is drawn, but will not credit your account for the amount until we receive the funds from the other institution. If we elect to credit your account before then, we may charge the amount back against your account if we do not receive payment for any reason. We may impose a fee in connection with sending and receiving items for collection (e.g., by charging your account or deducting the fee from the amount remitted). Other institutions that send or receive items for collection involving your account also may impose a fee for their services.

5.1.5.2 Verification and Collection

Any item that we cash or accept for deposit is subject to later verification and final payment. We may deduct funds from your account if an item is lost, stolen or destroyed in the collection process, if it is returned to us unpaid, or if it was improperly paid, even if you have already used the funds. Cash deposits are also subject to later verification.

5.1.6 ACH Credits

5.1.6.1 ACH Provisional Credits

Credit for an ACH transfer is provisional until final payment is received by the payee’s financial institution. Until that happens, the party originating the transfer is not deemed to have made payment to the beneficiary, and the payee’s bank is entitled to a refund of the provisional credit. If we give you provisional credit for an ACH transfer, but do not receive final payment, you become obligated to us for the full amount without prior notice or demand.

5.1.6.2 Notice of Incoming ACH Transfer (Credit)

Notice of your incoming funds transfers and incoming wire transfers will be deemed to have occurred when you receive your Account Statement, or another notice from us, containing a credit to your account for the funds received. You may also contact a branch during normal business hours to determine if a transfer has been credited to your account. This information is available to you anytime on the number on the back of your card, or on the Citi Mobile® App or Citi Online.

5.1.7 Reconstructing Lost, Missing, or Destroyed Deposits

When you cash or deposit a check or other item with us, we act as your agent to collect the item. You assume the risk of loss for deposited items that are lost, missing, or destroyed during the processing and collection of the item(s). We may reverse any credit given and any interest earned or accrued for such a deposited item, and we may recover the amount of any funds disbursed for any such cashed item from any account you maintain with us. You agree to cooperate fully with us to reconstruct such a deposited item by promptly:

- Providing us with a copy of the front and back of the deposited item from your or the issuer's records;
- Asking the issuer of the item to place a stop payment on it (at our expense) and to issue a replacement item to you (if the deposited item has not been paid); and
- Reviewing your records and other information to obtain the issuer's identity and any other information about the deposited item.
- If you fail to cooperate with us to reconstruct the deposit, we may adjust any credit made to your account for the deposited item.

5.1.8 General Information

5.1.8.1 Our Right to Refuse Deposits

We may, at our discretion, refuse to accept funds for deposit to your account for any reason. We will, to the extent practical, try to facilitate your transaction by the best means available, including sending the item for collection or forwarding the item to the appropriate processing area. Your account will not be credited until collection or processing is completed.

5.1.8.2 Account Balance and Transaction Information

You may view information about your Accounts on Citi Online, Citi Mobile®, at an ATM or by IVR, but the information provided through any of these means may not include recent transactions and may also include funds that are not available for immediate withdrawal. Your "Available Now" balance is the total amount you can use for withdrawals and transfer right now. The Available Now amount may be less than the On Deposit balance as it doesn't include the transactions that are still pending and haven't been posted to your Account. For example, recent incoming funds transfers from external banks may not be included in your Available Now balance. Your "On Deposit" balance reflects all transactions recorded in your Account as of the current day. The On Deposit balance may be greater than the Available Now balance because it's a record of your activity, including transactions that haven't settled and that aren't yet available for you to use.

We may make deposited funds available to you and include within your Available Now balance before the deposit has settled with the paying bank. If the deposited item is returned unpaid, we will debit your Account for the amount of the deposit. You may not rely upon oral statements by Citibank employees about your On Deposit balance, Available Now balance, or the status of any deposited item.

5.2 Withdrawals

5.2.1 How to Make a Withdrawal

Citibank Branches. You can withdraw up to your available balance by cashing a check or making a withdrawal at a Citibank branch. We may require you to present identification.

Proprietary Citibank ATMs and Network ATMs. You can use your Citibank Banking Card to withdraw cash from your eligible linked accounts at a Proprietary Citibank ATM and from primary linked accounts at a Network ATM. Depending on the terms of your account, there may be a Citibank transaction fee for cash withdrawals from a Network ATM other than those which you can use without incurring a surcharge as described in the following paragraph. In addition, the company that owns or operates the machine may charge you a fee for the withdrawal. For more information on ATM withdrawals, please refer to section 6. Electronic Fund Transfers of this Agreement.

You can withdraw cash, get information and make transfers between your eligible linked Citibank accounts with no surcharge fee when you use your Citibank Banking Card at ATMs in the U.S. located at Citibank branches, ATMs at select retail store locations, and ATMs participating in the MoneyPass® Network. ATMs in retail stores and at other non-Citi locations are not owned or operated by Citibank. Use the Citi Worldwide ATM/Branch Locator on Citi Online or the Citi Mobile® App to find the nearest ATMs and branches, including non-Citibank ATMs in the U.S. with surcharge free access.

Cash Withdrawals. Cash withdrawals or payments at any Citibank branch may be restricted due to the limited amount of currency on hand. If we do not have sufficient cash for a large withdrawal or payment, we may make arrangements for a later cash payment or offer to make payment with an Official Check. We assume no responsibility to provide personal protection for customers who elect to carry large sums of money off our premises.

Electronic Fund Transfer. You can utilize a variety of electronic fund transfer services to withdraw funds from your accounts. Please refer to section 6. Electronic Fund Transfers of this Agreement for details.

Writing a Check. You can write a check for any amount up to the Available Now balance (including any Checking Plus® or Safety Check availability) in your checking account or Savings account, provided your account offers a check-writing feature, by using one of the personalized checks you receive from us or one of the compliant checks that you have ordered elsewhere. Checks must be written in U.S. dollars.

5.2.2 Paying your Checks

Electronic Presentment of Checks. We may charge your account on the day that a check or other transaction is presented (or returned) to us directly or electronically for payment. We may charge your account or place a hold on funds at an earlier time if we receive notice that a check or other item deposited to your account is being returned, or if we receive notice that your check or electronic payment (e.g., at a point-of-sale) is being processed for collection.

Please note: Some merchants may obtain authorizations in advance for point-of-sale transactions in an amount greater than the final transaction amount. You agree that we may place a hold on sufficient funds to cover the amount of the authorized transaction, pending its final settlement through the system even if that amount exceeds the actual amount of the transaction. This could affect the balance available to cover other transactions.

Check Processing Cut-off Hour. In order to handle the large volume of checks processed each day, we may treat any check you have written that is presented for payment after 2:00 PM on a Business Day as if it were received on the next Business Day. Our cut-off hour with respect to any notice, knowledge, stop payment or post-dated check order, or legal process received by us involving a check we have received for payment is one hour after the opening of the Business Day following the Business Day on which we received the check. Our cut-off hour for check processing purposes with respect to our right of setoff is midnight of the Business Day following the Business Day on which we received the check, or such later time by which we must return the check.

Notations on Checks. We may ignore any legal copy appearing on your checks (such as “Void after 60 days”). Our decision to pay or not to pay a check is based on funds available in your account and other factors. It may not be affected by any subsequent deposits to your account.

Please Note: As checks you have written are presented to us for payment during the course of a Business Day, we may place a hold on available funds in your account for the amount of those checks resulting in a reduction in your available account balance throughout that day. The held funds may be applied against processing of those checks or other transactions later that day.

We process most checks by automated means based on information encoded on the checks. As such, we may not physically examine all checks to determine if they are properly signed or completed. You agree that we may rely on such a process and that it will be deemed an acceptable standard of care on our part.

Post-Dated Checks. You agree not to write post-dated checks. If you do, we may or may not pay the check on the day it is presented.

The following applies to you if the governing state law of your account is in a state other than New York: If you write a post-dated check on your account and intend that the check will not be paid by us until the date written on the check, you must notify us to register it at the time you write the check. In order for your registration notice to be effective, you must call the phone number on the back of your Citibank Banking Card and provide the number, payee, amount and date of the check. You may also send written notice of your post-dated check request to us at the address printed on your periodic statement. An oral or written request to register a post-dated check is good for six (6) months and may be renewed for additional six (6) month periods by giving written notice to us within the period during which the original notice is in effect. A post-dated check will be registered only if the notice is received at such a time and in such a manner as to afford us a reasonable opportunity to act on it before we take action with respect to the check. We may pay any post-dated check that has not been properly registered with us or not registered in a timely manner. If we re-credit your account after paying a postdated check over a valid and timely postdated check notice, you agree to transfer to us all of your related rights against the payee or other holder of the check, and to assist us in legal action taken against that person.

Stale-Dated Checks. You agree that we may pay or reject a check which is presented to us for payment more than six months after its date (a “stale-dated” check), even if the presentment occurs after the expiration of a stop payment order. We normally do not examine the date on checks presented for payment. You agree that we are not required to identify stale dated checks or to seek your permission to pay them. To make sure that a check will not be paid, you should place a stop payment order on the check.

5.2.3 Posting Order

Posting Order. We may accept, pay, certify, or charge to the appropriate account, Transaction Items in the order we choose. Even if we provisionally post Transaction Items to your account during the day, we may treat them as if we received all of them at the end of the day.

For purposes of the “Posting Order,” “Overdrawing Your Account,” “Insufficient Funds to pay a Transaction Item,” and “Overdraft Protection” sections of the Agreement, a “Transaction Item” includes in-person transfers or withdrawals, drafts, ACH transactions and transfers by other electronic means, account fees and charges, service charges, product, service or bank fees, checks, substitute checks, service charges, purported substitute checks, electronic items or transactions, drafts, remotely created checks, image replacement documents, indemnified copies, preauthorized payments, automatic transfers, telephone initiated transfers, online banking transfers or bill payment instructions, withdrawal slips, adjustments, and any other instruments or instructions for the payment, transfer or withdrawal of funds including an image or photocopy of any of these.

Generally, your deposits and withdrawals are processed as follows:

First: Deposits made before the cut-off time are added to your account balance.

Second: Fees for services we provide.

Third: Transactions received real-time during the day are deducted as they occur if there is a sufficient available balance in the account to pay for the transaction and any associated fee. Example: ATM, debit PIN or teller withdrawals including cashed checks; transfers or Citi Online bill payments initiated by you, debit card purchases at a merchant and most ACH debits that we receive throughout the day.

Fourth: Checks presented for payment and any ACH debit not deducted during the day are deducted from your remaining available balance in the order of lowest to highest dollar amount.

5.2.4 Overdrawing Your Account

Overdrawing Your Account. Citibank encourages its customer to consider the impact of overdrawing an account. Your deposit account with us is overdrawn if your Available Now balance is less than $0 (negative balance). You can minimize overdrawing your account by maintaining an Available Now balance in your account sufficient to cover your Transaction Items. An account may become overdrawn for a variety of reasons, including if you perform a transaction on your account that reduces your Available Now balance to less than $0.

In the event of insufficient funds to pay one or more Transaction Items from your Available Now balance, in our sole discretion we may return ("Returned Items") or pay ("Overdraft") one or more Transaction Items. We will not allow you to overdraw your account in certain circumstances. These may include certain activities, such as branch withdrawals, ATM transactions, and transactions using your Citibank® Debit Card. For certain other account activities, such as a check transaction or ACH payment, in our discretion, we may allow or deny a transaction that would cause an account to be overdrawn.

Insufficient Funds to pay a Transaction item. Our payment of any Transaction Item that creates an Overdraft in no way obligates us to continue that practice at a later time. We may discontinue paying Overdrafts without notice to you. Although Citibank does not charge fees for Returned Items and Overdrafts, you may be charged a fee by the merchant or other payee. A Return Deposit Item may occur whether or not your account is overdrawn and is not an overdraft fee or a Returned Item fee. You may be charged this fee when checks that you deposit into your account are returned by the paying bank for insufficient or uncollected funds.

Please be aware an entity that presents a Transaction Item for payment and is returned, may represent it for payment multiple times even if we have already returned it for insufficient funds. Each presentment may decrease your Available Now balance.

If your account balance is insufficient to pay your Transaction Item and we pay an Overdraft, you and all owners and beneficial owners of the account will continue to be liable to us for the unpaid amount and interest thereon until it is paid in full. Accounts with a zero or negative account balance may be closed. Your obligations for Transaction Items conducted by you will survive the termination of the account and this Agreement.

Overdraft Protection. Citibank offers two options designed to help you cover overdraft amounts in your checking account: Safety Check and Checking Plus® (variable rate) Line of Credit. Ask us for information which may include an application.

Safety Check. Safety Check covers overdraft amounts by transferring funds from your linked Savings account. The linked contributing account also covers the use of deposited funds that are not yet available in your checking account.

Contributing Accounts.

When you sign up for Safety Check, you may select one Citi Alliance Savings account as your "Contributing Account." Only Available Now balances in your Contributing Account can be used for Safety Check coverage.

When Safety Check is used to cover your use of funds in your checking account that are not yet available (uncollected), a like amount in your Contributing Account will be held until the deposited funds become available. The funds held in your Contributing Account are not transferred to the checking account and will continue to earn interest. Since no transfer of funds occurs, there is no transfer fee for use of this service in this circumstance.

Safety Check Transfers.

Safety Check transfers from your Contributing Account will be made in the amount needed to cover your overdraft amounts rounded up to the next $100 increment. We reserve the right to pay a Transaction Item and not to process a Safety Check Transfer.

Transfers. No more than $99,999.99 per statement period will be transferred from your Contributing Account to cover overdraft amounts or use of uncollected funds in your checking account.

Checking Plus® (variable rate) Line of Credit. Checking Plus is a revolving line of credit account linked to your Citibank checking account that provides overdraft protection and allows you to borrow the extra cash you need. Funds are automatically transferred from the Checking Plus line to the checking account to cover overdraft amounts; you can also withdraw cash at any time directly from your Checking Plus account without overdrawing your checking account (up to your available credit limit).

Checking Plus (variable rate) line of credit account terms and conditions are disclosed in a separate Agreement and Disclosure that you will receive at time of account application or shortly thereafter.

For all Checking Plus® and Checking Plus® (variable rate) Line of Credit customers. Please refer to your Checking Plus or Checking Plus (variable rate) Line of Credit Account Agreement and Disclosure, as applicable, for terms, conditions and fees relating to transfers from Checking Plus Line of Credit or Checking Plus (variable rate) Line of Credit Accounts.

5.2.5 Stop Payment Orders (Checks)

General. Any signer on the account can instruct us to stop payment on a check that has not been paid by issuing a stop payment order at a Citibank branch, through Citi Online or by calling CitiPhone Banking®. For information about stopping payment on an automatic withdrawal or payment from your account (ACH), please refer to section 6.3 Stop (Cancel) Payment Orders (Pre-authorized Recurring Fund Transfers) and section 6.4 Stop (Cancel) Payment Orders (One-time Future Dated ACH Transfers).

A stop payment order must be received in a time and manner that gives us a reasonable opportunity to act on it before paying, accepting, certifying, cashing or otherwise becoming obligated to pay the item. Payment cannot be stopped on a check that has already been paid or that is in the process of being paid. At the time that you place a stop payment order, we may not be able to tell you whether the check has been paid or is in the process of being paid. Under certain circumstances, the law may allow the party in possession of the check to enforce payment, despite the stop payment order. You agree to indemnify us against any claim or loss resulting from honoring your stop payment request.

When you place a stop payment on a check, a stop payment fee may apply. Please refer to Appendix 1: Fee Schedule.

When you place a stop payment order on a check and believe that the check may be converted to an electronic transaction (ACH), you should also place a second stop payment as an ACH. There is no fee for the second stop payment.

Contents of Stop Payment Order. You will need to accurately provide:

- Your account number;
- The date of the check;
- The check number;
- The exact amount (dollars and cents) of the check; and
- The payee's name.

We may use some or all of the information, in our sole discretion, to identify a check. If the information is not exactly correct, the stop payment may not be effective.

Effective Period of Stop Payment Order: Renewal. A stop payment order on a check will stay in effect for six (6) months from the date we accept the stop payment order, unless you instruct us to cancel it or to renew it, provided that we have not already returned the check. The order may be renewed for additional six (6) month periods.

Your instructions to remove or renew a stop payment order must be received in a time and manner that gives us a reasonable opportunity to act upon it.

Replacement Check. If you write a new check to replace one on which you have placed a stop payment order, be sure it has a different check number and date. It is also helpful if you write the word “replacement” on it so it is not mistaken for the original check.

Official Checks and Money Orders. You may not as a matter of right place a stop payment on an official check, money order, or international cheque. If such an instrument has been lost, stolen, or destroyed, you and/or the payee may, under certain circumstances, be allowed to place a stop payment by completing a “Stop Payment Request and Indemnity Agreement” form. We may require that you wait ninety (90) days before reissuing the check or reimbursing you. You may also be required to purchase a surety bond for twice the amount of the instrument.

5.2.6 Withdrawal Refusals

In some instances, we may refuse a request for a withdrawal or transfer from an account. The following list includes, but is not limited to, the most common reasons we might refuse such requests:

- If the funds you wish to withdraw are not yet available; (Please refer to Appendix 2: Funds Availability at Citibank).
- If we decide to require seven (7) days advance written notice and we have not received such notice;
- If there are insufficient funds in your account;
- If you use a type of check not acceptable to us;
- If the funds you wish to withdraw are being held to cover a checking account withdrawal under our Safety Check service;
- If the funds you wish to withdraw are being held due to cashing of a third party check against the account or for any other reason;
- If the withdrawal would consist of money owed to us;
- If the withdrawal you are requesting is of the type that is limited by federal regulations, and you have already reached the applicable limit;
- If, in the case of a joint account, any account signer gives us written instructions not to permit a withdrawal;
- If the account is pledged as collateral for a loan;
- If an account owner has died and we have not received all documents required to release funds in the account;
- If we have not received documents or identification required to permit access to the account, such as when the account is new and documentation remains missing;
- If we have been ordered by a court or other legal process not to permit the withdrawal;
- If you do not present us with appropriate identification or any other information that we may require;
- If we are aware of any dispute relating to the account or funds in the account;
- If we have some suspicion of fraud, irregularity, or illegality; or
- If we believe that the signature on a check or item drawn on your account and presented for payment does not appear similar to that appearing in our records.

Payment over Valid Stop Payment Order. If you believe that we have paid a check over a valid stop payment order, we may require you to provide us with evidence of our acceptance of a valid stop payment order and an affidavit describing in detail your loss resulting from the payment of the check; and, if applicable, further describing in detail your dispute with the payee. If we subsequently determine that you were indebted to the payee for the exact amount of the check or less, you agree that we will have the right to debit your account for the amount of the indebtedness. If your account has insufficient funds to cover the indebtedness we may also exercise our right of setoff.

5.2.7 Check Cashing

Your Own Checks. You can cash a check at any Citibank branch, for any amount up to the available balance with your Citibank Banking Card or other identification that is acceptable to us.

Third Party Checks. In certain instances we may allow you to cash a third party check (i.e., a check originally payable to another person) at a Citibank branch, up to the available balance in your account using your Citibank Banking Card as identification. If the check is payable to a party other than yourself, we may require that the other party's endorsement be verified or guaranteed before we accept the check. In any case, we may refuse to accept any third party check for encashment for any reason. If you routinely request that we cash third party checks we may require that you enter into a separate agreement with us for that purpose. If we do cash a third party check, a hold may be placed on your account for the amount of the check until the check clears. The amount of the check cashed may also reduce your daily balance or average daily balance for interest and/ or fee calculation purposes for up to the number of days it takes for us to collect the check.

Payee Check Cashing. When you write one of your checks to another person, that person, with proper identification, may be able to cash it at a designated Citibank branch up to the applicable limit which is currently $5,000. This limit may change from time to time without notice to you. We may charge a person who cashes your check a fee, or refuse to cash your check, if that person is not a deposit or loan customer of ours. Otherwise, the payee will be required to deposit the check to an account with us or elsewhere. For checks presented for encashment to a Citibank branch located in California or Nevada by a payee who does not bank with us, we may also require the payee to provide a fingerprint before cashing the check. If the payee refuses to provide a fingerprint, or, if a payee refuses to pay our check cashing fee, we may refuse to cash the check. You agree that our refusal to do so is reasonable and that we will not be liable to you for our refusal.

Check Cashing for Others. You should not use your account to cash checks for others who are not well known to you. Although we may make funds provisionally available to you and may take steps to determine whether a check will be paid, you are responsible for any loss that occurs if the check is returned to us for any reason (e.g., because it is counterfeit). Our employees cannot promise that checks drawn on or issued by other institutions, including cashier's checks or official checks, will be paid.

5.3 Other Information

5.3.1 Account Errors and Adjustments

We may make adjustments to your account whenever a correction or change is required. Adjustments might occur, for example, if a deposit amount is entered in an amount that is different than the actual amount of the deposit or items you deposit are returned unpaid. In the case of a deposit error where the deposit amount is entered in the wrong amount, we will either investigate the discrepancy and make an adjustment (debit or credit) to your account or alternatively, credit your account for the full amount of the discrepancy without investigation.

You have a responsibility to review your account statement in a timely manner and to notify us promptly of any errors. Within thirty (30) days after we send or make available to you your account statement and accompanying items, you must notify us in writing of any errors, discrepancies, or unauthorized transactions. If you fail to do so, we will not be liable for debits or charges to your account resulting from such errors, discrepancies or lack of authorization, or for losses resulting from subsequent related occurrences. For claims with respect to domestic wire transfers, please refer to section 7.1 Outgoing Wire Transfers or in the separate agreement you received when you enrolled in the service.

Note: There are exceptions to this 30 Day notice requirement. For claims asserting forged, missing, or unauthorized endorsements or a material alteration, you must notify us within the period specified by the state law applicable to your accounts.

Claims involving outgoing consumer international wires and outgoing international Citibank Global Transfers are governed by special notice provisions for remittance transfers described in section 7.2 Remittance Transfers within this Agreement and in the separate funds transfer agreement for these services. Claims involving electronic fund transfers covered by Regulation E (Subpart A) are also governed by special notice provisions described in section 6. Electronic Fund Transfers. Please refer to these sections for a description of your rights.

You also agree that any suit or demand for arbitration that you assert based on an account error, discrepancy, or unauthorized transaction must be brought within 1 year (2 years in Texas) after the date of the first account statement on which the error, discrepancy, or unauthorized transaction appears.

If you think an error has been made or if you need more information about a transaction, call the number on the back of your Citibank Banking Card. If your account is debited with a substitute check that you have received from us and you believe that there is an error or discrepancy or that the transaction is unauthorized, you are entitled to additional rights under the law. Please refer to section 5.3.2 Substitute Checks and Your Rights.

If funds to which you are not entitled are deposited into your account, we have the right to remove these funds from the account at any time without prior notice to you. If there are insufficient funds in the account, we may charge your other accounts to recoup the funds, as more fully explained in the “Right of Setoff” section of this Agreement.

5.3.2 Substitute Checks and Your Rights

What Is a Substitute Check? A substitute check is a paper reproduction created from a digital image of the front and back of the original check and bears the legend “This is a legal copy of your check.” You can use it the same way you would use the original check. Federal law allows banks to replace original checks with “substitute checks.” Under the law, a substitute check is the “legal equivalent” of the original check. In other words, it can be used in the same way and for all purposes for which you would use the original check.

Your Rights. The following rights apply if you receive a substitute check from us in lieu of the original check. These rights do not apply to original checks or to electronic debits. Your rights as to those transactions remain unchanged and are described in other sections of this Agreement. Please note these rights also do not apply to images of checks furnished to you or viewed through Citi Online.

In certain cases, federal law provides a special procedure that allows you to request a refund for losses you incur if you believe a substitute check is incorrectly posted to your account (for example, if you think your account was debited for the wrong amount) and production of the original check is needed to determine the validity of the debit. The losses you may attempt to recover may include the amount that was withdrawn from your account and fees that were charged as a result of the withdrawal (for example, overdraft check fees.) The amount of the refund you may request under this procedure is limited to the amount of your loss or the amount of the substitute check, whichever is less. You are also entitled to interest if your account is an interest-bearing account. If your loss exceeds the amount of the substitute check, you may be able to recover additional amounts under other laws.

Under federal law, you may receive up to $2,500 of your refund (plus interest if you have an interest bearing account) within ten (10) Business Days after we receive a complete claim from you and the remainder of your refund not later than forty-five (45) calendar days after we receive a complete claim from you. You will not be entitled to a refund if we determine that the substitute check was correctly posted to your account. Alternatively, we may reverse the refund (including any interest on the refund) if we later determine that the substitute check was correctly posted to your account.

Filing a Claim. If you believe a substitute check you have received from us was improperly debited to your account, please call the number indicated on the back of your Citibank Banking Card or in the Contact Us section of this Agreement. You must contact us within forty (40) calendar days of the date we mailed, or otherwise made available to you, the substitute check in question. We may extend the time period if you were prevented from contacting us for extenuating reasons. In certain situations, such as forgery claims, we may require that you put your claim in writing. If so, we must receive the information in writing within ten (10) Business Days from the day you first notified us of your claim.

If you are not able to contact us by telephone, you may also write to us at the following address: Citibank Client Services, P.O. Box 769014, San Antonio, TX 78245-9989.

In investigating your claim, we may request the following information from you:

- Description of how you suffered a loss;
- Amount of your loss;
- Explanation as to why the original check is needed to determine the validity of the amount charged to your account; and
- A copy of the substitute check and/or information to help us identify the substitute check (such as check number, the amount of the check and payee)

5.3.3 Foreign Currency Exchange

Citibank's World Wallet® service offers you the convenience of ordering foreign currency at competitive exchange rates quickly and easily. Foreign currency is available in more than 50 different currencies. You can order foreign currency simply by calling the Citi Alliance Service Team. For redemptions of foreign currency, your account will be credited in U.S. dollars, less any applicable service charges. This rate includes a commission to Citibank for the conversion service.

Limitation of Liability. We assume no responsibility and make no representation regarding (a) comparative exchange rates available from other sources, and (b) foreign laws relating to currencies, including, without limitation, the importation of currencies and laws affecting the free convertibility of local currencies.

6.1 General Information

We provide a variety of Electronic Fund Transfers services for use with your accounts. These services allow you to make or receive deposits, payments, and other transfers by electronic methods, such as with your Citibank Banking Card, by telephone, or by using Citi Online or the Citi Mobile® App. Some services are also subject to and further described in separate agreements that are provided to you when you enroll in that service.

Federal law governs certain types of consumer transactions that are described as electronic fund transfers. Common types of electronic fund transfers include: withdrawals, deposits, transfers and point of sale transactions utilizing your Citibank Banking Card, electronic direct deposits; payments utilizing our Bill Pay service; one-time transfers or payments you initiate by phone, online or via our mobile app; and transfers to or from your account utilizing our automated clearing house service, Inter-Institution service, Instant Payment Service and Zelle®. Electronic fund transfers are governed by the Electronic Fund Transfer Act and Regulation E Subpart A and you are entitled to certain rights and remedies for error resolution as described below.

Federal law also governs outgoing consumer international wire transfers and Citibank® Global Transfers as “remittance transfers”. Under Regulation E Subpart B, you are entitled to certain rights and remedies when initiating a remittance transfer which are described in section 7.2 Remittance Transfers as well as in the terms and conditions of the service you received when enrolling in these services.

General. Please note that each withdrawal, transfer, purchase and cash advance is limited by the amount available in your account or available to you via an overdraft protection program such as Checking Plus®, Checking Plus® (variable rate) line of credit or Safety Check. Some Network ATM operators may impose lower limits on cash withdrawals.

Limitations on Transfers and Withdrawals and Right to Suspend or Discontinue Services. At any time we may change the transfer and withdrawal limits that apply when you use an Access Device, and at any time we may suspend or discontinue operation of certain Electronic Fund Transfers services based upon security issues and other factors.

Termination of Electronic Fund Transfers Services.

If you wish to terminate any Electronic Fund Transfers services or no longer wish to use your Citibank Banking Card, call 1-888-CITIBANK or write us at P.O. Box 769004, San Antonio, TX 78245-9989.

Unauthorized Use of Access Device. If an unauthorized person has obtained access to your Citibank Banking Card, your PIN, your Citi Online User ID and password or your TAC, notify Citibank immediately. Your rights and obligations in the case of unauthorized use of any of your Access Devices are the same as for lost or stolen Citibank Banking Cards.

Our Responsibility to You When Providing Fund Transfer Services.

If we do not complete a transfer to or from your Account on time or in the correct amount according to our Agreement with you, we will be liable for your losses or damages. However, there are some exceptions. We will not be liable, for instance:

1. If, through no fault of ours, you do not have enough money in your account to make the transfer;
2. If the transfer would go over the credit limit on your overdraft line;
3. If the automated teller machine where you are making the transfer does not have enough cash and you continue to request the transfer when you know the ATM does not have sufficient cash;
4. If the automated teller machine or POS terminal was not working properly and you knew about the breakdown when you started the transfer;
5. If circumstances beyond our control (such as fire or flood or other conditions listed under “Limitation of Liability”) prevent the transfer, despite reasonable precautions that we have taken.

There may be other exceptions stated in our Agreement with you.

Your Responsibility to Us When Utilizing Funds Transfer Services.

This Agreement describes your rights and liability for errors involving unauthorized transactions or those in an incorrect amount to or from your Account. For further information about your rights under Regulation E, please refer to sections 6.4 Stop (Cancel) Payment Orders (One-time Future Dated ACH Transfers) and 6.6 Other Electronic Fund Transfer Errors: Notice and Error Resolution Procedures.

- For merchant disputes about quality of goods and services for transactions that are fully authorized and properly executed, you are responsible for resolving any disputes that you have with other persons to whom you send money to or request money from using a funds transfer service.
- You are responsible for keystroke or other errors such as inputting an incorrect account number or mobile phone number or email address associated with a person you send money to or request money from using a funds transfer service.

6.2.1 Citibank Banking Card

You can use your Citibank Banking Card for a variety of transactions as described below. Generally, you will receive your Citibank Banking Card when you open your account. If you do not select your Personal Identification Number (PIN) at account opening, you will receive a PIN in a separate mailing. Your PIN is required for all Citibank Banking Card transactions at Proprietary Citibank ATMs, at Network ATMs or for PIN-based POS purchase transactions. You agree to keep your PIN confidential. No bank employee knows your PIN or will ever ask for it. For your protection, we encourage you to periodically change your PIN. You can change your PIN at any time:

- At a Proprietary Citibank ATM;
- At any Citibank branch in the United States;
- On Citi Online or Citi Mobile®.

If you are unable to change your PIN, you may contact the phone number on the back of your Citibank Banking Card to request a PIN mailer. The sealed mailer contains a confidential, pre-set PIN that is systemically generated and mailed directly to you. When you receive the PIN mailer, you will need to call the phone number on the back of your Citibank Banking Card to activate the PIN.

The PIN you select must consist of four numbers and cannot begin with a zero. Many international ATMs do not have keys with both letters and numbers. If your PIN contains letters, please learn their corresponding numbers, as letters may not always be noted on the keys.

Renewal/Cancellation of your Citibank Banking Card. We will automatically send you a new Citibank Banking Card before your current card expires. When you receive your new card, you will need to activate the card by following the instructions enclosed with the card. You will need to sign your new card and destroy your old card.

Please note that the Citibank Banking Card we issue you is and remains the property of Citibank. We have the right to take possession of it, to demand its return, and to cancel it at any time. You may also cancel your Citibank Banking Card at any time and for any reason. To do so, cut your card in half and notify us by contacting the Citi Alliance Service Team. To reach the Citi Alliance Service Team, please call the phone number on the back of your Citibank Debit Card or contact your dedicated Citi Alliance Relationship Manager. You agree to return the Citibank Banking Card to us upon request.

You may be assessed fees for using non-Citibank ATMs at locations — please refer to Appendix 1: Fee Schedule. When you use a Network ATM other than at a location within our surcharge-free network, you may be charged a fee by the ATM operator or any network used and you may be charged a fee for a balance inquiry even if you do not complete a transaction. As a Citi Alliance client, you will be reimbursed for these fees.

ATM Security Tips

We want you to be safe when you use any ATM or Debit card. You can help prevent unauthorized access to your accounts by following these simple steps:

- Treat your Citibank Banking Card and other types of devices used to access your accounts like cash. Do not leave them where others can find them. Do not give them to anyone to hold as “security” for any reason and do not use them to show another customer how an ATM works.
- Keep your Personal Identification Number (PIN), Telephone Access Code (TAC) and other codes used to access your accounts secret. Do not tell them to anyone. Do not write them on your Citibank Banking Card or keep them in your wallet or purse.
- Change your PIN periodically.
- Review your account statements regularly and let us know right away of any discrepancies.
- Always be alert and aware of your surroundings when using ATMs, particularly later than a half hour after sunset.
- Consider having someone accompany you when using an ATM later than a half hour after sunset.
- Immediately report crimes and suspicious activity at ATM locations to local law enforcement officials as well as to the owners/operators of the ATMs.

Please address any questions or complaints concerning security at Proprietary Citibank ATMs at the number on the back of your Citibank Banking Card. For emergency assistance at any U.S. Citibank or U.S. Network ATM, please call 911.

Please refer to the Citi Alliance Monthly Service Fee and Non-Citi ATM Fee Chart on page 5. For fees imposed when withdrawing cash from your linked Citibank credit accounts (including credit cards), refer to your applicable customer agreement for the credit account.

ATM Withdrawal Posting Cut-Off Times. For purposes of determining the Business Day for posting of cash withdrawals from Proprietary Citibank ATMs, withdrawals made after 10:30 PM Eastern Time (9:30 PM Central Time) or on non-Business Days will post to your account on the following Business Day.

Point-of-Sale (POS) Transactions.

“PIN Based” Transactions. You can use your Citibank Banking Card to purchase goods or services from merchant locations in the United States accepting Interlink®, Maestro® or Cirrus® by authorizing these transactions using your PIN.

Please note, “Direct Bill Payment” transactions set up with merchants may be processed as “PIN-Based” transactions, even though they may not require a PIN.

“Signature-Based” Transactions. You can also use your card to purchase goods or services and/or receive cash from locations that accept MasterCard® or Interlink. These transactions are those for which you do not use your PIN and either you or a merchant designates as a “credit” transaction (including purchases you sign for, small dollar purchases that do not require a signature), Internet, phone and mail-order transactions.

All POS transactions made with your Citibank Banking Card are deducted from your primary linked checking account.

Authorizations. When you use your Citibank Banking Card for a POS transaction, certain merchants may ask us to authorize the transaction in advance and may estimate its final value. When we authorize the transaction, we commit to make the requested funds available when the transaction finally settles and may place a temporary hold on your account for the amount indicated by the merchant. Until the transaction finally settles or until we determine that it is unlikely to be processed, the funds subject to the hold will not be available to you for other purposes. We will only charge your account for the correct amount of the final transaction, however, and we will release any excess amount when the transaction finally settles.

Citibank Banking Card Transaction Limits

Limits may apply on a per account per Business Day basis or on a per Citibank Banking Card, per Business Day basis. The stated limits apply regardless of the number of signers on an account or Citibank Banking Card. The number of cards issued to a Citi Alliance account customer does not affect the maximum withdrawal limit per account.

We reserve the right to change limits or to suspend or discontinue operation of certain Electronic Fund Transfers services at any time based on security or other factors. We also reserve the right to set a lower dollar limit for POS transactions occurring during a disruption of the electronic connection between a merchant and Citibank.

Transactions Made Outside of the United States and its Territories. We will apply a foreign exchange fee equal to 3% of the transaction amount (including credit and reversals) for each international debit card purchase or ATM withdrawal transaction (including those at Proprietary Citibank ATMs) made in a currency other than U.S. Dollars when the transaction is conducted outside the 50 United States and its territories. Fee is waived for Citi Alliance accounts.

Transactions done in foreign currency. Transactions made in foreign currency will be converted into U.S. dollars according to the current policies of the merchant, network or card association that processes the transaction:

- Transactions processed by Citibank are converted into a U.S. dollar amount using Citibank’s procedures in effect at the time the transaction is processed. Currently, the currency conversion rate used to determine the transaction amount in U.S. dollars is based on either (1) a wholesale market rate or (2) a government-mandated rate in effect one day prior to the processing date. Transaction types currently processed by Citibank include ATM withdrawals made at many Proprietary Citibank ATMs outside the United States or Puerto Rico.

- Transactions processed by MasterCard® currently use a conversion rate that is either: (a) selected from a range of rates available in the wholesale currency markets on the processing date (Note: this rate may be different from the rate that MasterCard® receives), or (b) the government-mandated rate. Transaction types currently processed by MasterCard® include Signature-based POS transactions and ATM withdrawals (including those at certain Proprietary Citibank ATMs). Please note that PIN-based POS transactions cannot be made at international locations. Citibank® Debit Cards can still be used to make Signature-based POS purchases.

The currency conversion rate in effect on the processing date may differ from the rate in effect on the transaction date or the posting date.

You may place a stop payment on (cancel) pre-authorized recurring transfers from your Account through Citi Online or by calling the Citi Alliance Service Team. To reach the Citi Alliance Service Team, please call the phone number on the back of your Citibank Debit Card or contact your dedicated Citi Alliance Relationship Manager. ## Tips to keep your accounts and information safe

- Be on the lookout for scammers who try to impersonate Citi Employees.
Remember, Citi will never call and ask you to share your password, username or one-time passcode.
- Don't share personal information with someone you don't know.
Be suspicious of unexpected phone calls, texts or emails that ask you for personal information such as credit card numbers or passwords. Hang up and call or chat directly with Citi customer support.
- Be suspicious of false urgency.
Scammers often try to convince you that a situation is urgent and you have to act now.
- Watch out for fake Citi SMS texts.
Citi may email, text or call you if we detect unusual account activity, but we will never send you an SMS text from a 10-digit phone number or SMS text from an email address.
- Be wary of requests to transfer money to yourself.
Request to transfer money to yourself may actually result in money being transferred to a fraudster's account.
- Use only Citi-owned contact methods.
When conducting business with Citi, use Citibank Online, the Citi Mobile® app or reach out to customer support via the number on your account statement or on the back of your card.

For more information on how to protect yourself from scammers, visit www.citi.com/fraudprevention.

If you place a stop payment on recurring transactions from the same originator (payee), we may require that you confirm, in writing or orally, that you have previously revoked your authorization with the originator (payee). If you fail to provide us with such confirmation, the bank may debit your account for subsequent transactions initiated by that originator (payee).

Contents of Stop Payment Order. You will need to accurately provide:

- Your account number;
- The date of the scheduled transfer;
- The exact amount (dollars and cents); and
- The payee's name.

Please note: If the information is not exactly correct, we may not be able to identify the transaction and a stop payment may not be effective.

Effective Period of Stop Payment Order. A stop payment order on an ACH transaction is permanent. For recurring transactions, this means that your stop payment order will be effective as to subsequent withdrawals/ payments initiated by that originator (payee) unless you contact the bank and request that the stop payment order be removed.

Checks converted to electronic transactions. If you believe a check you have written has been converted to an ACH transfer and you would like to place a stop payment you should place a stop payment on both the check and also the ACH transfer. Please contact us by calling the phone number on the back of your Citibank Banking Card and inform us that you have a check that you believe was converted to an electronic transaction for which you would like to stop payment.

6.4 Stop (Cancel) Payment Orders (One-time Future Dated ACH Transfers)

You may request that we stop payment (cancel) on a one-time future-dated ACH transfer originated by Citi from your Account provided we receive your stop payment instruction by 11:59 PM Eastern Time on the day prior to the scheduled payment date. Payment cannot be stopped on a transfer that has already been paid or that is in the process of being paid. You will need to accurately provide us with a description of the following: your account number; the date of the scheduled transfer; the exact amount (dollar amount and cents) of the transfer; and the name of the payee. If you do not provide us with accurate information and we are unable to identify the transaction, the stop payment may not be effective.

Please Note: We will not be able to place a stop payment on a one-time future dated ACH debit transfer that is originated by an external payee and received by Citi. You will need to contact your payee to notify them that you have revoked your authorization for the transfer.

6.5 Unauthorized Transactions: Notice and Error Resolution Procedures

Notice and Error Resolution Procedures for Lost or Stolen Citibank Banking Cards or Other Access Devices and Unauthorized Electronic Transactions.

If any of your Access Devices are lost or stolen, it is your responsibility to notify us immediately. Please call the number on the back of your Citibank Banking Card.

Please remember that your Citibank Banking Card and all of your Access Devices are valuable, and it is important for you to exercise care with them. To protect your personal and account information, be sure to keep your PIN and other Access Devices secure. As a general practice, we recommend that you periodically change your PIN.

Tell us at once if you believe any of your Access Devices, including but not limited to your Citibank Banking Card, has been lost or stolen, or if you believe that an electronic fund transfer has been made without your permission using information from your check. Telephoning is the best way of keeping your possible losses down. You could lose all the money in your account (plus your maximum overdraft line of credit). Call CitiPhone Banking® at 1-888-CITIBANK or use the number located in the Contact Us section of this Agreement. For TTY: We accept 711 or other Relay Service. Customer service representatives are available to assist you 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. If you tell us within two (2) Business Days after you learn of the loss or theft of your Access Device, you can lose no more than $50 if someone uses your Access Device without your permission, subject to zero liability protection.

If you do NOT notify us within two (2) Business Days after you learn of the loss or theft of your Access Device, and we can prove we could have stopped someone from using your Access Device without your permission if you had told us, you could lose as much as $500, subject to zero liability protection.

Also, if your statement shows transfers that you did not make, including those made by card, code or other means, notify us at once. If you do not notify us within sixty (60) days after the statement was mailed to you, you may not get back any money you lost after the sixty (60) days if we can prove that we could have stopped someone from taking the money if you had informed us in time. If a good reason (such as a long trip or a hospital stay) kept you from notifying us, we will extend the time periods.

The following additional terms are applicable if the governing state law of your account is that of one of the states listed below:

California. Within this section, the paragraph above describing liability up to $500 shall not apply.

New York. Within this section, your liability for the unauthorized use of your Citibank Banking Card shall not exceed $50.

Citibank® Banking Card Zero Liability Protection. If your Citibank Banking Card is used in conjunction with an unauthorized transaction your liability for unauthorized use as described above, will not exceed:

- i. $0
  - If you report the loss or theft of your card promptly upon discovery of such loss or theft;
  - and you exercised reasonable care in safeguarding your card from the risk of loss or theft;
  - and the account to which transactions initiated with your card were posted is in good condition; or
- ii. The lesser of $50 or the amount of money, property, labor or services obtained by the unauthorized user before notification to the bank if all conditions listed in section (i) above have not been met.

Contact in Event of Unauthorized Transfer. If you believe your Access Device has been lost or stolen call: CitiPhone Banking® at 1-888-CITIBANK or write: Citibank Client Services, P.O. Box 769004, San Antonio, Texas 78245-9989. You should also call the number or write to the address listed above if you believe a transfer has been made using the information from your check without your permission.

6.6 Other Electronic Fund Transfer Errors: Notice and Error Resolution Procedures

Error Resolution and Notice Procedures for other types of Electronic Fund Transfer Errors.

If your statement or transaction record is wrong or if you need more information about a transfer listed on your statement or record, contact us as soon as possible by calling us at 1-888-Citibank or by writing to us at Client Research, Citibank Client Services, P.O. Box 769014, San Antonio, Texas 78245-9014.

NOTE: If the error concerns an ATM network transaction, be sure to contact Citibank not the financial institution that operates the machine. We need to hear from you no later than sixty (60) days after we sent the FIRST statement on which the problem or error appeared.

1. Notify us of your name and account number (if any)
2. Describe the error or the transfer you are unsure about, and explain as clearly as you can why you believe it is an error or why you need more information
3. Notify us of the dollar amount of the suspected error.

If you tell us orally, we may require that you send us your complaint or question in writing within ten (10) Business Days. We will determine whether an error occurred within ten (10) Business Days after we hear from you and will correct any error promptly. If we need more time, however, we may take up to forty-five (45) days to investigate your complaint or question. If we decide to do this, we will provisionally credit your account within ten (10) Business Days for the amount you think is in error, so that you will have the use of the money during the time it takes us to complete our investigation. For new accounts (where the notice of error involves an electronic funds transfer to or from your account, that occurred within thirty (30) days after the first deposit to the account was made), we can take up to twenty (20) Business Days to determine whether an error occurred and up to twenty (20) days to provisionally credit your account for the amount you think is in error. If we need more time, however, we may take up to ninety (90) days to investigate your complaint or question. For errors involving point-of-sale or foreign-initiated transactions, we may also take up to ninety (90) days to investigate your complaint or question.

If we ask you to put your complaint or question in writing and we do not receive it within ten (10) Business Days, we may not provisionally credit your account.

In any case, we will tell you the results of our investigation within three (3) Business Days after completing our investigation. If we decide that there was no error, we will send you a written explanation. You may ask for copies of the documents that we used in our investigation.

Credit for an Electronic Fund Transfer is provisional until the Error Resolution process is complete. If we give you provisional credit, you have full use of the funds while we investigate your claim. This provisional credit is conditional and will either be made permanent or removed, depending on the outcome of our investigation. If we determine you are responsible for part or all of the Electronic Funds Transfer, you become obligated to us for that amount.

7. Other Fund Transfer Services

7.1 Outgoing Wire Transfers

The following terms apply to any wire transfer requests we receive to transfer funds from your account to an account maintained at another institution. In addition to the information provided here, please refer to the separate funds transfer agreement governing the terms of service for transfers made using Citi Online or the Citi Mobile App. Please note that outgoing international transfers from a consumer account are also governed by special provisions regarding disclosures you receive and error resolution rights as more fully described in section 7.2 Remittance Transfers of this Agreement. Before utilizing our wire transfer services, please read the following important tips for wire transfer safety.

General Tips for Wire Transfer Safety.

Wire transfers are a fast way to send money to individuals and businesses. However, because they are fast and final they can also be a target for fraud. According to the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the incidents of wire transfer scams have increased significantly. Common scams include: phishing (attempts to obtain sensitive information such as account details by posing as a reputable company via email, text, or phone); family emergency (receipt of a message from a friend or family member claiming to be in need of money for an emergency); and IRS Impostors (fake IRS tax notices or individuals impersonating as IRS agents claiming you owe taxes). For additional recent and common scams, please visit the Federal Trade Commission web site at <https://www.consumer.ftc.gov/features/scam-alerts>.

Your financial security is important to us. We encourage you to take the following steps to reduce your risk of fraud when sending wire transfers:

- Know Who You are Dealing With — Do not send funds to an individual or business you don't know personally.
- Verify your Wire Transfer Instruction — Check the information you include on a wire transfer instruction to verify the information is correct.
- Verify the legitimacy of what you are paying for — Independently confirm (whether in-person or through a trusted third-party) the legitimacy of what you are paying for.
- Be Cautious of any Recipient Claiming Urgency — Don't be rushed into initiating a transfer to anyone claiming an urgent deadline.

If you believe you may have been a victim of a wire transfer scam, time is of the essence. Please contact Citibank immediately so that we can attempt to contact the corresponding financial institution that may have received the fraudulent wire transfer.

Debit Authorization. When we receive a funds transfer request, you authorize us to debit your account for the amount of the transfer and you also authorize us to charge your account any applicable service fees in accordance with the fee schedule in effect at the time of your request.

Reliance by Citibank. Citibank will rely on the information you provide in making a funds transfer on your behalf. It is your responsibility to provide Citibank® with accurate information regarding that transfer, including the account number of the beneficiary of the funds transfer and where applicable, the number (such as "BIC" or "SORT") identifying the beneficiary institution; payment will be processed based on the number(s) provided by you. Should you provide an incorrect account number and/or beneficiary institution identifier, you understand that any losses resulting from the funds being credited to the wrong account will be your responsibility. For international transfers, you may be required at the time you initiate the request to provide Citibank with information regarding the currency in which the beneficiary account is maintained. You understand and acknowledge that Citibank will rely on this information in executing your request.

Security Procedures. When we receive a request for a funds transfer, we will follow a security procedure established for your protection and ours to verify that the transfer has been properly authorized. This procedure depends on the means by which a funds transfer request is received and may entail a telephone call, email, text or other form of communication. You understand that the security procedure is designed only to verify the source of the funds transfer instruction and not to detect errors in the content of that instruction or to prevent duplicate transfers. You agree to our use of the applicable security procedure and agree to be bound by any funds transfer request that Citibank receives and verifies in accordance with the security procedure outlined above. You also understand that the security procedure is not designed to determine whether your funds transfer request is appropriate for you.

Transfer to a Beneficiary Bank. When you request a funds transfer, you must select a financial institution to receive it. For funds transfers within the U.S., the beneficiary bank must be a member of the Federal Reserve System, a correspondent bank of such a member, or a Clearing House Interbank Payment System (CHIPS) member. You may request that the funds either be deposited into a particular account at the beneficiary bank or be held at the beneficiary bank for your beneficiary. The beneficiary bank is responsible for notifying the beneficiary that the funds are available. After the funds are transferred to the beneficiary bank, they become the property of the beneficiary bank. The beneficiary bank is responsible to locate, identify, and make payment to your beneficiary. You understand that payment may be made by the beneficiary bank on the basis of an identifying or bank account number even if it identifies a person different from the named beneficiary. If the beneficiary cannot be located, the funds may be returned. Except as may be prohibited by federal law, any losses resulting from an incorrect account number or other misidentification of your beneficiary provided by you are your responsibility and not Citibank's.

Currency of Transfer. Funds Transfers to beneficiaries within the United States are made only in U.S. dollars. For international transfers, Citibank may ask you to indicate the currency in which the beneficiary account is held. If you indicate that the account is held in U.S. dollars, your transfer must be made in U.S. dollars. If you indicate that the account is held in foreign currency (either the local currency of the country where the account is maintained or another foreign currency offered by Citibank) Citibank will send the transfer in that foreign currency unless the transfer in foreign currency is prohibited by local restrictions of the destination country. If you indicate you do not know the currency in which the beneficiary account is held, you can choose to send the transfer in U.S. dollars or in one of the foreign currency options provided by Citibank at the time of the transfer request. You understand that Citibank has the right to rely on your statement as to the currency of the beneficiary account and that it will not be responsible for any error in the information it provides you concerning the applicable exchange rate and the amount of funds to be received by the beneficiary should your statement be incorrect and a currency conversion occurs after Citibank sends your transfer. For transfers in foreign currency, Citibank will convert your U.S. dollar payment to the foreign currency selected by you at Citibank's exchange rate in effect at that time for similar transactions. The exchange rate includes a commission to Citibank for exchanging the currency. Information regarding the applicable exchange rate will be provided to you at the time you initiate the transfer request. In addition, in the case of transfers into your account which are sent in foreign currencies, we will convert the funds into U.S. dollars at our current conversion rate. Our conversion rate for both outgoing and incoming foreign fund transfers includes a commission for the conversion service.

Delays or Non-Execution of Funds Transfers. We will not be liable for any delay or failure to execute your funds transfer request or delay in making the funds available to the beneficiary due to circumstances beyond the control of Citibank or any intermediary or beneficiary bank handling the transfer including, without limitation, any inaccuracy, interruption, delay in transmission, or failure in the means of transmission of your funds transfer request or execution of such request by the bank, whether caused by strikes, power failures, equipment malfunctions, or delays caused by one or more of the institution's fraud screening procedures or compliance procedures for anti-money laundering, economic sanctions or similar laws. You further agree that we may refuse to process or delay processing any request if it would violate any guideline, rule, policy, or regulation of any government authority or funds transfer system.

Rejection of a Funds Transfer Request. We reserve the right to reject your funds transfer request without cause or prior notice. We may reject your request if the dollar value of one or more of your transfer requests exceed your daily transfer limit, if you have insufficient available funds in your account for the amount of the funds transfer and applicable fee, if the information you provide in connection with that transfer is incomplete or unclear, if we are unable to confirm the identity or authority of the person providing the request, or if we are unable to fulfill your request for any other reason. For international transfers you understand we are required by U.S. regulations to provide you with certain information about your transfer request and if we are unable to provide you with that information at the time of your transfer request for any reason, we will need to reject your request. If we reject a request for a funds transfer, you will be notified of the rejection at the time of your request or as soon thereafter as we determine to reject the transfer request.

Cancellation/Amendment of Domestic Funds Transfer Request.

You may cancel or amend a funds transfer request (including a consumer international transfer not cancelled or amended in accordance with the special rules described in the section 7.2 Remittance Transfers) only if we receive your request prior to the execution of the funds transfer request and at a time that provides us with a reasonable opportunity to act upon that request. If your funds transfer request has already been executed by Citibank, you understand and agree that the request to cancel or amend the funds transfer will be effective with the voluntary consent of Citibank and the beneficiary bank. Citibank will first have to check with the beneficiary bank to determine whether or not the beneficiary bank will return your funds. If the beneficiary bank confirms that the funds are returnable and the funds are returned to Citibank, Citibank will return the funds to you. The amount that is returned to you may be less than you originally transferred because of service charges of the beneficiary bank and/or Citibank. Your returned funds will be in U.S. dollars. If your funds transfer was in foreign currency, your returned funds will be in U.S. dollars at the exchange rate established by Citibank on the date of return. Citibank shall not be liable to you for any loss resulting from the failure of the beneficiary bank to accept a cancellation or amendment of your funds transfer request.

Please note: If your transfer is returned by the beneficiary bank to Citibank, an amendment request cannot be accepted and as a result, the funds will automatically be credited back to your account less any applicable service charges. If your transfer was in foreign currency, Citibank will convert your returned funds in U.S. dollars to the foreign currency selected by you at Citibank's exchange rate in effect at that time for similar transactions.

Applicable to claims or questions with respect to Domestic Wire Transfers. You have the responsibility to let us know of any error, delay or other problem with your funds transfer within thirty (30) days from the date you receive notification that we have transferred the funds. In the event that your transfer was delayed or erroneously executed as a result of erroneous information you provided, you understand that you may be responsible for the amount of that transfer and any associated fees. If your transfer was delayed or erroneously executed as a result of Citibank's error, Citibank's sole obligation to you is to pay or refund such amounts as may be required under the Uniform Commercial Code Article 4A or by other applicable law. Any claim for interest payable by us shall be at our published savings account rate in effect within the state of the home financial center of the account from which the funds transfer was made.

Limitation of Liability. Citibank shall not be responsible for any incidental or consequential damages or expenses arising in connection with your funds transfer.

Applicable to claims or questions with respect to Consumer International Transfers. Please refer to section 7.2 Remittance Transfers for a description of your error resolution rights.

7.2 Remittance Transfers

Remittance transfers are outgoing international wire transfers or international Citibank Global Transfers initiated from a consumer account in the U.S. to a beneficiary outside the U.S. and its territories. When you send a remittance transfer, you will be provided with a disclosure describing your transaction details and are an explanation regarding additional rights you are entitled to under federal regulation. The following summarizes your right to cancel/amend your remittance transfer request as well as your right to assert a claim or make an inquiry regarding your remittance transfer:

Cancellation/Amendment of Remittance Transfer Request. Remittance transfer requests may be cancelled for a full refund or amended provided you cancel or amend your request within thirty (30) minutes of our receipt of your authorizing payment for the transfer unless the funds have been picked up or deposited. If you request a cancellation or amendment after this thirty (30) minute period, the provisions under the paragraph “Cancellation/Amendment of Domestic Funds Transfer Request” will apply.

To cancel a Consumer International Citibank Global Transfer, please call 1-866-515-1725 (TTY: We accept 711 or other Relay Service), sign into Citi Online or the Citi Mobile App. When cancelling by phone, you will need to provide us with information to help identify the funds transfer you wish to cancel, including the amount and location where the funds were to be sent. Any refund will be made no later than three business days of your request to cancel.

To cancel a Consumer International Wire Transfer, please call 1-888-606-9716 (TTY: We accept 711 or other Relay Service) and for Citi Online initiated wire transfers, you can cancel online. When cancelling by phone, you will need to provide us with information to help us identify the funds transfer you wish to cancel, including the amount and location where the funds were to be sent. Any refund will be made no later than three business days of your request to cancel.

Error Resolution Procedures: Remittance Transfers.

If you think there has been an error or you need more information about your transfer, you must contact Citibank (International Global Transfer: 1-866-515-1725 (TTY: We accept 711 or other Relay Service); International Wire Transfer: 1-888-606-9716 (TTY: We accept 711 or other Relay Service) or write to Client Research, Citibank Client Services, P.O. Box 769014, San Antonio, TX 78245-9014) within one hundred and eighty (180) days of the date indicated by Citibank that the funds would be available to the beneficiary of that transfer. At that time, you may be asked to provide the following information: 1) your name, address, and account number; 2) the name of the person receiving the funds, and if you know it, his or her telephone number or address; 3) the dollar amount of the transfer; 4) the reference code for the transfer; and 5) a description of the error or why you need additional information. We may also ask you to select a choice of remedy (credit to your account in an amount necessary to resolve the error or alternatively, a resend of the transfer for those cases where bank error is found). Citibank will determine whether an error has occurred within ninety (90) days after you contact the bank.

If Citibank determines that an error has occurred, we will promptly correct that error in accordance with the remedy option(s) available to you. In all cases, we will provide you with a written explanation of the results of our investigation. You may also ask for copies of the documents we used in our investigation.

8.1 Legal Process

Regardless of where or how we are served, we may comply with any state or federal legal process, including, without limitation, any writ of attachment, adverse claim, execution, garnishment, tax levy, restraining order, subpoena or warrant relating to you or your account which we believe to be valid. You agree that we may honor legal process that is served personally, by mail, or by facsimile transmission at any of our offices (including locations other than where the funds, records or property sought is held), even if the law requires personal delivery at the office where your account or records are maintained. You agree that we will have no liability to you for honoring any such legal process. You also agree that we will have no obligation to assert on your behalf any applicable exemptions to execution or attachment under any applicable state or federal law. We will also have and may enforce a right of setoff and security interest against any of your accounts in order to reimburse us for our fees and expenses, including attorneys' fees, court costs and expenses, in complying with legal process.

We may comply with process we deem appropriate even if it appears to affect the interest of only one owner of a joint account. We may refuse to permit withdrawals or transfers from your account until such legal process is satisfied or dismissed even if such action results in insufficient funds to pay a check you have written or otherwise satisfy an obligation you may have incurred.

Accounts opened with trust or fiduciary designations (e.g., "XYZ, Inc. client trust account") may be subject to legal process unless our records contain an express written trust or court order that provides otherwise.

Upon receipt of any legal process, you will be liable to us for our processing fee, and reimbursement for our record research, reproduction and handling costs. We may deduct such fee, as well as any expenses, including, without limitation, attorneys' fees in connection with any such document or legal process, from your account or any other account you may have with us without prior notice to you, or we may bill you directly for such expenses and fees.

You agree to release and indemnify, defend and hold us harmless from all actions, claims, liabilities, losses, costs and damages including, without limitation, attorneys' fees, associated with our compliance with any legal process we believe to be valid

When we receive an order instructing us to restrict access to funds in an account, we may remove the funds from the account and maintain them separately. These funds will not earn interest and will not be considered as part of your combined balances when we determine account fees and rates.

8.2 Security Interest

You grant us a security interest in your account for amounts owing to us under this Agreement by any owner.

8.3 Right of Setoff

Subject to applicable law, we may exercise our right of setoff against any or all of your accounts (except IRA, money purchase plan or profit sharing plan, and certain trust accounts) without notice, for any liability or debt of any owner or beneficial owner, whether joint or individual, direct or contingent, now or hereafter existing, and whether arising from our fees or charges, overdrafts, endorsements, guarantees, loans, attachments, garnishments, levies, attorneys' fees, or other obligations. If an account is a joint or multiple-party account, each joint or multiple-party account owner authorizes us to exercise our right of setoff against any and all accounts of each account owner.

You also agree to allow us to apply any subsequently credited deposit made to your account against any overdrafts and against any fees and charges or other obligations owed us in whichever order we determine. You acknowledge and agree that if you do not want your electronically deposited benefits applied in this way, you have the option of changing your direct deposit instructions by providing notice to the benefits payor at any time.

8.4 Indemnification

Except as otherwise set forth in this Agreement, you agree to indemnify, defend and hold us harmless from all claims, actions, proceedings, fines, costs and expenses (including, without limitation, attorney fees) related to or arising out of: (a) your actions and omissions in connection with your accounts or our services, and (b) our actions and omissions, provided that they are taken/omitted in accordance with this Agreement or your instructions. This provision shall survive the termination of this Agreement.

8.5 Limitation on Time to Sue or Arbitrate

Unless otherwise required by law, an action, proceeding or arbitration by you to enforce an obligation, duty or right arising under this Agreement or by law with respect to your account or any account service must be commenced within one (1) year after the cause of action accrues (two (2) years if the governing state law of your account is Texas).

8.6 Limitation of Liability

Except as otherwise required by law, we are not liable to you for any claim, cost, loss or damage caused by an event that is beyond our reasonable control. In particular, we are not liable to you if circumstances beyond our reasonable control prevent us from, or delay us in, performing our obligations for a service, including acting on a payment order, crediting a funds transfer to your account, processing a transaction or crediting your account. Circumstances beyond our reasonable control include, but are not limited to, natural disasters such as a tornado, hurricane, earthquake or flood, emergency conditions, such as a war, terrorist attack, riot, fire, theft or labor dispute; a legal constraint or governmental action or inaction; the breakdown or failure of our equipment for any reason, including a loss of electric power, the breakdown of any private or common carrier communication or transmission facilities, any time-sharing supplier or any mail or courier service; the potential violation of any guideline, rule or regulation of any government authority; suspension of payments by another bank; or your act, omission, negligence or fault. We will never be liable for special, incidental, exemplary, punitive or consequential losses or damages of any kind resulting from the conditions stated in this Limitation of Liability.

In connection with any transaction or service provided under this Agreement, IN NO EVENT WILL EITHER YOU OR THE BANK, OR ITS AFFILIATES, OFFICERS, DIRECTORS, EMPLOYEES, OR AGENTS BE LIABLE TO THE OTHER PARTY FOR ANY SPECIAL, CONSEQUENTIAL, INDIRECT OR PUNITIVE DAMAGES, WHETHER ANY CLAIM IS BASED ON CONTRACT, STATUTE, OR TORT, OR WHETHER THE LIKELIHOOD OF SUCH DAMAGES WAS KNOWN TO ANY PARTY. The foregoing limitation of liability will not apply where expressly prohibited by the laws governing your account.

8.7 Citibank Affiliates

9. Arbitration

PLEASE READ THIS PROVISION OF THE AGREEMENT CAREFULLY.

THIS SECTION PROVIDES THAT DISPUTES MAY BE RESOLVED BY BINDING ARBITRATION. ARBITRATION REPLACES THE RIGHT TO GO TO COURT, HAVE A JURY TRIAL OR INITIATE OR PARTICIPATE IN A CLASS ACTION. IN ARBITRATION, DISPUTES ARE RESOLVED BY AN ARBITRATOR, NOT A JUDGE OR JURY. ARBITRATION PROCEDURES ARE SIMPLER AND MORE LIMITED THAN IN COURT. THIS ARBITRATION PROVISION IS GOVERNED BY THE FEDERAL ARBITRATION ACT (FAA), AND SHALL BE INTERPRETED IN THE BROADEST WAY THE LAW WILL ALLOW.

Covered Disputes.

You or we may arbitrate any claims, dispute or controversy between you and us arising out of or related to your account(s), a previous related account or our relationship (called “Disputes”).

If arbitration is chosen by any party, neither you nor we will have the right to litigate that Dispute in court or have a jury trial on that Dispute.

Except as stated below, all Disputes are subject to arbitration no matter what legal theory they are based on or what remedy (damages, or injunctive or declaratory relief) they seek, including claims based on contract, tort (including intentional tort), fraud, agency, your or our negligence, statutory or regulatory provisions, or any other sources of law; claims made as counterclaims, cross-claims, third party claims, interpleaders or otherwise; claims made regarding past, present or future conduct; and claims made independently or with other claims.

Disputes include any unresolved claims concerning any services relating to such account, including without limitation, safe deposit box services, wire transfer services, and use of a Citibank Banking Card or Citibank Banking Card displaying the MasterCard® Brand Mark. This also includes claims made by or against anyone connected with us or you or claiming through us or you, or by someone making a claim through us or you, such as a joint account owner, account beneficiary, employee, agent, representative, predecessor or successor, heir, assignee, trustee in bankruptcy, or an affiliated/parent/subsidiary company. A party who initiates a proceeding in court may elect arbitration with respect to any dispute advanced in that proceeding by any other party. Disputes include claims made as part of a class action or other representative action, it being expressly understood and agreed to that the arbitration of such claims must proceed on an individual (non-class, non-representative) basis. Disputes also include claims relating to the enforceability or interpretation of any of these arbitration provisions. Any questions about whether Disputes are subject to arbitration shall be resolved by interpreting this arbitration provision in the broadest way the law will allow it to be enforced.

Arbitration Limits. Individual Disputes filed in a small claims court are not subject to arbitration, as long as the matter stays in small claims court.

We won’t initiate arbitration to collect a debt from you unless you choose to arbitrate or assert a Dispute against us. If you assert a Dispute against us, we can choose to arbitrate, including actions to collect a debt from you. You may arbitrate on an individual basis Disputes brought against you, including Disputes to collect a debt.

Disputes brought as part of a class action, private attorney general or other representative action can be arbitrated only on an individual basis. The arbitrator has no authority to arbitrate any claim on a class or representative basis and may award relief only on an individual basis. If arbitration is chosen by any party, neither you nor we may pursue a Dispute as part of a class action or other representative action. Disputes of 2 or more persons may not be combined in the same arbitration. However, joint account owners, account beneficiaries, agents, representatives, heirs, or a trustee in a bankruptcy on your account and/or related accounts, or corporate affiliates are here considered as one person.

How Arbitration Works. Arbitration shall be conducted by the American Arbitration Association (“AAA”) according to this arbitration provision and the applicable AAA arbitration rules in effect when the Dispute is filed (“AAA Rules”), except where those rules conflict with this arbitration provision. You can obtain a copy of the AAA Rules at the AAA's website (adr.org) or by calling 1-800-778-7879. You or we may choose to have a hearing, appear at any hearing by phone or other electronic means, and/or be represented by counsel. Any in-person hearing will be held in the same city as the U.S. District Court closest to your home address.

Arbitration may be requested at any time, even when there is a pending lawsuit, unless a trial has begun or a final judgment entered. Neither you nor we waive the right to arbitrate by filing or serving a complaint, answer, counterclaim, motion or discovery in a court lawsuit. To choose arbitration, a party may file a motion to compel arbitration in a pending matter and/or commence arbitration by submitting the required AAA forms and requisite filing fees to the AAA.

The arbitration shall be decided by a single arbitrator in accord with this arbitration provision and the AAA Rules, which may limit discovery. The arbitrator shall not apply any federal or state rules of civil procedure or discovery, but the arbitrator shall honor claims of privilege recognized at law, and shall take reasonable steps to protect account information and other confidential information of either party if requested to do so. The arbitrator shall apply applicable substantive law consistent with the FAA and applicable statute of limitations, and award damages or other relief under applicable law.

The arbitrator shall make any award in writing and, if requested by you or us, may provide a brief statement of the reasons for the award. An arbitration award shall decide the rights and obligations only of the parties named in the arbitration, and shall not have any bearing on any other person or dispute.

Paying for Arbitration Fees. We'll pay your share of the arbitration fee for an arbitration of Disputes of $74,000 or less if they are unrelated to debt collection. Otherwise, arbitration fees will be allocated according to the applicable AAA Rules. If we prevail, we may not recover our arbitration fees, unless the arbitrator decides your Dispute was frivolous. All parties are responsible for their own attorney's fees, expert fees and any other expenses, unless the arbitrator awards such fees or expenses to you or us based on applicable law.

The Final Award. Any award by an arbitrator is final unless a party appeals it in writing to the AAA within 30 days of notice of the award. The arbitration appeal shall be determined by a panel of 3 arbitrators. The panel will consider all facts and legal issues anew based on the same evidence presented in the prior arbitration, and will make decisions based on a majority vote. Arbitration fees for the arbitration appeal shall be allocated according to the applicable AAA Rules. An award by a panel on appeal is final. A final award is subject to judicial review as provided by applicable law.

Right to Resort to Provisional Remedies Preserved. Nothing herein shall be deemed to limit or constrain our right to resort to self-help remedies, such as the right of setoff or the right to restrain funds in an account, to interplead funds in the event of a Dispute, to exercise any security interest or lien we may hold in property, or to comply with legal process, or to obtain provisional remedies such as injunctive relief, attachment, or garnishment by a court having appropriate jurisdiction; provided, however, that you or we may elect to arbitrate any Dispute related to such provisional remedies.

Survival and Severability of Terms. These arbitration provisions shall survive changes in this Agreement and termination of the account or the relationship between you and us, including the bankruptcy of any party and any sale of your account, or amounts owed on your account, to another person or entity.

If any part of this arbitration provision is deemed invalid or unenforceable, the other terms shall remain in force, except that there can be no arbitration of a class or representative Dispute. This arbitration provision may not be amended, severed or waived, except as provided in this Agreement or in a written agreement between you and us.

Rules for Rejecting This Arbitration Provision. You may reject this arbitration provision by sending a written rejection notice to us at: 100 Citibank Drive, Attn: Arbitration Opt Out, San Antonio, TX 78245. Your rejection notice must be mailed within 45 days of account opening. Your rejection notice must state that you reject the arbitration provision and include your name, address, account number and personal signature. No one else may sign the rejection notice. Your rejection notice will not apply to the arbitration provision(s) governing any other account(s) that you have or had with us. Rejection of this arbitration provision won't affect your other rights or responsibilities under this Agreement, including use of the account.

Appendix 2: Funds Availability at Citibank

This section will help you determine when deposits to your Checking accounts and Savings account(s) will be available for withdrawal.

Please note that the availability of deposits made via the Mobile Check Deposit service is described separately in the agreement governing that service.

Our General Policy. Our general policy is to make funds from any type of check deposit available to you no later than the first Business Day after the day of your deposit. This includes government checks, cashier’s checks and other special types of checks described below. Cash deposits with a teller or at a Proprietary Citibank ATM are generally available immediately on the same Business Day your deposit is received. Wire transfers and electronic direct deposits are also generally available on the same Business Day your deposit is received.

Once funds are available, you may withdraw the funds in cash or use them to pay checks and other items. In some cases, we may place longer delays on your deposit which means you will have to wait a few additional days before being able to use the funds. If we decide to place a longer delay at the time you make a deposit, you will be provided a notice that lets you know when your funds will become available to you. If your deposit is not made with a teller, or we decide to take this action after you have made your deposit, we will send a notice to you by the next Business Day. Please refer to Longer Delays May Apply for a description of these longer delays.

Determining the Date of Deposit. The day funds become available is determined by counting Business Days from the day of your deposit. Every day is a Business Day except Saturdays, Sundays, and federal holidays. If you make a deposit before our established cutoff time on a Business Day that we are open, we will consider that day to be the day of deposit. However, if you make a deposit after our cutoff time or on a non-business day, we will consider the next Business Day we are open to be the day your deposit is received.

- Deposits made in person with a teller before the end of the Business Day are considered received that day. The end of Business Day is posted at each branch and may vary by branch location.
- Deposits made at Proprietary Citibank ATMs and Network (non-Citibank) ATM facilities before 10:30pm Eastern Time (9:30 PM Central Time) are considered received that day. Deposits made at a night depository are considered received by Citibank when the deposit is removed from the night depository, which will be no later than the next Business Day.
- Check deposits by mail. A check deposit received by mail is considered received on the day we receive it at the mail facility designated below. Check deposits made by mail and addressed to any other Citibank address will be forwarded to the designated facility for processing and will be considered received on the date the deposit is received by this facility.

For overnight mail:

Government Checks, Cashier's Checks and Other Special Types of Checks. Funds from the following types of checks are available no later than the first Business Day after the day we receive your deposit:

- U.S. Treasury Checks, Federal Reserve Bank checks, Federal Home Loan Bank checks
- Checks issued by a U.S. state or by the general purpose units of U.S. local governments
- U.S. postal money orders
- Cashier's checks, teller's checks, certified checks, and travelers checks
- Checks drawn on a Citibank, N.A. U.S. branch

Longer Delays May Apply.

In some cases, we may not make all of the funds that you deposit by check (excluding the special types of checks described above) available by the first Business Day after the day of your deposit. Should this occur, you will be provided with a notice describing when the funds will be available at the time of your deposit. If your deposit is not made directly with a teller or we decide to take this action after you complete your deposit, we will send you a notice by the next Business Day. If you will need the funds from a deposit right away, you should ask us when the funds will be available. Depending on the total amount of your check deposits on any one day, the deposit amount may not become fully available to you until the third Business Day after the day of the deposit as follows:

Total deposit amounts up to $5,525

Funds from all check deposits on any one day that total $5,525 or less will be available on the second Business Day after the day of deposit. The first $225 of these check deposits will be available on the first Business Day after the day of deposit and the remainder of the deposit will be available on the second Business Day after the day of deposit.

Large dollar deposits greater than $5,525

If the total of your check deposits on any one day is greater than $5,525, the amount in excess of $5,525 will be available on the third Business Day after the day of deposit.

Example

- If you deposit a check (or multiple checks on any given day) that total(s) $10,000
- The first $225 of your deposit will be available on the first Business Day after the day of deposit
- An additional $5,300 will be available on the second Business Day
- The remaining $ 4,475 will be available on the third Business Day

We may also delay the full amount of your check deposits for a longer period (up to 7 Business Days) under the following circumstances:

- Doubt of collectability-If we have reason to believe the check you have deposited will not be paid; we may delay availability of the funds represented by that check up to 7 Business Days. Should this occur, we will send you a deposit hold notice no later than the next Business Day after we decide to take this action.
- Emergency Situations- If we are unable to conduct business due to an interruption of communications, computer equipment facilities or other emergency conditions beyond our control such as the impact of a natural disaster, we may delay the availability of your deposited check up to 7 Business Days.

Special Rules for New Clients. You are considered a new client if you have not had an account at Citibank for at least 30 days prior to your opening one. For the first 30 days your new account is open, the following special rules apply.

You will be entitled to the availability described above for:

- Incoming wire transfers and electronic direct deposits
- Cash
- Government checks, Cashier's checks, and other special types of checks (as defined above)
- For all other check deposits, your funds will be available on the 5th Business Day after the day of deposit.

Collection Items. We may require that a check received for deposit be sent out for collection. This may occur, for example, if the check is drawn on an institution outside the United States. We will make the funds available to you after we receive payment from the bank on which the check is drawn. A service fee will generally apply. Please refer to the Fee Schedule.

Holds on Other Funds. If we cash a check that is drawn on another bank, we may withhold the availability of a corresponding amount already in your account. Those funds will be made available on the day they would have been available if you had deposited the check.

Our Right of Chargeback. The availability of funds from checks that you deposit will not affect your obligation to repay Citibank for any check that you deposit that is not paid nor does it affect our right to charge back your account for any check that is not paid.

Changes to Our Policy. We will notify you of any change(s) to our funds availability policies as required by applicable law.

Appendix 3: Definitions

When used in this Agreement:

“Access Device” means a card or code, or other means of identification and authentication, used to access your account. In this Agreement, it means your “Citibank Banking Card” including your Citibank® ATM Card, Citibank® Debit Card, or other type of device issued by Citibank along with or in lieu of your Citibank Banking Card. It also includes these account access codes: your Personal Identification Number (PIN), your Telephone Access Code (“TAC”), one time password (OTP) and the User ID and password you use to access Citi Online and CitiMobile®.

- “Citibank ATM Card” means a Citibank® Banking Card that may be used at ATMs and at POS merchants for PIN purchases. (For more information, please refer to section 6. Electronic Fund Transfers.)

Certain Citibank Banking Cards also display a contactless symbol indicating you may use your card to make a contactless payment to a participating merchant by tapping your card on the payment reader.

Your “Available Now” balance is the total amount you can use for withdrawals and transfer right now. The Available Now amount may be less than the On Deposit balance as it doesn’t include the transactions that are still pending and haven’t been posted to your Account. For example, recent incoming funds transfers from external banks may not be included in your Available Now balance.

“Automated Clearing House Network” (“ACH Network”) means an electronic funds transfer system governed by the rules of a clearing house association, such as NACHA (National Automated Clearing House Association) or The Clearing House, that provides funds transfer services to participating financial institutions.

“Automated Clearing House debits” (“ACH debits”) are received electronically through a merchant you have instructed to bill your checking account i.e., for your utility or phone bill.

“Business Day”, when referring to Citibank, means any day of the week that is not a Saturday, Sunday or bank holiday. Non-Business Days are considered part of the following Business Day. For purposes of determining the Business Day for requests to open accounts, please refer to section 4. Opening and Closing Accounts. For funds availability purposes, please refer to Appendix 2: Funds Availability at Citibank.

“Direct Deposit” means an Automated Clearing House (ACH) credit posted to your account. A Direct Deposit may include payroll, pension, state or federal payments (including social security), from your employer or outside agency. Forms for establishing direct deposits can be obtained at any Citibank branch or through Citi Online.

“Electronic Funds Transfers” (“EFT”) means any transfer of funds, other than a transaction originated by check, draft or similar paper instrument, or computer or magnetic tape, so as to order, instruct or authorize a financial institution to debit or credit a consumer checking, savings or other asset account (such as brokerage). Your “On Deposit” balance reflects all transactions recorded in your Account as of the current day. The On Deposit balance may be greater than the Available Now balance because it’s a record of your activity, including transactions that haven’t settled and that aren’t yet available for you to use.

“Point-of-Sale” (“POS”) means a Citibank Banking Card EFT from your primary checking account to purchase goods and services and/or receive cash using your “Citibank® Debit Card” for Signature or PIN-based EFT transactions or by using your “Citibank® ATM Card” for PIN-based EFT transactions. We will use the residential address (not your mailing address) you provide when opening your account to assign your Rate Region. Although an account can be owned by more than one owner, “you” and “your” means the first titled owner of the account when assigning the Rate Region.

Please read all of these sources carefully. For important information concerning account fees and charges and the availability of funds from your deposits, please refer to “Citibank’s Standard Funds Availability Policy” on page 26 and the separate brochure entitled CitiBusiness Schedule of Standard Fees and Charges provided with this Manual. If a service we offer has a separate agreement, and there is a conflict between the terms of this Manual and the separate agreement, the separate agreement will apply.

Your CitiBusiness Client Manual does not contain information relating to other more specialized services such as investment services through Citigroup Global Markets Inc., (“CGMI”), member SIPC, and an affiliate of Citibank, or services provided through CitiBusiness Online. For information regarding products or services that are no longer offered, please consult your original account agreements.

This CitiBusiness Client Manual applies to accounts in the geographical area where you open your account. Citibank deposit accounts maintained in other geographic areas throughout the U.S. and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico cannot be linked for pricing or statements.

Customer Service

Changing Your Account Records

It is important that your account records be kept up to date. Please inform us of any change in your business address or your electronic mail address. Be sure to change the address on all of your accounts. If you fail to do so, we shall not be liable for errors, debits or charges to your account resulting from such failure.

Account Errors and Adjustments

We may make adjustments to your account whenever a correction or change is required. Adjustments might occur, for example, if deposits are recorded in the wrong amount or items you deposit are returned unpaid. We may elect, in our discretion, not to make an adjustment to your account to correct an error which you or a third party (e.g., another financial institution) cause if the adjustment is less than $5.00 or our cost to make the adjustment is greater than the amount in question.

You have a responsibility to review your account statements in a timely manner and to notify us promptly of any errors. You must notify us in writing within 30 days after we send or make available to you your account statement and accompanying items of any errors, discrepancies, or unauthorized transactions. If you fail to do so, we shall not be liable for debits or charges to your account resulting from such errors, discrepancies, or lack of authorization, or for losses resulting from subsequent related occurrences. Note Exception: Automated Clearinghouse ("ACH") transactions may not be covered by the 30 day rule. See below section.

Unauthorized Electronic Automated Clearinghouse (ACH) Transactions. You agree to notify us within one business day from the date that an unauthorized ACH transaction posts to or is debited from your account. If you fail to do so, we may not be responsible or liable to you for any such ACH debit or the loss resulting from such debit.

You also agree that any suit or demand for arbitration that you assert based on an account error, discrepancy, or unauthorized transaction must be brought within one year after the date of the first account statement on which the error, discrepancy, or unauthorized transaction appears.

If, by mistake, funds to which you are not entitled are deposited into your account, we have the right to remove these funds from the account at any time without prior notice to you. If there are insufficient funds in the account to correct the mistake, we may charge your other accounts for the necessary funds.

Account Statements and Notices

We will send you, by mail to the postal address reflected in our records, periodic account statements that show all of the activity for the statement period, all transactions made with your Citibank Banking Card, all transfers that you authorized in advance, and other information on the account for the statement period.

Your periodic statement will include a summary of your linked account balances and an itemized listing of your transactions by date, including information about the checks presented against your account. We use postage-paid ordinary mail to send you statements or notices to the postal mailing address that is reflected in our records for the account. We may also send notices and other account-related information to you and your Authorized Signers to electronic mail addresses reflected in our records for you and your Authorized Signers.

Regardless of the number of owners of an account, we will only send one statement per account. A notification provided to any of the Authorized Signers of an account shall be deemed to be a notification to you and is considered delivered to you on the date we first place the statement or notice in the mail regardless of whether or not you receive it. You are responsible for providing copies of all statements and other account information to all co-owners of your accounts.

If two consecutive notices and/or statements are returned to us for any reason, you agree that we may hold subsequent account statements and notices until we receive forwarding information from you. Statements and notices held for you will be deemed delivered to you on the date they were prepared (for held statements), mailed (for returned statements), or otherwise made available to you. At our discretion, we may destroy mail that is returned to us as determined that it is not able to be delivered.

Instead of receiving a paper statement through the mail, you may choose to enroll in our paperless statement service when you manage your accounts through CitiBusiness Online. If you chose to use the paperless statement service, we will make your statement available to you and your authorized users through CitiBusiness Online. Statements will be deemed delivered to you when they are made available through CitiBusiness Online. This service is subject to separate terms and conditions that will be provided to you and accepted by your CitiBusiness Online System Administrator. The paperless statement option may not be available with all accounts.

Recording Your Service Requests

You agree that we may record the conversations our employees have with you or your representative. We do this to monitor the quality of service and accuracy of information our employees give you, and to ensure that your instructions are followed.

Fees and Charges

Citibank applies service charges for its products and services in accordance with the schedule set forth in the CitiBusiness Schedule of Standard Fees and Charges brochure provided with this Manual, as may be updated from time to time. Please consult that brochure for a description of those charges. In addition to all other fees and service charges Citibank may apply for its products and services, Citibank reserves the right to charge an additional deposit-related fee on any account based upon available funds in such account. To the extent such fee is implemented, it will be set forth on the CitiBusiness Schedule of Standard Fees and Charges brochure.

Amendments/Changes to this Manual

We reserve the right to change the rules and regulations governing the accounts and services described in this Manual, which may include adding to them or deleting certain provisions entirely or partially. We also reserve the right to withdraw any product or service described in this Manual at any time. We will revise this Manual from time to time to reflect these changes. Copies of the current Manual will be available at any Branch. We suggest that you keep any notification of changes to this Manual along with the rest of your Citibank account information. Unless otherwise required by law, we may amend this Manual without prior notice to you. If we choose to notify you or are required by law to notify you of changes to this Manual, we may mail or deliver a notice or a statement message, or make available such changes electronically. Certain fees may change without notice to you.

Opening an Account

IMPORTANT INFORMATION ABOUT OPENING A NEW ACCOUNT AT CITI

To help the United States Government fight terrorism and money laundering, Federal law requires us to obtain, verify, and record information that identifies each person or business that opens an account or establishes a relationship. What this means for you:

Accounts Opened by Sole-Proprietors: When you open an account, we will ask for your name, a street address, date of birth, and an identification number, such as a Social Security number, that Federal law requires us to obtain. We may also ask to see your driver's license or other identifying documents that will allow us to identify you. We appreciate your cooperation.

Accounts Opened by All Other Businesses: When you open an account or establish a relationship, we will ask for your business name, a street address and a tax identification number, that Federal law requires us to obtain. We appreciate your cooperation.

You authorize us to disclose this information to affiliates and nonaffiliated third parties as permitted by applicable law.

You can open a CitiBusiness account at any of our branches. The branch you choose is then referred to as your Home Branch. This branch has certain information regarding your business and your business accounts that is not readily available at other branches. Therefore, there may be certain things that you can only do at your Home Branch.

Accounts are opened subject to our ability to identify you and the signatures of each signer on the account. Generally, we require one piece of suitable identification with your signature or photograph on it. When you open an account, we obtain a report from a reporting agency regarding your past handling of banking services. We require a tax identification number for all accounts.

Additional documentation about your business that we may require is determined by the type and nature of business you are operating. Consult with the branch for specific information as to the documentation we require for your business to establish an account.

You are responsible for providing us with amended documents should the information contained in your documentation change. This is especially important if there is a change in the officers or signing authority of your business.

We cannot be responsible for losses you sustain if you fail to inform us of changes in the authority of your representatives to conduct your banking business.

Closing an Account

You may close your account at any time except as stated otherwise in this Manual. The same signatures required for writing checks and making withdrawals are required to close the account.

If you close a Certificate of Deposit account before maturity, you will be subject to an early withdrawal penalty.

We reserve the right to close your account at any time with or without cause. We may try to notify you in advance should this be necessary, but we are not obliged to do so. We also reserve the right to close any CitiBusiness account if a zero balance remains for over 45 days.

If we close your account, we will send you a check for your final balance, minus applicable service fees. If your account balance is insufficient to pay applicable fees and charges owed to us, you will continue to be liable to us for the unpaid amount and interest thereon until it is paid in full. Your obligations for transactions conducted prior to account closure will survive the closure of the account.

Transferring Ownership and Assignments

Accounts are not transferrable or assignable except with the permission of Citibank. Public Fund Accounts are transferable, but written instructions are required. Certain Business Accounts may be assigned as collateral for a loan from Citibank or another lender. For the assignment to be effective, we must receive documentation in a form and substance satisfactory to us.

Special Circumstances

Restricted Access to Accounts

There are occasions when access to deposits or property in your safe deposit box is restricted. Funds assigned as collateral, or deposits that are attached in connection with a legal action, are examples of restricted access. If funds assigned as collateral are in interest-bearing accounts, they will continue to earn interest as usual. They may not, however, be used in connection with our CitiBusiness Safety Check services.

When we receive an order instructing us to restrict access to funds in an account or property in a safe deposit box, we ensure compliance by removing the funds from the account and maintaining them separately or by restricting access to the safe deposit box. These funds will not earn interest and will not be considered as part of your balance in determining account charges.

Forfeited Accounts

If your account is seized by or forfeited to the United States Government or to a state government you no longer have title to the account and the funds in it will no longer earn interest, even if the funds are eventually returned to you.

Overdue Debts and Judgments

The law allows us to use the money from any account held by the business to pay any overdraft or debt that the business owes us. This is called the "Right of Set-Off." In certain situations, we may also have the Right of Set-Off against your individual accounts. For example, we may debit the personal account of a general partner for an obligation owed to us by the partnership. We are not required to give you advance notice of our intent to exercise our Right of Set-Off; if we do take such action, we will notify you afterwards.

Dormant Accounts

Under abandoned property statutes, we must turn over to the state your checking, savings, or matured certificate of deposit accounts if you have not done at least one of the following during a specified period of time:

- Deposited or withdrawn funds or initiated another financial transaction.
- Signed our active account confirmation form.
- Written to us concerning the account.

A time deposit account that has not reached maturity is not considered inactive, but if the account renews automatically, it can become inactive on our records starting after the maturity date.

Please note that the period of inactivity for an account to be considered abandoned property differs by state. The laws of the state of your last known address determine the inactivity period and the manner in which your funds are transferred to the state. Please contact The CitiBusiness Service Center or your Branch if you would like specific information concerning the length of the inactivity period applicable to your account.

Accounts of Deceased Persons

In case of death of an account owner, we will continue to honor checks written on that account until we are notified of the death. Upon notification, we will block the account. By law, and/or our policy, certain documents must be presented to us before funds in such an account can be paid out and the account closed. Please contact the CitiBusiness Service Center at 877-528-0990 or your dedicated service specialist for further information on the type of documentation that would be needed in this situation.

FDIC Insurance

Your Citibank deposits are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) up to applicable limits. The FDIC website at www.fdic.gov allows you to determine the amount of your deposits which are insured. For more information, please contact the FDIC directly at 1-877-ASKFDIC (1-877-275-3342).

Legal Processing

You agree that we may comply with any state or federal legal process, including, without limitation, any writ of attachment, adverse claim, execution, garnishment, tax levy, restraining order, subpoena or warrant relating to you or your account which we believe to be valid, without any liability from us to you. You agree that if we are served with legal process at any of our Branches or offices, we may comply with it, even if it is served at a location other than where your account was opened. Further, you agree that we may comply with such process as we deem appropriate under the circumstances even if the legal process or document appears to affect the interest of only one owner of the account. In such case, we may refuse to permit withdrawals or transfers from your account until such legal process is satisfied or dismissed even if such action results in insufficient funds to pay a check you have written or otherwise satisfy an obligation you may have incurred. Accounts opened with trust or fiduciary designations (e.g., “XYZ, Inc. — Client Trust Account”) may be subject to legal process unless our records contain an express written trust or court order that provides otherwise.

You agree that we are entitled to a processing fee, for which you are liable to us, upon receipt of any legal process. We may deduct such fee, as well as any expenses, including without limitation attorneys’ fees, in connection with any such document or legal process, from your account or any other account you may have with us without prior notice to you, or we may bill you directly for such expenses and fees. In addition, you agree that if we are not fully reimbursed for our record research, reproduction and handling costs by the party which served the process, you shall be similarly liable to us. Any garnishment, attachment or other levy against your account shall be subject to our right of setoff and security interest.

You agree to release and indemnify, defend and hold us harmless from all actions, claims, liabilities, losses, costs and damages including, without limitation, attorneys’ fees, associated with our compliance with any legal process we believe to be valid.

You agree that we will not pay and you shall not be entitled to receive interest on any funds we hold or set aside in connection with our response to legal process. Finally, you agree that we may accept and comply with legal process, irrespective of how and/or where it was received even if the law requires any particular method of service.

Verifying Information

We may verify the information you give us when you open an account. In addition, you agree to allow us to answer any credit inquiries we may receive about your account from other financial institutions. In the event your account is closed for cause, Citibank may report this information, in accordance with applicable law, to a credit bureau.

Consumer Reporting Agency Information

You authorize us to obtain a consumer report in connection with the application, update or renewal of any deposit or loan account you apply for and you understand that we may also obtain such reports at any time once you become a customer. You also authorize us to use these consumer reports to consider you for other programs with Citibank.

We may report information about you and any joint account owners or authorized signers on the account to a Consumer Reporting Agency. If you disagree with the accuracy of the information that we submit to a Consumer Reporting Agency, please call CitiBusiness Service Center (see the back cover of this Manual for telephone numbers) or write to us at Citibank — Consumer Report Inquiry, P.O. Box 769004, San Antonio, Texas 78245-9989. We will review our files and respond to you in writing.

Our Relationship

The relationship created by any deposit shall be that of debtor and creditor. No fiduciary or other special relationship exists between us.

Indemnity and Limitation of Liability

You are solely responsible for the lawfulness and propriety of your account transactions. You agree to use your accounts solely for lawful and proper business, commercial and other legitimate non-consumer purposes in compliance with all laws applicable to your business and your account transactions (including without limitation and by way of example only, laws applicable to any payroll or similar checks drawn on any account of yours, and laws applicable to any special purpose account such as a trust, escrow, or security deposit account). You agree to indemnify Citibank, its shareholders, affiliates, directors, officers, employees, successors and assigns (collectively, the “Parties”) and agree to hold the Parties harmless from and against any and all losses, payments, damages, costs, expenses (including reasonable legal fees and disbursements), liabilities, claims, actions and suits which the Parties or any of them may suffer or incur arising out of or in any way relating to, directly or indirectly, (i) your failure to furnish us any documentation in form and substance satisfactory to us, (ii) any misrepresentation made by you in connection with your application for any account or in connection with any account you open or maintain, (iii) any inaccuracy of any information provided to us by you or on your behalf, or (iv) our reliance on any agreement or representation made by you or on your behalf or any instruction or authorization issued by you or on your behalf, in connection with your application for any account or in connection with any account you open or maintain. This indemnification shall survive the closure of any account or sub-account you open or maintain.

Except as expressly prohibited by applicable law, neither Citibank nor you shall be liable to the other for any punitive, special, consequential, incidental, or indirect damages, even if the other party was aware of the possibility of such damages. Our liability for a claim will be limited to the face value of an item or transaction improperly dishonored or paid, or the face value of any transaction not properly credited or debited.

Governing Law

Accounts and services through Citibank are governed by federal law and regulations. To the extent that such laws and regulations do not apply, these accounts and services shall be governed by and be construed in accordance with the laws of the state in which the branch for your account is located, unless a specific agreement states otherwise, or is provided under abandoned property statutes.

Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act (FATCA)

In order for Citibank to be compliant with the provisions of The Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act (commonly known as “FATCA”), a U.S. federal tax law, Citibank may contact you to request additional information and/or documentation. Please understand that Citibank does not and will not in any way support any attempt by you to evade U.S. taxes or any request by you for help in avoiding detection under FATCA. Furthermore, since Citibank is not in the business of providing tax advice, you should not rely upon Citibank to determine the impact of FATCA on your own business activities or what your own compliance obligations are under FATCA. We encourage you to seek the advice of experienced tax advisors to determine what actions you need to take to become FATCA compliant. Your failure to comply with FATCA may result in restricted access or withholding of taxes from interest payments due to you.

Resolutions of Disputes/Arbitration

PLEASE READ THIS PROVISION OF THE AGREEMENT CAREFULLY.

THIS SECTION CONTAINS IMPORTANT INFORMATION REGARDING YOUR DEPOSIT, BUSINESS CREDIT ACCOUNT OR BUSINESS CHECKING PLUS ACCOUNT AND THE SERVICES RELATED THERETO. IT PROVIDES THAT EITHER YOU OR WE CAN REQUIRE THAT ANY DISPUTES BE RESOLVED BY BINDING ARBITRATION. ARBITRATION REPLACES THE RIGHT TO GO TO COURT, INCLUDING THE RIGHT TO PARTICIPATE IN A CLASS ACTION OR SIMILAR PROCEEDING. IN ARBITRATION, THE DISPUTE IS SUBMITTED TO A NEUTRAL PARTY, AN ARBITRATOR, INSTEAD OF A JUDGE OR JURY. ARBITRATION PROCEDURES ARE SIMPLER AND MORE LIMITED THAN RULES APPLICABLE IN COURT. IT ALSO INCLUDES A WAIVER OF THE RIGHT TO TRIAL BY JURY.

Agreement to Arbitrate Disputes. Either you or we may elect, without the other's consent, to require that any dispute between us, or concerning your Citibank deposit account, Business Credit account or Business Checking Plus account, except those disputes specifically excluded below, be resolved by binding arbitration.

Disputes Covered by Arbitration. Any claim or dispute relating to or arising out of your deposit, Business Credit account or Business Checking Plus account, this Manual, this Agreement, or your relationship or dealings with Citibank will be subject to arbitration ("Disputes"). All Disputes are subject to arbitration, no matter what legal theory they are based on or what remedy (damages, or injunctive or declaratory relief) they seek. Disputes include any unresolved claims concerning any services relating to such account, including, without limitation, safe deposit box services, wire transfer services, and use of a Citibank Banking Card/CitiBusiness Debit Card. Disputes include not only claims made directly by you, but also made by anyone connected with you or claiming through you, such as a joint account holder, account beneficiary, employee, representative, agent, predecessor or successor, heir, assignee, or trustee in bankruptcy. Disputes include not only claims that relate directly to Citibank, but also its parent, affiliates, successors, assignees, employees, and agents and claims for which we may be directly or indirectly liable, even if we are not properly named at the time the claim is made. Disputes include claims based on any theory of law, contract, statute, regulation, tort (including fraud or any intentional tort), or any other legal or equitable ground, and include claims made as counterclaims, cross-claims, third-party claims, interpleaders or otherwise. A party who initiates a proceeding in court may elect arbitration with respect to any dispute advanced in that proceeding by any other party. Disputes include claims made as part of a class action or other representative action, it being expressly understood and agreed to that the arbitration of such claims must proceed on an individual (non-class, non-representative) basis. Disputes also include claims relating to the enforceability or interpretation of any of these arbitration provisions. Any questions about whether disputes are subject to arbitration shall be resolved by interpreting this arbitration provision in the broadest way the law will allow it to be enforced.

Disputes Excluded from Arbitration. Disputes filed by you or by us individually in a small claims court are not subject to arbitration, so long as the disputes remain in such court and advance only an individual claim for relief.

Commencing an Arbitration. The party filing an arbitration must file it with the American Arbitration Association and follow its rules and procedures for initiating and pursuing arbitration. If you initiate the arbitration, you must notify us in writing at Citibank, C/O Legal Services Intake Unit, 701 E. 60th Street., N., Mail Code 1251, Sioux Falls, SD 57117. If we initiate the arbitration, we will notify you in writing at your last known address on file. You may obtain a copy of the arbitration rules for this forum, as well as additional information about initiating an arbitration by contacting the American Arbitration Association (www.adr.org) — (800) 778-7879 (toll free).

The arbitration shall be conducted in the same city as the U.S. District Court closest to your home address, unless the parties agree to a different location in writing.

Administration of Arbitration. The arbitration shall be decided by a single, neutral arbitrator. The arbitrator will be either a lawyer with at least ten years experience or a retired or former judge, selected in accordance with the rules of the arbitration forum. The arbitrator shall follow procedures and rules of the arbitration forum in effect on the date the arbitration is filed unless those rules and procedures are inconsistent with this arbitration provision, in which case this arbitration provision will prevail. Those procedures and rules may limit the discovery available to you or us. The arbitrator will take reasonable steps to protect customer account information and other confidential information if requested to do so by you or us. The arbitrator shall decide the dispute in accordance with applicable substantive law consistent with the Federal Arbitration Act and applicable statutes of limitations, will honor claims of privilege recognized at law, and will be empowered to award any damages or other relief provided for under applicable law. The arbitrator will not have the power to award relief to, or against, any person who is not a party to the arbitration. An award in arbitration shall determine the rights and obligations between the named parties only, and only in respect of the claims in arbitration, and shall not have any bearing on the rights and obligations of any other person, or on the resolution of any other dispute. You or we may choose to have a hearing and be represented by counsel. The decision rendered by the arbitrator shall be in writing; however, the arbitrator need not provide a statement of his reasons unless one is requested by you or us.

Costs. The party initiating the arbitration shall pay the initial filing fee. If you file the arbitration and an award is rendered in your favor, we will reimburse you for your filing fee. If there is a hearing, we will pay the fees and costs for the first day of that hearing. All other fees and costs will be allocated in accordance with the rules of the arbitration forum. However, we will advance or reimburse filing and other fees if the arbitrator rules that you cannot afford to pay them or finds other good cause for requiring us to do so, or if you ask us and we determine there is good reason for doing so. Each party shall bear the expense of their respective attorneys, experts, and witnesses and other expenses, regardless of who prevails, but a party may recover any or all cost and fees from another party if the arbitrator, applying applicable law, so determines.

No Class Action or Joinder of Parties. You and we agree that no class action, private attorney general or other representative claims may be pursued in arbitration, nor may such action be pursued in court if either you or we elect arbitration. Unless mutually agreed to by you and us, claims of two or more persons may not be joined, consolidated, or otherwise brought together in the same arbitration (unless those persons are joint account holders or beneficiaries on your account and/or related accounts, or parties to a single transaction or related transaction); this is so whether or not the claim may have been assigned.

Right to Resort to Provisional Remedies Preserved. Nothing herein shall be deemed to limit or constrain our right to resort to self-help remedies, such as the right of setoff or the right to restrain funds in an account, to interplead funds in the event of a dispute, to exercise any security interest or lien we may hold in property, or to comply with legal process, or to obtain provisional remedies such as injunctive relief, attachment, or garnishment by a court having appropriate jurisdiction; provided, however, that you or we may elect to arbitrate any dispute related to such provisional remedies.

Arbitration Award. The arbitrator's award shall be final and binding unless a party appeals it in writing to the arbitration forum within fifteen days of notice of the award. The appeal must request a new arbitration before a panel of three neutral arbitrators selected in accordance with the rules of the same arbitration forum. The panel will consider all factual and legal issues anew, follow the same rules that apply to a proceeding using a single arbitrator, and make decisions based on the vote of the majority. Costs will be allocated in the same way they are allocated before a single arbitrator. An award by a panel is final and binding on the parties after fifteen days have passed. A final and binding award is subject to judicial intervention or review only to the extent allowed under the Federal Arbitration Act. A party may seek to have a final and binding award entered as a judgment in any court having jurisdiction.

JURY TRIAL WAIVER: FOR ANY MATTERS NOT SUBMITTED TO ARBITRATION, YOU AND WE AGREE AND UNDERSTAND THAT YOU AND WE ARE BOTH IRREVOCABLY AND VOLUNTARILY GIVING UP THE RIGHT TO TRIAL BY JURY.

CLASS ACTION WAIVER: TO THE EXTENT PERMITTED BY APPLICABLE LAW, FOR ANY MATTERS NOT SUBMITTED TO ARBITRATION, YOU AND WE HEREBY AGREE THAT ANY LITIGATION ARISING OUT OF THESE RULES AND REGULATIONS, RELATING TO ANY DISPUTE BETWEEN YOU AND US OR ANY OF CITIBANK'S EMPLOYEES, OFFICERS, DIRECTORS, PARENTS, CONTROLLING PERSONS, SUBSIDIARIES, AFFILIATES, SUCCESSORS AND ASSIGNS WILL PROCEED SOLELY ON AN INDIVIDUAL BASIS AND WILL NOT PROCEED AS PART OF A CLASS ACTION, AND YOU SHALL NOT SERVE AS A CLASS REPRESENTATIVE, OR PRIVATE ATTORNEY GENERAL WITH RESPECT TO ANY SUCH LITIGATION.

Resolution Of Disputes. You or we can require that any Disputes be resolved by binding arbitration. If neither you nor we decide to compel arbitration, then all claims and Disputes shall be resolved in court by a judge without a jury, as permitted by law.

Exception for claims brought in California state court: If a claim related to a Dispute is brought in a California state court, either you or we can elect to compel the other to have the claim resolved by general reference of the Dispute to a judicial referee under California Code of Civil Procedure Section 638, as provided below. The judicial reference or trial by a judge will take place solely on an individual basis without any joinder of multiple parties' claims or as a form of class or other representative action. A Dispute sent to judicial reference is heard by a single judicial referee, but remains in the court system subject to the same rules of procedure, discovery and evidence and appeal as any court case. The judicial referee will be an active or retired judge or attorney with more than 10 years of experience, chosen by mutual agreement of you and Citibank. If you or we are unable to agree upon a referee within ten calendar days after one of us serves a written notice of intent for judicial reference upon the other, then the referee will be selected by the court in accordance with California Code of Civil Procedure Section 640(b). The judicial referee, sitting alone without a jury, will decide questions of law and fact and will resolve the Dispute. This includes the applicability of this Resolution Of Disputes section and the validity of this Manual. Judicial reference will be governed by California Code of Civil Procedure Section 638 at seq. and the judicial referee will determine all issues in accordance with applicable law and the California rules of evidence. The judicial referee is empowered to provide all temporary or provisional remedies and rule on any motion that would be authorized in court proceedings, including motions for summary judgment or summary adjudication. The award that results from the decision of the referee will be entered as a judgment in the court that appointed the referee, in accordance with the provisions of California Code of Civil Procedure Section. You and we both reserve the right to seek appellate review of any judgment or order to the same extent permitted in a court of law had there been no referral.

Governing Law. You and we agree that our relationship includes transactions involving interstate commerce and that these arbitration provisions are governed by, and enforceable under, the Federal Arbitration Act. To the extent state law is applicable, the laws of the state governing your account relationship shall apply.

Severability, Survival. These arbitration and dispute resolution provisions shall survive:

- i. termination or changes to your deposit, CitiBusiness Checking Plus, CitiBusiness Safety Check or any related services we provide;
- ii. the bankruptcy of any party; and
- iii. the transfer or assignment of your deposit, CitiBusiness Checking Plus, CitiBusiness Safety Check or any related services we provide.

If any portion of this arbitration provision is deemed invalid or unenforceable, it shall not affect the validity of any other of its provisions. No provision of this arbitration provision may be amended, severed or waived absent a written agreement between you and us.

Checking Account Plans

Citibank offers a variety of checking account plans to match your business needs, as listed below:

Non-Interest-bearing Checking Accounts

The following accounts are our core checking accounts and are all non-interest-bearing.

- CitiBusiness Checking

- CitiBusiness Streamlined Checking

- CitiBusiness Flexible Checking

Interest-bearing Checking Accounts

The following accounts are interest-bearing accounts: CitiBusiness Interest Checking, CitiBusiness Interest on Lawyer Account (IOLA), Interest on Lawyer Trust Account (IOLTA), and Interest on Trust Account (IOTA)

Important Information about Interest-bearing Checking Accounts

Citibank reserves the right, in its sole discretion, based upon its determination of market conditions, to discontinue paying interest on any interest-bearing accounts upon 60 days notice to you.

CitiBusiness Interest Checking

This demand deposit (DDA) checking account pays interest compounded daily, on the available funds in the account. Interest-bearing DDA accounts may differ from non-interest-bearing DDAs in regards to FDIC insurance coverage. The FDIC website at www.fdic.gov allows you to determine the amount of your deposits which are insured. For more information, please contact the FDIC directly at 1-877-ASKFDIC (1- 877-275- 3342). In all other respects CitiBusiness Interest Checking operates like a non-interest-bearing checking account and is subject to the same terms and conditions.

CitiBusiness Interest on Lawyer Account (IOLA), Interest on Lawyer Trust Account (IOLTA), Interest on Trust Account (IOTA): This interest-bearing checking account is available to attorneys and law firms that receive and disburse qualified clients' funds. Like a CitiBusiness Interest Checking Account, it pays interest compounded daily on the available funds in the account. The interest earned is credited to the IOLA/IOLTA/IOTA account at the end of each month and is then transferred to the state IOLA/IOLTA/IOTA Fund after fees, as applicable, have been deducted. We reserve the right to require seven days advance notice in writing before permitting a withdrawal from this account. Citibank is required by law to reserve this right but does not presently exercise it. In all other respects, the account operates like a CitiBusiness Interest Checking Account and is subject to the same terms and conditions.

Note: Attorneys may also open other escrow accounts, including Interest Checking Accounts.

Rates for CitiBusiness Interest Checking, IOLA, IOLTA and IOTA Accounts: Interest rates and Annual Percentage Yields are determined by Citibank and can change at any time. For current interest rate and annual percentage yield information, see our Interest Rate sheet for CitiBusiness products.

- Interest will be paid on check deposits to these accounts beginning on the date Citibank receives credit for the funds from the Federal Reserve. This date will be no later than the second business day after the business day the check deposit is received. Interest will be paid on cash deposits beginning on the business day the cash deposit is received.
- We use the daily balance method to calculate the interest on your account. This method applies a daily periodic rate to the principal in the account each day.
- When interest begins to accrue, it is computed on a 365-day basis for the actual number of days your money is on deposit. Interest may be computed using a 366-day basis for a leap year.
- Interest is compounded daily and credited to your account after the close of business on the last business day of your statement cycle, after deducting any amount which we may be required by law to withhold for income tax purposes. If the account is closed before the date interest is credited, interest will be paid up to, but not including, the closing date of the account.

For IOLA/IOLTA/IOTA accounts opened in California and Florida, interest rates will adjust during the statement cycle based on your balances on deposit. The same rate may be assigned to more than one balance range. The following are the current balance ranges as applicable by location.

Location	Balance range
Illinois and Nevada	$0 and up
New York and Texas	$0-$99,999.99 $100,000 and up

The Control Account is a non-interest-bearing checking account with linked Client sub-accounts that allow for the calculation and payment of security deposit interest to tenants and the collection of landlord fees related to security deposits as allowed in certain markets.

TERMS AND CONDITIONS

These terms and conditions govern both your Control Account and each of the Client Accounts linked to the Control Account.

Authorization: You represent, warrant and covenant to Citibank that (i) you are duly authorized to open and operate each Client Account, (ii) each Client Account is and will be opened and operated in accordance with the agreements entered into between you and your Client in connection with a service you are performing for such Client, or if applicable, for the internal management of your own business (collectively, the "Transaction"), (iii) before opening any related Client Account, you will have obtained from all necessary parties the required authorization to open and operate said account, including proper authorization to make each deposit and withdrawal and to provide tax certifications signed by an authorized representative of each Client, (iv) and if you are acting as a fiduciary for the Client, either by agreement or operation of law, that a) you are complying and will continue to comply with all laws and regulations concerning the fiduciary relationship between you and each Client; b) you have advised each Client of all Citibank fees and other expenses that may be charged to the Client Account or may otherwise be deducted from such Client's funds, and c) you further represent and warrant that the fiduciary relationship between you and each Client does not give rise to any restrictions or prohibitions against charging such fees and other expenses to each Client.

You further covenant that you will promptly furnish to Citibank such documentation concerning the Transaction, as requested by Citibank, in form and substance satisfactory to it, including, without limitation, (i) agreements or other documentation evidencing your authority to open and operate your Control Account and any related Client Account and, as may be applicable, to act as a fiduciary for each Client, and (ii) for Transactions other than those operated by you for internal business management, agreements between you and each Client disclosing, in form and substance satisfactory to Citibank, any fees or expenses that Citibank may charge to the applicable Client Account or that may be otherwise deducted from such Client's funds.

Disputes with respect to Funds in Control or Client Account: Citibank shall have no responsibility for any dispute between you and any Client or any third party with respect to the funds deposited in either the Control Account or any Client Account. If you are a partnership, these terms shall remain in full force and effect despite changes in the parties comprising your partnership. The term “you” shall include any altered or successor partnership, but the predecessor partnerships and their partners shall not thereby be released from any liability. Citibank may require new partners to execute documentation relating to the accounts.

Client Account Tax Information: For each new Client Account, you shall provide to Citibank, within documentation required by Citibank and signed by an authorized representative of the Client, the name and taxpayer identification number of the party on whose behalf the account is being opened. You understand that if you fail to do so, the Client Account will be subject to backup withholding. Any type of Client Account could be subject to backup withholding under certain circumstances.

Opening an Account

General CitiBusiness Checking Account Information

Checkbook, Checks and Deposit Slips: When you open your account you can order checks through us (including checks that are compatible with accounting software packages). When we place an order for your checks, we act as sales and billing agent for the check supplier, and we are compensated for our services. The cost in ordering through Citibank varies depending on the style and quantity you select and includes postage and handling. We will automatically deduct the amount from your account balance after your check order is processed.

If you choose to use an independent supplier for your printed checks, the checks must conform to specifications published by American National Standards Institute (ANSI) Committee X9AB. In addition, we may refuse to accept or process checks provided through an independent supplier unless we have approved those checks in advance. You are responsible for ensuring that magnetic ink character recognition (MICR) is properly encoded on those checks. You are also responsible for ensuring that the payee/business client name and address information matches the current full legal account name on bank records for your account. We reserve the right to return unpaid any check that is not properly MICR encoded and you agree that we will not be liable for any losses resulting from nonpayment of any such check. We also reserve the right to assess a fee to cover the cost associated with the manual processing of checks that have not been properly MICR-encoded.

Account Reports: When you open a checking account, we may obtain a report from a reporting agency regarding your past handling of checking accounts. We will also report to such agencies information about Citibank checking accounts that have not been handled properly. Upon request, we will give you the name of any agency that we have used.

Account Cycle: To operate your account, we may select a cycle of 28 to 31 days (not necessarily a calendar month), which will be referred to as a “month” or “months” in this Manual. Your service charges will be calculated based on a calendar month, however, they may appear on the following monthly statement.

Account Activity Information

Monthly Statements: Each month we will mail you a statement recording all activity in your checking account for the statement period. It will include:

- Your balance on the statement date.
- An itemized listing by date of all of your deposits, transfers, automatic transfers, withdrawals and any service charges to your account.
- Digitized images of your cancelled checks, if requested, with an itemized listing, usually in numerical sequence.
- If you also have CitiBusiness Checking Plus, your CitiBusiness Checking Plus account information will be included on your monthly statement.
- A monthly statement will not be sent for accounts that have no balances and no activity.

You can see your account activity as far back as 3 months for credit transactions and 18 months for debit transactions anytime at a Proprietary Citibank ATM. You can also obtain account information from any telephone with our CitiBusiness Service Center (available Monday-Friday, 7 AM to 11 PM Eastern Standard Time; Saturday-Sunday, 9 AM to 5:30 PM Eastern Standard Time), at ATM network machines, and on CitiBusiness Online. See the “Citibank Banking Card” section on page 37 for details on account information available to you.

Monthly Service Charge: Any service charges and fees associated with your CitiBusiness Checking Account will be in accordance with our current fee schedule.

CitiBusiness Savings, IMMA and CDs

This section provides specific product information about CitiBusiness Savings, CitiBusiness Insured Money Market Accounts (IMMAs), and Certificates of Deposit (CDs), as well as general information about all of our savings products.

The CitiBusiness Savings account has no term and no maturity date, and you can deposit or withdraw at any time. However, there are some restrictions on transfers imposed by federal banking regulations.

Our CitiBusiness Insured Money Market Account pays variable rates subject to balance requirements based on money market conditions. Like our CitiBusiness Savings account, there is no maturity date and there are some restrictions on transfers imposed by federal banking regulations.

Certificate of Deposit Accounts generally pay higher interest rates than the CitiBusiness Savings account. However, you must agree to leave your money on deposit for a specific length of time. The interest rate depends on the term of the account and remains fixed until the account matures.

Important Information about Interest on CitiBusiness Savings, IMMA and CDs

Citibank reserves the right, in its sole discretion, based upon its determination of market conditions, to discontinue paying interest on your CitiBusiness Savings, IMMA or CD.

If Citibank elects to discontinue paying interest on your CitiBusiness Savings, IMMA or CD, we will provide you at least 60 days prior notice. With respect to any CD, such change in interest rate will not take effect until the first renewal date after we have provided you with 60 days notice.

CitiBusiness Savings Account

Listed below are terms and conditions of our savings plan.

Account Cycle: To operate your account, we may select a cycle of 28 to 31 days (not necessarily a calendar month), which will be referred to as a “month” or “months” in the following terms and conditions.

Account Activity Information

Statement Accounts: For CitiBusiness Savings, we will mail you a statement recording all activity for the statement period. If you have a CitiBusiness Savings account with no activity and no balances, you will not be sent a statement.

Interest Rates and Calculations for CitiBusiness Savings Accounts: Interest rates and Annual Percentage Yields are determined by Citibank and can change at any time. For current interest rate and annual percentage yield information, see our Interest Rate sheet for CitiBusiness products.

- We use the daily balance method to calculate interest on this account. This method applies a daily periodic rate to the balance in the account each day. We will compound your interest daily, using a 365/366 (leap year)-day basis and computing interest from the business day of deposit up to, but not including the business day of withdrawal, provided your account is open when the interest is credited.
- Interest will be paid on check deposits to these accounts beginning on the date Citibank receives credit for the funds from the Federal Reserve. Interest will be paid on cash deposits beginning on the business day the cash deposit is received.
- We will credit the interest to your account at the end of your statement period after deducting any amount which we may be required by law to withhold for income tax purposes. Interest of $1.00 or more will be credited at the time the account statements are issued even if the principal balance is zero. If the account is closed before the date interest is credited, you will forfeit all interest for that statement period.
- CitiBusiness Savings pays a variable rate, depending on the interest rate environment. Rate changes can take effect any time. The same interest rate may be assigned to more than one balance range.

For CitiBusiness Savings accounts opened in the New York area, Connecticut and New Jersey, your rate will adjust during the statement cycle based on your balances on deposit. The same rate may be assigned to more than one balance range. The following are the current balance ranges as applicable by location:

- Interest will be paid on check deposits to these accounts beginning on the date Citibank receives credit for the funds from the Federal Reserve. Interest will be paid on cash deposits beginning on the business day the cash deposit is received.
- We use the daily balance method to calculate the interest on your account. This method applies a daily periodic rate to the principal in the account each day.

Balance Ranges for CitiBusiness Insured Money Market Accounts

Location	Balance range
All Markets	$0-$24,999.99 $25,000-$49,999.99 $50,000-$99,999.99 $100,000-$499,999.99 $500,000-$999,999.99 $1,000,000-$9,999,999.99 $10,000,000 and up

Monthly Service Charge: Any service charges and fees associated with your IMMA will be in accordance with our current fee schedule. Please refer to the CitiBusiness Schedule of Standard Fees and Charges brochure.

Limits on Transfers

The maximum number of pre-authorized transfers permitted from IMMA is six per calendar month. Notice Requirement: As required by federal regulations, we reserve the right to require you to provide written notice at least seven days prior to an intended withdrawal from your CitiBusiness Savings account. However, we do not presently exercise it.

CitiBusiness Certificates of Deposit Accounts

Citibank offers a choice of Certificates of Deposit with various lengths of terms. See the Chart on pages 22 and 23 for a complete list.

Definitions: The Opening Deposit, Term and Maturity Date of this account are specified on your Certificate of Deposit statement. If your account has been renewed, these words will refer to the Opening Deposit, Term and Maturity Date of the renewed account.

Statements: You will receive a monthly statement.

Rate Information: For current rates and annual percentage yields on CDs, see our Interest Rate sheet for CitiBusiness products. Your Annual Percentage Yield assumes your interest earned remains on deposit until maturity. A withdrawal of interest will reduce earnings on this account.

Interest Computation: We use the daily balance method to calculate interest on CDs. This method applies a daily periodic rate to the balance in the account each day. Interest will be paid on a 365/366 (leap year)-day basis from the date of deposit up to the date of withdrawal. Interest is compounded daily and is computed for the actual number of days funds have been on deposit. Interest will be credited to your account monthly or at maturity depending on the type of CD you have opened.

Deposits: Your minimum opening deposit varies by CD product (see the chart on pages 22 and 23). You can make additional deposits to your account in any amount, but only on a Maturity Date.

Renewal at Maturity: Your Certificate will renew automatically for succeeding terms of the same length, unless you withdraw your Deposit or we have received instructions in writing from you not to renew the Certificate or to renew it for a different term. Interest will be paid on the renewed Certificate at the rate being paid by us at the time of renewal on CitiBusiness Certificates of Deposit for similar amounts and maturities. We may cancel the right to renew this Certificate or amend these terms and conditions for any renewal period, by providing you with written notice at the address we have listed for you in our records.

Penalty-Free Withdrawal of Principal (Grace Period): For Certificates with terms of 30 days or longer, during the 7 calendar days following any Maturity Date, all or part of the amount on deposit may be withdrawn without incurring an early withdrawal penalty. Interest will be paid on the amount withdrawn from the last Maturity Date at our then current CitiBusiness CD rate.

Withdrawals Before Maturity: You have agreed to leave the principal of this Deposit in the account for the full term and for each full renewal term. Therefore, if all or any part of the principal of this Deposit is withdrawn before the initial Maturity Date (or the Maturity Date of any renewal period), we will charge a penalty before permitting the withdrawal. The early withdrawal penalty is described below. The principal of the Deposit may be reduced, if necessary to satisfy this penalty.

Early Withdrawal Penalty: The penalty on early withdrawal shall be an amount equal to the simple interest for a certain number of days, as shown in the chart on pages 22 and 23, on the principal withdrawn at the rate then being paid on the deposit. No penalty is charged for withdrawal following death or determination of incompetence of an account owner. For CDs that pay interest monthly, the penalty is calculated on the principal amount withdrawn. However, we generally do not allow partial withdrawals of principal.

Overdraft Protection

This section outlines two Citibank services that are designed to provide you with overdraft protection, as well as access to uncollected funds in your checking account. Enrollment is not automatic. Ask a CitiBusiness Specialist for enrollment information.

Termination: We reserve the right to withdraw these services at any time, or to change rules governing these services upon notice to you. We also reserve the right to terminate your participation in these services for any reason, including an overdue payment to your CitiBusiness Checking Plus account.

CitiBusiness Safety Check

CitiBusiness Safety Check covers overdrafts by transferring funds from your linked CitiBusiness IMMA or CitiBusiness Savings account to your CitiBusiness Checking account. CitiBusiness Safety Check will not permit you to get cash or make transfers between accounts if there are insufficient funds in your checking account.

The linked contributing account also covers the use of deposited funds that are not yet available in the checking account. For CitiBusiness Safety Check, you can link either your CitiBusiness IMMA or CitiBusiness Savings account as the contributing account.

How CitiBusiness Safety Check Works

Contributing Accounts: When you sign up for CitiBusiness Safety Check, you may select one account you maintain at Citibank as your “Contributing Account.” It can be either a CitiBusiness Savings account or a CitiBusiness Insured Money Market Account (IMMA). Certificates of Deposit are not eligible Contributing Accounts. Only available funds in your Contributing Account can be used for CitiBusiness Safety Check coverage.

When CitiBusiness Safety Check is used to cover your use of deposited funds in your checking account that are not yet available (uncollected), a like amount in your Contributing Account will be held until the deposited funds become available. The funds held in your Contributing Account are not transferred to the checking account and will continue to earn interest. Since no transfer of funds occurs, there is no transfer fee for use of this service in this circumstance.

When CitiBusiness Safety Check is used to cover an overdraft in your checking account, an amount necessary to cover the overdraft will be transferred from your Contributing Account. A transfer fee as more fully described below will apply when the service is used to cover an overdraft.

Transfer Maximums: Transfers are limited to the total available funds in the Contributing Account. If one or more transactions causes your checking account to have a negative available balance on a given day, and if you have available funds in your Contributing Account to cover them, only one overdraft transfer and fee will be processed for the total amount transferred to cover the transactions.

Federal regulations require Citibank to limit the total number of certain kinds of transfers (including CitiBusiness Safety Check transfers) from your Contributing Account. The total permitted from Savings is six per calendar month; the total permitted from CitiBusiness IMMA is six per calendar month. For details, see the “CitiBusiness Savings, IMMA and CDs” section on page 18. If the total number of transfers has reached the applicable monthly limit, no Safety Check transfers will be made for the remainder of that calendar month or statement period, and checks which overdraw your checking account will be returned.

Transfer Fee: There is a fee to cover an overdraft (see the “CitiBusiness Schedule of Standard Fees and Charges” brochure). The transfer fee will also be listed in your monthly statement.

CitiBusiness Checking Plus

CitiBusiness Checking Plus is a revolving line of credit that is attached to your checking account for availability of funds and overdraft protection. With CitiBusiness Checking Plus, you can withdraw funds or write checks for more than the available balance in your checking account — up to the amount available in your CitiBusiness Checking Plus line. CitiBusiness Checking Plus will give you immediate access to funds you deposit into your checking account.

How CitiBusiness Checking Plus Works

Your CitiBusiness Checking Plus line may be used to cover overdrawn balances in your checking account. This will result in an advance under your line for which a finance charge will be assessed in accordance with your CitiBusiness Schedule of Standard Fees and Charges.

Your CitiBusiness Checking Plus Line may also be used to cover your use of funds in your checking account that are not yet available (uncollected). For example, if you have $1,500 available in CitiBusiness Checking Plus and you deposit a $1,000 check at a Proprietary Citibank ATM you can withdraw funds from that deposit instantly—even if your available balance in your checking account was zero at the time you made the deposit. Your CitiBusiness Checking Plus line will be reduced by the amount utilized to cover your use of the uncollected funds, but no actual advance under your line will occur and no finance charge will be assessed under your CitiBusiness Schedule of Standard Fees and Charges.

CitiBusiness Checking Plus overdraft protection is subject to credit approval. For further information, or to apply, please contact your Relationship Manager, the CitiBusiness Service Center or a Branch.

Citibank's Standard Funds Availability Policy (All Marketplaces)

This section will help you determine when funds from deposits to your checking, savings and money market account will be available for withdrawal. Citibank's Standard Funds Availability Schedule describes the maximum time period it will take for your check deposits to become available for withdrawal. This section also describes certain types of deposits that are given special availability.

General Information

Determining the Effective Date of your Deposit: A business day is any day of the week that is not a Saturday, Sunday or bank holiday. Transactions you initiate on a non-business day will be considered to have an effective posting date of the following business day. The end of business day varies among our Branches. The end of business day is posted at each Branch. If you make a deposit after the close of a business day or on a weekend or holiday, your deposit will be considered received on the next business day. Please note that the end of business day for transactions done at Proprietary Citibank ATMs may be different than transactions done in a branch.

Night Depository. Deposits made at a night depository after the posted cut-off time or on a non-business day will be considered received on the next business day.

Lock Box Deposits. A deposit received in a lock box is considered made on the day we receive it for processing.

Remote Check Deposits. Deposits made through Remote Check Deposit after the local time indicated in your Remote Check Deposit Agreement will be considered received on the next business day. Local time is based on the location of your account's Home Branch.

Deposits Made at an ATM.

Deposits made at a Proprietary Citibank ATM after 10:30 PM Eastern Time (9:30 PM Central Time, 7:30 PM Pacific Time) or on a non-Business Day will be considered received on the next Business Day.

PLEASE NOTE: If you make a deposit in a branch, or at a Citibank ATM in California or Nevada and the branch where your account is domiciled is not located in either of those states, we will treat your deposit as being received on the next business day.

Deposits by Mail. A deposit received by mail is considered made on the day we receive it for processing.

Deposits Subject to Verification. All deposits accepted from you are subject to verification. Your account is credited for the amount shown on your deposit slip. Adjustments for errors in addition or subtraction may be posted to your account. Your account also may be adjusted for items you have in your deposit that we determine require special handling (for example: verification of prior endorsements).

Holds on Other Funds. If we cash a check for you that is drawn on another bank, and the amount of the check you cash is not entitled to same day availability in accordance with our general policy, we will place a hold on funds already in your account for an amount of the check you have cashed.

Citibank's Right to Chargeback. Citibank's policy on availability of funds from checks that you deposit will not affect your obligation to repay Citibank for any check that you deposit that is not paid, nor will it affect Citibank's right to charge back your account or to obtain reimbursement for any check that is not finally paid for any reason.

Saturday Availability. You will notice that “business days” are used to calculate the time it will take for your deposited funds to become available for withdrawal. An exception occurs when you deposit funds that would, according to these schedules, become available on Monday. For your convenience, Citibank will make those funds available for withdrawal on Saturday.

Changes to Our Policy. We will notify you of any change(s) to our Funds Availability policies as required by applicable law.

Standard Funds Availability Schedule

The following schedule and information applies to all check deposits not subject to the “Special Availability of Certain Deposits” section, shown below.

The second column in the schedule shows the number of business days (after the business day of deposit) that it will take for check deposits of $100,000 or less to become available for withdrawal. The third column shows the number of business days (after the business day of deposit) that it will take for check deposits in excess of $100,000 to become available for withdrawal. When you make a deposit or multiple check deposits in the course of a business day totaling more than $100,000, the portion in excess of $100,000 will likewise be available based on the third column. Any time you deposit two or more checks totaling more than $100,000, the check or checks with the fastest availability will be allocated to the portion of your deposit below $100,000.

Location	Deposits of $100,000 or less	Deposits of more than $100,000
Texas	1 business day	2 business days
All other markets	2 business days	3 business days

The First $200. The first $200 of your total business day’s check deposits is available on the business day after the business day of deposit, unless made with a teller in which case it is available immediately.

Special Availability of Certain Deposits

- U.S. Treasury Checks; Federal Reserve Bank Checks; Federal Home Loan Bank Checks; U.S. Postal Money Orders and Cash Deposits. Funds from these deposits are available on the next business day after the business day of deposit, unless made with a teller in which case they are available immediately.
- Direct Deposits and Wire Transfers. Deposits made electronically, such as directly deposited Social Security payments and wire transfers, are available on the same business day we receive them.
- State and Local Government Checks; Cashier’s Checks; Teller’s Checks; Certified Checks; Travelers Checks. Funds from these deposits are available on the next business day after the business day of deposit, unless made with a teller in which case they are available immediately. You must follow the special deposit procedures described below to obtain immediate availability.
- Citibank, N.A. checks drawn on a U.S. Citibank branch. Funds from these deposits are available on the next business day after the business day of deposit unless made with a teller, in which case they are available immediately. There must be available funds in the maker’s account at the time of deposit.

Special Deposit Procedures. You must utilize the following procedures to receive immediate availability for deposits of State and Local Government Checks, Cashier’s Checks, Teller’s Checks, Certified Checks and Traveler’s Checks: You must take your check deposit to a Teller and advise the Teller that you have a check eligible for immediate availability.

Exceptions to Citibank's Standard Funds Availability Policy

New Clients. You are considered a new client if you have not had a deposit account at Citibank for at least 30 days prior to your opening the account. For the first 30 days your new account is open, the following exceptions to Citibank's funds availability policies and schedules apply:

1. You will be entitled to all the benefits described in the "Special Availability of Certain Check Deposits" section of this brochure.
2. For check deposits not entitled to special availability your deposit will become available on the 3rd business day after the business day of deposit in Texas, or the 4th business day after the business day of deposit in all other markets.

Collection Items. We may require that any check you present for deposit be sent out for collection. That is, your funds will be available after we have received payment from the bank on which the check is drawn. You will be charged a fee for this service. Please refer to the Schedule of Standard Fees and Charges brochure.

Checks That May Not Be Collectible. Occasionally, a check is given to Citibank, which we decide not to accept for deposit or payment because we doubt the collectability of the funds. When this happens we will return the check to you or, if you request, send the check out for collection. On other occasions, we will learn that a check we have accepted for deposit may not be honored. Should this happen, we will delay the availability of the deposit for a reasonable period of time until the check is either paid or returned. In all cases, we will notify you of the action we take.

Foreign Checks: Checks in major currencies drawn on banks outside the United States are normally sent out for collection. We will make the funds available to you after we have received payment from the bank on which the check is drawn.

Events Beyond Our Control. In the event that we are unable to conduct business due to an interruption of communications or computer or other equipment facilities, suspension of payments by another bank, war, other emergency conditions or other circumstances beyond our control, it may be necessary to increase some or all of the time periods specified in these availability schedules. If this happens, we will try to inform you if possible.

Redeposit of Check(s) Returned Unpaid. We reserve the right to extend the time within which these checks become available.

Overdrafts. We may delay the availability of the deposit if you have overdrawn your account or have had frequent returned deposits.

Double-Endorsed Checks. When you deposit a check into your Citibank account, we ask you to endorse it with your signature or endorsement stamp. However, we reserve the right to refuse to accept for deposit any check that is not made payable directly to you. A double-endorsed check is one that is made payable to someone else and then endorsed to you by that person. In some cases, we will accept such checks on a "collection basis," which means that the funds will not be available to you until we have received payment from the bank on which the check is drawn. If you deposit a double-endorsed check by mail or at any of our automated facilities, we may return the check to you.

Account Transactions

Account Transactions apply to all CitiBusiness Checking Accounts, CitiBusiness Savings accounts and CitiBusiness IMMAs unless otherwise noted.

Deposits Subject to Verification/Count

All deposits of check, coin and currency are accepted subject to verification. When Citibank accepts your deposit at any Citibank location, we will credit your account for the amount shown on your deposit ticket. The amount credited to your account for your deposit, regardless of whether such funds are made available for withdrawal, is provisional and subject to adjustment by Citibank to the extent that Citibank determines that the amount of the deposit differs from the amount of the deposit as stated by you on your deposit ticket. Citibank's count of the deposit shall be conclusive and binding.

Pick-ups and deposits of checks, currency and coin can be made by anyone authorized in your Business Banking Resolution, or your authorized agent. We may, without liability, require evidence of authority acceptable to us.

Deposit Slips: We may require you to complete a deposit slip and include it with each deposit. Deposit slips are available at all Branches.

How to Endorse Your Check Deposits: To ensure that your check is processed without delay, it must be correctly endorsed. When you deposit a check, we ask you to endorse it with your endorsement stamp, including your account number, on the back. The diagram below shows where your endorsement stamp or signature must be placed.

The area allocated for your stamp or signature is on the back of the check, within 1 1/2" from the "top" edge (as shown in the diagram). Turn the check over and apply your endorsement stamp where indicated. The portion of the check that is not reserved for your endorsement must remain blank to allow other information to be added during the check collection process. This information must be legible in order to properly process the check. Please be sure not to make any additional marks or notations on the portion of the check that must be left blank.

Endorsement Stamp Specifications: To ensure that your endorsement complies with banking regulations, your endorsement stamp should conform to these standards:

- The size of the stamp should be no larger than 2" wide by 1-1/2" high.
- Citibank's 9-digit ABA number (as printed on the front of your check) must appear on both sides of the endorsement stamp. Type size should be at least 1/8" high. Citibank's ABA number must appear as shown on your check.
- The words "For Deposit Only" should appear along the top edge and the words "Citibank, N.A." should appear along the bottom edge.
- Your account title and complete account number should be printed clearly in the middle of the stamp. Please do not include your Branch number.

Citibank will not be responsible for any loss if your check is improperly endorsed.

Returned Checks: If you deposit a check that is returned to us unpaid, we will deduct the amount of the returned check from your account balance and return the check to you. There will also be a service charge.

We may, at our discretion, refuse to accept funds for deposit to your account for any reason including, but not limited to, checks that have not been properly endorsed or checks with multiple payees or endorsements. In accepting a check for deposit to your account, we may supply your missing endorsement.

Deposited Checks Lost in Transit: When you deposit cash or a check with us, we become your agent for the purpose of obtaining payment of the check. We may reverse the credit we gave you for any check you deposited or charge your account for any check you cashed if the check is not paid because it is lost or destroyed after it is out of our possession. Whether or not we reverse the credit, you agree to assist us in collecting the amount of any lost or destroyed items by providing us with such information, photocopies and other assistance as we request.

ACH Provisional Credits

Credit for an ACH transaction is provisional until the receiving financial institution obtains final settlement via the Federal Reserve Bank. If final settlement doesn't occur, the originator of the transfer is not deemed to have made payment to the beneficiary, and the beneficiary's bank is entitled to a refund of the provisional credit.

If we give you provisional credit for an ACH transaction, but do not receive final payment, you become obligated to us for the full amount without prior notice or demand.

Transfers

You can transfer funds between certain linked accounts at any Proprietary Citibank ATM, by calling our CitiBusiness Service Center, and through CitiBusiness Online.

Automatic Transfers: You can arrange for us to make automatic transfers between accounts. The minimum amount for each transfer is $10, and transfers can be arranged on a weekly, every other week or monthly basis. All CitiBusiness checking accounts, CitiBusiness Savings and CitiBusiness IMMAs permit automatic transfer withdrawals and accept automatic transfer deposits. You can also pay loans to your Business Credit Account and CitiBusiness Checking Plus with automatic monthly transfer payments from your CitiBusiness checking, IMMA or Savings account.

Canceling an Automatic Transfer: You can cancel an automatic transfer by visiting any Branch, calling us at the number listed on your statement, or by writing to us at the Client Service address that appears on your statement. We must receive your instructions at least three business days before the transfer is to be made.

Limits on Transfers: Federal regulations require us to limit the number of transfers of the following types from CitiBusiness Savings and CitiBusiness IMMA accounts: checks you write, automatic transfers (including Safety Checks transfers); recurring payments you set up in advance; payments and transfers you authorize using a telephone or personal computer, and transfers to third-party institutions requested at an ATM (i.e. transfers at an ATM for mortgage and/or credit card payments).

The maximum number of these transfers that you can make is six (6) per calendar month. If you have reached this limit, we reserve the right to refuse to process such a transfer. If this limit is exceeded three times in a twelve-month period, we will, in our sole discretion, either restrict access to your account, close your account, or transfer the funds in the account into another Citibank account you have (or that we open for you) that is not subject to these transaction limits, as will be further described in the notice that we will send concerning such excessive transaction activity.

Wire Transfers

The following terms apply to domestic or international transfers of funds initiated at or through a Citibank Branch or through CitiBusiness Online. Please also refer to any funds transfer agreement you may receive when you initiate such a request. Wire transfers initiated through CitiBusiness Online are also subject to the separate terms and conditions provided to users of that service including those posted online within the web site. Those terms and conditions will supersede any conflicting terms set forth in this Manual.

Debit Authorization: When you place an order to transfer money, you authorize us to debit your account for the amount of the order, and you authorize us to charge your account a service fee in accordance with our fee schedule in effect at the time of your order.

In placing the order, you must select a financial institution ("beneficiary bank") to receive it. You may instruct the beneficiary bank to credit an account or hold the funds for the beneficiary. The beneficiary bank is responsible for following your instructions and letting the beneficiary know when the funds become available. If you specify an account number to credit, you are acknowledging three things:

- You know that the beneficiary bank may credit an account based on that account number.
- The beneficiary bank is not obligated to verify that the account number belongs to the intended beneficiary of the transfer.
- Any losses resulting from an incorrect account number or other misidentification of the beneficiary are your responsibility and not Citibank's.

International Transfers: For funds transferred to beneficiaries and beneficiary banks in other countries, we will require that you specify the currency of the wire transfer. If you request the funds to be sent in U.S. dollars, we cannot guarantee that the beneficiary will receive the funds in U.S. currency. If you request the wire be sent in the currency of the destination country, we will normally convert the funds at the current Citibank currency conversion rate.

The local bank may charge a fee for currency conversion. The actual amount the beneficiary receives may be reduced by charges imposed by the beneficiary bank or a correspondent bank, including charges for exchange of currency.

An international transfer of funds into your account may be reduced by fees imposed by the sending bank or by any correspondent bank. Unless you advise us otherwise, we may charge your account to pay for fees imposed by beneficiary or correspondent banks or instruct such banks to obtain payment of these charges for services and expenses by deducting the amount from your order. A portion of those charges may be shared with us. In some instances we may also act as the correspondent bank.

In addition, in the case of transfers into your account which are sent in foreign currencies, we will convert the funds into U.S. dollars at the current Citibank conversion rate. Citibank's conversion rate for both outgoing and incoming foreign funds transfers includes a commission for the conversion service.

Security Procedures: When you place an order for a funds transfer, we will follow a security procedure established for your protection and ours to verify that the transfer has been properly authorized. You understand that the security procedure is designed only to verify the source of the funds transfer instruction and not to detect errors in the content of that instruction. The procedure depends on the means by which you provide instructions to us. The procedure may entail a telephone call back when your funds transfer order exceeds a predetermined dollar threshold. By placing a transfer order, you agree to our use of the applicable security procedure. You agree to be bound by the resulting transfer, whether or not authorized by you, provided we have accepted the transfer order in accordance with our established security procedure.

Claims: You have the responsibility to let us know of any error, delay or other problem with your funds transfer within 30 days from the date you receive notification that we have transferred the funds. In the event of an error or delay with respect to your funds transfer caused by Citibank, our sole obligation to you is to pay or refund such amounts as may be required under applicable law. In no event will we be liable for any consequential or incidental damages in connection with your funds transfer. Any claim for interest payable by Citibank shall be at Citibank's savings account rate. If you fail to notify us of any claim concerning your funds transfer within one year from the date that you received notification that your funds transfer order has been executed, any claim by you will be barred under applicable law.

Delays or Non-Execution of Transfers: We will usually use electronic means to transfer money for you. We may, however, use any banking channel or other facility. We will not be liable for any delay or failure to send your funds transfer due to circumstances beyond our control. We will not be liable to you for any delay or failure to execute your funds transfer due to the acts or omissions of any intermediary or beneficiary bank.

Canceling or Changing a Transfer: If you decide to cancel or change your funds transfer order, you may do so only if we receive your instructions before we have sent the funds transfer and provided we have a reasonable time to act on your instructions. In general, after we have sent your funds transfer, you will not be able to cancel or change it unless the beneficiary bank consents to such a request. Citibank and/ or the beneficiary bank may impose a charge for canceling or changing a funds transfer and for any required currency conversion. Citibank will not be liable to you for any losses resulting from the failure of the beneficiary bank to cancel or change your funds transfer.

Rejecting a Transfer Request: We reserve the right to reject your order for a funds transfer. We may reject the order if you have insufficient funds in your account. We may reject the order if your order is unclear or incomplete or if for any other reason the order is unsatisfactory to us. See "Withdrawal Refusals" on page 33 for other reasons we may reject a funds transfer request.

Cut-Off Time for Executing Your Transfer Request: If your order for a funds transfer is received by us at or after our established cut-off hour for processing wires (check your local Branch for cut-off hours), your order may not be processed until the next business day.

Incoming Funds Transfers: You agree that Citibank will not send you a separate credit advice at the time an incoming funds transfer is credited to your account. Notice of incoming funds transfer to you will be deemed to have occurred when you receive your periodic bank statement containing a credit to your account for the funds received. Also, you can call the CitiBusiness Service Center or your dedicated service specialist when applicable to determine if a transfer has been credited to your account or check CitiBusiness Online for same day information.

Withdrawals

At a Branch: You can withdraw up to your available balance by cashing a check or making a withdrawal. You may be requested to present identification.

Withdrawals at a Proprietary Citibank ATM: You can use your Citibank Banking Card/CitiBusiness Debit Card to withdraw cash from your available balance at any Proprietary Citibank ATM location, 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Cash access is also available at Network ATM machines worldwide. There is a daily limit of up to $1,000 per business card per day for Citibank ATM location withdrawals. We may change these limits from time to time and at anytime based on security issues and other factors. See "Cash Withdrawal" on page 39 for more details.

At Network ATMs: With your Citibank Banking Card/CitiBusiness Debit Card, you can get cash and account information. Participating Network cash machines may impose other withdrawal limits. For additional information on network cash transactions, see "Network Charges" on page 41 for more details.

Withdrawal Refusals: In some instances, we may refuse a request for a withdrawal from an account. The following is a list of the most common reasons we refuse withdrawal requests:

- If the funds you wish to withdraw are not yet available (see "Citibank's Standard Funds Availability Policy" on page 26).
- If there are insufficient funds in your account.
- If you use a type of check not acceptable to us.
- If the funds you wish to withdraw are being held to cover a checking account withdrawal under our CitiBusiness Safety Check service.
- If the withdrawal you are requesting is of the type that is limited by federal regulations, and you have already reached the applicable limit.
- If the account is pledged as collateral for a loan.
- If we have been ordered by a court or other legal process not to permit the withdrawal.
- If you do not present us with appropriate identification or any other information that we may require.
- If we are aware of any dispute relating to the account.
- If we have some suspicion of fraud, irregularity or illegality.
- If we have placed a block on your account at your request.

Notice Requirement: As required by federal regulations, we reserve the right to require you to provide written notice at least seven days prior to an intended withdrawal from your CitiBusiness Interest Checking NOW, CitiBusiness Savings and CitiBusiness IMMA accounts. However, we do not presently exercise it.

Writing a Check: You can write a check for any amount up to the available balance in any of your CitiBusiness Checking Accounts. Checks must be written in U.S. dollars.

Paying Your Checks: The decision to pay your check or return it unpaid is made at the time the check is presented to Citibank, or earlier if Citibank receives electronic notification that a check you wrote has been presented for deposit at another bank. We may ignore any legal copy appearing on your checks (such as “Void after 60 days”). Citibank’s decision to pay or not to pay a check is based on funds available in your account and other factors. See “Overdrawing Your Account” below and “Withdrawal Refusals” above. Note that our decision regarding payment of your check is final when made and will not be affected by any subsequent deposits to your account.

Multiple Signature Requirements: You acknowledge that any multiple signature designation by you in any resolution, signature card or other Citibank documentation is a statement of your own internal policy. You agree that Citibank assumes no responsibility for the payment of a check, draft or other item drawn on any account which is honored and bears only a single authorized signature.

Facsimile Signature: You authorize Citibank to pay any check drawn on your account which bears or appears to bear a facsimile signature that you have provided to or filed with Citibank.

Uncollected Funds and Overdrawn Balances

Citibank has no obligation to pay or honor a check, item or other debit that is drawn against uncollected funds or overdrawn balances in your account. However, based upon a variety of factors which may change from time to time, we may elect to pay checks, items, or other debits drawn against uncollected funds or overdrawn balances in your account. Any such election to pay shall be in Citibank’s sole discretion and shall not relate to any other past or subsequent check, item or other debit, nor shall it constitute a course of dealing or a waiver of Citibank’s right to decline to pay any other check, item or other debit that is drawn against uncollected funds or overdrawn balances in your account. A daily interest charge of Prime + 3% will be applied in connection with those payments for the actual number of days there exists a negative available balance in your account. Please refer to the CitiBusiness Schedule of Fees and Charges for a full description of this charge.

If, for any reason, Citibank waives the interest charge on any payment creating or increasing a negative available balance in your account, such waiver shall not constitute a waiver of interest charges on any such payment thereafter. Each account owner is jointly or severally responsible for promptly repaying any overdrawn balances created in the account and associated interest charges, whether or not the owner participates in the transaction or benefits from its proceeds.

A processing fee will also be charged whenever a check is presented against uncollected funds or overdrawn balances. Therefore, based on various factors affecting the amount of uncollected funds and overdrawn balances in your account, your account may incur a daily interest charge and a processing fee for payments made against uncollected funds or overdrawn balances. The daily interest charge and processing fee may be offset by balances in your checking account that receive earnings credit. The processing fee is disclosed in the CitiBusiness Schedule of Fees and Charges.

If Citibank elects not to advance funds to pay checks, items or debits drawn against uncollected funds or overdrawn balances in your account, or if the amount of any such check, item, or debit is not fully covered by such advance, your CitiBusiness Safety Check coverage or CitiBusiness Checking Plus line of credit may be triggered to pay the check, item or debit request. For a description of these services and any applicable fees, please refer to the Section of the Manual entitled “Overdraft Protection” and/or your CitiBusiness Account Terms and Conditions.

Payment Processing Hierarchy

Generally, we credit your account for items and funds that have been accepted for deposit, and then process charges and transactions presented for payment against your account. The order of posting depends on a number of factors, including, when a transaction occurs, the type of transaction and the amount. Generally, checks and payments presented against your account will be paid in order of smallest to largest dollar amount which may also include certain other electronic transactions such as ACH debits and checks that have been converted into ACH debits. At any time we may modify the posting order at our sole discretion without notice to you. As such, if you wish to avoid an overdraft or the possibility of a rejected transaction, you should take steps to ensure that your account has sufficient funds to cover each of your transactions and our fees.

Post-Dated Checks: You agree not to write post-dated checks. If you do, we may or may not pay the check on the day it is presented.

All States Except New York: According to state law, if you write a postdated check on your account and intend that the check will not be paid by us until the date written on the check, you must notify Citibank at the time you write the check. In order for your notice to be effective, you should call the CitiBusiness Service Center or your dedicated service specialist when applicable and give us the number, payee and date of the check. You may also send written notice of your postdated check request to us at the address printed on your monthly statement. An oral or written request to register a postdated check is good for six (6) months and may be renewed for additional six (6) month periods by giving written notice to us within the period during which the original notice is in effect. A postdated check will be registered only if the notice is received at such time and in such manner as to afford us a reasonable opportunity to act on it before we take action with respect to the check. We will pay any postdated check that has not been properly registered with us or not registered in a timely manner.

Checks with Stale Dates: We have the right to pay a check even though the date on it is more than 6 months old. To make sure a check will not be paid, you should place a Stop Payment Order on it.

Stop Payment Orders: Any signer on the account can instruct us to stop payment on a check that has not been paid.

You can issue a stop payment order by using CitiBusiness Online or calling the CitiBusiness Service Center or your dedicated service specialist when applicable. Payment cannot be stopped on a check that has already been paid or that is in the process of being paid. At the time that you place a stop payment order, we may not be able to tell you whether the check has been paid or is in the process of being paid. We will confirm receipt of your order in writing, and you should advise us immediately of any changes or corrections. A stop payment order will stay in effect for 6 months, unless you instruct us to cancel it or to renew it, provided we have not already returned the check. The order may be renewed for additional six-month periods.

You'll need to provide your account number, the check number and amount, and the date the check was written. If this information is not exactly correct, the stop payment may not be effective.

We may pay the check when the stop payment order expires. Under certain circumstances, the law may allow the party in possession of the check to enforce payment, despite the stop payment order.

If you write a new check to replace one on which you have placed a stop payment order, be sure it has a different check number and date. It is also helpful if you write the word "replacement" on it so it is not mistaken for the original check.

You cannot place a stop payment order on official checks or international cheques, except when such checks have been lost, stolen, or destroyed. If such a check is lost, stolen, or destroyed within 90 days of the date the check was issued, you and/or the payee must sign a "Stop Payment Request and Indemnity" form. You may also be required to purchase a surety bond for twice the amount of the instrument. If you report the check lost, stolen or destroyed after 90 days of its issuance, Citibank will require you to sign a "Stop Payment Request and Indemnity" form.

Remotely Created Checks: If you provide your account number to a third party in order to charge your account by means of one or more remotely created checks (i.e., items which do not bear your actual signature, but purport to be drawn with your authorization), you authorize us to pay such drafts, even though they do not contain your signature and may exceed the amounts you authorized to be charged. This provision shall not obligate us to honor remotely created checks. We may refuse to honor remotely created checks without cause or prior notice, even if we have honored similar items previously.

You may not deposit remotely created checks (items not bearing the maker's signature, but purporting to be authorized by the maker) to an account with us without our prior, express written consent. If you deposit remotely created checks with us, you agree that we may withhold a portion of the proceeds of such checks in a reserve account, in an amount that we reasonably believe may be needed to cover future chargebacks, returned items, and/or claims that such checks were unauthorized. You grant us a security interest in the reserve account. Unless we agree otherwise in writing with you, reserve funds shall not bear interest. Our right to charge your account for returned checks will not be limited by the balance or existence of any reserve. Our rights with respect to the reserve, as well as the security interest granted to us, shall survive the termination of this agreement. We may discontinue accepting checks at any time without cause or prior notice.

Check Cashing

Third-Party Checks: A third-party check (one you received from another person) made payable to a business entity must be deposited to a business account. You can do this with your Citibank® Banking Card/CitiBusiness Debit Card, or at any Home Branch, with acceptable I.D. A hold will be placed on your account for the amount of the check until the check clears.

When you write one of your business checks to another person, that person, with proper identification, may be able to cash it at a Branch if the check is for $5,000 or less.* If the amount of the check is greater than $5,000, you must make arrangements with your Home Branch. Otherwise, the payee will be required to deposit the check to an account at Citibank or elsewhere. For checks presented for encashment to a California or Nevada Branch by a payee who does not bank with us, we may also require the payee to provide a fingerprint before cashing the check. If the payee refuses to provide a fingerprint, we may refuse to cash the check. You agree that our refusal to do so is reasonable and that we will not be liable to you for our refusal.

**Checks drawn on the Branch located in Delaware must be presented to that location for encashment.*

Restricted Transactions: In accordance with the Unlawful Internet Gambling Enforcement Act of 2006 (UIGEA) and Regulation GG, restricted transactions are prohibited from being processed through an account or relationship with Citibank.

The Citibank Banking Card/CitiBusiness Debit Card

In order to enjoy the convenience of banking through ATMs, you must have a Citibank® Banking Card/ CitiBusiness Debit Card. Citibank Banking Cards/CitiBusiness Debit Cards are issued to individuals who have Single Signing Authority for the firm's business checking accounts. A maximum of four (4) such signers may be issued Citibank Banking Cards/CitiBusiness Debit Cards. You will receive your Citibank Banking Card/ CitiBusiness Debit Card after you open a business checking account, CitiBusiness Insured Money Market Account, or CitiBusiness Savings account. Citibank Banking Cards/CitiBusiness Debit Cards are available at no charge. The individual signer's name, issue and expiration date, and a special Citibank Banking Card/ CitiBusiness Debit Card Identification Number are embossed on the Card. This number simply identifies the Card; it is not an account number.

Proprietary Citibank ATMs are available in California, Connecticut, Florida, Illinois, Maryland, Nevada, New Jersey, New York, Virginia and Washington, D.C. and in more than 20 countries worldwide.

The names and symbols for some participating ATM networks are printed on the back cover of this Manual. To get information about the locations of participating ATM Networks, call 1-877-528-0990. For information about any transaction charges, read the "CitiBusiness Schedule of Standard Fees and Charges" brochure. Once you have received your Citibank Banking Card, you should sign it and safeguard it. Do not lend it to anyone, for any reason.

Deposit Only Citibank Banking Card

All business deposit accounts are also eligible for an unlimited number of "Deposit Only Citibank Banking Cards." This card extends limited banking capability to conduct deposit only transactions at any of our Proprietary Citibank ATM locations; it may not be used at Network ATM machines. The name of the business, issue and expiration date and special Citibank Banking Card Identification Number are embossed on the Card. Like the Citibank Banking Card/CitiBusiness Debit Card this number simply identifies the card (all deposit only cards will have the same number); it is not an account number and there is no charge for the cards. Unlike the Citibank Banking Card/CitiBusiness Debit Card they do not expire. These cards can only be requested by an authorized signer on the account. You should request the return of your Deposit Only Citibank Banking Card from any employee who leaves your employment.

Your Personal Identification Number (PIN): Your Personal Identification Number (PIN) is a secret number for your Citibank Banking Card/CitiBusiness Debit Card that you receive when you open your account. A PIN is required for all Citibank Banking Card/CitiBusiness Debit Card transactions at Proprietary Citibank ATMs and Network ATMs. It ensures that you, and only you, can gain access to your money. You should keep your PIN confidential; no bank employee knows your PIN or will ever ask for it. If you change your PIN, you can choose any combination of the following:

- Four letters; and/or
- Four numbers (except all four zeros)

It should not be a birth date or part of a Social Security number or other numbers you may carry with you. For your own protection, do not reveal it to anyone and do not write it on your Citibank Banking Card/CitiBusiness Debit Card or anything else you carry in your purse or wallet. You may change your PIN at any time at any Proprietary Citibank ATM, or request your PIN be changed at any Branch, or through the CitiBusiness Service Center or your dedicated service specialist when applicable.

Overseas ATMs do not have keys with both letters and numbers. If your PIN contains letters, please learn their corresponding numbers, as letters will not always be noted on the keys. You should also be aware that non-Citibank ATMs and overseas ATMs may limit access to a primary checking account. While some non-Citibank ATMs will offer the choice of withdrawals from either checking or savings, others may not.

Citibank Banking Card/CitiBusiness Debit Card Cancellation: You may cancel your Citibank Banking Card/CitiBusiness Debit Card at any time for any reason. To do so, cut in half and dispose of it in a safe manner. You should also call the CitiBusiness Service Center to notify us of your intent to cancel your card. We have the right to cancel it, to take possession of it, and to demand its return at any time.

Transaction Records

You can choose to receive a record detailing the transactions you perform at an ATM. For deposits and payments made at ATMs, the record is not a formal receipt for a deposit or payment; your deposits and payments are accepted subject to verification by us. ATM transactions will be reported on your monthly account statements.

Point-of-Sale Transactions

Citibank ATM Card

You can use your Citibank ATM Card to purchase goods or services from merchant locations in the United States accepting the Interlink®, Maestro or Cirrus network brands, which includes virtually all U.S. merchant locations. You will authorize these transactions using your PIN.

CitiBusiness Debit Card Transactions

You can use your CitiBusiness Debit Card to purchase goods or services from merchant locations in the United States accepting the MasterCard, Maestro, Cirrus or Interlink brands.

If you prefer to have your transactions processed as PIN purchases, when making purchases, select “debit” when making your purchase.

You can also use your CitiBusiness Debit Card to purchase goods or services and/or receive cash from locations that accept MasterCard. These transactions are referred to as “signature transactions” in which you do not use your PIN and :

- Either you or a merchant designates the transaction, including purchases you sign for as well as small dollar purchases that do not require a signature, as a “credit” transaction
- You use your CitiBusiness Debit Card for Internet, phone and mail-order transactions.

“Direct Bill Payment”

For your information, if you use your Citibank® Banking Card or CitiBusiness Debit Card to set up “Direct Bill Payment” transactions with merchants, these may be processed as “PIN-Based” transactions, even though they may not require a PIN.

You can use your CitiBusiness Debit Card whenever you see these symbols:

Called “point-of-sale” or “POS” transactions, these purchases involve immediate electronic withdrawals from your primary checking account. Your daily POS purchase limit is $10,000 per business day and is in addition to your daily cash withdrawal limit (for example, you may withdraw $1,000 in cash from any ATM and make $10,000 in purchases from your primary checking account in one business day). If your card displays the MasterCard logo on the front, your daily limit for POS MasterCard transactions (also referred to by merchants as credit transaction) from your primary business checking account, authorized by your signature is $10,000. Please refer to the information under “Cash Withdrawal” on page 39 for a definition of business day for POS transactions. These transactions will appear in detail on your checking statement. We reserve the right to set a lower dollar limit for POS purchases occurring during an interruption in the electronic connection between the retail outlet and Citibank.

All POS transactions made with your Citibank Banking Card/CitiBusiness Debit Card are deducted from your linked Citibank primary checking account. You agree to only use your Citibank Banking Card/CitiBusiness Debit Card for lawful transactions. We reserve the right to block or deny certain merchant categories when you attempt to make purchases with your Citibank Banking Card/CitiBusiness Debit Card. These merchants include, but are not limited to, internet gambling sites.

When you use your Citibank Banking Card/CitiBusiness Debit Card for a POS transaction, certain merchants may ask us to authorize the transaction in advance and may estimate its final value. When we authorize the transaction, we commit to make the requested funds available when the transaction finally settles and may place a temporary hold on your account for the amount indicated by the merchant. Until the transaction finally settles or we determine that it is unlikely to be processed, the funds subject to hold will not be available to you for other purposes. We will only charge your account for the correct amount of the final transaction, however, and we will release any excess amount when the transaction finally settles.

Network Charges

When you use a non-Citibank ATM, you may be charged a fee by the ATM operator and/or the network that processed the transaction. For example, if the fee is $2, your $100 cash withdrawal will be charged to your Citibank account as $102. A fee may be imposed for a balance inquiry, even if you do not make a withdrawal or complete another type of transaction. See the CitiBusiness Schedule of Standard Fees and Charges brochure for information regarding Citibank's fees for using your Citibank Banking Card/CitiBusiness Debit Card at Network ATMs.

Transactions Made Outside the U.S. and Puerto Rico

International Transaction Charge. We will impose a transaction charge equal to 2% of the transaction amount (including credit and reversals) for each international transaction (foreign or U.S. currency) that you conduct outside the 50 United States or Puerto Rico. This charge will apply to ATM withdrawals made at Citibank and Non-Citibank ATMs and to all debit card purchases.

MasterCard Point of Sale Transactions. If your Citibank Banking Card/CitiBusiness Debit Card displays the MasterCard logo on the front and a POS transaction is completed outside the 50 United States or Puerto Rico utilizing the card, the merchant, network or card association that processes the transaction may convert any related debit or credit into U.S. dollars in accordance with its then current policies. MasterCard currently uses a conversion rate that is either: (a) selected from a range of rates available in the wholesale currency markets on the processing date (note: this rate may be different from the rate the MasterCard itself receives), or (b) the government-mandated rate. The conversion rate may be different from the rate in effect on the date of your transaction and the date it is posted to your account.

ATM Withdrawals and Other Transactions. For ATM withdrawals and other transactions that are not MasterCard Point of Sale transactions that are made outside the 50 United States or Puerto Rico that you perform utilizing the Citibank Banking Card/CitiBusiness Debit Card, Citibank will convert the transaction into a U.S. dollar amount using Citibank's procedures in effect at the time the transaction is processed. Currently, the currency conversion rate used to determine the transaction amount in U.S. dollars is based on either (1) a wholesale market rate or (2) a government-mandated rate in effect one day prior to the processing date. The currency conversion rate in effect on the processing date may differ from the rate in effect on the transaction date or the posting date.

Errors and Problem Resolution Procedures

If you think there has been an error in an electronic transaction, including the wrong amount of cash dispensed at a Proprietary Citibank ATM or Network ATM, an automatic deposit or a transfer that has not been credited properly, an incorrect Proprietary Citibank ATM Record or improper POS purchase receipt, contact us as soon as possible. You can call the CitiBusiness Service Center (see back cover for phone numbers) or your dedicated service specialist when applicable. Note: if the error concerns an ATM network transaction, be sure to contact Citibank — not the financial institution that operates the machine.

To assist you, our CitiBusiness Service Center representative will need to know:

- Your name and account number.
- The dollar amount of the suspected error.
- The type, time and date of the transaction.
- A description of the error or the transaction you are unsure about, and an explanation as clearly as possible why you believe it is an error or why you need more information.

We will investigate and resolve each problem as quickly as possible. As soon as you contact us, we will start our investigation. If you tell us orally, we may require that you send us your complaint or question in writing within 10 business days.

Unauthorized Transactions

You have the responsibility to notify us at once if you believe your Citibank Banking Card/CitiBusiness Debit Card has been lost or stolen, your PIN has been discovered, or someone has made a transaction using your account without permission. In addition, if your monthly statement shows transactions you did not make, you must notify us at once. Notify us by calling the CitiBusiness Service Center at the number on the back of this Manual or contact your dedicated service specialist when applicable.

Citibank Banking Card/CitiBusiness Debit Card Banking Security Tips

You can help prevent unauthorized access to your accounts by following these common sense rules:

- Keep your Citibank Banking Card/CitiBusiness Debit Card to yourself. Never use it to assist others as you might be allowing them to take money from your account;

ERISA Section 408(b)(2) Disclosure Document

If you have a retirement plan subject to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 ("ERISA"), by opening your account, your signature on the Business Deposit Account Application and other account opening documents constitutes your acknowledgement that you reviewed the below CitiBusiness ERISA Section 408(b)(2) Disclosure Document made available to you reasonably in advance of your deciding to open your account and that after your review, you made an independent decision that the fees and other compensation are reasonable for the services being provided by Citibank. Your signature further acknowledges that you consent to Citibank updating or changing the Disclosure Document by posting updated documents and/or notices at <http://citi.com/investorinfo/advisoryprivacy/408b2disclosures.html> and that it is your responsibility to check the website periodically for such updates.

ERISA Section 408(b)(2) Disclosure Document CitiBusiness Accounts

Introduction

This disclosure document ("Disclosure Document") provides an overview of the fees and other compensation charged for or otherwise related to the services provided by Citibank, N.A. ("Citibank"), or other Citigroup Inc. businesses (collectively "Citi"), with respect to certain employee benefit plans that have opened a CitiBusiness Account at Citi ("Account"). This document is intended to include the information required by the Department of Labor regulation under Section 408(b)(2) of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended ("ERISA"), which is commonly known as the service provider fee disclosure rules (referred to herein as the "408(b)(2) Regulation"). You may access the full text of the Department of Labor's final 408(b)(2) Regulation at <http://www.dol.gov/ebsa/pdf/2012-02262-PH.pdf>. This Disclosure Document should be read in conjunction with your CitiBusiness Client Manual, the CitiBusiness Schedule of Standard Fees and Charges and other account-related documents (referred to collectively as "Client Documents").

The following information reflects our current arrangements for services that may be provided to or offered to your plan in connection with its Account at Citi. Your plan may also receive services from other Citi affiliated and non-affiliated service providers, such as a third-party administrator. To the extent that your plan receives services from Citi that are outside of the scope of the services covered by this Disclosure Document, please refer to the disclosure documents specifically relating to those services. For services and related fees and expenses associated with services provided by parties that are not affiliated with Citi, please refer to the disclosure documents provided by that service provider or contact them directly.

Explanation of Services: Citi provides a variety of business banking account options, including interestbearing and non-interest-bearing demand deposit checking accounts, savings accounts, insured money market accounts (IMMA) and certificates of deposit accounts. These services may include certain sub-services that are not specifically stated. With respect to your Account, Citi does not provide cash management services. For more information regarding the services that Citi makes available, please review your Client Documents.

Explanation of Status/Capacity: In providing services contemplated under the Client Documents, Citi operates solely in the capacity of a depository institution and is not acting as a fiduciary to your plan.

Explanation of types of compensation:

Direct Compensation means payments made directly by the plan for services rendered to the plan. Direct compensation disclosed in this Disclosure Document are dollar amounts earned and retained by Citi on a cash basis.

Indirect Compensation means compensation received from sources other than directly from the plan or plan sponsor in connection with the services provided to the plan. In certain circumstances, the payment of indirect compensation to Citi may depend on several factors, including the elapsed time period during which deposits are held at Citi.

Direct Compensation

None. All fees and charges are waived for your Account.

Indirect Compensation Paid from Sources Other than the Plan

Benefits from Bank Deposits: Citi obtains financial benefits attributable to the Account's cash balances invested in Citi deposits. This is because Citi may invest these cash balances or use them to fund certain of its business activities, whereby Citi keeps the difference between any interest paid to the Account and other costs incurred by it with respect to these cash balances and the interest or other income earned on its loans, investments and other assets obtained with the use of these cash balances.

Termination Fee: None.

Additional disclosures regarding compensation that may be received by Citi or related parties

Citi or a related party may receive other forms of compensation not described above. Generally, these payments are not attributable to any individual account or client.

Marketing Support, Conferences, Sales Meetings and Similar Activities

Citi may receive marketing and training support payments, conference subsidies, and other types of financial and non-financial compensation and incentives from mutual fund companies, insurance and annuity companies and other investment product distributors, investment advisors, broker-dealers and other vendors to support the sale of their products and services to Citi clients. These payments may include reimbursement for Citi's participation in sales meetings, seminars and conferences held in the normal course of business. These payments may also include reimbursements for costs and expenses incurred by Citi in sponsoring conferences, meetings and similar activities. These payments are received by Citi in connection with all of its accounts and are not dependent on or related to the amount of assets invested in your Account. Because they are based on all of Citi's accounts, they cannot reasonably be allocated to any particular account. The providers independently decide what they will spend on these types of activities and do not share this information with Citi subject to regulatory guidelines and Citi policies. The amount of any expense reimbursement or payment to Citi is dependent on which activities Citi participates in or sponsors, the amount of that participation and other factors and is determined by the provider.

Receipt of Gifts, Gratuities and Nonmonetary Compensation to Citi

From time to time, third-party vendors (such as investment product distributors and providers, mutual fund companies, investment advisors, insurance and annuity companies, broker-dealers, wholesalers, etc.) may provide Citi with non-monetary gifts and gratuities, such as promotional items (i.e., coffee mugs, calendars or gift baskets), meals and access to certain industry-related conferences or other events (collectively, "gifts"). Citi has implemented policies and procedures to comply with current regulations intended to ensure that Citi and its employees worldwide avoid actual or perceived conflicts of interest when giving or receiving gifts and entertainment from relevant parties, and comply with all applicable laws and regulations including the U.S. Bank Bribery Act and the U.S. Foreign Corrupt Practices Act. Under the Citi policy, the maximum value that may generally be received by any individual in any calendar year for a gift is $100.00, and for meals and entertainment the maximum is $250.00 per event. Entertainment must be appropriate, customary and reasonable and clearly not meant to influence Citi business or serve as a "quid pro quo" for it to be accepted by Citi. To the extent any gift, gratuity or nonmonetary compensation is paid to or received by Citi, we believe it is insubstantial with respect to any particular account or client.

Referral/Solicitor Fees

If your account was referred to us by a third party, please refer to the applicable disclosure letter/document provided to you at the time of the referral for information regarding any fees that may have been paid by Citi to the referring party.

The foregoing are the services, transactions and fees that may be offered to plan clients. Certain services or transactions referenced or discussed herein or otherwise provided with respect to your Account may not require an ERISA prohibited transaction exemption or may be covered by an exemption other than Section 408(b)(2) of ERISA and as such, are not covered by this Disclosure Document. You should refer to your Client Documents (or disclosure document provided by Citi or other service provider) for information on any fee not specifically referenced herein that could be charged to your Account.

If you have any questions concerning this 408(b)(2) Disclosure Document or the information provided to you concerning our Account services and compensation, or need a copy of the Client Documents, please contact your Citibank representative.

EFFECTIVE DATE: IMMEDIATELY

AMENDMENT:

EFFECTIVE IMMEDIATELY, the Electronic Banking section of the Client Manual is amended by updating the “MasterCard MoneySend” subsection under the subsection titled “Citibank Banking Card/CitiBusiness Debit Card” as follows:

Debit Card Payment and Transfers. You can use your Debit Card to send funds person-to-person, or receive funds from a person, business or governmental agency through participating merchants and merchant websites. You can send up to $1,000 per calendar day and $10,000 per month when making a person-to-person transfer and up to $2,500 per calendar day and $10,000 per month when receiving person-to-person transfers. You can receive up to $50,000 per calendar month from a business or governmental agency. Payments you receive will appear on your statement as “DEBIT CARD TRANSFER CREDIT” and funds you transfer to another person will appear on your statement as “DEBIT CARD TRANSFER DEBIT.”

EFFECTIVE DATE: IMMEDIATELY

AMENDMENT:

Effective IMMEDIATELY, the “Payment Processing Hierarchy” and “Uncollected Funds and Overdrawn Balances” paragraphs under the section titled “Withdrawals” have been updated as follows:

Payment Processing Hierarchy

Generally, we credit your account for items and funds that have been accepted for deposit, and then process charges and transactions presented for payment against your account. The order of posting depends on a number of factors, including, when a transaction occurs, the type of transaction and the amount. Generally, checks and payments presented against your account will be paid in order of smallest to largest dollar amount which may also include certain other electronic transactions such as ACH debits and checks that have been converted into ACH debits. At any time, we may modify the posting order at our sole discretion without notice to you. As such, if you wish to avoid an overdraft or the possibility of a rejected transaction, you should take steps to ensure that your account has sufficient funds to cover each of your transactions and our fees. Please refer to the section titled “Citibank’s Standard Funds Availability Policy (All Marketplaces)”. For the most accurate and up to date information regarding your account please refer to the Amendments to the CitiBusiness Client Manual, U.S. Markets.

Uncollected Funds and Overdrawn Balances

A draw against uncollected funds occurs when a transaction, item or other debit exceeds the amount of funds available for immediate use in the account. An overdraft or overdrawn balance occurs when one or more transactions exceed your available balance and may result in a negative balance. When multiple overdrafts or items are presented to process against uncollected funds occur on the same day, related fees may be combined into a single charge on your statement summary. Citibank has no obligation to pay or honor a check, item or other debit that is drawn against uncollected funds or overdrawn balances in your account. However, based upon a variety of factors which may change from time to time, we may elect to pay checks, items, or other debits drawn against uncollected funds or overdrawn balances in your account. Any such election to pay shall be in Citibank’s sole discretion and shall not relate to any other past or subsequent check, item or other debit, nor shall it constitute a course of dealing or a waiver of Citibank’s right to decline to pay any other check, item or other debit that is drawn against uncollected funds or overdrawn balances in your account. Citibank reserves the right to charge a fee when we pay an overdraft or process items against uncollected funds or return an item unpaid for an overdrawn balance. A daily interest charge of the current prime rate + 3% will be applied in connection with those payments for the actual number of days there exists a negative available balance in your account. Please refer to the “Additional Transaction Services Charges” in your CitiBusiness Standard Schedule of Fees and Charges for a full description of this charge.

If, for any reason, Citibank waives the interest charge on any payment creating or increasing a negative available balance in your account, such waiver shall not constitute a waiver of interest charges on any such payment thereafter. Each account owner is jointly or severally responsible for promptly repaying any overdrawn balances created in the account and associated interest charges, whether or not the owner participates in the transaction or benefits from its proceeds.

A service fee may also be charged when a check, ACH, item, or other debit is presented against uncollected funds or overdrawn balances. Therefore, based on various factors affecting the amount of uncollected funds and overdrawn balances in your account, your account may incur a daily interest charge and a service fee for payments made against uncollected funds or overdrawn balances. The daily interest charge and service fee may be offset by balances in your checking account that receive earnings credit. For descriptions of the service fee and the interest charge, please refer to the “Additional Transaction Services Charges” in your CitiBusiness Standard Schedule of Fees and Charges.

If Citibank elects not to advance funds to pay checks, items or debits drawn against uncollected funds or overdrawn balances in your account, or if the amount of any such check, item, or debit is not fully covered by such advance, your CitiBusiness Safety Check coverage or CitiBusiness Checking Plus line of credit may be triggered to pay the check, item or debit request. For a description of these services and any applicable fees, please refer to the section entitled “Overdraft Protection.”

Citibank’s Standard Funds Availability Policy (All Marketplaces)

This section will help you determine when deposits to your checking, savings and money market account(s) will be available for withdrawal. It describes the maximum time period it will take for your deposits to become available for withdrawal. It also describes certain types of deposits that are given special availability. Please note that the availability of deposits made via the Mobile Check Deposit service is described separately in the agreement governing that service.

Determining the Date of Deposit

The day funds become available is determined by counting business days from the day of your deposit. Every day is a business day except Saturdays, Sundays and federal holidays. If you make a deposit before our established cutoff time on a business day that we are open, we will consider that day to be the day of deposit. However, if you make a deposit after our cutoff time or on a non-business day, we will consider the next business day we are open to be the day your deposit is received.

- Deposits made in person with a teller before the end of the business day are considered received that day. The end of business day is posted at each branch and may vary by branch location.
- Deposits made at Citibank ATMs and non-Citibank ATM facilities before 10:30pm Eastern Time (9:30pm Central Time; 7:30pm Pacific Time) are considered received that day.
- Deposits made using the Remote Check Deposit service before 11:00pm Eastern Time (10:00pm Central Time; 8:00pm Pacific Time) are considered received that day.
- Deposits made at a night depository or received at a lock box facility are considered received by Citibank when the deposit is removed from the night depository or lockbox, which will be no later than the next business day.

- Check deposits can be made by mail. A check deposit received by mail is considered made on the day we receive it at the mail facility designated below. Check deposits made by mail and addressed to any other Citibank address will be forwarded to the designated facility for processing and will be considered received on the date the deposit is received by this facility. Mailed deposits should include deposit ticket or list of checks, including company name and account number for deposit. Deposits mailed without a deposit ticket must have the account number written in the endorsement section on the back of each check. All checks must be properly endorsed by the business. Checks will post within 72 hours of receipt.

For check deposits made at a physical lockbox location in Texas or at a Citibank ATM located in Texas, such deposits will be available on the second business day).

Longer Delays May Apply

- Doubt of collectability — We may delay the full amount of any check you deposit up to 5 business days if we have reason to believe the check you have deposited will not be paid. Should this occur, we will send you a deposit hold notice no later than the next business day after we decide to take this action.
- Emergency situations — We may delay the full amount of any check you deposit up to 7 business days if we are unable to conduct business due to an interruption of communications, computer equipment facilities or other emergency conditions beyond our control, such as the impact of a natural disaster. Should this occur, we will notify you if we are able to do so.

Collection Items

We may require that a check received for deposit be sent out for collection. This may occur, for example, if the check is drawn on an institution outside the United States. We will make the funds available to you after we receive payment from the bank on which the check is drawn. A service fee will generally apply. Please refer to the Schedule of Standard Fees and Charges.

Holds on Other Funds

If we cash a check that is drawn on another bank, we may withhold the availability of a corresponding amount already in your account. Those funds will be made available on the day they would have been available if you had deposited the check.

Our Right of Chargeback

The availability of funds from checks that you deposit will not affect your obligation to repay Citibank for any check that you deposit that is not paid nor does it affect our right to charge back your account for any check that is not paid.

Changes to Our Policy

We will notify you of any change(s) to our Funds Availability policies as required by applicable law.

EFFECTIVE DATE: IMMEDIATELY

Currently, Citibank does not impose an extended delay on the redeposit of check(s) returned unpaid. Therefore, effective immediately, the “Exceptions to Citibank’s Standard Funds Availability Policy” section of the CitiBusiness Client Manual is amended as follows:

The subsection titled “Redeposit of Check(s) Returned Unpaid” is deleted in its entirety.

EFFECTIVE DATE: NOVEMBER 1, 2020

1. The “General Information” section of the CitiBusiness Client Manual that begins on page 3 is amended as follows:

The subsection titled “Changing Your Account Records” located on page 4 is deleted in its entirety and replaced with the following new subsection:

It is important that your account records be kept up to date. You have a responsibility to provide us with your physical mailing address (not a post office box). Please inform us of any change in your business address, including your physical mailing address or your electronic mail address. Be sure to change the address on all of your accounts. If you fail to do so, we shall not be liable for errors, debits or charges to, or your inability to transact in, your account resulting from such failure.

The subsection titled “Account Errors and Adjustments” located on page 4 is amended by deleting the first paragraph of such subsection and replacing it with the following new paragraph:

We may make adjustments to your account whenever a correction or change is required. Adjustments might occur, for example, if a deposit amount is entered in an amount that is different than the actual amount of the deposit or items you deposit are returned unpaid. In the case of a deposit error where the deposit amount is entered in the wrong amount, we will either investigate the error and make an adjustment (debit or credit) to your account or, alternatively, credit your account for the full amount of the discrepancy without investigation.

The subsection titled “Opening an Account” that begins on page 5 is amended by deleting the third sentence on page 6 and replacing it with the following new paragraph:

In addition, we collect and use personal information from or about you to process applications, service your accounts or otherwise run our business. The personal information can include information about your account and transactions, and information we receive from credit reporting agencies and other sources. We share this information with our affiliates or third parties to check creditworthiness, service your accounts, market products or services, or otherwise run our business as permitted by applicable law.

2. The “Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act (FATCA)” section of the Client Manual that begins on page 9 is deleted in its entirety and replaced with the following section:

In order for Citibank to comply with the provisions of the Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act (FATCA), a U.S. federal tax law, Citibank may request additional information and/or documentation. Furthermore, you should not rely upon Citibank to determine the impact of FATCA on your business activities or what your compliance obligations are under FATCA. Citibank encourages you to seek the advice of experienced tax advisors to determine what actions you need to take to become FATCA compliant. Your failure to comply with FATCA may result in restricted access or withholding of taxes from interest payments due to you.

If your business is organized as a partnership, these terms shall remain in full force and effect despite changes in the parties comprising your partnership. For this purpose, your “partnership” shall include any altered or successor partnership, but the predecessor partnerships and their partners shall not thereby be released from any liability. Citibank may require new partners to execute documentation relating to the accounts.

3. The “Governing Law” section of the Client Manual that begins on page 9 is deleted in its entirety and replaced with the following section:

Accounts and services are governed by federal laws and regulations and, to the extent not preempted by federal law or otherwise inapplicable, by your “governing state law.” Your governing state law, if you first opened your account or enrolled for a service at a branch, is that of the state in which that branch is located, regardless of the state where your business is located or where you reside. Your governing state law in all other cases, including if you opened your account or enrolled for a service remotely (for example by Citibank® Online or CitiPhone Banking®), is deemed to be the law of the State of South Dakota, unless a specific agreement states otherwise.

How CitiBusiness Checking Balances are Maintained:

For regulatory and accounting purposes, all CitiBusiness checking accounts (whether interest-bearing or non-interest-bearing) consist of two sub-accounts: (i) a transaction sub-account into which all financial transactions are posted; and (ii) a savings sub-account into which available balances above a pre-set level are transferred daily. Transfers to and from the savings sub-account will be periodically made when available balances in the transaction sub-account exceed a preset level or fall below a predetermined level, as applicable. Transfers between these sub-accounts are in accordance with federal regulations.

This structure will not impact the use of your account or your bank statement and both sub-accounts are treated as a single account for purposes of customer deposits and withdrawals, applicable interest, fees, FDIC insurance, and other features. As required by federal regulations, we reserve the right to require seven days’ advance notice before permitting withdrawals from only the savings subaccount portion of your account. However, we do not presently exercise this right.

The “Standard Funds Availability Schedule” section of the Client Manual that begins on page 27 is deleted in its entirety and replaced with the following section:

The following schedule applies to all check deposit(s) made during any Business Day, except as set forth under “Special Availability of Certain Deposits”

Deposits of $100,000 or less will be available two (2) Business Days after deposit, and deposits in excess of $100,000 will be available three (3) Business Days after deposit. When you make a single deposit, or multiple deposits in the course of a Business Day, totaling more than $100,000, the portion in excess of $100,000 will be available three (3) Business Days after deposit. Any time you deposit two (2) or more checks totaling more than $100,000, the check or checks with the fastest availability will be allocated to the portion of your deposit below $100,000.

The first $225 of your total Business Day’s check deposits is available on the Business Day after the Business Day of deposit, unless made with a teller, in which case it is available immediately.

5. The “Electronic Banking” section of the Client Manual that begins on page 37 is amended by adding the following new subsection on page 40 after the subsection entitled “Transaction Records:”

MasterCard MoneySend

You can use your Debit Card to send funds person-to-person, or receive funds from a person, business or governmental agency through participating merchants and merchant web sites using Mastercard MoneySend. You can send up to $1,000 per calendar day and $10,000 per month when making a person-to-person transfer and up to $2,500 per calendar day and $10,000 per month when receiving person-to-person transfers. You can receive up to $50,000 per calendar month from a business or governmental agency. Payments you receive will appear on your statement as “MoneySend Credit” and funds you transfer to another person will appear on your statement as “MoneySend Debit.”

6. The subsection titled “Receipt of Gifts, Gratuities and Nonmonetary Compensation to Citi” which begins on page 45 of the Client Manual is deleted in its entirety and replaced with the following:

From time to time, third-party vendors (such as investment product distributors and providers, mutual fund companies, investment advisors, insurance and annuity companies, broker-dealers, wholesalers, etc.) may provide Citi with non-monetary gifts and gratuities, such as promotional items (i.e., coffee mugs, calendars or gift baskets), meals, entertainment and access to certain industry related conferences or other events (collectively, “gifts”).

Citi has implemented policies and procedures to help ensure compliance with all applicable laws and regulations (including the U.S. Bank Bribery Act and the U.S. Foreign Corrupt Practices Act). These are intended to ensure that Citi and its employees worldwide avoid actual or perceived conflicts of interest when giving or receiving gifts and entertainment from relevant parties.

The policies and procedure limit the maximum value that may generally be received by any individual to (i) $100.00 in any calendar year for a gift, and (ii) $250.00 for meals and entertainment (sporting events, theater, or other comparable entertainment), in each case (subject to preapproval), per vendor, per day, and an aggregate maximum of $1,000.00 per calendar year per vendor.

The foregoing must be appropriate, customary and reasonable and clearly not meant to influence Citi business or serve as a “quid pro quo” for it to be accepted by Citi. To the extent any gift, gratuity or non-monetary compensation is paid to or received by Citi, we believe it is insubstantial with respect to any particular account or client.

All other terms and conditions of the CitiBusiness Client Manual, U.S. Markets remain in full force and effect. Terms, conditions and fees for accounts, products, programs and services are subject to change.

CitiBusiness® Standard Schedule of Fees and Charges

California and Nevada

We reserve the right to change our services, fees, charges, balance requirements and earnings credit. All accounts and services are subject to approval.

CitiBusiness Earnings Credit, Fees and Charges

Earnings Credit can be generated by the eligible balances in a CitiBusiness checking account (“Eligible Account”). Earnings Credit is variable at Citibank’s discretion and can be used to offset Monthly Maintenance Charges, Transaction Service Charges and cash management and other banking services fees on Eligible Accounts as well as these other accounts linked to Eligible Accounts (“Designated Accounts”):

- CitiBusiness Interest Checking
- CitiBusiness IMMA
- CitiBusiness Savings

Your Earnings Credit is calculated each month if the combined monthly Average Daily Collected Balance in your linked Eligible Accounts equals $5,000 or more (“Eligible Balance”). A variable earnings credit rate based upon the 90-day U.S. Treasury Bill, applied to 100% of the account’s eligible balance, determines your Earnings Credit for that month.

Earnings Credit cannot be carried over from month-to-month and cannot be used for any purpose other than the reduction of the designated charges for that month. CitiBusiness Streamlined Checking, CitiBusiness Flexible Checking, CitiBusiness IOLTA, CitiEscrow Accounts and Security Deposit Account are not eligible to generate or participate in benefits of Earnings Credit. Eligible balances may be tiered and higher balances may earn higher Earnings Credit rates. For Earnings Credit information, call us at 1-877-528-0990. For TTY: We accept 711 or other Relay Service.

New York

We reserve the right to change our services, fees, charges, balance requirements and earnings credit. All accounts and services are subject to approval.

CitiBusiness Earnings Credit, Fees and Charges

Earnings Credit can be generated by the eligible balances in a CitiBusiness checking account (“Eligible Account”). Earnings Credit is variable at Citibank’s discretion and can be used to offset Monthly Maintenance Charges, Transaction Service Charges and cash management and other banking services fees on Eligible Accounts as well as these other accounts linked to Eligible Accounts (“Designated Accounts”):

- CitiBusiness Interest Checking
- CitiBusiness IMMA
- CitiBusiness Savings

Your Earnings Credit is calculated each month if the combined monthly Average Daily Collected Balance in your linked Eligible Accounts equals $5,000 or more (“Eligible Balance”). A variable earnings credit rate based upon the 90-day U.S. Treasury Bill, applied to 100% of the account’s eligible balance, determines your Earnings Credit for that month.

Earnings Credit cannot be carried over from month-to-month and cannot be used for any purpose other than the reduction of the designated charges for that month. CitiBusiness Streamlined Checking, CitiBusiness Flexible Checking, CitiBusiness IOLTA, CitiEscrow Accounts and Security Deposit Account are not eligible to generate or participate in benefits of Earnings Credit. Eligible balances may be tiered and higher balances may earn higher Earnings Credit rates. For Earnings Credit information, call us at 1-877-528-0990. For TTY: We accept 711 or other Relay Service.

CitiBusiness Earnings Credit, Fees and Charges

Earnings Credit can be generated by the eligible balances in a CitiBusiness checking account (“Eligible Account”). Earnings Credit is variable at Citibank’s discretion and can be used to offset Monthly Maintenance Charges, Transaction Service Charges and cash management and other banking services fees on Eligible Accounts as well as these other accounts linked to Eligible Accounts (“Designated Accounts”):

- CitiBusiness Interest Checking
- CitiBusiness IMMA
- CitiBusiness Savings

Your Earnings Credit is calculated each month if the combined monthly Average Daily Collected Balance in your linked Eligible Accounts equals $5,000 or more (“Eligible Balance”). A variable earnings credit rate based upon the 90-day U.S. Treasury Bill, applied to 100% of the account’s eligible balance, determines your Earnings Credit for that month.

Earnings Credit cannot be carried over from month-to-month and cannot be used for any purpose other than the reduction of the designated charges for that month. CitiBusiness Streamlined Checking, CitiBusiness Flexible Checking, CitiBusiness IOLTA, CitiEscrow Accounts and Security Deposit Account are not eligible to generate or participate in benefits of Earnings Credit. Eligible balances may be tiered and higher balances may earn higher Earnings Credit rates. For Earnings Credit information, call us at 1-877-528-0990. For TTY: We accept 711 or other Relay Service.

Investment Finance	Margin and Securities-Backed Finance	https://www.privatebank.citibank.com/home/investment-finance/margin.html We enable qualified clients to borrow at competitive rates against investments including equities, cash and equivalents, bonds, and mutual funds. The funds raised can be used for a variety of purposes, such as achieving liquidity, real estate purchases and business investment. Getting more out of your assets: Margin and securities-backed finance (MSBF) loans can help make even more efficient use of your portfolio. Qualified clients can enter into an MSBF loan while keeping their existing investment strategy in place. This can potentially allow the deferral of taxes, retention of dividends and the preservation of ownership benefits. Broad range of collateral: Our experts specialize in helping to meet unique needs based on specific circumstances. We are able to lend against large concentrated positions within securities, hedge fund investments, exchange traded funds, other structured notes, derivatives, restricted stock and operating company interests. Borrowing across borders: The global nature of our business enables us to lend against assets owned in other jurisdictions. For example, we may lend against securities held in Singapore to finance the purchase of a residential property in London. Our specialists around the world work together as one team to help achieve cross-border solutions. The risk of loss in financing a transaction by deposit of collateral is significant. You may sustain losses in excess of your cash and any other assets deposited as collateral with the lender or the lender's agent. Market conditions may make it impossible to execute contingent orders, such as "stop-loss" or "stop-limit" orders. You may be called upon at short notice to make additional margin deposits or interest payments. If the required margin deposits or interest payments are not made within the prescribed time, your collateral may be liquidated without your consent. Moreover, you will remain liable for any resulting deficit in your account and interest charged on your account. You should therefore carefully consider whether such a financing arrangement is suitable in light of your own financial position and investment objectives. You are not entitled to choose which securities or other assets in your account(s) are liquidated or sold to meet a margin call. The firm can increase its margin requirements at any time and is not required to provide you advance written notice. You are not entitled to an extension of time on a margin call. Citi has the right to demand repayment of a demand facility at any time, for any reason or no reason. All credit products are subject to credit approval.

Our services include identifying acquisition targets, advising on sale opportunities, providing appraisals, valuations and analysis, negotiating with owners and leagues, and advising upon ongoing operations. Using our broad network, we are able to connect suitable buyers and sellers around the world. Financing your transactions: Our long experience has given us a deep understanding of the highly specialized needs of sports transactions. We can deliver bespoke financing strategies for individuals, leagues and teams. Our customized loans can help clients acquire franchises; generate working capital, refinance, recapitalize, fund venue construction and renovations; and more. Bringing you the power of Citi: As a specialized offering within Citi's global organization, Sports Finance &amp; Advisory is uniquely positioned to provide clients a full range of services. We also take advantage of Citi's cutting-edge execution and trading infrastructure to provide you with institutional-caliber access to commodities. Factors affecting commodities generally, index components composed of futures contracts on nickel or copper, which are industrial metals, may be subject to a number of additional factors specific to industrial metals that might cause price volatility. These include changes in the level of industrial activity using industrial metals (including the availability of substitutes such as man-made or synthetic substitutes); disruptions in the supply chain, from mining to storage to smelting or refining; adjustments to inventory; variations in production costs, including storage, labor and energy costs; costs associated with regulatory compliance, including environmental regulations; and changes in industrial, government and consumer demand, both in individual consuming nations and internationally. Index components concentrated in futures contracts on agricultural products, including grains, may be subject to a number of additional factors specific to agricultural products that might cause price volatility. These include weather conditions, including floods, drought and freezing conditions; changes in government policies; planting decisions; and changes in demand for agricultural products, both with end users and as inputs into various industries.

Our approach delivers the advantages of Citi's global institutional equity capabilities through the personalized service of our global private banking platform. Comprehensive access: Located across four continents, our equity specialists can help you access more than 90 markets around the world. Our equity specialists provide relevant equity insights and ideas, drawing upon Citi Research's global network of analysts who follow some 3,200 stocks across 74 countries (as of July 2016). Clients with large, complex portfolios may be able to receive institutional-caliber portfolio analysis from our Global Investment Lab. Enabling your strategy: Our equity specialists offer expertise in both cash equities and derivatives, letting you implement tailored strategies through a single point of contact. As well as our market-leading execution capabilities, we may be able to provide margin finance secured by your equity portfolios. If you have sophisticated, cross-border needs, you may be eligible to maintain direct relationships with dedicated equity specialists in multiple regions of the world. Securities purchased on margin are the firm's collateral for the loan to you. If the securities in your account decline in value, so does the value of the collateral supporting your loan, and, as a result, the firm can take action, such as issue a margin call and/or sell securities or other assets in any of your accounts held with the member, in order to maintain the required equity in the account. It is important that you fully understand the risks involved in trading securities on margin. These risks include the following: You can lose more funds than you deposit in the margin account. The firm can force the sale of securities or other assets in your account(s). The firm can sell your securities or other assets without contacting you. You are not entitled to choose which securities or other assets in your account(s) are liquidated or sold to meet a margin call. The firm can increase its "house" maintenance margin requirements at any time and is not required to provide you advance written notice. You are not entitled to an extension of time on a margin call.

Bonds are affected by a number of risks, including fluctuations in interest rates, credit risk and prepayment risk. In general, as prevailing interest rates rise, fixed income securities prices will fall. Bonds face credit risk if a decline in an issuer's credit rating, or creditworthiness, causes a bond's price to decline. High yield bonds are subject to additional risks such as increased risk of default and greater volatility because of the lower credit quality of the issues. Finally, bonds can be subject to prepayment risk. When interest rates fall, an issuer may choose to borrow money at a lower interest rate, while paying off its previously issued bonds. As a consequence, underlying bonds will lose the interest payments from the investment and will be forced to reinvest in a market where prevailing interest rates are lower than when the initial investment was made.
