Citi Supports Syndicated Financing for Additional Investment under the Japan-U.S. Strategic Investment Initiative

Continuing Financial Support for Critical U.S. Energy Infrastructure Powering AI and Advanced Industries

TOKYO – Citi, through Citibank, N.A., Tokyo Branch (Citi), served as lender and agent in the upsizing of syndicated financing provided to U.S. entities established by the Japan Bank for International Cooperation (JBIC). The total syndicated financing amount increased from approximately US$4.61 billion to approximately US$8.58 billion.

The financing supports an additional investment in natural gas-fired power generation projects being advanced under the Strategic Investment Initiative, which is based on the Memorandum of Understanding on Strategic Investment announced by the governments of Japan and the United States in September 2025.

The existing financing facilities for Japan Invest 4 LLC and Japan Invest 5 LLC, U.S. investment entities established by JBIC, were increased. The financing will provide funding for additional investment in projects being developed in Pennsylvania and Texas.

The total syndicated financing amount for Japan Invest 4 LLC increased to approximately US$3.88 billion, while the total syndicated financing amount for Japan Invest 5 LLC increased to approximately US$4.70 billion. The portions provided by commercial lenders, including Citi, are covered by insurance from Nippon Export and Investment Insurance (NEXI).

With nearly 125 years of operating history in Japan, Citi leverages its global network and extensive cross-border expertise to support financing for strategic projects across energy, digital infrastructure, advanced industries and other critical sectors. Citi remains committed to working with public- and private-sector stakeholders to support clients' growth strategies and contribute to sustainable economic growth and enhanced competitiveness in both Japan and the United States.
